INTERVENOR-DEFENDANTS' ANSWER TO FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT

Proposed Intervenor-Defendants Joan Swartz McKay, Grace Huizinga, Samantha Neuhaus, Jordan Neuhaus, Cayley Winters, Glenna DeJong, Marsha Caspar, Hedwig Kaufman, Collin Christner, Melany Mack, Ashley Prew, Sybil Bade, Susan Diliberti, Lisa Wigent, Matthew Wigent, Pamela Tessier, and Susannah Goodman, by and through their undersigned counsel of

record, answer Plaintiffs' First Amended Complaint as set forth below. Unless expressly admitted, each allegation in the First Amended Complaint is denied, and the Proposed Intervenor-Defendants demand strict proof thereof.

INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiffs Michael Banerian (Counts I & II), Michon Bommarito (Count II), Peter Colovos (Counts I & II), William Gordon (Count I), Joseph Graves (Count I & II), Beau LaFave (Count I), Sarah Paciorek (Counts I & II), Cameron Pickford (Counts I & II), Harry Sawicki (Counts I & II), and Michelle Smith (Count I), bring this suit to challenge Michigan's recently enacted congressional districts as violative of the United States Constitution.

Answer: Paragraph 1 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

2. As an initial matter, Michigan's adopted congressional districts violate the "one person, one vote" rule enshrined in Article I, Section 2 of the U.S. Constitution.

Answer: Paragraph 2 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

3. This principle requires that "[r]epresentatives be chosen 'by the People of the several States'" in a way that ensures that "as nearly as is practicable one man's vote in a congressional election is to be worth as much as another's." Wesberry v. Sanders, 376 U.S. 1, 7–8 (1964) (quoting U.S. Const. art. I, § 2).

Answer: Paragraph 3 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

4. Because Michigan's newly adopted congressional districts fall far below this standard, they are unconstitutional and cannot stand.

Answer: Paragraph 4 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

5. Michigan’s adopted congressional districts, moreover, violate the Fourteenth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution.

Answer: Paragraph 5 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor deny the allegations in Paragraph 5.

6. The individuals serving on the Michigan Independent Citizens Redistricting Commission (the “Commissioners”) failed to draw Michigan’s congressional maps in accordance with neutral, and traditionally accepted, redistricting criteria (now codified at Article IV, Section 6(13) of the Michigan Constitution).

Answer: Paragraph 6 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor deny the allegations in Paragraph 6.

7. The Commissioners’ failure in this respect amounts to arbitrary boundary drawing, in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment’s equal-protection guarantee.

8. Among other pressing defects, the Commissioners’ congressional map unnecessarily fragments counties, townships, and municipalities—i.e., Michigan’s true communities of interest—without any legitimate or rational State interest.

9. To be certain, compliance with federal law (as informed by the Michigan Constitution) is neither impossible nor particularly onerous.

Answer: Paragraph 9 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

10. Indeed, as demonstrated by the remedy map attached to this filing as Exhibit A, the Commissioners had ample ability to draw and adopt congressional districts without the aforementioned flaws.

Answer: Paragraph 10 consists of argument, opinions, and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor deny the allegations in Paragraph 10.

11. The Commissioners' failure to do so warrants the declaratory and injunctive relief sought by Plaintiffs in this action.

Answer: Paragraph 11 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

12. This Court has jurisdiction over this action under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, and 28 U.S.C. § 1343 because Plaintiffs' claims all arise under—and seek redress pursuant to—the U.S. Constitution and 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

Answer: Paragraph 12 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

13. Under 28 U.S.C. § 2284, a three-judge panel should hear and determine this case.

Answer: Paragraph 13 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

14. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b), venue is proper in this District because the Office of the Secretary of State, Defendant Jocelyn Benson, is located in this District.

Answer: Paragraph 14 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

THREE-JUDGE COURT REQUESTED

15. In this action, Plaintiffs challenge the constitutionality of the Commissioners' reapportionment of Michigan's congressional districts.

Answer: Paragraph 15 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

16. 28 U.S.C. § 2284(a) provides that “[a] district court of three judges shall be convened . . . when an action is filed challenging the constitutionality of the apportionment of congressional districts or the apportionment of any statewide legislative body.”

Answer: Paragraph 16 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

17. For this reason, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court “immediately notify the chief judge of the circuit” so that the Chief Judge may “designate two other judges, at least one of whom shall be a circuit judge,” to “serve as members of the court to hear and determine th[is] action.” 28 U.S.C. § 2284(b)(1).

Answer: Paragraph 17 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

Answer: Admit.

31. The Commission is composed of thirteen members: four affiliated with the Democratic Party, four affiliated with the Republican Party, and five unaffiliated with either major political party. Id.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

45. In November 2018, Michigan amended its Constitution to establish the Michigan Independent Citizens Redistricting Commission (“the Commission”), a citizen-comprised entity vested with the exclusive authority to adopt district boundaries for State and congressional elections after each decennial census. See Mich. Const. art. IV, § 6(1).

Answer: Intervenors admit that Michigan amended its Constitution in 2018 to establish the Michigan Independent Citizens Redistricting Commission, which is vested with the exclusive authority to adopt district boundaries for state legislative and congressional districts after each decennial census; however, Intervenors deny that the citation referenced in Paragraph 45 fully supports the Plaintiffs’ statements in Paragraph 45.

46. The 2018 amendment also prescribed the criteria the Commissioners must apply when adopting each district plan.

Answer: Admit.

47. Specifically, Article IV, Section 6(13) of the Michigan Constitution provides that the Commissioners must abide “by the following criteria in proposing and adopting each plan, in order of priority”:

- a. Districts shall be of equal population as mandated by the United States Constitution, and shall be geographically contiguous. Island areas are considered to be contiguous by land to the county of which they are a part.
- b. Districts shall reflect the state’s diverse population and communities of interest. Communities of interest may include, but shall not be limited to, populations that share cultural or historical characteristics or economic interests. Communities of interest do not include relationships with political parties, incumbents, or political candidates.
- c. Districts shall not provide a disproportionate advantage to any political party. A disproportionate advantage to a political party shall be determined using accepted measures of partisan fairness.
- d. Districts shall not favor or disfavor an incumbent elected official or a candidate
- e. Districts shall reflect consideration of county, city, and township boundaries.
- f. Districts shall be reasonably compact.

Answer: Paragraph 47, including Subparagraphs (A), (B), (C), (D), (E), and (F), consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent Paragraph 47 includes references to legal authorities, the legal authorities speak for themselves.

48. The criteria enumerated in the Michigan Constitution track the traditional (and traditionally accepted) redistricting criteria used in several jurisdictions across the Nation.

Answer: Paragraph 48 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

49. The Supreme Court recognizes these traditional redistricting criteria. See, e.g., Karcher v. Daggett, 462 U.S. 725, 740 (1983).

Answer: Paragraph 49 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

50. These traditional redistricting criteria serve as means to prevent unconstitutional gerrymandering and ensure compliance with federal law. See, e.g., Thornburg v. Gingles, 478 U.S. 30, 50–51 (1986) (imposing a compactness requirement to determine whether § 2 of the Voting Rights Act requires the drawing of a majority-minority district).<sup>1</sup>

Answer: Paragraph 50 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

51. In mid-September 2020, the Commissioners met for the first time to begin drawing Michigan’s voting districts.

Answer: Admit.

52. According to the 2020 Decennial Census, Michigan has a population of 10,077,331 persons.

<sup>1</sup> See also Bush v. Vera, 517 U.S. 952, 979 (1996) (“If, because of the dispersion of the minority population, a reasonably compact majority-minority district cannot be created, § 2 does not require a majority-minority district.”); id. at 962 (stating that in proving a racial gerrymandering claim under the Fourteenth Amendment’s Equal Protection Clause, “[t]he Constitution does not mandate regularity of district shape . . . and the neglect of traditional districting criteria is merely necessary, not sufficient. For strict scrutiny to apply, traditional districting criteria must be subordinated to race”)

Answer: Admit.

53. Based on these numbers, Michigan was apportioned thirteen congressional districts.

Answer: Admit.

54. To ensure that no district suffers from vote dilution in contravention of the “one person, one vote” principle recognized by the U.S. Supreme Court, the Commissioners were obligated to adopt districts that each have a population as close to 775,179 persons as possible.

Answer: Paragraph 54 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

55. According to publicly available information, the Commissioners considered five congressional plans, three of which were named after a species of tree (“Apple,” “Birch,” and “Chestnut”) and two of which were named, respectively, after a commissioner (“Lange” and “Szetela”).

Answer: Intervenors admit that according to publicly available information, the Michigan Independent Citizens Redistricting Commission considered five congressional plans entitled Chestnut, Birch V2, Apple V2, Lange, and Szetela.

56. On December 28, 2021, the Michigan Independent Citizens Redistricting Commission adopted and enacted the “Chestnut Plan,” which appears as follows (and is available at <https://michigan.mydistricting.com/legdistricting/comments/plan/279/23> (visited Jan. 6, 2022)):

Answer: Intervenors admit that the Michigan Independent Citizens Redistricting Commission adopted the Chestnut Plan on December 28, 2021 but are without sufficient information to respond to the figure depicted in Paragraph 56.

57. The Chestnut Plan's largest congressional district (District 13) has a population of 775,666 persons, which is 487 persons above the ideal population for congressional districts in Michigan.

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 57.

58. The Chestnut Plan's smallest congressional district (District 5) has a population of 774,544 persons, which is 635 persons below the ideal population for congressional districts in Michigan.

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 58.

59. The difference in population between the largest and smallest congressional districts in the Chestnut Plan is 1,122 persons.

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 59.

60. Only one congressional district (District 10) in the Chestnut Plan is less than 50 persons away from the ideal population (+39) for congressional districts in Michigan.

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 60.

61. The following chart lists the population deviations for each district.

DISTRICT	TOTAL PERSONS	DEVIATION
District One	775,375	+196
District Two	774,997	-182
District Three	775,414	+235
District Four	774,600	-579
District Five	774,544	-635
District Six	775,273	+94
District Seven	775,238	+59
District Eight	775,229	+50
District Nine	774,962	-217
District Ten	775,218	+39
District Eleven	775,568	+389
District Twelve	775,247	+68
District Thirteen	775,666	+487

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 61.

62. The Commissioners' failure to create districts with equal population also suggests that they did not prioritize the criteria enumerated in the Michigan Constitution in the order mandated by the Michigan Constitution. See Mich. Const. art. IV, § 6(13).

Answer: Paragraph 62 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 62.

63. The remedy map attached to this Complaint (Exhibit A) reduces the difference in population to 1 person (nine districts have a population of 775,179 each and four districts have a population of 775,180 each).

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 63.

64. Of Michigan’s eighty-three counties, the Chestnut Plan splits at least fifteen of them (approximately 18%).

Answer: Admit.

65. In fact, parts of Oakland County are located in six separate congressional districts.

Answer: Admit.

66. Not only does this contravene the Michigan constitutional requirement that the State’s congressional districts “reflect consideration of county, city, and township boundaries,” Mich. Const. art. IV, § 6(13)(f), it also carves up “communities of interest,” as that phrase has been construed by the Michigan Supreme Court and federal courts across the nation.

Answer: Paragraph 66 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 66.

67. This is evidence that the Commissioners did not apply its criteria in a neutral and consistent manner but rather in an inconsistent and arbitrary manner.

Answer: Paragraph 67 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 67.

68. As such, the boundaries established by the Commissioners are arbitrary, inconsistent, and non-neutral, in contravention of the Fourteenth Amendment’s Equal Protection Clause. See also Mich. Const. art. IV, § 6(13)(c) (congressional districts must “reflect the state’s diverse population and communities of interest”).

Answer: Paragraph 68 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor's deny the allegations in Paragraph 68.

69. The remedy map attached to this Complaint (Exhibit A) reduces the number of split counties to ten.

Answer: Intervenor's are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 69.

70. The remedy map attached to this Complaint also ensures that no Michigan county is part of more than four congressional districts.

Answer: Intervenor's are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 70.

71. The remedy map attached to this Complaint has fewer city and township splits than the number of city and township splits in the Chestnut Plan.

Answer: Intervenor's are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 71.

72. The attached remedial map more faithfully adheres to the Michigan's constitution's requirements to respect county, city, and township boundaries.

Answer: Paragraph 72 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

73. Finally, the Chestnut Plan cannot be described as "compact" under any reasonable interpretation of that term.

Answer: Paragraph 73 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 73.

74. Indeed, the Chestnut Plan's District 5 (which splits four of the ten counties it covers) touches Michigan's Eastern and Western border.

Answer: Admit.

75. Although not dispositive, this lack of compactness is evidence that the Commissioners did not act in a good faith effort to achieve population equality.

Answer: Paragraph 75 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 75.

76. As reported by the Commissioners, the average compactness of the Chestnut Plan's districts is .41 on the Polsby-Popper measure, and .42 on the Reock Measure, with the least compact districts having scores of .27 and .19 respectively

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 76.

77. On both measures, numbers closer to one are more compact, and numbers closer to zero are less compact.

Answer: Admit.

78. The remedy map attached to this Complaint (Exhibit A) greatly increases the compactness of several congressional districts, including District 5.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>2</sup> Compactness scores provided here are computed using map projections in ESRI Redistricting software. Some popular websites for drawing districts include compactness scores computed using other map projections. This may result in a minor variation between compactness scores computed

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 78.

79. The proposed remedy map (Exhibit A) yields an average Polsby-Popper measure of .46 and an average Reock measure .45, with the least compact districts being at .3 and .21 respectively.

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 79.

80. That the Commissioners failed to abide by the constitutionally imposed traditional redistricting criteria (as reflected by the Michigan constitution) is evidence that the map they adopted inflicts constitutional harms on Plaintiffs. Bush v. Vera, 517 U.S. 952, 962–63 (1996).

Answer: Paragraph 80 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 80.

81. In short, the remedy map attached to this Complaint (Exhibit A) demonstrates that it was well within the Commissioners’ capacity to adopt a congressional map that complied with the “one person, one vote” principle while leaving far more counties intact and greatly increasing the compactness of Michigan’s congressional districts (in compliance with the Fourteenth Amendment’s Equal Protection Clause).

84. Article I, Section 2 of the U.S. Constitution mandates that congressional districts must achieve population equality “as nearly as is practicable.” Wesberry v. Sanders, 376 U.S. 1, 7–8, 18 (1964).

Answer: Paragraph 84 consists of legal conclusions, opinion, and references to legal authorities, to which no response is required.

85. According to the 2020 Census, Michigan has a population of 10,077,331 persons.

Answer: Admit.

86. Based on these Census numbers, Michigan was apportioned thirteen Congressional Districts.

Answer: Admit.

87. Therefore, the ideal population in each congressional district is approximately 775,179 persons.

Answer: Admit.

88. The Chestnut Plan substantially deviates from Article I, Section 2's command.

Answer: Paragraph 88 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

89. Congressional District 13 has the highest population of 775,666 persons (487 above the ideal population) while Congressional District 5 has a population of 774,544 persons (635 below the ideal population).

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 89.

90. The Chestnut plan has an overall population deviation of 1,122 persons.

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 90.

91. The total deviation is therefore 0.14%.

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 91.

92. The existence of congressional district plans with lower population deviations shifts the burden from the plaintiff to the State to justify the need for the deviations.<sup>3</sup>

Answer: Paragraph 92 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

93. As demonstrated by the remedy map (Exhibit A) the Commissioners could have enacted a map with a population deviation of nearly zero.

Answer: Paragraph 93 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

94. The Commissioners did not make a good-faith effort to draw a map with nearly as equal population as possible.

Answer: Paragraph 94 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 94.

95. Upon information and belief, the Chestnut Plan's population deviations were not intended to further any legitimate state objective.

96. Accordingly, the Defendants were and are acting under the color of state law and violating Plaintiffs' constitutional rights, violating 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

COUNT II

97. Plaintiffs restate and incorporate by reference each and every allegation in Paragraphs 1 through 96

Answer: Intervenors restate and incorporate by reference Paragraphs 1 through 96 of this Answer.

98. All Plaintiffs intend to vote in the 2022 Congressional Elections at the location where they currently reside within the state of Michigan.

Answer: Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 98.

99. The Fourteenth Amendment’s Equal Protection Clause provides that no State shall “deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.” U.S. Const. amend. XIV.

Answer: Paragraph 99 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

100. Article One, Section Four of the Constitution vests state legislatures with the authority to group voters together in congressional districts.

Answer: Paragraph 100 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

101. When a legislature draws districts, traditional redistricting criteria serve as guardrails to ensure compliance with the U.S. Constitution, including the Equal Protection Clause.

Answer: Paragraph 101 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

102. For example, making districts compact, respecting communities of interest, ensuring that districts are contiguous, and preventing the pairing of incumbents all serve to limit various forms of gerrymandering and vote dilution.

Answer: Paragraph 102 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

103. A Fourteenth Amendment Equal Protection violation arises when a legislature or commission implements traditional redistricting criteria in an inconsistent and arbitrary manner.

Answer: Paragraph 103 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

104. Moreover, the Equal Protection Clause prohibits laws that treat people disparately or arbitrarily.

Answer: Paragraph 104 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

105. The criteria enumerated in the Michigan Constitution track the traditional (and traditionally accepted) redistricting criteria used throughout the nation, all of which exist to ensure compliance with the U.S. Constitution and federal law.

Answer: Paragraph 105 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

106. Because the Commissioners arbitrarily applied Michigan's constitutional requirements, the Commissioners imposed U.S. Constitutional injuries on Michigan's voters.

Answer: Paragraph 106 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor deny the allegations in Paragraph 106.

107. Specifically, Article IV, Section 6(13) of the Michigan Constitution requires the Commissioners to apply specific criteria “in proposing and adopting each plan, in order of priority.”

Answer: Paragraph 107 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

108. The Commissioners applied the Michigan constitutional criteria in an inconsistent and arbitrary manner.

Answer: Paragraph 108 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor deny the allegations in Paragraph 108.

109. The Chestnut Plan fails to comply with or properly apply the following criteria:

- A. Districts shall be of equal population as mandated by the United States Constitution, Mich. Const. art. IV, § 6(13)(a);
- B. Districts shall reflect the state’s diverse population and communities of interest, id. § 6(13)(c);
- C. Districts shall reflect consideration of county, city, and township boundaries, id. § 6(13)(f); and
- D. Districts shall be reasonably compact, id. § 6(13)(g).

Answer: Paragraph 109, including Subparagraphs (A), (B), (C), and (D), consists of argument, characterizations, and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor deny the allegations in Paragraph 109, including Subparagraphs (A), (B), (C), and (D).

110. Communities of interest requirements, whole county requirements, and whole township requirements ensure that when casting a vote in a congressional district, the voter is selecting a candidate that can represent both the individual's interests and the common interests of the community within the district.

Answer: Paragraph 110 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

111. Because federal law, as well as the Michigan Supreme Court, have long construed the phrase "communities of interest" to include counties, cities, and townships, the Chestnut plan's arbitrary county, township, and municipality splits also violate the requirement that "[d]istricts shall reflect the state's diverse population and communities of interest." Mich. Const. art. IV, § 6(13)(c).

Answer: Paragraph 111 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 111.

112. The Commissioners applied the communities of interest criterion in an inconsistent and arbitrary manner.

Answer: Paragraph 112 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 112.

113. The communities of interest requirement and the requirement to keep counties and townships whole protects an individual's right to vote and their right to associate with their fellow citizens to advance the interests of the community, township, and county.

Answer: Paragraph 113 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 113.

114. The Commissioners arbitrarily assigned voters to various locations.

Answer: Paragraph 114 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 114.

115. The Commissioners did not draw a map with as few split counties as possible.

Answer: Paragraph 115 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors are without sufficient information to respond to the allegations in Paragraph 115.

116. By unnecessarily fragmenting counties—i.e., Michigan’s true communities of interest—the Commissioners’ adopted map is arbitrary, inconsistent, and non-neutral, violating the Equal Protection Clause.

Answer: Paragraph 116 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 116.

117. And by unnecessarily splitting so many counties, cities, and townships the Commissioners appear to have used a wholly novel definition and arbitrarily and inconsistently applied the phrase “communities of interest.” Mich. Const. art. IV, § 6(13)(c).

Answer: Paragraph 117 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 117.

118. For these reasons, the Commissioners violated the Fourteenth Amendment’s Equal Protection Clause because some voters will be able to elect candidates who can represent the interests of both the individual and the community.

Answer: Paragraph 118 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor deny the allegations in Paragraph 118.

119. Voting is both an expression of an individual's preference for a congressional representative and it is an associational act in choosing a congressional representative to represent and advance the interests of fellow voters in a community.

Answer: Paragraph 119 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required.

120. In these acts, the citizens of Michigan are required to be treated equally, which Defendants' have failed to do.

Answer: Paragraph 120 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor deny the allegations in Paragraph 120.

121. Thus, when the Commissioners arbitrarily and inconsistently applied their state constitutional requirements of keeping counties and townships whole and maintaining communities of interest, they violated the Equal Protection Clause.

Answer: Paragraph 121 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor deny the allegations in Paragraph 121.

122. In other words, the Commissioners ignored roughly half the criteria listed in the Michigan Constitution.

Answer: Paragraph 122 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor deny the allegations in Paragraph 122.

123. To the extent the Commissioners (im)properly applied any criteria, they did so out of the order of priority mandated by the Michigan Constitution.

Answer: Paragraph 123 consists of argument and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor deny the allegations in Paragraph 123.

124. As demonstrated by the remedial map (Exhibit A) the Commissioners were required to comply with each of the aforementioned traditional redistricting criteria.

Answer: Paragraph 124 consists of argument, characterizations, and legal conclusions, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Intervenor deny the allegations in Paragraph 124.

125. The Commissioners' failure to do so renders the congressional maps they adopted arbitrary, inconsistent, and non-neutral, in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment's Equal Protection Clause.

Answer: Intervenor deny the allegations contained in Paragraph 125.

126. At all times the Defendants were and are acting under the color of state law and violating Plaintiffs' constitutional rights, violating 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

Answer: Intervenor deny the allegations contained in Paragraph 126.
