10/20/25 11:59 AM	Gary Miller		The North Carolina legislature had the opportunity to modify the Congressional districts after the results of the 2020 census were tabulated and sent to the legislature. Nothing has changed then - there have been no substantive changes to the results. Even though the districts originally drawn based on that census do not reflect the needs of North Carolina residents, changing those districts would make matters worse. Drawing districts should not be drawn to the purpose of keeping one party in power. In the interests of democracy, districts should be drawn to encourage debate rather than ensure that there is only token opposition. Further, bringing the legislature back into session should only be done in when there is an emergency. Redistricting is far from being an emergency. I urge the legislature to either leave the Congressional districts as-is or to change them to encourage debate between two different views of how to move this country forward, not back.
10/20/25 11:59 AM	Ms Linda Yarbrough	Retired	I strongly oppose additional gerrymandering to redistrict North Carolina. All citizens should be able to vote in fairly drawn districts, representing the state fairly without regard to race or political party.
10/20/25 11:59 AM	Mr. Mark Herion	Retired	I support this Redistricting proposal.
10/20/25 11:59 AM	Carla Topp		This redistricting plan is a blatant power grab by Republicans who are neither honorable nor public servants. We see you and what you are doing! Try looking in a mirror sometime, if you can stand it!
10/20/25 11:59 AM	Christina Oliver		Redistricting and gerrymandering in a response to a wannabe-dictator,Äôs request to steal seats for his gain is an overt abuse of power. This is not to support the people of NC, it,Äôs so state congressman can gain favor with someone set on being on the wrong side of history
10/20/25 12:00 PM	Michelle White		A survey of North Carolina voters released Thursday found that 84% of all voters, including strong majorities in both parties, say redrawing voting maps for partisan advantage is ,Äúnever acceptable,Äù and districts should be drawn neutrally. Gerrymandering has no place in our democracy. We need fair maps that represent ALL voters and allow us to truly hold politicians accountable on the issues we care about. Listen to your constituents for once. Vote NO to redistricting.
10/20/25 12:00 PM	No to Redustricting Lindsay Snyder		Please vote no to redistricting. It is unfair and takes away the voices of the people. Please uphold your office and have integrity.

10/20/25 12:00 PM	Johanne Walker		under no circumstances should gerrymandering occur. The current map proposed is heavily gerrymandered, making it a threat to democratic representation at a time when the preservation of democracy, its institutions , and its ideals are under grave threat. Do the moral thing and vote ,Äúno,Äù on this map.
10/20/25 12:00 PM	April Tripp		There is no need to consider redistricting and the only reason this has been introduced is to manipulate outcomes in favor of the current administration. We are a government of the PEOPLE, stop supporting the current administration's desire to become a dictatorship.
10/20/25 12:00 PM	Congressional maps Barbara Coffman	Self	We want fair and equal representation, not gerrymandering. Strongly against this attempt to stack the districts in favor of one side.
10/20/25 12:00 PM	Mr Rob Lebkuecher		This action will further dilute the voice of the voters. The redistricting should be stopped from taking place. This is a direct attack on Democratic voters and clearly immoral, and should be illegal.
10/20/25 12:01 PM	Gail Haas	Citizen of USA	Gerrymandering was a deceitful activity in America,Äôs earlier years,Äîand successfully halted by thoughtful, honest, patriotic supporters of democracy. We should expect the same behavior from representatives of this great country.
10/20/25 12:01 PM	Danielle Shamel		It would be a huge disservice to the people of North Carolina to spend time and energy further gerrymandering our state rather than focusing on policies that will help the people of North Carolina. Electoral districts should serve the interests of voters, not candidates. The General Assembly should be focused on the people of North Carolina and passing a new budget.
10/20/25 12:01 PM	Mrs Sarah Murphy		I,Äôm a North Carolina resident, and gerrymandering rigs our democracy. You,Äôre drawing lines to silence voices you don,Äôt like, including mine. That,Äôs not governing. That,Äôs cheating. When you gerrymander, you,Äôre declaring my vote doesn,Äôt matter before I cast it. You,Äôre making elections meaningless. Politicians pick their voters instead of the other way around. North Carolina is competitive,Äîour statewide races prove it. But you manipulate district lines to guarantee outcomes that don,Äôt reflect how we actually vote. You,Äôre manufacturing power you didn,Äôt earn. Draw fair districts. Let voters decide elections. Stop rigging the game because you,Äôre afraid of losing in a fair fight. My vote isn,Äôt yours to neutralize. Respect it.????????????????
10/20/25 12:01 PM	Mrs Sandra Phillips		It's embarrassing that redistricting to suit one party is still an option in these days and times. We ALL know that this is gerrymandering. Please, don't allow this "redistricting" to happen.
10/20/25 12:01 PM	Barbara Jean		As an independent NC voter -- truly not connected to either party, I am reaching out to demand that the redistricting committee NOT APPROVE the redrawing of congressional districts for our state. This behavior is clearly an attempt to give Republicans an edge in maintaining control of our state government. Rather than redraw lines to Republican benefit, why not have BOTH political partiers focus on taking care of the people of NC and then let the PEOPLE decide who should be part of the governing body.
10/20/25 12:01 PM	Josh Glessner		I oppose plans to redistrict our communities and our state in any way that does not represent the will of our citizens. We are a beautiful state of diverse people and opinions which deserve fair and equal representation.
10/20/25 12:01 PM	Christina Caputo		Hello, I strongly oppose the redistricting plan that would result in an already gerrymandered state to undergo further gerrymandering. The people of North Carolina have the constitutional right to vote, and continuous redistricting that will result in voter suppression is unconstitutional. A reminder that state legislature is supposed to work for the people, and not against them.
10/20/25 12:02 PM	Mrs Tricia Bourgal		NCGOP should be ashamed of themselves redrawing lines to suit the needs of Phil Berger and DTrump. When are you going to put country before party? Every North Carolinian deserves representation, not gerrymandered games from failed politicians fighting for UNpopular policies. You can,Äôt win so you cheat & steal. Shame on you! Where is your integrity?!?!
10/20/25 12:02 PM	Brenda Palmatier		Gerrymandering g is wrong and so against our democratic and fair elections. NC is an almost 50/50 state (republican/ democrat) yet we already have many more Republican representatives in Congress due to Gerymandering. And now this to get more because Trump has requested it. Please stand up to him and say NO!
10/20/25 12:02 PM	Lisa Lindman		Do not redistrict our voting maps. You are taking away the power of voting North Carolinians to have a voice in election outcomes.
10/20/25 12:02 PM	Scott Williams		The gerrymandering is a disgrace and does not represent the people of North Carolina. We need a non-partisan oversight org that can reign in all of this non-representative conduct and move towards creating complete transparency of our elected officials,
10/20/25 12:02 PM	Kaitlyn Kingston		Hands off our maps!
10/20/25 12:02 PM	Kimberly Heinz		I oppose the use of redistricting as a partisan power grab for Republicans or Democrats. This dilution of the power of the vote is hurting all of us (though certainly some more than others). Americans are losing what faith we had in our democracy. Remember that the people, united, will never be defeated. Everyone deserves to have their vote counted.
10/20/25 12:04 PM	Dr. Michael Goodyear	retired	I strongly oppose gerrymandering. Although I've viewed myself as conservative for most of my life, I am now independent and unlikely to vote for a Republican ever again if that party continues to limit everyone's right to have their voice heard. No one is correct all the time; everyone is better off if all people's input is heard and taken into account.

10/20/25 12:04 PM	Kristin Bradley-Bull	Dear legislators, I am writing to voice my sincere opposition to the redistricting plan. Our state is already extremely gerrymandered, meaning that there is disproportionate representation and power already in our purple state. Please oppose this blatant power grab. People of good faith from every party should oppose this. I would be opposing this no matter which party were in charge. Thank you for opposing this and, in so doing, being on the right side of history and doing what's right for our children and grandchildren.
10/20/25 12:05 PM	House Committee on Redist Jennifer Chamberlain	I am a constituent and a voter in Carteret County. Maps for redistricting are usually done when census are so this is not usual or normal. I live in a democracy for now and would like to continue doing so please do not rig any maps in your favor that,Äôs un democratic.
10/20/25 12:05 PM	Erin Marcum	I oppose the Republican effort to redraw/redistrict
10/20/25 12:05 PM	Ms Dianne Campbell	Please accept that the majority of your constituents do not want any more gerrymandering. Let each individual have a vote. Gerrymandering discounts many votes so that the true majority isn't counted.
10/20/25 12:05 PM	Susan Mazzara	Your proposed maps subvert the will of the people and do great harm both to democratic processes and to the principle of self-determination. I urge you to vote against the adoption of this redistricting plan.
10/20/25 12:05 PM	Patricia Kotora	I am a constituent in Mebane, NC and I adamantly oppose the redistricting and gerrymandering that is being proposed by the Republican party. We need to have representation that reflects the diversity of our community. If policies are truly supported by your constituents, there is no need to change our maps. This is an effort to rig the system to favor Republicans policies that they know would be voted down by the people.
10/20/25 12:05 PM	ms karen guza	I am against the recent attempt by Phil Berger to re draw voting districts. It is gerrymandering and unconstitutional. If the only way you can win is by cheating you should not be running.
10/20/25 12:05 PM	Ms. Laurel Powell	Hello, I am writing as a concerned citizen regarding the mid cycle redistricting plans. The proposed plans are concerning because they will disproportionately affect many of the families I support in my professional life supporting children with disabilities. I feel the redistricting is an inappropriate use of time for state legislators who havent even been able to pass a complete budget. Please use my tax dollars that pay my elected official's salaries for what we really need in NC, a budget that includes enough money for Medicaid coverage for our vulnerable neighbors and not for redistricting maps that only serve to stifle citizen voice.
10/20/25 12:06 PM	Jennifer McCoy	NC needs to focus on passing a budget, not participate in a blatant power grab and cost taxpayers MILLIONS of dollars to bow down to a president who thinks he's a king, asking for seats to be flipped for him. If the current administration was truly popular, they wouldn't need to beg states to deliver them more seats in Congress, they would be confident enough that their record would speak for itself on election day. STOP WITH THIS PARTISAN BULLSHIT and spend your time actually working for the people in your state by delivering a budget that benefits us. We are throwing time, resources, energy, and MONEY away by leading the country in gerrymandering and people are sick and tired of it. North Caroline should not be redistricted until after the 2030 census, and then it should be done by an independent party.
10/20/25 12:06 PM	Therese Wilkinson	I am commenting in order to encourage our state representatives to do the right thing and protect our right to a fair vote in NC. The current plan to redistrict our state's election zones is tantamount to cheating and will help lead to the downfall of our American democracy. Please support ALL of the citizens of our state and protect the sanctity of our individual vote. We are counting on you! Thank you for considering doing the right thing.
10/20/25 12:06 PM	Emily Harriger	I strongly oppose redistricting. This does not take the interests of the citizens of North Carolina into account, particularly minorities. It is clearly a ploy to unfairly take seats that are held by Democrats at the assistance of a president whose intent is to destroy the democracy we have enjoyed for hundreds of years. It is unfair to minorities and is taxation without representation.
10/20/25 12:06 PM	Tivis Angelo	NC is already heavily gerrymandered. Please reject this new redistricting map. It is not an accurate representation of the voters of NC and it illegally gerrymanders based on race.
10/20/25 12:06 PM	re:proposed map Vivienne Maxwell	This map is horrible and y,Äôall know it. Do I need to explain what a REPRESENTATIVE democracy is to y,Äôall? We know what you,Äôre doing and it,Äôs not cute. Also, pass a budget while you,Äôre at it.
10/20/25 12:06 PM	Morgan Richards	NC is a thriving state for business and young professionals, who are vital for job and population growth and sustainability. Redistricting is unpopular and damaging to the goals of NC. We do not want to lose young entrepreneurs and investors who sustain our state by undermining voting rights. People will notice. They will steer clear and take their businesses elsewhere. It,Äôs fact. Look to the most gerrymandered states. They are unwell. Don,Äôt do it. Please, for the love of God and Country.
10/20/25 12:06 PM	Janice Heard	I am writing to urge you to take a strong stand against partisan gerrymandering in North Carolina. I believe this allows the politicians to choose their voters rather than allowing the voters to choose their representatives. I further believe that partisan gerrymandering takes away the voices of many of the voters in North Carolina. Fairer maps lead to fairer elections. I support legislation that creates independent redistricting. I do not think this current proposal would accomplish that goal.

10/20/25 12:06 PM	Dr Carole Light		I protest the undemocratic redrawing of district maps to prejudice them in a partisan way. NC is a purple state. Your maps ignore that NC is 32% Democrat, 30% Republican. Your unfair. Redistricting will have 11 of 14 districts Republican. How can you justify such treachery?
10/20/25 12:07 PM	Glenda Williams		Our state is already gerrymandered enough. I oppose further redistricting
10/20/25 12:07 PM	Sarah Schwarzer		Redistricting with the specific goal of flipping seats to your party is a gross abuse of power, and is only going to fuel other states to follow suit, while underrepresenting your own constituents. It shows you don't care what the people of your state want.
10/20/25 12:07 PM	Jodi Flick	retired UNC faculty	I am adamantly opposed to continued redistricting plan for NC. Gerrymandering is cheating, plain and simple. In a state that nearly 50-50 red and blue, it is unjust and unfair to ignore the will of the people in a democracy. I fully support an independent committee to redraw the maps in a fair and just way.
10/20/25 12:07 PM	Vote No Kristen Richards		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:08 PM	Ms Jennifer Johnson		We know what you're doing. Gerrymandering. We get it - you can't win on your own accord, so you have to rig the system. But maybe, just maybe, follow the law and put in the work to win on your own. Or are you afraid because we're the majority and YOU KNOW IT?
10/20/25 12:08 PM	Mrs. Nicole Odom		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:08 PM	Mr. Jonathan Chan		This redistricting attempt is appalling. "The motivation behind this redraw is simple, and singular," Sen. Ralph Hise, R-Mitchell, a top redistricting leader, said Monday. "We're drawing a map that will bring an additional Republican seat to the North Carolina congressional delegation. North Carolina's districting is already grotesquely nonrepresentative, and this state legislature is aiming to further disenfranchise voters of color? This is not what a democracy should do. Redistricting should be done by independent nonpartisan bodies like all other democracies in the world. Our elected officials and institutions should do better.
10/20/25 12:08 PM	Jeanie Frye		STOP GERRYMANDERING! JUST STOP!
10/20/25 12:08 PM	Michael j. Manning	citizen	Redistricting more frequently than every ten years makes North Carolina look like some sort of banana Republic. This was done by the colonial legislature even before independence by subdividing the Albemarle Sound region into smaller and smaller counties. It only served a very few rich and powerful families, many of whom fled the US after 1776. Those small counties then became political and economic backwaters. Political gerrymandering has always been shameful, and supporters now should feel shamed.
10/20/25 12:08 PM	Barbara Hanlon		The Republicans already have more seats than they should which is not representative of our population. If you care about your constituents and our democracy, do not make any changes or better yet add more Democrat seats.
10/20/25 12:09 PM	Elizabeth Hunnicutt		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable.
10/20/25 12:09 PM	Alice Mine	Retired	Please do not redistrict NC congressional maps for the purpose of giving Republicans another seat in the US House. Redistricting for this purpose undermines our core (and shared) value of true democratic representation in North Carolina. Everyone who loves our country and our democracy must stand up for voting rights and equal representation for all citizens.
10/20/25 12:09 PM	Linda Tribble		You might look at yourself in the mirror and see if you like what you see. If a party has to cheat (by gerrymandering the districts) to win elections then you might need to examine your ethics, morals, and scruples. Oh, it won,Äôt take long because you don,Äôt have any! NO to the redisticting
10/20/25 12:09 PM	Mr thomas bradley		I support the redistricting proposal.

10/20/25 12:09 PM	Ruth Harp	North Carolina Resident	As state representatives, you have a responsibility to represent all of the people of North Carolina. If redistricting is the only way that you can keep Republicans in power, you need to rethink your party,Äôs priorities and find ways to serve the people you wish to represent so you can win in fair elections. True conservative values should demand transparency, integrity, and level competition fields. Representative should earn the right to represent the people through ideas and persuasion, not through deceptive tactics. Putting corporate priorities over what is best for the people is irresponsible and wrong. Manipulating district lines for partisan advantage is cheating, pure and simple. North Carolinians deserve better! This attention to redistricting now is inappropriate. You need to focus on serving the people of North Carolina and work towards making this state better for everyone, not just the elite. It is not your job to bend to the will of outside influences. We need to restore fair maps and let the people have the right to elect the representatives of their choosing. Restore the governor,Äôs executive powers, hold Duke energy accountable, address AI centers impact on our environment. Pass a state budget that funds our public schools and raises teacher,Äôs salaries.
10/20/25 12:09 PM	Lynn Martin		I am firmly against redistricting mid century and urge all legislators on both sides of the aisle to vote NO on this inappropriate power grab.
10/20/25 12:09 PM	Ms Alysha Stowe		LPlease reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:09 PM	Please Reject 2025 redist Laura Kradelman		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:09 PM	MARY GARDNER		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:10 PM	Heather Blair		This is not right. The people of this state deserve fair representation and we will remember who voted to further gerrymander our already gerrymandered districts.
10/20/25 12:10 PM	Shelly Steffey		I am strongly opposed to this vote to once again redistrict to redraw lines to benefit the Republican Party, which is blatant gerrymandering. The only reason this is being done is because Trump asked for it, and that in itself is frightening, and it should frighten everybody in the North Carolina Congress. He,Äôll just come for you next!
10/20/25 12:10 PM	Elizabeth hall		I am one of the constituents who will not have representation if this is allowed. We all matter. Rigging elections is not just illegal, it is immoral and un-American.
10/20/25 12:10 PM	Mr. William Appel	Retired	This state is already extremely gerrymandered giving us both an un representative legislature and Congressional delegation. This new gerrymander is being proposed for the sole purpose on instituting one-party rule. I therefore oppose this new attempt to create a democracy in name only.
10/20/25 12:11 PM	Lee Lumpkin		Gerrymandering is unfair and anti-Constitutional. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 12:11 PM	Maggie Darst		Shameful when half of our states votes blue. Republicans should focus on passing a budget getting teachers raises not gerrymandering something that is already beyond gerrymandered.
10/20/25 12:12 PM	Dustin Dutcher		Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Don,Äôt do it!
10/20/25 12:12 PM	Emily Phillips		Please vote no and reject the redistricting maps as they are an attempt to further racially gerrymander our state.
10/20/25 12:12 PM	Dr Diane Williams		While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally.
10/20/25 12:12 PM	Liz Vaagen		VOTE NO on the re-districting of the maps. NC legislators have been anti-democratic and a national embarrassment for far too long. If you can,Äôt win without cheating then change your platform, don,Äôt change the rules.
10/20/25 12:13 PM	Ms Ellen Stutts	none	This redistricting map is an egregious power grab by the Republicans. Obviously they don't think their policies are good enough to win so they have to redraw maps to make it impossible to lose. This is something that banana republics do, not a democracy like America. Fair maps now!!!!
10/20/25 12:13 PM	Deborah Mell		There has to be a non-political drawing of election maps. Either party could use redrawn maps to draw districts that swing in their party,Äôs favor. In NC, we need no rigged maps!

10/20/25 12:13 PM	Justin Johnson		Our state is split into nearly equal thirds between Republicans, Unaffiliated, and Democrats for registered party membership. Gerrymandering for ANY purpose is a shame upon us all. This state SHOULD be competitive across the board. It should not be 10-4, much less 11-3. Cowing to the demands of the President? Of the Federal Government? That's not very "States' Rights" of us, is it? Why should the proud state of North Carolina be, in any way, beholden to the whims of a New York elite like Donald Trump? Are we so weak that we should give in to the demands of Yankees? And beside that, are Republicans so afraid of the viability of their own policies that they have to cheat the map to win? If Republicans truly have the will of the people behind them, independently drawn and competitive districts won't change the majority control they have over both houses of the General Assembly. Gerrymandering for any purpose by any party is wrong. It was wrong when Democrats did it in the 90s. It's still wrong when Republicans have done it since 2010.
10/20/25 12:13 PM	Cynthia Jackson		I am writing as a North Carolina resident to express my strong opposition to the proposed redistricting maps. These maps do not provide fair or representative districts for the people of North Carolina. Instead, they appear to be drawn in a way that prioritizes political interests over fair representation. North Carolina voters deserve maps that reflect our communities,Äînot partisan agendas. The proposed districts divide communities of interest, weaken the influence of voters in several regions, and undermine confidence in the democratic process. Every voter, regardless of where they live or which party they support, should have an equal and fair voice in our elections. I urge the General Assembly to reject these maps and adopt a transparent redistricting process that uses objective criteria, includes meaningful public input, and ensures that our state,Äôs political boundaries truly reflect the people they represent. Please put fairness, transparency, and democracy first. North Carolina deserves maps that strengthen, not silence, our voices.
10/20/25 12:13 PM	ms. Elizabeth KUONI		I oppose the current changes being proposed for Congressional redistricting. I support the Fair Maps Act and believe that voters, not politicians, should choose their elected representatives. Republican drawn maps intentionally dilute minority voting power. Thank you for considering these positions and please support fair elections.
10/20/25 12:13 PM	Mr. Jonathan Milner	Self	Taxation without representation! North Carolina's congressional districts must represent the will of the people. Voters should pick their leaders, instead of the leaders picking their voters. Your plan to further gerrymander our state is undemocratic and must stop.
10/20/25 12:14 PM	No more gerrymandering Michael McKay		Gerrymandering is anti-American. It is Prima facie government choosing its voters, rather than the voters choosing our government. Participating in rigging the electorate to improve any party,Äôs chance in the election is an admission that your ideas, and your governance, are not enough to win new seats. Texas already capitulated. They are nothing but sycophants and cowards. And in the end, California is likely to counter balance what they did by rigging their own system. This is not a game North Carolina should play. An eye for an eye leaves most of us blind. what we ought to be doing is ensuring that every district is as close to balanced politically as possible so that everyone gets represented no matter which side is in office. Do your jobs. Do them well. Work for the people of North Carolina, not for the billionaires and Floridians.
10/20/25 12:14 PM	Grave concerns Andrew South		I have grave concerns about the General Assembly,Äôs attempt to gerrymander. I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. Seventy-six percent of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. Please do the right thing.

10/20/25 12:14 PM	Tunene Jackson		I am writing as a North Carolina resident to express my strong opposition to the proposed redistricting maps. These maps do not provide fair or representative districts for the people of North Carolina. Instead, they appear to be drawn in a way that prioritizes political interests over fair representation. North Carolina voters deserve maps that reflect our communities,Äînot partisan agendas. The proposed districts divide communities of interest, weaken the influence of voters in several regions, and undermine confidence in the democratic process. Every voter, regardless of where they live or which party they support, should have an equal and fair voice in our elections. I urge the General Assembly to reject these maps and adopt a transparent redistricting process that uses objective criteria, includes meaningful public input, and ensures that our state,Äôs political boundaries truly reflect the people they represent. Please put fairness, transparency, and democracy first. North Carolina deserves maps that strengthen, not silence, our voices.
10/20/25 12:14 PM	Dr. Manisha Parekh		I am vehemently opposed to this mid-census redistricting that is an out-and-out blatant power grab. Voters should choose their elected official - not the other way around. This flies in the face of democratic processes and norms and Berger and his cronies should be ashamed of themselves. NC voters demand fair representation, not these attempts by one party to hang out to power by making new maps rather than passing laws that actually benefit their constituents.
10/20/25 12:14 PM	Kaiyah Dooley		I,Äôm a North Carolina resident, and gerrymandering rigs our democracy. You,Äôre drawing lines to silence voices you don,Äôt like, including mine. That,Äôs not governing. That,Äôs cheating. When you gerrymander, you,Äôre declaring my vote doesn,Äôt matter before I cast it. You,Äôre making elections meaningless. Politicians pick their voters instead of the other way around. North Carolina is competitive,Äîour statewide races prove it. But you manipulate district lines to guarantee outcomes that don,Äôt reflect how we actually vote. You,Äôre manufacturing power you didn,Äôt earn. Draw fair districts. Let voters decide elections. Stop rigging the game because you,Äôre afraid of losing in a fair fight. My vote isn,Äôt yours to neutralize. Respect it.????????????????
10/20/25 12:14 PM	Gina Humphrey		This blatant gerrymandering is atrocious & I hope every single representative who didn,Äôt stand in the way of this corruption is voted out asap & shunned by every good person they know.
10/20/25 12:14 PM	Carol Dorr		Do not further gerrymander our votes. Representation for both party voters is most important.
10/20/25 12:14 PM	Elisabeth Watts	None	I am against the NCGA congressional redistricting. Senator Hise said very clearly that they are doing this specifically to give Donald Trump additional political cover. This is not to better serve the people of North Carolina.
10/20/25 12:15 PM	Sara Hopkins		Our state's maps have already been ruled against in court as being gerrymandered. Stop stealing our voice! Why in a state that votes 50% Democrat would our congressional maps result in nearly 80% Republican representation? You know this is wrong. It is dirty politics and against democratic principles.
10/20/25 12:15 PM	Mr Michael Rodemeyer	Self	Outrageous power grab that further erodes democratic principles in North Carolina. The Republican Party should be ashamed, if it was capable of shame. Voters should pick politicians, not the other way around. Obviously Republicans must feel that they can't compete on a level playing ground. And it's an obvious racial gerrymander.
10/20/25 12:15 PM	Kellyn Jiles		Hello, my name is Kellyn Jiles and I live in Chapel Hill. I am reaching out today to say I am against the attempt to redistrict two of North Carolina's congressional districts midway between U.S. Census taking. As a North Carolinian, I believe everyone's vote should count and that North Carolina voters should choose their elected officials. And I'm not alone - a recent Republican-leaning polling firm found that 84% of North Carolina voters said gerrymandering is NEVER acceptable. And that includes 78% of North Carolina Republican voters, 85% of North Carolina unaffiliated voters, and 87% of North Carolina Democratic voters. Please vote "NO" on redistricting these two congressional districts and do what is right and fair by North Carolina voters. Thank you for voting "NO."

10/20/25 12:15 PM	Ms. Lisa Convery-Lopez		As a voting NC constituent, I respectfully ask you to represent my political stance to oppose further redistricting of North Carolina,Äôs maps to favor any one party on the following grounds: 1. As antitrust laws protect the free market and allow economies to thrive, fair representation protects democracy and allow communities to thrive. It would certainly be concerning to you if your one (1) individual vote on this bill would only account for 1/3 vote solely because of your morals and ideals for a better, more peaceful world for all. If another Representative's vote was worth double your vote and s/he opposed a free economy, rebuked the need for economic development and did not want to invest in the education to workforce pipeline - you too would deem their weighted vote "unconstitutional". 2. Attempts to reduce any one individual's voice also reduces our collective abilities to bring dynamic minds to the table to solve complex issues that result in positive outcomes for all. 3. Give peace a chance and vote no to continue the proliferation of divisive politics. Let's focus on bills that move us forward together. Raise tides to lift North Carolinians above the rhetoric!
10/20/25 12:15 PM	Vicki Cooke		The people of North Carolina deserve to have their vote heard. Gerrymandering takes away that right. Maps should be drawn by a nonpartisan entity.
10/20/25 12:15 PM	Redistricting Jacqueline Speir		I am against the restricting proposal. Please keep our elections fair
10/20/25 12:16 PM	Ms Victoria Childers		Let,Äôs be clear, TEXAS started this redistricting, NOT California. What do I think? If Republicans can,Äôt win fairly then lying and cheating are a OK with them! In our Constitution The People are supposed to select the person they want to represent them. You are turning the Constitution on its head! Instead you are selecting those you WANT to vote for you. You swore an oath to the Constitution, UPHOLD it! I am disgusted with each and every Republican supporting gerrymandering the maps, you do NOT deserve to serve!
10/20/25 12:16 PM	Ms. Kathleen Gogarty-Gajan	Voter	By gerrymandering an already very gerrymandered state, I feel like the Republican Party is trying to steal my voting rights. You may be able to do this, but it's wrong. Every voter deserves the chance of having a representative who represents their views. It may not always work out, and that's okay as long as everyone has a chance to have a representative with the same morals and values as they have.
10/20/25 12:16 PM	Mrs. Amber Orner		To the honorable North Carolina general assembly, I write to you this day to implore upon you to remember the oath you took when sworn into office. You hold your position of power because we, the citizens and voters of North Carolina, cast our votes in your favor. This trust imparted upon your shoulders should be your guiding force when creating laws which affect all North Carolinians. Gerrymandering rigs our democracy and flys in the face of the honor you have sworn to uphold. You,Äôre drawing lines to silence the very voices you were elected to protect. That,Äôs not governing. All voices in our great state of North Carolina should matter, be heard, and be counted, as is our right by our state constitution. Gerrymandering makes elections meaningless. Politicians picking their voters instead of the other way around is not honorable nor is it in harmony with the founding of our nation. North Carolina is competitive,Äîour statewide races prove it. But you manipulate district lines to guarantee outcomes that don,Äôt reflect how we actually vote. You,Äôre manufacturing power you didn,Äôt earn. Draw fair districts. Let voters decide elections. Stop rigging the game because you,Äôre afraid of losing in a fair fight. My vote isn,Äôt yours to neutralize. Respect it.????????????????
10/20/25 12:17 PM	Mrs Zendyn Duellman		I,Äôm a North Carolina resident, and gerrymandering rigs our democracy. You are drawing lines to silence voices you don,Äôt like, including mine. That,Äôs not governing. That,Äôs cheating. When you gerrymander, you,Äôre declaring my vote doesn,Äôt matter before I cast it. You are making elections meaningless. Politicians pick their voters instead of the other way around. North Carolina is competitive,Äîour statewide races prove it and you are terrified. But you manipulate district lines to guarantee outcomes that don,Äôt reflect how we actually vote. You are manufacturing power you didn,Äôt earn. Draw fair districts. Let voters decide elections. Stop rigging the game because you are afraid of losing in a fair fight. My vote isn,Äôt yours to neutralize. Respect it.????????????????
10/20/25 12:17 PM	Michael Whaley		I strongly OPPOSE the efforts to redistrict NC again at the behest of President Trump. Districts should be drawn by a nonpartisan entity and based on population, NOT gerrymandered so a political party can retain power. If you want to win more seats, adopt more popular policies.
10/20/25 12:17 PM	Mrs D Denise Dianaty		There should be a more even split of districts to match the real demographics of the state. The real demographics are evenly distributed than the 10 to 4 districts Republicans have imposed on the state. You politicians shouldn't get to choose who votes for you; nor should you be able to suppress the voting power of those who do not vote for you. If Dems were doing that to you, you'd scream bloody murder.

10/20/25 12:17 PM	Dr. Stephen Lapointe	Retired scientist	I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Manipulating district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliateds saying gerrymandering as now considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 12:18 PM	Dr. Laura Smyth		I ask you to refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting. This redistricting distorts our federal voting maps and robs North Carolina citizens of a clear voice in the selection of their congressional districts. Gerrymandering by any party is unfair and inequitable. It divides communities and therefore undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and our ability as voters to hold our elected representatives accountable. It makes room for leaders to be more accountable to special interests than the people who did (not) elect them. 76% of North Carolina voters say gerrymandering should be illegal. I add my voice to theirs, and look forward to a day when North Carolinians live certain in the understanding that their leaders truly represent and listen to them. Our great state should make and execute its laws through good ideas, debate, and persuasion, not electoral strong-arming.
10/20/25 12:18 PM	Lisa Ellsworth		Please remember your oath. Cheating and gaming the system for partisan power will further widen the cracks in the foundation of our democracy. Will you shore it up or watch it crumble? History is waiting.
10/20/25 12:18 PM	Tessa Pendley		THIS IS EGREGIOUS, EVEN FOR YOU. Further gerrymandering already gerrymandered maps in order to steal elections might make you more powerful in the short-term, but know that it also reveals how weak and pathetic you truly are. Meanwhile, YOU STILL HAVEN'T PASSED A BUDGET.
10/20/25 12:18 PM	Mrs Barbara Shuman	Brunswick Voices 4 Democracy	We see that you are trying to further dilute the voice of the voters by eking out a congressional district to favor the Republican party. Instead of focusing on the problems of everyday NC citizens ,Äi like violence in our streets, polluted water, or creating a state budget ,Äi you are focused on saving your jobs. You are not helping us ,Äi you are helping yourselves!
10/20/25 12:19 PM	David Anderson		I am saddened, though not surprised, that some of our legislators apparently fear the people they‚Äôre supposed to represent. They fear that allowing people to vote for who they actually want will force them from power. Pathetic. It may have been done by both parties in the past, but the future could be better. They know it, but they‚Äôre afraid. Sad and pitiful.
10/20/25 12:19 PM	Ginger Trapanotto		No redistricting. I vote & I do not approve of this blatant way of taking votes away from people or making it more difficult to vote.
10/20/25 12:19 PM	Elizabeth Demofonte		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. VOTE NO!
10/20/25 12:19 PM	Elizabeth Karabinos		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:20 PM	Mary Andrews		Let‚Äôs keep our elections true to our democratic principles! Make our government work for all its people.
10/20/25 12:20 PM	Charlene Roof		Gerrymandering should be and actually is illegal! I‚Äôll never understand why Republicans feel the need to cheat and why they‚Äôre afraid of people of color! And why they are always so angry. Stop the gerrymandering!
10/20/25 12:20 PM	Mrs Rebecca Philpott		I oppose redistricting before the next election.
10/20/25 12:21 PM	Melonie Rector		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 12:21 PM	David Ansbacher	Citizen	This redistricting is unprecedented and clearly our proud state deferring to the whims of a dictatorial wanna-be-king. Please think twice before joining this divisive action. We are counting on you!
10/20/25 12:22 PM	Anne Gomez		I absolutely do not support redistricting.
10/20/25 12:22 PM	No gerrymandering Milton Hawes		Redrawing the map to give one party an advantage is not democracy.
10/20/25 12:22 PM	Amanda Smith		This is an outright disgrace to redraw maps now. You are further eroding our trust in you as elected officials. Everything being done is making it harder for people to live. Your policies are doing harm instead of any good. Republicans and Democrats are equally responsible for the current state of politics in this state and country. None of you can truly be trusted to do what is in the best interest of constituents. Your actions to redraw maps to give yourself an upper hand is distressing. Additionally, your actions to redraw the maps show that you don't give a damn about the voters. You want to stay in office.

10/20/25 12:22 PM	Liza occhio		I feel that this gerrymandering at this turning point in our democracy is a terrible idea. At a time when those in power are doing everything they can to cater to the elite and wealthy while simultaneously destroying all social safety nets for the poor, disabled, and working class is a travesty to democracy. At a time when we are fighting for freedom from a tyrant and an oligarchy, you feel it is a good idea to further destroy democracy by guaranteeing Republicans stay in power despite what the people want. This is a blatant over reach of power. You should all be ashamed that you are letting hate win. What our nation is currently going through is disgusting and you should all be ashamed of yourselves.
10/20/25 12:22 PM	Mrs Lisa Vander Bloomer		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Our voices matter and it is an attempt to steal power from the citizens of this state (which is a 50/50 state). Our voices must be heard and represented as such!! Vote NO to redistricting maps now! Thank you!
10/20/25 12:22 PM	Ms Christianne Voisin		Stop gerrymandering our state!
10/20/25 12:22 PM	Elizabeth Elliott		I am constituent and voter in Asheville. I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed congressional map currently under consideration by the North Carolina General Assembly (NCGA). I stand with the League of Women Voters NC and others who believe this mid-cycle redistricting is an unwarranted abuse of legislative power. My opposition is based on the following concerns: Undermining Voter Confidence: Redrawing district lines between census years serves no purpose other than to secure partisan advantage. This maneuver undermines the public's confidence in the fairness and stability of our democratic processes. Partisan Gerrymandering: The proposed map appears to be a clear attempt at partisan gerrymandering. These changes will silence communities, dilute the voices of many voters, and lead to an unrepresentative government that does not accurately reflect the political makeup of North Carolina. Instability of Democracy: Mid-cycle changes inject unnecessary instability into our political system. Legislators should focus on governance, not on manipulating electoral boundaries for political gain. I urge the members of the NCGA to reject the proposed congressional map and to prioritize the creation of truly Fair Maps that serve the voters of North Carolina, not just one political party. North Carolinians ,Äì Republicans, Democrats, and unaffiliated voters ,Äì are AGAINST gerrymandering. nc-gerrymandering-20251018.jpeg Sincerely, Elizabeth O. Elliott
10/20/25 12:23 PM	Mrs Rachelle Padgett		The people deserve to choose our representatives, not have districts re-drawn to force representatives into them. Re-districting without voter consent is cowardly.
10/20/25 12:23 PM	Ms Kathy Tucci	Onslow democratic citizen	2024 NC Popular vote results:2,889,657 Republican votes yielded 10 Repub reps while 2,328,248 Democratic votes yielded only 4 Democratic reps. Why should I vote if this state is so gerrymandered that Republicans are going to win? Now, you are not satisfied with 10/4, you want more and are willing to diminish my ability to be fairly represented? Are your policies so unpopular that you have to cheat to get elected? Shame on you!
10/20/25 12:23 PM	Dr. Jane Crosson		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable.
10/20/25 12:23 PM	Laurie Shaw		The people of NC, including me, resent and will vote out any legislators who attempt to thwart our fair election system by further gerrymandering our districts in a blatant move to curry favor with a corrupt federal administration. STOP THIS!
10/20/25 12:23 PM	Rev Paula Dempsey	Alliance of Baptists	Every vote matters! Politicians do not choose their voters; voters choose their elected representation. Attemps to redraw the maps mid-term are a blatant power grab, and completely ignores the rights of voters. What is being proposed is wrong and is not how a true democracy works!
10/20/25 12:23 PM	Liam Miranda		This proposal does not speak for or accurately represent our state. We should let the people speak for themselves, not through a gerrymandered map that misconstrues the will of North Carolinians.

10/20/25 12:23 PM	Katharine Scott		I,Äôm a North Carolina resident, and gerrymandering rigs our democracy. You,Äôre drawing lines to silence voices you don,Äôt like, including mine. That,Äôs not governing. That,Äôs cheating. When you gerrymander, you,Äôre declaring my vote doesn,Äôt matter before I cast it. You,Äôre making elections meaningless. Politicians pick their voters instead of the other way around. North Carolina is competitive,Äîour statewide races prove it. But you manipulate district lines to guarantee outcomes that don,Äôt reflect how we actually vote. You,Äôre manufacturing power you didn,Äôt earn. Draw fair districts. Let voters decide elections. Stop rigging the game because you,Äôre afraid of losing in a fair fight. My vote isn,Äôt yours to neutralize. Respect it.????????????????
10/20/25 12:23 PM	Mrs Stacy Staggs		This would be the third NC map since our 2020 Census. Voters pick our legislators, not the other way around. We, the People say NO to gerrymandering! NC is a 50/50 state.
10/20/25 12:24 PM	Brooke Richardson		I'm urging you to oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina,Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/20/25 12:24 PM	. .		Why are we not working on a budget
10/20/25 12:24 PM	Joseph Brennan	Self	I ask that the NC Legislature stop gerrymandering to achieve radically unfair voter disenfranchisement. The constant changing of districts causes confusion and distrust in the electoral process. Historically, districts were adjusted every 10 years based on census. Now districts are changed often to solely benefit the party in power to allow politicians to choose their voters instead of voters choosing their representitives. That is blatantly wrong and unfair. Stop it.
10/20/25 12:25 PM	Lory Speight		It,Äôs outrageous that North Carolina,Äôs Republican leaders are once again rushing to push through new redistricting maps while still failing to pass a budget for the current fiscal year. This will be the fourth time in five years that district lines have been redrawn. The state legislature has been consistently late on the budget, yet they somehow always find the time to redraw maps when it serves political interests. That tells you exactly where their priorities are. As a registered nurse working for the state, I make $20,000 to $30,000 less than I would in our local hospital. I,Äôve stayed because of my pension and vacation time, but many newer employees don,Äôt have those benefits and plan to leave as soon as they gain a little experience. Who is thinking about us,Äîstate employees,Äîor our families? Healthcare premiums have gone up. The cost of living has gone up. But there,Äôs been no raise, and we,Äôre being asked to do more with less. Instead of focusing on the budget, pay raises, or retaining quality workers, our leaders are focused on political maps. I,Äôm not a Republican, but I work with many. People are watching. They,Äôre frustrated and tired. From what I,Äôm hearing from the women I work alongside every day, many lifelong Republicans are ready to vote differently next year,Äîbecause at this point, what do they have to lose? It,Äôs time for our leaders to do their jobs,Äîpass a budget, fund essential services, and stop wasting time and taxpayer money on endless redistricting. North Carolinians deserve better.
10/20/25 12:25 PM	Sarah Harriss		Please DO NOT re-draw congressional maps to further benefit Republicans. This is blatant cheating. Thank you.
10/20/25 12:25 PM	Katie Alford		Please understand that this redistricting plan is short sighted and ultimately harmful. Both parties have been used gerrymandering to gain political influence and power. This redistricting may create a short term benefit but with long term costs, including the very real possibility that dems will use this to their advantage later on. Please vote no on this issue.
10/20/25 12:26 PM	Corey Liles	--None--	The new district map is deeply undemocratic. The choice to focus on election maps rather than a State budget is supremely irresponsible. Do things to help the lives of North Carolinians, pass a budget that speaks to their priorities and Win Their Votes in an honest way. Let representation reflect the will of the voters. Anything less is cowardice.

10/20/25 12:26 PM	Mrs. Colleen Lee	Citizen of the US and NC	I would like this committee to consider how evenly divided an electorate we have in NC. Like it or not, this is fact!. Then please consider how it can possibly be fair to ALL voters in NC to rig elections through severe and absurd gerrymanders to artificially have an 11 to 3 GOP/Democrat split in congressional districts in this state. Why not have open, competitive elections where voters actually get to choose their representatives instead of your plan where representatives choose their voters such that they can never be voted out of office. If you are honest, it is obvious that you desire the latter. Are you afraid that you cannot win on ideas and proposals in a free marketplace of ideas? If you truly believed in the worth of your ideas and policies you would not be afraid to put them forth to the voters such that voters would want to vote for GOP policies. Manipulation of Congressional district lines to ensure election victory no matter the worth (or lack of worth) of your candidates and policies is NOT democracy! It is authoritarianism bordering on fascism. Spend your time, intellect and funds on presenting worthy ideas and candidates instead of spending it all on cementing power for a generation. You are not working for the good of the people of NC if you vote for this gerrymander just to give the president what he wants. Think of your constituents and voters best interests not of supporting the president,Äôs power grab.
10/20/25 12:26 PM	Ms Judith Lesperance		I am 86 years old and disgusted by the NC GOP,Äôs proposal to redistrict our congressional districts to maintain power. If they cannot keep power fair and square then they need to listen to the people they represent. Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:26 PM	Karla Heinen		Redistricting should be a fair and bipartisan process. Doing so in an attempt to claim more power is unethical. Stop the gerrymandering.
10/20/25 12:26 PM	Ms. Lillian Briggs	Personal	Please do NOT redraw voting districts to allow more Republican representatives. The American public rejects the current prevailing government under them! Even foreign media is referring to Republicans as the American Fascist Party - We the People demand better.
10/20/25 12:26 PM	Mary Grant		STOP. You have NO right to decide what's best for me!!! I am a well educated independent woman, and I don't need/want any of my rights taken away from me. I can't believe the courts allow this. Have you bought out tge judges???
10/20/25 12:27 PM	Mrs Sandy Womble		Dear Leaders, Gerrymandering is cheating and denigrates the foundational rights of our Democracy. Watauga County is already experiencing the utter unfairness of Ralph Hise's dirty actions. Please do not support undermining our votes!
10/20/25 12:27 PM	Vote No! Caroline P		Please vote no. This is an attempt by the Republican Party to racially gerrymander district lines. This is a blatant attempt to seize power instead of letting the people decide. All votes should matter and this is not representative of what our country is built on, nor does it represent our Constitution. Please vote no. This is extremely important to me as a North Carolinian.
10/20/25 12:28 PM	Rev. Mary Mowrey		Gerrymandering has a history of being used to counter political control by one group over another. The current proposed redistricting of eastern North Carolina is an example of a power play by Republicans. Redrawing districts should only be used for shifts in population, keeping the voice of the people free from political manipulation.
10/20/25 12:28 PM	Dr Kandace Williams		Please spend your time on the solutions for the people of North Carolina and not on diluting the voice of the people.
10/20/25 12:28 PM	Ms Rebecca Nettles		Do NOT further gerrymander our state to favor the Republican party. That is unamerican, unconstitutional, and unethical.
10/20/25 12:29 PM	Stop Gerrymandering Patricia Berge		Please listen to your constituents! STOP gerrymandering. STOP trying to dismantle our democracy.
10/20/25 12:29 PM	Mrs Elizabeth Weindruch		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:29 PM	Patricia Antolino		Mid-cycle partisan gerrymandering has severe consequences: ,Ä¢ It silences voters. Communities are divided, and districts are drawn to ensure predetermined outcomes, thereby reducing competition and accountability. ,Ä¢ It destabilizes elections. Constantly changing district lines creates confusion, suppresses participation, and wastes taxpayer dollars. ,Ä¢ It weakens democracy. When maps are drawn to entrench one party,Äôs power, voters lose confidence in the fairness of the system ,Äî and many stop believing their vote matters at all.
10/20/25 12:30 PM	Janine Hope		We stand today at a critical juncture for North Carolina democracy. These 2025 proposed maps are an explicit violation of law; a deliberate act of racial gerrymandering intended to rig this state's congressional representation and illegally consolidate power for the Republican Party. To approve them would be to sanction corruption. We have a moral duty to our constituents to uphold the rule of law. Reject this injustice! Vote NO!

10/20/25 12:30 PM	Jan Harrod		North Carolina should have unbiased, unrigged electoral maps. Elected officials have a duty to prevent disenfranchisement of our citizens, especially marginalized groups. Electoral districts must be drawn to reflect the constituency of the area of representation, not gerrymandered to suit one party. Do the right thing and vote down discriminatory electoral maps. Give all North Carolinians the best chance for their votes to count.
10/20/25 12:30 PM	Ms Doris Bolt		Blatant cheating is unacceptable. NC maps were already gerrymandered and now doing so again under Trumps ask is just appalling. NC citizens, democrats are not represented in this state
10/20/25 12:30 PM	Suzanne Vanderpool		As an Unaffiliated voter, who has voted for republicans and democrats, I strongly oppose the redistricting. It is plain and simple cheating. If either party cannot win with fair districts they need to reexamine their platform, not cheat.
10/20/25 12:30 PM	David Johnson		Quit trying to cheat your way into dominance.
10/20/25 12:31 PM	Betty Jane Lazo		MORE GERRYMANDING IN NC is immoral, disgusting, and unDEMOCRATIC!!!
10/20/25 12:31 PM	Redistricting plan Joanne Clontz	Cinstituent	I am vehemently opposed to either party using unscrupulous strategies (including redistricting, not allowing mail-in ballots, making it more difficult for the aged and the poor to vote, etc).
10/20/25 12:31 PM	Mr. Benjamin Meyers		The current gerrymander of North Carolina's Congressional delegation is shameful. The upcoming session of the General Assembly is intended to further this distortion of constitutional democracy by altering Representative Davis district. This action will make our statewide Congressional delegation even less representative of our state. Nobody, regardless of their political affiliation, should support a further diminution of democracy (a political system where people choose their leaders, not vice versa).
10/20/25 12:31 PM	Kelly Allen		Redirecting to give the Republicans a majority is short-sighted and frankly wrong. Shame on our elected officials if they vote to do this.
10/20/25 12:31 PM	Ms. Deborah Wechsler		I strongly object to the current proposal of redistricting being pushed through by NC Republicans. North Carolina voters deserve better. North Carolina's voting districts are already gerrymandered in favor of Republican candidates -- otherwise, we would not be in this situation with this opportunity to make them even worse. They are an embarrassment to the state and this blatant effort should be an embarrassment to Republican legislators. If you are afraid of how voters will vote, then you need to convince them otherwise, not manipulate the electoral system. North Carolina voters deserve real reform--with independent redistricting commissions to take that power out of politicians' hands, and proportional representation to ensure every voter's voice counts.
10/20/25 12:31 PM	Donna Fabbri		Stop Gerrymandering this state! Respect our vote.
10/20/25 12:31 PM	Christine Villa		As a North Carolina voter, I,Äôm asking for fair and honest district maps. Gerrymandering takes away our voice and divides our communities for political gain. Every vote in our state should matter equally, no matter where someone lives or which party they support. Please put people over politics and draw fair, nonpartisan maps that truly represent North Carolinians.
10/20/25 12:31 PM	Rev David Sutton	Citizen	A bi-partisan commission or task force, made up not of politician-appointed members but some other selection process would be the best way to set boundaries for congressional districts. Democrats and Republicans have both played "fast and loose" with citizens and our representation by gerrymandering. To redistrict now is another example of this behavior. It is not time; a more even-handed approach should be sought and utilized.
10/20/25 12:31 PM	Payton Alexander	PTA Creative LLC	Politicians shouldn't choose their constituents. Do not approve the gerrymandered maps.
10/20/25 12:31 PM	God & Country Frederick Kull		Please for the love of God and the preservation of our CONSTITUTIONAL republic, show YOUR integrity by disavowing gerrymandering and subservience to a runaway federal administration. Support true representative government.
10/20/25 12:32 PM	Alvarys Santana	AS STRATEGY	The new redistricting plan in North Carolina raises serious concerns about fairness and representation. It appears to have been drawn in a way that benefits one political party rather than reflecting the real makeup of our communities. This kind of change affects all of us because it determines who represents our voices in Raleigh and Washington. According to our state constitution, district maps should be compact, contiguous, and based on population equality, but the current plan seems inconsistent with those principles. When maps are designed to protect political power instead of the people,Äôs interests, the foundation of democracy weakens. Fair representation should never depend on where someone lives or which party they support. Our focus should be on giving every voter an equal voice and ensuring that our leaders are accountable to their constituents. I encourage our lawmakers to revisit this plan and put the people of North Carolina first by drawing maps that are truly fair and constitutional.
10/20/25 12:32 PM	Alice Glenn		Stop the madness!!!! NO!!!!
10/20/25 12:32 PM	Theresa Lee		The GOP in NC is trying to claim that the people of our state want to see the policies enforced of this dangerous, immoral President currently in office. If they paid attention to Saturday,Äôs, peaceful, powerful protests, not only here in North Carolina but around the nation, then they can plainly see he is not supported by the vast majority. Even trying to rig the election may not give Phil Berger the outcome he wants. Do the right thing and stop this gerrymandering effort underway.

10/20/25 12:32 PM	LORA BLASER		I know strategic redistricting has been done by both parties in the past. This proposal appears to go beyond previous redistricting. Doing this redistricting at an off-schedule time and to "protect President Trump's agenda" is such a blatant partisan move I must object. This goes against the democracy of United States. Do not implement this redistricting.
10/20/25 12:32 PM	Pass the budget Jennifer Abdo		The Republicans have unfairly gerrymandered away nearly all the seats, leaving many of us unrepresented and now they want still another to complete the takeover that would hold us all hostage and turn NC into a bad, undemocratic joke for decades to come. Still worse, we desperately need to pass a budget to function as a society and this is subjugated to the will of a dictatorial minority overrepresented in the legislature by gerrymandering. At some point, the legislators need to stop acting like gods and start acting like they work for WE THE PEOPLE. Give us equal seats for the parties and let us vote!!
10/20/25 12:32 PM	Please do not redistrict J. Eric Elliott		Redistricting is a political act that should be constrained by movements of people, not whims of politicians. Doing so on ly after each census at least anchors gerrymandering to a moment in time and demographic change and allows a decade for the public to give feedback within those set districts. With increasing AI efficiency, what is to stop you or future opposition parties from changing district lines continually up until elections begin? You invite a hellish future when voters discover how limited a say they can have in their representation, and extreme partisanship will only invite opposition extremes. Rather than join the race to micromanage who you have tolisten to, vote to sue to stop Texas and California and any state that changes districts more than once a decade.
10/20/25 12:33 PM	Ms. Carolyn Biggerstaff	N/A	Gerrymandering negatively impacts our wonderful experiment in democracy. Our people need and deserve equitable districting!
10/20/25 12:33 PM	David Vincent		Changing maps to favor one party over another is not represented democracy. History, if no one else, will judge you.
10/20/25 12:33 PM	Mary Ferguson		Please DO NOT redistrict at this time
10/20/25 12:34 PM	Anne Robotti		I don't understand why, in the age of AI, we can't have fair maps. Citizens deserve to have their votes count! And dissolving District 1, one of the remaining opportunity districts for black voters, is especially egregious. It disenfranchises Democrats and black voters at the same time, since the district is overwhelmingly blue. The latest maps are completely unacceptable, and will violate our Constitutionally guaranteed right to a representative government. In a purple state, we should have a purple legislature - not one gerrymandered to be blood red.
10/20/25 12:34 PM	Mary Lahr Cain		Our representation in the NC General Assembly should be reflective of the constituents that live in this state. Do not continue to gerrymander districts so that they continue to favor one political party. Do not bow to the will of the current administration. Serve North Carolinians respectfully and honorably.
10/20/25 12:34 PM	Linda Liner		This is the most blatant form of voter suppression. Shame on you !
10/20/25 12:34 PM	Whitney Hibbitts		I am disappointed to hear that the GOP wants to continue their gerrymandering efforts. I implore you to instead focus on strategies to get more people to vote from you, rather than using unethical ways to increase your power in the great state of NC. Gerrymandering is a cowardly way to try to get more power, but I can't say I'm surprised that you're trying it.....you have shown your constitutents time and again that you do not care for us or what we want. Please take a look inside and see if this is really how you want to move forward? Do you care that you're doing cowardly things? Wouldn't it be better for you and all of us if you actually had courage and integrity? Please, please make the necessary changes within your heart to begin having these qualities. It's what a good leader does.
10/20/25 12:34 PM	Congressional district pl Clanci Foxx		I strongly oppose the newly proposed redistricting maps in North Carolina. These maps represent clear partisan gerrymandering, undermining the fundamental principles of fair representation. Every resident of North Carolina deserves to have their voice heard and their vote count equally, regardless of political affiliation or geographic location. This kind of map manipulation silences communities and weakens the integrity of our democracy. Redistricting should be conducted transparently and fairly, with the goal of ensuring equal representation, not political advantage. Gerrymandering has no place in a healthy, functioning democracy and should be deemed illegal.
10/20/25 12:34 PM	Rebekah Woolf		I do not support this plan in any way.
10/20/25 12:34 PM	Andrew Karabinos		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:34 PM	Tea Tribuzio		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Votes should be earned and not stolen with gerrymandering.
10/20/25 12:35 PM	Dr. Michael Whatley	Retired	This is offensive gerrymandering directed at Don Davis and all Democrats. Senate and House Republicans should be ashamed of such a blatant power grab violating the state and national Constitutions.
10/20/25 12:35 PM	Ms Cathy Roche	Constituent	Berger should be ashamed of himself stealing voting rights from North Carolinians to help an authoritarian president wield power. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:35 PM	Mary Mount		These are maps that are designed only to elect Republicans. They take the choice away from voters and effectively allow Republicans to choose their voters. This is targeted voter suppression and is unacceptable.
10/20/25 12:35 PM	Opposed to redistricting Brian Fox		I find it absolutely horrendous this is even being proposed by the North Carolina General assembly to redistrict out of cycle simply to attempt gerrymander the state more and rig the election against the people of the state. Donald Trump is not a king.

10/20/25 12:36 PM	Rachel Green		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:36 PM	Liza Bunce		The idea and potential for redrawing a map in favor of one party makes no sense, and is completely inaccurate. You cannot (and should not, but your parents and adults in your life should have taught you that) just look to inaccurately represent the state of North Carolina and myself and all the other people living in it just because you want your ideas to become law unjustly. This is so insanely crazy?? The maps should be accurate, and need to be redrawn since they‚Äôre already gerrymandered, but this? This is what you want to be remembered for? Holy crap. I am very against the new maps. Shame on you. I hope your mothers and fathers are disappointed and I hope one day you can view what you‚Äôve done and make amends.
10/20/25 12:36 PM	Marie Cawley		You are trying to district for the wrong reason. Innocent people will be affected. Don‚Äôt do it
10/20/25 12:37 PM	Sarah Coggins		As a North Carolinian and voter, I am disgusted by the attempt that the GOP is making to redraw NC maps and intentionally further gerrymander them. Voters choose their politicians. Politicians do not get to map us out of our rights. That is shameful and neither party should be in favor of such a thing. NC voters and citizens deserve fair maps and to allow their voices to be heard. Stop trying to silence us. The NCGA should be reconvening to work out a budget and stand up for healthcare for NC. Not pulling stunts like this.
10/20/25 12:37 PM	Mrs. Susan Kelemen		I oppose Republican's plans to FURTHER gerrymand our state and give MORE unrepresentative power to the Republican party! Stop the gerrymandering!
10/20/25 12:37 PM	Ms Veronica Shea		I am firmly against redistricting at this time. I am a voting resident in Johnson County. I expect fair representation across the great state of North Carolina. Stop the gerrymandering.
10/20/25 12:37 PM	STOP the Redistrict Plan Sarah Frankey		I am a concerned voting citizen and am aware of the already grossly gerrymandered maps as well as the plan for republicans looking to serve Donald Trump instead of their constituents. Donald Trump,‚Äôs request further stains our elections and does not represent the people that live and work here. It will further give the majority to a very small percentage of people. Stop the madness, grow a spine, and let the citizens each count for one person. It,‚Äôs not beneficial for our state,‚Äôs government or economy to allow a small portion of folks make decisions for everyone else. I WANT MY VOTE TO COUNT. Thank you for your time.
10/20/25 12:37 PM	Jane Smithson		Democracy depends on voters choosing their elected officials, not the other way around. Republicans have still not passed a budget nor funded education. It,‚Äôs clear you care more about protecting billionaires than caring for the citizens of North Carolina. NO MORE GERRYMANDERED MAPS!! This proposal is unnecessary, rushed and costly. North Carolina has already been redistricted twice since 2020. The public is not being given enough time to consider the proposal and discuss the impact with their representatives. Legislators should focus on passing a state budget instead of a redistricting plan that will likely result in costly litigation. This proposal will dilute the political power of Black North Carolinians. The biggest impact of this proposal will be the ‚Äúcracking‚Äù of the northeastern Black Belt into two districts. The national Voting Rights Act requires the legislature to proactively consider race in redistricting to protect against illegal vote dilution for Black and Brown voters.
10/20/25 12:37 PM	President Braxton Winston	North Carolina AFL CIO	There are no kings in North Carolina. Unfortunately, we do have many petty partisans in positions of power ‚Äì weak men cowed by a wannabe king who is desperate to avoid being held accountable by voters for his costly and chaotic anti-worker agenda. We at the NC State AFL-CIO condemn the efforts of Senate President Pro Tem Phil Berger and House Speaker Destin Hall to rig the outcome of congressional elections next year by changing district maps in response to the marching orders of Donald Trump. Instead of passing a state budget, paying workers who provide critical services to our families what they deserve, or protecting Medicaid and food assistance for seniors and kids, our General Assembly is playing political games to pay for presidential endorsements of its failed leadership. Their choices threaten to suppress the voices of voters in this state and the ability of workers to secure our freedom to thrive. The idea that all political power is derived from the people is a bedrock democratic principle and at the heart of the labor movement. In the coming days and weeks, our worker-led movement will organize and participate in First Amendment activities to ensure that the will of working people, not billionaires, wins the day.
10/20/25 12:37 PM	Kenyata Chisholm		The new redistricting plan in North Carolina takes power away from the people. It divides communities that have shared values and interests for generations and replaces fairness with political control. When elected leaders choose their voters instead of voters choosing their leaders, democracy is weakened. This plan will silence voices that deserve to be heard and limit the ability of ordinary people to shape their future. We are frustrated because this is not how fair government should work. Every voter should have an equal say and every community should have representation that reflects its people. The constitution calls for equality and transparency, not manipulation of power. North Carolinians deserve maps that respect their rights and strengthen their voice, not ones that take it away.

10/20/25 12:37 PM	Rebecca Gridley		This redistricting is corrupt and unacceptable. What are republicans so afraid of? Is the policy so bad that you have to gerrymander further? The people have had ENOUGH. This should not go through.
10/20/25 12:38 PM	Shara Matthews		I strongly oppose the newly proposed redistricting maps in North Carolina. These maps represent clear partisan gerrymandering, undermining the fundamental principles of fair representation. Every resident of North Carolina deserves to have their voice heard and their vote count equally, regardless of political affiliation or geographic location. This kind of map manipulation silences communities and weakens the integrity of our democracy. Redistricting should be conducted transparently and fairly, with the goal of ensuring equal representation, not political advantage. Gerrymandering has no place in a healthy, functioning democracy and should be deemed illegal.
10/20/25 12:38 PM	Ms. Shruti Parikh	NC Asian Americans Together	Partisan power brokers are using backdoor deals to steal elections and harm the very people they are supposed to be serving. Instead of putting the work in to work on issues that actually affect North Carolinians, they,Äôre taking the coward,Äôs way out and just putting a hand on the scales. This effort is nothing new. Decades of gerrymandering have blocked communities of color from having fair and equal representation in our democracy. Redistricting is supposed to happen once every ten years, in a fair & transparent process where community voices are heard & respected. This isn,Äôt something that should be happening behind closed doors with no consideration for community members. Our elected officials shouldn,Äôt be picking their constituents. Voters should pick their representatives. Every perspective & community should be able to have their voice heard in our policy decisions. Politicians are using us to further their own selfish political aims. This is not governance for the people. Our right to fair representation, our right to vote ,Äì it,Äôs all just collateral to them in their fight to suppress the people,Äôs will. We want our representatives to take action on issues that affect our everyday lives. We want affordable healthcare, a lower cost of living, and public safety. Our elected officials know this, and they still choose to waste time and taxpayer dollars on secret meetings to subvert what people really want. When maps split our communities, our voices are at risk of being cut out of critical decisions that will have lasting effects on our lives. Asian Americans aren,Äôt the only ones impacted by these new maps- these decisions target the voices of Black & Brown North Carolinians, young people, and all voters. And we know this isn,Äôt what North Carolinians want. NCAAT joins organizations across the state and country in calling for fair and transparent redistricting processes, protection of minority voting strength under the Voting Rights Act, community-led engagement, and cross-racial and cross-ethnic collaboration to ensure every voice is heard. We call on our elected officials to do the right thing and reject these maps.
10/20/25 12:38 PM	Bernadette Spampinato		Are the NC Republicans as worried as Trump that they won,Äôt be able to win in the 2026 election without gerrymandering? You were elected to work on the issues pertinent to NC residents not waste time and taxpayer money. Doing this is guaranteed to lose you more votes.
10/20/25 12:38 PM	Elaine Chiosso		I am appalled by the current proposal of redistricting being pushed through by NC Republicans in our legislature. This gerrymandering to steal a congressional seat is a shameful, cynical move that would hand nearly 80% of North Carolina,Äôs congressional seats to Republicans in what is, by every measure, a 50/50 swing state. This action would undermine our elections and faith in our election process if the people of North Carolina, who are not Republicans, feel they have no representation in the US House of Representatives. This includes not just Democrats but also the growing number of unaffiliated voters, along with those who support third party candidates. I support proportional representation to ensure every voter's voice counts.
10/20/25 12:38 PM	Mary Holland		Please stop destroying North Carolina and the USA with more illegal gerrymandering, just please stop.
10/20/25 12:38 PM	Lee Sam		Redistricting is for scared little republican bitches who can,Äôt win the general election and have to cheat their way into ruining your life
10/20/25 12:38 PM	Rosalyn Allison-Jacobs	ROI Impact Consulting	This attempt at mass voter disenfranchisement is shameful! If you believe your party, its leadership, and its principles are popular and reflect the will of the people, I challenge you to run on its merits rather than trying to stack the deck. The whole state is watching you.
10/20/25 12:38 PM	Rev Susie Enoch	Public Citizen	I am against any redistricting in my area. You have no right to cheat your way to maintain republican representation and not consider the whole scope of north carolina citizens who pay your salary. It is unethical and callous. How you can call yourselves concerned about ALL Americans is the lie in which you like to veil yourselves under.
10/20/25 12:38 PM	Anne Brooks		You can redistrict all you like ,Ä¶ if you want the pendulum swung that hard against you.
10/20/25 12:39 PM	Sally Wilging	na	General Assembly - NC should adopt a non-partisan redistricting commission and stop the gerrymandering on both sides of the aisle. In this day and age, a computer could divide up the state into logical and practical districts and then maybe we would actually have "elections" rather than pre-determined winners based on gerrymandered districts. If the only way a candidate can "win" an election is to rig the district, that says a lot about the unsuitability of the candidates being put on the ballot.

10/20/25 12:39 PM	June Hayes		I am a member of the Occaneechi Band of the Saponi Nation and this will be detrimental to our lands and our people. It will cause a huge divide amongst our tribe because our lands span across Orange, Alamance, and Caswell counties. With urgency, please reconsider this plan. Thanks.
10/20/25 12:39 PM	NANCY MUENCH	Resident of NC	Seriously, stop it. The amount of times you are gerrymandering this state for an advantage to one political party is anti-American, anti-fairness and anti-freedom. If you want to win fairly, listen to your constituents and be loyal to the Constitution.
10/20/25 12:40 PM	Erin McGrath		The proposed redistricting is a blatant attempt to undermine democracy in our state in collaboration with a fascist regime. Let the people choose their representatives, not the other way around. Let us have a map that gives people a voice and a choice.
10/20/25 12:40 PM	Angela Caison		Redrawing maps to keep one political party in office is wrong and I am against redistricting ,Ä¶ so vote NO!
10/20/25 12:40 PM	Dail Bridges		Do NOT gerrymander this state. Give us FAIR voting districts. It is YOUR JOB to support all citizens with equitable voting maps/districts.
10/20/25 12:41 PM	Mr. Alan Welch	Onslow County Indepenents	In case you Republicans have not noticed there is a growing unease and distaste for your policies, actions, and most of your elected officials. This bogus redistricting is just one more stepping stone on the road to failure and your becoming a closet filled with political pariahs. The crumbling approval rating of your President and his pathetic excuse for a cabinet is rapidly spilling down the ranks toward your levels and the citizens of this great nation are looking ever more for policies that help them and not the monied elites. Gerrymandering might be a stopgap, but actually working for your constituents is the only way you can survive the rapidly approaching storm. Develop policies for the people, run on ideas and service not cheating.
10/20/25 12:41 PM	Richarre Mayo		I am writing today to urge you in the most emphatic terms to vote no on the proposed redistricting plan for our state. Redrawing congressional districts specifically to ensure that only one party ever has a chance of winning any given election is unequivocally wrong. Gerrymandering is just plain wrong. Do not stoop to that level. As your constituent, I ask you to vote no.
10/20/25 12:41 PM	Julie Nye		I am vehemently opposed to the latest round of partisan gerrymandering to appropriate ONE MORE seat in the US Congress guaranteed for a Republican. This is blatant election interference in a state where registered voters are roughly evenly split between Democrats and Repulblicans. This is WRONG and UNFAIR. Respectfully, a blue voter in one of the other red districts
10/20/25 12:41 PM	Mrs Makayla Jefcoat		This is not what is best for all North Carolinians. This is an obvious power grab, and it is heartbreaking that power has overruled what is right for all communities to be uplifted. You know what the right thing to do is, and it is NOT redistricting. Vote No because it is the only correct thing to do. Set an example that your children can be proud of, not one they would be ashamed of.
10/20/25 12:41 PM	Roderick White		Please let the people choose there representatives not the other way around. Let,Äôs face facts the American people don,Äôt like the current policies and the state of the country. Don has fought hard for Seymour and other programs. This is morally wrong on so many levels. Let the people decide. You are taking the power from the voters. We are going backwards into our dark history.
10/20/25 12:41 PM	DO NOT GERRYMANDER ANYMOR Bailey Howard		Do not further gerrymander the NC state election maps. This is unfair, cheating and quite frankly immoral. Despite statements by some congressional members saying "I do not represent Democrats" as a republican congressmember - you do. You represent EVERY human within your district boundaries, regardless of political affiliation. Your allegiance SHOULD BE to the people of your district, your county and your state ahead of allegiance to party, "friends," or yourself. Statistics show that more than 85% of Noeth Carolinians DO NOT SUPPORT gerrymandered election maps - REGARDLESS OF POLITICAL PARTY AFFILIATION. Your job is to serve the people of North Carolina, not a wannabe king and his fascist regime. DO NOT GERRYMANDER NC'S ELECTION MAPS FURTHER.
10/20/25 12:41 PM	Dr Henry Lister		remember what goes around comes around. Didn't you learn in Kindergarten to play nicely with the other kids? Even if you didn't like them? Gerrymandering to silence opposition is tyranny. Try to be better than that.
10/20/25 12:42 PM	Ellen Peery		Vote NO. Reject the proposed 2025 illegal gerrymandered maps.
10/20/25 12:42 PM	Andrew Bell		It is absurd that NC Republicans are again focusing on a power grab rather than actually legislating to help the people of NC. Redistricting should be done by an independent, non-partisan commission, not by electeds trying to ensure they can continue to ignore the will of the people. As an NC citizen and voter, I am STRONGLY opposed to this partisan power grab.
10/20/25 12:42 PM	Citizen impacted by Idea Julia Best	Senior Democrats	Oppose this overreaching map redrawing. Political negativity, greed by one party over another. Fair representation is being disregarded. Completely not American, ignoring justice for all and We all the People!!
10/20/25 12:42 PM	Patricia Mueller		Our US Constitution specifically states that redistricting be based on the census--EVERY 10 YEARS. To arbitrarily move district lines around AFTER FIVE YEARS IN, indicates a strictly political motive. This is NOT how a democracy is suppose to work--equal representation so that WE EACH have an EQUAL VOICE! I believe in DEMOCRACY--where the MAJORITY of voters DECIDE who will represent them. I am committed to DEMOCRACY. The critical question--ARE YOU? It appears the motivation is to FALSELY keep ONE party in power. That is not what the Founders intended! Again- are you for an AUTHORITARIAN gov't where ONE person calls the shots (the Executive Branch) or one where THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES- THE PEOPLE'S HOUSE- develops the laws and shares EQUAL POWER with the other two branches-- Please read OUR CONSTITUTION and REJECT THE GERRYMANDERING OF THE DISTRICTS IN NC TODAY!

10/20/25 12:42 PM	Ms. Jasmine Garcia		North Carolina voters deserve fair maps! Gerrymandering strips voters of fair and equal elections, and should be illegal. We deserve a govenment that doesn't resort to underhanded tactics to benefit a select group of constituents.
10/20/25 12:42 PM	Janr Harlow	My own	Stop trying to fix elections according to a party's interest. Serve all the people!
10/20/25 12:42 PM	Mrs Anne Robertson		It is unconscionable that the NC state legislature would take direction from the President to curtail the fair election rights of North Carolinians. YOU work for US only.
10/20/25 12:43 PM	Conrad Lineberry		I am outraged that Republicans in the North Carolina general Assembly are again trying to suppress the votes of North Carolinians. They disagree with. The North Carolina congressional districts should be constructed based on recommendations of an independent review board and not partisans in the state house.
10/20/25 12:43 PM	Mina Naz		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:43 PM	Tracy Fortini		Mid-cycle partisan gerrymandering has severe consequences: ,Ä¢ It silences voters. Communities are divided, and districts are drawn to ensure predetermined outcomes, thereby reducing competition and accountability. ,Ä¢ It destabilizes elections. Constantly changing district lines creates confusion, suppresses participation, and wastes taxpayer dollars. ,Ä¢ It weakens democracy. When maps are drawn to entrench one party,Äôs power, voters lose confidence in the fairness of the system ,Äî and many stop believing their vote matters at all.
10/20/25 12:43 PM	Ms Jin Adams Parker	Retired	North Carolina voters divide into equal numbers when partisans are counted. Gerrymandering tells a lie about who the voters are. Please stop the lie.
10/20/25 12:43 PM	Rev. Susannah Smith	Episcopal Diocese of NC	I am against the redistricting of NC District One. Such redistricting will skew a majority vote to only 30% of our state's population. Many voices of voters will be discounted by this power play to regain a super majority in the State Legislature. Not fair!
10/20/25 12:43 PM	Linda Crivaro		Legislators should focus on passing a state budget instead of rushing through an unfair redistricting plan that will likely result in costly litigation.
10/20/25 12:44 PM	Md Amy Tufts	None	Stop trying to rig the numbers by redistricting to favor republicans and rob democrats of their healthcare. Just like my dad always said ,ÄúThe rich get richer and the poor get poorer when republicans are in charge. How many more millions do they need, while people are loosing their lives without healthcare coverage.
10/20/25 12:44 PM	Gerrymandering Abbie Lefever		Gerrymandering is cheating. North Carolina is better than this. If you believe the majority of North Carolina is happy with the Republican Party then the votes will speak for themselves.
10/20/25 12:44 PM	Mrs. Lindsay Irving		Redistricting again is absurd and a blatant abuse of Republican power. Gerrymandering in order to win is cheating.
10/20/25 12:44 PM	Diane Labovitz		Allowing politicians to manipulate district lilies for partisan andvantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable.
10/20/25 12:44 PM	Patricia Dutile		I am among the 84% of North Carolinians who oppose gerrymandering in our state and thus oppose this outrageous redistricting attempt. Redistricting should occur every 10 years based on population changes, not willy-nilly as a result of political whim. Please respect the will of the people, and democracy as a whole, by opposing this attempt.
10/20/25 12:44 PM	Sachelle Ford		I urge you to oppose any effort to conduct mid-decade congressional redistricting in North Carolina. Such action would further undermine the integrity of our federal voting maps and weaken the ability of citizens across the state to choose their own representatives. An overwhelming majority of North Carolinians,Äî76%,Äîbelieve it should be illegal to use gerrymandering as a tool to disadvantage voters based on political affiliation. This is not a partisan issue. Voters across the political spectrum agree: 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters believe the kind of partisan gerrymandering now under consideration by Senate leadership should be outlawed. The message is clear: Voters want fair maps and fair elections. I respectfully ask that you stand with the people of North Carolina and reject any attempts to redraw congressional districts mid-decade for partisan gain.
10/20/25 12:44 PM	Deborah Hollingsworth		Please refer to Article I, Section 2, Clause 3 of the US Constitution which clearly states that "Representatives ... shall be apportioned among the several States ... every subsequent Term of ten Years." Republicans in the North Carolina General Assembly should not violate the Constitution in order to grant favor to their political party.
10/20/25 12:45 PM	Marthe Williams		Stop gerrymandering! We want fair elections. Not rigged elections to ensure that Republicans will win. Because everyone knows they would lose in 2026.

10/20/25 12:45 PM	Mrs. Michelle Hobson	This is a blatant attempt to silence voices of North Carolinians. It is also against our a State Constitution. From our State Constitution : Article II, Sections 3 and 5, of the state constitution outlines specific criteria for revising state Senate and House of Representatives districts after each decennial census. These requirements include: Equal population: Districts must contain an equal number of inhabitants as is practicable. Contiguous territory: Each district must consist of connected territory. County integrity: No county can be divided to form a single legislative district. The state Supreme Court has addressed this "Whole County Provision," requiring "county groupings" that minimize the division of counties. Communities of interest: State law requires considering communities of interest during the redistricting process. Unchanged districts: Districts are not to be altered between decennial censuses. Any legislator willing to vote in favor of this is a criminal.
10/20/25 12:45 PM	Ms. Cindy Fertenbaugh	I am an unaffiliated voter with a strong voting record and deep concerns about the mid-decade redistricting proposals. Our country and state were founded on the principles of representation. You previously gerrymandered my city to alter state position elections. Please allow the people to be represented fairly based on where we live. I vote across both major parties. Don't further extend the growing distrust of the Republican majority.
10/20/25 12:46 PM	Elizabeth Erskine	This is an outrageous power grab by the Republican party. How about you start focusing on real issues for North Carolinians like helping residents retain health care and veterans receive their benefits.
10/20/25 12:46 PM	Mrs Rexanna Wright	I am vehemently opposed to the Republican plan to redistrict our state voting maps to gain another seat! I want FAIR AND EQUAL representation and you already have more seats than is fair! No Kings applies to our state representatives. Power of the People in Saturday,Äôs No Kings marches should tell you this will not be tolerated. Voters are organizing and we will vote a bunch of you out!
10/20/25 12:46 PM	Ms Christy Collum	I and my vote are adamantly against gerrymandering!
10/20/25 12:46 PM	Vote no on this plan Sarah Pickel	I am asking that our representatives reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. This type of politics only damages our faith in your ability to govern us fairly and manipulated the system to keep power versus trying to serve the people of this state. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:47 PM	Barbara Weiss	Stop the illegal gerrymandering! NC is better than this! We believe in and support the constitution, not what MAGA is trying to do to our democracy! We want a better life for our children, grandchildren and great grandchildren, which is NOT what the current administration is trying to do! PLEASE!
10/20/25 12:47 PM	Sandra Allen	I am opposed to your redistricting plan. It serves no good purpose. Please focus on doing what is helpful and right for NC, not bending to the demands of Donald Trump just out of fear. People will respect you more and be more likely to vote for you if you hold your moral compass to do the right thing. Thank you for your service to the public.
10/20/25 12:47 PM	Julie Adams	Redistricting to favor one party is totally un democratic. Also, it demonstrates you are afraid you can,Äôt win fairly. I oppose redistricting.
10/20/25 12:47 PM	Mr Mark Lewis	I am completely opposed to mid cycle redistricting and gerrymandering. We need an independent bi partisan group creating our districts.
10/20/25 12:48 PM	Lynn Romano	I urge all lawmakers to vote against this unnecessary attempt to redistrict two of North Carolina,Äôs congressional districts midway between U.S. Census taking. As seen in recent polling (listed below), the majority of North Carolinians are tired of these partisan games, particularly at a time when our lawmakers should be focused on passing a robust state budget, fully funding Medicaid and public schools, and focusing on rebuilding western NC after last year's devastating storm. I think everyone can agree that everyone,Äôs vote should count and that North Carolina voters should choose their elected officials, not the other way around. Partisan gerrymandering dilutes people's votes and is done solely to gain and entrench political power. These voter suppression tactics have no place in a democratic society. *A recent Republican-leaning polling firm found that 84% of North Carolina voters said gerrymandering is NEVER acceptable. And that includes 78% of North Carolina Republican voters, 85% of North Carolina unaffiliated voters, and 87% of North Carolina Democratic voters. Please reject this effort to redistrict these two congressional districts and do what is right and fair by North Carolina voters.
10/20/25 12:48 PM	Natalie Mays	Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.

10/20/25 12:48 PM	Hannah McKenzie	I oppose mid-decade congressional redistricting. I find the proposed redistricting maps to be insincere and un-Christian. I grew up in North Carolina, 4-H, North Carolina public schools, the Presbyterian church. In these spaces I learned about government, how to respect and care for one another, and respectfully engage in discourse. Rigging the maps in North Carolina to favor one party is despicable and not in keeping with the values of North Carolinian's. In closing, I'd like to share recent poll findings: "76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law." Please show respect for North Carolina voters by allowing us to choose our representatives fairly.
10/20/25 12:48 PM	Kim Keefe	Vehemently oppose any plans to redraw districts to give one party the advantage regardless of the party! This is a democracy. It's about time you started doing YOUR job representing US. Not this shifty dealing to consolidate your own power.
10/20/25 12:49 PM	Ms. Mary Goodkind	I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. If you persist it will be obvious to all NC voters that you can't win based on your legislative work but must manipulate the system in order to stay in power. Power is empty if you aren't working to make peoples' lives better.
10/20/25 12:49 PM	Milagros Napoli	Gerrymandering hurts our democracy. This is not a democrat vs. republican issue. Please don't do this and help preserve our democracy for years to come.
10/20/25 12:49 PM	Deirdre Kevorkian	Gerrymandering is against our state constitution. It is WRONG for politicians to pick their voters rather than voters have a say in who represents them. Trump's policies are so unpopular that millions are showing up to protest him and now he is resorting to cheating by asking for illegal mid-decade map rigging. This is not the Republican party I knew, the GOP that in 2006 voted unanimously with the Democrats to reaffirm the Voting Rights Act to guarantee fair elections for all. What Berger and the NC GOP is shameful and anti-democratic.
10/20/25 12:49 PM	Kathryn Huff	This is a blatant and transparent power grab that has no thought for the true best interests of North Carolinians. Look at any state wide election and you will see North Carolina is a 50/50 state, and frankly it is ridiculous that our representation does not reflect that - not due to actions or failures of specific politicians but due to that fact that it has been MADE that way. This redistricting effort silences our voices. Maps should be drawn in a fair and nonpartisan way, and let the best policies and ideas determine electoral outcomes. It seems to me that if you have to cheat to win, it‚Äôs not really winning.
10/20/25 12:49 PM	Jermatic Chambers	Our leadership team is better than this. We know this is gerrymandering. Vote No. Keep our maps and our elections fair. This is North Carolina.
10/20/25 12:49 PM	Cindy Levey	Be fair!!!!
10/20/25 12:49 PM	Mr Tyler West	The redirecting maps do not allow the voters to vote for their representative as proposed as much as the representatives choose their voters. I do not support the new maps and believe we can do a better job for the hard working people of North Carolina.
10/20/25 12:49 PM	Ms. Annette Dove	Mr. Berger, it is my opinion that redistricting North Carolina is a shameless act of cheating. The map was already heavily gerrymandered, and changing it to give republicans ANOTHER seat is just out-right cheating. But, I guess that is the only way your party can win. Stop lying to the people of this great state!

10/20/25 12:49 PM	Ayumi Durden		Dear Members of the North Carolina General Assembly, I am writing to express my unwavering opposition to the 2025 proposed maps for North Carolina‚Äôs congressional districts. The proposed redistricting plan is not only a violation of fundamental principles of democratic representation but an illegal and blatant attempt to racially gerrymander our state‚Äôs districts. This effort is wholly unacceptable and must be rejected. The framers of our Constitution recognized that redistricting is a powerful tool that, when misused, can undermine the very fabric of our democracy. The proposed maps fail this test by intentionally manipulating district boundaries to dilute the political power of racial minorities. This is nothing short of racial gerrymandering, a practice that has been consistently condemned by the courts and is illegal under both the U.S. Constitution and the Voting Rights Act. The right to fair and equal representation is sacred in a democracy. The proposed maps seek to manipulate district lines to achieve partisan gain at the expense of racial equity, leaving communities of color underrepresented and disenfranchised. Such actions are an affront to the principles of fairness and justice that all North Carolinians should hold dear. As a citizen of this state, I find this attempt at racial gerrymandering not only morally reprehensible but also deeply troubling from a legal standpoint. The courts have repeatedly struck down maps that were drawn with racial intent, and I have no doubt that these maps, if passed, will face the same fate in the courts. The only question is how many taxpayer dollars will be wasted in the process of rectifying this clear injustice. I urge you, as elected officials, to stand up for the rights of all North Carolinians. Reject these proposed maps. We must ensure that the voice of every citizen‚Äîregardless of race, ethnicity, or background‚Äîis fairly represented in our democracy. This is not just a matter of legal compliance but of moral imperative. Please vote NO to the 2025 proposed maps and work toward a fair, equitable, and legally sound redistricting process that truly reflects the diversity and values of our state.
10/20/25 12:50 PM	Sarah Jones		Redistricting should not be for the purpose of giving Donald Trump additional political cover. This is not to better serve the people of North Carolina. Our constituents should be looking out for the people of North Carolina. Thank you.
10/20/25 12:50 PM	Jan Zanin		You must vote AGAINST this mid-cycle gerrymandering of NC Congressional Districts! - It silences voters - It destabilizes elections - It weakens our democracy I join the League of Women Voters of NC in opposition to these manipulative tactics. Voters should choose their representatives!!!
10/20/25 12:50 PM	Howard Hanlon		So here we go again trying to steal an election. Makes sense, when the only thing I see is the Republicans following a convicted felon and a wanna be authoritarian leader. There was a time where , as an independent, I considered who would best represent my views an values. As of now not one republican represents me. For you it is all about the power and you no longer care about all the people you represent. If you feel a post from a 10 year old bully dropping sewage on protesters, or depicting himself as king is not OKAY you've lost your way. There are alot who call yourself christians I'm not sure why, it also seems you are no longer following your oath to the constitution. The only the I ask is that you truly look at what's happening and in your heart find a way to stand up for all of us. If you still vote yes see you next election. I will do everything I can to vote you out.
10/20/25 12:50 PM	Ms Abigail ONeill		Republicans are trying to steal a district instead of playing fair. VOTE AGAINST THIS PLAN!
10/20/25 12:50 PM	Jennifer Coss	The People of North Carolina	W live in the southpark area of Charlotte, and our area is being redistricted yet again under this new push. For the love of God and country, please stop this blatant madness to hold onto power. There is nothing democratic about the way you are conducting yourselves, and at this point, it has become incredibly clear to all that you are looking out for yourselves, your seats, your own access to money and power, and are not acting on behalf of the people of North Carolina. If you continue to try to shove these maps down our throats against our will, recognize that you are the reason our beloved Democracy will fall. We are tired of your manipulations against our interests.
10/20/25 12:50 PM	Ms Joan Toepfer		You have no right to redraw maps and create voting districts that will disenfranchise millions of voters. This is simply wrong. You don‚Äôt need to follow the instructions of Donald Trump. Are you afraid of losing if you don‚Äôt cheat?
10/20/25 12:51 PM	Elizabeth Erskine		Voters will not forget who voted to disenfranchse them if this gerry-mandered bill passes. How about working on some REAL issues like residents losing their access to health care in the near future. This bill reflects who you really are, not a representative of the people you swore to represent.

10/20/25 12:51 PM	Dr. Joan Walsh		I am appalled by the machinations of the NC General Assembly, gerrymandering the map so as to give Republicans another seat. Redrawing should only happen after a census, not because a would-be king/dictator in the White House tells the leaders of our two NC houses to give him another Republican Congress member. We the people will not stand for this! Seven million came out against this regime on Saturday; the next months will see more, and more, and more, until the will of the people is recognized.
10/20/25 12:51 PM	Stop crippling democracy Danielle Walle		Cheating isn't ok. It wasn't ok when the democrats did it and it's not ok for you to do it. Let the will of the people be represented by the government and let our government stand for the best outcome for all people. This isn't the legacy you want to leave behind. This isn't the legacy I want for my beloved state (or country). Stand up and do the right thing (which isn't redistricting to remove voices from politics). History and your voters will remember.
10/20/25 12:51 PM	Linda Poss		Please vote "No" on the proposed Congressional districting plan. Over 75% of North Carolinians believe it is illegal to discriminate based on political affiliation. You have a moral obligation to protect the right of every NC citizen to have their vote count in the 2026 elections.
10/20/25 12:51 PM	Patricia Aiken		I,Äôm a North Carolina resident, and gerrymandering rigs our fair elections. Drawing lines to silence voices you don,Äôt like is not governing. It is cheating. When you gerrymander, you are declaring my vote doesn,Äôt matter before I cast it. Politicians pick their voters instead of the other way around and you are manufacturing power you didn't earn. By gerrymandering, you are guaranteeing outcomes that do not reflect the true votes. In the long run, this will not end well. It will lead to a revolution. History shows this. North Carolina is competitive,Äîour statewide races prove it. Draw fair districts. Let voters decide elections. Stop rigging the game because you,Äôre afraid of losing in a fair fight. My vote isn,Äôt yours to neutralize. Respect it.????????????????
10/20/25 12:51 PM	jean casanave		this is really a waste of time. not only the time we are wasting on it today, but the time and money that will be wasted with the challenge that will, no doubt come afterwards. If I saw the new proposed map correctly, District 1 will take up the entire eastern portion of the state. I question how any one congressman or woman can truly represent the number of people that they claim to, (average over 700,000 people) as well as questioning how they can be representing in district when the geography is so vast. And I am using represent lightly--because none of them have done much of that lately. This is a bad idea. Maybe the NCGA should come up with a formula for more representatives to represent a fewer number of constituents. The precincts of my county have a maximum of 1300 people per precinct. It would be ideal if NC could lead the charge on that instead of this seemingly power grab. I am not a liberal-so how many in the conservative camp are actually for this redraw? Not alot in my district, that's for certain.
10/20/25 12:51 PM	Oppose proposed map Cranford Burke		I oppose the proposed gerrymandered congressional map. We need congressional districts that are drawn by independent organizations. Stop stripping NC residents of their political voice. Shame on you!
10/20/25 12:51 PM	Nancy Harris	Private citizen	Be honest with your redistricting. Pushing all the democratic sections together to insure that republicans maintain their power is just wrong. Let the people decide honestly who to vote for.
10/20/25 12:51 PM	Gretchen Montesanto		This is a blatant power grab and is unethical. It,Äôs unfair and clearly has ulterior motives behind it. It will turn NC into a joke of a state I. Terms of ethics and values.
10/20/25 12:51 PM	Martha Rabchuk		76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves.
10/20/25 12:51 PM	Austin Tortorici		Our congressional delegation already is not representative of our state, and this change would make it even more lopsided. Plus, it is capitulation to the will of a fascist administration, and is a craven and morally bankrupt action to deprive the will of North Carolina voters who do not agree with the slight majority of the current legislative body.
10/20/25 12:52 PM	Ellen Ethington	na	DO NOT redraw NC congressional maps
10/20/25 12:52 PM	heather pike		I oppose this
10/20/25 12:52 PM	Joseph Kendrick		Why is the NC Republican party working to force through redistricting to gerrymander congressional maps even more towards their advantage at the behest of Donald Trump? Why is the NC Republican party not being transparent about this session and its intent? Why is the NC Republican party bent on having elected officials choose their voters using gerrymandered districts rather than letting the voters choose their elected officials on a level playing field? This is a brazen power grab. If it is not illegal then it is at least against the spirit of democracy, and against everything that our constitutional republic was founded upon. Shameful.

10/20/25 12:53 PM	Katie Wearden		I oppose this redistricting. It is a blatant effort to silence the will of the people.
10/20/25 12:54 PM	Betty McKay	Self	No gerrymandering! I beg you, listen to your people: DO NOT BEND THE KNEE! No kings.
10/20/25 12:54 PM	Melanie Tapp		This proposed gerrymandering is a disgrace to the State of North Carolina and its constituents. It‚Äôs a blatant disregard for our democratic processes, simply to appease a convicted felon who thinks he‚Äôs a king. Mecklenburg County was the first to declare its independence from a tyrannical monarchy. May 20th is on our state flag for a reason! Our founding fathers would be absolutely ashamed of the North Carolina republicans today. There is no long live the king in a true democracy. Do not bow down to tyranny and fascism. IF YOU DO, WE WILL VOTE YOU OUT.
10/20/25 12:54 PM	Dr. Erma Smith-King	Health Services Plus+	Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is an attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO. There is nothing wrong with the current plan.
10/20/25 12:54 PM	Ms Beverly Rummage	Beverly Rummage	I thought the Legislature took an oath to the Constitution...not to the POTUS. I know both sides have done this...we are tired..we are done with both sides...as an Unaffiliate ..this has got to stop...there are people getting ready to lose their medicaid...people in both WNC and ENC that need help...clogged roadways....public school teachers that need a raise. I believe the GOP is scared to let the chips fall where they may. NC is a 50/50 state....GOP is sad...sad...shame
10/20/25 12:54 PM	Mrs Mary Leatham-Jensen		please keep elections fair and competitive. Vote against redistricting plan and support a healthy democracy.
10/20/25 12:54 PM	Susan Westervelt		I oppose the Republican plan to re-draw district lines in order to further gerrymander North Carolina.
10/20/25 12:55 PM	Michael Malecek		I am against the State's redistricting efforts for partisan purposes. Redistricting for partisan gain sets a precedence that harms the public good and goes against our State and federal constitutional protections. Please do not adopt a new district map for NC purely to gain another GOP seat, with no other public purpose.
10/20/25 12:55 PM	Mrs. Ailse O'Neill		Please do not redistrict our congressional districts. A democracy relies upon representation by the people; gerrymandering is good for no one.
10/20/25 12:55 PM	Dr Renee Johnson		This is a grossly unfair bill! Vote NO!
10/20/25 12:55 PM	Dr. Bryan Setser	Setser Group	Gerrymandering, no matter which party does it, poisons democracy by letting politicians choose their voters instead of voters choosing their politicians. In today‚Äôs polarized climate, it hardens division, rewards extremism, and silences the middle. When district maps are engineered for partisan gain, compromise dies and accountability disappears. Both parties may win temporary power through it, but the long-term loser is the public trust that keeps our democracy alive.
10/20/25 12:55 PM	Rebecca Gilbert		Considering that we are currently the most gerrymandered state in the nation, to further gerrymander this state is a despicable disgusting act of continued corruption! Shame on anyone that votes yes on this! Also do your jobs and pass rhe bery overdue budget!
10/20/25 12:56 PM	MS LINDA TOPP		I realize that both parties have had their fun with gerrymandering, but I would submit that this early return to the issue is a waste of legislative time. Additionally, in an appeal to better angels, all citizens of NC would benefit from a legislature that required compromises rather than completely one-sided actions. Please stop extreme gerrymandering before you totally destroy any semblance of democracy.
10/20/25 12:56 PM	Tami Grossens		As a NC resident I am strongly opposed to the ongoing gerrymandering and this objective will just make things worse. It is not democratic for the government to choose its voters and does not represent us. Only a weak government has to change the rules to get things done. And this government still can't get things done. Stop cheating!
10/20/25 12:56 PM	Charlene Williams	none	This redistricting is UNNECESSARY! Please do not do it. Thank of the citizens on North Carolina that have not asked for this. This is a partisan choice to rig the system. Please stop this action.
10/20/25 12:56 PM	Ms Barbara Bales		NO mid-decade congressional redistricting! Your efforts to take the vote away from North Carolinians is beyond despicable, it's an attack on democracy itself.
10/20/25 12:57 PM	Mrs El Marie Parker Brodie	The Occaneechi Band of the Saponi Nation:	I openly oppose splitting our ancestral homelands that span Alamance, Orange, and Caswell Counties ,Äî into three separate congressional districts. While already a small tribal unit this will cause for loss of voice within our district.
10/20/25 12:57 PM	April Dodge		NC is politically balanced, and our maps should be too. Gerrymandering is undemocratic and robs citizens of real representation. Lawmakers should put people over party and adopt fair, non-partisan maps that reflect our state, not distort it.
10/20/25 12:58 PM	Gerrymandering M. S. Daniel		I like 85% of North Carolinians, regardless of party, am not in favor of congressional redistricting. As someone who lives in a gerrymandered district with a congressman who does nothing to KNOW or support ALL of his constituents. I have seen first hand how dangerous this is for the needs of the people of North Carolina. This is nothing but manipulating electoral district boundaries for political advantage. Redrawing the maps allows corrupt politicians to choose their voters, rather than the other way around. Gerrymandering in my district has created an unfair election outcome that does not reflect the will of the people.
10/20/25 12:58 PM	Angela Evans		This is an egregious overreach of power. This map does not reflect the choices or wills of the NC populace. It is a true disservice to our state that politicians are more afraid of losing power than they are of harming the citizens they claim to serve.

10/20/25 12:58 PM	gerrymandering playbook Danielle Hammond		NC literally wrote the book on gerrymandering and when the conservatives feel like power is seeping away from their clutches, they rewrite the rules to steal it back. Democracy is now about rigging the game so you win it is about representing the interests of the people. The people do not want this. It is clear the people do not share the values of the people trying to rewrite the rules to their favor. This is a blatant attempt to rob power from the majority and wedge the values of the minority into the lives of North Carolinians.
10/20/25 12:58 PM	Kimberly Andy		How dare you try to steal votes from hard working people of NC. The Trump admin had done NOTHING good for this state and we don,Äôt need more gutless republican who will not protect this country.
10/20/25 12:59 PM	Susan Spake	Democrat	I oppose this rigging of our voting maps.
10/20/25 12:59 PM	Carri Sulwer		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 12:59 PM	Makayla Kulick		I am fully opposed to gerrymandering our state. It is a disservice to all NC citizens.
10/20/25 12:59 PM	m rosemond		I am opposed to a state gerrymander at this time. Our state is already overly gerrymandered. Every NC voice should count through their vote and their elected representative. Too many voices get drowned out by all this unnecessary, partisan redistricting.
10/20/25 12:59 PM	Trashing Democracy Rosemary Peduzzi	None	Based on the actions of Republican North Carolina legislators, North Carolina is not a state that honors democracy and supports it!!! Any party,Äôs actions that are structured to assure far more votes favorable to one party and inhibit fair representation of the other is not honoring and supporting democracy!!! It is willfully inhibiting it and eroding the voice of thousands of North Carolinians. What blatant, corrupt, behavior!!! Shame on you!
10/20/25 12:59 PM	John Logan		How disgusting that you would even THINK about this. NO. NO. NO. do what is right, not what the dictator requested. Screams weakness. The GOP can only win by cheating
10/20/25 12:59 PM	mrs Virginia Woodruff		I believe that true conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps.
10/20/25 1:00 PM	Mrs. Margaret Garner		The introduction to redistrict at this time only magnifies the effort by the Republican Party to illegally stop the representation of all voters to have a say in our government. Redistricting in the recent past and now represents this egregious effort to disenfranchise legal voters who presently do not agree with the majority party manipulation of such efforts.
10/20/25 1:00 PM	MRS BARBARA GARROW		I strongly oppose the proposed redistricting our Congressional Districts in North Carolina. It is totally unfair to those North Carolinians affected. Not all of us want to be on the MAGA bandwagon.
10/20/25 1:00 PM	Dr Claude Whitworth	None	Sir/Madame: PASS THE BUDGET! You are wasting time with this redistricting mess. The state is already gerrymandered too much. This is a 50/50 state and Trump has less support now in this state with his hateful policies. If you want to re district, turn it over to an independent redistricting commission. Or make the state into 4 big districts and use ranked choice voting. QUIT choosing the voters and let US choose our representatives fairly! Sincerely
10/20/25 1:01 PM	Christy Miller		VOTE no, this is an affront to everything America stands for! This is not what the people want, this does not represent the people. Period!
10/20/25 1:01 PM	Ms Jeanette Jackson		The proposed re-districting is unfair and I vehemently oppose.
10/20/25 1:02 PM	Lisa Quinn		I am writing to express my strong opposition to any further gerrymandering of North Carolina,Äôs congressional maps. Manipulating district boundaries for political gain is a blatant abuse of power and undermines the foundation of our democracy. These maps should represent the will of the voters,Äînot protect incumbents or parties. Every citizen deserves an equal voice in choosing their representatives. If anything, our maps should be corrected to fairly and accurately reflect the true political makeup of our state. Do what is morally right. End gerrymandering and restore integrity to our elections.
10/20/25 1:02 PM	Petra Cooper		Hello, I am writing to implore you to reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts (yet again). This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO and stand up for true democracy.
10/20/25 1:02 PM	Anne Drennan		I am saddened by what is going on in our country and, in particular, in NC. The redrawing of congressional districts seems particularly biased with a stated advantage of garnering more Republican seats. How sad for our country that ANY party would stoop so low. It makes a lot of sense to look at redistricing in census years when the demographic could have changed. Please consider what is a fair election. In a recent poll, 84% of North Carolinians oppose gerrymandering. It is NOT the will of the people and how you could think it is fair is beyond my comprehension.

10/20/25 1:02 PM	Gwyneth Duncan		Gerrymandering should be illegal! No mid-decade redistricting!
10/20/25 1:02 PM	Ms Barbara Walker		District 1 is too big geographically for 1 person represent. It takes 3 hours or more to travel from one end to another.
10/20/25 1:03 PM	Ms Barbara Marotto		No redistricting. Have some dignity and be grown ups. This redistricting push is solely about benefitting a political party, not the people. Work at persuading the people you have good ideas rather than trying to cheat the system. What you are thinking of doing creates taxation without representation - do the right thing and just stop pursuing this bad idea. If you want to do something - make an independent redistricting commission to take this job over next redistricting after the census.
10/20/25 1:03 PM	Donna Wescott		Jerrymandering for the sole purpose of bowing down to corrupt Trump is disgusting!!! Vote NO!!!!!
10/20/25 1:03 PM	Dawn Bellinger		I am adamantly against this redistricting plan being shoved through by the Republican Party in NC. As a voter, we should choose our politicians not allow our politicians to choose their voters. This is not how our government is supposed to work and I hope it backfires on the Republican Party. Phil Berger should not be beholden to the president, This is a sad time for NC.
10/20/25 1:03 PM	Kenneth Steele		I am opposed to this redistricting. There is no benefit to the voters as constant redistricting means some of never know what district we are in and who our representatives are. The state needs to be more representative of the population not less, which is the intent of this legislation. We should stick to the tried and true method of reviewing after every 10 years when the census is done, not just to provide the party in power an additional power grab.
10/20/25 1:03 PM	please represent us Sadie Yousik	Independent	Please consider the people you work for, not any other state. I would like to be represented and by redrawing this map it is clear you do not consider North Carolinas diverse and inclusive natures, and wish to suppress the majority you know is here. I demand better from my representatives and at least a little self reflection because you are effecting everyone from your future kids and grandkids to me, here in apex. let,Äôs be grown.
10/20/25 1:04 PM	Vice President Leisa Greathouse	Organizing Against Racism Cumberland County	The State of North Carolina is already gerrymandered unfairly. At this time in history, we have ceased to be a Democracy. Instead of furthering gerrymandering the state, restore districts that will restore Democracy so that the fair majority of the people will lift their representatives to Congress, whether they are Democrat or Republican. Just be fair about it! What satisfaction is there in trying to beat someone by cheating?
10/20/25 1:04 PM	Mrs. Jennifer Luquire		Please REJECT the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 1:04 PM	John Quinn		As a proud North Carolinian, I am deeply concerned about the continued gerrymandering of our congressional maps. Redrawing districts to benefit one party over another is a misuse of power and a betrayal of the democratic principles you are sworn to uphold. Our maps should reflect the voices of the people,Äînot political agendas. Every voter deserves equal representation, and our democracy depends on it. Instead of deepening partisan divides, we should be correcting the existing gerrymandered maps to ensure fairness and restore trust in the process. Please do what is right and stand up for the people you serve. North Carolina deserves better.
10/20/25 1:04 PM	Josephine Corro	Citizen	NC deserves a non-partisan commission to develop electoral district boundaries. It is shameful that this legislature wants to take away even more of the proper representation of its citizenry. It is particularly shameful that it would further gerrymander to make it more difficult for a Democrat to be elected in order to curry favor with Trump.
10/20/25 1:04 PM	Ms Annie Jones	None	We, the citizens of North Carolina has been taken advantage of for too many years. It,Äôs time for us to stand up and reclaim what,Äôs due to us our rights the citizens.
10/20/25 1:04 PM	Joseph Buono		I'm an independent voter with a father that fought fascists in the south pacific during WWII. Your submission to Donald Trump to fix the congressional races to subvert a fair election shits on the graves of every American who ever fought and died defending democracy. Do your job instead of licking the boots of America's wannabe dictator! Stop the gerrymandering, the confederacy was soundly defeated over 150 years ago!
10/20/25 1:04 PM	Unfair and Unnecessary. Veronica Bowers		I opposite the proposed redistricting maps. They should be revised to accurately represent the residents of the existing communities within Charlotte.

10/20/25 1:04 PM	Jim Reed		It's time for this practice to end and return to sensible drawing of voting districts. Both parties have done it over the decades and it's resulted in increasingly partisan, non competitive voting districts. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Ãîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 1:04 PM	Megan Tarver		As a North Carolinian, I urge you NOT to redraw our congressional maps mid-decade. Please REJECT any new congressional maps at this time.
10/20/25 1:04 PM	Ms Sylvia Perry	Durham Realtor	North Carolina needs an independent redistricting committee which is non partisan. Gerrymandering is getting way too sophisticated with the computer driven algorithms. If it continues, it will begin to have an effect on property values. We fought hard to dismantle redlining.
10/20/25 1:05 PM	Mrs. Jeanette Jarrett		Quit gerrymandering . You are fixing it so only republicans' can get elected and no democrats! Everyone needs to be represented. Stand up to Trump and quit doing his dirty work. Stand up for the people of North Carolina that you are suppose to represent.
10/20/25 1:05 PM	Mrs Tina Hollar		I strongly disagree with redistricting again so soon. It's only been two years since the maps were redrawn. As a Pitt County resident, this redistricting directly affects me and my neighbors. This isn't a republican or democrat issues, it is a right or wrong issue! Redrawing maps in order to win elections is cheating.
10/20/25 1:05 PM	Gerrymandering Comment Dillon Zhong		The newly enacted redistricting map for North Carolina's district mapping is a blatant and unconscionable act of gerrymandering. This map does not reflect the will of the people; it serves only the narrow, partisan interests of those who drew it. The map utilizes classic gerrymandering techniques, such as 'cracking' and 'packing.' This process deliberately draws district lines to predetermine election outcomes, effectively eliminating competitive races and silencing the voices of thousands of voters across the state. The result is a political system where politicians choose their voters, rather than voters choosing their politicians. Your actions spit in the face of North Carolinians across the state, and destroy the freedoms countless generations of our statesmen have fought for. If this redistricting goes through, we will not forget what you have done, and your constituents, who believe in their right to be represented, will never forgive you.
10/20/25 1:05 PM	Michelle Thompson		Please take a stand for NC residents. We deserve fair representation. Redistricting to create another Republican seat is a disgusting violation of your role, your constitutents, and the values of this state. Standing in opposition to fair voting is always against the will of the people, and we will remeber at the polls.
10/20/25 1:05 PM	Ms. Alva Horton		This is a racist Republican power grab and it is unlawful. Please do not pass this or waste any more of my tax paying money on this.
10/20/25 1:05 PM	Debra Palmer		I oppose the move.
10/20/25 1:06 PM	Haley Pierce		Gerrymandering devalues the votes of some groups over others and that is, at its core, extremely un-American and unethical. The effect of minimizing the voices of marginalized communities and racial minorities, be it intended or not, is unjust and frankly terrifying. Yes, redistricting is important to reflect changing communities, but there is a difference between redistricting to be reflective of change and redistributing with harmful discriminatory effects. In our democracy, a vote is one of the most significant rights a person possesses, and all people,Äôs voices and votes should matter equally, rather than be stamped down through blatant gerrymandering.
10/20/25 1:06 PM	Rebecca Hutchins		Please don't gerrymander NC's already GERRYMANDERED MAPS!! It's undemocratic. It's bad for our state and for the country. I would prefer maps drawn by a non-partisan commission.
10/20/25 1:06 PM	Meemie Lohmueller		Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 1:06 PM	Mrs Ellen Amerson		This is an embarrassment to our state. A state that usually votes close to 50/50 deserves more balanced representation. Our democracy requires more honest judgement.
10/20/25 1:06 PM	Jenelle Masterson		I am against any attempts at redistricting that are in response to republican party pressure. Election districts should not be modified outside of the previous precedent and aligned with census data. It is an anti-democratic play and an attempt at ignoring the true partisan divide that is roughly 50-50 in our state. To continue to tamper with election districts for partisan gain, by either party, is anti-democratic. Stop this effort and regain your sense of integrity to the people of this state.

10/20/25 1:06 PM	Maria Duehring		I am North Carolina born and raised. I expect more from my home state than to redraw our congressional maps mid-decade. I urge you NOT to redraw them. Please respect North Carolinians wishes and REJECT any new congressional maps at this time.*
10/20/25 1:06 PM	Cary Clifford		We live in a DEMOCRACY. That is what makes this country great, but you Republicans are trying to ruin this beautiful system, because you care more about power than about letting each person have their say. Stop this ridiculous gerrymandering!
10/20/25 1:07 PM	Mrs Kathleen Cicillini		I just read an article online saying there was going to be a new plan to redo the maps in our state without our consent or any notification to give our feedback! Like it,Äôs not already gerrymandered to the hilt in favor of one party! Why is our legislature so afraid to hear the voices of all? From my experience, this state is quite purple and our parties need to work together for the good of all. Plus, the policies being put forward are not popular. Our children are watching. Why is there such a secretive and unscheduled vote? I,Äôd like my voice heard in all aspects of my state government. It seems very underhanded to me regardless of who,Äôs doing it.
10/20/25 1:07 PM	Un-acceptable James Fraser	None	North Carolina,Äôs congressional districts should be drawn in a fair, equitable, and non- partisan way.
10/20/25 1:07 PM	James McCormick	North Carolina Citizen	The vast majority of North Carolina citizens (Republican, Democratic, Independent) are against gerrymandering. Redistricting maps should be drawn by an independent, unaffiliated, third-party commission. WE VOTERS should be electing our representatives. Representatives SHOULD NOT be selecting their constituents. On top of this shameless power-grab, you should not be redistricting mid-decade in order to bow to President Trump. President is not a dictator; not matter how much he wants to be.
10/20/25 1:07 PM	James Humphrey		As a citizen of NC and the USA, I STRONGLY object to past, present and future GERRYMANDERING by the Republican Party! This despicable practice disenfranchise the citizens of our state by making thyeir votes ineffective and unimportant. There is NO DEFENSIBLE reason for rigging the election by redistricting STRICTLY IN FAVOR OF ONE PARTY! Besides the BLATANT AND OBVIOUS GERRYMANDERING that has already taken place, The Republican Party is attempting to make it IMPOSSIBLE to elect members of any other party to the State Legislature. This is UNAMERICAN, UNDEMOCRATIC and UTTERLY WRONG. We The Citizens of this [once-]great State are DISAPPOINTED and ANGRY regarding this attempt to destroy democracy in Our State. As of today, the District maps a clearly unfait to the Democrat party and yet, YOU have the TEMERITY to want to FURTHER tilt the playing field AWAY FROM DEMOCRACY!!! WE SAY NO!
10/20/25 1:07 PM	Rose Sherman	Self	I am a tax paying, small business owner, resident of North Carolina writing to oppose redistricting maps that will give an unfair advantage to Republicans and a disadvantage to Black voters. I want fair elections.
10/20/25 1:08 PM	Dr Stephen Emberley		Do NOT redraw the ALREADY GERRYMANDERED maps. Be public servants, and listen to the will of the people of NC. All this is at Trump's behest, hoping to give the GOP one more U.S. House Seat in 2026. That is not Democracy. It's a power grab. That is not following the will of the people, and it guarantees that certain voices are not heard. It's not moral. This is how the modern GOP "wins" - their policies are NOT popular, and they know it. So, they will re-draw the lines to artificially give the GOP more power. NC residents want this to stop. Do not redraw the maps.
10/20/25 1:08 PM	Redistricting - Vote NO Emilie Pinkston		I urge you to vote NO regarding the proposed redistricting. This gerrymandering will leave so many of us without representation. Gerrymandering is truly one of the biggest threats to democracy and I,Äôm so very disappointed in our legislature for this. VOTE NO.
10/20/25 1:08 PM	Mrs. Crystal LaMotte		Shame on Republicans, we all know that this is only happening because of how bad this administration,Äôs policies have been on Americans they have to find ways to skew the votes, but go ahead and do it because it,Äôs not gonna matter in the next election. Republicans are gonna lose so badly in the next election that it,Äôll spur Trump to make the same claims he did back in 2020 that Republicans did not hold him accountable for his own words and his own actions and a court of law like they should have so that we wouldn,Äôt end up with a tyrant for a leader who has been so extreme but this time he will probably use the military like he is currently doing in democratic cities nationwide. Shame on Republicans for allowing this wanna be king to use our military against American citizens. The Republicans are destroying America one day at a time, like it,Äôs a death by 1000 cuts! I guess in today,Äôs Republican party as long as you,Äôre a republican you can get away with anything and Trump keeps showing us this by pardoning people that openly break the law just because they were republican. This Republican party MAGA is so extreme in their authoritarian autocracy mentality that I will spend the rest of my days working to make sure that every MAGA Republican is defeated in North Carolina.!!
10/20/25 1:09 PM	No Redistricting! Marie G		2.3 million NC voters are registered Republicans. 2.3 million NC voters are registered Democrats. Another 2.9 million are unaffiliated. Gerrymandering at this level will kill our democracy and suppress the votes of millions of North Carolina citizens who call this great state our home. Please STOP gerrymandering; save our voices and our democracy!
10/20/25 1:09 PM	Ms. Donna Dickriede		I am strongly opposed to more gerrymandering in NC. Let the voters decide. Redistricting should be done after a census and not to cheat the system. And cheating is exactly what,Äôs being proposed.
10/20/25 1:10 PM	Doris Ward		Gerrymandering is robbery. It was disgusting when the Democrats tried it and it is disgusting today. Try working for all the citizens of North Carolina instead and participating in a fair election process. If you cannot win on your platforms then do not run for office.
10/20/25 1:10 PM	Rev. Janet Melvin	Sampson County Democratic Party	No Redistricting is warranted
10/20/25 1:10 PM	Mr. Gary James	Citizen	Congressional districts should be driven by geographic proximity (i.e. the concentration of population in an immediate area) not by narrow slices of demographics that are designed to marginalize the clout of specific groups of people. This approach is not democratic. Please do not further rejigger the voting"deck" to favor the Republic party at the exclusion of the people.

10/20/25 1:10 PM	Mrs Joyce Leake-Allison		I am opposed to the redistricting since it is not based on census population realignment and adjustment. It's politically motivated without consideration to taking communities right to pick their representative. It should be done without bias or favor (nonpartisan)
10/20/25 1:10 PM	Sarah Prince		I have never been more horrified by and ashamed of our government at all levels and what NC Republican legislators are trying to do. The pure corruption and bowing down to a wannabe fascist dictator is absolutely disgusting, and none of you should be able to sleep at night. Simply put, gerrymandering is WRONG, and the plans for redistricting are completely undemocratic. Republican legislators are thieves at this point, trying to steal the voices of over half of NC citizens. This attempt proves the Republican legislators are nothing but weak, desperate cowards who are afraid of a "fair fight." What should be considered and embraced is a non-partisan redistricting plan. There is nothing about the current administration's policies that are making America (or NC) "great again." Instead, they're turning the U.S. into a country I no longer recognize or admire, as you are all completely eroding the constitution and the principles on which this country was founded.
10/20/25 1:10 PM	June Moore		The current breakdown of democrats and republicans in NC is fairly equal and yet our districts are heavily weighted toward republicans. Don‚Äôt make it worse. No redistricing is needed.
10/20/25 1:10 PM	Captain Robert Philpott	USCG (ret)	Please do not support redistricting. This should only be done after the census...as has been the case in the past. The impetus for this is transparently to support one political party. I am a registered independent but am disgusted by these kinds of actions here and throughout our country
10/20/25 1:10 PM	Steven Lowery Jr	High School Student	The North Carolina redistricting lines are unconstitutional and are packing and cracking black and democratic cities such as Winston-Salem, Charlotte, Greensboro, and Durham. This is causing a false representation of the democratic voters in the House of Representatives and the Senate. I believe that the cracking and packing of democratic and black and democratic communities is unconstitutional and should be prohibited. A prime example of this is the cracking of North Carolina Agricultural and Technological State University and its local community, causing the large black and Democratic population to be separated into different districts where their votes aren't as valuable.
10/20/25 1:10 PM	Liam Allen	High-School Student	Redistricting North Carolina does not represent the voters because when you redistrict and crack or pack a certain district to be a red district that just represents the red voters and doesn't give any representation to the blue voters of that district or vice-versa. This is demonstrated by partisan gerrymandering which is used far too much nowadays and makes us less democratic as it takes away the representation of all the voters. This is also represented through the unequal seat to vote ratio, gerrymandering is evident when you compare the number of seats won to the number of votes recieved by one party further showing the unequal representation that comes from redistricting.
10/20/25 1:11 PM	Cameron Smith	High School Student	In my personal opinion, redistricting the state of North Carolina once again is not only unconstitutional but a misrepresentation of the American Voters who'd wish to share their open-minded political views. The excessive amount of cracking within our districts in order to gain is also another sign of misrepresentation based upon the lastest proposed map. The lack of representation and the inequality between each district that the republican party has perpetuated through strategic redistricting is deeply concerning. The proposed Congressional map for North Carolina appears to reflect a pattern of cracking a tactic where communities with shared interests are split across multiple districts to dilute their voting power. This not only undermines the principle of fair representation but also erodes public trust in the democratic process.
10/20/25 1:11 PM	Cornelia Sarvey		Please do not distort our maps even more. This is voter suppression. A state that distorts its maps to favor outcomes for only one group of the population does not represent a healthy and robust community. Suppressing all voices is a loss for everyone.
10/20/25 1:11 PM	Ms Alicia Swaringen		I can't believe yall are trying to GERRYMANDER NC even MORE! What a disgusting betrayal of our right to representation. I was BORN in NC and all my life we have been back and forth red and blue. But since 2010, yall have strangled the life out of fairness and made us lack the balance we deserve. Your corruption and abuse of power will won day be held accountable. If not now, then when you face God, who sees all your sins.
10/20/25 1:11 PM	Elaine Pischke		Redistricting maps to overwhelmingly favor Republicans is as un-American as it gets. If half the citizens' votes don't count, we do not have a democracy. We must not allow this to happen.
10/20/25 1:11 PM	Byron Matthews		Good afternoon -- I am a North Carolina resident and voter, and am alarmed about the worsening gerrymandering of our state. The proposed 2025 Congressional map is extreme and it denies voters a fair and honest way to choose their elected officials. Gerrymandering is anti-democracy. 85% of our state opposes gerrymandering, both democrats and republicans. I urge you to take care of your fellow citizens and vote against this horrendous map.
10/20/25 1:11 PM	Mr Richard Wescott		I want everything done to stop Donald J Trump and get back to things the way they before him.
10/20/25 1:11 PM	Grace Billot McChicken	Rod Wave Elite	The redisticting that has plagued our state it unneccesary and unconstituional. This is a prime example of jerrymandering, It shows how people in NC get cracked. Cracking is unconstituional and It is not a fair represetation of the beliefs in our state. According to the map, NC as a whole has changed dramitcly district wise since the early 10s. We should change our districts to make it more fair for the candiates running for positons in NC.
10/20/25 1:11 PM	Cathay Dawkins	CMBCC	I am very concerned by the haste and lack of transparency related to the redistricting of congressional maps. I am also concerned the new congressional maps will disenfranchise Black & Brown North Carolina voters, who already lack congressional representation.

10/20/25 1:12 PM	Against maps being redraw Kimberly Tierney		I am emphatically against the gerrymandering redistricting which will redistribute the current 7-7 party equal representation of North Carolina citizens. Keep it partisan and equal representation of our tax dollars! Taxation with representation, there is no without option and therefore should be equally represented.
10/20/25 1:12 PM	Jennifer Willis		As a mother, grandmother and voter, I whole heartedly reject this redistricting effort. We teach our children that rules and laws mean something. This sets the example of rewarding bad behavior. Instead of taking this action maybe you should try to just do a better job. We need real leaders who will stand up for our best interests not their own.
10/20/25 1:12 PM	Rosemary Dineen		True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps
10/20/25 1:12 PM	Dagny Austin		NC is a state where we have a diverse population. It,Äôs part of what makes NC great. Over half of the population in this state are Democrats, yet we are being denied representation due to gerrymandering. And now, because Donald Trump is afraid his unpopular agenda is going to hurt him in the midterms, Republicans are trying to further alter the congressional districts to get more seats. It,Äôs wrong. It,Äôs an abuse of power. It,Äôs denying the people of this state representation that reflects their views. Deep down, Republicans know this is wrong. But they don,Äôt care. Their aim is to ruthlessly weld power to their own benefit- not to fairly represent the citizens of this state. Actions such as this reflect poorly on NC. I hope that Representatives of good conscience will think about who they are suppose to be serving before they further gerrymander our state- the people of NC or Donald Trump.
10/20/25 1:13 PM	Ms. Margaret McGeorge		Opposition to Proposed Congressional Map and Mid-Cycle Redistricting I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed congressional map currently under consideration by the North Carolina General Assembly (NCGA). I stand with the League of Women Voters NC and others who believe this mid-cycle redistricting is an unwarranted abuse of legislative power. My opposition is based on the following concerns: Undermining Voter Confidence: Redrawing district lines between census years serves no purpose other than to secure partisan advantage. This maneuver undermines the public's confidence in the fairness and stability of our democratic processes. Partisan Gerrymandering: The proposed map appears to be a clear attempt at partisan gerrymandering. These changes will silence communities, dilute the voices of many voters, and lead to an unrepresentative government that does not accurately reflect the political makeup of North Carolina. Instability of Democracy: Mid-cycle changes inject unnecessary instability into our political system. Legislators should focus on governance, not on manipulating electoral boundaries for political gain. I urge the members of the NCGA to reject the proposed congressional maps and to prioritize the creation of districting maps that serve ALL the voters of North Carolina, NOT just one political party. Gerrymandering is an outrageous abuse of power! There should be an independent commission, not tied to one political party, that creates the voting districts. These repeated attacks on our Democracy are unconscionable and must not be allowed to continue unchecked! North Carolinians ,Äi Republicans, Democrats, and unaffiliated voters ,Äi are AGAINST gerrymandering.
10/20/25 1:13 PM	Beverly Dugan		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. Our system should be set up so that voters pick their representatives; it should not permit politicians to pick their voters.
10/20/25 1:13 PM	Mrs. Elizabeth Rahal		Please refrain from mid-decade redistricting. It distorts representation. It violates fairness and limited government. It allows politicians to manipulate our representation. It disrupts local control by dividing natural communities. It violates victory earned through true representation rather than manipulation. Government must remain accountable to the people it serves. The type of gerrymandering being considered splits communities and should be against the law.
10/20/25 1:13 PM	holly chandler	Flight Reacts	The redestricing that has overcome north Caroling is unessisary and unfair because it dosnt let each district show what they believe. This is a prime example of gerrymadering how we keep getting cracked and packed. A prime example of gerrymandering is how ashbrough is being cracked so that the votes favor republican. We dissagree that priorotizing the redestricting of north carolina should be priorotized over getting a new budget made because the budget should be prioritized to keep our country running properly.

10/20/25 1:13 PM	Ms Lynn Andrews		In a democracy, the people select their representatives. Elected representatives should not be gerrymandering districts mid-Census to select people most likely to vote for their party. Our legislature is supposed to represent the people of North Carolina, not Donald Trump. The proposed redistricting is not democracy; it,Äôs another step toward dictatorship. Stop this slide into autocracy before it,Äôs too late.
10/20/25 1:13 PM	Krista Kane Smith		I am writing today to urge you to vote no on the proposed redistricting plan. North Carolina is already a less democratic state due to the existing gerrymandering, and the proposed redistricting will make this worse. The voters of North Carolina deserve to be represented fairly, rather than having our voices taken away by this abuse of power.
10/20/25 1:13 PM	Jeffrey Davis		I am writing to oppose the proposed Congressional district plan which would worsen the partisan gerrymandering in our state. As it is, the proportion of Republicans to Democrats in Congress from NC is very different from what one should expect based on the total number of votes cast in 2024. In the Congressional races in 2024, Republicans received about 53% of the vote, while Democrats received about 43%. If our districts were set up fairly, there would be no more than 8 Republican representatives and 6 Democrats, but instead there are 10 Republicans and 4 Democrats. As the Republican leadership has openly stated, this plan is to make the state maps more partisan, and to gain another seat. In other words, the point is to make Democratic votes worth less than Republican votes, which should be offensive to anyone, of either party, who values free and fair elections, and the concept of one person, one vote.
10/20/25 1:13 PM	Courtney Gendron		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 1:13 PM	William Estes	Concerned Voter	Gerrymandering has gone too far. We need fair congressional districts determined by nonpartisan groups.
10/20/25 1:14 PM	Sean Kelly		This blatant abuse of power to appease a corrupt president is disgusting and I will not idly stand by and let it just happen. Please know there are consequences to your actions. Represent the people of NC, not an individual that is ruining the principles of our country.
10/20/25 1:14 PM	Carol Nicholson		Please vote NO on this effort to increase the number of Republican congressional representatives. North Carolinians need fair representation that reflects the needs and interests of all citizens, not just those who blindly follow the party in charge at the moment. As a state, Republicans can,Äôt even pass a budget. As a nation, costs are rising and services are disappearing. We are not well served and need better representation, not more of the same. If you believe that you are on the right side, don,Äôt be afraid to have confidence in your efforts. Be fair, vote NO to this selfish strategy.
10/20/25 1:14 PM	Mr Steven Cox	Citizens	Please reject rule by gerrymander. Defend Americans' right to continue electing their leaders fairly.
10/20/25 1:15 PM	DR Karen Hills		I am concerned that this plan to redistrict is diluting representation and accountability of elected officials to their constituents. Legislators are elected to represent the people they serve and by creating districts that are fragmented doesn't represent or build actual communities. This is a blatant power grab and not good for North Carolina.
10/20/25 1:15 PM	Zella Blum		No redistricting please. I'm tired of my vote being jerked around I want my vote to count as intended. That's democracy-gerrymandering isn't
10/20/25 1:15 PM	Andrea BRYANT		Stop the gerry mandering in NC.
10/20/25 1:15 PM	Meagan Edwards		If you thought you were on the right side of history you would NOT be trying to cheat North Carolinians out of their right to be represented. This redistricting is a shameful scam and quid pro quo to lick the presidents boot. You should be ashamed of yourselves.
10/20/25 1:15 PM	Hack nonsense John R.		This is game-the-system nonsense you would be frothing at the mouth over if the other side of the aisle did it. Unacceptable. Childish. Win fair or admit you can,Äôt play the game. No one who agrees to this will get my vote ever again. Changing my registration just for the proposal!
10/20/25 1:15 PM	Hunter Buxton		To run a Democracy with integrity you cannot construct parameters to yield better results for your party rather than find support for your policies and programs. This practice suppresses the voice of the people of this state. This ,Äúby any means necessary,Äù approach is a dangerous precedent to set.
10/20/25 1:16 PM	Kim Gant		If you all think many of us don,Äôt know what you are doing, you can think again. This is nothing but a Trump power move. This Republican lead legislature has been nothing but useless in governing for years. Do your actual jobs and pass a budget that will help everyone in the state, rather than gerrymandering the maps to disenfranchise others.
10/20/25 1:16 PM	Laura Murray		I am outraged at the redistricting and gerrymandering happening in our state. We the people get to elect our representatives , not the other way round. This is not a democracy! Shame on all who support this.
10/20/25 1:17 PM	Don,Äôt Do It Michael McGuire	None	Be clear that I object to the effort to gerrymander voting districts and will vote against all who support this. And I DO vote.
10/20/25 1:17 PM	Joy Jelinsky		NC is looking to redistrict to gain another seat for Republicans in the Senate. I am against this. The people of NC need equal representation. Not skewed right.
10/20/25 1:17 PM	Dillon Burgess	WSFCS	The 2025 redistribution map doesn,Äôt represent the voters of North Carolina. Since 2008 the presidential votes have been evenly split between democrats and republican. But this map would lead to an uneven distribution of Republicans. Which would mean that map doesn,Äôt represent us.
10/20/25 1:17 PM	Nuvan Rathnayaka		The values enshrined our democracy of "one person, one vote" relies on having fair non-partisan voting districts. The proposed plan is nakedly a gerrymander intended to strip some voters in North Carolina of equal representation in Congress. This plan should be rejected for one that truly gives everyone an equal voice

10/20/25 1:17 PM	Samantha Crews		Redistricting will further remove fair representation for voters across the state and is taxation without representation. Submitting to pressure from the White House tells your constituents you do not value integrity and that you do not care to listen to their needs nor represent their best interests.
10/20/25 1:18 PM	Dr. Jennifer Shingleton		I am deeply disappointed in the General Assembly leadership for wasting valuable time and taxpayer money by drawing needless redistricting maps that will serve only their political agenda, not the needs of North Carolinians. Deeply disappointed, but not surprised. Please stop this craziness and focus instead on doing your jobs actually governing and serving North Carolinians.
10/20/25 1:18 PM	dani black		This is literal insanity. Please don't play into the president's "arms race" to give him power he has not earned! Gerrymandering should be ended once and for all. Let North Carolina stand for integrity, not for illegal obsequiousness!
10/20/25 1:18 PM	Gerrymandering Edith McAnulty	Voter	This red discharging map is appalling. I live in Durham County, which is fairly liberal and then you,Äôre putting Orange County with Durham County, which is fairly conservative and then dipping into two other counties to try and identify more seats in the house for Republicans. This kind of Jerry Mandarin is what is wrong with the United States of America. Our votes will not be counted because you,Äôve diminished the power of the people by selfish redistricting. You should be ashamed of yourself. How do you sleep at night? It,Äôs reprehensible.
10/20/25 1:18 PM	ffs Peter Kay		Come on already! We have had so many district changes! Leave them alone and work on something that matters!
10/20/25 1:19 PM	Mrs. Meriwynn Jones		Gerrymandering, no matter if it is done by Democrats or Republicans, is just legislators picking their voters rather than the other way around. It is past time that North Carolina establishes a nonpartisan redistricting board to draw the maps for both the United States House of Representatives and the North Carolina General Assembly. Maps should be drawn every TEN YEARS and not every other year as the General Assembly has done whenever they become unhappy with election results. Gerrymandering is cheating. Our state is made up of roughly the same number of registered Republicans, registered Democrats, and registered unaffiliated voters. To create maps that so heavily favor one party over the other for the sake of "winning" is corrupt and disenfranchises half of the population of our state. Inevitably, whatever map is adopted will head to court to be challenged like all of the other ones Republicans (and Democrats of the past - I remember) have drawn. As a taxpayer, I am tired of paying lawyers to defend the fact that one party has an unwinnable platform and cannot secure election victories without¬† tipping the scales in its own favor. I strongly urge all legislators to vote NO on any Congressional map revisions at this time. Focus instead on passing a state budget and not rigging the rules in preparation for next year's election.
10/20/25 1:19 PM	Gerrymandering Hayden Sharpe		To redistrict explicitly in the North Carolina maps in an attempt to undermine the voting power of any American is unconstitutional and vile. I appeal to your sense of decency and respect for our constitutional right to representation.
10/20/25 1:20 PM	Daniel Amerson		NC should have fair, non-partisan drawn maps. In a state that votes roughly 50/50 in major races such as president and governor, it is already inappropriate that our Congressional maps are gerrymandered to produce a 10-4 Republican majority. Redistricting to tilt these maps closer to 11-3 to support the deeply unpopular agenda of President Trump days after one of the largest mass protests in US history is an affront to democracy. These maps should not pass.
10/20/25 1:20 PM	Rodger Mullen		I oppose this proposed redistricting. The state is already gerrymandered. This would make it worse. NC Republicans are acting like Trump's lapdog. By doing this, Republicans are showing pure contempt for democracy and the will of the people.
10/20/25 1:21 PM	Alex Blackmon		This redistricting is completely unethical. As representatives of NC, you are supposed to represent the will of the people, not consolidate power within a specific party due to the whims of a president. Specifically drawing districts to remove elected Democrat officials is an offense to democracy. Please stand up to presidential overreach and stop redistricting our state.
10/20/25 1:21 PM	Tracey Principi		Please do not gerrymander NC even more. Please vote no! NC citizens,Äô voices are who you should be listening to. Not Donald Trump. I,Äôm so tired of people being scared to say no to him. You have already taken power from the governor and attorney general. Don,Äôt also take the power of the vote from the people of our state. Thank you.
10/20/25 1:21 PM	Josie McNeil		Redistricting / gerrymandering is a manipulation of our Democracy. Vote against it.
10/20/25 1:21 PM	Dr. Michelle Cameron		I am opposed to redistricting. Voters should choose their politicians not politicians choose their voters. The assembly needs to focus on passing a budget not rigging elections.
10/20/25 1:21 PM	Lauren Warner		I am fully against the blatantly partisan redistricting of the North Carolina districts. This only works to undermine our democracy and disenfranchise voters across the state. Shame on all of you
10/20/25 1:22 PM	Kevin Crockett		Redistricting mid-cycle simply to further gerrymander and gain an additional seat in Congress is a blatant power grab that should be unconstitutional. Our state could be a model of progress with a booming diversified economy, educated workforce, and representative democracy, but the NCGA GOP seems more concerned with maintaining power than on actually serving the people you were elected to represent.
10/20/25 1:22 PM	Anne Garvey		Redrawing congressional maps is wrong. I am strongly opposed to this. The proposed maps run counter to the will of an overwhelming majority of North Carolina,Äôs registered voters, including me.

10/20/25 1:22 PM	Why Lindsay White		Our districts are already unfairly drawn. Why are you willingly disenfranchising constituents? Why does Donald Trump rule NC? If the only way to win is to cheat, that‚Äôs sad. We are a purple state. We have had a democrat governor for 8 years. The legislature is red because it has cheated its way there and now you‚Äôll cheat some more. I have no voice. You keep taking it away.
10/20/25 1:23 PM	Ms Keri Delaney	Myself	I am against reconstructing for the purpose of stacking things in a way that will serves purpose for one thing and one thing only. This is self serving for all MAGA to secure even more control and quite frankly it‚Äôs unconstitutional. I condemn this
10/20/25 1:23 PM	Carrie King		I implore the leaders of NC government to please not redraw the maps. This is unnecessary and unhelpful. Please vote no!
10/20/25 1:23 PM	Dr. Rachel Porter		Stop pretending this is anything other than a power grab and follow state and federal constitution and stop trying to- with surgical precision- cut out voters who don't look or think like you.
10/20/25 1:23 PM	Chrystal Sager		This is unnecessary and a waste of time. We have more important things to worry about in NC. If your policies are so unpopular that you need to further gerrymander the state then it is time for you to step down and let North Carolinians vote for someone who cares about them.
10/20/25 1:24 PM	Annie Miles		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People‚Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,‚Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 1:24 PM	ms Jan Graham		No illegal districting!
10/20/25 1:24 PM	Mr David Voyles		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government.
10/20/25 1:24 PM	The Rev. Anne Stanley	Episcopal Church, retired	I am aghast that you are even considering the redrawing of the political map once again. Too many of us are being denied representation. I urge a No vote on this district plan.
10/20/25 1:24 PM	Dana Wilson		please vote no, this is an unconstitutional & racist power grab to help Trump & disaffect citizens. HISTORY IS WATCHING
10/20/25 1:25 PM	Dr. Jennifer Martineau		As a North Carolinian, I urge you NOT to redraw our congressional maps mid-decade. Please REJECT any new congressional maps at this time.
10/20/25 1:25 PM	Nancy Fahrbach		I am against redistricting NC to create more Republican districts. We are a state that is half Republican and half Democrat so giving even more districts to GOP representatives makes no sense and does not accurately represent the voters in our state. I want my vote to count just as much as a Republican vote does.
10/20/25 1:26 PM	Fairness Jaclyn Christofferson		I am writing to urge the committee to stop gerrymandering in North Carolina. District lines should be drawn fairly and reflect the real communities of our state ,‚Äî not to give one party an advantage. Voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Please ensure that the redistricting process is transparent, nonpartisan, and prioritizes equal representation for everyone in North Carolina. Fair maps strengthen democracy and restore trust in government.
10/20/25 1:26 PM	Rosanne Von Reyn		We want free and fair elections and this is NOT accomplished by redistricting / gerrymandering!!! Let our votes count,‚Äîlet our voices be heard!!! Do the right thing and STOP redistricting!!!
10/20/25 1:26 PM	Patricia Brown		Redistricting should only be done by an impartial committee and not tied to how many dems or repubs live there. Gerrymandering is just wrong and can subvert the will of the people!!

10/20/25 1:26 PM	Kelly Ejirika II	Highschool Student	Hi, The Redistricting of North Carolina isn't a direct reflection of how the voters of the districts in North Carolina. Based off of the 2022 midterm election NCSBE showed how the democratic party, and republican party had a 50/50 split of Democrats and Republicans in the seats. Although there was a 50 percent of voting participation since it was a midterm, that was when the republican party did not crack the district maps. The republicans who currently control the House of Represenative seat give their party an advantage. Based off of the old congressional district map in 2022, the democrats won 7 districts, while in 2024 the democrats won only 3 districts. That is because district 1 continued to be dispersed with republican districts to dilute the vote in the republicans favors. This is even more evident in districts like Forsyth, and Ashville continue to be cracked to give republicans an advantage. Without any reublican influence, the democrats winning more districts is a direct represenation of North Carolina voting patterns because democrats didn't rewrite the district. Instead of redistricting the lines we should have a better budget. The state is in debt, and we are focusing on rewriting lines to vote for candiates weren't enacting policies to help with our states debt. We have to do better as a State to prioitize what matters, rather than to rewrite the lines. Making the republican party wins elections should NOT be the priotity to this government, it should be helping thr teachers, students, and federal workers who have been marginalized by the horrible decisons by the government.
10/20/25 1:27 PM	Susan Gruber		I am against redistricting because this effort does not take into consideration the people of North Carolina. It seems to just be a Republican power grab.
10/20/25 1:27 PM	Finn Veneziano	High school Student	The redistricting does not represent North Carolina voters well because the district lines are cracked and there are safe seats. In the 2025 district map, district 5 extends into the center of Guilford county. This crack dilutes the democratic voters in the center of Greensboro with the more republican counties to the North East. In addition, district 1 included more republican counties to the south. This also dilutes the more democratic voters to the north. This creates safe seats in those districts, gives voters in those districts much less say in the outcome of the election and creates unequal representation across the state.
10/20/25 1:27 PM	JOHN HALL	FRC	I say no to redistricting! We don't want Gerrymandering in our state! Stop the madness that our representatives are trying to do to make our voting not count! Shame on all of you for bending to this wannabe dictator! Enough is enough!!
10/20/25 1:27 PM	Smegma Myles Marion	Mount Tabor XC	The redisctricting is against democracy because it goes against the fundamental ideas of democracy by deliberatly cutting out peoples votes and therefore their voices in the republic. In 2022 the democrats held 7 seats and the republicans held 7 seats after a republican controlled legislature redrew the maps the republicans had 10 seats and the democrats had 4. The new map propsed would eliminate the last remaining competitive district which is held by a democrat by drawing in more republican counties.
10/20/25 1:27 PM	Christine Seitz		The state legislature,Äôs primary mission for years has been to consolidate power for the GOP, to the detriment of the citizens of North Carolina. They have proven time and time again that they care not for the voters. Their greed is obvious. I used to say my home was North Carolina. Now I just happen to live there. The NC GOP is an embarrassment.
10/20/25 1:27 PM	Mr. Aaron Urbanek		Redistricting is fine when the census or population shifts dictate a need for change. Note thr word, ‚Äúneed‚Äù. North Carolina is roughly a 50% Red and 48% Blue. Please explain to us, in a logical sense, how any adjustments or redistricting is both needed at this time due to grossly disproportioned districts. And, how you plan on keeping those districts pro rata to the actual political make up of our state.
10/20/25 1:28 PM	Isaac Moretz	High School Student	The redistricting in North Carolina does not show how NC voters are actually voting. The redistricting has minimized the effect of voters in specific party dominate districts and is completely unconstitutional. Democracy was never meant to take peoples voice away, but to give all an equal vote and Gerrymandering has taken this away. Gerrymandering has fractured the state through packing larger more Democratic cities together and cracking other large Democratic cities into more rural Republican areas. This has completely skewed the vote, because one the district map of NC the Democratic vs. Republican districts look equal (at 7 seats for Republicans and 7 seats for the Democrats) but this is not how the state is represented in the election. Although the vote looks like it should be 50%-50% but in the 2024 election D. Trump had 50% of the vote and K. Harris had 47% with the remaining 3% going to other runners. This is due to diluting some of the districts by adding lots of rural counties to a large urban area to balance the urban areas more Democratic vote with the rural more Republican vote.
10/20/25 1:28 PM	John Saxon		You were elected to serve ALL of the citizens of this state. Independents and Democrats as well as Republicans. Minority as well as white voters. And yet you jump when Trump says jump. You are not true conservatives. Gerrymandering may, historically, be as American as apple pie. But it is inconsistent with democracy. You should be ashamed at such a naked power grab. But I fear you are beyond shame.
10/20/25 1:28 PM	No Redistricting Robert Perdue		The redistricting of any districts is a blatant attempt to steal more seats and to disenfranchise even more voters. More gerrymandering in the most heavily gerrymandered state is ridiculous and not needed. Please do not bow to the whims of President Trump and split any more districts. History will look back on these years as a dark period and I beg you to be on the right side of it.
10/20/25 1:28 PM	Barbara Kinnaird		Everyone,Äôs vote should count. NC is a purple state. More registered Dems than Repubs. Elected Dem governor and attorney General. You DO need to change the lines. Dems should be able to win an equal number of districts. This is despicable .

10/20/25 1:29 PM	Brandy Woodford		As a North Carolinian I urge you not to redraw our congressional maps mid-decade. Please reject any new congressional maps at this time.
10/20/25 1:29 PM	We Must Have Representati William Jordan		This plan to redistrict is a slap in the face to anyone who agrees with the founding American notion that there should be "no taxation without representation". This endeavor would act to silence We the People by making our choice of representation utterly meaningless. As a North Carolinian voter I am vehemently oposed to this anti-democratic measure and am voicing my concern here.
10/20/25 1:29 PM	No to gerrymandered maps Sara Hamlin		NC doesn,Äôt need a gerrymandered map! It needs a budget! It needs better funding for education. It needs help to rebuild western NC, IT DOESNT NEED TO BE BOWING DOWN TO A PRESIDENT WHO ONLY LOOKS OUR WAY WHEN HE WANTS OUR VOTES! Like, damn! Do the jobs we voted you in to do!
10/20/25 1:29 PM	Dr Jennifer Myers		The gerrymandering that will be accomplished by the district changes proposed will set back this state by decades. Equitable representation is a Keystone of democracy and will be damaged by this plan. Please reconsider.
10/20/25 1:29 PM	Stanley Novak	Highschool student	Redistricting does not accurately represent the people of North Carolina. This for two reasons: one, in the last 5 elections in North Carolina has voted about fifty percent left to fifty percent right. Redistricting is creating more safe seats for the Republican Party giving them an unfair majority in the US House. Ten out of fourteen NC repersentatives are members of the Republican party. This doens't represent the half-half divide well in NC. Two, redistricting is diluting the votes of North Carolinians especially in NC's first district. Cracking up Republican Southern-Costal counties in NC and redrawing the district lines to include those votes in the first is decreasing the power of Democratic votes in that district.
10/20/25 1:30 PM	Christine Kepic		I do not support this push to redistricting NC yet again. This is unacceptable and against fair representation for all citizens. Do not cave to Trumps will. You work for the people of NC, not a dictator wannabe king.
10/20/25 1:30 PM	Jackie Batson		Partisan gerrymandering in North Carolina undermines the fundamental principle of fair representation. Our democracy works best when voters choose their leaders,Äînot when leaders choose their voters. North Carolinians deserve fair maps that reflect the will of the people,Äînot the interests of politicians.
10/20/25 1:31 PM	Sarah Knight		This hyperpoliticized redistricting is getting seriously out of hand. This country was founded to be a Country let BY THE PEOPLE AND FOR THE PEOPLE. Changing the maps to favor one party in this way is not only blatantly against the ideals that this country was founded on, but it also demonstrates that you know how badly your party is out of favor. If the Republican party cannot win elections using the same maps it used during the last "landslide" elections, then maybe y'all ought to try backing policy that actually helps your constituents, instead of just trying to cheat us even worse.
10/20/25 1:32 PM	Dr Charles Peacock		This isn,Äôt redistricting, it is disenfranchising! Shame on the GOP for thinking this is okay.
10/20/25 1:32 PM	Mrs Elizabeth Stewart		This redistricting is unfairly changing NC,Äôs maps to benefit republicans. This map allows elected leaders to choose who votes for them instead of voters choosing their leader. They are doing this because they have failed NC voters and must cheat to win. It is unfair and should not be allowed to change.
10/20/25 1:32 PM	James Voyles	Retired NC State and Federal School Psychologist	As a native, 74-year-old North Carolinian, I whole-heartedly submit the following: I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.

10/20/25 1:32 PM	Alta Longware	blank	I am against redistricting because it is a blatant form of cheating the system and the GOP does not need to cheat. Or maybe they do since MAGA supporters are recognizing the truth about the GOP agenda (really the Project 2025 agenda) that they are jumping the MAGA ship.
10/20/25 1:33 PM	Jennifer Craven		I would like to voice my dissent on redrawing any Congressional districts until the U.S. Census has new information. According to data from N.C. Board of Elections, voters registered as Republican, Democrat, and Unaffiliated each make up approximately 1/3 of voters in NC. In fact, of the three categories, Republican voters are the SMALLEST group at 30% of registered voters, whereas Democrats and unaffiliated voters make up 32% and 38% respectively. We previously had an even 7/7 split in Congress, before our state was gerrymandered to give Republicans 10 seats to the 4 Democrat-held seats. Now Republican lawmakers want to steal another seat. This power grab is not only illegal, it is unethical and antithetical to the very foundations on which our country is based. Everyone has the right to representation, to support their own community's needs. If our maps were drawn properly, we would have 4-5 districts that are each solid Republican and Democrat districts, as well as 4-5 districts that are swing districts. This is a far cry from what we currently have, and even more so from the proposed map. North Carolinians deserve adequate representation. North Carolina deserves better. Thank you for your time.
10/20/25 1:33 PM	Ms Cinnamon Frame	individual citizen	I am highly opposed to this racist map redraw. I am very frustrated that the legislature is choosing to draw maps that do not represent the will of the voters of North Carolina. Voters should pick their representatives, not vise versa. The state legislature and the congressional districts do not currently and will further diverge from the will of the voters of North Carolina. You are creating an extreme government that does not represent the people. You are undermining democracy.
10/20/25 1:34 PM	Ms. Jan Maynard		I am deeply troubled by the legislature,Âôs effort to redraw U.S. House districts in a way that appears designed to give one party an unfair advantage. The proposed map would shift the state,Âôs delegation from 10 Republican seats and 4 Democratic seats toward 11 Republicans and 3 Democrats ,Äî even though the statewide vote is much more competitive. ? This isn,Äôt about better reflecting communities or enabling fair competition ,Äî it,Äôs about entrenching power. In particular, targeting the 1st District to flip a Democratic seat shows a will to override voters rather than represent them. ? Fair maps matter because when lines are drawn for political gain, confidence in the system erodes. Even many voters ,Äî across party lines ,Äî oppose maps drawn to favour one party. ? I urge the General Assembly to step back from this partisan path and instead adopt a process that respects competition, community coherence, and voter equality, rather than picking winners in advance. Our democracy deserves better.
10/20/25 1:34 PM	Robin Tynes-Miller		Please, please reject the 2025 proposed maps! This redistricting is an illegal attempt to further racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts at the behest of a corrupt federal administration. This is a blatant attempt to seize power for the GOP at a time when their policies are violent and deeply unpopular. This is unacceptable. Vote NO to do your part to protect our democratic processes!
10/20/25 1:34 PM	Sarah Chun		Shame on you. You are conducting a coup by any other name and actively harming your state's citizens. What you are doing is wrong, and you know it. I can only hope for a restoration of justice and accountability to undo the damage of this plan.
10/20/25 1:34 PM	John Schelp		Strongly opposed to this legislation. Please vote no.
10/20/25 1:34 PM	Ms Andrea Caruso		Senator Hise made the intentions of the map redistricting clear: to create districts that would lead to disproportionate success of one party in future elections, without recognition of the will of voters. Each citizen, whether Democrat or Republican, should be permitted to have their vote counted equally, not matter who is in charge of the state government. That is the democratic process, which I fear is being eroded at every turn. There was no Democratic representation in the redrawing of districts that were released on Monday, 10/13, and these maps ensure that absence of say by Democratic voters moving forward. As Senator Hise notes, he represented 9 counties in western north carolina. He, and all state legislators, should represent ALL members of these counties and their needs (many of them being significant following Hurricane Helene). I hope Senator Hise and others will have a change of heart about pushing through these maps. The changing political tide ought to be a sign; the potential shift in voting patterns reflects that the current government has lost of the public trust. As public servants, it should be your goal to restore it by representing the citizens you serve and not a singular president's agenda. I urge you to reconsider pushing through these redistricted maps. Thank you for your time.
10/20/25 1:34 PM	Ms Megan Williams	private citizen	Mid-cycle redistricting at the explicit request of the president for the short-term benefit of his party is a shocking abuse of power by the NCGA. This is a purple state that consistently splits nearly evenly between Democratic and Republican votes. Gerrymandering to this extent is a blatant disregard for the will of the people. Please stand up to this president who is trying to subvert the will of the people in every possible way. Republicans can stop him if you so choose. History has its eyes on you. Please use your time to do something productive, like negotiating a budget for your constituents.

10/20/25 1:35 PM	M E		I highly disagree with the action of redrawing district maps. There is no need to redraw the district lines in 2025 when the last one was 2023, and it is usually supposed to be 10 years before you change it again. This is gerrymandering and you are allowing a corrupt, felon president pressure the representatives of this state. It is highly disappointing to have such WEAK, selfish representatives in NC that have to CHEAT to get their way. You are not representing what the people of North Carolina want.
10/20/25 1:36 PM	Stop gerrymandering Kim Allen	We the people	Stop the Republicans and trump corruption...so sick of all the blatant liars and corruption in this administration...release the Epstein files and open our GOVERNMENT BACK UP NOW
10/20/25 1:36 PM	Shortsighted Weakness Charles Powell	Public	When you must rig the rules in your favor it displays an inability to confront reality and exemplifies one's cowardice. You display your fear of confronting the reality that you are unpopular. You reject the need to confront the fact that it is your opinions are likely unfounded, rather than being brave enough to undergo self examination. Using such tactics sacrifice honor and integrity for fear driven malice. Such actions facilitate responses. In 1990 the democrats removed the ability of the governor to reject gerrymandered maps. They have come to regret that decision. Now you risk mirroring those mistakes to a far greater degree. In the future, there will be a time in which maps are made fair and government reflects the will of its constituents. In response to this, they will likely go overboard and annihilate the conservatives ability to hold any meaningful power. The shortsightedness of this action likely depends on a belief that conservative power will be locked into place through an assertive authoritarian regime in which popular sentiment is ignored. To believe this will be adhered to for the foreseeable future is simply unfounded and unsupported by history. Whether it takes 1 year or 100 the people WILL reassert control over their power, and the longer that takes the more intense the retribution will be. You risk anything from significant political losses to potential legal consequences. You will look back upon this moment as a short term political gain countered by a long term political subjugation. You are acting unwisely and it is shocking to see from a largely older congressional body who should have gained an aptitude for wisdom. If you ask yourself "why don't the young respect their elders like they used to?" Then you misunderstand that your elders actually deserved respect based on their actions, where you do not through your exhibition of childlike behavior and dishonesty. You spit on the graves of your elders and their actions, and wonder why you do not receive adulation. You spoil the words of Christ which you so adamantly claim to respect. History will remember this North Carolina governing body's actions as spoiled, childish, and unrepentantly selfish. You embarrass yourselves and will be remembered as one of the greatest embarrassments to disgrace the United States of America.
10/20/25 1:36 PM	Courtney Delaney		Please do not redistrict. Let the people VOTE! You‚Äôre only doing this because the GOP knows they will lose if they don‚Äôt. History will remember!
10/20/25 1:36 PM	Ms Deborah Hastings		As a North Carolinian, I urge you NOT to redraw our congressional maps mid-decade. Please REJECT any new congressional maps at this time.*
10/20/25 1:36 PM	Liz Dean	10th Generation North Carolinian	Its pathetic, that the only way a specific group of representatives feel like they can win is by change district lines for their perferred candidate to have a majority vote. Gerrymandering needs to stop immediately. This is inapproperated, unnecessary and doesn't serve in the best interest of the citizens and Voters of North Carolina. I don't vote Party, I vote for the best canidate that best represents my views and wishes for My STATE, My NATION and My FAMILY. The NC GOP lead house have no right to skew the results or dilute the outcome of the PEOPLES Vote. STOP GERRYMANDERING! We are better than this. Let the best person win and represent their constituents. Fear is not a way to run the government for the People. 7 million American Citizens demostrated Saturday, that the People are the silent majority. Its the blow hard government officials that are screaming the loudest, because they have the most to loss. Stand for the People! The tide is shifting. Grab on and be one of the good ones. "Here,‚Äôs to the land of the long leaf pine, The summer land where the sun doth shine, Where the weak grow strong and the strong grow great, Here,‚Äôs to ,‚Äúdown home,‚Äù, the Old North State!,‚Äù

10/20/25 1:37 PM	Alexander Aust		To the Members of the North?Carolina General Assembly, I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed congressional redistricting plan that would create an additional Republican-leaning seat in the U.S. House of Representatives. This effort runs contrary to the fundamental principles of fair representation and undermines the democratic process that our state,Äôs citizens rely upon. Why this plan is unacceptable: Partisan Gerrymandering: The proposed map appears to be drawn primarily to advantage one party rather than to reflect genuine community interests, population equality, or geographic coherence. Such manipulation erodes public confidence in our elections and contravenes the spirit of the ‚Äúone person, one vote,Äù doctrine established by the Supreme Court. Dilution of Voter Influence: By concentrating Democratic voters into a few districts while spreading Republican voters across many, the plan effectively diminishes the electoral power of large segments of North?Carolina,Äôs electorate. This practice disenfranchises voters and weakens the accountability of elected officials. Legal and Ethical Concerns: Numerous court rulings,Äîincluding Rucho v. Common Cause (2019) and subsequent state-level decisions,Äîhave highlighted the constitutional dangers of extreme partisan gerrymandering. Continuing down this path invites costly litigation and threatens the integrity of our state,Äôs electoral system. Undermining Public Trust: Transparent, nonpartisan redistricting fosters confidence that our government serves all constituents, not just the ruling party. The current proposal sends the opposite message, suggesting that political advantage supersedes the public interest. What I ask of the Legislature: Reject the current proposal and commit to a redistricting process that is transparent, data-driven, and guided by neutral criteria such as
10/20/25 1:37 PM	Ms Wendy Skelding g		I am writing to strongly urge the NCGA Senate Elections Committee to reject any proposal to redraw NC,Âôs congressional maps. Gerrymandering - regardless of which party benefits - is a blatant manipulation of our democratic process. It undermines fair representation and erodes public trust in our officials. Protect Democracy. REJECT GERRYMANDERING
10/20/25 1:37 PM	Taylor Clements		This is wrong. The North Carolina people deserve a fair election system and fair representation. This poses a significant danger to our representative democracy and disenfranchises millions of voters, silencing their voices. The republican leadership is demonstrating blanket and clear corruption through this process. The people of North Carolina deserve better!
10/20/25 1:37 PM	Mr Samuel Anderson		Should our tax policy be more progressive or regressive? Should we make accommodations for minority groups or not? Should we invest public money in health care services? These are questions with a lot of viewpoints and nuance across the spectrum worth debating. But, should we ‚Äúgame,Äù the system so our party can win (by redistricting toward a targeted outcome)? This is out of bounds and across the line. Politics should be about the best idea not winning at all cost. If your coach tells you to ‚Äúsweep the leg,Äù, it is up to you about whether or not you want to do what is right. These are the moments where what you think really matters. We are watching and taking notes.
10/20/25 1:37 PM	Katherine Chappell		the ability of individuals to vote for somone to represent them is fundamental to our democracy. Partison gerrymandering denies this right. If you are a Republican in a "safe" Republican district, the elected representative need not listen to your concerns because he or she isn't worried about losing. Such a representative doesn't actually repreaent anyone.
10/20/25 1:38 PM	Kristy Warner		Redrawing congressional districts when you haven,Äôt even passed a budget should be illegal.
10/20/25 1:39 PM	Tracy Gregg		Please REJECT the 2025 proposed maps, which are an ILLEGAL attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is an attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. VOTE NO.
10/20/25 1:39 PM	Ms Lori South	None	Redistricting should only be done after the 10 year census is taken. I will not be voting for any members advocating/voting for this.
10/20/25 1:39 PM	Douglass Hill		VOTE ‚ÄòNO,Äô ON REDISTRICTING
10/20/25 1:39 PM	Amy Lebering		I,Äôm not a lawyer, so I am unsure if this targeted gerrymandering to bow down to the convicted felon in office is legal. I do know it is immoral and you are purposely not representing the constituents in NC fairly. Why are you so opposed to nonpartisan maps? Is it because you know you can,Äôt win fairly? 84% of North Carolinians are against gerrymandering. 84%!!! My parents raised me to be honest and to help others - isn,Äôt that why you ran for office? Instead, you are willfully ignoring what your constituents want. There are less than ten billionaires in NC so who are you representing? It,Äôs a sad day for democracy when the people elected to represent our best interests and to keep us safe, kiss the feet of the rapist in the President,Äôs office.
10/20/25 1:39 PM	Holly McBride		I do NOT support redistricting. We have already been gerrymandered in Republicans favor immediately following the 2020 census. This is an overt attempt to rig the midterms and all future elections to favor one party.

10/20/25 1:40 PM	Brian Walker		This is ridiculous partisan jockeying. Do you represent North Carolinians or bow to YOUR king DJT. IT IS DISGRACEFUL. Why don,Äôt you do work that North Carolinians want - like passing a budget? The Republican Party isn,Äôt what it used to be. I will never vote republican AGAIN unless you stop bending the knee to a want to be dictator
10/20/25 1:40 PM	Cynthia Miller		I want NC representatives should represent all Citizens of this great State. So we can all enjoy democratic representation.
10/20/25 1:41 PM	Represent the people Emily Flynn		There's no good reason to draw maps to benefit political parties over benefitting constituents represented in districts. There's no goals here other than misrepresenting North Carolinans. Your job is to work for your constituents, and there isn't even a state budget yet, its 1/3 of a year overdue. Yet you have time to redraw maps to be more partisan and less representative of the people of this state. Shame on everyone involved in this. Do your job, and do it within the letter of the law. Do not redraw the district maps as proposed. Stop failing North Carolina.
10/20/25 1:41 PM	Melissa Spruill		I strongly oppose! We must have fair voting maps that respect and uphold the rights of Black, Latino, Asian and Native voters who have faced historical discrimination as well as modern day barriers to equal representation.
10/20/25 1:42 PM	Susan Sachs	private citizen	Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Âô ability to hold their leaders accountable. Please stop monkeying around with re-districting and do the job you were elected to fulfill.
10/20/25 1:42 PM	Ms. Ruth McGalliard		We should not be redistricted just to allow Republicans to cheat in the coming elections! Redistricting was done two years ago! This is unfair! Please do not support this!
10/20/25 1:42 PM	Dr. Debra Kinsey		A September 2025 survey of North Carolina voters conducted by a Republican polling firm found 84% of NC voters oppose gerrymandering under any circumstances, including 78% of Republicans; and, as a North Carolina resident who supports fair voting maps and who could be affected by this gerrymandered congressional district, I ask that you refrain from introducing any mid-decade redistricting in 2025 that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode North Carolinians,Âô power to elect candidates of their choice. Additionally, while we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, you took an oath to carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Just because people think North Carolinians,Âô congressional voting maps can be redrawn to manipulate the upcoming 2026 elections, that does not mean that you should.
10/20/25 1:42 PM	Jon Brown		Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand
10/20/25 1:42 PM	Ms Susan Trabka		This plan shows Republicans' contempt for NC voters by attempting to predetermine the outcome of elections. It also shows contempt for the act of voting, since the gerrymandered districts will discourage voter participation if the outcome is rigged. So voters get your contempt instead of any honest efforts to to pass a state budget that will address their needs by funding raises for teachers and the Medicaid rebase so that thousands won't lose their health insurance.
10/20/25 1:42 PM	Redistricting Foul Mary Kintz		We are in an era of awakening, with more people paying attention to actions of those in power and how they abuse it. There is no single party "mandate" in a NC population with our current demographics. I will work tirelessly to educate and expose this as unfair to all North Carolinians if you move forward.
10/20/25 1:42 PM	Kaylee Baldwin		I would like to be able to tell my kids that they live in a democracy. Acts like this make that harder to do. Redrawing lines to keep an authoritarian happy is about the most un-American thing you can do as a publicly elected leader.
10/20/25 1:43 PM	No Thank you! Tanja Bauer		I,Äôm so sick of this partisan BS. It frustrates me that I explain to my kids what is fair and what is not and how to be a good person and then here goes the GOP making unfair maps. Just because they can,Äôt win fairly, they have to rig the game. It,Äôs time to stop this mess!
10/20/25 1:43 PM	Mrs. Vicki Smith		Gerrymandering is unethical and an unabashed effort to insure one party stays in power irregardless of what the collective people decide under fair, democratic means. Since when should being overtly unfair the right choice? How Can that party be proud of that? Where is the decency that should accompany the very democratic act of voting and letting the people speak? This is no better than hijacking.
10/20/25 1:43 PM	Halle Amick		Stop gerrymandering in NC. We, the people of NC, deserve fair elections, not redrwan districts every time one side loses. This is a shamless power grab, and it's disgusting.
10/20/25 1:43 PM	Jacquelyn Keller		I am AGAINST the new district plans. GERRYMANDERING should be illegal.
10/20/25 1:43 PM	Stop it. Miranda Clarke	Myself	This is an unfair use of power and I urge you NOT to redistrict. We're tired of gerrymandering to favor one side or the other. Please listen to us!!
10/20/25 1:43 PM	Ms. Gail Weeks		NO RACIST, UNFAIR GOP REDISTRICTING! WE ARE WATCHING YOU!
10/20/25 1:43 PM	Anne Harriss		Shame on you. Shame on all of you. You,Äôre no better than thieves. The ends do not justify the means.
10/20/25 1:44 PM	Kevin Watson		Redistricting for political purposes shows the electorate that the assembly lacks the backing of the people. If you believe the people back your message redistricting isn,Âôt necessary.
10/20/25 1:44 PM	Mona Couts		Please do NOT proceed with this unlawful redistricting plan.

10/20/25 1:44 PM	Democracy Lily Golden	NC Poor People's Campaign	I write to ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. True American values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. I urge you to reject this mid-decade redistricting effort. Our democracy is strengthened when voters choose their representatives, not when representatives choose their voters. North Carolinians are watching. Thank you for considering my concerns.
10/20/25 1:44 PM	Travis Gibbons		Look at the polling data - the OVERWHELMING majority of voters in NC are against this - even over 3/4 of Republicans are against redrawing districts for political gain - even for their own party. This attempt to override the voice of the people of this great state is disturbing.
10/20/25 1:44 PM	Apollo Grace		Please stop. You've already stolen 3 out of our 14 congressional seats by cheating; don't steal another. We're watching.
10/20/25 1:45 PM	Ms Sherri Silvers		Definitely against redistricting
10/20/25 1:45 PM	Mrs. Malissa Borden		Redistricting in North Carolina often leads to gerrymandering, where district boundaries are manipulated to favor one political party over another. This undermines fair representation, dilutes the power of certain communities, and creates districts that are oddly shaped to ensure partisan advantage rather than reflect actual population demographics. Instead of promoting democracy, it can entrench political divisions and disenfranchise voters, leaving many people feeling like their votes don‚Äôt truly count.
10/20/25 1:46 PM	Dr. Linda Jack		As a proud American and resident of North Carolina I am appalled by the efforts to redraw and gerrymander our maps to disenfranchise voters and benefit Republicans. Make our elections free and fair and vote against this reprehensible redistricting!
10/20/25 1:46 PM	Ann Schado		I am against this blatant power grab by the GOP to redistricting between censuses. Constituent in Charlotte 28269
10/20/25 1:46 PM	Redistricting Connie Helmlinger		For years, the GOP controlled legislature has been seeking to redraw the maps to disenfranchise democratic voters, particularly minorities. Half of registered voters in the state are Democrats, but 10 of 13 representative sent to Congress are Republicans. And now are you are seeking to make this 11 of 13. It is unconscionable that you ignore the wishes of half the state‚Äôs voters, who consequently get no representation on the national level. Perhaps instead of gerrymandering the districts in order to keep Control, Republicans could put forward an agenda that people want to support and vote for.
10/20/25 1:46 PM	Mrs Lynn Poray		Gerrymandering is down right fraud. How pathetic that the only way to obtain a political seat is to manipulate districting to favor one candidate over another. Gerrymandering needs to be illegal.
10/20/25 1:46 PM	Lisa Dewey		As a North Carolina, I am deeply concerned that President Trump asked the NC legislators to redistrict in the attempts to add another Republican seat to the House of Representative in 2026. NC is widely considered one of the most gerrymandered states in the USA. Redistricting district to sway towards either political parties undermines the will of the people. President Trump's request is unlawful and harmful to the people of this state. I urge you to stand up for democracy against this request and draw districts for the state that allows all our voices to be heard independent of political party. Your actions and the actions of state legislators will impact the way I vote going forward. I refuse to support political parties or public officials that do not uphold the Constitution, democracy and representation of the people.
10/20/25 1:46 PM	Kyle Rachels	none	I am a father, husband, state employee, and unaffiliated voter who has supported both republican and democratic candidates in past elections. Legislative salary increases have not kept pace with the rate of inflation and the spending power of my salary represents a 4% salary cut since 2020. Failing to pass a budget with state employee raises while proceeding with congressional redistricting solely for the purpose of wanton political power is an abrogation of the responsibility of the North Carolina General Assembly. I urge you to use your significant influence to pass a budget with state employee raises, and I request that you repudiate the effort to limit fair elections in North Carolina through the current redistricting gerrymander. North Carolina is a "purple state" with a nearly even split of democrat and republican votes in most elections for federal office. Congressional districts should reflect that reality and not contort the districts in such a way as to preordain political outcomes.
10/20/25 1:47 PM	Holmes Graybeal		The NC General Assembly should not redistrict in a way the creates an unfair power advantage for one party. NC is essentially a 50/50 state. In a true representative democracy that should be reflected in the makeup of its elected officials. Also, the fair competition of ideas is a GOOD thing for our state. Republicans and Democrats should both have a chance to put forth their ideas.
10/20/25 1:47 PM	No to redistricting Katie Olrich		This attempt to redistrict to further entrench power for one political party is abhorrent and undemocratic
10/20/25 1:47 PM	Mrs Linda Buckel		Once you are in office, you are to represent ALL North Carolinians of both parties. Redistricting specifically to give either party an extra seat in Congress is appalling and undemocratic.
10/20/25 1:47 PM	Janet Edwards		Redistricting should not be your priority right now. It should be done after the census as per usual. We don‚Äôt even have a state budget approved yet. State employees and teacher wages need to be addressed. Possible furloughs of state employees due to the federal government shutdown. Do your job of running the state government, not worrying about kissing Trumps behind trying to get additional Republicans into the House.

10/20/25 1:47 PM	Lowell Simon		I am asking you to vote NO on congressional redistricting that intentionally distorts NC,Äôs voting maps in order to promote partisan politics over ‚Äúwe the people.‚Äù Such blatantly political gerrymandering gives the appearance that Republican ideas are not good enough to win and that they can only win by rigging elections. These days there is no such thing as a ‚Äúmandate.‚Äù In 2024 only 37% of eligible voters voted for candidate Trump. This is true for almost every elected official; when 75% of eligible people vote and a candidate gets 60% of the vote that means only 45% of eligible voters voted for that candidate. Will you represent the other 55% of your voters?
10/20/25 1:47 PM	Don,Äôt redistrict NC Allison Tune		Don,Äôt do this. The state needs a budget to be set and approved, amongst other higher priority initiatives. Your constituents don,Äôt want this. We want a funded education system and for the state to have a set budget. Work on those first.
10/20/25 1:47 PM	Ms Betty Henderson		Totally opposed to proposed mid cycle redistricting by NC legislature. Our legislature is already so incredibly gerrymandered to favor Republicans that it is astounding to know they crave even more inequality in our government! Is there ever an end to the lust for power and money by the majority party in our state?
10/20/25 1:47 PM	Melissa Gray		End the gerrymandering. Advance & pass HB 20 - The Fair Maps Act. Constituents in NC should be picking representatives, not the representatives picking their constituents!
10/20/25 1:48 PM	Ms Liz Cullington		Everybody knows that NC district maps are already profoundly unfair. While voters are almost evenly split, seats are already arranged to significantly increase the share for the GOP. We don,Äôt need that party then using that illegitimate power to grab even more power, whether to implement bad policies for the state, or to prop up the obscenely corrupt and fascist administration in DC by maintaining GOP control of the house by foul means in contradiction to the will of the voters. And the voters are already mad as hell.
10/20/25 1:48 PM	Mrs Allison Koch	Retired	These redistricting power grabs are immoral and must stop. You all need to be ashamed of what you are trying to take from the people of this state and nation! We had put our trust in you, but now you pledge allegiance to a corrupt regime and its President! Bullies always get their comeuppance. Did you not learn this lesson as children ? Cheaters never prosper. Do the Right thing by the People who chose you, trusting your integrity!
10/20/25 1:48 PM	Rev Kerri Miller		I am against the redistricting and hope to see accurately representational districts in the future.
10/20/25 1:49 PM	Amy Martin		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This an attempt to seize power for the GOP, and it is unacceptable. Vote NO!
10/20/25 1:49 PM	MS Marla West		No gerrymandering, no redistricting so republicans can get more votes
10/20/25 1:49 PM	Sue Ann Austin		As a registered voter in NC, I ask that the General Assembly NOT approve the redistricting plan.
10/20/25 1:49 PM	Elizabeth M		It is shameful that you are unable to pass a budget that will enable programs and services in our state to plan accurately but will reconvene to bow to a loyalty demand from the president and not from the citizens that you represent. Prioritize the people of North Carolina who elected you.
10/20/25 1:50 PM	Fritzi Bullins-Jones		As a North Carolinian I demand that you reject the redistricting that Phil Berger is trying to push onto our state.
10/20/25 1:50 PM	Ms. Nina Insardi		I am strongly opposed to the proposed redistricting plan. This is not being done because of new census data showing population shifts. It is being done solely because Donald Trump is asking for it. This will be precedent-setting for the future of all North Carolinians. You should be following established rules and guidelines so your constituents of both parties can trust their government officials. Gerrymandering by one party is sure to be followed by gerrymandering by the other. Be careful what you wish for.
10/20/25 1:51 PM	MS Padma Dyvine		76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. As our elected officials it is incumbent upon you to vote as your constituents want. By gerrymandering the districts, you are not upholding the principles of democracy. Gerrymandering should be abolished. The elected officials should represent the people in a given district, not creating districts so you can get re-elected. Stand up for our NC Constitution! Thank you. Padma Dyvine, Bat Cave, NC 28710

10/20/25 1:51 PM	Ms Donna Somers		To All Members of our North Carolina Legislature: I implore you to return North Carolina to fair and balanced elections, with every eligible voter being able and allowed to cast their votes. Gerrymandering is wrong, no matter which party does it. It has to stop, so take the high road and get it done. As our elections stand now, it strongly appears that you do NOT want us to vote and that you are doing everything in your power to stop people from voting. Rather than (1) cutting the number of early voting days and hours, (2) stopping people who may have to wait in line for hours to vote from being given food or water, (3) trying to stop people from mailing in their completed ballots, and just making everything about voting more difficult, why are you not, instead, doing everything you possibly can to encourage eligible voters to vote? The fairest way to have elections in NC is what was done in 2022, which had to be done by court order. We are a purple state and our representation in Congress should be just about equal, no matter what. The court-ordered nonpartisan committee drew 7-7 maps, which accurately reflected our voting population. The 10-4 results from the 2024 election do not come close to fairly representing North Carolinians political beliefs. And now, the Senate and House leadership want to change our maps again, 5 years early, to steal another Legislative seat, 11-3. This is totally unacceptable! It is NOT our Legislators' responsibility to make sure the president's agenda is followed. It is your job to represent us, your constituents, NOT the president or his agenda. And, right now your focus should be on negotiating a budget so our state can resume normal governmental operations. Your priorities are out of line with our state‚Äôs needs. Start paying attention to your constituents and their needs. I do believe that people should make sure they mail their ballots at least 4 days prior to an election since we cannot depend on our US Postal Service to deliver mail in a timely manner. The date/time stamp should be used as the date of acceptance of an election. Thank you for reading this. Donna J Somers Greensboro, NC 27410
10/20/25 1:51 PM	Mr. Arthur Robb-Cohen		I am against politically motivated districting. Districting must be based on population distribution any other way is an admission of failure to convince either party's constituency,
10/20/25 1:51 PM	Clare Hannon	Citizen	Quit trying to steal elections. We do not support gerrymandering. Let the voters speak without your tampering with district lines. If you can‚Äôt represent your voters, can‚Äôt pass a budget that supports NC citizens, can‚Äôt do your job- we‚Äôll elect people who can.
10/20/25 1:51 PM	You represent us! Stephanie Sivakumar		As a North Carolina resident (and registered voter) it is beyond infuriating to have representatives at both the state and local level who could care less about the generational harm this redestricting is doing. Not just to essential services and representation, but to the confidence in our most sacred civic duty,Ä¶voting. You represent us- please act like it.
10/20/25 1:51 PM	Judith Wickham		I am extremely opposed to this redistricting plot. Please stop acting like MAGA advocates. We elected a Democratic governor and several other council of state positions last year. We are NOT a MAGA state. We are a moderate state and this misguided proposal does not represent this state. I believe in our Constitution. I believe in the people of North Carolina. I oppose all gerrymandering. Let the people speak for themselves, not through the Republican leadership's misguided partisanship.
10/20/25 1:52 PM	Julia Slebosd	just representing myself	Any change that sustains or furthers the gerrymandered skew of voting in North Carolinia's is unacceptable. Gerrymandering is WRONG and dirty politics. When North Carolinians vote in state-wide elections, free of district lines, we usually elect moderate or progressive candidates. In district voting, we usually elect more conservative candidates because of gerrymandered district lines. This system obviously prevents the majority from being able to elect state representatives that will vote for their best interests. Make voting fair again.
10/20/25 1:53 PM	Pam Alter		This is a ridiculous plan. This administration will do anything in its power to when even if unconstitutional. This needs to stop!
10/20/25 1:53 PM	Rebecca Yoh		I disagree with republicans stealing house seats by redistricting
10/20/25 1:53 PM	Dr. Patricia Neri		Gerrymandering goes against democracy. You are misrepresenting the people who put you in power.
10/20/25 1:53 PM	Holly Grubb		This redistrplan is not in the interest of the public good; it's partisan and seemingly unconstitutional.
10/20/25 1:54 PM	Bernadette Page		Please do not gerrymander voting in North Carolina. The majority of voters, including the majority of Republican voters, do not think we should be gerrymandering. Truly, it is not representation of all the people when you gerrymander. Please don't do it. Thanks
10/20/25 1:54 PM	Duane Chamblee		Please follow our state constitution and pass a budget. Re-districting is -constitutionally- done in 2030.
10/20/25 1:54 PM	Firmly Against Shelby McGinnis		I am strongly opposed to the proposed redistricting maps. They are clearly drawn in favor of one political party (in an already heavily gerrymandered state) instead of fairly representing North Carolina voters. Redistricting should be done to ensure equal representation and keep communities of interest intact, not divide them for partisan advantage. This process feels rushed and political, and it undermines the already wavering public trust in our elections. We need tranparency, fairness, and maps that actually allow voters to choose their representatives- not the other way around. Please reject these maps and commit to a fair, open redistricting process that serves the people of North Carolina. The people who voted for you and supported you and believed you would represent our communities and their needs... not those of a wanna-be dictator seeking to strengthen his authoritarian grasp on our American Democracy.
10/20/25 1:54 PM	Rev Steve Hickle	Retired	You‚Äôve already illegally and immorally disenfranchised a growing portion of NC citizens. Stop the madness. Fairness first!

10/20/25 1:54 PM	Dr Tamara Fetters		People across ALL political affiliations should be against redistricting for the sole purpose of tipping the scales in favor of one party or another. We don,Äôt want gerrymandering in blue states, we don,Äôt want gerrymandering in red states, we don,Äôt want it anywhere. Gerrymandering goes against democracy and we need to be reforming this issue nationally, not adding to it.
10/20/25 1:55 PM	Blair Usedom		I think it is undemocratic to redistrict the NC Congressional map for partisan reasons. I am strongly opposed to this new map.
10/20/25 1:55 PM	Leisa Hoston	[Year]	WHY!!! Why are you doing this?? This shows that NC don,Äôt care one bit about its people and what the people want!! It,Äôs all about TRUMP. A GREEDY MAN WITH NOTHING TO OFFER BUT HATE AND LIES.!, JUST REMEMBER YOUR BUTT IS ON LINE AT MIDTERMS
10/20/25 1:55 PM	Meghan Hannon	Citizing	I do not support any effort to redistrict. Leave the lines as they are. If you have to cheat to win, you are not representing us. Pass a budget that provides us healthcare.
10/20/25 1:55 PM	Lydia Powell		I oppose redistricting.
10/20/25 1:56 PM	Thomas Quinn		The blatant corruption and manipulation being demonstrated to capitulate to a terrible president and party is abhorrent. I hope someday to live in a real democracy where the will of the people is followed and not that of the special corporate interests and that of those who wrongfully cling to power. Please vote against the redistricting.
10/20/25 1:56 PM	Blaise Strenn	Constituent	Just stop. This madness is outrageous. Congressional maps ought to reflect the state's population, but these maps are not even close. Shame on the General Assembly leadership.
10/20/25 1:56 PM	Grace Smith		Please do not change congressional redistricting.
10/20/25 1:57 PM	MS Pat Buede	resident	Just make it simple and fair. Or do you not have the guts to do it fairly?
10/20/25 1:57 PM	Jenny Halasz		This is nonsense. You should be ashamed. Get back to doing actual work.
10/20/25 1:58 PM	Constance Rush		Neither party should have the ability to unilaterally redraw election districts. Your motivations are perfectly transparent and you should be ashamed that you believe the Republican Party will only hold onto office is to CHEAT and deprive people of their rights. Shame on you.
10/20/25 1:58 PM	Mrs. Monica Johnson		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Please allow the people to fairly determine who represents them in. Vote NO.
10/20/25 1:58 PM	Reverend Beth Osbahr		I urge you to stand up for democracy that is fair and represents all North Carolinians. We cannot become a nation of one party. Please do the job you were elected to do and keep North Carolina a state that is proud of and values all of our residents!
10/20/25 1:59 PM	Mrs Jane Wiseman		This is an inexcusable power grab, no matter the party. You should be ashamed; if the policies espoused by the party are sound, you should have no problem prevailing! Please follow the policy/regulation/law allowing for redistricting after the census!
10/20/25 1:59 PM	Mrs. Lu Ann Little		Please keep our districts as currently drawn. To change them solely for political advantage is not allowing our votes to count. It shine illegal.
10/20/25 1:59 PM	Bruce Frank		The current redistricting efforts in NC are a blatant attempt to gerrymander the districts to benefit one party. This disregards the will of the voters and is simply a one-sided political manipulation to unfairly tip the scales in favor of one party. This should be opposed by our state legislators if they have any sense of fairness and decency.
10/20/25 1:59 PM	Ms Mary Propes	Retired	please do not propose and pass a new districting plan. It is unnecessary at this time re population and it is a blatant attack on the value of each person,Äôs vote. Stop your packing and stacking scheme. You were elected to serve the people of this state, not ensure that the President,Äôs agenda gets enacted in DC. North Carolinians deserve better. Please do your job!
10/20/25 2:00 PM	Mr. Jerry Markatos	Veterans For Peace	We all rely on our elections to get a true picture of public will. When the process is falsified - as when districts are rigged to assure some other goal, we are turned into a cheap chorus. It is incredibly demeaning , undermining the value and function of citizenship.
10/20/25 2:00 PM	Mr. Kenneth Hirsh		As a concerned citizen and supporter of the United States Constitution, I object to the mid-decade redistricting that you propose. You are ignoring the plain language of Article I, which contemplates only a decennial census and only one redistricting each decade. Additionally, you are deliberately redrawing districts to maximize Republican seats, despite the fact that the state population of voters is closely divided between the two major parties. Finally, you are doing so at the behest of a president who has committed multiple impeachable offenses and is a cruel and callous man. Sham on you all.
10/20/25 2:00 PM	Mary Kearney		Republicans already have a majority in our legislature with the maps drawn as they are. Please do not make it impossible to hear from the rest of your constituents by the proposed plan to redistrict. Please try to represent all of us not just one party. Thank you. Mary Kearney
10/20/25 2:01 PM	Amber Sidden		Please refrain from congressional redistricting. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Love thy neighbor!

10/20/25 2:01 PM Jennifer Johnson		A while back I had the opportunity to listen Rep. Laura Budd speak at a corporate event. She spoke of the bipartisanship of the NCGA. This was so different from the media portrayal of life in Raleigh that there a few surprised murmurs. ‚Äúl promise, it‚Äôs not as bad as some people say it is,‚Ù she laughed. Unfortunately today, NCGA has proven her wrong by selling out our state sovereignty to an out of control federal government in desperate need of checks and balances. Why does NC need to squeeze out thousands of Black voices to achieve the goals of Trump admin? Why is that our responsibility as a state? North Carolina doesn‚Äôt even have budget and now our citizens are facing exploding costs due to NCGA inaction. We are a state that voted Josh Stein and Donald Trump. Doesn‚Äôt that tell you that we are purple? That redrawing the congressional map (again) will not necessarily reflect North Carolina? What happened to ‚Äúwe the people,‚Ù? I know this means nothing because I am neither a donor nor an influencer but I am someone who votes and pays taxes. Maybe its time to remember who it is you work for.
10/20/25 2:02 PM Citizen Yolanda Abram	Citizen	The current lawmakers need to protect all North Carolinians. Redrawing the maps to continue to follow our President, a man who is spending his time in the middle east when the US needs for him to focus on health care, rather than directing the NCGA to forego their duty to all the people of NC. Do not do like the mob that stormed the Capitol because the President urged them to! The NCGA was not elected to follow the President. Do your job and represent us all.
10/20/25 2:02 PM Kathryn Edwards		I urge my state not to move forward with this planned redistricting. Not only does it further diminish any little remaining hope that any of the NC elected officials actually work for the people who elected them, it clearly violates Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act. This is blatant disrespect for the citizens of this state, clearly showing that we are not allowed to choose who represents us. You are taking away our right to vote for what we believe in, making this also a violation of our First Amendment rights. This is a waste of taxpayer's time and money when you all should be focused on disaster recovery, health care, and your citizens' concerns. This will also waste our money when it is challenged in court. I don't pay taxes so that my state officials can waste them on petty ideological gerrymandering. I will remember the names of everyone who was involved in pushing this redistricting efforts forward and will make it my duty to oppose them in every future election. Shame on you for this disgusting attempt at taking away my rights to vote.
10/20/25 2:02 PM Julie Cline	None	Please, leave us with a democracy. I am so sad to hear about another redistricting that will likely result in a further advantage of one party over another.
10/20/25 2:02 PM Jennifer Lockart		Please stop redrawing districts in order to get certain parties elected.
10/20/25 2:03 PM Samantha Easters		I strongly oppose the proposed redrawing of North Carolina‚Äôs Congressional District 1. This off-cycle, closed-door redistricting process undermines public trust and threatens fair representation for all North Carolinians. Senator Hise‚Äôs admission that ‚Äúpolitical data,‚Ù was used,‚Äîwhile excluding public input and racial impact considerations,‚Äîreveals this as a partisan power grab, not a fair process. Redrawing maps outside of census years or court orders has not happened since the 1960s, and it will almost certainly lead to costly legal battles funded by taxpayers. Every citizen who spoke at the recent hearing opposed the new maps, yet their voices were ignored. This decision silences voters, especially communities of color, and deepens mistrust in our democratic system. I urge legislators to delay any vote, allow more time for public input, and support independent, nonpartisan map-drawing to ensure fair representation for all. North Carolina deserves maps that reflect the will of the people,‚Äînot the ambitions of a few politicians.
10/20/25 2:03 PM Vonia Walther		I am fully aware that both parties gerrymander to their advantage, but the Republican party has taken this activity to a WHOLE NEW LEVEL of CHEATING! How about spending time on things that will help the citizens of NC rather than on the things that wholly provide advantage to one party of politicians, ONLY. None of this helps constituents. It's all about CHEATING! Redistricting should be done FAIRLY!
10/20/25 2:03 PM Anne O‚Äô‚ÄôGorman		NC is a heavily gerrymandered state already. This is obvious corruption. Don‚Äôt sell our future! Bring in an independent group to district post census.
10/20/25 2:03 PM Mrs Diane Faulkner		This is the most tacit move ever!!! Why won‚Äôt you let the people of NC decide who they want to represent them. I do not understand why you think this is right. So insecure and mediocre.
10/20/25 2:03 PM Justine Libby		Here is the script! ??Suggested Language: Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 2:04 PM 2025 redistricting James Groves	NC resident and US citizen	Redistricting mid-term is inappropriate and if the other side of the isle did this you would be beside yourselves. I challenge you to PROVE that the new maps being considered are fair and equitable and consider minority voters versus just increasing the GOP vote.
10/20/25 2:04 PM Paul Ahearne		I am opposed to the current redistricting plan.

10/20/25 2:04 PM	Ed Clayton	I question the validity of the proposed changes to the NC Congressional District map. This is obviously a political maneuver and completely unfair to the citizens of North Carolina. To gerrymander the NC House Congressional District is ethically wrong. I encourage you to pay proper respect to the citizens of our great state and drop this plan.
10/20/25 2:04 PM	Dr. Beth Sutton-Ramspeck	Redistricting in the middle of a decade for the express purpose of creating an unfair advantage for one political party (plus unseating a person of color from his duly elected seat) is unconsciounable, and you should be ashamed. The core principle of representative government is that the PEOPLE CHOOSE their representatives, not that the politicians choose their voters. Don't be surprised if this backfires. As you surely already know, 84% of North Carolinians disapprove of gerrymandering, and at some point, the power of our anger will be stronger than the deviousness of the redistricting.
10/20/25 2:04 PM	Anne-Marie Marquez	I'm voicing my STRONG OPPOSITION to this proposed district plan. VOTERS pick their politicians. Politicians shouldn't pick their voters.
10/20/25 2:05 PM	Megan Pickering	Thank you for the opportunity to provide input. I‚Äôm deeply concerned that the proposed maps may prioritize partisan advantage over fair representation. Reports show that under the current proposal, up to 10 or 11 of North Carolina‚Äôs 14 congressional districts would favor one party, leaving millions of voters with little real choice in elections. The redistricting process should be transparent and accountable. Many residents were not given adequate notice or access to hearings, and draft maps were released with limited time for public review. To restore public trust, I urge lawmakers to release detailed map data, hold additional hearings across the state, and explain the criteria used for drawing each district. District lines must keep counties and communities together whenever possible and comply with the Voting Rights Act to protect minority representation. Fair maps mean fair elections ‚Äî and that strengthens democracy for all North Carolinians. Thank you for your consideration and commitment to equal representation.
10/20/25 2:05 PM	Jessica Randall	I just watched the hearing on this matter, and I am outraged that Sen. Hise and his committee are basically unilaterally disenfranchising the voters in District 1. How is it possible that one man and his committee can have so much power over the many voices in North Carolina? And just because you CAN do it, does that mean you SHOULD? More and more every day the corruption of the Republican party is surfacing, and as an Independent that is tragic for our two-party system. There will come a day where Democrats are in control again, and what precedents are you setting? The fact that this slippery gerrymandering hasn't happened since 1967 alone tells the voters of North Carolina that this decision is SOLELY being made based on Trump's call for states to find him more U.S. House seats in advance of the mid-terms. This is blatant corruption and you'd have to be blind not to see it. The fact that it moved through with a "yes" vote today when there is clear public dissent is just another endorsement that the NC GOP does not have the interest of its voters in mind, and is more invested in POWER rather than PEOPLE. And how about that budget? Shameful.
10/20/25 2:06 PM	Mr. Brenton Van Buskirk	Please do not arbitrarily redraw district lines. Focus on the needs of the people of the state of North Carolina amd stop worrying about the vanity projects of the president. As a resident of WNC (Henderson County) there are thousands who still need real help here from Helene. Prioritize them, please. Let the redistricting happen in line with the Census as protocol dictates. Thank you for giving me a platform to speak on this, and I hope you have an amazing day!
10/20/25 2:06 PM	Jessica Sharp	Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 2:06 PM	Erin Hooks	As our representatives, you are answerable to US, the citizens of North Carolina, not Trump. Please do NOT continue to gerrymander our state with racist boundaries, with the only object a power grab on the national level. Let the people of NC be heard!
10/20/25 2:07 PM	Bruce Mowrey	I am strongly against another re-districting.
10/20/25 2:07 PM	Miss Margaret Summers	Why? Why do we need to redistrict? I live in District 13. You redistricted after Wiley Nickel won so that you made sure, he wouldn't win again. I guess the Republicans feel they can only win if they stack the deck in their favor. Believe it or not, North Carolina is become a more balanced state. We are not truly a red state anymore. We are a purple state - a MIX of Democrats, Republicans, and Independents. I am tired of seeing politicians think that just because they currently hold a majority, that they don't have to compromise with the other side and more importantly do what is right for ALL of the citizens of NC. Just leave the maps alone. It is very obvious that Republicans think they can only win by "cheating". No matter how hard you try, you cannot get rid of Democrats and Independents and make everyone vote and believe the same way you do. It also makes it very hard for elected officials to form a bond and deep understanding of their constituents if it keeps changing year to year. You would think that reelecting people who are doing good for their community is what you would want. Keeping voters confused and uniformed is what you want - we are not stupid and can see through the games that Republicans want to play with our state and tax paying citizens.

10/20/25 2:07 PM	Carol Hermann		Sen. Berger; As a N. Carolina resident, and unaffiliated voter, I urge you to stop the gerrymandering process of NC voting district maps and follow the census of 2020 to produce a fair map. It makes me sick that the majority party at any point in time in N. Carolina is so weak that it takes the unethical, immoral action of taking away the voters (my) voice by gerrymandering voting district maps. It is a violation of the N. Carolina Constitution and their oath of office. Redrawing maps before the next census is illegal. The major political parties lose members when they disregard those residents of their districts who count on them to uphold their oath. We the people did not vote for this action and were not consulted. It speaks volumes about lack of ethics and integrity when any party gerrymanders the map. Credibility is gone. The oath of office of Senators and Representatives is meaningless when they engage in gerrymandering behavior. And manipulation to create a super majority is blatantly unfair when our state is almost evenly divided among the two major parties and the unaffiliated. Unaffiliated voters do not all vote for one party. I voted for candidates of two parties in the 2024 election. I cannot believe, for one second, that anyone in office now who votes for the up coming district map bill cares at all about all the people in his or her district, or the state, when 76% of voters believe gerrymandering district maps should be illegal. Again I urge you to stop this process now.
10/20/25 2:07 PM	Mr. James Ahler	Retired	President Pro Tem Berger: Please resist the call from President Trump to do something you know in your heart is wrong. Please safeguard the fair and legal voting districts as they currently are. Thank you for your service and resisting efforts to harm NC Voters. Jim Ahler
10/20/25 2:09 PM	Leslie Covington		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO!
10/20/25 2:09 PM	Ms. Mary Coyne Wessling	League of Women Voters of the Piedmont Triad	84% of North Carolina Voters (split evenly across affiliated/unaffiliated) say it's NEVER acceptable for politicians to draw districts to help their own party win more seats, no matter the circumstances. (source: Opinion Diagnostics Survey 9/25) And yet, NCGA leadership has decided to do just that - create maps mid-cycle, at the request of Trump, to allow Congress to gain more seats through Partisan Gerrymandering. This is outrageous and unfair coming from any political party or affiliation. Stop this madness and let North Carolina voters decide for themselves who needs to go and who needs to stay in Congress.
10/20/25 2:09 PM	Mrs Lynn Forbes		Redistricting currently should not be done because it is gerrymandering in our state which should NOT happen!!! Do the right thing that you were elected to do,Ä¶ not cheat!!!
10/20/25 2:10 PM	Mr Tyler Agee		I do not believe North Carolina voters should lose more of their influence due to the greedy aspirations of the Republican legislature and Donald Trump demanding more federal seats. Just look at the voter demographics of NC, it is pretty much a split state yet the republicans will in our state government completely ignore the will of half of the states citizens. If republicans can,Äôt win elections fairly they should maybe change their message or actually work for the people of NC not gerrymander their way into power. The smugness and addiction to power of our gop senators is disgraceful. Listen to the will of the voters not your lust for power. Cowering to a want to be king is pathetic and shows most republicans have no backbone to stand up for what is right.
10/20/25 2:10 PM	Heather Stein		I vehemently oppose the move of the Republicans to once again alter the district maps and to deprive racial minorities of a voice in their governance. I am furious that my state and federal tax dollars are being squandered to promote the illegal, unconstitutional, and inhumane actions of the Trump administration. Jesus weeps.
10/20/25 2:10 PM	Jenny McLeod		Redrawing districts for partisan gain destroys the fairness of elections and the confidence citizens have in their elected officials. It is an obscene abuse of political power.
10/20/25 2:11 PM	Sarah Johnson		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 2:11 PM	Austin Pinelli		Gerrymandering in the great state of North Carolina is already a rampant issue, as the current state legislature fails to adequately represent the presence of Democrat and Republican voters fairly. To further amplify this problem and to bow down to the wishes of President Trump would further reduce the power of the citizens of North Carolina to elect representatives that align with their values. Do not approve the currently proposed congressional district plan for the sake of all North Carolina residents.
10/20/25 2:11 PM	Heather Mansfield		This is obviously gerrymandering and an attempt to grab power, which should never be allowed for either party.
10/20/25 2:12 PM	Virginia Smith		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote No
10/20/25 2:12 PM	Leslie Euston		I am a constituent writing to express my concerns over the redrawing the electoral maps of NC at the urging of the president. Redrawing the electoral maps so one political party can win over an other is not only cheating it,Äôs morally reprehensible. To redraw the map at the urging of the president is anti-American and anti-democratic. The Supreme Court already ruled that the previous gerrymandering was unconstitutional, so I fail to see why this is even an issue under consideration. We are supposed to have free and fair elections in The United States of America, and nothing about this redistricting plan is free or fair.

10/20/25 2:12 PM	Sarah Lee		I strongly object to the current proposal of redistricting being pushed through by NC Republicans. Our democracy can't function when elections are determined by partisan gerrymandering, as in the current proposed legislation. The only way to end these rigged maps for good is through real reform--with independent redistricting commissions to take that power out of politicians' hands, and proportional representation to ensure every voter's voice counts.
10/20/25 2:12 PM	Mr. Steven Constant		As a knowledgeable and concerned citizen, do not perform a redistricting effort at this time. For if this is done now a precedent is set. This will keep occurring for decades to come. Respect the authority provided to you by the citizens and do not damage our trust. Thank you.
10/20/25 2:12 PM	Mel M.		,ÄúRacist maps make racist reps! Racist maps make racist reps!,Äù Shame on you!
10/20/25 2:12 PM	Mr. Jeff Naparstek		In this democratic republic, each citizen has the right to cast a vote and decide who they want governing them. The country should not be carved up into voting blocs to illegally overrule the majority's wishes.
10/20/25 2:12 PM	Lynn Borman	Citizen	Please reconsider redistricting. It seems to me this latest trend in our country is not about what is best for the community but what is best for the republicans. This is not how my America has always been. In all my years I never heard any party redistricting so they get more votes or representatives. Is that the America you want. Every time one party is in office they redistricting to gain votes??? Work together in good old honest discussion and do what the people of the community want. What is best for the people. It feels like all of that has been lost. Sadly
10/20/25 2:13 PM	Mr Wayne Wilson	Private citizen	North Carolina,Äôs congressional map that was redrawn in 2023 already heavily favors the GOP through partisan gerrymandering, and elected 10 Republicans and 4 Democrats last year even though voting by both parties was close to evenly split. Oddly, our State is (and has been for decades) fairly evenly split between the 2 parties in actual number of voters. Gerrymandering has created a situation where one party,Äôs voters have disproportionate representation in our districts. ,ÄúOne person, one vote,Äù is not what is happening now for all North Carolina citizens. Rigging the elections for one party to be guaranteed more representation is unfair, unjust, and unAmerican. As GOP leaders plan to approve new lines favoring more GOP district wins, the result will create an 11-3 split instead of creating fair and representative districts that more accurately reflect the will of the voters. All this without input from the citizens affected by the redistricting. This is not representation of the people, it is partisan hackery. Speaker Hall mentioned there being a ,Äúclear mandate,Äù from North Carolina voters to enact the President,Äôs agendas. If the mandate is clear, than why this effort to take away representation from already heavily gerrymandered districts? This highly partisan effort to gain yet another shoe-in district for the Republican Party is performative theater to further ingrain the injustice of the currently gerrymandered maps. Stop it now. Fairness and justice demand the rejection of creating yet another district rigging the system for one party,Äôs candidates. Please focus of the REAL work that needs to be done to protect, support, and encourage the success of all Citizens in the State by NOT accepting a map that further entrenches the undemocratic imbalance of one party,Äôs representation over another. Make every citizen,Äôs vote count equally.
10/20/25 2:13 PM	Mrs Carrie Song		Please stop taking away representation for 47% of the state. It's a very undemocratic move.
10/20/25 2:13 PM	Gerri Taylor		Y'all kick us out of your hearing; you don't answer our calls; you won't hold town hall meetings; you gerrymander voting maps to disenfranchise voters. How is this democracy????? How is this the will of the people????? We willl NOT remain silent!
10/20/25 2:14 PM	Pamela Blizzard		It,Äôs bad enough that we Dems are already without a representative vote in NC. Now to add the insult of gerrymandering our national representation is beyond the pale. STOP gerrymandering democracy! Vote NO.
10/20/25 2:14 PM	Judy Isaksen		I am sickened that Berger wants to corruptly redraw the NC congressional map to add another Republican. Democracy is about the voice and representation of voters, not rigging the system to please Trump, who is a deranged individual not fit office. My tax dollars should support corrupt politicians.
10/20/25 2:14 PM	George Archer		There is no reason to redraw districts now, please don't. Thank you
10/20/25 2:14 PM	Adele Deal		Our state representatives should reflect the populous, bipartisan gerrymandering destroys our democracy and results in representation which does NOT reflect the people it,Äôs meant to represent. By doing this, we invite civil unrest and a constitutional crisis. There shall not be taxation without representation! We must have maps drawn by independent means. We will not stand for this type of obvious theft and oppression. You cannot silence your constituents! We are well aware that there is already a high percentage of unrepresented tax paying citizens in our state and these measures seek to worsen that.

10/20/25 2:15 PM	Rose Patryce Britton	Concerned Independent Voters	Please do not redistrict to eliminate the voting power of minorities. Despite what the MAGA Supreme Court may be about to decide, it flatly violates the Voting Rights Act. I'm sorry Republicans are unwilling to make policies that all voters will support, and therefore need to micromanage their voters to make sure they can stay in power.
10/20/25 2:15 PM	Ms. JoAnne Smith		The impact this redistrict could have on voter confidence is extraordinary. When redistricting is used to suppress minority voting, it causes harm to those voters and erodes their confidence that their voice counts. This current redistricting raises my concern because it seems it is being done to allow one party to have political polarization and that manipulation raises issues with what is equitable in regards to our electoral maps.
10/20/25 2:16 PM	Virginia Brooks		You seem to forget that this country is supposed to be a democracy! Stop trying to cheat and steal elections!
10/20/25 2:16 PM	Heather Durand		I'm tired of the gerrymandering. The courts ruled the maps were unconstitutional. Put in non-biased maps. A recent survey found that 84% of North Carolina voters say it‚Äôs never acceptable for politicians to draw districts to help their own party win more seats, no matter the circumstances. Heading into 2026, that opposition holds across party lines, including 78% of Republicans, 87% of Democrats and 85% of unaffiliated voters. Be for the people, by the people.
10/20/25 2:16 PM	Mimie McCarley		I am strongly opposed to gerrymandering. It promotes the manipulation of voting district boundaries that undermines the principles of representative democracy. It dilutes the power of racial minority groups, limiting their ability to elect their preferred candidates and voice their concerns.
10/20/25 2:16 PM	Ms Sharon Warden		This plan is absolutely unnecessary! As a lifelong voter, I have never voted simply along party lines. My vote has always been about policy, character and trust! To do this means you have chosen to make it about none of these things!! Please do not bend to the wills of a president who has failed on so many levels. We here in North Carolina know what ‚Äúgovernment by and for the people,‚Äù truly means!
10/20/25 2:17 PM	Mrs. Amber Diffley		Our wonderful state if compromised of republicans, democrats, independents etc and all should be given the opportunity of fair voting practices. To have our maps gerrymandered more is shameful and shows that our current elected officials are not interested in representing all citizens of North Carolina. I am saddened to see that as a state we are not willing to work together for all variety of voices and opinions to be heard. Please reconsider gerrymandering our maps even further than they currently are. I hope as a state we can make the choice to have FAIR maps for all!
10/20/25 2:17 PM	Pattie Jackson Porter		I am new to the Roanoke Rapids area. I am asking for fair mapping that reflects the voice of all the people in NC. I am a member of The United Methodist Church. In our baptismal vows we accept the freedom and power God gives us to resist evil, injustice, and oppression in whatever forms they present themselves! Voting maps that choose a party over the people, regardless of the party in power, are an injustice. It is oppression by suppressing the voice of the people in gerrymandered districts with predetermined outcomes. I pray that you will honor the people you have been elected to represent by serving THEM. Thank you.
10/20/25 2:18 PM	Martha Cooper		I wish to voice strong disapproval of the current gerrymandering efforts proposed, which would greatly skew any fair representation of NC voters, who are 38% unaffiliated, 32% Democrat, and 30% Republican.
10/20/25 2:18 PM	Md Elizabeth Wegmann		As a resident of North Carolina bi strongly urge you to say no to the redrawing or redistricting our maps ..please vote no! This is wrong
10/20/25 2:19 PM	Mrs Suzy Hamaker		This does not represent the will of the people! Work on a budget and take your losses on the chin. Pathetic that this is what our ‚Äúleaders,‚Äù are focusing on
10/20/25 2:20 PM	Nancy Watson		I am against this redistributing proposal. Republicans are not acting in good faith or upholding their sworn duty to serve the people of NC. This effort to further gerrymander maps is clearly ‚Äúbending the knee,‚Äù to Trump, and it is shameful.
10/20/25 2:20 PM	Lanier Blum		I urgently oppose the proposal to redistrict and refute the voters in NE NC. It is terrible policy, undermines the wishes of North Carolinians, and is racially motivated. I ask that you PLEASE do YOUR JOB and represent NC voters -- not an erratic and nefarious President who doesn't give a hoot about the law or the welfare of n=North Carolinians. PLEASE do whatever you can to stop this utterly unbalanced choice. Our federal voting districts should reflect our purple state. Lanier Blum
10/20/25 2:20 PM	Dr. Douglas Barrick	Retired	The redistricting plan is so clearly an anti-democratic scheme that is so shameful that it absolutely boggles the mind of any fair-minded individual. What a flagrant display of Republican fear and lust to hold on to power at all costs with no regard for the will and good of the people they should be serving. It is a mind-blowing attempt to essentially disenfranchise a large segment of voters in such a self-serving way. How can supporters of this travesty of anti-democracy sleep at night. Pitiful, pitiful, pitiful!
10/20/25 2:20 PM	Catherine Tomkiewicz	red Wine & Blue	there is no need to give in to the regime. Thanks to your poor decisions there are a lot of folks who would‚Äôve voted for Republicans but will not do so any time soon. Take care of your constituents instead of swindling us.
10/20/25 2:20 PM	Ms Cynthia Tribuzio		I rejct all redistricting maps. The voice of the people must be heard this applies to both parties. Districts must not be used to silence voices. We all need to remember that this is a government by and for all the people not for a political party.

10/20/25 2:20 PM	Rev. Diane Faires Beadle		I am writing to ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates democratic principles of fairness, accountability, and transparency. Elections should be won by offering the candidates, policies and ideas that best represent the voters, not through manipulation by those in power. This is clearly a power grab that shows our elected leaders do not trust the people who elect them. It doesn't matter which party engages in gerrymandering, it is unethical and robs people of the power of their vote.
10/20/25 2:20 PM	Catherine Brawner		What you are doing is an affront to democracy. Your talking point that you are doing it because of California is WRONG. It is because Donald Trump and the Republican party don't believe that they can win a fair race so they are asking you to rig it. This all started in TEXAS - not California. It is bad and wrong everywhere. The committee should ask itself "if Joe Biden fought for redistricting in his favor, how would you feel?" It is like Lucy pulling the football away from Charlie Brown. Just because you can, doesn't mean you should.
10/20/25 2:21 PM	Gerrymandering is Weak Chris Diffley		The idea that conservatism cannot win except through manipulation of districts is an unacceptable. If the ideals and goals cannot pass a fair test of acceptability, the answer is work within the realms of the law for solutions, not preventing others from having an opportunity to bring opposing opinions. Be better.
10/20/25 2:21 PM	Ms Jody Smith		Voters must choose their politicians to represent them - not allow politicians to choose their voters to cheat their way into more seats in already highly gerrymandered North Carolina. This power grab of redistricting is quite simply cheating to steal votes. I strongly oppose any new maps. We need an independent commission to draw fair maps for NC so that every voter has a voice.
10/20/25 2:22 PM	Amanda Bizune		If redistricting is going to occur, I believe it should accurately represent the demographics of North Carolina. North Carolina is made of Republicans, Democratics, Independents, and even those who abstain from voting. An accurate Congressional map should reflect this. If one party or another has more seats in the House or Senate, then it should be a result of the citizens voting that way, not a result of a power grab by elected officials that are supposed to represent North Carolinian‚Äôs best interests.
10/20/25 2:22 PM	Janina Austin		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 2:23 PM	Ms Lisa Yarrow		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 2:24 PM	Trish Manzene	none	I‚Äôm writing as a concerned North Carolinian who is deeply frustrated by the continued manipulation of our voting maps for partisan gain. The repeated gerrymandering of districts undermines the very foundation of democracy‚Äîfair representation‚Äîand it has become clear that these actions are designed to secure outcomes that voters did not choose. Let‚Äôs call it what it is: cheating. By redrawing lines to protect incumbents or guarantee a political majority, our leaders are effectively appointing themselves to positions that should be earned through the will of the people. It‚Äôs ironic that some of the same voices who criticize ‚ÄúDEI‚Äù initiatives for allegedly giving unearned advantages are now ensuring their own job security through unfair map-drawing. Every person who enables or supports this process bears responsibility- Interns, Associates, Secretaries-- anyone working for as a Republican who stays silent. North Carolina deserves leadership that wins on ideas, not on the manipulation of boundaries. We deserve elections where every voter‚Äôs voice counts equally‚Äîno matter where they live. I‚Äôm asking you to stand for fairness and transparency. Support independent redistricting and restore integrity to our elections. North Carolinians are watching, and we expect our representatives to put democracy before party.
10/20/25 2:25 PM	Pauline Lind		When you decide to push the agenda of the President, not the people that you represent, you will be pushed out by those people. You will be seen as spineless politicians who did not stand up for the millions of North Carolinian's who will not get paid because you decide to not pass a state budget. You will be seen as crooks who would rather support a felon than increase law enforcement pay. You will be seen as anti-american as you would rather see the President succeed than the future of our country by not giving their teachers adequate pay. You have the option to be remembered for someone who was none of these things by choosing the people of North Carolina. It is your choice, please choose us, not the President.
10/20/25 2:25 PM	Stormy Ingold		As you are well aware, NC voters are quite evenly registered as Democrats, Republicans, or Unaffiliateds. The gerrymandered maps you have created are NOT representative of those voters as you also are aware of. Members of the General Assembly who support anything less than fair and representative maps of congressional districts as well as state house districts are derelict in their duty to the people of NC and are blatantly showing that they are willing to put party loyalty before the common good of our state and our nation. You should be ashamed. And please know, your obeisance to the whims of a want-to-be dictator and his offensive cronies will be remembered.
10/20/25 2:25 PM	Christine Foster		Do not waste time /tax payers money by re districting . It‚Äôs wasteful and we the people did not ask for it

10/20/25 2:26 PM	Jaclyn Walters	American Citizen	Mid-cycle redistricting for the purpose of robbing citizens of local representation is unethical, unprincipled, and, for Republicans led by a man who has strong feelings on "rigged elections," profoundly and cynically hypocritical. As many mothers have said, "Just because you can do it doesn't mean you should do it." The Republicans in the state legislature have done everything they could to rob elected members of the opposition party of their seats and North Carolinians of the right to have sensibly drawn districts that will fairly represent all the diverse viewpoints within their communities. There are more important matters for the state legislature to take up right now. This citizen and voter says "NO" to redistricting.
10/20/25 2:26 PM	Ernest Lewis, Jr.		We have been here so many times before and the Republican representatives continue to disenfranchise black voters, like myself and poor voters, like myself. You have bad ideas and refuse to collaborate to build a fairer more just North Carolina. Trump will not be President forever nor is your Majority guaranteed. You are opening the can of worms. Shame. We deserve better and representatives who will pass a budget as constitutionally required and support efforts for justice and fairness. Not bow down to a lame duck, pseudo-king.
10/20/25 2:26 PM	Jessica Beu		I,Äôm asking you to respect Democracy and not gerrymander the NC map. Redistricting is the path to autocracy and the demise of our country.
10/20/25 2:27 PM	Lori Price		I disagree with redistricting. This is gerrymandering.
10/20/25 2:28 PM	Laura Moore		I strongly oppose redistricting (again) and feel that these changes are not justified and well considered. I want all North Carolinians to have a voice in the direction of our state. Please do not redistrict for political gain. Laura Moore
10/20/25 2:28 PM	Sandra Peterson		I am firmly against the proposed redistricting! It is a clearly illegal power grab by the Republicans, and I strongly oppose it!
10/20/25 2:28 PM	Barbara Andersen		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 2:28 PM	Amber Cummings		Why on earth do y,Äôall have to cheat? Oh I know, it,Äôs because you know you haven,Äôt been serving the people. You guys are a bunch of losers. Pathetic. You don,Äôt even deserve your ~$14,000 salary.
10/20/25 2:29 PM	Jessica Matthews		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 2:30 PM	Claire Miller		Redistricting between the 10 year census is plain wrong. Gerrymandering is wrong, no matter which party is doing it. Voters in NC should be able to choose who represents them, not the legislature choosing for them. It is undemocratic and unfair.
10/20/25 2:30 PM	Michael McIntosh		This state is gerrymandered enough already and doesn't need anymore. Please leave as is.
10/20/25 2:31 PM	Tessa Fuller		VOTE NO! I am writing today because I vehemently¬†disagree with the proposed redistricting plan for our state. Redrawing congressional districts specifically to ensure that only one party ever has a chance of winning any given election is unequivocally unethical. Gerrymandering is just plain wrong. As your constituent, I implore¬†you to vote no.
10/20/25 2:31 PM	Dr. M Sullivan		The Constitution and the foundation of our nation's culture and government depends on representation of people: For the People, By the People; however, those entrusted with the responsibility to lead seem to have forgotten this premise. This mid-decade redistricting is not right. The reason stated by legislative representatives made clear it is a naked power grab to make elections less competitive and to support the Republican party's federal power. This is wrong! Maps should not be reconfigured to advantage one person, political party, or policy. As a citizen, I demand that the system be aligned to serve all of the people of North Carolina fairly. This current process is NOT doing this. If the legislature does not justly and fairly, it risks losing its legitimacy - those (temporarily) entrusted to write laws must not be lawless.

10/20/25 2:32 PM	Mrs Diana Ricketts	Diana Ricketts	The NC Constitution, Art I, section 1, provides that "all persons are created equal." Section 19 emphasizes that "No person shall be denied the equal protection of the laws." Art II sections 3, 5, require that representatives' districts "shall remain unaltered until the return of another decennial census (10-year census) of population taken by order of Congress," and further that representatives "shall represent, as nearly as may be, an equal number of inhabitants." The proposed gerrymandering of districts to enable the Republicans to dilute Democratic votes even further is contrary to all that is fair and just. Each person's vote should carry equal weight. Instead, the GOP is making NC a laughingstock by going to ridiculous lengths to rig elections against the will of voters who vote for Democratic candidates. We are exhausted with endless litigation trying to protect our rights to be counted. Do you your jobs and follow the law to ensure fairer voting rather than even more cheating than we already see with the present gerrymandered districts. Thank you, Diana Ricketts
10/20/25 2:32 PM	Mrs. Morgan Lewis		North Carolinians deserve fair representation in Congress. I strongly urge against redistricting in attempts to increase republican seats.
10/20/25 2:32 PM	CHEATING BY REDISTRICTING Colleen Wenker	American Citizen	It is UNAMERICAN and unfair to redistrict so that Republicans can cheat and stack the deck in their favor.
10/20/25 2:32 PM	Mrs Carol Falender	--None--	House Select Committee on Redistricting and Senate Elections Committee Subject: Proposed Congressional District Plan Thanks for taking comments on this critical, time sensitive topic. That urgency does NOT have to be so. I OPPOSE redistricting now. Redistricting was done after the 2020 census , as usual. As a NC resident, I see it as a move to bend the rules and respond to external political pressure. Never a good move, long term. Redistricting violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Manipulating district lines undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation, and it weakens voters,Äô ability to hold our leaders accountable. North Carolinians deserve better! I expect better of our elected representatives. Let's have you pass a budget now, instead! Thanks for your consideration. Carol Falender 828 620-6483
10/20/25 2:33 PM	Laurie Oloughlin	Ccwg	NC is already severely gerrymandered. You must stop this insanity of cheating.
10/20/25 2:33 PM	Redistricting comments Elizabeth Bordeaux		There is nothing fair or reasonable about redrawing district lines in Eastern NC to increase the likelihood of a Republican congressional win. It is unacceptable.
10/20/25 2:33 PM	Amanda Johnson		Hi! Please vote NO on the proposed redistricting plan for our state. Gerrymandering is wrong. As your constituent, I urge you to vote NO.
10/20/25 2:33 PM	Ms Jeanne Crass	WOA	I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government.
10/20/25 2:33 PM	Mr Joseph Supple		Hi I am very much against the proposed redistricting of North Carolina voting maps. Joseph Supple
10/20/25 2:33 PM	Ms. Karis Robertson	Voter	Gerrymandering is not the will of the people. It is corruption! It disenfranchises voters by not allowing us to hold our leaders accountable, it creates a system in which leaders instead answer to corporations and party bosses, it allows leaders to pass extreme laws that are not popular among voters, and it disempowers voters and strips their votes of legislative power. The 2025 proposed congressional district plan is an attack on the life and liberty of every North Carolinian!! An evil and disgraceful proposition!! Voters know their votes matter, so they show up
10/20/25 2:34 PM	Andrew Denoff		I am very concerned about the Republican plan to redraw congressional districts in the middle of a decade for clear partisan reasons that would result in democratic voter suppression. I want you to know that I am vehemently AGAINST THIS. Please stop it from happening. This is one of the most un-democratic measures I have seen a legislature take part in, in my entire life.

10/20/25 2:34 PM Harrison Kesling	N/A	This plan is designed to increase one party,Äôs vote share, and while that may be legally permissible under federal precedent, it undermines the fairness and integrity of our elections. This redistricting erodes public trust, weakens accountability, and makes it harder for voters to have their voices heard. It represents a corruption of the democratic process. I am particularly concerned that the plan does not adequately respect traditional districting principles: it splits communities, municipalities, and voting precincts in ways that are unnecessary and confusing for voters. Elections should reflect the will of the people, not predetermined political advantage. I urge the Committee to reconsider this plan and adopt a map that: * Respects communities, towns, and counties, * Ensures compact and contiguous districts, and * Treats every voter fairly, giving all residents an equal voice. North Carolinians deserve representation that is fair, accountable, and transparent. We cannot continue allowing politicians to pick their voters instead of voters picking their politicians. I ask you to prioritize voters over partisan advantage in this redistricting process.
10/20/25 2:35 PM Redistributing Keely Puricz	Resident	I am outraged that Senator Hise has admitted that no democrats were involved in the napping and that he doesn,Äôt represent Democrats. This is outrageous for a NC democrat to hear. I feel my rights have been violated as a NC taxpayer and an American citizen. This is shameful.
10/20/25 2:35 PM Carol Jenkins		Subject: Oppose Partisan Gerrymandering and Protect Fair Representation in North Carolina As a steady voter and concerned constituent, I am writing to urge you to reject any new electoral maps that are drawn to entrench partisan power rather than to fairly represent the people of North Carolina. The upcoming vote on new congressional maps represents a critical moment for our democracy. Because electoral maps are exempt from the governor,Äôs veto, this gives the majority party unchecked power to shape districts to its own political advantage ,Äî a practice that undermines fair elections, weakens voter trust, and dilutes the power of communities, particularly communities of color. North Carolina has already seen the harmful effects of extreme gerrymandering. Our current congressional map resulted in 10 Republicans and only 4 Democrats winning office, despite a much more balanced electorate. The proposed new map reportedly targets the 1st Congressional District, which has a high proportion of Black voters ,Äî raising serious concerns of racial gerrymandering and vote dilution. I ask you to put voters above political gamesmanship. Please oppose any new electoral maps that prioritize partisan advantage over fair representation. North Carolinians deserve a government that reflects the will of the people, not the will of a political party. Thank you for your attention to this important matter. I look forward to seeing you stand up for fair maps and fair elections.
10/20/25 2:35 PM Mrs Carol Crate		Voters should choose our representatives not the other way around. It is time you represent all the people of this state and not just the ones who vote for you. We are one of the most Gerrymandered state in the country. With a 50/50 split between registered republicans and democrats the GOP retains a 10-4 majority. Now you want to go even farther. This mid cycle move is not good for our state and it undermines our democracy. I am against this new map.
10/20/25 2:36 PM Cindy Sidden		Vote no to gerrymandering. Everyone should be able to vote for whom they want.
10/20/25 2:36 PM Adam Kissel		How dare our state legislature seek to undermine the voices and rights of their own citizens by redistricting mid-decade in a blatant attempt to skew mid-term election results! You work for your constituents, NOT your political party! If our assembly pursues this action, supporters will only confirm the accusations against them that they no longer stand for American principles and values. Instead, they stand for power grabbing, cheating, fear mongering, and corruption. Those in the assembly who support mid-decade redistricting should look forward to being unseated. If you really have concerns about the validity or fairness of the district maps, they should advocate for delegating map management to a non-partisan commission, as other states have done.
10/20/25 2:36 PM Tracy Conte		85% of North Carolinians (BOTH PARTIES) do NOT want a gerrymandered map. Stop shifting districts to unfairly give Republicans more power when NC is split roughly 50-50 along party lines.

10/20/25 2:37 PM	Ms Glenyce Fulton	None	You were elected to represent all North Carolina citizens. When you think partisan as opposed to all of your constituents, you strip us of our individual rights. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. However, you will be held accountable by citizens at the next election if you follow through with the proposed redistricting plan.
10/20/25 2:37 PM	Redistricting Michael Austin		Yet another example of a morally bankrupt and corrupt Republican Party power grab. When you have to gerrymander a state to within an inch of its existence to maintain your control of the state government then you have to ask yourself if you are on the correct side of history. What you are doing is another example of death by 1000 cuts to our democracy.
10/20/25 2:38 PM	Redistricting...? William Rathburn		I am utterly baffled by the necessity of redrawing the existing gerrymandered map, the new map is more gerrymandered than the last one. I voted Republican for president, and for a lot of local offices, but the sheer idea that the NC GOP does not think that they can win seats without redrawing the map is utterly baffling. I think that if this plan continues on as planned, that the NC GOP will lose votes because of this, and that it will backfire from the intended goal. Berger made the comment that Trump's plan should in turn be represented across NC through this redistricting, but a proposed 79% GOP map to 21% NCDP map makes no sense, as NC is a solidly purple state in terms of partisan politics., and with Trump's polling numbers quite low as it stands, I don't see how his "plan" should be enacted via the map as the current polled averages do not agree with how things are currently being handled. Overall, I am disappointed that this is even an option on the table. The NCGOP and by extension the GOP as a whole criticizes the Democrat party for misusing government offices, this is a textbook example of abusing office while holding power in order to get their way.
10/20/25 2:38 PM	Teri Boone	American citizen	This redistricting is an outrage. I am an independent and have voted in almost every election. I checked my record and it was split down the middle between Republicans and Democrats. I don,Äôt think I will be able to vote for a Republican ever again. This party has lost its mind. Your leader is a felon, a pedophile, a liar and, to use his huge vocabulary, ,Äú a bad, bad person,Äù. Seven million Americans came out for the NO KINGS march to express their disgust for this administration and its cruelty and ineptitude. This is going to trickle down to you state Republicans. DO NOT pass this unfair and unAmerican redistricting plan.
10/20/25 2:39 PM	Gerrymandering Laura Howard		I vehemently oppose the redistricting to gain more seats for a political party. The voices of the people of NC must be heard and gerrymandering is silencing our voices represented at a national level
10/20/25 2:39 PM	Lennox Britt	Retired Manufacturing Manager	Do not manipulate the districts to dishonestly segment votes! It makes you look dishonest and unsure of your chances to win on merit. Also, I consider those in favor of such manipulative practices as displaying poor character.
10/20/25 2:39 PM	Andrea Fleming		North Carolina voters deserve maps that reflect our state,Äôs true diversity and competitive spirit, not partisan engineered lines meant to lock in power. Recent redistricting moves have shown a pattern of drawing districts to favor one party, undermine accountability, and dilute the voice of everyday voters. The redistricting process in NC should be transparent, data-driven, and guided by neutral criteria: compactness, contiguity, communities of interest, respect for Voting Rights Act protections, and robust public participation. Decisions must be subject to independent review, not partisan positioning. A fair map would produce districts that are competitive where possible, protect minority voting rights, and ensure representation that reflects the state,Äôs demographics and political realities. The people,Äôs faith in government depends on maps that prioritize accountability and legitimate choice over advantage. Governors in NC do not have unilateral veto power over redistricting, which underscores the importance of the legislature adopting nonpartisan, transparent standards and processes. Courts, public data, and independent analyses should be used to assess fairness, not political assumptions. The legitimacy of Congress depends on maps that earn broad public trust, not partisan spectacle. I urge the General Assembly to pause, publish complete scoring and criteria, hold accessible public hearings, and adopt an independent redistricting commission or equivalent nonpartisan safeguards. The goal must be maps that accurately reflect NC,Äôs diverse communities and political voices.
10/20/25 2:39 PM	Christine Weiss		As a registered Independent in NC I do not support this new redistricting map. The legislature should follow the rules and wait until the next Census which is held every ten years. It is unacceptable to do this now. Our state is pretty evenly divided between the two parties and the legislature should follow the rules instead of playing politics. Thank you.

10/20/25 2:40 PM	Opposition of Gerrymander Ulayah Ivey		Hi, my name is Ulayah Ivey and I,Äôm a constituent from Monroe. I'm writing to urge Legislator Mark Brody to oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina,Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/20/25 2:41 PM	Mr Daniel Wastchak		I disagree with any re-drawing of districts that amount to gerrymandering. Districts should ONLY be rebalanced due to population changes. Keep the NC 1st Distrct in-tact. NC is already 12-4 in favor of the GOP and does NOT accurately reflect the voters in the state (2.9M Unaffiliated, 2.3M registered Republican and 2.3M registered Democrat). Lawmakers who redraw to improve THEIR party are NOT in the best interest NC citizens. Look yourself in the mirror and do the RIGHT thing to represent the actual demographics that are in your state.
10/20/25 2:41 PM	Mrs Jeanne Rietzke	Painted By Hand	Redistricting cancels our vote. Do not do this!!
10/20/25 2:43 PM	Mrs Wendy Lassiter	Wendy Lassiter	Stop the partisan gerrymandering. As even a child knows, it's cheating. The voters should decide not system.
10/20/25 2:43 PM	Sandra Dika		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps - they are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 2:44 PM	Mrs. Tyana Bailey-Hancock		To the North Carolina General Assembly: North Carolinians deserve better. It is beyond disgraceful that the NC General Assembly has decided to reconvene,Äînot to pass a long-overdue state budget, not to address the real needs of the people of North Carolina,Äîbut to redraw district lines yet again. Gerrymandering should be illegal in every state. It silences voters, manipulates democracy, and teaches our younger generation that when you can,Äôt get what you want, you simply use underhanded tactics to get your way. Instead of working for the people of North Carolina,Äîwho have called, emailed, and spoken out time and time again,Äîyou are spending our taxpayer time and money trying to secure more seats and political power. Do your jobs. Pass a state budget. Fund our schools. Support working families. Stop manipulating district maps and start listening to the people you were elected to represent.
10/20/25 2:44 PM	Lynda Haake		A big NO to redistricting to favor one party over the other. Let your citizens vote their choice.
10/20/25 2:44 PM	Sarah Keel		Nc is already one of the most gerrymandered states when it comes to representation in the House & Senate. My representative in the House does not even LIVE in my community. How can she represent my interests if she doesn,Äôt even want to talk to me, much less hear what I have to say? I guess the new saying is. ,Äúif you can,Äôt beat them, cheat,Äù? Reprehensible move on the part of Republican leadership in our state
10/20/25 2:45 PM	Quinn Hargett		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO Please let elections in this country be fair. It's the minimum.
10/20/25 2:45 PM	Katie Balkard		If you can,Äôt win unless you cheat by redrawing a map, maybe you don,Äôt deserve to win.
10/20/25 2:45 PM	Mr STEPHEN CICCI		First thing to address: the audacity of your party to do this at this time!!! NC has continuously been the butt of jokes when it comes to redistricting. I mean, the last election results were under questionable accuracy given the legal battles wages over gerrymandering. Secondly, this is just a bridge too far. Are you seriously going to cow down to Trump, and do his bidding? Rest assured, that no matter how things turn out with your redistricting, the PEOPLE will be coming at you in full force this election. Be prepared. If the NC legislative want's to start joining in with the federal administration antics, then they should be prepared to pay the political price. Do you hear the rumblings of a Dem takeover of the NC state legislative bodies? Keep getting in boot-step with the current administration and you can bet your bottom dollar (and your seat of power) that the state will turn blue again. DO YOUR JOB, FOCUS ON NC, STAY OUT OF THE CHAOS YOUR PRESIDENT IS CREATING.

10/20/25 2:46 PM	Victoria Shea		It is infuriating that North Carolina Republicans are again behaving unethically by manipulating district lines to impose their political will on the people who chose to vote for a Democratic congressional representative (Don Davis). We know it's gerrymandering, and it's not right. You should be ashamed of yourselves.
10/20/25 2:46 PM	No Jessie clendenin		This should not be happening. We vote for you to represent us. This is not how that works. This is ridiculous.
10/20/25 2:46 PM	Betty Grainger		I am against redistricting to give Republicans the advantage. This is gerrymandering and is cheating. Don't listen to the chief cheat in the white house.
10/20/25 2:47 PM	Rigged redistricting Emily Snow		Hi, As a NC citizen I am appalled at the blatant disregard of NC constituents and gross pandering Republicans are engaging in when redrawing maps to further their reach and power in our Congress. They hold no allegiance to the people they serve and we see that. I do not want these maps to be voted into fruition. Emily Snow
10/20/25 2:47 PM	Mark Cramer		Y‚Äôall Just wait for the resulting legal action - you‚Äôre gonna spend your political retirement in court.
10/20/25 2:48 PM	Beth Johnson		NC should NOT redraw any districts now. Constitutionally we should redraw district lines once a decade. Political parties should be honest and not try to gerrymander their opponents away.
10/20/25 2:48 PM	Ms. Susan Smith		Dear committee/legislative members, 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. I'm one of them. And even though you may legally be able to do this, it's not morally right. You are undermining representation for all citizens of our state. Respectfully submitted, Susan Vickers Smith
10/20/25 2:48 PM	Ms Maya Robinson-Napier		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO. These unlawful and immortal attempts to usurp power do not go unnoticed by the public and we hope that you will do the just and moral thing.
10/20/25 2:49 PM	Michele Morgan		I am incredibly disappointed in the redistricting plan for NC. This is not what the people want and you know it! Love it or hate it, you serve the people. NOT this current president!
10/20/25 2:49 PM	Dr. Lauren Formy-Duval		I am a resident of Durham County, NC (zip code 27713) and am very concerned that the new drawn map does not appropriately reflect the demographics of the state's electorate. It is not okay to have maps that favor EITHER of the two major political parties; these need to be non-partisan in nature. The currently drawn districts will skew elections in such a way that will not reflect the sum of popular/individual voter results. Not having any members of the Democratic party present while the Republican members drew these districts equates to not having legal representation. This is NOT okay and is unconstitutional.
10/20/25 2:49 PM	Karen Bigham	Good Trouble WNC	I and my organization, Good Trouble WNC, are completely opposed to this mid-decade redistricting. In general, I believe that gerrymandering violates the core principles of fairness and accountability. Manipulating district lines for partisan advantage undermines the CONSTITUTIONAL PROMISE of equal representation. It weakens voters' ability to hold their leaders accountable. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity and competition - with victories earned through ideas and persuasion....NOT through manipulation of electoral maps. 75% of NC voters say it should be ILLEGAL for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. Do the RIGHT THING! NO to redistricting!
10/20/25 2:49 PM	Doctor Jennifer Durand-Smith		Redistricting to allow for the disenfranchisement of voters is wrong for North Carolina and wrong for its citizens. Our representatives should do better and they should know better.
10/20/25 2:49 PM	Ms Frances Strombotne		Redistricting on both sides and is antithetical to democracy. North Carolina is almost divided equally. Let the people decide who they want to represent them. A democracy does not allow for candidates to choose their voters. We have become a joke among the other states of this great nation
10/20/25 2:49 PM	2025 Redistrict Evelyn Johnson	NAACP	Please stop! We should not go back! Blacks must be recognized. Stop the gerrymandering and let the maps remain as is.
10/20/25 2:49 PM	Estela Field		Hello, my name is Estela DiFranco Field and I live in Chapel Hill. I am against the attempt to redistrict two of North Carolina‚Äôs congressional districts midway between U.S. Census taking. As a North Carolinian, I believe everyone‚Äôs vote should count and that North Carolina voters should choose their elected officials. And I‚Äôm not alone ‚Äì a recent Republican-leaning polling firm found that 84% of North Carolina voters said gerrymandering is NEVER acceptable. And that includes 78% of North Carolina Republican voters, 85% of North Carolina unaffiliated voters, and 87% of North Carolina Democratic voters. Please vote 'NO' on redistricting these two congressional districts and do what is right and fair by North Carolina voters. Thank you for voting 'NO.'

10/20/25 2:49 PM	MS. Rebecca Nussbaum		Please refrain from mid-decade redistricting. There is bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 2:50 PM	Kelly Cochran		Please stop prioritizing the wrong things. Your constituents need you to focus on what's good for our state and for the voters. Even Trump voters are not happy with policies being enacted now. The country and our state needs your help, not another political victory for the extreme right.
10/20/25 2:51 PM	Redistricting is Cheating Monica Purdie		Why are you literally allowing the Republican Party to steal our votes? Enough is enough! Stop the redistricting! We want to he represented by our vote.
10/20/25 2:51 PM	Dr. Jane Williams		Gerrymandering violates a core principle of fairness and undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation. This is true no matter which political party is in the majority.
10/20/25 2:52 PM	Theresa Matheny		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 2:52 PM	Vivien Gunter		The congressional districts have been redrawn again and again. As recently as 2022, North Carolina had a congressional map ,Äî put in place by court order ,Äî that was more reflective of the statewide vote: Seven safe Republican seats, six safe Democratic seats and one competitive seat. North Carolinians deserve a congressional map that reflects the population, rather than one that favors one party over the other, and at least should be competitive. Right now, I don't feel I have any representation in the U.S. Congress. Unless there's equal representation of the various political parties, there is no incentive whatsoever to compromise as shown by the current government shutdown. Historically, new maps are drawn after a Census or when ordered by a court due to a lawsuit. To do so now is blatant gerrymandering.
10/20/25 2:53 PM	Tim Hardin		Dear Members of the North Carolina General Assembly, I,Äôm writing to urge you to stop wasting time on redrawing congressional maps and start doing the job you were elected to do ,Äî pass a state budget. While you argue over political boundaries, educators like me are watching our paychecks shrink. Because of rising insurance premiums and no meaningful raise, I,Äôm now taking home less each month than I did last year. That,Äôs unacceptable. The cost of living continues to rise but our pay is going backward. Every day without a budget sends a message that educators and public servants are not a priority. We,Äôre doing everything we can for our students, but it,Äôs getting harder to keep doing this work when our own basic needs aren,Äôt being met. Please stop the partisan distractions. Fund our schools. Respect your state employees. Pass the budget ,Äî now. Sincerely, Tim K. Hardin, MAEd.
10/20/25 2:53 PM	Denise Allmond		I am opposed to the attempt to redraw NC congressional distract maps prior to the 2026 mid terms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around.
10/20/25 2:54 PM	No to Gerrymandering Virginia Hicks	NC Citizen	Gerrymandering is a form of voter suppression! Princeton,Äôs Gerrymandering Project gives this scheme a grade of F . To do so in 11 of 14 districts is scathing manipulation of voter turnout. Further, this is depressing the vote of Black Americans as Don Davis ,Äò district is disproportionately made of Black Voters . Doing this is a furtherance of the Trump Administration which is unpopular in the US, as 7 million people attested to on October 18, 2025. NC is about half and half balanced between Democrats and Republicans . This is downright stealing of Voters,Äô Rights to choose. Shame on you Phil Berger!
10/20/25 2:54 PM	Rachelle Yakubu		Gerrymandering only manipulates our congressional district boundaries. Our politicians choose their voters instead, which thereby skews election results and diminishing fair representation. Why do you insist on such control? You continue to cut school funds and haven,Äôt been the best representatives for us as constituents. We just want you to think of us and not greed and selfishness.
10/20/25 2:55 PM	Dr. Frank Miller		I am strongly opposed to redistricting. This is a blatant power grab intended to deprive people of their fair representation in the electoral process. We are already unfairly gerrymandered to the point that our representation in the U.S. Congress and the state legislature does not reflect the will of the people of North Carolina. Maybe if you stop acting like tinpot dictators, we'll stop calling you tinpot dictators.
10/20/25 2:55 PM	No gerrymandering Denise Schweizer		This is not 2030 and not on the schedule for redistricting. Any attempts to do so at this time is gerrymandering for political reasons. Please don,Äôt start this. It will be difficult to stop in the future. You have better ways to earn your taxpayer funded salaries.

10/20/25 2:55 PM	Ms Taunie Meyers	North Carolina People	Clearly the North Carolinians who happily came out in force this weekend against the direction that the current administration is taking the country are equally displeased with your kowtowing to that administration with this redistricting. Once proud North Carolina is now being held up as an example for unethical behavior since policy leaves the people behind in these districts so they can't be won legitimately any longer. It's also inexcusable that you can't be bothered to deliver a budget, but this atrocity is what you've called session for. I respectfully disagree with this redistricting.
10/20/25 2:55 PM	L. Caine		I do not support mid-decade congressional redistricting! This gerrymandering is not reflective of the people of North Carolina.
10/20/25 2:56 PM	Mary Blevins		STOP! As a seventh generation North Carolinian I tell you this in no uncertain terms, Republicans- If you cannot win ON THE MERITS OF YOUR PLATFORM DON,ÄôT CONTINUE TO GO DOWN IN HISTORY AS ONLY ABLE TO WIN AS CHEATERS. Stop it.
10/20/25 2:56 PM	Josette Symes		I reside in zip code 28012 Redistribution in favor of one party is un democratic and un American.
10/20/25 2:56 PM	Julia Myers		I'm writing to request strongly that you discontinue the efforts in redistricting. North Carolina residents deserve the opportunity to pick their representatives, not the other way around. If the President's policies are popular and supported by the citizens, there should be no need to redistrict.
10/20/25 2:56 PM	Ashley Pappas		To the Members of the North Carolina General Assembly and the Redistricting Committees: I am writing to express my strong opposition to the current redistricting proposals under consideration. Redistricting should be a transparent and nonpartisan process that ensures every voter,Äôs voice counts equally, not a political tool used to entrench power. The current proposals split communities of interest, dilute the voting power of minorities, and prioritize partisan advantage over public input and fair representation. This is especially alarming given North Carolina,Äôs long and well-documented history of racial and partisan gerrymandering. The maps being drawn behind closed doors, with little opportunity for meaningful public participation, are yet another blow to public trust in the democratic process. North Carolinians deserve fair maps, drawn in the open, that reflect the will of the people, not the interests of politicians.
10/20/25 2:56 PM	Rev Anna Anderson	Retired	congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. Please submit a comment AND share this email with 10 friends or family members, asking them to also submit a comment. Forward together! North Carolina Poor People,Äôs Campaign
10/20/25 2:57 PM	Mrs Susan Winter-Hallman		Dear House Select Committee on Redistricting, this email is to tell you of my great disapproval in the proposed Congressional redistricting plan. I am totally against this plan and believe that you are not listening to your constiuents. Pls say NO to this redistricting. Your seat in office may be in jeopardy. Thank you for being true to your state. Enough is enough!
10/20/25 2:58 PM	Kristy McGavin		Please vote NO on this blatantly unethical and immoral power grab by the GOP to suppress votes through racist gerrymandering. If a party or candidate cannot win a seat legally and fairly, they have absolutely no business being in politics.
10/20/25 2:58 PM	Michael Duck		Gerrymandering is corruption! Do not draw maps that are not representative of the people! Win through policy, not cheating. Do not re-draw maps.

10/20/25 2:58 PM	Nancy Barnum		Do not change the districts now prior the census count. Do your job representing all voters.
10/20/25 2:59 PM	Linda McDermott		I am personally opposed to the mid-decade congressional redistricting in NC. NC has already been gerrymandered so that many of us do not any longer have a voice in who our representative is in DC. This redistricting will only further that. The representatives from NC are supposed to be elected to serve the citizens of NC, not the current president. 76% of North Carolina voters agree that it should be illegal for gerrymandering in the state to discriminate against voters based on their political party. This includes 68% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats and 82% of Unaffiliated voters. Confidence in our elected officials will drop if this gerrymandering goes through. When our State Representatives are elected, it is with the idea that they will work to improve the lives of their constituents with transparency, integrity and through well earned ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. I implore you to stop this vote for redistricting in NC.
10/20/25 2:59 PM	Ms Carolyn Mihalko		There is no reason to redistritic unless you are afraid you cannot win without cheating.
10/20/25 2:59 PM	Dr. Karen Blase Fixsen	Retired	It's the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. North Carolina is a purple state and people who support BOTH parties deserve to be represented. The redistricting plan disenfranchises people who deserve a voice because they don't vote GOP. I understand you are afraid of Trump and must bend the knee, but get your knee off the neck of the voters. Shame on you for abandoning voters and discriminating on the basis of race and politics. Just because something is legal doesn't make it right. Euthenasia was legal, slavery was legal, segragation was legal - maybe you are proud of those too? Think, don't just bow.
10/20/25 3:00 PM	Patrice Crumbley		The NC law is clear that redistricting happens every 10 years in conjunction with the census. There is absolutely no legitimate reason to redistrict mid cycle, no matter who the president is or what s/he calls for. The legislature is beholden to the people who elected them, not the president or the governor or the head or either legislative chamber. This decision to appease the president by artificially constructing a district is unconscionable, especially since the NC Republican majority has shirked its primary responsibility to pass a state budget despite multiple opportunities, leaving so many of our workers and vulnerable people in limbo. It's past time to show that you actually know how to govern!
10/20/25 3:00 PM	Fairness is American Jennifer Sims		I would like to make it public record that redistricting with the sole intent to chest North Caroliniand of their voice and right to fair representation goes against all of the principles of our representative government. Anyone voting yes on this should be primaried and/or voted out of office swiftly. We won,Âôt stand for this.
10/20/25 3:00 PM	Mrs Keeneya Glenn		This is disheartening. The people of North Carolina deserve fair congressional representation and fair voting maps. The GOP is stealing the rights of North Carolinians and making our state look bad.
10/20/25 3:00 PM	Rebecca Townsend		I,Äôm infuriated that you,Äôre even considering redistricting this already badly gerrymandered state. What an embarrassment and shame to your constituents that we,Äôre now 100 days without a new budget because you can,Äôt agree on how you can please the folks who bought your office. You have NO fiscal or moral credibility. You have forgotten that you serve THE PEOPLE OF NC, not a particular party, not a cult, not a king. WE THE PEOPLE will remember your part in rigging future elections. Remember you can draw all the lines you want but land doesn,Äôt vote, people do,Ä¶and pissed off people will show you the door. DO NOT DO THIS.
10/20/25 3:01 PM	Anita Wagenvoord		It's cheating. I'm not in favor of cheating. I'm surprised that any office holders are in favor of it. Shame on you.
10/20/25 3:01 PM	Jonas Phillips		So the republicans are stealing our democracy. What a surprise. Fuck gerimandering, Fuck republicans, Fuck you.
10/20/25 3:01 PM	ms Margaret Jackson		Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Âô ability to hold their leaders accountable. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Âîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 3:01 PM	Susan DelGrande		I cannot support the redistricting initiative for many reasons. Voters should be able to believe that their vote counts and should be able to elect a local person who will adequately represent local and regional needs.
10/20/25 3:01 PM	Ms. Paula Entin	none	This is wrong, and everyone on the planet knows it. It's cheating, and most of us figured that it's a bad thing, back in kindergarten! Straighten out EVERY SINGLE gerrymander and run on the issues, not on deception, theft, and disenfranchisement. Thank you.
10/20/25 3:02 PM	Dr. Katharine Meacham		The proposed redistricting plan is a blatant attempt to steal any future elections where the majority of people in the state of NC disagree with the Republican agenda. How on earth can you justify this move?? You,Âôve already gerrymandered this state in favor of the Republican Party and now you,Âôre chatting cheating again? Shame on you!!
10/20/25 3:02 PM	Ms Gail Young		In a state where statewide offices often are won by Democrats, it seems like an abuse of power to try and create even more Republican seats. Please do not draw partisan districts
10/20/25 3:02 PM	Ms Margot Kornfeld		Political redistricting is dishonest and discriminatory . It skews an outcome ,Ä¶ which apparently is the whole point. SHAME!

10/20/25 3:03 PM	Raven Chitalo		Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Âô ability to hold their leaders accountable. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. If you want more votes, try making policies that support the needs of the people and not just taking our voice away.
10/20/25 3:03 PM	Joan Shinn		North Carolina citizens should be free to choose our representatives at all levels of government. Every vote should count. The proposed gerry-mandered map flies in the face of democracy. Please vote against it.
10/20/25 3:03 PM	Mrs Melissa Moreda	Duke Raleigh Hospital	This is absolutely insane that we are redistricting the state again! 4 times in 10 years?!?!?! Seriously?????As an Advanced Practice Registered Nurse, I am blown away by your short-sidedness. This is going to cost North Carolinians so much more money in the long run as we further punish the good people of NC by not appropriately meeting their needs with appropriate resource allocation, which includes healthcare dollars and open facilities. I do not support this action at all. Pass the actual budget so we can move forward, not this ridiculousness!!!! Do your jobs!
10/20/25 3:03 PM	Mrs. Rebecca Patten		Subject: A Request for Fair Representation in North Carolina,Äôs Redistricting Dear Members of the North Carolina House Select Committee on Redistricting and Members of the Senate Elections Committee: I am writing to you as a concerned citizen and a current resident of North Carolina,Äôs Sixth Congressional District to urge sincere and careful consideration regarding any further redistricting efforts undertaken for political advantage. I say ,Äúcurrently,Äù living in the Sixth District because, despite not having moved once in the past six years, I have found myself represented in three different congressional districts. My family and I live in downtown Concord, in Cabarrus County,Äîan area that, I believe, exemplifies the extreme effects of gerrymandering. The continued redrawing of district lines for partisan gain is deeply troubling to ordinary citizens. It erodes public trust, diminishes genuine representation, and makes voters feel like political pawns rather than participants in democracy. As leaders, you have an opportunity to restore that trust. True conservative principles,Äîand indeed, democratic values shared across parties,Äî call for transparency, integrity, and open competition. Victory should come from the strength of ideas and persuasion, not from the manipulation of electoral boundaries. Please resist any efforts to turn North Carolina into another battleground for partisan redistricting. Instead, let us be known as a state that values fairness and the voice of every voter. Thank you for your time and service to our state. Respectfully, Rebecca Hannah Patten 90 Cabarrus Ave West Concord, NC 28025
10/20/25 3:04 PM	Mr Ed Bkasius	Citizen	I,Äôm becoming embarrassed to be a North Carolinian. Stop playing games and act like an adult. You,Äôre losing votes.
10/20/25 3:04 PM	Silas Burke		The redrawn districts would broaden the gap between the reality of the electorate and the makeup of our congressional delegation. The result leave millions of North Carolinians effectively disenfranchised, and taxed without representation.
10/20/25 3:04 PM	Jason Ball		Donald J Trump says "Jump" and the NC GOP says "How high Master". What a bunch of spineless sycophants. Redistricting was never supposed to be partisan and it was never intended to happen mid-term, but it was absolutely not for disenfranchising more than 50% of the population. The GOP would never even have control of the NC State house were it not for hyper partisan gerrymandering struct down multiple times by the courts, but now the GOP has a more than sympathetic audience at the Supreme Court ready to gut the voting rights act because insecure right wing Caucasian folks are scared of true equality. One person, one vote! Not politicians cherry picking their voters.
10/20/25 3:06 PM	Julia Harrison	self	The only reason to redraw our voting districts is to make FAIR Maps- not for pleasing a president.Please do not silence even more voters voices

10/20/25 3:07 PM	Marjorie Salzman		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. It is a US constitutional mandate for state legislatures to decide voting districts every 10 years. Not in the middle of a decade. This is outright illegal. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 3:07 PM	Ms Elizabeth Rowbotham	Female	Dear Legislators, I am writing as a concerned and outraged citizen of North Carolina. Once again, you are attempting to redraw our voting districts without the consent of the voters ,Äî a process that cannot even be vetoed by the Governor. This is an abuse of power and a direct attack on my right, and the right of every North Carolinian, to have fair and equal representation. Your actions are not only unethical but fundamentally undemocratic. You were elected by the people ,Äî and we are the people. You are supposed to represent us, not manipulate the system to preserve your own power or diminish the voices of everyday working citizens. Instead of playing political games, you should be focused on passing a responsible state budget so that our public employees can be paid and essential services are not further disrupted. The people of North Carolina deserve leadership, integrity, and accountability ,Äî not backroom deals and partisan gerrymandering. Stop this illegal and unethical redistricting process immediately. Restore fairness to our democracy and start doing the job you were elected to do. Sincerely, Elizabeth Rowbotham Denver, North Carolina
10/20/25 3:08 PM	Mrs Jennifer Gillis		North Carolina does not need new election maps. They have been redrawn twice within the past few years. It,Äôs shameful that Republican members of the NCGA would so blatantly work to quash representation from the opposite party. You all were elected to work for the people of North Carolina. You haven,Äôt even passed a state budget, yet you seem to have all the time needed to short-circuit the electoral process just to hold onto power. As the song says, ,Äúhistory has its eyes on you.,Äù You can still do the right thing. Call off the redistricting and have some respect not only for the people of North Carolina, but for yourselves.
10/20/25 3:08 PM	Ms. Kathleen Lofgren	N/A	I oppose redistributing. I will work to vote out of office those who vote for it.
10/20/25 3:08 PM	NO GERRYMANDERING! Cindy Gregory		NO GERRYMANDERING!
10/20/25 3:08 PM	Monica Hix		Manipulating district lines for partisan advantage undermines fair and equal representation of all the citizens of North Carolina. I am opposed to any mid-decade redistricting.
10/20/25 3:08 PM	Amy Livingstone	Sacred Art Studio	The people of NC have the constitutional right to representation and fair elections. This redistricting is a scam and shame on you all for bowing down to a would be dictator. Protect our democracy and stop manipulating the congressional maps.
10/20/25 3:10 PM	Ryan Williams		Dear Speaker Berger and fellow NC Congressmen. I implore you to vote against redistricting maps simply to create an additional Republican district. I understand your desires to protect the Trump agenda but NC is already heavily represented by the GOP, tensions and trust are at an all time high. and the ideals of Democracy are at stake. I am heartbroken as a citizen from both Republican and Democratic family to see such blatant intention to block the voice of one party not for the benefit of NC residents but rather to serve Trump. I teach middle school civics and it is almost impossible for me to talk about our current state of affairs without feeling like a liar. Please help us return to a world where we compromise, where we are allowed to disagree, and where we honor democracy as it was intended. Please and thank you.
10/20/25 3:10 PM	Darlene Lear	health care	Third comment. Voters chose you to be legislators, NOT Donald Trump. Not all voters support Donald Trump's agenda. Recent polls and protests should tell you that. Uphold the Constitution and Bill of Rights. Protect our right to choose who we want in Raleigh and Washington DC. Don't redistrict

10/20/25 3:11 PM	Kim Trabold	Call Redistricting what it is, Gerrymandering to make districts more favorable to Republicans in the coming elections. This subverts the will of the people and undermines the promises of equal voices and fair elections. Redrawing the boundaries mid-term shows callous disregard for NC constituents. It shows lack of personal and professional integrity. It shows fear that representatives and senators will be justly rewarded for your failure to govern in ways that support the PEOPLE of North Carolina instead of supporting convicted felon Donald Trump and his unconstitutional policies, and your failure to uphold your oaths to the state and U. S. constitutions. Stop the plans to hurt North Carolinians; vote No on Redistricting!
10/20/25 3:11 PM	Dr. Waverly Harrell	This country needs everybody voting, everybody feeling like their vote counts, everybody feeling like they can go to the polls and be safe and respected, and everybody trusting that the district maps will help their vote to count. All Americans should have votes that count. STOP GERRYMANDERING!
10/20/25 3:11 PM	misty misty davis	voters are supposed to choose their representatives, not the other way around. this proposed congressional district plan is just the ncgop - once again - showing nothing but contempt for the voters of north carolina. they have no interest in actually serving the people and no real plans to make our state better - they can,Äôt even pass a budget - so they have to cheat. this time, they,Äôre cheating in service of the current president, a criminal and wannabe dictator who grows more unpopular everyday as makes our country less safe, less prosperous, and less free. pathetic and embarrassing sycophants all the way down.
10/20/25 3:11 PM	Brenda Shore	It is unfortunate the individuals cannot run on a platform and expect to win based on their merits, but rather the presumption that all voters only vote a ticket. Forcing a vote on this, an more importantly a public reaction, without time or consideration for the merits of such a change suggests that the only way a win can be made is through altering the lines and changing the rules. Put up the right person, one with character, intelligence, and grace, and you would not need to be changing boundaries. This is a sad day for the state of North Carolina! I vote no change, at least and until a full description of said change is available to the public and verification that it is needed is warranted.
10/20/25 3:12 PM	Mr. Lentz Morton	The NC general assembly should concentrate on matters like balancing the budget and not redistricting the legislative map to give the GOP an advantage. Every vote should count.
10/20/25 3:12 PM	Mrs. Glenda Steel	I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting! Such an act would further distort North Carolina's federal district maps and erode Carolinian's power to elect candidates of their choice. You are eroding our democracy and the majority of North Carolinians don't want this!
10/20/25 3:12 PM	Shanna Fulk	I ask that you please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Voters should get to decide, no politicians and partisans. Vote NO.
10/20/25 3:12 PM	Marinda Turner	Every single person of voting age deserves to have their voice heard respectfully and for their vote to be tallied as they cast it.
10/20/25 3:12 PM	Mrs. Rebecca Patten	Subject: A Request for Fair Representation in North Carolina,Äôs Redistricting Dear Members of the North Carolina House Select Committee on Redistricting and Senate Elections Committee: I am writing to you as a concerned citizen and a current resident of North Carolina,Äôs Sixth Congressional District to urge sincere and careful consideration regarding any further redistricting efforts undertaken for political advantage. I say ,Äúcurrently,Äù living in the Sixth District because, despite not having moved once in the past six years, I have found myself represented in three different congressional districts. My family and I live in downtown Concord, in Cabarrus County,Äîan area that, I believe, exemplifies the extreme effects of gerrymandering. The continued redrawing of district lines for partisan gain is deeply troubling to ordinary citizens. It erodes public trust, diminishes genuine representation, and makes voters feel like political pawns rather than participants in democracy. As leaders, you have an opportunity to restore that trust. True conservative principles,Äîand indeed, democratic values shared across parties,Äî call for transparency, integrity, and open competition. Victory should come from the strength of ideas and persuasion, not from the manipulation of electoral boundaries. Please resist any efforts to turn North Carolina into another battleground for partisan redistricting. Instead, let us be known as a state that values fairness and the voice of every voter. Thank you for your time and service to our state. Respectfully, Rebecca Hannah Patten 90 Cabarrus Ave West Concord, NC 28025

10/20/25 3:13 PM	Susan Baker		This is an absolutely terrible idea. Do not redistrict in such a way as to disenfranchise voters.
10/20/25 3:13 PM	Linda Smeltzer		Every voter in NC deserves to have our votes counted fairly. Your job is to represent all voters and to hear our voices. Stop trying to represent this administration and represent the people of NC. Vote NO on any redistricting.
10/20/25 3:14 PM	Shea Chambers		I am writing to let you know that I am very upset about the current redistricting efforts using the proposed 2025 Congressional map. I'm especially concerned about the lack of voter participation in this process. Eighty-five percent (85%) of North Carolinians oppose gerrymandering in NC, including me. This is a brazen effort to allow elected officials to choose their voters. Voters should be able to choose their representatives ,Ä¶ not the other way around. Please support fair elections in NC. I am against the current redistricting plan and reject these maps. Thank you.
10/20/25 3:14 PM	Ms Pamela Dannelly		It is unAmerican to redistrict in an attempt to deprive people of the power of their vote. All citizens should have equal say about their selections for the governance of this country. Factions should not be resorting to manipulation to deprive others of this right. Everyone understands this, and also appreciates how diabolical and unfair a move this would be. Do not allow it to happen!
10/20/25 3:14 PM	james grude		You do this and I will never vote for a Republican again. Do this for trump shows you have no regard for democracy!
10/20/25 3:14 PM	Redistricting Susan Jackson		The lines drawn don,Äôt support the people of North Carolina, only the Republican Party trying to stay in control. These lines should be drawn up by a coalition of voters across the state.
10/20/25 3:17 PM	Dr. Candace Waters		I am writing to express my concern about and opposition to the proposed redistricting being considered by the NC House and Senate. It would only further the demise of democracy and disenfranchise voters. I urge you to fight this brazen effort by the supporters of the White House to decrease access to fair democratic elections. Thank you in advance for what you do for North Carolina and its people.
10/20/25 3:18 PM	Mrs Sarah Goodnight		Please be professional legislators and vote on redistricting maps that promote fair and equal elections!
10/20/25 3:19 PM	Mrs sue sellers		This is not a fair way to treat the voters in North Carolina. Each party should have the right to hear the voters. Our country is in a crisis now and this will not help restore our democracy. You were elected to work for the people, not rubber stamp Donald Trump!
10/20/25 3:19 PM	Redistricting Matt Bosley		This redistrictong clearly does not represent the people of North Carolina, whom you swore to represent. This is bowing the knee to a corrupt administration. All of those voting for this measure, will never receive another vote from myself or any of my friends or family. You make me ashamed to live in North Carolina.
10/20/25 3:19 PM	Tammy Barry	No redistricting	Stop. No more gerrymandering in North Carolina. Earn votes, don,Äôt steal them away from other candidates like petty cowards.
10/20/25 3:19 PM	Brian Beaman		I would like to express my disapproval of the NC state republicans attempting to subvert the voting process by jerrymandering and expanding the number of voting districts in an attempt to offset to building resentment of president Trump's actions and to maintain control of the US congress. This is despicable and the republicans should be ashamed of such reprehensible tactics instead of allowing the voters to have a fair and valid election.
10/20/25 3:20 PM	Mrs Ariel Gritter		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 3:20 PM	Nicole Ard		As an unaffiliated voter, I strongly oppose the Republican plan to further gerrymander the district lines of NC at the demand of President Trump. North Carolina,Äôs legislature has not passed a budget. Millions of North Carolinians are on the brink of losing their health insurance and the costs will certainly rise for all of us! Rather than address these important issues, Phil Berger is doing everything he can to kiss the ring of Trump and deliver him a Republican majority in the US House. North Carolina is already one of the most gerrymandered states in the country! Just stop!
10/20/25 3:20 PM	Ms Patty McKenzie		North Carolina has been so redistributed already!! How dare the Republicans do it more. It,Äôs we the people not we the Republicans. So please make it more fair not less. Please.
10/20/25 3:20 PM	Shana Hutchins		Please reject the proposed maps which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander our congressional districts. This is an outrageous attempt to sieze power by the GOP in a state that is nearly evenly divided between the two main parties. This is unacceptable. I teach AP US Government and Politics. My students have to know and understand Shaw v. Reno for the exam in May. Please do the right thing.
10/20/25 3:20 PM	Jehanne Gheith		This proposal is unnecessary, rushed and costly. Please let voters and legislators consider this more carefully and please let voters focus on the current elections before moving into this territory that could undermine many people,Äôs votes. Give voters and legislators more time.
10/20/25 3:20 PM	Ms Kimberly Berry		I cannot stress enough how wrong I think this is. It's bad enough that the voting districts have already been gerrymandered, but to do it again at this point is completely unnecessary. I think your time would be better spent preparing a budget. If you think it is the 'will of the people' then why don't you put it to a vote like California is doing? You are ELECTED REPRESENTATIVES not feudal landlords ruling over serfs. You need to listen to your constituents. Or don't, and risk not being elected ever again.
10/20/25 3:21 PM	Brett Sheppard		It's a shame that the recent emboldening of other states to pursue aggressively gerrymandered maps has led the NC legislature to try to push it through, yet again. The makeup of our legislative body should represent the political leanings of the population (which seems obvious but also needing saying). Don't abuse your power by shifting that balance even further toward the right -- it's skewed heavily enough as it is.

10/20/25 3:21 PM	Rev. Deborah Haight	It is disheartening to learn that our politicians continue to think that they only serve the Republicans of our great state. We all support you and believe that non-partisan is what makes our democracy work. Please leave our districts alone and allow the equal representation of our beliefs.
10/20/25 3:21 PM	Ms. Susan Alexander	This proposal by North Carolina Republicans is a travesty. The gerrymandering in North Carolina is ready a terrible state of affairs. The state government should respect the voters wishes. Each of the North Carolina citizens should expect to see that their vote is counted fairly. We can see the extreme to which unfair gerrymandering can take our country and our state. This unfairness will eventually come around and ensure that the politicians who vote for this proposal have a legacy of shame. Please do not support this proposal. We can all see that the man in charge in Washington is completely off balance and running an illegal autocracy. Please do not allow North Carolina to support his illegal acts.
10/20/25 3:21 PM	Ms. Roxanna Evans	Donald Trump is a dictator vote for him and you are imprisoning your rights as a citizen of the United States of America!
10/20/25 3:21 PM	Kade Zobel	I live in Wake County. I would like to know that my vote matters just as much as someone in Buncombe. The gerrymandering present in the proposed map is blatant and illogical.
10/20/25 3:22 PM	No to redistricting Lori Morrow	I am wholly against this obvious and repeated abuse of power by NC republicans who seek to redraw our districts every year. They know that rigging elections in their favor is the only way they will stay in the majority. They care only about power and not the people of North Carolina.
10/20/25 3:22 PM	The 2025 Redistricting Erving Francis Yarborough	My name is Erving Francis Yarborough, and I,Äôm a 12-year-old student and young leader here in North Carolina. I care deeply about fairness, honesty, and doing what,Äôs right for our state. I,Äôve been hearing about how the GOP plans to vote on a Redistricting plan so that Republicans can win in the midterms and maintain power. I've also heard that the North Carolina House might vote on new maps soon. I,Äôm worried that the people in power are trying to gerrymander ,Äî to make the maps unfair so one party or person, like Donald Trump and his supporters, can have more power. That,Äôs not right. Our government should represent all of us, not just certain groups. Everyone,Äôs voice and vote should matter the same. I believe real leadership means doing what,Äôs fair, even when it,Äôs hard. Please, don,Äôt let our state be divided by unfair maps. North Carolina deserves better ,Äî and the next generation is watching and learning from what you do. So I end with this, we the people for the people of the United States of America are the people of the great State of North Carolina and we will not be divided. Thank you for listening Sincerely, Erving Francis Yarborough
10/20/25 3:23 PM	Lina Rose	This is not okay, it is illegal. It is not for the good of North Carolinians. Do not continue with this illegal action.
10/20/25 3:23 PM	Donna Stafford	What you are doing is wrong and unfair to all of the people in North Carolina. You are a disgrace to the great state of North Carolina.
10/20/25 3:23 PM	Josh Story	Gerrymandering is not the will of the people. It is corruption! It disenfranchises voters by not allowing us to hold our leaders accountable, it creates a system in which leaders instead answer to corporations and party bosses, it allows leaders to pass extreme laws that are not popular among voters, and it disempowers voters and strips their votes of legislative power. The 2025 proposed congressional district plan is an attack on the life and liberty of every North Carolinian!! An evil and disgraceful proposition!!
10/20/25 3:24 PM	Judith Sager	Hi, my name is Jodi and I,Äôm a constituent from Raleigh. I'm opposing attempts to redraw North Carolina,Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/20/25 3:25 PM	Mrs. Pamela Brown	Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government!
10/20/25 3:25 PM	Erin Moore	Redistricting to remove proper representation from NC residents is WRONG. This is an obvious attempt to silence voters. Vote NO!
10/20/25 3:25 PM	gerrymandering kimberly mason	I strongly oppose any legislation that imposes additional gerrymandering on NC districts. Thsnk you for your consideration.
10/20/25 3:25 PM	Mrs Nancy Howard	I am OPPOSED to further gerrymandering and unfairly drawing maps in order to skew political races. I believe voters should choose representatives not the other way around. I want North Carolina to lead the country in having fair and free elections.
10/20/25 3:26 PM	Waste of NC Tax Dollars Rebekah Falldorf	As a registered Republican, I am not in favor of the new districting. Changing districts again so soon wastes taxpayer dollars, creates confusion among voters, and suppresses community participation. Additionally, the new districts are drawn to suppress eligible votes and ensure predetermined outcomes. This erodes competition and accountability to the American voters. Finally, re-drawing the maps to entrench one party,Äôs power is unfair, no matter who is doing it. The process should be independent and non-partisan.
10/20/25 3:26 PM	Andi Goree	I can,Äôt believe I actually need to do this because everybody, and I mean EVERYBODY, sitting in Raleigh knows this is wrong.
10/20/25 3:26 PM	2036452054 Ed Pikaart	Please don't Gerrymander the maps further!

10/20/25 3:26 PM	Mary McConnell	I am a citizen of Guilford County, a county which has already been gerrymandered into 3 separate Congressional districts. And now our NC State Government wants to make it even worse!? This has taken my political voice away and I am not happy about it. Districts should be divided into areas of common regional interest, economic and cultural. People should choose their government, not the other way around. We had a truly representative, hardworking congresswoman who did a lot of good for our community even prior to serving in office. When we had a short period of more reasonable districting, our NC US Congressional delegation was 7 to 7, Republican to Democrat, and that truly reflects our state. This current redistricting attempt in the middle of the decade, outside the usual, lawful census accounting is an abominable idea only considered to please a President who has an insatiable demand for attention and power. The people of NC deserve a legislature that truly works for the people instead. Do not attempt to redistrict now.
10/20/25 3:27 PM	Mr. Matthew Townsend	I hope a really good politician picks me as their voter and they get the luxury perks from lobbyists they deserve! Well done, you guys.
10/20/25 3:28 PM	Martha Golden	a comment: I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 3:28 PM	Dr. Laura Hoemeke	Redistricting leads to members of Congress who are less responsive to the needs of their constituents. Our electoral system is designed to hold politicians accountable for what those who elected them want and need. Gerrymandering disempowers voters at the local level. Gerrymandering by both parties leads to less competitive elections,Äîand more incumbents being elected, even if these incumbents are not effective. Congressional districting tends to particularly disempower Blacks and the urban poor. Please STOP disempowering your constituents!
10/20/25 3:28 PM	Tisha Quinn	This ,Äúredistricting,Äù is illegal and unethical. In order to accurately depict the voice of the people of NC, this should be based on voter registration. Just because you don,Äôt like the outcome, doesn,Äôt mean you get to change the rules. Our democracy is dying, this is not the way to revive it.
10/20/25 3:29 PM	Mark Starr	Shame on you for trying to fix an election. Redistricting undermines and weakens democracy. Voters should be allowed to pick their representatives; politicians should not be allowed to water down the votes of their constituents to stay in power. A strong democracy requires district lines to be drawn transparently, fairly, and in the public interest,Äînot for the benefit of those already in power.
10/20/25 3:29 PM	Stella Jones	Redistricting is just a stealthy way to silence the voices of the people! We will not let you get away with it!
10/20/25 3:30 PM	Charlie Humes	I do not support this redistricting. In a recent poll, 84% of North Carolinians said they don't like gerrymandering. By consolidating party rule, you're not better than the British rule we declared our independence from.
10/20/25 3:31 PM	Ellen Sullivan	To all of you who are asking for input on this 2025 Redistricting Issue: North Carolinians deserve transparent, nonpartisan redistricting that reflects real communities, not political calculations. I urge you to support legislation or oversight measures ensuring fair, competitive maps drawn in open sessions with public input. Gerrymandering erodes public trust and undermines the foundation of our democracy by letting politicians choose their voters instead of voters choosing their representatives. I urge you all to take a stand for integrity and equal representation in our state. You all have the power to stop this Trump driven manipulation of our democracy! Sincerely, Ellen Sullivan a long time citizen of Raleigh, NC
10/20/25 3:31 PM	Hayley Rosewall	This is not what the people of North Carolina want. You are handing an unearned republican seat over. I don,Äôt care about parties, but you know if the roles were reversed and the democrats attempted this there would be an uproar. You should be ashamed of yourselves for even thinking of doing this. Your constituents, who you OWE service to, do NOT want this. Do NOT vote it through.
10/20/25 3:32 PM	Jill Denning	North Carolina is not a red state that supports mostly Republicans - it is a divided state. Please have some integrity and do not implement the proposed maps that would skew heavily Republican.

10/20/25 3:33 PM	Shirlee Sanderson	The political gerrymandering of voting districts is wrong and you know it. The whole idea of a democracy is for voters to choose those who represent them, not the other way around.
10/20/25 3:34 PM	L. Murphy	This is outrageous! It is a way to systematically silence voices within our community that need to be represented & heard. DO NOT CHANGE OUR REPRESENTATIONAL MAP!!! After the turnout for NO KINGS day in NC & across the US, you need to asume that the pendulum WILL swing back & the reckoning will be swift & powerful.
10/20/25 3:34 PM	Ms. Jacqueline Debnam-Bailey	Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 3:34 PM	Tamara Eldridge	DO NOT REDISTRICT to support MAGA. This is anathema to everything my brother, nephew, father, uncles, and grandfather fought for. I took an oath to defend the CONSTITUTION against all enemies - foreign and domestic. By doing this sneaky, backhanded redistricting, you're now counting yourself as a domestic enemy. I WILL FIGHT THIS.
10/20/25 3:34 PM	Jennifer Bond	Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO
10/20/25 3:34 PM	Gina Vieceli	As a concerned citizen of North Carolina, I am deeply troubled by the recent actions of our Republican-led legislature regarding redistricting. The decision to redraw congressional maps mid-decade,Äîoutside the standard post-Census cycle,Âîraises serious questions about the integrity of our democratic process. These changes appear designed not to reflect population shifts or community interests, but to entrench partisan power and silence competitive voices. This kind of manipulation erodes public trust and undermines the foundational principle of equal representation. Voters deserve districts that are drawn transparently and fairly, not engineered to guarantee outcomes for one party. When elected officials prioritize political advantage over democratic fairness, they betray the very constituents they were elected to serve. I urge our leaders to reconsider these tactics and commit to a redistricting process that honors the spirit of democracy. North Carolina,Äôs voters deserve better.
10/20/25 3:35 PM	Cynthia Chrismon	I am appalled at the redistricting that is being suggested! PLEASE let our elections remain fair with NO gerrymandering!!!
10/20/25 3:35 PM	Ms Kimaley Shellenberger	I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Âîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. Thank you. Kim Shellenberger
10/20/25 3:35 PM	Becky Sawyer	Why do Republicans need to redraw the lines of the most gerrymandered state in the US? So they can cheat? Leave the districts alone. Do you job and pass a budget and not fiddle with the voting districts.
10/20/25 3:35 PM	Shannon McGill	Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is an attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 3:36 PM	Desiree Utterback	Please be fair!
10/20/25 3:36 PM	Walter Kross	This proposal for redistricting is extremely unAmerican,Ä¶certainly not the will if the people. It is simply the kowtowing of our elected representatives to the desires of one man. Don,Äôt let us citizens down and stand up for our rights.
10/20/25 3:36 PM	D. Kevorkian	We need a state budget, instead you call the GA back to further rig an already gerrymandered map. I live in a district that goes from Greensboro to Boone, Gerrymandering is against the State Constitution, but our Maga majority Supreme Court boldly ignores it. You are a disgrace to your office and to the people of NC.

10/20/25 3:37 PM	Frederick Nelson	Retired	It‚Äôs clear that the redistributing is being done for one reason and one reason only and that‚Äôs Gerrymandering for the GOP to take away another Democratic seat away from the 50% or so of North Carolinians who support Democrats. This is wrong and you in the GOP know it. Stop the gerrymandering and give many of us our voice back!!!
10/20/25 3:37 PM	Sallie Porter		I live in Western North Carolina and do not feel like my voice is being heard because of the way the districts are being drawn. Please allow a civil discourse and for all voices to be represented in North Carolina.
10/20/25 3:37 PM	Louise Bazemore		Gerrymandering is taking away Democratic Governance and is totally wrong. Morals have a place on our Government. Have you none?
10/20/25 3:38 PM	Ms Gail Moore		Keep your hands off the maps & trying to fix the votes in your favor! Instead, try doing the job our tax dollars pay you for!
10/20/25 3:38 PM	Ms. Cathy Markatos		My understanding is that these district rearrangements are heavily weighted for Republican candidates. If there will be changes, get a non-partisan group to make the choices so that in this state with a third dem, a third rep, and a third independent, there would be mostly equal numbers of party affiliates across the state.
10/20/25 3:38 PM	Beth Brownridge		I strongly oppose gerrymandering or any form of redistricting that manipulates district boundaries to favor one political party over another. This practice, undermines democratic representation by splitting cohesive communities and diluting their collective voice. Electoral maps should be drawn transparently, fairly, and based on non-partisan criteria that respect, natural geographic boundaries and community interests, not political gain.
10/20/25 3:38 PM	Gayle M Streifford		Stop the redistricting changes. I think it is illegal and will end up n court and cost taxpayers more money for lawyers etc. A wastte.
10/20/25 3:39 PM	Ms Robin Magee		I urge the legislature to abide by the rule of law and NOT redraw our electoral maps until after the 2030 census data is collected. Making such a profound change is a waste of our state's resources, tax dollars, and priorities. We still need an NC state budget for the year. Please do not redraw our electoral maps until the correct time.
10/20/25 3:40 PM	Mrs. Hannah Atkinson		Hello, I am an unaffiliated voter in Forsyth County, NC. In reviewing your redistricting plan, it seems to highly favor one party over the other. This is quite unappealing to someone like me who votes for candidates from both parties. I would imagine it is also highly unappealing to someone who predominantly votes for those from the opposing party. Unaffiliated voters are the largest and fastest growing group of voters in our state. Republicans make up only about 30% of registered voters and are the smallest group of voters when compared to unaffiliated voters and registered Democrats. For your new maps to so blatantly and aggressively benefit the Republican Party is wrong. Those in power/office should not be the people to draw the districting maps. This is very obvious. A good barometer is to ask yourself how you would feel if Democrats controlled the process and drew maps that disproportionately benefitted their party. Please consider a redistricting process similar to Michigan where a commission of independent citizens (not politicians in office) created the new maps. Google the Michigan Independent Citizens Redistricting Commission. And please don‚Äôt move forward with these obviously and blatantly unfair maps which only serve to bolster your already disproportionate power in our state. Thank you!
10/20/25 3:40 PM	Elaine Sutton		I am opposed to gerrymandering merely to ‚Äústack the deck‚Äù politically. Simply draw the lines with natural borders, with no bias to what population might be residents.
10/20/25 3:40 PM	Rachel Whinna		I think it is unconscionable to try to cheat the system and rig our elections by creating gerrymandered districts even worse than the joke of the country that we are. How dare our state legislature not pass a budget and waste time drawing hugely unpopular and undemocratic maps outside of the regular schedule for three additional times? How dare they be so racist? For people that are so concerned with DEI, they‚Äôre pretty afraid of the voters actually getting to choose a merit-based candidate. I am disgusted with this.
10/20/25 3:41 PM	Elise WINTER		I don't want redistricting to yet again favor Republicans. NC is already completely gerrymandered in the favor of Republicans. Also the governor should have an opportunity to veto the redistricting map, like is other states!!!
10/20/25 3:41 PM	Randal Waters		I am against the Republican gerrymandering effort in NC. Trump won only 51% of the NC popular vote yet our state and congressional representatives skew Republican because of repeated efforts to acquire and protect power. We need more checks and balances and fewer sycophants.
10/20/25 3:42 PM	Rev. J. Randy Hall	None	I am NOT in favor of the currently planned gerrymandering attempt. It should be illegal to manipulate the boundaries voting districts toward one side or the other. I wino vote for any representative who votes affirmatively for changing the districts or against mail-in voting.
10/20/25 3:42 PM	Kenny Whitley		I do not want any kind of redistricting to happen in North Carolina. I do not want any Republicans in office come next election because they have showed that they are racist and do not care for any of the American people.
10/20/25 3:42 PM	Carissa Serrell		I and many others (including the majority of republicans) strongly oppose the legislature redistricting at this time; it has already been done many times over the past ten years, and is clearly partisan, not meant to reflect population changes or the will of the people. If you want more seats, you need to work for them, not draw them.

10/20/25 3:43 PM	Ms Catherine Perry		How much gerrymandering is enough for a state that is really a purple state? More than half of constituents are being ignored and not represented as is our constitutional right. Redistricting between census and via fealty to the crazy president who has no moral compass is wrong and unethical. I don't care who started gerrymandering. It was as wrong then as it is now. Courts should have the final say over the fairness of districts, not the supermajority without any checks and balances.
10/20/25 3:43 PM	Reject Proposed Maps Kris W	Private Citizen and Educator	Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is undemocratic.
10/20/25 3:44 PM	Mrs. Kim Dittmann		Any kind of gerrymandering is bad. Let's adopt a non-partisan commission to oversee map drawing. Enough of this tit-for-tat partisan gerrymandering! Let the votes represent the citizens of our state. NC is definitely not 80% Republican! Trump barely carried this state, quit bowing down to his unethical demands.
10/20/25 3:44 PM	Dr. Lee Kuyper		Stop the undemocratic gerrymandering.
10/20/25 3:45 PM	Honor Democracy Tracy Sadler		Stop gerrymandering! Serve the people of NC fairly without trying to stack the deck.
10/20/25 3:45 PM	Jane VanWoert		Gerrymandering is slimy and it is cheating! North Carolinians deserve fair representation in congress and the redistricting proposed will not be an accurate reflection of how our state votes. If you care about democracy and your NC fellow citizens, you will not pass this new map.
10/20/25 3:46 PM	Ms Carolyn Coggins		I am against the proposed districting plan for District 1 in eastern NC. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people.
10/20/25 3:46 PM	Ms Cathy Briner	Citizen	Stop the gerrymandering! Enough!
10/20/25 3:47 PM	Ms Karen Moorman		This gerrymandered map might yield another Republican seat. The Congressional seats are already out of balance for the state of North Carolina. Why one more? Did President Trump ask for this? As a matter of fact, he did. Shame on the Republicans.
10/20/25 3:47 PM	Mrs Caroline Baldwin	NC Citizen	We want fair maps that truly represent our communities and ensure every voice is heard. Our state deserves better than this.
10/20/25 3:47 PM	Christy Joyce		I am strongly opposed to redrawing districts with the specific goal of gaining seats for one party. I will note cast future votes for any legislator that votes in favor of this gerrymandering effort.
10/20/25 3:47 PM	Tahjanee Givens		This redistricting comes at a time shortly before an election and at a time when thousands of North Carolinians have already cast their votes. These changes do not give voters ample time to consider how this may impact their votes and therefore should not happen. Legislators should focus on passing a state budget instead of a redistricting plan that will likely result in costly litigation.
10/20/25 3:47 PM	Caroline Allen		I disagree with the redistricting maps that Republicans are proposing. As a resident of Western North Carolina, I strong believe that the redrawing of the maps are not in NC's best interests, especially given that the efforts have been a completely partisan effort.
10/20/25 3:47 PM	James Konold		The deliberate redrawing of congressional maps is highly unethical and is inconsiderate of the voters in that area. Please reconsider.
10/20/25 3:48 PM	Shondra Eaker		I strongly encourage you not to vote in allowing this. You know it,Äôs wrong, your constituents certainly know it,Äôs wrong and it,Äôs not how our Constitution was written to work. This is not how we do things in America, my entire family has fought in every war, I,Äôm a 6th generation American and in this country we do things fairly to represent all Americans in the manner in which the Constitution was written to abide by. It is not the time in which we redistribute our great state to appease one political party nor the president of the United States, not mid decade, and you all know it.
10/20/25 3:48 PM	Inezmarie Schaut		My name is Inezmarie Schaut, and I am a resident of Huntersville, North Carolina. I am writing to strongly oppose the 2025 proposed congressional redistricting map. This map is a clear example of partisan gerrymandering that undermines the democratic process and violates the principle that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. The proposed map seeks to create an unfair political advantage rather than ensure fair representation for all North Carolinians. By redrawing districts to dilute the votes of certain communities, it predetermines election outcomes and diminishes the voices of a significant portion of the population. This approach also contributes to political polarization and a lack of accountability, as elected officials in safe districts face less pressure to be responsive to their constituents' needs. I urge the committee to reject this and any other politically motivated map. Instead, I call for an independent, nonpartisan commission to oversee the redistricting process to ensure fair and transparent maps are drawn based on population data rather than political gain. The people of North Carolina deserve fair representation, not a rigged system. Thank you for your time and consideration. Sincerely, Inezmarie Schaut

10/20/25 3:48 PM	Mr. Claiborne Clark		Gerrymandering for democracy? Here's the thing: In the 2024 presidential election in North Carolina, approximately 2.9 million voted Republican and 2.7 million voted Democrat. There are actually more registered Democrats in the state than registered Republicans, yet it seems that the Republicans in Raleigh are so dismissive of representative government, that they want to leave 2.7 million from the "Great State" of North Carolina ... not only without any representation in the U.S. Senate, but with one fewer House seat as well! Republicans already have 71% of the State's political equity in the House of Representatives (10 of the state's 14 seats). Again: There are more registered Democrats than Republicans in the state. Still, even in the State Legislature, the Republicans hold a significant majority on both houses. This is not sufficient imbalance to satisfy the GOP (Greedy Old Party). By leveraging the system's vulnerability to corruption, they can get an even greater bias through gerrymandering. Are you really conservative if you want to deny fellow citizens representation? Or are you just Red Coated Tories looking out for your king? Let's be more patriotic and less idiotic. Do that by sharing governance fairly, and not hoarding it at the expense of democracy.
10/20/25 3:49 PM	Rosanne Wright		My name is Rosanne Wright, and I am a resident of Huntersville, North Carolina. I am writing to strongly oppose the 2025 proposed congressional redistricting map. This map is a clear example of partisan gerrymandering that undermines the democratic process and violates the principle that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. The proposed map seeks to create an unfair political advantage rather than ensure fair representation for all North Carolinians. By redrawing districts to dilute the votes of certain communities, it predetermines election outcomes and diminishes the voices of a significant portion of the population. This approach also contributes to political polarization and a lack of accountability, as elected officials in safe districts face less pressure to be responsive to their constituents' needs. I urge the committee to reject this and any other politically motivated map. Instead, I call for an independent, nonpartisan commission to oversee the redistricting process to ensure fair and transparent maps are drawn based on population data rather than political gain. The people of North Carolina deserve fair representation, not a rigged system. Thank you for your time and consideration. Sincerely, Rosanne Wright
10/20/25 3:49 PM	Betty Stone	Caldwell County resident	The current map should be corrected to make it FAIR, COMPETITIVE, COMPACT, CONTIGUOUS. Do not make it worse! The voters choose the politicians, NOT the other way around!
10/20/25 3:49 PM	Jaime Morris		North Carolina is supposed to redraw district maps once every ten years,Äîafter the Census. Yet since 2020, lawmakers have redrawn them multiple times. It,Äôs obvious these constant do-overs aren,Äôt about fairness,Äîthey,Äôre about clinging to power. Meanwhile, we still don,Äôt have a budget. Schools, childcare providers, and public workers are left waiting while the Republican legislators focus on securing political advantage instead of doing its job. Stop wasting taxpayer time and money manipulating districts, and start governing for the people you represent.
10/20/25 3:50 PM	Sarah Mixter		I urge the General Assembly to oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina,Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around.
10/20/25 3:50 PM	Jeanne DeJong		Just because something is legal does not make it right. I listened to the committee meeting with questions this morning and it appears that your justification for redistricting is because ,Äòwe can,Äô and Trump said to. You are so very short sided. And you are selfish and evidently don,Äôt think Republicans can be elected on their own. Shame on you.
10/20/25 3:51 PM	Dr Joshua Dittmer	Kirkfield Health	This deprives many citizens of their voice.
10/20/25 3:51 PM	Scott Beasley		As a concerned citizen of North Carolina, I am deeply troubled by the recent actions of our Republican-led legislature regarding redistricting. The decision to redraw congressional maps mid-decade,Äîoutside the standard post-Census cycle,Äîraises serious questions about the integrity of our democratic process. These changes appear designed not to reflect population shifts or community interests, but to entrench partisan power and silence competitive voices. This kind of manipulation erodes public trust and undermines the foundational principle of equal representation. Voters deserve districts that are drawn transparently and fairly, not engineered to guarantee outcomes for one party. When elected officials prioritize political advantage over democratic fairness, they betray the very constituents they were elected to serve. I urge our leaders to reconsider these tactics and commit to a redistricting process that honors the spirit of democracy. North Carolina,Äôs voters deserve better.

10/20/25 3:52 PM	David Houston		I am writing as a concerned North Carolinian to urge you to vote against any redistricting plan that fails to protect the integrity of our democratic process. If redistricting must occur, I implore you to ensure that it is done fairly, transparently, and without partisan gerrymandering. The drawing of district lines should reflect the true will of the people,Äînot serve to entrench political power. When politicians manipulate boundaries to favor certain parties or suppress specific communities, they silence voices and distort representation. This undermines public trust in government and weakens our democracy. As a constituent, I believe that the people should choose their representatives,Äînot the other way around. I respectfully request that you support a fair redistricting process that: ,Ä¢ Uses nonpartisan or independent input wherever possible ,Ä¢ Preserves communities of interest ,Ä¢ Reflects North Carolina diverse population. I urge you to stand with the people of North Carolina by opposing gerrymandered maps and advocating for fair, just, and equitable representation for all. Thank you for your time and service to our state. I hope you will act with integrity on this critical issue. David Houston Spruce pine, NC
10/20/25 3:52 PM	Dr Catherine Schultz		You have 100% gerrymandered our state enough and I,Äôm so sick of you guys stealing power instead of winning it through your policies and ideas. If the Trump administration policies are truly popular, then you don,Äôt have to worry about rigging another election in his favor.
10/20/25 3:53 PM	Dr. Tamar Palmer		Gerrymandering undermines the basic principle of democracy ,Äî that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Regardless of party, we should all value democratic participation. These are the principles on which this country was built and our representatives have a moral obligation to uphold them.
10/20/25 3:53 PM	Ms. Leigh Huggins		I personally do not see the need for redistricting again in North Carolina until the 2030 Census takes place. However, if you are going to do so, can you please put Robeson County back in District 7? Being part of District 8 and Charlotte which is two hours away from here is ridiculous. We have historically had better representation in the US Congress from District 7 than District 8.
10/20/25 3:53 PM	Ms Karen Stewart		Please vote against the redistricting proposal are democracy is based on free and fair elections and this is a terrible violation of that principle
10/20/25 3:54 PM	Samantha Warren		I,Äôm deeply disappointed with the redistricting efforts in North Carolina. Our state is already heavily gerrymandered, and this new proposal will only make it worse. I was raised to stand up against bullies and to speak out for what,Äôs right, and I intend to do just that. Donald Trump has proven himself to be the biggest bully of all, yet so many of you have lost your backbone and continue to cater to his every demand. You were elected to serve the people, not one man,Äôs ego. He,Äôs undermining our country and our Constitution, and you,Äôre letting it happen. I love this country deeply, and I expect my representatives to act like it too. The majority of North Carolinians, both Republicans and Democrats, do not want these districts redrawn. Redistricting isn,Äôt even supposed to happen again until 2031 which would be after the 2030 census. If you have to manipulate maps to win, that tells us everything we need to know about your integrity. Do the right thing. Don,Äôt make our democracy weaker. Stand up, show some courage, and refuse to support further gerrymandering in our state.
10/20/25 3:54 PM	Dr. Douglas Miller	Emeritus Appalachian State University	To Whom it May Concern: This is Dr. Douglas Miller. I'm a constituent from Boone. I am commenting to let you know that I am upset about the current redistricting efforts using the proposed 2025 Congressional map. I'm especially concerned about the lack of voter participation in this process. As you may know, eighty-five percent of North Carolinians oppose gerrymandering in NC, including me. This is a brazen effort to allow officials to choose their voters. Voters should be able to choose their representatives, not the other way around. Please support fair elections in NC. Please speak out against the current redistricting plan and reject these maps. Thanks you.
10/20/25 3:55 PM	Jessica Perkins		I oppose the political redistricting gerrymandering. Our voting maps should be fair and free from political manipulation. Everyone in the state should have the same opportunity to vote for their representatives regardless of their political affiliation. People running for office should not be scared to run on their policies by repressing the vote of their constituents. That,Äôs what dictators and authoritarian regimes do. North Carolina is a democracy and its legislators should uphold those principles.
10/20/25 3:55 PM	Naomi Moore		I am asking for NO redistricting. There is no need and no purpose other than to give Republicans an extra seat in Congress. This is not fair representation of the constituents of this state. Stop trying to illegally give Republicans a voice they have not earned, as they are outnumbered by both Democrats and Independents in this state.
10/20/25 3:56 PM	Mrs Jan Zaccarelli		Please do not vote for this - this will destroy our democracy! You can,Äôt call yourself a patriot and then cheat people out of their rightful representation
10/20/25 3:56 PM	Maple Osterbrink	Durham Workers Assembly, Southern Workers Assembly, Orange County Justice Coalition	NO MAP changes without extensive participation since the prior ILLEGAL ones demonstrate ILLEGAL and devious undemocratic intentions by the initiators now. SHAMEFUL & embarrassing.
10/20/25 3:57 PM	Steffany Whiting		I absolutely condemn the efforts of the Republican leadership of North Carolina,Äôs state assembly to redistrict state congressional boundaries in an off-cycle year. These maps should follow the cadence of our census as defined by the constitution, and not be modified to suit the insecurities of the current president, his administration and Republicans in office in North Carolina, who are at risk for losing the majority in Congress due to their support of policies that are devastating to our citizens, the poor, the disenfranchised and the underserved. Leave the districts as they are currently drawn for the purposes of the 2026 election. North Carolinians do not appreciate being treated like political footballs.

10/20/25 3:57 PM	Quyen Slone		To the Republicans wanting to redistrict the map: Rather than fully funding Medicaid, rather than raising teacher pay, or doing your jobs, you are wasting precious time and taxpayer dollars, bending the knee to Donald Trump and ripping away the voice of the voters. It is shameful. It is pathetic. You are shameful. You are pathetic.
10/20/25 3:57 PM	Kathleen Owen		Comment today! It's super easy. It takes two seconds! If you wanna talk this up and make it your own feel free: I am writing today to urge you in the most emphatic terms to vote no on the proposed redistricting plan for our state. Redrawing congressional districts specifically to ensure that only one party ever has a chance of winning any given election is unequivocally wrong. Gerrymandering is just plain wrong. Do not stoop to that level. As your constituent, I ask you to vote no.
10/20/25 3:57 PM	Lorraine Denham		Stop the Gerrymandering of districts, which are unfair and only advantageous to Republicans. Giving them an unfair advantage.
10/20/25 3:57 PM	Charlie Glass		Gerrymandering is wrong, no matter who is doing it. Do not allow random gerrymandering by the Republicans in this Congress, as they are trying to do.
10/20/25 3:57 PM	Dr Gail Worrell		NO GERRYMANDERING!!!!
10/20/25 3:57 PM	Ms Sandra Brooks-Mathers		Please refuse to vote for this redistricting plan, which would unfairly cancel out the votes of Democrats in our purple state!
10/20/25 3:58 PM	Mr Theodore Fuller		The partisan gerrymandering that you are proposing is technically legal but it is a perversion of representative democracy. The voters are supposed to pick their representatives but you are doing it exactly the other way around. Democrats, Republican, and Independents agree on this -- all three groups oppose partisan gerrymandering.
10/20/25 3:59 PM	Christina Hill		My name is Christina Hill. I am a resident of Sanford, NC in Lee County . For decades, members of my community and I have been working to ensure that voter protections are secured for all people. That has especially meant Black residents, who have historically been denied access to the democratic process and face continued attempts to weaken our political power. I am speaking to express concern around the lack of transparency regarding the criteria being used in this process. But given population changes reflected in the 2020 census, we must ensure that the criteria considers several factors, including race, to ensure NC communities remain the priority,Äù. As you know, according to 2020 Census data, North Carolina,Äôs population increased to 10,439,388, reflecting a growth of 9.5 percent over the last decade, granting North Carolina an extra congressional seat. In addition: ,Ä¢More than 78% of North Carolina,Äôs population growth occurred in its two largest metro areas, while more than half of the state,Äôs 100 counties lost population ,Ä¢Since 2010 our Black population of North Carolina has grown by 4.3% and comprises 20% of the State's population ,Ä¢In over 40 counties in North Carolina, the Black population exceeds 20% ,Ä¢Statewide, from the 2020 Census, 60% of North Carolina's residents identified as White, 20% as Black or African American, and 11% as Hispanic or Latinx. ,Ä¢Less than 30 of the 120 members of the NC House are persons of color, and roughly 10 of the 50 members of the North Carolina Senate are persons of color. ,Ä¢In several counties, growth in the Black population was significant, including Wake, Mecklenburg, Guilford, Buncombe, and Forsyth The criteria used in this process must be reflective of the voting population of our state. There are several resources available to assist in fair and equitable districting, I have included some below. https://preprints.apsanet.org/engage/api-gateway/apsa/assets/orp/resource/item/60e46f7ea4e06bf9217014db/original/fair-and-square-redistricting.pdf https://news.cornell.edu/stories/2020/11/fairmandering-draws-fair-districts-using-data-science
10/20/25 3:59 PM	Mr Dougas Mokaren	Citizenry of NC	North Carolina,Äôs electoral maps should reflect the voices of all its citizens, not just one party,Äôs advantage. While Republicans make up roughly 30% of registered voters, they should not command a disproportionate share of congressional or legislative seats. Fair redistricting ensures that every community, Democrat, Republican, and unaffiliated alike, has an equal chance to choose representatives who truly reflect their values. Balanced maps strengthen democracy, restore public trust, and guarantee that every North Carolinian,Äôs vote counts equally. We need equal representation in our state. Fair and honest elections are the only way.
10/20/25 3:59 PM	Ms Linda Alfredson	Private Citizen	Please stop this incessant toying with our voting system. What you want to do is completely unfair to so many people and not in accordance of our constitution. It is a power grab. Please stop.
10/20/25 3:59 PM	Dr Frank Brown		I oppose the mid-decade redistricting of congressional maps in a more extreme partisan gerrymander. This is a blatant attempt to disenfranchise more NC voters and make our congressional delegation less reflective of the diverse nature of our state. If you are going to talk about redistricting, you should be talking about a FAIRER redistricting that truly reflects the 50-50 split of our state. Shame on the Republican leadership of our state assembly for this blatant power grab attempt. Start serving the people of this state and not one political party.

10/20/25 4:01 PM	Mary Weber		I strongly oppose this sneaky and partisan effort to gerrymander in order to gain another Republican seat. This is one more stain on the North Carolina Republican party and is unacceptable and undemocratic.
10/20/25 4:01 PM	Laura Lowder	Craven County	Do not redistrict. This is a scam to get more Republicans to win. We don't need any more of the Republicans lack of spine to stand up to a would-be dictator. WAKE UP!! Do not continue on this path!!!
10/20/25 4:01 PM	Mrs Mary Tarr		Please do not redistrict Congregational District 1. This unfair gerrymandering would distort North Carolina's voting maps. Stick with Constitutional promise of equal representation.
10/20/25 4:01 PM	Mrs Gina Dowden		I live in Johnston Co, and I am very much opposed to the new redistricting map proposed by Republicans. These maps have already been severely gerrymandered to favor Republicans and to do another mid-decade map only further erodes our voices during elections. This is not what our democracy is about. We all deserve equal voting representation. Please do not pass these new gerrymandered maps.
10/20/25 4:01 PM	Dr. Stephen Boyd	Ministers Conference of Winston-Salem & Vicinity	As an unaffiliated voter in North Carolina, to the unprecedented attempt to re-district our Congressional maps before the 2030 Census. The stated rationale of Sen. Berger and others is untrue. The Democratic Party and Gov. Newsome ion particular, did not start this blatantly partisan attempt to skew district lines to effectively disenfranchise NC voters. President Trump initiated did. I would hope that Republicans and Democrats will reject this cynical move that will further erode confidence in our elections.
10/20/25 4:01 PM	Morgan Clark		To the Members of the House Select Committee on Redistricting and the Senate Elections Committee: I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed Congressional redistricting plan currently under consideration. Redistricting should serve the interests of voters,Äînot political parties. Unfortunately, this proposal appears to be a clear example of partisan gerrymandering, prioritizing political gain over fair representation. It undermines the principle of "one person, one vote" by manipulating district boundaries in ways that dilute the voting power of communities, especially communities of color and historically underrepresented groups. Fair maps are essential to maintaining trust in our democratic institutions. When district lines are drawn to favor incumbents or political parties, the result is decreased competition, lower voter turnout, and elected officials who are less responsive to their constituents. I urge you to reject this redistricting plan and commit to a transparent, nonpartisan process that puts the interests of voters first. Our democracy depends on fair representation,Äîand that starts with fair maps.
10/20/25 4:01 PM	Ms Joanne Hill		I am opposed to this further dilution of the rights of voters by this shameful power grab. It is improper for the legislature to choose their constituents rather than allowing voters to have the ability to elect their representatives. In a state that is roughly 50-50 Republican and Democrat, the makeup of the districts should be fairly representative.
10/20/25 4:02 PM	Stop gerrymandering! Arleen Fields		Redistricting right now in order to give the Republicans a majority in the US House is unfair to the residents of North Carolina that you are supposed to be serving. Don't do it!
10/20/25 4:02 PM	Rev Rebecca Suzik		It seems daily I am appalled by what is happening in our state and in our country. Congressional redistricting and gerrymandering right now will add insult to injury harming North Carolinians,Äô already strained ability to elect candidates of our choice. The proposed rezoning is gerrymandering that will divide communities and place power in politics instead of The People. Please do the right thing for The People and NOT politics and do NOT redistrict.
10/20/25 4:03 PM	Mrs Shelby Schulist		Do no redistrict! This is being done based on Trump scare tactics. The republicans need to stand up to Trumps poorly planned recommendations. Nothing done in this administration has made the lives of average North Carolinians better. Adding another republican seat is the last thing we want for our state.
10/20/25 4:03 PM	Gerrymandering Ian Underwood		Our state has regularly been ranked as one of the worst for gerrymandering in the country. At a time when the average citizen is feeling the pain of inflation and farmers are at risk of losing massive amounts of income and crops, our state legislatures leaders have decided that the most important thing to do is answer the call to gerrymander even more. NC has a proud history from the revolution of being on the side of freedom that this current group of legislators has chosen to stand on the shoulders of previous corrupt decisions to continue to further even more blatant attempts at gaining control. In an era of political posturing and partisanship our elected officials continue to sell out ordinary North Carolinians for profit and political control. I hope you're proud of yourselves, because for me it's a sad day to claim this place as my home.

10/20/25 4:03 PM	Debra Edge	This is really the House and Senate Select Committee on corruption within the former Republican Party, which no longer exists. It is now the party of a cult to a convicted felon and its lust for power. Phil Berger Sr obviously is so drunk with power these days that he would disenfranchise half the state so that his orange king will pat him on the head and say ,Äúgood doggy..Äù We are already one of the most gerrymandered states, thanks to Phil JR and his NC Supreme Court MAGA cronies. We,Äôve already been re-districted once, in 2024, when we aren,Äôt supposed to be re-districted until 2030. AND BERGER AND HIS DESPICABLE CRONIES KNOW IT. We are a purple state and the 7-7 split was correct. Maybe PHIL SR and his brethren in the NCGA should PASS A BUDGET instead of this corrupt, deplorable, disenfranchisement of the citizens of this state. Phil, DO YOUR JOB, which is allegedly to represent the best interests of ALL NORTH CAROLINIANS.
10/20/25 4:03 PM	Michael Cruthirds	How dare you republicans redraw these maps that obviously have a very high bias towards unseating democrats, while also making sure you shameless republicans unfairly stay in office. If this map were at all "fair", you would have invited the democrats to the table to work on this with you. Shame on you. You have solidified me as a democrat. I will never be voting republican again.
10/20/25 4:03 PM	Scott Self	I am writing to express my strong opposition to the current redistricting efforts in North Carolina. This move, particularly occurring before mid-term elections, appears to be a clear attempt at partisan gerrymandering, designed to unfairly manipulate electoral outcomes for one political party. Such actions undermine the democratic process by disenfranchising voters and eroding public trust in fair representation. It is crucial that our electoral maps reflect the will of the people, not the strategic ambitions of a single party, and are drawn in a transparent and non-partisan manner
10/20/25 4:03 PM	Mr Matthew Johnson	Do not gerrymander my state!
10/20/25 4:04 PM	Mr Christopher Stephens	Stop gerrymandering our districts.
10/20/25 4:05 PM	Ms Mary Irish	I'm in Sugar Grove NC and I find this underhanded, trying to gerrymander so you can stay in power. If you're doing such a good job, why do you have to cheat to win? Suppressing, or trying to suppress the will of the people (you know, the ones you're supposed to represent) will not help you. Vote NO on the new map
10/20/25 4:05 PM	Mrs. Denise Bredell	Trusting representatives to act with integrity is paramount. Represent all your constituent- the black and brown constituents too. No redistricting!!!
10/20/25 4:05 PM	Ms Janet Smith	This is another raw power grab by NC Republicans. They,Äôve previously also made sure the Governor cannot veto redistricting maps so they have total power. Since only 30-40% of NC voters are registered Republicans, these heavy handed tactics are grossly unfair. Republicans have burned through any goodwill that Democrats & Independents once may have had with them. To serve all citizens, politicians should work TOGETHER in a spirit of genuine cooperation and compromise. Instead we have a minority political party that wants total power over the entire state population.
10/20/25 4:06 PM	Mrs Mary Schoeffler	This is so wrong and needs to be stopped. Hopefully the courts will stop this. Every year the Republicans do this. The only way they try to win is by CHEATING. Hopefully the will all be voted out. At this point it's the only thing they deserve. Bunch of cheaters.
10/20/25 4:06 PM	Ms. Amy Lawless	Redistricting to disenfranchise democratic voters is exactly the deplorable actions of lovers who know they cannot win without cheating. You cannot even give voters the choice. Do NOT change the voting districts.
10/20/25 4:07 PM	Grace McNamara	As a North Carolina resident, I am appalled at the blatant disregard of the rights of voters. A September 2025 survey of North Carolina voters conducted by a Republican polling firm found that 84% of NC voters oppose gerrymandering under ANY circumstances, including 78% of Republicans. Our representatives are elected to represent us, and it is unconstitutional to attempt to rig future elections for personal political gain. Fair district maps NOW.
10/20/25 4:07 PM	Vivian Brewer	NO to your current gerrymandering plans. You,Äôve done this before and it continues to be a form of cheating. When you fear that you cannot win elections fair and square you resort to this form of election manipulation. It,Äôs no more ethical now than it has been in the past. Grow up and play fair!
10/20/25 4:08 PM	Jennifer Moore Myers	This redistricting plan is an act of racial discrimination. It violates state and federal laws and robs North Carolina citizens of their right to vote. Voters pick their representatives, not the other way around. The North Carolina GOP cannot use lying, cheating, and stealing to hold onto power. The people demand fair voting maps and democratically elected representatives who uphold their responsibilities with integrity.

10/20/25 4:09 PM	Dawn Marsh		Friends and Partners, The NC House Select Committee on Redistricting and Senate Elections Committee are accepting public comments on the proposed redistricting plan for Congressional District 1, in eastern NC. Senate Majority Leader Phil Berger estimates that the plan will help the Republican party secure a super majority in the NC House and Senate in the 2026 election. This skews fair representation of NC voters who are 38% Unaffiliated, 32% Democratic, and 30% Republican. The public comment window may only be open for a short while. This is an important opportunity to influence the outcome. Let your voice be heard! Submit your comment I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People‚Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition‚Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political
10/20/25 4:10 PM	Wilba Brady		Stop it! Redrawing districts to command another Republican seat is simply POLITICAL. Period.
10/20/25 4:10 PM	Rene Bosman		As a North Carolina resident, I do NOT support the proposed redistricting of NC-1 and NC-3. It is purely a partisan power-grab that will serve to misrepresent constituents of those districts and do a disservice to all residents of the state.
10/20/25 4:11 PM	Mrs. Kim Kuchon		I strongly disagree with the Republicans plan to alter NC voting maps to try to gain votes.
10/20/25 4:11 PM	Dr. Emily Edwards	Retired	Please don‚Äôt participate In Gerrymandering this state any further. The whataboutism that others have done it in the past does not excuse what we all know is wrong and disenfranchised voters. North Carolina is better than this.
10/20/25 4:11 PM	Ms. Sarah Kunath		Hi, my name is Sarah and I'm a constituent from Rocky Point. I'm writing to urge you to oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina's congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/20/25 4:12 PM	Timothy Noble		As an unaffiliated voter, I am appalled that our state legislature is trying to redistrict the voting maps to benefit the Republican party through gerrymandering. I have voted for both Democrats and Republicns in the past. Redistricting usually occurs right after the census based off of the chages in population. The last census was taken in year 2020. Redistricting took place then and redistricting should take place again in 2030 after the next census. Our state legislature needs to try to pass a working budget, which we still do not have instead of trying to cheat us voters out of fair and equal voting representation through this unprecedented time to gerrymander our voting maps.
10/20/25 4:13 PM	Ms. PATRICIA REED	Private Citizen	True conservative values demand transparency, integrity and competition - victory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps.
10/20/25 4:13 PM	Dr. Catherine Anne Walsh	none	I urge the committee to vote NO! on the proposed effort to redistrict NC. Most North Carolinians want fair representation and this midterm effort to produce another Republican district in our state is just wrong. Do the right thing.
10/20/25 4:13 PM	Martha Swanson		Please consider the voices of all North Carolinians by not drawing districts that silence Democrats. With respect, An NC resident and voter whose vote almost never counts.
10/20/25 4:13 PM	Redistricting Norman Lyles		This is the most corrupt and blatant misuse of power to this day. You people have no shame and I won't feel bad if the day comes where you're dragged from your home by a bunch of angry rednecks and disappeared. So I suggest not following the nazis in the federal

10/20/25 4:13 PM	teri siegel		Redrawing voting district lines can dilute the voices of established communities and disrupt fair representation. Constant changes undermine voter confidence and make it harder for citizens to understand who represents them. Redistricting often opens the door to partisan manipulation, allowing politicians to choose their voters instead of voters choosing their leaders. Keeping existing district lines maintains stability and protects the integrity of the democratic process. Redistricting can divide neighborhoods with shared concerns, weakening their ability to advocate effectively for their needs.
10/20/25 4:13 PM	Jane Muldoon-Smith		The NC legislature is voting TODAY on gerrymandering our state once again to eliminate a district that would eliminate a crucial Democrat seat. In the name of fair voting and democracy please do not allow this to happen.
10/20/25 4:14 PM	Martha Kenworthy		I am contacting you to voice my opposition to the rewriting of mid-cycle redistricting maps. I live in a county that will be impacted. It appears I would be moved from District 3 to 1. This practice lets politicians manipulate districts for a purely partisan advantage. This practice confuses voters, leads voters to believe the system is rigged and erodes trust in our elections and in our democracy. Constantly redrawing maps is a waste of taxpayer money. It uses up resources and drains public funds that could be better utilized to serve voters. Voters should chose their representatives- not the other way around!
10/20/25 4:14 PM	Matt Schwanke		I am opposed to GOP gerrymandering efforts. Elected officials should not be allowed to draw maps to choose their own constituents or exert influence on control of Congress by preventing free and fair elections.
10/20/25 4:14 PM	Ms Barbara Giovanetti		No!
10/20/25 4:15 PM	Bailey Watson		Partisan redrawing of maps erodes the trust of elected leaders by making them think they value their own power over the will of the people
10/20/25 4:15 PM	Mark Lewis		This would contribute to dividing an already divided America. Gerrymandering has gotten out of hand and this just makes it worse. I wish you guys would take a stand against it.
10/20/25 4:15 PM	Mrs Marybeth Swecker	Not applicable	I do NOT agree with the plan to redistrict our already heavily gerrymandered state here in NC ... North Carolinians are already NOT accurately or adequately represented as the majority of North Carolina residents are NOT Republican ! It is embarrassing to have our great state of NC as heavily gerrymandered as it already is... This seems like yet another desperate and dangerous and dishonest power grab by NC extremist Republicans... the NC Congress needs to do the right thing and accurately represent the majority of its constituents instead of allowing our representation of all North Carolinians to be so unfairly & dishonestly slanted in favor of one political party ... shameful embarrassing dishonest dangerous to the rights and welfare and wishes of the majority of North Carolinians (regardless of their political affiliations, if any).... My family, friends et al here in NC vehemently OBJECT to this proposed Congressional district plan !!! Don't do it (or be prepared to "own" the consequences !!! Geez this idea is stupid, unfair & disingenuously dishonest !
10/20/25 4:15 PM	Barry Cheney		I am opposed to the legislature's decision to redraw congressional districts outside of the usual decennial re-balancing. In a time when most Americans don't trust the political system, and feel it doesn't represent them, doing this will only further strengthen those ideas. This is obviously being done in response to President Trump's call to change the rules so he can maintain his grip on power. I urge you to stand up to his undemocratic urges and protect the power of the people of North Carolina.
10/20/25 4:15 PM	Shelli Denington		Stop the redistricting in NC. Protect our voting rights! No gerrymandering! Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation, and it weakens voters,Äô ability to hold our leaders accountable.
10/20/25 4:16 PM	Nadja Simon		I am opposed to the reddistricting proposal.
10/20/25 4:16 PM	Laura De Blois		Please respect the original intent of voting districts,Äîgiving all the State,Äôs citizens a voice in fair governance.
10/20/25 4:16 PM	Mrs Anne Ewald	N/A	Stop the gerrymandering in North Carolina, please~
10/20/25 4:16 PM	Mrs Susan Glass		I find this gerrymandering bill to be going against the good of the state in many ways. I would vote no for sure.
10/20/25 4:16 PM	Ms. Eileen Gillis		I oppose the new gerrymandering proposal to give the Republicans House District 1. I oppose the existing gerrymandering, because it,Äôs fundamentally anti-representative democracy, but the new one is even more insidious. Berger acknowledges, proudly, that he wants another seat to give Trump another rubber stamp vote. This is not only anti-representative democracy, it,Äôs anti the whole concept of equal branches of government. We will keep having No Kings protests until Trump,Äôs enablers in the legislative branches of the state and federal governments stop giving him royal powers.
10/20/25 4:16 PM	Thomas Von Reyn		As a former conservative Republican from Texas, I realized gerrymandering is a form of eliminating free and fair elections and our Democratic Republic. Undo all the gerrymandering in NC now. Set an example for other states to follow.
10/20/25 4:17 PM	John Hix		This mid-decade redistricting effort is distorting the political truth in the US, allowing politicians to choose their voters instead of voters choosing their representatives. It concentrates power into the hands of political insiders and the wealthy, while taking it from the minority communities across NC. Votes should be won based on policy that the governed want and need, not by drawing maps that misrepresent millions of people.
10/20/25 4:18 PM	Elizabeth Schell		This is ridiculous and cowardly and an abuse of power. Let our democracy be and stop trying to cheat and stack the deck in one party,Äôs favor.

10/20/25 4:18 PM	Mrs Lauren Fernandez		This redrawing of the map is unfair and does not properly represent the voices and opinions of all North Carolinians. Redistricting Congressional maps to favor one political party and agenda does not align with American values. This is a democracy and elected officials do not have the right to rig something to be in their favor of one political party. The elected officials who proposed this map are public servants and they work for the people, not to advance billionaires,Äô agenda. This does nothing to help millions of North Carolinians struggling to pay for housing, childcare, and healthcare. It is a blatantly racist act that seeks to push our country back 50 years. We are not going to accept this and we urge elected officials to actually focus on caring for your constituents, as you swore to do, rather than bowing to the agenda of billionaires. Thank you.
10/20/25 4:19 PM	Shelley Pereda		Our state no longer fairly represents the will of its voters due to blatant gerrymandering. Manipulating district lines to secure political power undermines the foundation of our democracy and silences the voices of countless citizens,Äîespecially those in the political center or affiliated with smaller parties. Under no circumstance should our elected officials consider redrawing districts to give Donald Trump or the GOP an unfair advantage in the House or Congress. Doing so would be an abuse of power,Äîdesigned to push through a partisan agenda that benefits the wealthy elite at the expense of the broader public. This kind of political maneuvering dishonors the principles that generations before us fought to uphold,Äîprinciples my grandparents defended in World War II and my brother committed to when he joined the Marines. Their service was for a country that values democratic integrity, not one manipulated for short-term political gain. You were entrusted with power to represent all of us,Äînot just those who agree with your party. We need fair, balanced representation that reflects the diverse views of our state, including moderate and independent voters like myself. We cannot allow our system to devolve into a one-party rule that marginalizes opposition and deepens division. I urge you to reject further gerrymandering efforts, abandon the politics of extremism, and work toward restoring a culture of moderation and mutual respect. This state,Äîand this country,Äîdeserve leadership that seeks unity, not dominance.
10/20/25 4:19 PM	Brian Roy		Redistricting like this ends up hurting everyone, not just one political side. When one state decides to redraw its maps for an upper hand, others inevitably do the same, and eventually any advantage gets wiped out on a national scale. Still, at the local level, the harm lingers,Äîcommunities lose their fair voice, and resources stop going where they,Äôre truly needed. Our districts should be shaped around real places and real people,Äîcounties, towns, neighborhoods,Äînot around the interests of politicians trying to game the system.
10/20/25 4:19 PM	Dr. Louis Fabrizio	Retired	I strongly encourage the General Assembly to NOT change the voting districts boundaries until after the next census is completed. That is the usual timeline for doing that process. There is so much division in this country already without any further efforts to make that division even worse! Please do the right thing and do not make any changes that will increase the division.
10/20/25 4:19 PM	mrs etzani eisenstein		i believe in democracy and want to protect it
10/20/25 4:20 PM	Rosemary Rohrman		The districts should represent the actual population of North Carolina. NC is an inherently purple state, and based on our current population, we should have 7 republicans and 7 democrats representing us. We are already gerrymandered to 10 R/4 D, which is already unjust. The redistricting would take us to 11 R/3 D, which is wildly unjust. What happened to actual governing by working with each other and coming up with compromises that work for all constituents? Why do republicans have to cheat to get their way? Talk to each other! You should be ashamed of yourselves if you continue to gerrymander our state. You know it is unjust. Just stop and think about fair governing. That is not too much to ask.
10/20/25 4:20 PM	Karen Kumin		I am appalled and sickened by Republican/MAGA efforts to cheat North Carolinians out of their votes via gerrymandering. Shame on these so-called "lawmakers," who are not even hiding their undemocratic intent. Stand up for democracy. Vote NO on redistricting.
10/20/25 4:21 PM	We Deserve Fair Districts Jessica Sligar		We elected you to represent the people of North Carolina, not your own political interests. Gerrymandering undermines fair representation and public trust. Please draw districts that are fair, transparent, and truly reflect the voices of all citizens- and help restore faith in our democracy.
10/20/25 4:21 PM	Julie B.		As a member of the state, I,Äôd like to voice my concern with the map redistricting being proposed, and the precedent it enforces. It feels as though this idea of redistricting off the 10 year cycle normally coupled with census updates, shows a mistrust in voters of your state. Which regardless of party, as officials, you are elected to represent those voters and residence of your state, so to indicate this feels counterintuitive. Gerrymandering is still largely seen as negative in the public eye, even when it,Äôs expected to benefit your own party, as it feels dishonest and against voters and residence best interest in many cases. It,Äôs been widely expressed that redistricting off the typical cycle is used as a tactic to manipulate voting, rather than support the actual population distributions in an unbiased manner. Efforts would be better spent focusing on other areas as a larger overall government shut down continues. I appreciate your consideration in this matter and what,Äôs in the best interest of our state and voter population as a whole.

10/20/25 4:21 PM	Mr Jason Scott		Bullying to cower to demand is wrong for North Carolinans. The people of NC should have a say in their elected officials through voting, not the politicians gerrymandering to their constituency. If the legislators aren't afraid of their poor policies winning at the ballot box, gerrymandering is not the answer. Power grab is a sign of greed and derilict of office. Politicians should be disgraced at their peers as should the public demand fair representation.
10/20/25 4:22 PM	Sarah Hargrove		I expect my representatives to represent their constituents in fairly drawn districts. No gerrymandering!
10/20/25 4:22 PM	Mr. James Smyth	Voter	I am opposed to gerrymandering and believe that ending such action by all parties upholds the Constitution and ensures that the people believe in the integrity of their elected officials.
10/20/25 4:23 PM	Ms Bettina Gordon		Racist maps make racist Reps! Stop gerrymandering!
10/20/25 4:24 PM	Katherine Hertel		I understand that there is a national effort to realign voters with each party. This is disgraceful. We have real problems that need to be addressed in our state. Work for the people - not the politicians in DC.
10/20/25 4:25 PM	Mel Bayani		Hello NC General Assembly, I am absolutely disgusted with the state of our politics: moving the goal posts to accommodate a president,Äôs agenda and subverting the will of the people. This is disgraceful. I'm urging you to oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina,Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/20/25 4:25 PM	Dr Mary Edens		I am very disturbed about the proposed redistricting. First, we have no budget, our public schools are suffering, and Medicaid is about to be taken,Ä¶ but rather than address these issues that are essential to our citizens you choose to kowtow to Trump on a issue that will only harm your constituents. To me this is election rigging! You know you will lose Republican representation so you want to do something you should be ashamed of. I am embarrassed by my legislators.
10/20/25 4:25 PM	Ms. Laura Scott		Subject: Stop Rigging the Maps ,Äî North Carolina Voters Deserve Fair Districts I,Äôm tired of seeing politicians in Raleigh and Washington manipulate district lines just to protect their own power. Gerrymandering is nothing more than politicians choosing their voters instead of voters choosing their representatives ,Äî and it,Äôs an insult to every North Carolinian who believes in fair elections. You can dress it up as ,Äúredistricting,,Äù but we all know what,Äôs going on. The current maps are drawn to lock in Republican seats no matter what voters actually want. That,Äôs not democracy ,Äî that,Äôs cheating. I,Äôm asking you to stand up for the people of North Carolina, not for your party,Äôs control. Support nonpartisan redistricting and restore some integrity to this process. If your ideas and your record can,Äôt win on fair maps, then maybe they don,Äôt deserve to win at all. We need to end gerrymandering in North Carolina.
10/20/25 4:25 PM	Redistricting Angie Gallimore		Please don,Äôt cheat just to win an election. God will judge you on your behavior. I,Äôm not a democrat but I,Äôm not a fan of this kind of behavior just because Trump ask for it.
10/20/25 4:25 PM	Courtney Olmsted	USA citizens	Shameful and embarrassing extortion of power. We are a laughing stock of this country because of your ideas and policies. No spine and bending the knee so easily to corruption and protecting pedophiles. Gross. Racism looks bad one you, history will remember your names
10/20/25 4:26 PM	Robert Powell		I am totally opposed to this nakedly partisan redistricting. Gerrymandering perverts democratic representation of our government.

10/20/25 4:27 PM	Jacqueline Rimmer		This redistricting is a clear violation of NC state constitution which requires ‚Äúno broken territories,‚Äù and further more SL 1967-640 which states: "(1) Each Senator shall represent, as nearly as may be, an equal number of inhabitants, the number of inhabitants which each Senator represents being determined for this purpose by dividing the population of the district he represents by the number of Senators apportioned to that district; "(2) Each Senate District shall at all times consist of contiguous territory; "(3) No county shall be divided in the formation of a Senate District; "(4) When established, the Senate Districts and the apportionment of Senators shall remain unaltered until the return of another decennial enumeration taken by order of Congress "The duty imposed upon the General Assembly by this Section shall continue until performed." It would be wise for NC GOP to remember that ‚Äúl was just following orders,‚Äù was not an acceptable defense for the Nuremberg trials either. When this comes back to haunt them, what is attempting to be done will have to be answered for in court. There‚Äôs still the previous lawsuit about this pending from 2023. I have heard Republican representatives in this body state, ‚Äúwell I don‚Äôt represent any democrats,‚Äù and while I know they hate the truth, that is a statistical impossibility. It‚Äôs even a bigger impossibility for you to know that information. Sounds a bit like ‚Äútaxation without representation,‚Äù which is not only a crime, but completely disrespects the American Revolution- the only reason they were even given the opportunity to have any disillusionment of power today. You do not have personal power over people, the people have power over you. A middle school civics class would remind you as much. I was born and raised in this state. My family dates back generations in this state. I have always worn being a North Carolinan with pride, until now. The actions of the republican majority are disgraceful, unconstitutional, treasonous, and an admission of subservience and submission. You are weak. You know your policies are terrible because otherwise you could win without breaking the law.
10/20/25 4:27 PM	Leslie Murphy		This is a power grab by the Republican Party and I do not stand for this attempt to misrepresent our citizens. This is clearly gerrymandering by politicians who do not have North Carolinians best interest at heart.
10/20/25 4:28 PM	No redistricting! Lois Lukens		None of these shenanigans in my state! This is racism pure and simple. It‚Äôs cheating and inappropriate for this time in our country fighting fascism! DO NOT REDISTRICT to appease the President. We‚Äôll vote you out
10/20/25 4:28 PM	Mrs Stephanie Mitchell	None	I strongly oppose the imposition of midterm redistricting. This most of all disenfranchises voters who elected sitting representatives. It undermines democracy. It wastes taxpayer money. Please resist the urge to cave to the current administration and please do what the people elected you to do- represent them in a lawful manner.
10/20/25 4:28 PM	Vote No Elizabeth Janine		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is unconstitutional . Vote NO.
10/20/25 4:28 PM	Catherine Colvard		Mid-decade redistricting to win at all costs can work both ways. Republicans do it now, Democrats do it later. Its a lose-lose scenario.
10/20/25 4:28 PM	No gerrymandering Chris Hall	Blue ridge shine	Do not gerrymandering our state and bow to whims of a want to be dictator from Washington.
10/20/25 4:29 PM	Wendy Osusky		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. How would you vote if Democrats were trying to do the same thing? Vote NO.
10/20/25 4:29 PM	Stephanie Richardson		I do not agree with this
10/20/25 4:29 PM	Mrs. Mary Ellen Smyth	Voter	I am adamantly opposed to gerrymandering. Ending this process by all parties upholds our Constitution and helps maintain the faith of the people in the integrity of our elected officials.
10/20/25 4:29 PM	Robert Fain		Redistricting should only take place after the ten year census and should be led by a non partisan commission appointed by the legislature. In fact all matters regarding elections should be addressed by commissions that are as non-partisan as is possible to create allowing for representation from the political parties. Election integrity and the perception that voting issues are handled fairly is paramount to elected officials authority to act on behalf of the entire state.
10/20/25 4:30 PM	Reverend Jessica Dayson	Pineville UMC	As a pastor called to serve and support, I must speak up to call out how this redistricting is unfair, unethical, and should not at all be accepted.
10/20/25 4:30 PM	Mrs Carol Anderson	Citizen	Please do not draw redistricting lines at this time. North Carolina is already Gerrymandered to great degree. You will further you a erode public trust if you further diminish fair representation in our State.
10/20/25 4:30 PM	Amanda Huff		Hello elected officials of NC - you were voted in by the people of NC, and you work for us, not Donald Trump. Redistricting because he asked you to is a dereliction of your duty to the people of NC, especially when you‚Äôve not even passed a budget. Don‚Äôt do it. One day you will be tried for treason. Stand up to your party and vote for the people!
10/20/25 4:31 PM	Ms Nancy Merklein		As a citizen of North Carolina, I totally disagree with the plan to further gerrymander our state. Congressional districts should be drawn fairly!

10/20/25 4:31 PM	Lucy Harris		I implore the NC State Legislature to slow down the redistricting conversation, and follow the precedent of drawing leg maps after the census year. Thank you! Lucy Harris Snow Camp
10/20/25 4:32 PM	Jill Walker		Y'all do realize that we can all see just exactly what you are doing? It is so pathetic to witness such feeble behavior by such cowards. You are incapable of facing the reality of your own demise. It will come, don't doubt that. And you will all go down in history as the craven lot that you are.
10/20/25 4:32 PM	Ms Linda McCarley		The US congressional districts were even in number in 2023 before you redistricted to give the Republicans a lopsided majority. Trump won NC with 50.86% of the vote. That's hardly mandate. It means only a little over 50% of the people voted for Trump. So you're gerrymandering to deny representation to around 50% of the people of NC. And you say it's more important to protect Trump's legacy than it is to protect our people's right to representation, as guaranteed in the Constitution. I guess if Trump doesn't care about the Constitution and only cares about power, you will follow his lead. It's shameful and you know it. Corruption is spreading like wildfire and will permanently damage our country in a way our foreign enemies have only dreamed of.
10/20/25 4:32 PM	Nicole McCowan		ABSOLUTELY FUCKING NOT. NO NO NO REDISTRICTING!!
10/20/25 4:33 PM	Tina Condon		Yall ain't gerrymandered enough? Sickening. No, i do not approve of your latest map.
10/20/25 4:33 PM	Lisa Tompkins		I'm a life-long, generations back North Carolinian who has been registered Unaffiliated since I registered in 1975. I used to vote a mixed ticket on principle until the Republicans started this authoritarian turn over a decade ago. We have lost so much under this dominance agenda of the current Republican party and now, this! Another gerrymander? I strongly object. If you want to win our votes, you can work for it. I never thought I'd be ashamed of my legislature but I am right now. Turn this ship around and vote "no" to another gerrymander. This makes me sick. Do something honorable, won't you?
10/20/25 4:33 PM	Virginia Adamson		It is high time that the NC General Assembly address the state budget rather than engaging in redistricting in a mid-census time period. We sent you to Raleigh to do your jobs. You have already gerrymandered the district maps a couple of times this decade. We need our state employees including teachers and law enforcement to receive pay raises so they can afford to feed their families, pay for the medical care and housing. Stop wasting time and do your jobs. Our healthcare system and education system need funding. Rather than cutting taxes on the rich, enact a state budget that does what is needed for the people of North Carolina, your constituents - not your billionaire buddies.
10/20/25 4:33 PM	Mark Cobb		I am opposed to gerrymandering in general and especially off year gerrymandering. I believe it is an unfair adjustment to our democracy.
10/20/25 4:34 PM	David Powell		I strongly oppose this attempt to steal the power of the vote from non- Republicans.
10/20/25 4:35 PM	Janet McCormick		Redistricting is taking away our right to choose our representatives. Please stop!
10/20/25 4:35 PM	Mary Dirrane		I strongly object to the continued and increasing gerrymandering of NC voting districts to increase Republican influence. As an independent voter, I am not being represented at all by the Republicans currently in the legislature. Gerrymandering is corruption and it must stop. Our legislators are supposed to work for all constituents, not just those favored by the current administration.
10/20/25 4:36 PM	Mrs. Anne King	Citizen	The NC legislators need no. 1 to pass a budget for Medicaid and teacher raises instead of bowing to Trump's demand. This is NC. And that is your job. We are one of only two states with no budget. Republicans control both houses. Get it together instead of wasting the time we pay you for on Trump's agenda.
10/20/25 4:36 PM	Dr Luisa Mayorga		I am unhappy about the redistricting that is happening in North Carolina. Our districts are already incredibly gerrymandered and further redistricting to appease. Donald Trump is infuriating. 85% of voters in North Carolina oppose gerrymandering, regardless of which party is doing it. We are going down the wrong path.
10/20/25 4:36 PM	Mr. Dwight Blass		This proposed redistricted map is a partisan gerrymander that constitutes an urgent assault on fair representation and voter accountability in North Carolina. It specifically targets and dismantles Congressional District 1, eliminating the state,Äôs most prominent Black opportunity district and cementing a non-competitive, predetermined outcome. This design guarantees that North Carolina,Äôs entire congressional map will be one of the least representative in the country, diminishing the political voice of voters across all regions. Furthermore, scheduling the public comment period at 10:00 a.m. on a Monday is a deliberate act of procedural obstruction that mocks the democratic transparency citizens deserve.
10/20/25 4:37 PM	MRS TRACY BROWN	NONE	ALL THE REPUBLICANS WHO SIGN ON TO THIS ILLEGAL REDISTRICTING WILL NOT GET VOTED BACK INTO OFFICE. THIS IS ILLEGAL AND YOU ALL KNOW IT. GET A SPINE AND QUIT DOING DRUMP'S BIDDING!!!!!!!
10/20/25 4:37 PM	Ms Patricia Ellis Hughes		Your extreme gerrymandering, particularly now as a political move is not welcome. This is against our Founding Fathers,Äô principles. We vote to choose our officials; you don,Äôt get to choose your voters.

10/20/25 4:37 PM	Marlene Greer	None	Our U.S. Representatives are supposed to represent EVERYONE in the state. With a state that's about 30% Republican, 31% Democrat, and 38% unaffiliated registered voters, our U.S. Representatives should be evenly split, like what happened in 2020 with the court-ordered maps. Instead, Republicans have rigged the maps to their advance, creating a lopsided 10-4 split in their favor. This leaves hundreds of thousands of NC voters unrepresented. Now you want to make it worse. Stop the insanity before it's too late. DO NOT try to redistrict to get another seat. You've already made it bad enough.
10/20/25 4:37 PM	Jennifer Vieceli	Citizen	As a concerned citizen of North Carolina, I am deeply troubled by the recent actions of our Republican-led legislature regarding redistricting. The decision to redraw congressional maps mid-decade,Äîoutside the standard post-Census cycle,Äîraises serious questions about the integrity of our democratic process. These changes appear designed not to reflect population shifts or community interests, but to entrench partisan power and silence competitive voices. This kind of manipulation erodes public trust and undermines the foundational principle of equal representation. Voters deserve districts that are drawn transparently and fairly, not engineered to guarantee outcomes for one party. When elected officials prioritize political advantage over democratic fairness, they betray the very constituents they were elected to serve. I urge our leaders to reconsider these tactics and commit to a redistricting process that honors the spirit of democracy. North Carolina,Äôs voters deserve better.
10/20/25 4:38 PM	Mark Boggs	Retired	The Republican effort to further gerrymander NC's Congressional districts, apparently in blind allegiance to an increasingly desperate US President, is a shameful display of legislative arrogance and should be rejected. Put this on the backburner, addressing it only after you have passed a budget, fixed the health insurance crisis that will result from the federal budget resolution fiasco, provided adequate funding for the recovery of storm ravaged WNC, and addressed growing secondary education deficiencies. NC was once considered to be a Good Governance state. Measures such as this, which represent a gross effort to retain power by illegitimate means, flies in the face of such merits.
10/20/25 4:38 PM	Mr James Bazan		Whi will be "represented" by your craven partisan gerrymander? In a Constitutional Republic, the voters select their representatives. You may think you have immunized yourselves from responsibility to the people of North Carolina. You may have. You may even be so morally bankrupt that you think betrayal of your oaths of office is acceptable. But we see you. It is not.
10/20/25 4:39 PM	Ashley Hawkins		Please do not do this partisan trick against the people of NC. You will be limiting the power of people,Äôs votes and make our democracy a sham. Why are you going out of your way to serve Washington in this way when you should be serving the people of NC? Use your time in session to pass a budget like you,Äôre supposed to instead of wielding your power to serve the devil.
10/20/25 4:39 PM	April Robinson		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 4:39 PM	Lawrence Allen		Redistricting isn't necessary. Adding another Republican seat to Congress is simply sandbagging. Stand up for North Carolina, not for Trump.
10/20/25 4:40 PM	Mr Carl Green	Democrats	I was at no king's protest that is why I was there just want fair elections
10/20/25 4:41 PM	Ruth Leight		Leave it alone! For crying out loud haven,Äôt you all messed up the districts as it is? Our district gets split right in two one on this side of the road and the other on the other side . Just stop and let rump see if he can actually win without NC republicans cheating. Ruth
10/20/25 4:41 PM	Babs Brown		Please refrain from redrawing legislative maps in an off year. Thank you.
10/20/25 4:41 PM	Dr Marion Gamble		I strongly object to trying to change the voting districts outside the standard 10 year census cycle. NC should have fair representation based on its population make up. The Gerrymandering by the legislature is partisan and illegal and a back door to avoid racial fairness. I live in Greensboro where our vote is already diluted. I hate to see that continuing to happen. Does anyone care about voting rights?!
10/20/25 4:42 PM	No Gerrymandering Steven Marquard		I object to redirecting NC congressional districts.
10/20/25 4:42 PM	Dr Donna Jenkins-Hill		The redistricting proposed by Republican members is an abuse of power. It's embarrassing for our state and you know it's wrong. Grow a spine and do what is fair for the people of this state! Also, pass a budget!
10/20/25 4:42 PM	Ms Kieta Osteen-Cochrane	Citizen	I am against gerrymandering districts to benefit voting results. For either party. This should be illegal.
10/20/25 4:43 PM	Gerrymandering North Caro Jonathan Hinton		Where is our democracy? Looks like our state leaders are scared and will cheat to hang on to power, not develop responsible policies but cheat. Gerrymandering for one more Republican is irresponsible and child like. If you are doing everything wrong because Democrats did it, than stand up and show us the correct way of governing. Thank you

10/20/25 4:43 PM	Hazel Thornton		Our redistricting practices need to be overhauled by replacing partisan districts with neutrally drawn voting districts as the Constitution lays out. This is not what NCGA is proposing. Mid-cycle partisan gerrymandering has severe consequences: ‚Äć It silences voters. Communities are divided, and districts are drawn to ensure predetermined outcomes, thereby reducing competition and accountability. ‚Äć It destabilizes elections. Constantly changing district lines creates confusion, suppresses participation, and wastes taxpayer dollars. ‚Äć It weakens democracy. When maps are drawn to entrench one party‚Äôs power, voters lose confidence in the fairness of the system ‚Äî and many stop believing their vote matters at all.
10/20/25 4:43 PM	Carlyle Stewart	a father	Please stop the gerrymandering. I realize the appeal to increase or hold on to political power is strong. But what about the destruction of democracy? Isn't democracy more important, even than your job? Even than your party's agenda? I beg of you to consider your own moral conscience, your heart, and take courageous action to strengthen, and not weaken, the democracy we all depend on.
10/20/25 4:44 PM	Ms. Geri Sullivan		I am opposed to the proposed Congressional district plan as it does not reflect the voter population. The goal of a redistricting plan should be to include voters- not discourage them. If you truly want our state to be representative and reflect the community, then don't gerrymander for the sole purpose of one party trying to control the legislature. I hope you will support a democracy for all people - and not just a single political party.
10/20/25 4:44 PM	Ms Wendy Michener	private	This is an easy way to mark every Democrat who is in the pay of the Republican party.
10/20/25 4:44 PM	Don't allow it Virginia Mametz		Why can't we just let the election be fair, it's the patriotic thing to do. Please don't gerrymander the voting system. It's unfair and unethical.
10/20/25 4:44 PM	Mr David Williams		STOP TAKING AWAY VOTES! YOU REPRESENT ALL NORTH CAROLINIANS. THIS HAS ALWAYS BEEN A SWING STATE FOR A REASON. BECAUSE THERE ARE PLENTY ON BOTH SIDES. REPRESENT THE PEOPLE NOT JUST YOUR OWN INTERESTS OR WHAT THOSE MORONS IN DC WANT YOU TO DO. REPRESENT US. WE THE PEOPLE. LIBERTY AND JUSTICE FOR ALL!!!
10/20/25 4:44 PM	Ms. Kirby Bullard		This gerrymandering is making a mockery of a representative democracy. North Carolina is a state that is pretty evenly split between Republicans, Democrats and unaffiliated so to skew the boundaries so that there are 11 Republicans and 4 Democrats is not representative government. Stop bending the knee to Donald Trump and do better. ??
10/20/25 4:44 PM	Lynn Smith		I disagree with redirecting, especially since Republicans are only doing this to appease the President.
10/20/25 4:44 PM	Allison Dudley	Private citizen	The congressional redistricting bill is a map that undermines the votes of half of North Carolina citizens, promotes political dysfunction with further unfair division within our democracy, and violates voter trust. Unity will always win out over division, but efforts like this to rig the system continue to undermine our democracy and divide our country. Let the people vote in fair elections and decide their representatives instead of rigging the elections through gerrymandered maps!
10/20/25 4:44 PM	Linda Howey		Don't change the voting maps!!! Everyone in NC needs a voice. The new maps take that away
10/20/25 4:45 PM	Sandra Tuttle		I am totally against the GOP redustricting attempt and new maps. The entire fiasco just shows they feel they can not win with their policies and they have to cheat. You should be ashamed.
10/20/25 4:45 PM	Dr Frenesa Hall	Constituent	Republicans need to stop gerrymandering. We need a non-partisan committee to create fair districts that are representative of the people pf the state of North Carolina. Then no one party can gerrymander. Stop the cheating! Stop gerrymandering! No to this proposal and create a nonpartisan board that is qualified to to do this work!
10/20/25 4:45 PM	Yannick Autphenne		Fair elections are the very basis of our democracy that so many have died defending. In a state that voted 50/50 Democrat/Republican in 2022, to have 80% of representation to US Congress be Republican is just not right. DO NOT allow this illegal action to go through - let the peoples' vote decide our future, not crooked, feeble politicians.
10/20/25 4:45 PM	Samuel Seneca		Redistricting a map so that it is no longer bipartisan is disgusting and goes against everything NC stands for. Republicans should be ashamed for wanting this and going forward to give more power to a party that prides itself on taking rights away from its citizens, and not giving North Carolinians a voice.
10/20/25 4:45 PM	Ms Debra Frasier		Stop this gerrymandering of our state at once. The escalating efforts to dilute voting districts combined with limiting early voting and mail in ballots is aimed at discouraging voting. Stop all gerrymandering of the state of NC. Keep lines as fair as possible.
10/20/25 4:45 PM	Mr. Michael T. Huber	Self	If it is necessary to redistrict the congressional seats in North Carolina, they should be done on a completely non=partisan basis. They should represent the political and racial make-up of North Carolina so that the will of the people is made known in Washington DC. The current distributio of seats is far from that. Do the right thing rather than succumbing to partisan politics. The people of North Carolina want it.

10/20/25 4:45 PM	Ms. Melissa Phillips		There is a shameful move in our state which is used only to deny voting power to certain groups of citizens. This move is redistricting. It is not the way for politicians to win votes. If you stand for decency and fairness and you want everyone to have meaningful access to voting, do not rely on the false prospects of redistricting in North Carolina. Maps need to be fairly and consistently drawn and left alone! Maps can be drawn following each ten-year census count to update fair voting rights for everyone.
10/20/25 4:45 PM	Daniel Dudley		I am writing to formally express my strong opposition to the newly proposed congressional redistricting bill. This map is not a good-faith effort to create fair, compact, or representative districts. Instead, it is a transparent act of hyper-partisan gerrymandering that prioritizes political advantage over the fundamental principles of fair democracy and stable governance.
10/20/25 4:46 PM	Joseph Rooks	citizen	NC Needs to establish a non partisan commission to draw Congressional and other voting districts which are logically contiguous and not adjusted for arbitrary factors be they race, age, urbanity or political affiliation. These assignments should be on a fixed timeline whether it be 5 years or ten and should not be influenced by the party "in command" at a given moment. In the case at hand there should be no adjustment of boundaries unless accomplished by such a non partisan commission.
10/20/25 4:46 PM	Mrs Tracy Reed		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is an attempt to unfairly and illegally seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 4:47 PM	Linda Howey		Pass a budget!!! If you can't do that then you should not redraw maps.
10/20/25 4:47 PM	Christa Carter		I do not agree with gerrymandering the voting map of North Carolina. Please do not allow this to happen.
10/20/25 4:47 PM	Jennifer Sweatman		Partisan gerrymanders undermine the checks and balances the constitution was designed to preserve. They also erode trust and faith in the legitimacy of elected governments which are then seen as arbitrary if not outright tyrannical. Negotiation and compromise across partisan divides and not a one party state is what nourishes healthy constitutional republics. To thwart this mechanism is a betrayal of your oath of office and our common heritage as American descendants of the Revolution.
10/20/25 4:47 PM	Christine Perdicaro		This is unfair for a free and fair election!
10/20/25 4:47 PM	Dr Ellie Francis		Come on. This whole gerrymandering thing is a blatant, immoral cheat. Please, please, please let people's votes count and make sure that our representatives represent ALL North Carolinians, not just those with the power to gerrymander. WWJD?
10/20/25 4:48 PM	Karen Marquard		Please do not let this go through! I feel ashamed to live in a state that would allow this to happen! The Republicans in this state are not listening to what the majority of the population want!! They know their policies are not popular with the majority so the only way they can win an election is to gerrymander the districts so the people,Äôs voices will not be heard!!! I do not want to live in a state like Texas that will do this kind of criminal behavior to elect officials who are corrupted by the current administration!! Look at the recent No Kings rally and see how much the majority of our population in NC trust and want more Republicans elected-NONE!!! They are liars, cheaters and criminals that should be arrested and sent to jail for supporting this criminal administration!!!!!!
10/20/25 4:48 PM	Cheryl Sebrell		There is no reason other than autocracy to keep redistricting NC to give unfair advantage to one party and eliminate representation for 50% of this state,Äôs tax paying citizens. If the only way Republicans can win is to cheat, they are doing the wrong thing. How about passing policies that will benefit citizens (such as funding schools; helping citizens acquire affordable healthcare, childcare, and housing) instead of just looking out for billionaire donors? Shame!
10/20/25 4:50 PM	Susan Furr		I,Äôm absolutely against redistrictimg.
10/20/25 4:50 PM	Mrs Denise Robinson		Please do the right thing. Now more than ever with our democracy under attack. You must consider our country,Äôs history as a leader worldwide for human rights, liberty and justice for all. The Republican Party is no longer respected as a legitimate representation for a political party in a democratic society. This redistricting attempt in the great state of NC is a disgraceful, unconstitutional attempt to destroy free and fair elections. Have the decency of past politicians of the Republican Party to respect this honored process of fair, free elections which represent all North Carolina residents and deliver to the people the state and local government representation they deserve and demand.
10/20/25 4:50 PM	Kristy King		A resounding NO to redistricting NC!
10/20/25 4:51 PM	Christina Overstreet		Rather than passing an overdue budget, you are focused on gerrymandered redistricting efforts because you're bending over to the desires and pressure of President Trump? An overwhelming BIPARTISAN MAJORITY of North Carolinians, myself and my family included, oppose this effort! Unfair maps disenfranchise voters and lead to long-lasting political problems- like severe polarization, legislative gridlock and ultimately a weaker Congress. I demand that my state senators oppose any redistricting bills.
10/20/25 4:51 PM	Mohammad Yaseen		There is absolutely no legal or ethical basis for redistricting for the state again. This is an obvious ploy to prevent actual representation by the demographics in the state and skew the polls to the advantage of one political party. There was no census recently that requires a new map to be drawn. This is an obvious abuse of power and the legal mechanisms of the voting process to disenfranchise voters and maintain political control over the state and representation within Congress. It is absolutely absurd that this session is being called while the government has been shut down for 20 days, and the lawmakers were sent home rather than protect the rights of the citizens of this country to fair, equitable, and affordable healthcare and other important social services.

10/20/25 4:51 PM	Kathleen Repass		Each fifth grade student learns that the Revolutionary War was caused by "taxation without representation." And every elected official should also know this basic premise upon which our nation was founded. Americans choose our representatives. It's what our Founding Father's fought for, and is why we separated from Great Britain. Bless the NCGA's little ole hearts. They've either forgotten their American History. Or, they're deliberately choosing to ignore it. Either way, the MAGA Republicans needs to stop gerrymandering maps to suit their own desires. North Carolina deserves more from you. Be smarter than a Fifth Grader and prove that you know how to do what's right for this State and our Nation. For God's sakes, we are America. And we deserve to choose our representatives, just like Washington, Adams, and Jefferson planned.
10/20/25 4:51 PM	Barbara Wood	Constituent	I am OPPOSED to redistricting that is not initiated by new Census data. This move is purely political and an attempt to disenfranchise poor black voters in eastern NC. Shame on you! God is watching!
10/20/25 4:52 PM	Julie Baker		I am firmly against the new redistricting map. It is very clear gerrymandering!
10/20/25 4:53 PM	Rosanne Von Reyn		Why are you redistricting NOW,Ä¶is it to satisfy the demands of a ‚Äúking‚Äù? Is is to stack the deck against a free and fair election? This NC Legislature will be remembered as contributing to the demise of our Democracy!!!
10/20/25 4:53 PM	DR Ault Nathanielsz	private citizen	there is no reason to redistrict at this time. To do so is purely politically motivated and wastes my resources as a taxpaying North Carolinian. Go back to work.
10/20/25 4:53 PM	Mrs. Tabetha Priest	N/A	This blatant power grab is unconscionable. The obvious disparity in the proposed balance of power among the constituents only serves to illustrate weakness - the message to the people is that the only way you can win is to rig the system in an attempt to guarantee the outcome. A review of registered voters has almost an even break between the three main parties (2.3 million republican, 2.3 million democrat, 2.9 million unaffiliated), with the largest segment of voters identifying as unaffiliated. When the majority of voters don‚Äôt belong to a particular party, this is all the more reason that constituents should be represented at a 50/50 ratio (7R/7D) and not 80/20 (11R/3D). This is logical and fair. REPRESENT THE PEOPLE, not your own party.
10/20/25 4:53 PM	Lisa Corinne Johnson		I‚Äôm a North Carolinian, and I‚Äôm tired of seeing everyone‚Äôs voices diluted by gerrymandered maps. When politicians redraw districts to protect their own power, they‚Äôre admitting they don‚Äôt trust voters. My vote matters. Your vote matters. Every vote should. We deserve competitive elections that reflect the real will of the people, not rigged outcomes that serve party interests. In a state as competitive as ours, such an unbalanced map is clearly unfair. Please draw fair maps!! Respect democracy and the people you serve.
10/20/25 4:53 PM	Mrs. Patrice Ilharramendy		Once, again, this body intends to disenfranchise a large swath of our fellow NC citizens. You have shirked your duty to complete our state budget. Rather than work to protect and serve all of our citizens, this legislature intends to cheat and demean our state. In fact, one of your GOP colleagues just came out and said that he only represents citizens of his own party. Wow. Please do the right thing. Take care of our state and don‚Äôt bow to a tyrant.
10/20/25 4:53 PM	Krikor Kerjilian		No redistricting without a new census. If it's not math based it's gerrymandering and illegal!
10/20/25 4:54 PM	Cathy Kratt		I am against redistricting unless our congress outsources the map making to an independent, unbiased organization. This current effort is blatantly partisan and undermines the rights of voters to choose who represents them. This should be about what is fair for the citizens of North Carolina, NOT what Trump wants in order to secure his power.
10/20/25 4:55 PM	mary davis		Please do not continue to gerrymander the NC map. It is not fair and it discriminates voters based on their party affiliation. More NC voters think this should be against the law. Let‚Äôs stop using it against each other. And let‚Äôs make sure that our elected officials work for all of us.
10/20/25 4:55 PM	JD Becht		An unequivocal power-grab where the voice of the state is silenced by officials failing to properly represent its people. Shame.
10/20/25 4:56 PM	Johanna Birckmayer		Please reject the current proposal to redistrict (again). North Carolina is a 50/50 state and any fair map would send about 7 representatives of each party to represent us. Our maps are already ‚Äòunfair,‚Äô and the current redistricting is a blatant political move to maintain power and appease the President. The plan disenfranchises democrats and minority communities. A democracy cannot maintain when power is prioritized over fair processes.
10/20/25 4:56 PM	Megan Fryar		This proposed map is a blatant power grab by the NC GOP. A group that is confident in the public opinion of their policies would not have to CHEAT to win. The majority of North Carolinians do NOT approve of what the current administration is doing. SHAME on the NC GOP for kowtowing to Trump and not allowing the citizens of NC choose who they want representing them.

10/20/25 4:56 PM	Absolutely Not Mallory Raines		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 4:56 PM	Mr. Daniel Mickey		Its a pathetic move and History will treat you as the constitutional traitors you are. Trump/maga will go away, you will have to answer for your behavior
10/20/25 4:57 PM	Annalyn DiFranco		End gerrymandering. I want a fair election.
10/20/25 4:57 PM	Jacqueline McGraw		Please do not further gerrymander our state! This is not what the people want and you represent us, not Donald Trump!
10/20/25 4:57 PM	Alfreda Perkins	Edgecombe County Democratic Party	I am absolutely appalled that Republicans would rather gerrymander maps in hopes of receiving more republican votes. However, what you are doing affects everyone here in North Carolina across the board. No matter the culture, political party, gender, age group, female, male, LGBTQ+, etc.. Hear us as we hit the streets in many states expressing our concerns in a peaceful manner. "We" will not be silenced! Hundreds of thousands of North Carolinians are experiencing rising prices fueled by the Presidents tariffs, tax cuts for billionaires at the expense of the working class and small businesses. Now, instead of listening to the people of North Carolina, they have decided to rig the game by changing the maps and attempting to dilute Black voting power. This is nothing short of a blatant attack on fair representation and North Carolinians,Äô voting rights because they know they can,Äôt win fairly. How many times does it take for Republicans to attempt to rig District 1 trying to oust Congressman Don Davis in an election. Well, you can't call it winning when you have to steal votes, or call asking to find a certain number of votes. This is the Republicans efforts of redistricting North Carolina to defeat Congressman Don Davis. This would be the 4th time in 5 years, all in an effort to insulate themselves from the will of the voters without success. Republicans know their track record is broadly unpopular with over 60% of Americans opposing to the Big, Ugly Law. This bill will rip health care away from hundreds of thousands North Carolina residents and puts 5 rural hospitals in the state at risk of closure. Families struggling with rising costs are seeing their utility bills increase by nearly $500 per year. Some households are facing the inability to provide food for their families because of the high cost of rental/mortgages. And lets not leave out the farmers inability to grow and harvest their crops as many of them are now faced with losing their land. Republicans are in the position to help their constituents but would rather continue to give deep cuts to the wealthy instead. We,Äôre more than 3 weeks into a government shutdown and instead of coming to the table to reopen the government but are continuing to receive their pay on the backs of constituents. Republicans are more focused on trying to get more Republicans elected into seats. Well, it,Äôs not going to work because the people are watching. Republicans should pay attention to what the people are saying and asking of them. They were elected by the people for the people and are supposed to be the representatives supporting the people instead of driving more households into poverty. We're not blind and we understand why the proposed map was drawn which is almost entirely as an attack on Black North Carolinians and is an attempt to remove Black representation from eastern North Carolina. Republicans don,Äôt like the way Democrats vote so they want to
10/20/25 4:58 PM	Mr. Jay Gladieux	Retired	Gerrymandering is corrosive to our democracy. It enables special interests to accumulate excessive power to undermine the will of the people. The vast majority of North Carolinians of both parties oppose the practice. We must support the Fair Maps Act
10/20/25 4:58 PM	Dr Philip Burton		I am adamantly opposed to this any attempt to further gerrymander the congressional map for blatantly political reasons. I am a registered unaffiliated voter who believes that election results should represent the will of the people. Not the party in power. This continued disenfranchisement of voters is unacceptable and must end, starting with throwing this "legislation" into the trash.
10/20/25 4:58 PM	Ms. Ann BASKERVILL		Please be fair.
10/20/25 4:58 PM	Brianna Roper		Redistricting soling to meet the demands of the President is disgusting. The map is not bipartisan, and is being pushed to make NC a one party state that does not truly represent the diverse populations that live here. By voting for this make, Republicans are voting to maintain their unpopular hold on our state rather than truly helping the people that live here. I hope there is a Hell hot enough for those who vote to take away the power from the people to serve a Wanna-be-Dictator.
10/20/25 4:58 PM	Mr Ernest Norris		These redistricting games are a disgrace and threat to our democracy. STOP IT.
10/20/25 4:58 PM	Mary An Roser	N/A	I am an unaffiliated voter like most North Carolinians. I oppose political gerrymandering by both parties and urge you to refrain from drawing new districts until the 2030 census comes out and then, using impartial computer analytics to draw logical districts that pay no attention to either political party. It is high time we put an end to gerrymandering. Thank you
10/20/25 4:59 PM	Janice Rubin		Please Do not vote for gerrymandering and redistricting in NC. It is not needed and unfair. Do the right thing. The voters will be watching what you do.
10/20/25 4:59 PM	Susan Smith		Redistricting needs to be split equally between parties. No gerrymandering, please! And certainly should not be done before it,Äôs due.

10/20/25 4:59 PM	Rebecca Weaver		I am writing to express my profound opposition to the proposed congressional redistricting map. This plan represents an egregious example of partisan gerrymandering that undermines the fundamental principles of representative democracy and threatens to disenfranchise a significant portion of North Carolina's electorate. Our nation's enduring motto, E pluribus unum "Out of many, one",Äî is a reminder that our strength comes from the union and representation of our diversity. True American strength is built on the foundation of a government that is responsive to the complex and varied voices of its people, not one where district lines are manipulated to predetermine results. When maps are drawn to pack and crack voters based on partisan advantage, the message sent to hundreds of thousands of North Carolinians is clear: your vote, your community, and your voice do not matter unless they conform to the intended political outcome. My primary concerns with this plan are that it: 1. Disenfranchises Voters: By isolating or diluting the voting power of communities, particularly those who have historically elected representatives from the non-majority party, this map effectively silences their collective voice. Districts become so skewed that general elections cease to be meaningful contests, undermining voter turnout and faith in the democratic process. 2. Does Not Represent the Electorate: North Carolina is a closely divided state. A congressional map designed to lock in an 11-3 or similar partisan split grossly misrepresents the political will of the overall statewide electorate. Representatives elected from such manufactured districts are accountable to the political machine that drew the lines, not to a competitive, cross-section of their constituents. 3. Prioritizes Power over Principle: Mid-decade redistricting, especially when driven by the stated goal of securing a specific number of seats for one party, is a blatant misuse of legislative authority that erodes the constitutional promise of fair and equal representation. I urge the members of the General Assembly to reject this proposed map. The people of North Carolina deserve fair maps where their votes, regardless of their political affiliation or race, hold equal weight, and where our representatives are elected by a truly representative cross-section of our diverse communities. Our legislative process should strive to achieve a map that reflects the true political makeup of the state, thereby upholding the core democratic ideal that the voters choose their representatives, not the other way around.
10/20/25 5:00 PM	Mary Sheffield		We need honest voting and good representation. This move to gerrymander is corrupt.
10/20/25 5:01 PM	mr James smith		I am strongly against redistricting.
10/20/25 5:01 PM	Reid Clark		North Carolina is already disproportionately gerrymandered. It is a massive slight to voters and to gerrymander more to gain an extra seat in the house for the president is an abuse of power and should be disregarded with prejudice. Do not submit to a President who so willfully disregards our country and constitution.
10/20/25 5:01 PM	Heiat Dumas		I am an Army Veteran and a voter in NC. As a citizen who has served this country, I believe our democracy functions best when every voters voice Carrie,Äôs equal weight. I urge the committee to keep or adopt a district map that reflect fair representation, not political advantage.
10/20/25 5:01 PM	Mr Timothy Galvin	Self	In 1789 the constitution was written specifying that a census be taken every 10 years, that representatives be apportioned to the states according to population and that a number of voting districts equal to the number of representatives should be formed. The requirement that redistricting should occur after every census is no accident. In England, redistricting seldom occurred and then only at the direction of the king. As a result, some districts had very few people and others had very many. Representation was not equal. So, this clause in our constitution was designed to assure there would be regular redistricting and not random redistricting. It is to occur after a new census and only after a census unless ordered by a court. The current action proposed by the state legislature is clearly random and should not go forward. It violates the intent of the US Constitution.
10/20/25 5:01 PM	Please don't destroy it Andrea Sharp		Please use your brain and vote no on redistricting NC. This isn't right and you know it. America is more than trump. He is not a king. Don't bend a knee to his agenda. You will destroy America. Deep down you know it.
10/20/25 5:01 PM	Ms Hilda Courter	None	All the people of this fine state are entitled to be fairly represented. This means that from time to time each representative may not get exactly what he/ she wants, but if you all work together, it will be for the good of the state. THE GOOD OF THE STATE,Ä¶which ultimately means the good of us all.
10/20/25 5:02 PM	Lara Clarke		Who does redistricting every other year benefit and why?
10/20/25 5:02 PM	Ms Jasmine Barcelona	Wake public schools	Stop the games and let this state return to the democratic foundation of this country. Enough already, we the people have lost faith in an entire party. Working together more people live well. Working against half (or more) of the citizens means a less functional and happy society. This gerrymandering out in the open is disgusting and unlawful. Pass a budget. Pay the educators who make our future. Enough of the games. No one wins.
10/20/25 5:03 PM	Dr Catrelia Hunter	NA	I am oppose because Proposed plans will disadvantage African Americans
10/20/25 5:04 PM	L.B. AUTRY		Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. This overt violation fairness will make me dan sure NOT to vote for ANYTHING the Republicans want in the future...

10/20/25 5:04 PM	Michael Sweeney	North Carolina Citizen	I strongly oppose more gerrymandering to create any more Republican seats. Voters should choose representatives, not political parties. Don't yield to another Trump power grab!!!
10/20/25 5:05 PM	judith smith		Please vote no against redistricting. I am from Salisbury and totally against this practice of unfair representation.
10/20/25 5:05 PM	Dr Eloise Bradham		I, as a voting citizen whose vote should count , would like to say a resounding NO to further gerrymandering in North Carolina!
10/20/25 5:05 PM	Marshall Peters		How incredibly rude. Can't the GOP win without cheating? Why would you support MAGA instead of the PEOPLE of NC. Do not do any redistricting. You blatantly stated it's to be sure Democrats can't win. That is gerrymandering at its worst. SHAME ON ANYONE WHO SUPPORTS THIS HORRIBLE ACT
10/20/25 5:05 PM	Shayna Wilkinson		No way! Instead of serving the people you are supposed to serve, this is just an attempt to stay in power dishonestly!
10/20/25 5:06 PM	Kelly R		fair maps and equality for everyone is vital. Am not in support of redistricting.
10/20/25 5:06 PM	Sophia Davis		Hello, My name is Sophia Davis and I'm a constituent from Boone, NC. I am writing to let you know that I am very upset about the current redistricting efforts using the proposed 2025 Congressional map. I'm especially concerned about the lack of voter participation in this process. 85% of North Carolinians oppose gerrymandering in NC, including me. Voters should be able to choose their representatives, not the other way around. The proposed redistricting is a brazen effort to disenfranchise your constituents, which is a disgrace to democracy. Please support fair elections in NC. Speak out against the current redistricting plan and reject these maps. Thank you.
10/20/25 5:06 PM	Lisa Lindman		Our votes matter. Redrawing the maps strips fair representation for our state. Gerrymandering must end.
10/20/25 5:06 PM	Amanda Lewis		I oppose this redistricting. I am a North Carolina resident.
10/20/25 5:06 PM	Irene Rosen		This redistricting is outrageous and is not a true representation of the people of our state.
10/20/25 5:06 PM	On Redistricting Cathline Nagel		As a constituent of NC, I expect fair representation and non-gerrymandered maps. The proposed maps are disgustingly gerrymandered in favor of Republicans and do not represent NC constituents. Do better. You are not representing us.
10/20/25 5:07 PM	rustin levenson		I oppose the redistricting plan. The effect will be to disenfranchise voters.
10/20/25 5:07 PM	Shanna Reeves		I disagree with mid cycle redistricting. PASS A BUDGET ON TIME FOR ONCE!!!
10/20/25 5:07 PM	Leeann Rollins		I oppose the current plan for redistricting. The current plan is gerrymandering! Gerrymandering undermines the fairness and integrity of democratic representation. North Carolina is practically a 50/50 state and our state representatives should reflect such.
10/20/25 5:07 PM	Claudia Ridley		Reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 5:08 PM	Michael Brown		I,Äôm against requiring citizens to submit a passport, birth certificate, or other citizenship documents to register to vote! Only half of American citizens have a passport, and 69 million American citizens don,Äôt have a birth certificate with their current legal name on it. It is already illegal for noncitizens to register and vote in federal or state elections. Requiring a document to prove American citizenship to register to vote in federal elections is unnecessary. State election officials have systems to verify an individual voter,Äôs eligibility and ensure voter rolls are accurate. There are many communities of eligible voters who would be unnecessarily burdened by the requirement of documentary proof of citizenship. Among them are military voters, families who have been impacted by natural disasters may have lost necessary documentation, and Americans who have changed their name, like married women.
10/20/25 5:08 PM	Mrs. Heather Hartsock		I am not in favor of this partisan redistricting plan. State Republicans are using our electoral map like a game board and that's unacceptable. It's time for them to be about the welfare of North Carolinians and not their party leadership in Washington D C.
10/20/25 5:08 PM	Amanda Kowski		The current redistricting isn,Äôt about representing the PEOPLE, it,Äôs about maintaining power by white conservative men. I am a NC voter and I do not support this.
10/20/25 5:09 PM	Eric Thomas		As I understand it, some 84% of North Carolinians support fairly drawn voting maps. I'm part of that 84%. I urge you to do everything in your power to prevent the current effort to further gerrymander North Carolina's voting districts and, hopefully, undo the current level of gerrymandering.
10/20/25 5:09 PM	Lela Winton		If this map is so important why didn,Äôt you draw it this way in the many previous recent times you have redrawn maps? The voters of NC are not fools, and we know we are 50/50 by popular vote. I fear that my comments here will somehow flag me as some kind of enemy of the state, that,Äôs how far this reign of ,Äòus vs them,Äô terror has gone.
10/20/25 5:09 PM	Johnson Burke		Democracy only works when all voices are heard and represented fairly. Fair maps are essential to fair elections, and this principle is under threat when gerrymandering allows politicians to choose their voters instead of the other way around!
10/20/25 5:09 PM	Hildy Teegen		I implore our NC legislators to abandon this current attempt at redistricting as it represents a complete disregard for the rights of all North Carolinians to have their votes count and demonstrates an unwillingness on the part of those supporting this redistricting to subject the actions of the legislature to fair review at the ballot box.
10/20/25 5:09 PM	A Kenyon		I ask the NC legislature to stop the even-more-extreme, gerrymandered redistricting plan that is only being proposed as a way for NC GOP members to show they are Trump,Äôs bootlickers. Stop trying to interfere with NC constituents,Äô right to fair representation! Voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around - you work for US, not for Trump!

10/20/25 5:09 PM	Larry Pelky	Indivisible Defenders of Democracy	Mid-term gerrymandering is cheating. We see what you're doing & we don't like it. Trump is killing our Nation & you people support him. It's absolutely disgusting. We the people will not let you get away with this. For God's sake show some spine.
10/20/25 5:09 PM	No gerrymandering Adrienne Stephens		I am a registered Unaffiliated voter. I am thoroughly disturbed by the relatively secretive and completely off-schedule plan to redraw district lines this week. It should be disgusting to ALL people who value democracy, no matter what party. No one involved is even pretending it,Äôs anything other than a power grab. Shame on you. Hopefully some Republicans currently in power here will recognize, if nothing else, that tides turn and the same tactics can and will be used against them in the future. More importantly, hopefully some will even recognize that gerrymandering is unjust and unethical. Why in the world would anyone pro-representative-democracy want votes not to be tallied fairly? Do a better actual job for North Carolinians and earn our votes without rigging the lines.
10/20/25 5:09 PM	Vote NO!!! Santha Garver		I am writing today to urge you in the most emphatic terms to vote NO on the proposed redistricting plan for our state. Redrawing congressional districts specifically to ensure that only one party ever has a chance of winning any given election is absolutely wrong, no matter which political party engages in it. Gerrymandering is unjust. Please, do not stoop to that level. As your constituent, I ask you to vote NO.
10/20/25 5:09 PM	Rev Hart Edmonds	North Carolina Council of Churches	Equal representation in a healthy democracy is essential if citizens are to trust their government and themselves engage in voting. The proposed redrawing of congressional maps in NC at the direction of President Trump is a clear power grab, which we all know comes because he is afraid of a fully functioning democracy. I strenuously object to a Congressional map that would likely lead to 12 Republican representatives and only 2 Democrats in a state that is about evenly divided. This is a travesty. It is anti-democratic no matter how you spin things. One day the party oppose will be tempted to return the favor of redrawing maps and you will raise your voices in opposition to this crude tactic. I urge you to refrain from this underhanded action.
10/20/25 5:10 PM	Regina Pastula	Associate of Sisters of mercy	I disapprove of the gerrymandering that is proposed for our state. It is illegal and sways the ,Äútrue,Äù feelings of the voters of this state. It,Äôs like children playing a game of luck ball and they rearrange the team members so that one team is guaranteed a win. Please reconsider this action. Thank you very much! Regina C Pastula
10/20/25 5:10 PM	Cynthia Morrison	Private Citizen	Speech ?Good Morning, My name is Cynthia Morrison I have lived in North Carolina for 56 years. I am a taxpayer, a voter, a mother, and a grandmother. My family has deep roots in this state ,Äî past, present, and up and coming as my grandchildren grow and become involved. I am also the mother of a 2016 United States Air Force Academy graduate who proudly served this nation. My son put his life on the line to defend the principles of freedom, self-governance, and the right of every citizen to have an equal voice in their government. He wore the uniform to protect all Americans not a party not a politician but our Constitution and our democratic process. He honorably separated last year to pursue his next mission and serve us in a different way. He planned to run for public office and hoped to make a positive impact. I,Äôm beyond devastated to share that he just passed away from the very rare and extremely aggressive bile duct cancer in July after a short but valiant battle. A week before he left us he asked me and our family to continue with his mission since he wouldn,Äôt be able to.
10/20/25 5:10 PM	Colleen Nieto		Stop rigging our elections by gerrymandering our state! If you have to cheat to win, you aren't actually winning. You are subverting the will of the people.
10/20/25 5:10 PM	Cynthia Holley		I urge you to NOT draw new lines that will destroy the integrity of our election process.
10/20/25 5:10 PM	Anna Abreo		Our democracy depends on fair maps ,Äî and on keeping the promise that every vote truly counts. Stop this gerrymandering NOW!
10/20/25 5:10 PM	Wendy DuFour		This is just a way to make more republican votes and shut down democrats votes. You will be remembered for this at election time.

10/20/25 5:11 PM	Beverly Schnick	private citizen	As a NC citizen I object to the redistricting plan being proposed. While Mr. Trump is president, he did not win the election by any wide margin. The registered voters of NC deserve voting districts similar to the party affiliation of those registered. One third of the population is registered Democratic, one third is registered Republican and one third is independent. There is no reason that our state should have a republican leaning majority of districts. Mr. Trump has no mandate from the NC voters. NC congressional districts should represent the people of NC and their ideas.
10/20/25 5:11 PM	Bryant Holsenbeck	Voter	I do not approve of this new redistricting effort in any way. You are taking local power away and hiding the fact that many people do not want all of the measures you will take in an even more jerrymandered state I DO NOT APPROVE IN ANY WAY. YOU ARE WASTING MY Tax paying dollars to pass bills that more than half of us to dot support. This is highly unetheical.
10/20/25 5:12 PM	Mr Aaron Taylor		Voters are supposed to choose their representatives, not the other way around. We are a purple state, and no state deserves one party rule. Do your damn jobs, pass a budget, give teachers a raise, and stop cheating!
10/20/25 5:12 PM	Eric Duehring		As a North Carolinian, I urge you NOT to redraw our congressional maps mid-decade. Please REJECT any new congressional maps at this time. We must be represented fairly in congress.
10/20/25 5:13 PM	Ms Melissa Curran		Hello, Please stop and think about what you're doing to North Carolina voters with all of this redistricting. I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Manipulating district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold our leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Thank you for your time.
10/20/25 5:13 PM	NO GERTYMANDERING Amanda Baker		We are so sick of your racist gerrymandering. It's shameful. Your policies hurt North Carolinians and now you are bowing to a authoritarian wanna be dictator because it will line your pockets. History will remember your treason. Shame on you all.
10/20/25 5:14 PM	Chrystina Kub		Disgraceful that you are trying to ‚Äúfix‚Äù redirecting to favor Republican agendas.
10/20/25 5:14 PM	Susan Reinecke		As a North Carolinian, I urge you NOT to redraw our congressional maps mid-decade. Please REJECT any new congressional maps at this time.
10/20/25 5:15 PM	Reject partisan maps Elizabeth Wilcox	Self	The proposed redistricting plan is unfair and unnecessary. It is a waste of NC taxpayers,Äôs money. It is a transparent attempt to stay in power and will deny one person one vote. It puts party before the founding principles of our country and should be rejected.
10/20/25 5:15 PM	Mr Marco Cipolletti	Advocate/Atrium Health/Wake Forest Baptist	Do what is right, fair, and just. Quit the gerrymandering!
10/20/25 5:16 PM	Redistricting Linda Just		Should you move ahead with this plan, you will lose. You know this is wrong. And, when wrong, only other move is to make it RIGHT.
10/20/25 5:16 PM	Mr John Fehan		This redistricting is depriving citizens of their fair representation and is a violation of the US Constitution.
10/20/25 5:16 PM	Mrs. Cynthia Lodestro		You all took an oath to uphold the constitution. In trying to redistrict you are violating that oath and attempting to steal our votes. How could you? How can you live with yourselves?
10/20/25 5:16 PM	Mrs Leslie Kendall		Gerrymandering is what happens when parties don‚Äôt have enough support for platforms/candidates to win elections outright. So the party ‚Äúfixes‚Äù districts in order to win more seats than the other party. It‚Äôs an unfair practice that disenfranchises whole groups of voters. I‚Äôm 100% against it because gerrymandered districts result in a lopsided balance of power in which large groups of constituents are then under represented in the legislative branch.
10/20/25 5:17 PM	Robert Stewart		Midterm re-districting to favor Republicans more seats is if not in name, but in effect, disenfranchising Black voters and their representation. Furthermore, in a State where the population is effectively 50% for each party, having only three Democratic seats is unrepresentative of our population at large. It is unconscionable that Guilford County is split over three districts. My concerns as a citizen of an urban county are not served by being in a district covers some many mountain counties. Bottom line: arbitrarily changing the districts less than 10 years after a census is also unconstitutional. Be careful what you ask for, for the political pendulum will swing back to respectable and reasonable governance, and if you allow this to go through for Republicans, the Democrats can reverse everything, and then where will you be?
10/20/25 5:17 PM	Dr Eileen Watson		Please do not engage in this mid-cycle attempt to even further gerrymander an already-unfair map. My area has been seriously impacted by gerrymandering at the GA and Congressional levels such that the voices of half or more of the voters are not being heard. Voters of all affiliations overwhelmingly oppose this sort of partisan manipulation to unfairly maintain power. Our representation should reasonably reflect the distribution of voter affiliation. This is already not the case and causes a lack of credibility of the elected people and the overall government. I‚Äôm old enough to remember when representation was more balanced and more fair, and I hope that we can find a way back to something better than we have today. Thank you.
10/20/25 5:17 PM	Susan L Henry	Citizen	This is unfair and blatantly undemocratic. Fair representation is what we expect from our elected officials. This is NOT what you were elected to do!!!
10/20/25 5:17 PM	Shame Ed Manning		Shameful redistributing. If you can win, cheat? There is no justification you this gerrymandering. You have inspired me to contribute Ute more to campaigns against you and volunteer at twice the hours to generate votes against you. You disgust me.

10/20/25 5:18 PM	Dennis Schellhase		Election cheating on this scale at the direction of the President is frankly repulsive. All Americans who love their country and their freedom are morally obligated to vote against this rigging and stealing of the voice of the people. Anyone who votes for it, has answered a big fat NO to Benjamin Franklin's statement, "A republic, if you can keep it!" They will be remembered in infamy. Hence, I urge you to remember the moment and peril that we are in and vote AGAINST this redistricting rigging and steal.
10/20/25 5:18 PM	Valeria Truitt		I object to the General Assembly devoting time and energy to redrawing congressional maps in the middle of the 10-year census, this time for no apparent reason other than to COUNTER the will of the majority of North Carolina voters. The State of North Carolina is 4 months into the fiscal year and still does not have a budget on which to operate. Legislators should be devoting their time, talent, and energy to doing the business of North Carolina to benefit all NC citizens, not playing political games that will help a few people and harm the vast majority.
10/20/25 5:19 PM	Stop the Gerrymandering Penny Button		North Carolina is 50/50 between the Democratic and Republican parties. You are trying to silence half of the population and deny our votes. Keep this up and you will find the state so overwhelmingly Democratic that your machinations will no longer work. Apartheid systems never last. Listen to the people you are supposed to represent, irrespective of party and stop these quasi legal shenanigans. Represent US, the people of NC
10/20/25 5:19 PM	Mrs Patricia Dickerson	Voter	I don't think there should be any form of redistricting to accommodate the Republican Party for political gain.
10/20/25 5:20 PM	Shawna Ciccone		I am vehemently against the redrawing of the NC Congressional Maps. The voters should be able to choose their representatives, not the other way around.
10/20/25 5:20 PM	Braden Douglass		Gerrymandering undermines democracy by allowing politicians to pick their voters instead of voters picking their representatives. At the state level, this practice skews election outcomes, diminishes competition, and silences communities whose votes are diluted through deliberate map-drawing. We should adopt independent, transparent redistricting commissions, clear criteria for compactness and respect for communities of interest, and public mapping tools so lines reflect voters rather than partisan advantage. Protecting fair maps will restore accountability, increase voter turnout, and ensure policymakers respond to constituents instead of the carved-out interests that benefit from safe seats. State legislatures must enact reforms, and citizens should demand and support measures that make redistricting impartial, transparent, and subject to judicial review so every vote carries equal weight.
10/20/25 5:20 PM	Mrs. Cindy Wood		I am opposed to redistricting.
10/20/25 5:20 PM	STOP gerrymandering Lindsey Ricker	Individual	STOP GERRYMANDERING! We the people of North Carolina want fair congressional maps. Gerrymandered maps disenfranchise voters by not allowing us to hold our leaders accountable, it creates a system in which leaders instead answer to corporations and party bosses, it allows leaders to pass extreme laws that are not popular among voters, and it disempowers voters and strips our votes of legislative power. Gerrymandering is not the will of the people. It is corruption! The 2025 proposed congressional district plan is an attack on the life and liberty of every North Carolinian!! An evil and disgraceful proposition!!
10/20/25 5:21 PM	Mrs Joan Brown		Please vote no for redistricting . Voting right Are what makes our democracy work. Redistricting makes for an undemocratic unfair election - VOTE NO
10/20/25 5:21 PM	David Josephsohn	Self	My comment, which hopefully you‚Äôre hearing from many others, is simply that NC doesn‚Äôt need any further corrupt gerrymandering by the majority in the Legislature. This mid-cycle meddling serves no purpose other than to provide future coverage for an unpopular and authoritarian chief executive. You‚Äôll all be remembered in future elections.
10/20/25 5:21 PM	Kevin McKay-Carroll		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice.
10/20/25 5:22 PM	Leslie Sharpe		Voters should be able to select their leaders. Leaders should not be able to select their voters. This is blatant gerrymandering by the Republican party in service to their agenda, at the expense of the people of North Carolina.
10/20/25 5:23 PM	Erin Bowman		Gerrymandering hurts our communities and our country. If you believe in democracy, don't allow one party to rig the system. Everyone should be heard.
10/20/25 5:23 PM	Carol Hamlin		I strongly oppose the redistricting proposal that is before the legislature this week. No rationale other than politics and racial bias has been offered for this proposal. Let's support fair elections and passing a budget rather than wasting time with proposals such as this.
10/20/25 5:23 PM	We want fair maps!! Wendy Baron		It‚Äôs disturbing that you‚Äôre so afraid that you‚Äôre changing the maps, taking control away from where it belongs, with the voters. You‚Äôve bent a knee and can no longer be trusted with to represent the people of this state Republican, Democrat or Independent. SHAME ON YOU!

10/20/25 5:24 PM	Ted T		Myself and everyone I know is against the proposed redistricting plan for Congressional District 1, in eastern NC. This would skew fair representation of NC voters who are 38% Unaffiliated, 32% Democratic, and only 30% Republican. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. If this gerrymandering passes, the obvious conclusion will be that the NC Republican party does not care if the people of North Carolina are fairly represented, but instead cowardly allow themselves to be a mere tool in servitude to the current White House occupant, by obeying his latest command to artificially tip the scale to dishonestly gain underserved power.
10/20/25 5:24 PM	Julia Rhan		Every voter in our state deserves to have their voice heard and their vote count equally. One of the things I most loved about NC is that it represents a diversity of ideologies across the political spectrum. I loved that it wasn,Äôt dominated by one party or another. That,Äôs what has made NC prosper. This proposal continues to kill compromise and promotes us vs them thinking that is destroying the country. I want our General Assembly to seek more fair maps and elections, not less fair and more disenfranchising. DO NOT REDISTRICT.
10/20/25 5:25 PM	Randy Kauftheil		I oppose the proposed Congressional redistricting plan. All our state representatives need to be aligned with the citizens they logically represent and not be gerrymandered in districts to preserve the status quo or worse. Redistricting to support a federal administration that is overriding the constitution of the United States and not abiding by the rule of law, is unconscionable and is against the founding our democratic republic and the oath taken by our state legislatures. Standup to pressure to make changes that you know is wrong. Support representative democracy!
10/20/25 5:25 PM	Ms. Veronique Singerman	N/A	Redistricting, redrawing North Carolina's 1st Congressional District at the request of the president, in order to guarantee one more Republican in the House, as a way to silence voters and to sway elections, is simply dishonest and antidemocratic.
10/20/25 5:25 PM	Gerrymandering Meghan Ramsey		Both parties oppose gerrymandering in North Carolina, which includes 87% of Democrats and 78% of Republicans.
10/20/25 5:25 PM	Michael Berens		As we do not have ballot measures here in NC it is up to the legislature and not the people of NC to make the rules. Ask you constituents if they would like redistricting to occur. Clearly they and myself do not: https://www.commonncause.org/north-carolina/wp-content/uploads/2025/10/2025-NC-Redistricting-Poll.pdf Allow a bipartisan board to over see redistricting if you need to do it. It is only a power grab if only one party oversees the redistricting.
10/20/25 5:26 PM	Eric silberberg		How about instead of diluting people's votes you spend your time protecting Medicare and health benefits, Raising teacher salaries and paying state employees like me! this is wrong misplaced and small minded
10/20/25 5:26 PM	Mrs Karen Russell	Karen Russell	I am against redistricting in North Carolina
10/20/25 5:26 PM	Ms Robin Mackenroth		I am opposed to the current redirecting efforts in the North Carolina General Assembly. I want the General Assembly to work for the people of North Carolina and pass a budget and find critical support programs. Your job is not to do Donald Trump,Äôs bidding. As the No Kings rallies have shown, millions of Americans are fed up with the Trump Administration and its policies. Respectfully, do your job and do the work of the state of North Carolina!
10/20/25 5:27 PM	Anne Cooper	citizen	Just because something is possible, doesn't mean it's a good idea. Consolidating power in either party is bad for ordinary citizens. Allowing politicians to choose their electorate is never helpful to citizens. Fair maps keep politicians from being lazy and make them have to learn about their constituents and what their interests are. Funding medicaid is a good example. Trump and company have cut medicaid to pay for the tax cuts for wealthy people. Ask lower wealth citizens of NC what they think about that arrangement. With gerrymandered districts, the candidates don't have to ask and therefore do not. They just try to stay out of Trump's crosshairs so they can keep their seats.
10/20/25 5:27 PM	Philip Curley		The 2025 congressional redistricting bill is an undemocratic and cynical change that allows the state government to choose the people,Äôs representatives rather than leave it to the electorate. Supporters of this bill are solely interested in gifting friendly, partisan representatives to congress for the current president. This undermines our federal system and democratic institutions. Vote no on redistricting.
10/20/25 5:27 PM	Bridget Rasmussen		Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Âô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves.

10/20/25 5:28 PM	Colleen Lanigan		Please allow voters to have their voices heard in elections honestly. Districts can be drawn fairly, this current proposal is a shameful grasp of power by coward Republicans. But as a strong Democrat, I would also oppose my own party resorting to such low pitiful standards. Our political divisions are disgusting and destroying our country.
10/20/25 5:28 PM	Mindy Nelson		It is appalling that the GOP NC legislators have decided to gerrymander districts as a way to suppress voters and to appease Donald Trump. I ask this; How do you look at your spouses and children knowing that you're cheating your way into governing our state? Where are your morals and ethics? Didn't you pledge an oath to the Constitution and to serve ALL your constituents? Also, why haven't you passed our state's budget?
10/20/25 5:29 PM	Alexander Richani		I oppose NC participating in the political arms race of mid-decade redistricting. These actions perpetuate the reality that many of us have experienced our entire adult lives - the candidates are picking the voters.
10/20/25 5:29 PM	Brenda Reash		I am against the new congressional map. 10/2025
10/20/25 5:29 PM	Mrs Cathleen Bajek		No gerrymandering.
10/20/25 5:30 PM	Bridgett Steele		I strongly oppose this redistricting effort, as it is blatant gerrymandering. Drawing of districts in NC should be overseen by a non-partisan districting committee using computer algorithms based on fairness, equal population, and compactness. North Carolinians deserve balanced representation at the state and federal levels.
10/20/25 5:30 PM	Mr. David Neal		I am opposed to this partisan, unnecessary, and immoral mid-decade congressional redistricting plan. The General Assembly should show more respect for the people,Âôs political preferences and reinstate competitive districts that will elect candidates who are responsive to democratic accountability. This hyper-gerrymandering does the opposite. The Republican plan to draw another safe GOP seat, attempting to lock in 79% of NC,Äôs seats in the U.S. House of Representatives in a state that is as close to 50-50 in statewide elections as you will find is an affront to the people. The Republican majority in the General Assembly has gerrymandered itself into similar democratic unaccountability, leading it to spend its limited time on partisan gamesmanship like this redistricting rather than doing the people,Âôs business like passing a budget or helping our public schools thrive. This scheme would also likely violate the Voting Rights Act, and the General Assembly should not proceed in contravention of that key civil rights statute (regardless of how the Supreme Court may rule in the future). This plan would make it exceedingly unlikely that the large African American population in northeastern North Carolina could elect a member of Congress of their choice. The State Constitution makes clear that stae legislative districts can only be drawn following the decennial census: Art. II, Sec 5(4) ,ÄúWhen established, the representative districts and the apportionment of Representatives shall remain unaltered until the return of another decennial census of population taken by order of Congress.,Äù The same principle should apply to US House districts. The voters should have a free and fair opportunity to elect representatives. The representatives should not be choosing their voters. Please do better than this for the people of our state.
10/20/25 5:31 PM	Mrs Leslie Kendall		I am a resident of Wilson County. Along with other voting citizens, Wilson deserves a fair election in which voters have a fair shot of electing a candidate that represents constituents,Âô views in the US Congress. Gerrymandering is a political dirty strategy that disenfranchises large groups of targeted voters and keeps them from having a fair and balanced legislative branch of government. It,Äôs bad for Wilson. It,Äôs bad for NC. It,Äôs bad for America. I will never support a candidate who votes to gerrymander voting districts only to win elections. It,Äôs kind of like bullying!
10/20/25 5:32 PM	Dr Jane Bozarth	Bozarthzone LLC	The gerrymandering underway today is APPALLING. This is blatant disregard for NC and her voters; the overreach is simply too much this time. Our citizens deserve fair representation.
10/20/25 5:32 PM	Dr. Alan Singerman	Retired	It is revolting how corrupt the North Carolina Republicans have become. Their plans to choose their voters in the 1st Congressional District rather than letting those voters choose their representative, to obey President's command to create one more seat for them in a state that is already severely gerrymandered in their favor, is absolutely disgusting. The Republicans in this state have completely lost their ethical and moral compass.
10/20/25 5:33 PM	Sherry Weinschenk		Please work to make NC a state to proud of,Äïone that supports its residents,Âô health care, economy and safety. Redistricting silences those who need to be heard and helped.
10/20/25 5:33 PM	Mrs Christie McEwan		Why on earth except greed, power, and fear would your party want to redistribute. It,Äôs all ready redistributed enough against democrats and sensible independents. I do not support any redistributing because of your apparent hypocrisy and greed.

10/20/25 5:33 PM	Kimberly Guth		I am a North Carolina resident, and gerrymandering rigs our democracy. You are drawing lines to silence voices you do not like, including mine. That is not governing for the people, all people. Gerrymandering is rigging the system so that only voices, opinions, and votes you like count. You making elections meaningless. Fair elections are the people,Äôs constitutional right. Fair elections are what makes America great. Fair elections are what differs us from autocracies and totalitarianism. Fair elections is what the founders of our country wanted for America. The constitution was written so that voters can chose their politicians. Gerrymandering allow politicians to pick their voters instead of the other way around. North Carolina is a wonderful state made up of wonderful people from all different backgrounds. North Carolians have different opinions and this is competitive,Äîour statewide races prove it. But you manipulate district lines to guarantee outcomes that don,Äôt reflect how the people actually vote. You,Äôre manufacturing power you didn,Äôt earn. Draw fair districts. Let voters decide elections. Stop rigging the game because you,Äôre afraid of losing in a fair fight. My vote isn,Äôt yours to neutralize. Respect it.????????????????
10/20/25 5:33 PM	Dr Luanne Buchanan		There is no good reason presented thus far for the kind of Congressional district plan being proposed. I want to see our state assembly doing the real work we need right now, especially in western North Carolina where so many are still struggling after Helene, and all over the state where people are facing loss of healthcare coverage or disastrous increases in premiums. Redistricting will not repair what needs to be repaired in North Carolina or, indeed, in the country as a whole.
10/20/25 5:34 PM	Latoya Silochan		This is not what your constituents want. Make voting fair. The people of N.C. have suffered enough!
10/20/25 5:35 PM	Ms Dona Gartrell	myself	No changes! This is just another move that says cheating to win is part of our democracy! In other words showing the world our democracy is a lie! Trying to cheat is not making us great!
10/20/25 5:35 PM	Lois Cook		Do not redistrict
10/20/25 5:35 PM	Mrs Margaret Hiraldo		Stop the steal by redistributing the tribal communities.
10/20/25 5:35 PM	A Rey		Do not bow down to redistricting! This was done 2 yrs ago.
10/20/25 5:35 PM	Mrs Gayle Michael		Please do not pass legislation changing our voting districts at this time. This would set a terrible precedent for current and future elections. Your electorate must feel that their vote counts and that elections are free and fair.
10/20/25 5:35 PM	Katherine Kyle		I am opposed to the redistricting in North Carolina because of the cost and waste. Redistricting is based on the census every ten years. We have five more years before we have to do it. Be fiscally responsible and stop the redistricting.
10/20/25 5:35 PM	Kirsten Holmes		The audacity to outright refuse to work with specific districts representatives because they fall under a different political title shows unwillingness to consider that the people of that district voted to be represented by that person. You are not denying a political rival, you are directly denying the entire populace of a district to have a voice at the table. Stop being children and work together. If you cannot do that you are unfit for office.
10/20/25 5:36 PM	Rev Beth Newman		I do not support this effort.
10/20/25 5:36 PM	Mr Julian Coggins Jr.		I am against the proposed redistricting plan for NC district 1. Republican gerrymandering has already skewed the NC vote far away from a the nearly even distribution of 38% unaffiliated, 32% Democrat, 30% Republican since Republicans hold 10 of the 14 congressional seats in our state. If the Republican platform can only be enacted through gerrymandering, then it's not the platform favored by most of the voters in our fine state. I urge you to abandon this 2025 redistricting plan AND form a bipartisan commission to redraw districts in a more representative way. Anything short of that is unethical and fraudulent.
10/20/25 5:37 PM	Ana Imes		???? IT,Äôs LUNCHTIME ???? ???Leave Your Comments on the Congressional Maps: Use the link below to share your comments on the proposed congressional maps. THIS IS URGENT!!! ??Suggested Language: Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO!
10/20/25 5:37 PM	Christina Grimes		Do NOT vote for another redistricting, one that further gerrymanders our purple state. To redistrict now, at the beck and call of Donald Trump, is such a shabby, classless, pathetic, and weak power grab that it embarrasses our state and any who vote for such an undemocratic and anti-American scam. You are better than that. And our state, your constituents, deserve better.
10/20/25 5:38 PM	Ma Tanyetta Hill		Please remember that you,Äôre here for all people not just the ones who think like you
10/20/25 5:38 PM	Margaret Poitevint		I am appalled that this is being considered in NC and passionately request that you refrain from doing something so divisive and unfair.
10/20/25 5:39 PM	Alyss Grunden		North Carolinians deserve equal representation!!! Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.

10/20/25 5:39 PM	Kelly Hatfield		Gerrymandering is cheating. Redistricting so that you can have the people you want in each district means that there are people you don't want in your district. We are all Americans and we should all be counted and respected and the needs of all of us should matter not just those that vote for a preferred party. When this is the focus then it just seems like the politicians have lost sight of what is really important.
10/20/25 5:39 PM	Gregory Bergee		Our democracy can only survive and thrive by equal representation of all the people. I believe we may have a fatal flaw in our system allowing redistricting by the majority party. This can only work if the parties in power keep the objective of fair representation as their guide as opposed to gaining and maintaining more power. Our state is rather balanced regarding Republican and Democratic voters and the districts should reflect that in a true democracy.
10/20/25 5:41 PM	Sam Wilson		I strongly oppose the current attempt to gerrymander North Carolina's congressional districts to add an additional Republican district. This is nothing more than a power grab to allow the Republican party to remain in power in Congress. The state is already gerrymandered enough to keep a Republican majority in power. The legislature needs to do the right thing and allow the current electoral districts to remain as they are. Thank you. Regards, Sam Wilson
10/20/25 5:41 PM	Michael Cornn		I oppose the redistricting. It is not a census year, and the cost to redraw the lines would be wasteful. Plus redrawing lines to give one party an advantage is wrong.
10/20/25 5:41 PM	Ms Catherine Jones	Retired	Stop the gerrymandering, making everyone vote actually count!
10/20/25 5:41 PM	Amethyst Klein		This should not take precedence over passing a budget at all. That was expected 5 months ago? Regardless, by doing this you are doing the OPPOSITE of the job description, represent the people, this is NOT what people want. Adjust policies and listen to the people of North Carolina we want better lives, better public schools, properly funded departments and not to be cheated out of our vote counting. Start listening and start doing your job.
10/20/25 5:41 PM	Gregory Duellman		I am strongly against redistricting. I believe it is only necessary every 10 years after the census. To do it more often is blatantly political and bad for the residents of North Carolina and bad for the USA.
10/20/25 5:42 PM	Sharon McCarthy		I am a North Carolina voter. In the last redistricting scheme my district was redrawn to eliminate my Congressional representative. This feels like partisan gerrymandering stole my vote and representation. I hear that this is about to happen again to affect Eastern North Carolinians just to appease President Trump's wishes. I can't understand how adults can use power so brazenly and without shame - in fact, I'm glad I can't understand it. That means I have integrity. Do not mark our great state of North Carolina with the shame of partisan trickery for power. We citizens deserve better.
10/20/25 5:43 PM	Diep Tran		I,Äôm a North Carolina resident, and gerrymandering rigs our democracy. You,Äôre drawing lines to silence voices you don,Äôt like, including mine. That,Äôs not governing. That,Äôs cheating. When you gerrymander, you,Äôre declaring my vote doesn,Äôt matter before I cast it. You,Äôre making elections meaningless. Politicians pick their voters instead of the other way around. North Carolina is competitive,Äîour statewide races prove it. But you manipulate district lines to guarantee outcomes that don,Äôt reflect how we actually vote. You,Äôre manufacturing power you didn,Äôt earn. Draw fair districts. Let voters decide elections. Stop rigging the game because you,Äôre afraid of losing in a fair fight. My vote isn,Äôt yours to neutralize. Respect it.????????????????
10/20/25 5:43 PM	Ms. Sheila Winter		I am adamantly opposed to this. There is only one reason for doing this and that is to subvert the will of the people by further suppressing the vote. We,Äôve already been gerrymandered to death by the Republicans in this state and now this? To gain another seat for a president that we don,Äôt all think is wonderful! This should be illegal!
10/20/25 5:44 PM	Cindy Jackson		North Carolina is the only state in the nation where the state legislature alone draws state and federal maps while explicitly prohibiting the governor from vetoing them. This is not democracy. Those of us who question the plan have no say in the process -- as with much of the rest of the decisions made by our Republican-controlled legislature. There has got to be a better way to ensure people are fairly represented.
10/20/25 5:44 PM	Tabitha-Chloe Grimstead		This is an absolutely appalling choice for our state, motivated by nothing but greed and hate.
10/20/25 5:45 PM	Dr. Byron Ruiz	Retired Veterinarian	Redistricting plans in NC are being done by corrupt individuals and must be opposed vigorously!

10/20/25 5:45 PM	Hannah Lundquist		I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed Congressional district plan currently under consideration. This plan represents yet another attempt to gerrymander North Carolina,Äôs districts for partisan gain, rather than to uphold the constitutional principle that every voter,Äôs voice should count equally. North Carolinians deserve fair representation that reflects our communities; not maps drawn to predetermine election outcomes. Over the past decade, our state has endured repeated redistricting battles that have wasted taxpayer resources, undermined public trust, and silenced the will of voters through manipulated boundaries. The proposed plan continues this harmful pattern, carving up communities and diminishing competitive elections in favor of entrenched political power. I urge this committee to reject any map that prioritizes partisan advantage over fairness, transparency, and accountability. North Carolina,Äôs voters have made it clear that we want maps that reflect real communities, protect minority representation, and promote genuine choice at the ballot box. Please commit to a process guided by public input, nonpartisan data, and respect for the rule of law, not political expediency. Our democracy is strongest when voters choose their representatives, not when representatives choose their voters.
10/20/25 5:46 PM	Shannon Mcnamara		This is a blatant (and racist) power grab. There is no defensible argument for it's validity.
10/20/25 5:47 PM	Dr. Chris Nesmith	None	I am writing not only to oppose the proposed redistricting plan as proposed, but to voice my concerns that the members of the North Carolina Legislature would even consider such a partisan, ideologically-driven plan at the behest and urging of the President. Such political Gerrymandering is anti-democratic and un-American at its core, and anyone who votes for it does so knowing that they are acting not as a representative of the people of the state they purport to serve, but only in service to Washington.
10/20/25 5:47 PM	Ms Rebecca White		You need to leave redistricting alone and don't debate it or vote on it. What needs to be done is a budget, figuring out how to save Medicaid for all people, save the ACA, keep SNAP going, fund reconstruction of Western North Carolina, etc. You need to concentrate on doing good for the people of North Carolina not cozying up to Trump.
10/20/25 5:47 PM	Athen Connolly		This move to redistrict again is appalling. All in the service of a rapist, felon, twice-impeached vile human being. You could try to win elections by being less horrid rather than cheating. Shame, shame, shame.
10/20/25 5:48 PM	Sandie Rhodes		Enough already. I understand both sides have done it, but it is time to stop. I wish there were no districts. Let the stated vote.
10/20/25 5:48 PM	Lisa Gomer		I am very disturbed about the NC legislature proposing a new redistricting. We have to have districts that reflect all voters and are not skewed toward one party or another, or to one race vs. another. Everyone should feel that their vote counts. I know that a Republican legislature can do whatever it wants, but we are now in a cycle where each State is trying to make it impossible for those in the minority to have a voice. I don't agree that Democrats do it in States where they are in the majority either. There should be independent commissions who do this, so that's it fair and gives everyone a voice.
10/20/25 5:48 PM	Richard White		I am writing about the proposed redistricting bill. In my view this action is arbitrary and capricious, is not warranted by population shifts or changes, and represents partisan gerrymandering at its worst. It should not pass.
10/20/25 5:49 PM	Zane Duellman		I,Äôm a North Carolina resident, and gerrymandering rigs our democracy. You,Äôre drawing lines to silence voices you don,Äôt like, including mine. That,Äôs not governing. That,Äôs cheating. When you gerrymander, you,Äôre declaring my vote doesn,Äôt matter before I cast it. You,Äôre making elections meaningless. Politicians pick their voters instead of the other way around. North Carolina is competitive,Äîour statewide races prove it. But you manipulate district lines to guarantee outcomes that don,Äôt reflect how we actually vote. You,Äôre manufacturing power you didn,Äôt earn. Draw fair districts. Let voters decide elections. Stop rigging the game because you,Äôre afraid of losing in a fair fight. My vote isn,Äôt yours to neutralize. Respect it.????????????????
10/20/25 5:50 PM	Rick Lawless		Stop the steal What they are doing is undermining democracy Don,Äôt for get our horrible leader is a felon and inspired Jan 6 STOP
10/20/25 5:50 PM	Jill Martin		This is horrifying to me. Redistricting happens every 10 years after the census. Republicans know this. I am a registered Republican and as much as I hate the direction Democrats have gone, I will be voting Democrat for here after if this happens. People are rapidly turning and will do the same as me. We know the law. Those who were ignorant to the law are now researching and seeing the laws being broken and are extremely hurt, angry and feel stabbed in the back when we used to be a place of ‚Äúchoice,Äù Please leave us alone.
10/20/25 5:50 PM	Elizabeth Valsing		Election districts should not be drawn by political parties. We need real reform which will never happen with the gerrymandering approach. Leave it alone.
10/20/25 5:50 PM	Patrick Rothanburg		Catering to the whims of a want to be despotic authoritarian isn't what you were elected to do. The GOP majority has spent the last 2 years focused on curtailing the powers of the Executive branch and ignoring the needs of their constituents, rather than passing a budget, funding the Medicaid, expansion, or doing much of anything to benefit the citizens they were elected to represent. Instead, they're very focused on demonstrating partisan loyalty by creating an unethical redistricting map in a state that's ALREADY heavily gerrymandered, but majority independent.

10/20/25 5:51 PM	Reverend Mark Andrews		Any redrawing of district lines to satisfy the unconstitutional and unrepresentative lust for power of the current White House is very short-sighted. When the pendulum swings the other way which will inevitably happen the party of Trump will suffer the consequences,Ä¶not to mention the obvious moral issue that legislators should be doing the right thing.
10/20/25 5:51 PM	Mrs Susan Eaton	none	This action is not for the benefit of North Carolinians. The NC GOP and anyone who votes in support of this is subverting the will of the people of this state to rig elections in favor of a rotten to the core old pedophile, adjudicated rapist, and con man (and their own pockets). Meanwhile, there isn,Äôt even a budget passed because those same crooked politicians can,Äôt be bothered to do their actual jobs. The old map was bad enough. Go find the map that is drawn fairly and independent of any party by actual data without partisanship. We deserve so much better than this bunch of GOP authoritarian fascists trying to rig the system.
10/20/25 5:51 PM	Myles Marion	Mount Tabor High School	The redistricting plan recently passed by the North Carolina legislature does not show a fair representation of both parties. It appears to give one political party an advantage, which can reduce the voting power of certain communities. In North Carolina, the legislature only needs a simple majority to approve new maps, and the governor cannot veto them. Because of this, the party in control was able to pass maps that shift districts to favor Republicans, possibly leading to 11 Republican seats and only 3 Democratic ones. Lawsuits have been filed against the maps because of the unfairness of them for certin minority groups. One example is William vs Hall, where the argument was that the "cracks" in the districts, favor white majority districts.
10/20/25 5:51 PM	Betty Lou Rivers		The next logical time to consider redistricting is in 2030, after the next census. Instead of expending energy on redrawing district maps to benefit Federal Government outside of the normal cycle, maybe you could spend some energy working for your constituents in NC. Drop redrawing the maps in favor of working on a budget, providing relief for Western NC, bring jobs to NC, protecting our farmers, and improving education in our state. You can do it! And our state needs you to.
10/20/25 5:52 PM	Shirley Usry	private citizen	FOr years NC has been gerrymandered for political gain. It is time to step up and be responsible representatives of all NC citizens with one person having one vote instead of being lumped together and diluted or marginalized and simply not counted at all. How can any of you who profess to be moral, ethical, Christians make a case for unfair representation? How about a referendum on having a non partisan committee draw fair maps? The number of NC citizens of all party affiliations who want fair maps should inform you!
10/20/25 5:52 PM	Debra Hoffman-Pahl		Stop gerrymandering. It is undemocratic. It allows politicians to choose their voters instead of the other way around. This leads to uncompetitive districts and skewed election results. It disenfranchises voters, reinforces partisan control, and will lead to a lack of faith in the political system. Also, racial gerrymandering disproportionately affects minority communities.
10/20/25 5:52 PM	Ms Ann McElhany		I have always been a resident that didn,Äôt look at political parties when I cast my vote. I always tried to do the right thing and vote for who I deemed best for the job. You have changed all that not only for me but for all my friends that do the exact same thing. You will be remember in history as the government that chose to back a. Wanna be dictator instead of following g and trying to do what your constituents want. It will be a cold day in hell now before I EVER vote for another Republican.
10/20/25 5:52 PM	Mrs. Cynthia Page		Vote no !
10/20/25 5:53 PM	Sara Johnson		,Ä¢It lets politicians pick voters, not the other way around. District lines get drawn so one party,Äôs voters are packed or split up in ways that make it almost impossible for the other side to win fair representation. That means election results are often decided before anyone even votes. ,Ä¢It kills accountability. When a seat is ,Äúsafe,,Äù a lawmaker doesn,Äôt have to worry about losing. They can ignore the middle ground and cater to extremes, which makes politics more polarized and less responsive to regular people. ,Ä¢It weakens communities. Gerrymandered maps often slice cities or neighborhoods apart, so people who share local issues,Äîlike schools or housing,Äîend up with different representatives who don,Äôt coordinate. That fractures the community,Äôs voice. ,Ä¢It undermines trust in the system. When people see districts that look like spaghetti just to benefit one side, they stop believing their vote matters. That,Äôs dangerous for democracy itself.
10/20/25 5:54 PM	David Gilmore		This gerrymandering is a ridiculous stunt done at the behest of a want to be dictator. Win by good ideas that benefit the most amount of people with the most amount of good. I want to be perfectly clear I,Äôm fundamentally opposed to gerrymandering like this.
10/20/25 5:55 PM	Morgan Malone		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. I am opposed to the proposed redistricting plan for Congressional District 1, in eastern NC. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. Thank you

10/20/25 5:55 PM	Do NOT redistrict Brandon Burgoon		As a North Carolinian, I DO NOT accept of this redistricting WITHOUT a vote by the people. This country is built on the constitution, "for the people, by the people"
10/20/25 5:55 PM	Sage Demers		Don,Äôt do it
10/20/25 5:55 PM	Tara Hemmerly		The plan to restrict North Carolina is not wanted by your constituents. We want fair elections and fair representation. President Trump is NOT representing us American citizens fairly. Please listen to the citizens and not his temper tantrums.
10/20/25 5:56 PM	Melanie Culpepper	None	I am opposed to the idea of redrawing the legislative map in response to President Trump,Äôs request. His request to state legislatures across the country is yet another example of his abuse of executive power and blurs the lines between normal state and federal oversight. It is fundamentally undemocratic and un -American.
10/20/25 5:57 PM	Sheila Hamden		NC is a state that is almost evenly divided as far as votes cast. In 2024, there were 2.8 million votes cast for Republican U.S. House candidates (52.78%) and 2.3 million votes cast for Democratic U.S. House candidates (42.80%). Therefore redistricting should reflect these facts. Of the 14 house districts, Republicans should only get 7, maybe 8 seats at the most and Democrats should get 7, maybe 6 seats. Please consider these facts and allow the citizens of NC to have the ability to elect the best candidate and do NOT draw maps that disenfranchise how NC voters vote. Thank you.
10/20/25 5:57 PM	Mrs. Theresa Savery	Myself	The NCGOP needs to stop with your latest non-democratic move to rig the voting maps. There are approximately 2,413,469 registered Democrats 2,285,377 registered Republicans & 2,886,537 registered Unaffiliated voters in NC. With this breakdown of registered voters the districts should be drawn to reflect the makeup of the voters without giving 1 party an unfair advantage where the politicians choose their voters. It must be the other way around so that voters have a real choice and that the elected officials serve their constituents and not the current president. Please make the districts reflect the distribution of registered voters in NC so the are fair maps.
10/20/25 5:58 PM	Kathleen Cap		Please allow North Carolinians to exercise our right to vote for the elected officials who will serve us. We the People are disgusted with the surgical precision of North Carolina gerrymandered voter procession. We need elected officials who will develop laws and budgets to enable public safety, quality education, accessible healthcare, clean air and water, safe food and the services needed by all of our neighbors.
10/20/25 5:58 PM	Dawn Hertzig		As an independents voter, I am frustrated with these partisan antics. Shouldn,Äôt we have fair elections where the people elected are chosen by the people, not the by the party that best stacks the deck? If you have to manipulate the maps to win, you,Äôve already lost - lost your integrity, lost respect, lost character, lost credibility, lost faith, lost trust.
10/20/25 6:00 PM	Fern Butler	N/A	The Political Leaders of our Country are entering into state of division which if not stopped will destroy our Nation. NC should not join in this fray, instead our State should be a State where Leadership operates with integrity and in the interest of all NC residents regardless of their political party affiliation. The insidious practice of drawing Voting Districts to favor a Political Party, any Political Party is a threat to everyone who votes by making the votes of the Voters who do not belong to the Party who drew the Districts meaningless. In September 2024 per the Carolina Demography Website, there were 7.6 million registered voters in NC, of whom 38% registered as Unaffiliated, 32% registered as Democrats, and 30% registered as Republicans. The redrawing of NC,Äôs 14 Congressional Districts to ensure that Republicans will win the election in the majority of the State,Äôs Congressional Districts is a slap in the face of all Non-Republicans (2/3 of NC,Äôs registered voters) and a threat to the Democratic Process by making every vote cast by a Non-Republican pointless because the District has been drawn not to be competitive, but to elect a Republican. The practice of drawing Districts to favor a Political Party is divisive, immoral, and disrespectful of the residents of NC. Redistricting to favor a Political Party should be outlawed for all Political Parties. All Districts should be and must be drawn in an unbiased manner so that the Districts are competitive and the demographics of the voters are reflected, respected, and represented.
10/20/25 6:00 PM	Jessie Johnson		I strongly opposed the most recent redistricting plan put forth by state Republicans. Gerrymandering is racist and greedy.
10/20/25 6:01 PM	Ted Hady		STOP what you,Äôre doing NC Republicans! Gerrymandering mid-term is blatant, illegal, unfair ,Äúpolitics,Äù to intentionally disempower rightful constituencies of their vote. The solemn oath of office you took and the commitment you made to uphold our constitution/laws should not be beholden to a blatantly political directive from your wannabe king and big money!

10/20/25 6:02 PM	Ramon Waugh		Dear Members of the North Carolina General Assembly, As a North Carolina voter, I,Äôm deeply concerned about the recent redistricting maps that appear to favor one political party over fair representation. Gerrymandering undermines the democratic principle that voters should choose their representatives ,Äî not the other way around. These maps risk silencing communities, weakening competition, and deepening distrust in our government. Please consider the people you represent, not just the parties you serve. Redistricting should strengthen our democracy, not fracture it. I urge you to adopt a transparent, fair process that respects real community boundaries and voter equality. I expect and hope that you will put fairness before politics. Sincerely, Ramon Waugh Morrisville, Durham County
10/20/25 6:02 PM	Patricia Culpepper	None	I am opposed to the proposed redistricting plan. At 90 years old I thought I,Äôd seen it all. That was before I saw the legislative body of my home state bow down before the President so he can remain in power after the midterms despite his failed and unpopular policies. Do YOUR job! Represent the people of North Carolina and not the powerful interests of oligarchs and billionaires in Washington DC! I,Äôm sorry but I call it like I see it.
10/20/25 6:02 PM	Susan Hannah		The illegal and immoral redistricting by Republicans is such a blatant attempt to control the voting outcome in North Carolina. PLEASE DO NOT GO ANY FURTHER.
10/20/25 6:03 PM	Ms Megan Fackler		Be better. Stop trying yo be unfair.
10/20/25 6:03 PM	Michelle Biondolillo		NC voters deserve fair representation not gerrymandering!
10/20/25 6:03 PM	Dr. Gail Exum		This effort to redistrict the congressional districts goes against our democracy. The state,Äôs attempt to restrict the citizens right for representation is unconstitutional. The voters choose their representatives, the representatives do not choose their voters.
10/20/25 6:04 PM	Absolutely not! Alton Modlin		It is an absolute horrendous insult to Democratic processes to gerrymander this state! Renovate should be ashamed of themselves!
10/20/25 6:04 PM	Rama Darbha		Fair elections are the bedrock of democracy and the heart of American values. I strongly oppose the proposed mid-decade congressional map. This gerrymander is a clear attempt to override the will of the voters for partisan gain. As your constituent, I demand you to reject this plan and support a move toward independent redistricting to ensure fair, competitive elections in North Carolina.
10/20/25 6:04 PM	Stop Gerrymandering! Katherine Gizzi		Further gerrymandering our state to rig the election in favor of one party at the expense of true representation of our citizens undermines the concept of democracy that America was founded on.
10/20/25 6:04 PM	Brittany Pridgeon		The new proposed maps are an Anti-American, shameful, obvious attempt at gerrymandering out the voices of many North Carolina voters and the Senate is urged to reconsidered.
10/20/25 6:05 PM	Mr. Daniel Withrow		The core principle of our republic is that one person gets one vote. By gerrymandering our state, you're undermining our country; and anyone who works for you is complicit in this outrage. Those who love our country should not help you in any way--administratively, legislatively, or otherwise.
10/20/25 6:05 PM	Lori Mahl		North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/20/25 6:05 PM	Dare Cook		This is a shameless power grab. Otherwise you would put it to a vote of NC citizens.
10/20/25 6:05 PM	Mrs Debbie Confer		Our representatives need to remember who they work for, The people, not Trump! Stop redistricting to soothe the orange felon. We need FAIR elections! We will remember this when we vote. When it's your time to run again.
10/20/25 6:05 PM	Mr Tariq Mahmood		I dont want maps redrawn for redistricting again. I am ok with fair mapping done in 2022.
10/20/25 6:05 PM	Mr Carrick Brooke-Davidson		Please reject partisan redistricting. North Carolina deserves better.
10/20/25 6:05 PM	Mr Burwell Ware		I am opposed to restricting early.

10/20/25 6:06 PM	Mrs. Wendy Kozenskie		I am dismayed at all of this Republican redistricting, but never thoughtit would happen here. I think it's awful and unethical to take people's voices away. Shame on you!
10/20/25 6:06 PM	Vanessa Snellings		I am voicing my concern about the redistribution. This will affect a group of voters from having a voice. All voices should be heard. It should include Bipartisan not Partisan voting. This is causing disenfranchisement of one group of individuals which in this case, people of color.
10/20/25 6:06 PM	Your boss. Angelica Mccreary		I know you don,Äôt care. I know you,Äôre going to do it anyway. But 7 million people just came out to say ,Äúno kings,Äù while you openly admit to advancing a fascist like agenda. We will not stand for this. This will absolutely backfire. This only works if these areas stay uneducated and continue to vote blindly. We are done with that. What you are doing is wrong- but you know that.
10/20/25 6:06 PM	Against the people Nick P		This is a joke, the GOP must be exhausted from licking boots. These maps are a slap in the face to real democracy. This GOP does not listen to the people, only the orange king and big money.
10/20/25 6:06 PM	lavonne pickens		I do not support gerrymandering to redistrict in North Carolina
10/20/25 6:06 PM	Tricia Shapiro		Partisan gerrymandering is wrong. Voters, not political parties, should choose their representatives--at the ballot box. Gerrymandering, and the hasty way you're ramming this through, show contempt for democracy and for your constituents. Shame on our state legislature's GOP leadership for doing this.
10/20/25 6:06 PM	Chrissy Winchester		It,Äôs absolutely disgraceful that our government has fallen to such low standards. Not a country or leadership I,Äôm proud to be a part of.
10/20/25 6:07 PM	Erin Langston		Dear Chair and Members of the House Select Committee on Redistricting and the Senate Elections Committee, Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the proposed congressional redistricting plan. I write as a resident of New Hanover County who cares deeply about fair representation. I oppose the proposed plan, and I believe the evidence shows our current and near-future maps are already tilted in favour of one party ,Äî to the detriment of our local democracy. How this matters in New Hanover County Here are some of the specifics regarding our county and region: The newly drawn map for the 2024 election cycle assigns much of New Hanover County and its anchor city, Wilmington, to the North?Carolina,Äôs?7th?Congressional?District, which has a partisan lean of R + 7. In the case of the state Senate map, voting-rights advocates highlight what,Äôs known locally as the ,ÄúWilmington notch,Äù: Black-neighborhood precincts in downtown Wilmington were removed from the district that covers New Hanover County, and instead joined with more rural counties (e.g., Brunswick and Columbus). That move disconnected parts of the county,Äôs core from each other and diluted the influence of those precincts in the district. A detailed analysis of the Brunswick-New Hanover county cluster shows packing and cracking occurring: A deeply Democratic-leaning district around Wilmington (HD-18) was created by concentrating Democratic voters, while surrounding districts (HD-19, HD-20) were drawn to become more favourable for Republicans. The evidence suggests these aren't accidental boundaries but intentional: map-makers appear to have used partisan data to ,Äúpack,Äù Democratic-leaning voters into fewer districts (reducing their influence elsewhere) and ,Äúcrack,Äù urban Democratic strongholds by spreading them across more Republican-leaning districts. Why this local impact matters
10/20/25 6:07 PM	Ms Jennie Franklin	NAACP	I am appalled at NC Legislator's unashamed approach to redistricting. The redistricting of the 1st Congressional District is totally unfair to the citizens of Eastern NC. I strongly encourage that they immediately reconsider a fairer approach.
10/20/25 6:07 PM	Ms Ryan Duffy		The proposed Congressional redistricting plan is just another way to suppress votes. You can call it whatever you want but there are no 2 ways about it. It is just another way to cheat the Republicans into more that they deserve based on what the people want. If you want the votes then propose policies that represent what constituents actually want.
10/20/25 6:07 PM	Sandra Lucas	Retired	This is unacceptable to me. No one asked for this except Trump. Please do not redraw the lines on the maps . This is wrong and I urge you to reconsider.
10/20/25 6:08 PM	Melissa Peffers		Do NOT rig the voting system with this destructive, manipulative redistributing that disenfranchises voters. This is pure evil the likes of past racists Jim Crow and voter suppression laws of our past. This is authoritarian and destructive of democratic principles
10/20/25 6:09 PM	Mrs Jennifer Maguire		I cannot believe we are going to draw new maps yet again! This gerrymandering has to end. We had fair maps in 2022 but you all didn,Äôt like that outcome so they just had to change. As a FORMER republican, now unaffiliated, I can honestly say, I have never been so disappointed in the party.
10/20/25 6:09 PM	Kevin Edwards		NC is 50% Republican and 50% Democratic. It is anti-American to gerrymander our state into a super-majority or either party. Let the people's votes decide. What are you afraid of?

10/20/25 6:09 PM	Dr WILLIAM HAGE		Stand up and represent your community! Changing voting maps mid cycle is unethical racist.
10/20/25 6:10 PM	Vince Winegardner		We are moving towards a single party system that does not represent voters in a fair manner. When this happens, there will be few options left. Some of which will likely involve violence.
10/20/25 6:10 PM	Emily Gentles		I do not support this redistricting. The overwhelming majority of voters in NC do not support partisan gerrymandering and if this redistricting passes it is a blatant example of lawmakers ignoring their constituents. NC is a purple state and this new map does not represent that. If you need to create a map that gives your party an unfair advantages because you are that desperate to stay in power, you should not be an elected official. You work for the people and are elected with the burden of representing your constituents. A new map is not the will of the people.
10/20/25 6:10 PM	Mrs. Lara Coutinho		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is NOT showing the split between Democrats and Republicans. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/20/25 6:10 PM	Dr Lara Sheppa		I am completely against redistricting any further in North Carolina. The districts have already been gerrymandered to the point where democrats have almost no voice or representation in this state. I think that the Republicans attempt to further redistrict in attempts to rig future elections toward 100% Republican election wins in NC is despicable and reprehensible. All voices and votes matter- if you're going to redistrict make it a fair vote for all regardless of political affiliation. No more gerrymandering!!!
10/20/25 6:10 PM	Sylvia Short		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. This is BAD POLITICS at work!
10/20/25 6:11 PM	Mrs. Betsy Baste	Macon County Democratic Party	On behalf of the registered Democrats in Macon County we oppose the redistricting map because: It's a FLAWED PROCESS: There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising. And, it's BAD POLITICS. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/20/25 6:12 PM	Linda Troiano		NC is a purple state and the proposed map is anything but! An 11-3 map is a mockery of NC voters rights to a free and fair election!!!
10/20/25 6:12 PM	Ms Jennifer Pitts		No. Do NOT do this. Do Not further gerrymander. Our country was founded on Fair Representation). Redistricting for political purposes is absolutely Unacceptable and anti-American. How DARE we think that it is OK to press Our Views on other people through Cheating. If an idea cannot win on merit it should not pass. Everyone knows the moral thing to do here, and history will judge you. Jesus will judge you. I'm at least hopeful that you put this up for public comment. Hopefully it actually means something. And what would you have done if it was Clinton, or Obama ASKING YOU TO CHEAT FOR THEM BECAUSE THEY AREN'T POPULAR ENOUGH ON THEIR OWN? How is this even OK?
10/20/25 6:12 PM	Ms Cheryl Beeson	Retired educator	Rigging elections and taking power from voters is despicable. Quit gerrymandering us into an unbalanced state! Missions of NC voters expressed their displeasure with trumpian policies this weekend, and we are not going anywhere!
10/20/25 6:12 PM	Redistricting Maps John Barnhart		The redrawing of maps is a travesty and black eye to the state. This is clearly an all out power grab by the GOP. This type of action only creates furter tension and division.
10/20/25 6:12 PM	Ms A J Smith		I am absolutely against any attempt at gerrymandering the North Carolina Congressional district plan. It already disenfranchises enough voters.
10/20/25 6:13 PM	Teresa Leeman		North Carolina is essentially a "purple" state with no one party having a significant number of voters over the other. Our congressional seats should fairly represent the voters of the state. An 11-3 GOP majority does NOT represent this state. This is voter suppression. This is unacceptable. This is not how democracy works. Put North Carolina FIRST before Trump's agenda.
10/20/25 6:13 PM	Douglas Short		You are not serving North Carolina residents by rigging maps. You are only bowing down to Trump.
10/20/25 6:14 PM	Mrs. Asia Roper		I urge the Committee to delay this redistricting! Please prioritize passing a state operating budget first so that key decisions around medicaid and state employees can move forward. The North Carolina public also needs more time to review the maps and provide public comments.
10/20/25 6:14 PM	Ms. Lethia Williams		This proposed redistricting is absolutely ridiculous. The state‚Äôs districts should reflect the makeup and citizens if this state. It is clear to EVERYONE this nothing more than a pitiful attempt at a power grab. You all claim to be morally superior, so actually act like it and vote this down.
10/20/25 6:14 PM	Stop gerrymandering Judith Sullivan		Restricting the way they are planning is such obvious gerrymandering, it‚Äôs ridiculous. Stop this and let the voices in this state speak!

10/20/25 6:14 PM	Dr. Karen Stine		I would like to speak out AGAINST this blatant partisan power grab. North Carolina is a 50-50 state, and representation should closely reflect that. Gerrymandering like this is an unethical and unprincipled attempt to disenfranchise a significant portion of the state, and undermine fair elections. Not that I expect that the Republican state senators and representatives will care what I, a North Carolina voter, think. They are too busy bending the knee to the would-be dictator, Donald Trump.
10/20/25 6:14 PM	Lara Little		This is blatant gerrymandering and the antithesis of democracy. I am ashamed of the state I have lived in all my life and it,Äôs government which cares nothing for the will of the people. BTW I am NOT a Democrat.
10/20/25 6:14 PM	Karina Chen		An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is pure corruption and stripping the people of fair representation. This is party over people. I have not seen this GOP controlled congress do any to actually help their constituents. They haven,Äôt even passed the state budget. Priorities are backwards. We need real adults in the room. And really, redrawing the maps 3 times in the past 5 years? What a pathetic attempt to cling to power.
10/20/25 6:14 PM	Bryan Pauquette		You are on the wrong side of history. Shame on you if you supported these gerrymandered maps. Gerrymandering is shameful. I am very disappointed and disgusted by the North Carolina legislature. This will not stand.
10/20/25 6:15 PM	Isabel Ferrall		The redistricting proposed is disenfranchising half of NC voters, this is voter suppression. NC is a 50 50 state and our representatives in congress should reflect the 50% Republican 50% Democratic voters. We need fair representation!
10/20/25 6:15 PM	Mrs. Mariel Di Palma		Redistricting at this stage, with this plan, is contrary to the principles of a representative democracy. You actively harm our state, and show your distain for your constituents when you pursue this path. The lack of moderate winners reduces the ‚Äúmoderate middle‚Äù and makes cooperation between parties more difficult, leading to hyper-partisanship, a problem we are seeing and which benefits no one. By making yourself and other politicians unanswerable to all voters, you open the door to increased potential for abuse of power by both members and the leadership. Most of all, more voters will lose interest in elections and more will lose faith in our government. What the Republican party is attempting here is deeply repugnant and abhorrent to the citizens of NC. If a politician wants to represent the people of NC, then he/she should be able to win those votes without these political cheats. You are answerable to the people of NC and not Donald Trump. Represent OUR interests, not his. Do your duty to us. Do not redistrict. Period.
10/20/25 6:15 PM	Lisa Lusk	none	Your efforts to gerrymander our state to the sole benefit of Republicans is unfair to the people of North Carolina who you claim to represent. It is unethical and you ought to be ashamed of yourselves!!!
10/20/25 6:15 PM	Mrs Jenifer Maldonado		Wow, way to sneak this in... no public notice! Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. You are rushing the process because you are trying to avoid accountability from the people you are disenfranchising! Not surprised because you know that if you don't cheat, you won't win! You already gerrymandered the hell out of the district i live in... An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù but you don't care as long as dems don't vote, right? 84% of North Carolina voters (not democrats or republicans but all VOTERS) believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.
10/20/25 6:16 PM	Rev. Dr. Russell Martin	United Methodist Church	The redrawing of the electoral districts is an affront to the voters by disenfranchising voters in the gerrymandered districts and a violation of the mandate for free and fair elections. The Republicans who are pursuing this action to further the authoritarian agenda of the President, a destroyer of democracy. He is destroying our country and leading the USA to become a third-rate nation in the world - the envy of no one. Help NC strong the destruction of great nation by opposing the gerrymandering!
10/20/25 6:16 PM	Mrs. Luann Nelson		The unethical and unprecedented redistricting mid-census period for no other reason than to creative even more of an unjustifiable GOP majority, in a state where this does not represent the will of the voters, is unforgivable. Phil Berger does not run this state, or at least he should not. He and his ilk should not be allowed to get away with this kind of adventurism.
10/20/25 6:16 PM	Dr. Michele Rudisill		No to the gerrymandering. NC is a 50/50 state but this is not representative in our congressional maps.
10/20/25 6:16 PM	Redistricting Opposition Emily Gardiner	Private Citizen	I wholeheartedly oppose this absurd gerrymandering power grab. If the Republican Party is scared of loosing elections, they should take a hard look at the policies that are making people turn away from them, rather than trying to rig the system to ensure their constituents are no longer adequately represented. Shame on the North Carolina Legislature for this desperate and despicable move.
10/20/25 6:18 PM	Kathleen Pearre		I strongly oppose gerrymandering in our state. Enough is enough! The voters should be allowed to determine who represents them. Redistricting should be conducted by a non-partisan group.
10/20/25 6:19 PM	Peggy Lockhart		I do not approve of the redistricting policies. I want the Democrats to have a chance in the House and Senate without the Republicans doing a power grab.
10/20/25 6:19 PM	Redistricting Kunita Kline		I am against NC redistricting!! It is horrible, disgusting, disgraceful, and unfair! We should get to choose who we vote for not politicians choosing who votes for them!
10/20/25 6:19 PM	J Clarke		The unconstitutional power grab to FURTHER gerrymander one of the most rigged electoral maps in the nation is vile. We see you NC GOP & this will not stand - it,Äôs not representative of what the voting majority of our state wants by a mile. History will not be kind if you rig elections this way and hobble our democracy irreparably. Approximately 8 million people gathered peacefully two days ago to voice their opposition to this type of lawlessness. Shame to those on the committee who push for illegal redistricting/election rigging!

10/20/25 6:20 PM	Julia Mack	Retired	This redistricting attempt is shameful. It is not about better representing NC folks but about bowing to Trump. This is unAmerican and a shameful power grab.
10/20/25 6:21 PM	Kelly Onyenwoke		Voters didn,Âôt ask for this. It is unethical and shameful that N.C. Republicans are trying to push this through to appease the president, all while failing to do your actual jobs and pass a budget. You need to listen to North Carolinians - your accountability is to US AS YOUR CONSTITUENTS, NOT to Donald Trump. The lack of integrity and your willingness to sell out your fellow North Carolinians is truly appalling. History will not look kindly on any of you who allow this cheating and voter disenfranchisement.
10/20/25 6:21 PM	Emilie Condon	a part of US	gerrymandering is not a building block but a block on building
10/20/25 6:22 PM	Jake McGraw		Do not redistrict our state like this! You all are supposed to represent us the people, not the whims of Donald Trump! Gerrymandering our state like you propose is a blatant assault on democracy and an affront to everything this country is meant to represent. Be the voice of the people we elected you to be and do not redistrict!
10/20/25 6:22 PM	Ms Bonnie Bell		I am disgusted and appalled by your disingenuous map withdrawing. This is nothing but partisan bull crap. We all know that you are trying to steal elections. You are attempting to disenfranchise North Carolinans in their votes. You do not get to choose your voters. Voters get to choose you. Can you not be any more disgusting? stop it. Are we not still a democracy? I,Âôm beyond sick of mediocre white man pulling this crap. Find your spine.
10/20/25 6:22 PM	Do not change NC votingap Evan Krutchik		The Republican Party does not want the truth to be told about the disastrous policies Trump administration is putting in place. The Democrats need to make sure to NC voters voices are heard.
10/20/25 6:22 PM	Do NOT Redistrict Joanna Kelly		We should NOT be redistricting. That is literally cheating. Just stop.
10/20/25 6:23 PM	Janice Patten		These maps are unfair. I want gerrymandering to end. This is making it worse.
10/20/25 6:23 PM	Thomas Stolz		I thought NC was above using tricks to rig an election, but apparently I was wrong based on the Republicans latest gerrymandering ploy. Please keep our elections fair.
10/20/25 6:23 PM	Ms Mary Skinner-Vance		I absolutely oppose the redistricting. The only reason to do it is to eliminate democratic house seats bc republicans are afraid they are going to lose everything in the mid term elections. So they want to cheat. Let the people have appropriate representation!
10/20/25 6:24 PM	Mrs. Elizabeth Gove		Our State House and Senate Districts need to be proportioned to represent our population - half Republican, half Democrat of similar size of population as much as possible not gerrymandered, which they already are. If you're going to redistrict, they should be adjusted to be more reflective of the State's population.
10/20/25 6:25 PM	Ms Loretta Alexander		Please don't gerrymander maps. This is not fair to the citizens of NC. You are better than this
10/20/25 6:25 PM	Mr. George Leiser	Retired	I am totally opposed to rigged redistricting! I reside in Forsyth county which is split and prevents me from voting with my fellow constituents in my county. Elections should be fair and free to everyone and not rigged because the republicans cannot accept losing!!
10/20/25 6:25 PM	Ben Mudrak		I am completely opposed to this attempt to redistrict for no reason. I am appalled that the legislature can move so swiftly at the request of someone who doesn,Âôt live here, but they can,Âôt pass a budget to support our own state.
10/20/25 6:25 PM	Ms Elizabeth Ritchie		Stop the illegal gerrymandering of NC
10/20/25 6:25 PM	Reading the room Elizabeth Conder		If you Republicans approve this redistricting nonsense, then you,Âóre not accurately reading the room, especially after the No Kings protests on Saturday. Trump and his shenanigans are becoming increasingly unpopular with Americans (including North Carolinians). His mid-decade redistricting is NOT popular even among Republicans. Pass this ridiculous redistricting push, and you can count on ,Áúelectoral feedback,Âù in 2026. CONNECT THE DOTS!!
10/20/25 6:26 PM	Tanya Lenetz		This is an absurd abuse of power! Rushing this new redistricting through is against our best interest! Your constituents do not want their representation limited for party gains. This is unacceptable and shameful! We would prefer our Representatives PASS THE BUDGET before playing self serving games. Do your actual JOB! We do not approve of this abuse of power!

10/20/25 6:26 PM	Ms. Dorothy Castorino		Dear NCGA, NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last. You work FOR THE PEOPLE of North Carolina. NOT the GOP or the President. History remembers and so do WE THE PEOPLE!! Dorothy Castorino A concerned North Carolina citizen!
10/20/25 6:27 PM	Oppose Redistricting Stephen Pysnik		The proposed Congressional redistricting is reprehensible and in no way will improve the lives of North Carolinians,Äïquite the opposite. I beg all members of the NC General Assembly, regardless of their party, to oppose this blatant power grab.
10/20/25 6:27 PM	Christina Graybard		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 6:27 PM	Cassandra Sellers		If the majority party's policies were popular, as they claim, constant redistricting would not be necessary. The latest redrawing of congressional districts has not even endured a whole term! Why go through this process again, and so soon? This looks like abuse of power, and it is eroding trust in our elected representatives and in the democratic process.
10/20/25 6:27 PM	Kathy Klein		The majority of North Carolinians oppose partisan districts. Our elected representatives should listen to the people they represent and vote to make districts reflect the makeup of our state.
10/20/25 6:27 PM	Liz Thornton		As a lifelong in North Carolina from a long line of Republicans please stop with the gerrymandering. There are tens of thousands of registered voters that are now switching their party affiliation to mix up your illegal gerrymandering. Just stop.
10/20/25 6:28 PM	Mrs Isolde Sarnecki		You seem to want to choose your electorate, not the other way around. What are you so afraid of? A fair election?
10/20/25 6:28 PM	Anne Whitefield	Durham association of Educators	We the people in a democracy, have a Constitutional right and power to choose our political representatives. Crooked manipulations of map districts make me ashamed of Republicans who disgrace our Republic.
10/20/25 6:30 PM	Katie Landress		This is a bad process. There was no public notice of this happening and now maps that were revealed on Thursday are being voted on starting Monday? This is not okay and does not properly represent the people.
10/20/25 6:30 PM	Ms Sherry Hay	Retired	Please do the right thing and do Not approve new voting maps. You promise to represent all the people so keep that promise by leaving the maps as drawn.
10/20/25 6:31 PM	Becky Garrett		Stop gerrymandering! Represent the people fairly instead trying to manipulate politics
10/20/25 6:31 PM	Ms Beverly Hill		It is past time to create fair maps that represent all the people. That is the only way to get our democracy back
10/20/25 6:31 PM	Sofia Mosquera		As a voting resident of North Carolina and constituent, this map is an insult to democracy. To approve of this map would mean to disenfranchise so many people in the state because of yet again, another dilution of power to make certain parties more favorable than others. It is cowardly, it is unfair, and extremely anti-American. We already have very gerrymandered districts. To approve of this map would be another fall for equitable and rightly representation in our great state. I wholeheartedly disagree with these maps and believe they will hurt our state in the short and long-term features. What would truly embody fair representation for our state would be to get rid of these kinds of redistricting altogether, regardless of partisan affiliation.
10/20/25 6:32 PM	Cherie Maness	Concerned citizen	North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last. GOP NEEDS TO STOP CHEATING NC VOTERS !!!

10/20/25 6:32 PM Rev. Brian Clougherty	Myself	I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People‚Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition‚Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 6:32 PM Martha Marshall		The Republicans in the NC Legislature are choosing to bury democracy so only those that agree with them will be heard. with their new gerrymandered districts. A Republican who supports the new districts has given up self respect because they believe they cannot win a fair election. They have to steal the election by rigging the vote. The Republicans have finally admitted they are a minority voice and demand shutting down any opposition. It is sad to see that they have sunk this low in their quest for power.
10/20/25 6:33 PM Rodney Ledford		-I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. -Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. -Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. -While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People‚Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. -Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. -True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition‚Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. -Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. -76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 6:33 PM Ms Julie Konishi	NC private citizen for 46 years	I strongly oppose the proposed re-districting plan. As a 46-year resident of NC, I feel like the current NC Legislature is doing all that it can to prevent the fair and accurate representation of NC voters in the US House. In 2022, using fair district maps, NC sent 7 Democrats and 7 Republicans to the US House. In 2024, the Republican Legislature re-districted and NC sent just 4 Democrats and 10 Republicans to the US House. NOTE: Only 30.4% of NC voters were registered as Republicans, yet Republicans "won" 71.4% of the seats! In 2026, the Republican Legislature wants to re-district again so that Republicans will "win" 78.6% of the seats. Shame on you!
10/20/25 6:33 PM Mr. Joshua Weatherman		This redistricting makes a further sham of democracy in North Carolina. The congressional delegation should represent the diverse viewpoints in our 50/50 state.

10/20/25 6:34 PM	Megan Westbrook		I am asking our state representatives to represent North Carolinians as they are and to NOT APPROVE the new electoral map(s) proposed. Regardless of who proposed them, just think about North Carolina. The new map does not reflect who we are. This state is really 50-50 politically, and if you want to get things done in this state, 100% of us expect you all to play by the rules. If you can't win fairly, get better ideas. There has been a trend in our state over the last few years to make things more "fair," like requiring an ID or throwing out ballots deemed sketchy without a normal remediation process. But there's nothing fair about disenfranchisement. Even if I don't agree with my neighbor, I will fight to make sure they are represented and can vote. People like me are being drowned out by maps -- FREAKING MAPS -- not by well-intentioned ideas and plans to make North Carolina and the lives of North Carolinians better. This is the wrong way to play. Please do not support these maps or any others proposed by anyone else, no matter which party, where all of our state's electorate can't be represented fairly.
10/20/25 6:35 PM	Richard Helgans	Private Citizen	As a citizen of the United States, I strongly defend our right to self rule. To that end, we must recognize everyone,Äôs right to have equal representation under the law. The current districts are unfair and Unconstitutional. The proposed redistricting is even worse. No one has a right to deny any US citizen an equal voice. The number of representatives for each party needs to proportional to the number of citizens who vote for that party.
10/20/25 6:35 PM	Dr. Heidi Bonner		North Carolina does not need more gerrymandered maps, and North Carolinians deserve public hearings throughout a redistricting process, before maps are drawn and before they are voted on.
10/20/25 6:35 PM	Jessica Kawski		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 6:36 PM	Jane Ciancio	Concerned Citizen	Given the current electoral stability, there is no compelling, non-partisan need to subject North Carolina to congressional redistricting at this time. This move, widely perceived as a highly partisan effort, exacerbates existing gerrymandering, further undermining fair representation and public trust in the electoral process. The legislature should prioritize electoral integrity over short-term political advantage.
10/20/25 6:36 PM	Dr. Vicki Murrell		A request/deal offer from Trump is not a valid reason to redistrict. We should be able to vote cleanly, without cheating, to elect our choices for elected representative. Please do not be cowards and cheats; do not redistrict.
10/20/25 6:36 PM	John Evans	private citizen	I object to the idea of re-drawing district lines mid cycle. It is enough to do this every 10 years, as has been the custom. It is my belief that elected representatives should represent all the people, and not based decisions on the best interest of any one political party.
10/20/25 6:36 PM	Jeffrey Kawski		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 6:36 PM	Karen McCollough		North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/20/25 6:36 PM	Dr. Christen Blanton		The GOP-led NCGA has yet to pass a functional budget, yet they have time to rush through a redistricting process at the behest of a lawless president and administration? The priorities here are totally out of whack. According to Common Cause, 84% of North Carolinians are against partisan gerrymandering. Every comment made at the 10/20 Senate meeting was against redistricting, yet it is moving forward: this makes it clear that Republicans in the NCGA work for Donald Trump and not us, their constituents. This is unacceptable: as a teacher and public servant in NC, watching my salary and benefits hang in the balance while Republicans in the NCGA seek to dilute our voting power feels like a slap in the face. Fully fund Leandro before you worry about redistricting. Get money for Helene recovery before you worry about redistricting. Pass a functional state budget before you worry about redistricting. I expect our duly elected representatives to honor the voices of voters. The NCGA does not work for the administrative branch of the federal government: you work for your constituents. Moving forward with racist gerrymandering is wrong: I live in Guilford County (House District 57, Senate District 28) and I am vehemently against the NCGA moving forward with redistricting. Dr. Christen Blanton Guilford County Schools Middle School Teacher of the Year, 2024-2025
10/20/25 6:36 PM	James Ross		Your actions regarding this plan should make you feel ashamed,Ä¶ cowardly and irresponsible,Ä¶: there are two sides to our way of life and you can,Äôt win by cheating one or the other..:

10/20/25 6:37 PM	Theresa Flynn		Please spend your time in session funding Medicaid and passing a budget. Our state needs you to govern please. Redistricting out of schedule is unfair and inappropriate, and a distraction from the important work we elected you to do.
10/20/25 6:37 PM	Mrs EJ Booth		Gerrymandering should not be allowed. Most of us do not want this. Please do the right thing. Black people and all minorities deserve the freedom to vote in their current districts. Do not change the boundaries just to ensure GOP wins. Gerrymandering is cheating. Also Democrats need to know what is going on and when. Do the RIGHT thing.,Thank you .
10/20/25 6:37 PM	Leslie Haney		The current redistricting plan is an immoral power grab that is not in the interest of the citizens of North Carolina. It makes our elections LESS Democratic and LESS representative. I realize that is your goal. But I ask you to really think about the ideals you swore to uphold when you were sworn into office. Does this plan reflect those ideals? Does it even come close?
10/20/25 6:38 PM	Mrs Lenee Smith		The fact the NC Legislature can return to Raleigh for a Congressional redistricting session without a state budget passed is disgraceful and a disservice to every NC citizen who pays taxes and their salaries,Ä¶Grow up and do your jobs, this is not a playground where you take your ball home?! Illegally drawn district lines does not make you ,Äúwinners,Äù, it simply proves you are losers who cannot win fairly.
10/20/25 6:38 PM	Nick Macon		Don,Äôt gerrymander districts
10/20/25 6:39 PM	Dr Rilla Murray		Stop this redistricting nonsense and do your real jobs. Pass a budget, fund our PUBLIC schools. We are watching. We will remember.
10/20/25 6:39 PM	Kelley Davis		I am a registered voter in NC and have voted in this state since I turned 18 in 1981. This redistricting is partisan politics at its WORST! Phil Berger has made an illegal ,Äúdeal,Äù with the US President. The people will not stand for this abuse of power. Power originally given to them by their constituents. Redrawing districts mid-decade is a shameful ploy to rig future elections in favor of whites and will set back civil rights for minorities & the poor. NC expects free and fair elections. And this redistricting is neither free nor fair. Go back to the ,Äúreal,Äù work you were elected to do and PASS A BUDGET.
10/20/25 6:40 PM	Mrs Angela Robinson		This is unacceptable! North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. Stop doing Trump,Äôs bidding and show up for fair elections. You should earn your seat in government not get it by cheating and redrawing the maps.
10/20/25 6:40 PM	Nadine Miller-Bernard		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is an attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 6:40 PM	Jennifer Litzen		The public is watching closely, and we are against rigged elections.
10/20/25 6:40 PM	Alexa Loomis		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable.
10/20/25 6:40 PM	Katherine Connors		Using redistricting as a way to hold on to power against the people,Äôs will is against what our country supposedly stands for. You are expected to do and be better than this.
10/20/25 6:41 PM	No- to Gerrymandering Rachael Frank	Citizen	Publicly stating how vile it is that a group of elected officials are usurping the voice of its constituents by redrawing the voting of districts and maps. I,Äôm one voice but, still one that is against redrawing of these maps.
10/20/25 6:41 PM	Julia Holcomb		Gerrymandering is ethically and morally wrong. All people should be able to trust that the people that are elected actually serve their needs, not the "reigning" party's needs.
10/20/25 6:42 PM	Dr Carol Clark		I urge the NC legislators to refrain from the proposed mid-decade congressional redistricting. Such partisan gerrymandering will further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps. It will further erode North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice and influence important policies related to health care, education, environment, energy, economic development, and justice. As we are currently seeing, it weakens voters,Äô ability to speak to their representatives in a public meeting and allows lawmakers to choose which constituents they are accountable to. Partisan gerrymandering turns the idea of democracy on its head by allowing legislators to pick their voters instead of voters to pick their legislators. This does not go unnoticed by NC voters, among whom there is strong bipartisan agreement (84% of all voters, Republican - 66%, Democrats - 79%, and Unaffiliated - 82%) that it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. I, like many North Carolinians who oppose this attempt at partisan gerrymandering, remain committed to fair elections, transparent redistricting at appropriate times, and protecting our fundamental right to vote and have that vote count as much as the next person,Äôs. Elections maps should not be changed mid-century, with less than a week from map publication to final vote, and for no reason other than one party,Äôs wish to win elections despite voter preferences. This is not how democracy is supposed to work. Thank you for your consideration.

10/20/25 6:42 PM	Unconstitutional Kyle Lanasa	This is sad. Is this party that afraid of the voter? Shame on Hastings and Overcash, shame on you all. Vote to fund our schools, if you want to do something,Ã¶or maybe a state budget.
10/20/25 6:42 PM	Judy Haughee-Bartlett	Redistricting based on race to help Republicans to stay in power is a wrong done to all people.
10/20/25 6:42 PM	Ms Paula O,ÄôMalley	Redistricting is shameful. It also shows how little faith you have in yourselves that you would feel the need to cheat in order to be elected. Democrat and Republican alike you are the same entity the government do your job and stop playing games with the lives of your fellow citizens. It,Äôs low it,Äôs classless and I believe gerrymandering has been illegal for quite some time yet. North Carolina is always in the news for it. Why do you shame your own state??
10/20/25 6:43 PM	melissa McClure	This. Must. Stop. Watering down our votes at the demand of a convicted felon is not who NC needs to be. We are better than this. Yes, both parties need to stop this.
10/20/25 6:43 PM	Alice Snell	NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS! There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the redistricting process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. NC Republican legislators should focus on fairly representing the people of North Carolina in good faith, not redistricting and gerrymandering as a political power grab.
10/20/25 6:44 PM	Ms Linda Colgan	I am opposed to redistricting congressional plans aka to gerrymander in NC. The people should pick their elected officials not the other way around. We understand that the Republicans know that their ideas are unpopular and therefore they are trying to steal the elections. It,Äôs bad enough that you,Äôre making it more difficult for black and brown people to register and vote, but to gerrymander any further is outrageously unfair and un-American.
10/20/25 6:44 PM	Mrs Leah Staley	This is a bad process. There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising.
10/20/25 6:44 PM	Joshua Egodo	I strongly disagree & object to what the NC General Assembly is doing. Gerrymandering is immoral and unethical - not to mention it SHOULD BE illegal for ANYONE to do it ANYWHERE. The bottom line is that this is wrong, and it will erase quality representation for my area and all others affected by it. The republicans already have the deck stacked in their favor enough as it is (right now) in North Carolina. This mid-decade "redistricting" should not be allowed to take place.
10/20/25 6:45 PM	Theresa Hitt	Why doesn,Äôt the North Carolina state legislature worry more about the citizens of their state than what Donald Trump wants? You can pull it together in 3 working days to put forth and try to pass a. gerrymandering bill but can,Äôt pass a budget. We elected all of you to take care of the citizens of our state and if you continue to focus your efforts in way that we don,Äôt want and do not benefit us you know Carolinans vote for people not party and we have long memories.
10/20/25 6:46 PM	Madeleine Eldridge	The gerrymandered map proposed by S.B. 249 does not accurately represent North Carolina and its population, or the will of the people. NC residents deserve a fair map.
10/20/25 6:46 PM	Fred Indenbaum	Dear Republican lawmakers, you already know that your efforts undermine democracy and are unethical, and I know that you don't care what I and thousands others think. I will add this. You are cowards because you have the power and the capacity to redistrict - legally. This is your cowardice. You fix the race because you are afraid of democracy, a fair fight. Anybody can make a law to discriminate against others, to limit their voice, to deny them access to vote but character belongs to those who have the power and use it ethically to benefit all citizens. I'm a christian and it is my sincere belief that the worst thing you are doing is sinning. But that is not mine to judge. That's His and He will.
10/20/25 6:46 PM	Margaret Rickert	Enough with the disenfranchisement and vote stealing. It is crystal clear what you are doing and it's truly hard to understand how you live with yourselves with your dishonest and manipulative actions. There is still room for decency in this scary world. Please take a hard look at yourselves and choose to err on the side of fairness and decency.
10/20/25 6:46 PM	K Howell	Why can,Äôt republicans make a balanced budget and fully fund our schools instead of worrying about redistricting things for Trump so NC Republicans can continue the money train that being a representative in North Carolina is.
10/20/25 6:47 PM	Mrs. Elise Green	It seems to me that Republicans have rushed through a bill that has gerrymandered No. Carolina in order to please Donald Trump. While pleasing your dear leader, you're ignoring the people of the state of North Carolina. You're drawing unfair maps that will give the Republicans an unfair advantage in the midterms, in the next Presidential election, and forever. You're playing dirty with our ability to vote and be heard, a right we've had since the Constitution was signed in 1776. You should be ashamed of yourselves! Sincerely, Elise Green

10/20/25 6:48 PM	Whitney Staub	As a concerned citizen of North Carolina, I am deeply troubled by the recent actions of our Republican-led legislature regarding redistricting. The decision to redraw congressional maps mid-decade,Äîoutside the standard post-Census cycle,Äîraises serious questions about the integrity of our democratic process. These changes appear designed not to reflect population shifts or community interests, but to entrench partisan power and silence competitive voices. This kind of manipulation erodes public trust and undermines the foundational principle of equal representation. Voters deserve districts that are drawn transparently and fairly, not engineered to guarantee outcomes for one party. When elected officials prioritize political advantage over democratic fairness, they betray the very constituents they were elected to serve. I urge our leaders to reconsider these tactics and commit to a redistricting process that honors the spirit of democracy. North Carolina,Äôs voters deserve better.
10/20/25 6:48 PM	Beth Folic	This is a LOW POINT for NC government. You can't seem to come together to approve a budget to keep our teachers paid and your constituents covered with health care, but the Republicans rush to protect the Furor and create new districts to steal the election for TRUMP??!!! I thought his support was THE BIGGEST EVER, so why the rush to steal these votes for him???? This is underhanded and being rushed to avoid accountability. Don't worry, WE'RE ALL WATCHING and taking notes!!! This is taking away our rights to free and fair elections and it will not be ignored or tolerated!
10/20/25 6:49 PM	Nicole Lungerhausen	This nothing but a power grab by a GOP party that has no regard for voters in North Carolina and will use any excuse to disenfranchise us, cater to billionaires and corporations, and suck up to their favorite wanna-be dictator in DC.
10/20/25 6:49 PM	Ms Laila Watson-El	My expectation is that elected officials and representatives hold true to serving the constituents they represent. You fail when you cheat and ignore what is fair and right. We don,Äôt expect our representatives to gerrymander in order win seats.
10/20/25 6:50 PM	Dr. Diane Beckman	North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. Represent US, the voters of North Carolina, not the wishes of Donald Trump!
10/20/25 6:50 PM	Lauren Smith	This redistricting is actually gerrymandering. No matter what narrative Republicans use, this type of manipulation is being used to disenfranchise voters.
10/20/25 6:50 PM	Krys Mangandi	Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 6:50 PM	Ms Elizabeth Hill	I am opposed to the plan for mid cycle redistricting. You readily admit your are ONLY doing this to gain a seat in Congress. How unfair to the districts that already exist! When you change district lines voters get confused and fewer people want to vote. They also decide that their votes don't matter so why bother> What we want is for MORE people to vote, regardless of their party affiliations. And their votes should COUNT. Please do not do this until the next census when the cycle is meant to happen.
10/20/25 6:50 PM	Dr. Diane Hourigan	I am vehemently opposed to the proposed redistricting maps to keep Republicans in power. There is NOT a mandate for Trump's agenda in North Carolina! Winning with 50.9% of the vote is NOT massive support for Trump; and in fact 84.9 % of North Carolinians are against partisan gerrymandering! Voters are supposed to pick their representatives, not the other way around and you INSIST on ignoring all of us, just so you can stay in power. North Carolina is already one of the most gerrymandered of all the states. If you want to win elections, maybe you shouldn't have a felon for a president and have policies that actually help people instead of the very wealthy donors. I find this absolutely disgusting and urge you to find some common sense and ethical standards and beg you to NOT vote to gerrymander our maps even more than they are. If the tables were turned you would be screaming and hollering and don't forget....Texas started this midterm gerrymandering, not California....all at the urging of a megalomaniac dictator. I am extremely concerned about the future of our democracy and urge you to find a backbone and do the fair and honest thing.
10/20/25 6:51 PM	Rev Pamela Patterson	Vote no! This redistricting plan is no more than an illicit tactic to suppress legitimate votes. Please do the job you were elected to do : represent the interests of all of your constituents, regardless of party!
10/20/25 6:51 PM	Rebecca Hoeckele	Earn my vote; don,Äôt steal it! Donald Trump,Äôs unpopular agenda has Republicans dreading the electoral consequences coming in the 2026 midterm elections, so they,Äôre scrambling to rig congressional maps across the country to steal enough seats from Democrats to keep their majority next year. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù And why so fast? As with the 2026 elections, Republicans are afraid to hear what their constituents think. They,Äôre rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising.

10/20/25 6:51 PM	Proposed redistricting Lacy Chronister		I am writing to urge you all to oppose the proposed map. This plan is clearly a partisan gerrymander, designed to secure an additional seat for one party rather than represent the will of the people. I am particularly concerned that it targets the 1st Congressional District, which has elected Black representatives for over three decades, to dilute Black voting power. Redistricting should not be used as a tool to dismantle communities for political gain." If you vote for this plan, you are sending a clear message to all North Carolinians that their voice does not matter and the NC government chooses corruption over the people of N.C.
10/20/25 6:52 PM	Art Close	Taxpayer	Redistricting for the president instead of your own constituents is wrong! Don,Äôt do it, you've been warned there will be election consequences!
10/20/25 6:53 PM	Laura P. Hannah	Concord, NC	I ask that you refrain from redistricting that will erode any North Carolinians' ability to elect the candidate of their choice. Thank you.
10/20/25 6:53 PM	Mary Platek		This is supposed to be a democracy. By further gerrymandering, or laws and districts, this republican led legislature is eroding the ability for my vote as well as half of this states citizens to count for anything. This is a purple state and you are bound to represent all of your constitutes, not just the far right interests. Our state is constantly being sited as one of the worst gerrymandered states. Please do your duty to all of the people in this state, and stop trying railroad your interests over the majority of our citizens.
10/20/25 6:54 PM	Joseph Gallagher		No taxation without representation from elected individuals who support their constituents and reflect them and their views, needs and desires.
10/20/25 6:54 PM	Mrs. Ana Vick		It is undemocratic to redraw maps in such a strange shape which is clearly meant to diminish the voting power of NC citizens. We demand equal and fair representation and call on our legislators to vote no on these unfair maps.
10/20/25 6:55 PM	Ms Vickie Atkinson		Redistributing mid decade for political gain is outrageous. North Carolina districts were already gerrymandered by Republicans. It is totally unfair in a roughly equally divided state to draw the maps so that Republicans have a huge advantage. Then to redraw the maps to take away another one is infuriating. Let the voters choose. Let us have fair maps!
10/20/25 6:56 PM	Shelli Denington		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 6:56 PM	Stephanie Benner		Redistricting to choose your constituents is unconstitutional, and not what the people of North Carolina want. 84% of voters do NOT approve of gerrymandering and redrawing the maps. Whichever side you are on, 84% of voters understand that the PEOPLE should choose their representatives, not the other way around. By gerrymandering into a permanently locked Republican General Assembly, you are committing us to years of further disarray, lack of budget, lower education standards, and become a place we are no longer proud to call home. Do NOT redistrict unfairly.
10/20/25 6:56 PM	Bea Covington	Property Owner in Marion NC	I am writing to express my OPPOSITION to any proposals to redraw NC Congressional districts. Partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable and does not reflect the intentions of NC voters. There are other more pressing matters (for example- the current, Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation and Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million) these are real issues that impact real people and should be the priority. After all- if the Republican/MAGA agenda is so popular, and so beautiful, it should be able to win/stand on its own merits by a landslide and not need to be artificially propped up by an impromptu effort to redraw maps!
10/20/25 6:56 PM	Mary Blair		Maps must be drawn fairly to allow black people to be eligible to hold office and represent their district. Republicans cannot gerrymander districts to prevent blacks from being used, promoteeligible to represent their districts. It,Äôs unlawful and unconstitutional..
10/20/25 6:56 PM	Boot Licker Priorities John Blanton		Redistricting to help King Trump steal a house seat to ensure they can continue to hide the Epstein files is pathetic. I,Äôm sure Amy Galey has been very busy consoling her husband after the death of Charlie Kirk but it would be nice for her to actually do her job instead of doing whatever Phil Berger instructs her to do. It,Äôs a shame that Amy is only in office because Rick Gunn couldn,Äôt resist sleeping with one of his staff.
10/20/25 6:56 PM	Deborah Flowers		A solid NO on this. This is just manipulating elections. Please refrain from doing this. We need all of our leaders to be honest, ethical, and have integrity, no matter what party.
10/20/25 6:56 PM	No redrawing maps! Brigitte Metzger Harding		I am against the redistricting. Please spend your time and energy on our budget and things that will actually help our state. Stand up and do the right thing!
10/20/25 6:57 PM	Summer Winkler		You are knowingly and quickly, to avoid pushback, rigging North Carolina election maps to take voting power away from Democratic voters. We are a swing state! I support the full right to have equal votes regardless of Republican vs Democrat. This is an outrageous power grab and it not representing the over 80% of North Carolinians who believe that gerrymandering is inexcusable. I do NOT support redrawing the maps!
10/20/25 6:57 PM	Kristen Ryberg	BOONE RISING	85% of of North Carolinians, including me, oppose gerrymandering NC maps. The system is mandated to represent fairly all voters thereby allowing voters to choose their representatives , not the other way around. In the strongest terms possible I ask you to please support fair elections in NC. Speak out against the current redistricting plan and reject these maps. Respectfully, Kristen Ryberg, Boone NC.

10/20/25 6:57 PM	Ms Bess Kercher		Please vote NO to this naked power grab. Show that NC leaders are ethical and operate independently from outside political pressure ,Ä¶ and that NC voters choose their leaders, not the other way around.
10/20/25 6:57 PM	Ms. Monika Klein		No gerrymandering! Find an equitable way to redistricting if necessary. Ensure every voter gets equal representation. Keep our democracy alive.
10/20/25 6:58 PM	Mrs Michelle Graziosi		Redistricting at this point in time is illegal and wrong. It isn,Äôt supposed to be done until the census is taken again. Present policies that make people want to vote for you. Don,Äôt try to game the system and then jam policies down people,Äôs throats.
10/20/25 6:58 PM	Nate Crawford		Fuck you all for cheating! Every last one of you fucks should be arrested, all wages and money you cheated this state out of should be dispersed amongst your constituents as well as any and all gains from profiteering off insider trading!
10/20/25 6:58 PM	Dr Quay Garriga		Dear Madams and Sirs, I am writing regarding the redistricting of the NC maps. In short, this has been done n bad process. There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. As well as, every single comment made by the public at the hearing on Monday October 20th was AGAINST the new map. But the NC Senate passed it anyways. Secondly, this is bad politics. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù Listen to your constituents. Thank you.
10/20/25 6:59 PM	Dr Sara Via		NC is a purple state with approximately equal numbers of Republicans and Democrats among voters. Redistricting to give an 11 to 3 split favoring Republicans is an unpardonable violation of the rights of our voters. This plan is just wrong.
10/20/25 6:59 PM	MRS Judith Phoenix	TITLE*citizen	I AM TOTALLY OPPOSED TO WHERE POLITICIANS PICK THEIR VOTERS RATHER THAN THE VOTERS PICKING THEIR POLITICIAN. Obviously you fear losing because most people do not support your positions.
10/20/25 6:59 PM	Gillian Hadden		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map does not reflect that. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, and you know it. The comments today before you shoved this through showed it. North Carolinians are not happy. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is ridiculous. This is not the way to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù NC Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no, again, as evidenced by the dissent today. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. I will not stand idly by and let this go without comment. You are minions for Trump.
10/20/25 6:59 PM	Sarah Froeber		An 11-3 map is a mockery of a North Carolinian's right to free and fair voting. This would be a complete abnegation of civil rights. Do NOT under any circumstances support this gerrymandering.
10/20/25 6:59 PM	Madeline Deviney		This is shameful and against the ideals of democracy. If people can't win fair and square then they don't deserve to win. Where is your moral compass. Gerrymandering should be a illegal.
10/20/25 6:59 PM	John Amberg		This is a travesty, a naked power grab by the MAGA Republicans who are doing this at Trump's behest. Shame on them.
10/20/25 6:59 PM	Jane STegner	Self Employed	Please stop this crazy redistricting. Free and Fair Elections are traditional AMERICAN !! STOP IT!! It will count against you -- I will NOT vote for it.
10/20/25 6:59 PM	Dr. Marjorie Warlick	12 Blueberry Hill Asheville NC 28804, a registered NC voter	I am writing to urge you not to vote for the new gerrymandered map. This process has been too rushed without public input. There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 7:00 PM	Amy McCarter		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 7:00 PM	Robert Perkins		To ignore the needs of North Carolina so you can pack the House through gerrymandering is shameful. When will you put your constituents needs above those of the rich?
10/20/25 7:00 PM	Cathy Moore		Please vote against the redistricting maps. We need an approved budget in North Carolina to assist all residents, not hastily drawn maps to serve President Trump. Saturday's peaceful demonstrations across North Carolina and the US show how unpopular his agenda really is. Please honor your oath of office and vote against these blatantly unfair maps. Thank you,

10/20/25 7:00 PM	Chuck Feimster		In North Carolina, state law dictates that redistricting for state legislative seats should occur every 10 years following the U.S. census. ‚Äî Follow the law. ‚Äî You should all (all political parties) run on your ideas, not on ‚Äúsafe‚Äù districts. If you can‚Äôt attract voters with your platform, maybe you shouldn‚Äôt be running for office.
10/20/25 7:00 PM	Lynn Illig		I am with the 84% of North Carolina voters who believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.
10/20/25 7:01 PM	Jennifer Mullen		I am in opposition of re-drawing the election maps.
10/20/25 7:01 PM	Melissa Jackson		I live in Charlotte and am against the hasty gerrymandering plan. It will erode democracy by making elections in NC not fair. The gerrymandering plan is rigging the election instead of letting voters decide. Melissa Jackson 6532 Castlegate drive Charlotte NC
10/20/25 7:01 PM	Dixie Smith		North Carolina's voting districts already gerry-mandered enough. Vote no to further redistricting. I will not vote for any legislator who goes along with this.
10/20/25 7:02 PM	Mrs Michele Lesher		How disgusting that you will take time to redraw lines so that there is an unfair balance of power when so much more is at stake in the state of North Carolina. Fund schools pay public servants, provide adequate healthcare to our citizens-all much more important to name a few. How many times do you need to meet to redistrict our state and be sneaky about it on top of everything by not telling all constituents when the meeting is. Rhetorical question- I know the answer- it's as many times as it takes when you feel threatened the Democrats will have the upper hand. I hope the day comes when everyone wisens up and are as outraged as I am now by your lack of moral decency for ALL the people of NC.
10/20/25 7:02 PM	Molly Diamond		As a constituent, I am against this redistricting. There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Furthermore, North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they‚Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.
10/20/25 7:02 PM	Maya Overcash		I oppose the re-drawing of the election maps
10/20/25 7:02 PM	Mr Christopher Harjes	Unite and Prosper	Please do not cave in to pressure from the Trump administration to artificially inflate his waning public support. Instead grow a spine, be a real American, and stand up for Democracy.
10/20/25 7:02 PM	Paul Illig		Pass the overdue budget!!! That is your job.
10/20/25 7:02 PM	Joanne Shackleford		NC is pretty much a state of half Republican voters and half Democratic voters. It is grossly unfair to set up an 11-3 districting map. The NC General Assembly will be held accountable for this.
10/20/25 7:03 PM	Georgia Rosenblum		This is disappointing that there was no public notice regarding redistricting, with Republicans rushing the process to avoid accountability. NC is a purple state, roughly half of North Carolinians are Democrats. an 11-3 map is ridiculous and not indicative of a free and fair election. 84% of North Carolinian voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. We have no operating budget - one is due over 100 days ago. State employees aren't getting decent pay increases. Medicaid is underfunded and it will only get worse. Please do not gerrymander.
10/20/25 7:03 PM	Melissa Wilson		I oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina‚Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around.
10/20/25 7:03 PM	Ms Laura Telford		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11‚Äì3 map in a 50‚Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/20/25 7:03 PM	Ms. Janet Fortner		It is unconscionable that our state legislature is seeking to disenfranchise citizens of our state by rigging the voting districts so all of our voices are not heard and our choices are limited. This is NOT democracy! It is not a government of, by and for the people. It is a bald face power grab and very unfair. Please reject this action.
10/20/25 7:04 PM	JoyceMILES Miles	Community outreach	If what Republicans are doing in redistricting is of good faith and deed, then why the rush? An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters right to free and fair election. Republicans you are trying to avoid accountability from the people you are disenfranchising.
10/20/25 7:04 PM	Kristen Valley		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 7:04 PM	Rev James Hunter	Retired Clergy	Please look in your heart, find courage, find integrity, and do not gerrymander in a way that takes away representation in a fair way for all. If you gerrymander in a way that benefits only those who look like and think like you, you are choosing the lesser path. If you can live with that, happy for you, but mostly sad for you. If anyone is still reading, my prayer is that everything you do that impacts others will be born from deep personal integrity that is able to look beyond self interest. Thank you for your willingness to serve. View it as a trust.

10/20/25 7:04 PM	Lynn Ruck	Rain Water Solutions, Inc	Do not take our voices away! In 2025, Donald Trump,Äôs unpopular agenda has Republicans dreading the electoral consequences coming in the 2026 midterm elections, so they,Äôre scrambling to rig congressional maps across the country to steal enough seats from Democrats to keep their majority next year. North Carolina Republicans are trading petty political favors with Donald Trump; it,Äôs been reported that they,Äôre giving him one of our congressional districts in exchange for endorsements. SHAME ON ALL OF YOU THAT VOTE FOR THIS. This is your legacy, traitors to democracy. This will backfire!
10/20/25 7:05 PM	Ms Jackie Alces		Shame, shame, shame on Republicans for redistricting after it has been done since the last census. The only reason you are doing this is that you are worried you will lose your majority. If you were doing the work your constiituents expect of you, this would not be a concern. However, since you are not, you want to cheat your way into staying in the majority. Whenever there is the possibility of ousting a Republican who voted for this gerrymandering, I will be working hard to see that you lose your seat. I want representatives who work for US, not Donald Trump. I want a government that reflects the will of the voters.
10/20/25 7:05 PM	Ms. Daisy Morton	N/A	No public notice was given. Republicans are obviously rushing this process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. NC is a purple state, with roughly half of North Carolinians voting for Democrats, and roughly half voting for Republicans. This 11-3 map is a mockery of NC voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree & fair election;‚Äù it,Äôs political theft, plain and simple. 84% of NC voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is wrong. The Republican-led legislature is over 100 days over-due in passing a budget. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/20/25 7:06 PM	Cheryl Capaldo Traylor		This redistribution plan is unfair and ridiculous. I,Äôm a North Carolina voter and I have a right to free and fair elections. AS ALL NORTH CAROLINIANS DO!! Republican gerrymandering is hurting our wonderful state. History will not look kindly at the Republican Party that is pushing this through. Shame on you all. Cheryl Traylor Cary NC
10/20/25 7:06 PM	Amy Paris		I strongly oppose the proposed Congressional district maps. It is unacceptable that no Democratic legislators, or the millions of voters they represent, were allowed to see or provide input on these maps until they were unveiled. Redistricting should be transparent, fair, and bipartisan. Drawing maps behind closed doors undermines public trust and weakens our democracy. I urge this committee to reject the current proposal and create districts that truly reflect the will of all North Carolinians.
10/20/25 7:07 PM	Tawanda Mays-Martinez		This is blatant election theft. You are taking the voices of Black people in the Black belt away.
10/20/25 7:07 PM	Martha Whitney		A rush to redraw our electoral maps is an atrocity. First of all 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. NC does not have an operating budget for the year but takes time to redraw maps so that not everyone will be represented. This state deserves to have everyone,Äôs vote count and to have fair maps so that the whole population is represented.
10/20/25 7:07 PM	Victoria Mszur		This is unnecessary and a blatant power grab. Not acceptable by any party. Stop it.
10/20/25 7:07 PM	Mr L.F. Eason		The Republican Party in NC has failed the citizens of our State. Since taking over the General Assembly, they have refused to work with Democrats and shirked their responsibilities to the State Constitution. The Republican Party has disenfranchised almost half of the citizens of North Carolina. This egregious plan to worsen gerrymandering is yet another step to assure democracy never returns to North Carolina or the United States! One of the founding moments for our Democratic Republic was to throw tea into Boston harbor as a protest against taxation without representation. As one of those disenfranchised by this Republican General Assembly and the US Congress, I don,Äôt think that my family should pay state or federal taxes any longer. We have no representation! None of our concerns (education, healthcare, civil rights, human rights, poverty, women,Äôs health, democracy, etc.) are being addressed or even considered. Why should I pay taxes to assist in the dismantling of public education, murder of innocent citizens by denying healthcare, reversing civil rights gains, voter suppression, and encouraging hate and division? All of these actions are antithetical to the Constitutions of North Carolina and the United States! Even as I write this for the public record, I know that those in power will ignore my and the hundreds of thousands other recorded comments seeking the restoration of Democracy. Mussolini invented the name and embraced the political corruption of Fascism. If allowed to continue and now even increase the gerrymandering of our State, the Republican Party is no less a corrupt Fascist organization.

10/20/25 7:07 PM	The Rev Marion Thullbery		Please refrain from passing any new laws gerrymandering more districts. Along with being immoral and unethical, it dis-respects at least two-thirds of the population of North Carolina. These actions prompted by power-mongering and self-interest are a stain on the integrity of our political process, on the state of North Carolina, and I fear on the very soul of all who would push forward such an action. History tells us that in the long run, such actions have their comeuppance. Thank you for reading these words.
10/20/25 7:08 PM	Martha F Johnson	Retired	I never thought I see the NC State Legislature violate all the principles I was taught in Civics. You are supposed to Represent us,Äînot treat us as pawns in your plays for power.
10/20/25 7:08 PM	For The People, or not Jonathan Barcelo	Voter	The public, has no interest in this abuse of power to shift districts in favor of GOP. Are you Elected to serve the people, or ,ÄúThe King,Äù. Wake up N.C. Legislature. Do your job
10/20/25 7:09 PM	Martha Readling		Gerrymandering is against our country,Äôs basic foundations of free and fair elections and representation . Do not undermine our democracy!
10/20/25 7:09 PM	Dr Sheila Croucher		This is a horrible plan. We must keep voting fair - making sure everyone knows they have an equal chance to be heard. Partisanship is killing this country. Please show leadership and demonstrate that democracy can still work.
10/20/25 7:09 PM	Mrs. Julia Miley		Please do not gerrymand NC in the middle of an election cycle. It is unfair and bad governance. People are watching. Julia Miley
10/20/25 7:09 PM	Katherine Snider		North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, voters would say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.
10/20/25 7:09 PM	Katarina Geckle Tallmon		Last minute changes to gerrymander the state in an attempt at unfair political gain is absurd. Stop trying to silence voters out of fear! Come up with better policies and you won,Äôt have to be so scared of losing your seat to a better candidate.
10/20/25 7:10 PM	Ms Kathleen McCrory	NC Voter	BAD POLITICS North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina
10/20/25 7:10 PM	Redrawing lines Jenna Meaney		I,Äôm a North Carolina resident, and gerrymandering rigs our democracy. You,Äôre drawing lines to silence voices you don,Äôt like and that is you spitting in the face of democracy. Draw fair districts. Let voters decide elections. Stop rigging the game because you want everything to go your way. That defeats the whole point of democracy. America is what the voters want it to be, not what the few in power want it to be. History is watching, and just know you are on the wrong side of it if you go against everything America stands for. Picking and choosing whose votes matter is not liberty and justice for all. Is this what you dreamed of when you were a kid? Suppressing the voices of many to benefit yourself and your agenda?
10/20/25 7:10 PM	Wendi Williams		STOP gerrymandering. Represent the people of NC fairly and STOP playing politics.
10/20/25 7:11 PM	Laura Franklin		NO MORE REDISTRICTING IN 2025/2026
10/20/25 7:11 PM	Mary Robertson		I am disgusted by this blatant overreach by the state GOP. This proposal is egregious gerrymandering and does not represent the people of our great state. The lack of public notice shows both the cowardice and fear of Republican leadership who do not want to be accountable to the people of our state. You all swore an oath to us, state law and most importantly to democracy. Please reflect on your values and act accordingly.
10/20/25 7:11 PM	Luz Aveleyra		Do not redraw the map. Do not target Rep. Don Davis's district. Give every district a fair chance at fair representation.
10/20/25 7:11 PM	Marie Rice		I do not support the redistricting!
10/20/25 7:12 PM	Rachel Sherman		Republicans are rushing this process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. We the people will not forget this, and no amount of gerrymandering will keep us silent. We will remember those who voted against the constitution and against the people of North Carolina.
10/20/25 7:12 PM	Jennie slawinski		Over 80% of North Carolinians think partisan gerrymandering is wrong. At the admission of a Republican congressman, Democrats were not part of creating this map. They were given the information the same day as the general public. This is wrong. Republicans will come back to Congress to pass a gerrymandered map but cannot pass a budget? Republicans have control of both the Senate and the House, why do we not have a budget but have another map that not a single constituent asked for? Do better for the people of North Carolina who are in need of healthcare, and pay raises.
10/20/25 7:12 PM	Don't redraw the Maria Pete Medrano		Please prioritize! Vote on significant raises for teachers instead of redistricting at Trump,Äôs request. Vote NO on the new maps.
10/20/25 7:12 PM	Ms Cheryl Johnson	registerd voter of North Carolina	I am totally disgusted - the GOP majority rammed this through the legislature in order to do Trump's bidding to steal another US House seat. NC is a 50/50 state as evidenced by the fact that in November we elected a Democratic Governor, Lt. Governor, Attorney General, Secretary of State and Superintendent for Public Instruction -- and a Democratic Supreme Court justice, although you tried to steal that too! An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù Voters are supposed to choose their elected representatives, not have the elected officials choose which voters they prefer!
10/20/25 7:13 PM	Dr Cathleen Carey		As one of the 84 percent if North Carolinians who oppose gerrymandering, I stand against this practice and against the speed at which the General Assembly is moving. At a time when the state of North Carolina has no approved operating budget, it seems ridiculous to consider any legislation prior to passing a budget.

10/20/25 7:13 PM	Cindy Pollotta		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/20/25 7:13 PM	Patricia Rux		This was rushed through. North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.
10/20/25 7:14 PM	Mrs Juliana Henderson		There has been no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. Shame on all of you. Is there no sense of decency and FairPlay left in the Republican Party or are you all too scared of what that Mr trump will do to you
10/20/25 7:14 PM	Dr Eleanor Martin		This is unconscionable. Representative democracy means representing the will of the people, not gerrymandering districts like a bunch of malicious cowards.
10/20/25 7:14 PM	Wendy Counts		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 7:14 PM	Kay Reibold		Dear Committee Members, Please do NOT carry out any action to alter NC's Congressional districts. To do so takes away my right to elect a candidate of my choice. I believe that gerrymandering is fundamentally unfair and promotes partisan divisiveness. It also disrupts local control and disempowers natural communities and concentrates power in the hands of political insiders. Gerrymandering must not be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. When voters go to the polls, they cast their vote believing their votes should count. I strongly urge you to reject any proposed plans for redistricting. Thank you.
10/20/25 7:14 PM	Ms Kristen Korkowski		You all know this is wrong and blantantly corrupt. The people are watching
10/20/25 7:15 PM	Dr. Raphael Orenstein		Gerrymandering is tearing our country apart. We need fair representation of the people not just power grabs. Please have impartial mathematicians and statisticians configure the maps. This would be the only fair way to do it.
10/20/25 7:15 PM	Kelly Charlton		North Carolina remains one of only two states without an approved operating budget,Äîover 100 days overdue. As a result, state employees and teachers have not received needed pay increases, leaving North Carolina educators among the lowest paid in the Southeast. Medicaid faces a $300 million shortfall that threatens rural healthcare access. Instead of resolving these pressing issues, the legislature rushed back to Raleigh to pass a partisan redistricting map after national political pressure. North Carolinians overwhelmingly oppose gerrymandering, yet once again, partisan priorities are taking precedence over the needs of NC citizens and their children.
10/20/25 7:15 PM	Samantha Schipman		This map is racist and you should be ashamed to target Black voters. We demand fair maps in NC because North Carolinians should get to choose their elected officials. NC can,Äôt pass a state budget & is kicking millions of health insurance, but y,Äôall found the time to make our state even more gerrymandered because Dear Leader said to. Pathetic.
10/20/25 7:16 PM	Ms. Kelley Curtis	I was born in and live in North Carolina.	You think people aren't paying attention, so you rushed back to do the bidding of a president who is acting unlawfully. The majority of North Carolinians do not approve of gerrymandering because it is cheating, plain and simple. This is a purple state, you're being unethical, and the true Republicans are going to see you for what you are. You were elected to represent ALL of North Carolina. Have a bit of honesty and integrity about you. Resist gerrymandering unfairly. Kelley Curtis
10/20/25 7:16 PM	Mrs Patty Matteson		NC doesn,Äôt need new maps. If this were put to a statewide vote the answer would be no. How dare you answer the call from an administration which has no regard for the rule of law. We need a budget in NC. We need you to focus on the people who elected you.
10/20/25 7:17 PM	Joyce Dunn	None	As a retired NC Mayor I am embarrassed and ashamed that my state legislators have joined the ranks of the spinless sycophants of Donald Trump. Phil Berger apparently feels there is no other way to win his seat in the next election. We, the voters, are not fooled by this chicanery. I am among the ranks of the honest people of this state determined to ensure that anyone who supports this decision can count on loud opposition in the next election.
10/20/25 7:17 PM	Gerrymandering Brianna Kraus		This is completely unacceptable. Your constituents do NOT want this, this is cheating.
10/20/25 7:17 PM	Marina Nielsen		To Whom It May Concern I am a voter in NC and I am deeply concerned by the haste through which this process seems to have come about and is proceeding. I am concerned that many NC voters like myself will be disenfranchised by a redistricting process that may not be but political in nature and not based on any actual, clearly identified needs.
10/20/25 7:17 PM	Mrs MARTHA DANIEL		What a horrible idea.
10/20/25 7:18 PM	Kelly Alwin		I am against the redistricting. There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. The process is being rushed to avoid accountability from the people being disenfranchised. The proposed map does not accurately reflect our state. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map denies North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù

10/20/25 7:18 PM	Do Not Do This! Gordon and Susan Grant	Camp Mondamin	The Republican party in the United States in general and in the North Carolina general assembly is completely abdicating any kind of moral stance about representative democracy. They are doing this because they follow the directions of a dictatorial United States president, and they are doing it against the wishes of their electorate. History will remember this abandonment of democratic principles. Doing these hurry up versions of gerrymandering before the constitutionally directed dates of redistricting that happen every decade is clearly a power grab, and a shameless one at that. We will remember this in the 2026 elections, when we vote you out of power that you are trying to lock up for a decade.
10/20/25 7:19 PM	Dr. John Corbin	private citizen retired	Opinion polling indicates that the vast majority of North Carolina voters want redistricting decisions to be made by an independent nonpartisan group rather than the state legislature. There is widespread support among both republican and democratic voters for an end to partisan gerrymandering by either party. Please support equal representation, "one man one vote," and give us representation that is fair and equitable. Our democracy depends on it.
10/20/25 7:19 PM	Ms Susan Andre		This is bad politics. There hasn,Äôt been time for enough public notice, and frankly, if the public were asked, they would not be in favor of disenfranchising so many of North Carolina citizens . North Carolina is a purple state. The proposed 11,Äì3 map makes a mockery of citizens,Äô right to ,Äúfree and fair elections.,Äù
10/20/25 7:19 PM	Mr James Hill Jr		My name is James Hill, Jr. I am a resident of Sanford, NC in Lee County. For decades, members of my community and I have been working to ensure that voter protection is secured for all people. That has especially meant Black residents, who have historically been denied access to the democratic process and face continued attempts to weaken our political power. I am speaking to express concern about the lack of transparency regarding the criteria being used in this process. But given population changes reflected in the 2020 census, we must ensure that the criteria considers several factors, including race, to ensure ,ÄúNC communities remain the priority,Äù. As you know, according to 2020 Census data, North Carolina,Äôs population increased to 10,439,388, reflecting a growth of 9.5 percent over the last decade, granting North Carolina an extra congressional seat. In addition: ?More than 78% of North Carolina,Äôs population growth occurred in its two largest metro areas, while more than half of the state,Äôs 100 counties lost population ?Since 2010 our Black population of North Carolina has grown by 4.3% and comprises 20% of the State's population ?In over 40 counties in North Carolina, the Black population exceeds 20% ?Statewide, from the 2020 Census, 60% of North Carolina's residents identified as White, 20% as Black or African American, and 11% as Hispanic or Latinx. ?Less than 30 of the 120 members of the NC House are persons of color, and roughly 10 of the 50 members of the North Carolina Senate are persons of color. ?In several counties, growth in the Black population was significant, including Wake, Mecklenburg, Guilford, Buncombe, and Forsyth The criteria used in this process must be reflective of the voting population of our state. There are several resources available to assist in fair and equitable districting, I have included some below. https://preprints.apsanet.org/engage/api-gateway/apsa/assets/orp/resource/item/60e46f 7ea4e06bf9217014db/original/fair-and-square-redistricting.pdf https://news.cornell.edu/stories/2020/11/fairmandering-draws-fair-districts-using-data-sci ence Thank you for your consideration, James Hill Jr
10/20/25 7:19 PM	No Redistricting! A D		I will keep this simple. If you have time to redraw maps that aren,Äôt due for it, you definitely have time to work on a budget & run this state. Republicans hated it when Dems gerrymandered the state in their favor and now you turn around & do the exact same thing? It,Äôs all about power and control and we are sick of it. You know how to do better, so be better.
10/20/25 7:20 PM	Ms. Jeanine Brandi		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities.
10/20/25 7:20 PM	Mrs. Jada Andre		NC should not shame itself with redistricting schemes. There,Äôs more important work to do and NC should be honorable and fair.

10/20/25 7:20 PM	Nancy Brookshire	Central Cary Precinct 04-16	I'm writing to say please do what is fair. Gerrymandering is not legal and it severely damages are right to vote. This country is a Democracy founded on the Constitution of the America. You must stop this blatant action to nullify our votes. Stop putting the GOP in control!!!! You were elected to represent NC. Not keep our votes from not mattering.
10/20/25 7:20 PM	Brittany Evans		As a North Carolina resident who supports fair voting maps and who already lives in a gerrymandered congressional district, I ask that you refrain from introducing any mid-decade redistricting in 2025 that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Our state is accustomed to you gerrymandering our districts. We are also tired of it. A September 2025 survey of North Carolina voters conducted by a Republican polling firm found 84% of NC voters oppose gerrymandering under any circumstances, including 78% of Republicans. Don‚Äôt make our districts worse because you pass bad policy and can‚Äôt get elected fairly.
10/20/25 7:20 PM	Charlotte Jackson		What on earth has happened to you Folks in our general assembly?! Have you forgotten that you represent all the people regardless of party affiliation? Shame on you if you do not stop stealing North Carolinians right to be represented in Washington!
10/20/25 7:21 PM	Carolyn Rouse		What republicans are doing is theft and I am vehemently opposed to the redistricting they are doing. We had no public notice for this and we are NOT a red state! If you want us to vote red, make policies we want, treat us as your constituents and not just people who live in NC! You work for the people, NOT TRUMP! Do not pass these gerrymandered maps! Stop cheating and stealing and lying!
10/20/25 7:21 PM	Judy Sawler		No more gerrymandering in NC!
10/20/25 7:21 PM	Ms. Maddie Allsup		There is no need to redraw maps! Don‚Äôt be someone who takes away the voice of the people who you are meant to be representing, which means ALL North Carolinians, not just republicans.
10/20/25 7:21 PM	Michael Norton		I strongly object to this effort to redraw maps to eliminate a Democratic seat in Congress. Besides the fact that redistricting typically happens only after the 10-year census, no one in North Carolina asked for this action. It is completely uncalled for Just last month, Opinion Diagnostics (a Republican-leaning polling firm) surveyed registered voters in the state and more than 90% were opposed to partisan gerrymandering. That overwhelming majority includes both Republicans and Democrats. The strong opposition crosses party lines. Historically, even Republicans in the NC General Assembly opposed partisan gerrymandering and pushed for bipartisan commissions to draw congressional maps when the Democrats held the majority. North Carolinians should choose our elected officials, rather than politicians choosing their voters! In addition, the NCGA leadership offered no public notice. The proposed maps were made public on Thursday, and the votes started today. Why is the Republican leadership rushing the process, and why haven't the voters been provided a genuine opportunity to offer our input? The Senate heard public comment on the maps today. Members of the public packed the gallery, with an overflow crowd in the hallway. Every comment was against the map, but the committee voted for it anyway. And then the full Senate passed it in a full floor vote. Why did the Senate ignore the input voters provided today? I urge the House Select Committee on Redistricting to vote down this effort to disenfranchise a significant number of voters in NC!
10/20/25 7:22 PM	Jaylen Peacox		I am NOT in favor of this redistricting, I find it unfair and it will be lessening the importance and size of my political voice
10/20/25 7:22 PM	Mrs Kate McCarthy		NO GERRYMANDERING! Stop cheating ! The GOP has been doing this since 1865 bc they know they can‚Äôt win in a straight fight. We‚Äôre not having it.
10/20/25 7:22 PM	michelle vruwink		Redistricting st this time, with no new census data and at the request of the republican and lame duck president is a clear and intentional act to silence or disenfranchise voters. Doing so in a year when the legislature has failed its most basic duty to pass a budget adds insult. The Republican controlled legislature is clearly incompetent and unable to effectively perform its duties.
10/20/25 7:23 PM	No redistricting! Jennifer Franco	Durham County	As the House of Representatives, you represent us. You work for us. You need to vote in the interests of the people. We do not agree with redrawing the congressional maps. Our government is a non functioning government. Please fix that and begin to vote in our interests.
10/20/25 7:23 PM	Deborah Dobson	N/A	There was NO public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they‚Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Ä13 map in a 50,Ä50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù

10/20/25 7:23 PM	Mrs. Ellen Kirby		I can see no reason for redistricting in the current proposals. I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Âôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Âô power to elect candidates of their choice.
10/20/25 7:24 PM	Mrs Marilyn Ridgeway		Republicans have gerrymandered a purple state so that they have a 10 - 4. Split. Shouldn,Äôt the district reflect the split in the state so that there should be 7 seats for each or at least redistrict so that political party is not the deciding factor? The governing body should not make this decision. Redistricting should be in the hands if a Redistricting committee so that you are not choosing your voters and so that voters have a choice. Gerrymandering fosters extreme candidates i.e . Mark Robinson Having looked over voter registration in my precinct, it looks like new residents are registering independent. Have Republicans considered how turned off independents might be by this power grab. It could cost you bigly.
10/20/25 7:24 PM	Ms. Eileen Hanson-Kelly	None	I am opposed to any more gerrymandering of Congressional Districts. This is another power grab at the request of a president that believes he rules. NC should have fair maps that reflects the voters in this state, such as were required by the court in 2022. (7 leaning Republican and 7 leaning Democrat) The proposed new map especially disenfranchised Black voters.
10/20/25 7:24 PM	Meaghan Mulholland Hutson		This entire process is a mockery of democracy and American ideals. I am grieving and furious at this blatant power grab, Republicans determined to override the will of the people and jump when President Trump says to do so. It's disgusting and sad and reckoning will come, some day, for the cowards who are pushing through the redrawn maps without adequate notification for public comment--rushing to do this days after President Trump demanded it like the wannabe dictator he is, with no regard for our Constitutional rights or procedures put in place for fair elections and balance of power. Shame atop shame: North Carolina is one of only two states in the U.S. without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing it. Shame upon shame: Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast, and with the lack of budget, state employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But Republican leaders scrambled back to Raleigh to force through this gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last. Ugly and disgusting and the history and the voting public will remember this, if our democracy survives.
10/20/25 7:25 PM	Karmal Spaeth		Redrawing North Carolina's maps to be even more gerrymandered than they already are is a disgusting abuse of power. We are furious and deserve a voice at the table. No taxation without representation. Where is our representation?!
10/20/25 7:25 PM	Suzanne Ftoelich		The proposed redistricting plan is a racist and blatantly unfair attempt to negate the will of the people, especially Black North Carolinians. All legislators with any integrity should vote no on this plan!
10/20/25 7:26 PM	Mr William Gaither		To the Committee: This new gerrymandered map is bad process and bad politics. You did not provide public notice for this redistricting activity. The new maps were published on Thursday and votes started on Monday. Now the Republicans in the General Assembly propose to disenfranchise approximately 1/2 of the legal voters in NC with regard to selecting their representatives. Shame on the GOP if this undemocratic gerrymandered map is approved.
10/20/25 7:26 PM	Mrs. Jillanne Odonovan		As a constituent of North Carolina, I believe the proposed redistricting is unethical if not also illegal. It,Äôs striping voters of their rights and rigging the system for greed.
10/20/25 7:26 PM	Please Stop nadia wisley		We are in a time where more and more of your constituents are facing inequitable conditions and false justice. Redistricting this state would leave more voices to suffer in silence and more votes neglected. You all are smart people and you already know this. Yet you forget, ‚Äúdemo,Äù in democracy means people. And if you silence the people, you no longer have a democracy, you no longer care constituents. True democracy, in either party, shines best when all voices are heard, considered, and celebrated. Please stop committing such acts of injustice towards those you serve. You would hurt both sides, both parties, whether you believe it or not.
10/20/25 7:26 PM	Ms. Virginia Hunneke		The proposed Congressional district plan is an affront to common sense and deprives constituencies of accurate representation. Vote against this!
10/20/25 7:26 PM	Mrs Antonina Van Nostrand		Dear Committee: The "vote" being taken to gerrymander in an obscene partisan way is the absolute antithesis of a democratic society and government. Shame on your for caving to the current administration's unethical (and should be illegal) request to gerrymander our maps. We are an Independent family, and want our representatives to do their job FOR the people they represent, not pander to a sitting president who has made it clear he hasn't ruled out a 3rd term, also illegal as we all know. Stop pretending you are public servants - true public servants would be doing their job, not being pressured by a person who aims to retain power well beyond the legal term. Do NOT allow these districts to be redrawn in an unrepresented manner.

10/20/25 7:26 PM	Jewel Marrow		North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/20/25 7:27 PM	N.C. private citizen Emily Adams	N/A	As a citizen of N.C, I strongly oppose the Republican proposed new redistricting map that will unfairly eliminate all competition for the foreseeable future.North Carolina is indisputably a purple state .
10/20/25 7:27 PM	Maureen Kuntz		In a democracy,voters choose their representatives;representatives do not get to choose their voters. We should have fair districts that reflect the will of the citizens. Rearranging congressional districts to favor one party is undemocratic and not what the founders intended.
10/20/25 7:27 PM	No more redistricting Renee Peterson		We JUST had redistricting for the 2024 elections. Redistricting is unnecessary and not to the benefit of North Carolinians. The NC legislature has important work to do to serve the people of North Carolina. Continuing to prioritize drawing maps is an insult to the communities you were voted in to represent.
10/20/25 7:28 PM	NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS Debra Horton		NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.
10/20/25 7:28 PM	A Note Against Casey Diffley	Citizen	How about you make some real effective change we,Äôd all vote for instead of voting to have redraw arts and crafts time.
10/20/25 7:28 PM	bill ROACH		I dislike gerrymandering on any basis as I am convinced its main purpose is to disenfranchise voters. This particular case seems particularly heinous because it is kowtowing to the whim of one person who is attempting to remain in power by any and all means necessary and has displayed little regard for the people of NC. It is part of a wide ranging plan to disregard the will of North Carolina Voters. If policies and ideas are worthy put them on the ballot through representatives and referendums and let the people decide. I anticipate that this redistricting move by the current legislature will eventually rebound with deleterious results for both the Republican Party and NC
10/20/25 7:29 PM	Edward Maresca		I find it very unfortunate that NC has decided that redistricting is more important than passing a budget. Your behavior as representatives of this state is an abomination. Do your job and stop kissing Trumps ass.
10/20/25 7:29 PM	Zachary Abzug		I am incredibly opposed to any redistricting measures, such as this one, that are focused on increasing one party's share in the state legislature to further misrepresent the popularity of that party amongst the state's voting populace.
10/20/25 7:29 PM	Rev. Betty Berghaus	Select...Retired	If you think that redistricting is helpful to the public that elected you, you are not listening to the people of NC . If you are voting for the redistricting because it benefits you and other Republicans, you are not listening to the people of NC. If you think you are acting as the public servant you were elected to be, perhaps you are not listening to the people of NC who elected you. Maybe it is time to listen, and time to stop protecting yourself. Protect the people of NC. Thank you.
10/20/25 7:29 PM	Mr. James Hemby	Self	I am writing in opposition to the Republican redistricting effort. I am concerned for several reasons: 1. There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. 2. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Ä¡3 map in a 50,Ä¡50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election. No one asked for this but Trump - the majority of North Carolinians oppose this effort. It is unsavory to think our state is following the examples of states like Texas and Ohio in pursuing an undemocratic, purely partisan early redistricting. In the strongest terms, I urge the NC Senate to reconsider and put aside this mockery of our elections.
10/20/25 7:29 PM	Joan Colburn		Republicans have gerrymandered North Carolina to the extreme! THEY have failed to pass a much needed state budget, but have time to steal one more seat for Trump & their own power! What is the monetary cost and what is the cost to fair elections. I have lost all respect for our Republican legislators, as they no longer care about the people of our great state! Do better!

10/20/25 7:30 PM	Holly Shepard		To my North Carolina Republican legislative leaders. I am a 65-year-old mother of a wounded warrior, a grandmother, and a social worker who has donated hundreds of pro bono hours to our military veterans and active duty personnel. I am an independent voter and proud North Carolinian. I love this state and I love my country. That is why I'm disheartened to learn that our GOP legislative leadership is seeking to redistrict our extraordinary state. I expected more from our leaders; more integrity, more courage, more fairness, more patriotism. As I stood shoulder to shoulder with Democrats, Republicans, and Independents on October 18, 2025, this small group of 7,000,000+ patriotic Americans reaffirmed our mission to save our Republic. We showed up across the nation in defense of our democracy. Peaceful protest is not just our right, it is our DUTY when leaders chose to abuse their power. Every time the Trump administration chips away at our freedoms, our movement grows stronger. North Carolina Republican legislative leaders want to gerrymander our Congressional maps. This "if you can't beat them, change the rules," philosophy is targeting Democratic-held districts at the expense of the people,Äôs right to fair representation. Our GOP leaders are doing Trump's bidding at their own voters' expense. However, we North Carolinians are watching. We're not asleep. And, we're smart. We know what you're doing. We KNOW the majority of Americans disagree with this mid-decade redistricting. We KNOW the majority of Americans want fair, independently-drawn maps that reflect our communities. As our numbers continue to grow, those of us willing to protect our democracy will continue to make it clear: this is a government BY THE PEOPLE, FOR THE PEOPLE. Remember when YOU used to believe that? When you said the Pledge of Allegiance with your right hand over your heart in a classroom filled with desks and best friends? There are millions upon millions of us who DO remember. And, we will not forget your choice to place your loyalty toward one person ahead of our Constitution and ALL your constituents. No. We will not forget. And, we're not going anywhere.
10/20/25 7:30 PM	Urgent messsge Heather Holleman		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable.
10/20/25 7:30 PM	Dianne English		I am gravely concerned with the actions being taken to ignore the legality of Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act and approve the gerrymandering of an area of Eastern NC. Please reconsider.
10/20/25 7:30 PM	Kelly Becker		I do not support the proposed congressional district plan. As a person of faith, I believe our leaders are called to govern with integrity, fairness, and respect for every person created in God,Äôs image. When district lines are drawn to divide communities or favor one party, it dishonors those values and weakens the people,Äôs voice. Scripture warns, ‚ÄúWoe to those who make unjust laws, to those who issue oppressive decrees,Äù (Isaiah 10:1). True leadership seeks justice, not advantage. I pray this process will be guided by conscience, humility, and a sincere desire to serve all North Carolinians equally. May you choose what is right over what is expedient, and remember that power is a stewardship ‚Äî one for which each of us will one day give account before God.
10/20/25 7:30 PM	Angela Drummond	retired	I really can't believe this is happening! NC is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù This WILL be remembered if you go through with your plans.

10/20/25 7:31 PM	Richard Lonon		Diatribe follows (copied from Chop Wood, Carry Water site): There was no public notice.¬†Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but.¬†An 11‚Ä“3 map in a 50‚Ä“50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they‚Äôd say no.¬†84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable (https://www.google.com/url?q=https://www.commoncause.org/north-carolina/press/gerrymandering-poll/&sa=D&source=editors&ust=1761005684446777&usg=AOvVaw1V71pXwaD_CbUojl8ujGqt) . North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget.¬†The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called.¬†The GOP‚Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/20/25 7:31 PM	Christine Hanson		As a NC native and lifelong resident, I urge you not to redraw congressional districts mid-decade. History has its eyes on you.
10/20/25 7:32 PM	Catherine e Byrf		Please do not keep doing Trump!s autocratic agenda,‚Äù.. do you really want to be on the side of contributing the end to democracy?
10/20/25 7:32 PM	Ms. Maureen Rosen	Self	House Select Committee on Redistricting and Senate Elections Committee Subject: Proposed Congressional District Plan Thanks for taking comments on this critical, time sensitive topic that really doesn't have to be so complicated, as you all know. As a NC resident it's clear to me the only reason for republicans to take up this redistricting fight is to bow as acolytes to Trump. You know this is true. You also know that redistricting violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Manipulating district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation, and it weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold our leaders accountable. Redistricting as Rs propose disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. Manipulating district lines for partisan advantage is cheating, pure and simple. The people of North Carolina deserve better! And I expect better of our elected representatives. How about you pass a budget first!
10/20/25 7:32 PM	Do not approve new maps Karen Metzguer		Using the census for redistricting should be a thoughtful and fair process that encourages and includes public comment. We need a budget NOT unfair and rushed maps.

10/20/25 7:32 PM	DR Anna Gatdula		Dear Members of the North Carolina General Assembly, I am writing in strong opposition to the proposed congressional redistricting map. This proposal is an unacceptable act of partisan gerrymandering that employs racial targeting to suppress the political power of North Carolinians. This map is designed to dismantle the only truly competitive district in the state by ripping apart the historic Black Belt congressional district, Congressional District 1 (CD1). This action directly and intentionally diminishes the voting power of Black North Carolinians and eliminates the state's most prominent Black opportunity district. The legislature's action in crafting this map constitutes enacting a particular voting scheme as a "purposeful device to minimize or cancel out the voting potential of racial or ethnic minorities." Specifically, this plan has both the "purpose and effect" of diluting the minority vote in North Carolina. Targeting voters in this manner,Äîby making Districts 1 and 3 less representative and more racially unfair,Äîis a profound violation of democratic principles. I also object to the process: releasing complex maps and providing a single public comment opportunity when most working voters, especially those in the targeted Eastern NC districts, cannot attend, shows a complete disregard for public input. I urge you to IMMEDIATELY REJECT this racially-driven, extreme partisan map. We demand fair maps that ensure every North Carolinian's voice is heard equally. Sincerely, Anna Gatdula, PhD
10/20/25 7:32 PM	Michelle Garcia		The Legislature should be doing the business that North Carolinians elected it to do ,Äî like passing a budget ,Äî and not the bidding of the President. NC voters didn,Äôt ask for this partisan gerrymandering proposal, and it hurts us all in the long run.
10/20/25 7:32 PM	Mr Israel Acosta		I am against the even more gerrymandered redistrict maps being proposed. Legislators shouldn't be choosing their voters. We the people should be choosing our representatives
10/20/25 7:33 PM	Mrs Moninda Eslick		I am tired of being gerrymandered in this state. Let people decide who they want to vote for and don,Äôt set it up to determine e who will win before we even vote. That is not democracy!! I was gerrymandered into a district that has a congressman that does not represent my values or views. I understand that my candidate cannot always win but to change maps so that districts are loaded with one party of voters is simply cheating, plain and simple.
10/20/25 7:33 PM	Beth Daniel		This redistricting map appears to be a blatant attempt at elimination of fair elections in this state and purposely disenfranchising certain groups of voters. The time allowed for public comment on this matter has been very brief. Polls show that most voters in NC are against this kind of redistricting plan.
10/20/25 7:33 PM	Dr. Dorcas Miller	Psychologist	NC is a 50-50 purple state . The gerrymandering you propose is a 11-3 map making a mockery of N C voters to have free and fair elections, You are rushing the process to avoid being held responsible for the people you are wish to discount . While you rushed back to Raleigh for redrawing the districts you are 100 days overdue passing a budget continuing our shameful distinction of paying our teachers the lowest salary in the Southeast .
10/20/25 7:34 PM	Mr Robert Robertson	Citizen	Your gerrymandering effort is a sad power grab and an admission that Republican policy ideas are unpopular and would be rejected by voters, thus a need to rig the game. Republicans are offering nothing except destruction of previous policies. You,Äôve been howling about Obamacare since its inception but yet no alternatives have ever been offered. I believe the system is built upon voters electing officials, not officials selecting voters. Try honoring the constitution and concepts of the rule of law. Stop the ridiculous gerrymandering. R Scott Robertson
10/20/25 7:34 PM	Deborah Becker		Always remember: power has a way of corrupting, and absolute power corrupts absolutely. We are a democracy ,Äî not a dictatorship.
10/20/25 7:34 PM	Paula McLean		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. Paula McLean
10/20/25 7:34 PM	Katherine Metzo		76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. Gerrymandering takes power away from communities by concentrating power in the hands of political insiders. True conservatives who value representative government also value transparency, integrity, and competition. Please do not move forward with this bill.

10/20/25 7:35 PM	Theresa Hash		What you are doing is so wrong. If you can,Äôt win on your policies, you have to cheat? And your Christian faith says this is okay? You should all be ashamed of yourselves. What will you tell your grandchildren? You are destroying our democracy, stealing the power of the vote. Shame on all of you. You are cowards and cheaters.
10/20/25 7:35 PM	Ms Abigail O,ÄôNeill		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 7:35 PM	Paula McLean		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.
10/20/25 7:35 PM	Patricia Connors		I disagree with the process and the details contained in the redistricting,. I feel they are unfairly bias. I urge you to vote to not pass it.
10/20/25 7:35 PM	No to redistricting Claudia Aquilar-Romaca		Please do not move forward on redistricting. It,Äôs wrong, it is not in the intrest of the average North Carolinian. You know better.
10/20/25 7:36 PM	Ms Carolyn Worthing	self	Proposing an 11-3 map in a 50-50 state is theft of our right to vote, a mockery of a "free & fair election! Gerrymandering is undemocratic and an insult to people who love and defend our country and, pay your salaries!
10/20/25 7:36 PM	Reginald Stephens		I do not support the proposed congressional district plan. This plan appears to prioritize partisan advantage over fair representation. North Carolinians deserve districts that reflect real communities ,Äî not political calculations. Gerrymandered maps silence voters, deepen division, and erode trust in our democracy. I believe our congressional maps should be drawn to keep counties, cities, and neighborhoods together wherever possible, ensuring that every citizen,Äôs vote carries equal weight. Our representatives should be accountable to all of their constituents, not just the political party in power. I urge you to reject this plan and adopt a fair, transparent, and nonpartisan process that honors the constitutional principle of equal representation for all North Carolinians.
10/20/25 7:36 PM	Katrina Schellhorn		This does not follow the norms of redrawing maps after a census (when it is indicated population has changed and therefore necessitates adjusting districts). This is an admitted power grab by the republicans who have declared they are doing this for partisan reasons to gain more republican seats at the behest of President Trump. Our elected officials work for the constituents of North Carolina, not president Trump and they are actively silencing voices in their state by doing this. This is also shameful to prioritize partisan redistricting when they still haven,Äôt done their most important job of passing a state budget.
10/20/25 7:36 PM	KATHY ZAUMSEIL		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 7:36 PM	VOTE NO ON NEW MAP Amanda Brown	NC resident	I am sick and tired of gerrymandering congressional maps and disenfranchising many NC residents. I want my voice heard and my vote to count. Any rep that votes for this should be asham and be out of office.
10/20/25 7:37 PM	Dr Nicole Peterson		North Carolina is neither Republican nor Democrat but split three equal ways with independents, according to polls. Any other map is corrupt and biased. Changing districts in a way we know will unfairly favor Republicans is corrupt and biased and deeply undemocratic. It doesn't matter what parties did in the past - learn from it and do it better. Represent all North Carolinians not the out of state politicians asking for this, or just the Republicans. You govern for all of us and should act like it.
10/20/25 7:38 PM	Jennifer Mathis		Further redistricting NC is not ok. This erosion of our democracy doesn,Äôt bode well for our future.
10/20/25 7:38 PM	Kelly Broccio		We do not need redistricting towards even more biased maps. Please consider what is the best representation of the people, not for a political party. Every person in NC deserves equal representation.
10/20/25 7:38 PM	Polly Crispin		I write as a very concerned citizen of North Carolina to strongly oppose the proposed 2025 redistricting plan. I believe it undermines the principles of fair representation, transparency, and the public trust in our democratic institutions.
10/20/25 7:38 PM	Rigged maps Lisa Stevens		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is all Republican . An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù Please do not be unscrupulous and listen to North Carolinans.

10/20/25 7:39 PM	Mr. John Martinez	Retired	I support Common Cause of North Carolina in rejecting the new voting maps. As a North Carolina resident who supports fair voting maps and who already lives in a gerrymandered congressional district (District 6), I ask that you refrain from introducing any mid-decade redistricting in 2025 that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. In the November 2024 elections, no Democrats ran because this district was overwhelming favored Republicans. Our state is accustomed to you gerrymandering their districts. We are also tired of it. A September 2025 survey of North Carolina voters conducted by a Republican polling firm found 84% of NC voters oppose gerrymandering under any circumstances, including 78% of Republicans. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, you took an oath to carefully guard the People‚Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Just because you think you can redraw North Carolinians‚Äô congressional voting maps to manipulate the upcoming 2026 elections, doesn‚Äôt mean you should. I request the House to reject the new voting maps. Sincerely, John Martinez 317 N. Elam Ave. Greensboro, NC 27403
10/20/25 7:39 PM	Marianne Montgomery		I am opposed to mid-decade redistricting and to gerrymandering. Rep. Davis should have a chance to compete in his own district. The current gerrymandered map already disenfranchises voters and redistricting will make it worse. NC should have an independent redistricting commission.
10/20/25 7:39 PM	Dr. Peter Battis		I shouldn‚Äôt be surprised that Republican legislators are so ready to put ethics and principles aside in order to grab power and also grovel to the will of the least principled President in history, but I‚Äôm still capable of being shocked. We all know that if Democrats were pushing through a redistricting in this manner the Republicans would be screaming ‚Äúfoul!‚Äù When you lower the standards of public service you can expect that what you do unto others will eventually be done unto you.
10/20/25 7:39 PM	Mrs Forrest Uden		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11‚Äì3 map in a 50‚Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters‚Äô rights.
10/20/25 7:40 PM	Mr Mark Mason	Citizen	Someday the chickens will come home to roost. Will you cry out for fair maps? Find some backbone, say no to trump!!
10/20/25 7:41 PM	Mr. Steven Reardon		North Carolina is a purple state, but this map does not represent the voters. North Carolina voters should select their representatives, not the other way around.. This violates our right to a free and fair election, and will come around to haunt you in the end. You should not support gerrymandering the district map!
10/20/25 7:41 PM	What R U worried about? Martin Berger	Self	What are you worried about? Our country was created and formed to provide freedoms (speech), democracy (vs. political tyranny) and equality (which later included voting rights). Historically we‚Äôve been the envy of the world. Disappointingly, current times have grossly eroded that belief. It‚Äôs crystal clear to the majority of Americans that redistricting, solely driven by the commands of the current administration, is diametrically opposed to our founding principles. It‚Äôs analogous to swearing an oath to the constitution and swiftly betraying that sworn allegiance. The proposed redistricting indicates grave concerns and worry. North Carolinians do not want the constitution and full voting rights diminished in any way shape or form.
10/20/25 7:41 PM	Dr Sherry Shapiro		North Carolinians do not want a gerrymandered map by 84%. It is up to our representatives to represent us. VOTE no on the newest redistricting charge by the NC Republican legislature.
10/20/25 7:41 PM	Howard Larsetr		Please do not attempt to steal the power of our individual votes by redistricting.
10/20/25 7:42 PM	Dr Christopher Lakin		A 4 day public comment period for this crucial topic is not governing on the part of the controlling party, it‚Äôs trickery & politics. Pushing a 10-3 majority in a 50-50 state to an even more egregious 11-4 is not governing, it is greed for permanent control of Congress via manufactured election results, and it is total abandonment of any pretense of representing all NC citizens and declaring instead all-consuming loyalty to a cause and a leader (elected by a minority of the country), both of which seek only to tear down and divide instead of build up and unite. Why ask for comments that you will ignore? Why engage in gerrymandering that the vast, vast majority of all voters in the state oppose? How is this in any fashion representing the will of the people - which is your job and your duty?? And finally, where is our state budget? That‚Äôs what you should be reconvening for - not this. It‚Äôs now 100 days past the deadline. We need teacher pay raises and the $300 million Medicaid shortfall addressed.

10/20/25 7:42 PM	Amy Reavis Sinn	Redistricting an 11-3 map in a purple state that is pretty much 50% Democrat and 50% Republican is ludicrous. How is that in any way fair? Such a gerrymandered map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô rights to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù By rigging the maps you are taking the vote out of the hands of thousands of North Carolinians. How dare you and how could you, in good conscience, do this to your constituents.
10/20/25 7:42 PM	Mrs Kathleen Evans	-I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. -Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. -Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. -While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. -Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. -True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. -Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. --There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/20/25 7:42 PM	Wayne Morgan	The fact that this allowed in what is supposed to be a democracy is ludicrous. We don,Äôt bend the rules to get who we want in office,Ä¶,Ä¶ We let the people decide.
10/20/25 7:43 PM	Marci Lew	North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/20/25 7:43 PM	Linda Ashman Hicks	You are supposed to represent the voters of this evenly divided state. You are NOT supposed to choose your voters so that Republicans have a lopsided majority that does not represent the NC electorate. The vast majority of NC voters do not support gerrymandering. Trump is hoping Republicans will provide the votes he needs to take full command of the country. Why are Republicans in Congress so willing to give up your own power as a co-equal branch of government and cave whenever Trump tells you to do something--even when your own constituents don't want you to do it? Listen to the voters of your state and vote no on this redistricting plan!
10/20/25 7:43 PM	Dr Joel Macht	"We the people" has meant something for centuries. It means legislators are obligated to take into account "We the people". Doesn't see to affect Republican politicians. Where the cry by the majority clearly takes aim against the republican gerrymandering plan, republicans reply by casually shooting them the bird. High school stuff! They must feel pretty proud, doing Trumps bidding that is disapproved by the vast majority of thinking, voting people.
10/20/25 7:43 PM	Dr Janet Bull	It,Äôs unconstitutional. Say no to redistricting.
10/20/25 7:43 PM	Raymond Brugger	Please do not proceed to make voting unfair and unrepresentative of the demographic that exist in North Carolina
10/20/25 7:43 PM	Elizabeth Dunn	I strongly oppose the effort to redraw our legislative districts--a clearly partisan move that is being rushed through the General Assembly in response to President Trump's fear. His agenda is so very unpopular that he knows the Republicans can't retain control of the U.S. House without engaging in unethical shenanigans. Please vote against this measure.
10/20/25 7:43 PM	Mrs Lisa Matthis	I do not want to see redistricting done. A new census is in 5 years, it can be considered then. Now is not the time
10/20/25 7:43 PM	Elizabeth Frieden	North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/20/25 7:43 PM	Ms Carol McCullen	North Carolina is a purple state and this map is anything but. An 11-3 map in a 50-50 state is political theft,pure and simple! Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats ,roughly half of North Carolinians for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters' right to a " free and fair election" The GOP's priority,trump first,North Carolina last. No one asked for this.
10/20/25 7:44 PM	Sandra Schipman	This map is terrible. A democracy needs fair maps to let people vote for their own representatives. Fair maps, not the GOP gerrymandered maps.

10/20/25 7:45 PM	Mr Larry Zeph	None	This is cheating. I have voted for Republicans in the past but never again as our democracy depends on the promotion of fairness. Shame on Republicans.
10/20/25 7:45 PM	Vote No Emily Colunio		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 7:45 PM	Ms Elizabeth Wilkerson	Individual	The US was created as an idea that people could choose who governs them. When you gerrymander the maps, politicians select their voters instead of voters choosing their representatives. This goes against the foundational principles of our country. Vote NO on gerrymandering.
10/20/25 7:46 PM	Dr. Lauren Riley		I urge the Senate to uphold a fair and free democracy and refuse to engage in gerrymandering. Creating further division between an already divided constituency will only cause further irreperable damage to our state. This should not be a partisan issue. It is about your morality.
10/20/25 7:46 PM	Jessica Houlihan		Further gerrymandering North Carolina is shameful. You work for the citizens of this state - ALL of us - not Donald Trump. No redistricting!!
10/20/25 7:47 PM	Anneke Oppewal		I would like to elevate the following statement from Bob Phillips, Executive Director of Common Cause North Carolina, as I believe he says it best: ,ÄúAt a time when North Carolina is one of only four states in America without a state budget, it,Äôs an insult to the citizens of our state that lawmakers are prioritizing rigging a congressional map over meeting the needs of the people by passing a budget. And the gerrymanderers know better. Senator Berger was once a champion of redistricting reform ,Äì putting his name on comprehensive redistricting reform no less than a half-dozen times when his party was out of power. Senator Berger thought it was wrong when Democrats gerrymandered, but apparently not when Trump orders it to be done. This is politics at its worst. It,Äôs important to note that never has the General Assembly voluntarily redrawn congressional districts mid-decade for purely political reasons. It,Äôs always been because of a court order. Today,Äôs announcement is a new low. The plan by Republican legislative leaders to further rig our state,Äôs already extremely gerrymandered voting maps is a slap in the face of the people of North Carolina. This cynical ploy is why the public is disgusted with self-interested politicians. There,Äôs no doubt that the extreme gerrymanders being plotted behind closed doors by Senator Berger and Speaker Hall will make a mockery of our elections, undermine the freedom to vote, and especially harm Black voters. Speaker Hall and Senator Berger should remember that our state,Äôs voting maps don,Äôt belong to them ,Äì nor to the politicians they,Äôre bowing to in Washington, D.C. Our districts belong to the people of North Carolina. In fact, a recent survey conducted by a Republican-leaning polling firm found that 84% of North Carolina voters say it,Äôs never acceptable for politicians to draw districts to help their own party win more seats, no matter the circumstances. That opposition holds across party lines, including 78% of Republicans, 87% of Democrats, and 85% of unaffiliated voters.
10/20/25 7:47 PM	Kathy Kirse		NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS! Bad Process and Bad Politics Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.

10/20/25 7:48 PM	Lorienne Schulze		Redistricting for partisan gains is the act of cowards! If your party is so great, and you do so much for all people in this state, you wouldn,Äôt be scared to have voting blocks of minorities in your districts. If you would do your job and actually create a better state for the people who live here you wouldn,Äôt be trying to find ways to cheat your way into winning election elections. Support public education, public healthcare systems, infrastructure, recovery relief for Western North Carolina. Environmental progress statewide, etc. etc. etc.. The list goes on and on of things you could be spending time and money on yet you continue to waste the trust your constituents have given you and your office.
10/20/25 7:48 PM	Unethical Gerrymandering Layla Foday	FRC(Fayetteville Resistance Coalition)	By Gerrymandering you are forbidding us North Carolina citizens our right to a fair and democratic election especially if you are intending to disenfranchise your people to benefit your corruption. Thank you.
10/20/25 7:48 PM	Fair Districts Please! Elana Jones		Hi NC Legislature, I,Äôm an NC native, a mom, and a public servant, with what I believe is a reasonable request- fair district maps! I want my vote to count, and I do not feel the legislative maps as currently proposed by the GOP support this. Voters should be able to pick their representative, not the other way around. Thank you for your time!
10/20/25 7:48 PM	Shannon Fuller		I believe North Carolina needs fairer, more competitive districts instead of heavily ‚Äúsafe‚Äù ones. Extreme gerrymandering is damaging our political discourse and preventing Congress from getting anything done by locking us into Left-Right gridlock. We need elected officials who focus on governing rather than blaming, pointing fingers, or protecting their own political power. It is also deeply concerning to see efforts across the country,Äîparticularly by Republicans,Äîto target seats held by African American Democratic leaders like U.S. Rep. Don Davis. These tactics undermine representative democracy and weaken trust in our institutions. I urge North Carolina,Äôs Republican leadership to choose integrity over party loyalty and stop following those who promote corruption and unethical behavior.
10/20/25 7:49 PM	Patricia Greene		Partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable
10/20/25 7:49 PM	Jean Braxton		How shameful that our republican legislators are spending their time destroying a historically black voting district to ensure that they remain in power, instead of advocating for the North Carolinians they‚Äôre supposed to serve.
10/20/25 7:49 PM	Michael Cline		Why continue to erode our democracy? You would be voting to take away the voice of many North Carolinians. This is the opposite of fair elective representation. Having been a teacher of young children for 27 years i am ashamed at what i am seeing. Sincerely - Michael Cline
10/20/25 7:49 PM	Stephanie Hartman		Stop with the redistricting. Until we get a neutral 3rd party, not connected to any party, money, or lobbyist, to redraw the state and all parties agree to abide by that neutral 3rd party,Äôs maps then this is a pointless & reckless endeavor.
10/20/25 7:50 PM	Laura Eberle		Redistricting should only happen after new census data that indicates shifts in population. Furthermore, party affiliation should never be taken into account. In this day and age all districts should be computer generated taking into account the requirements of the Voting Rights Act and nothing more.
10/20/25 7:50 PM	Dr. Alice Coblentz	retired	In the NC 2024 election for representation in Congress, Republican candidates received 52% of the votes and they got 71% (10 of 14) of the seats. Now they want 78% (11 of 14) of the seats. By an overwhelming majority 84% North Carolina voters are opposed to political gerrymandering. This is political theft, plain and simple. It is a mockery of our right to a free and fair election. Serve the people of North Carolina, not the despot in the White House.
10/20/25 7:50 PM	Mr Michael Crooks		No gerrymandering to destroy democracy in NC. Stop supporting the White House pedophile.
10/20/25 7:51 PM	Dr. James Withrow		This plan is a betrayal of your oath of office and responsibility to me and all North Carolinians you are charged with representing. At a time when there is critical work to be done like passing a budget you are instead pushing through out-of-cycle blatant partisan gerrymandering to subvert there democratic process and remove even more ability for North Carolinians to elect our representatives.
10/20/25 7:51 PM	Michelle Marsh		This gerrymandering, on both sides of the aisle, is unconstitutional and should be stopped by the NC Supreme Court. Neither democrats or republicans should be redrawing voting maps.
10/20/25 7:51 PM	Charles Puckett		It is inappropriate and unacceptable to redistrict the northeast 1st congressional district at the behest of Donald Trump. I urge NC law makers to reconsider and respect the voters and citizens of North Carolina in addition to our democracy. Shame on you GOP.
10/20/25 7:51 PM	Kathleen Blue-Pugh		I highly disagree of this redistricting plan. The maps that are being proposed leave constituents without accurate representation in government which is wildly unfair. This is not what government should be and those of you trying to push through these maps should be ashamed at your blatant power grab.
10/20/25 7:53 PM	Joan Garnett	N/A	In a democracy, citizens vote for their representatives. Representatives are not suppose to chose their voters. This is an obvious ploy to manipulate voting districts to create partisan districts, which also dilute the black vote. There is no effort to deny this. I oppose this redistricting which, it a blatant move to disenfranchise citizens!.

10/20/25 7:53 PM	rachel smith	public citizen	I am firmly against any attempt to redraw NC congressional maps at this time. It is stealing the voices of thousands of voters and is not representative of the true nature of our state. Fair elections are the bedrock of our constitutional order and this is a wrongful act.
10/20/25 7:53 PM	Vickey Grimsley		As a constituent of North Carolina, this redistricting is an affront to the very values of our nation.
10/20/25 7:53 PM	Courtney Dean		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 7:54 PM	Lacey Dudiak		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 7:54 PM	Amy Power		Please don't do this.
10/20/25 7:54 PM	Ms Ann Karson		What Republicans are doing to please Trump is simply inexcusable. Sad to see North Carolina joining in, to give him a seat he should not have.
10/20/25 7:54 PM	Alisa Stephens		I think this is wrong and goes against our beliefs as a free country with choices. These seems unfair to the people just to favor a certain party
10/20/25 7:54 PM	Cyron Soriano		I,Äôm against gerrymandering. Districts should be drawn fairly so every voter in North Carolina has an equal voice. When maps are made to help one party or politician, it hurts our democracy and divides our communities. Please make the redistricting process open, honest, and focused on fair representation for everyone.
10/20/25 7:55 PM	Congressional voting maps Jimmy Currin	Voter	Such a shame! While North Carolina is pretty much a 50/50 state in statewide races you as Republicans are trying to make it 13 to 1 in US congress to represent our state. This is probably the most gerrymandered state in the nation. Have you no shame in fairness to represent our state? Evidently not.
10/20/25 7:55 PM	Mrs. Virginia Lyon		This is absolutely ridiculous!! There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising.
10/20/25 7:55 PM	Shameless and despicable Tom Metzguer		Repub,Äôs move to support a fascist wannabe dictator is a clear gesture of collusion with the effort to undermine the basic tenets of America. Disgusting.
10/20/25 7:55 PM	Ali McCollum		PLEASE stop this madness about gerrymandering NC. This should never happen or even have been proposed. Represent the people of NC as we are, not by making districts fit your benefit.
10/20/25 7:57 PM	Mrs Rene Knox		I absolutely disagree with the redistricting in a non-census year. You have already redistricted my precent in such a way that my district is not competitive. If you have to cheat to get votes then maybe you should look at what you have to offer for the average person. You take health insurance away from people. You give tax breaks to your buddies and big industries. Maybe if you reconsidered some of those policies maybe you could win elections honestly.
10/20/25 7:57 PM	Ed Barsotti		Unless redistricting is done by an independent commission or selected to minimize the total perimeter of the resulting districts, I am opposed to the current effort. I support multimember districts with Ranked Choice Voting, or proportional representation, to eliminate the disenfranchising unfairness of gerrymandering.
10/20/25 7:57 PM	Ms Lynnette Samuel	CDSA	It,Äôs not a good time to redistrict while the country is already divided. We need to bring people together ??
10/20/25 7:57 PM	Jacqueline Berger		Why is one person one vote no longer considered to be standard practice? By redistricting, you are choosing your voters instead of voters choosing their representatives. It changes how I approach voting - instead of choosing who I feel will best represent me, I now have to vote to ensure that one party does not hold all the power. I believe in the power of compromise and negotiation to come up with solutions/laws not blind allegiance to one group. Leave the districts as is to ensure fair representation for everyone
10/20/25 7:57 PM	Laura Geyer		Please think about the future of our state as you consider this redistricting. Using our maps for political gain, without the voice of constituents, should be illegal, regardless of the party that you are part of.
10/20/25 7:57 PM	Katherine O'Malley		I oppose this redisctricting attempt Republicans are attempting to rush it through. The maps were only released a few days ago so voters and constituents are being avoided with this timeline. Even the committee members weren't given maps in advance so they could make a recommendation. This reeks of corruption. Secondly,no one except Trump, asked for this. Your constituents want you to come back to work and pass a fair and balanced budget. No one of your constituents asked you to gerrymander our state. I oppose this. And I urge the committee to reject this outright political maneuver that does NOT serve North Carolinas people interest.
10/20/25 7:58 PM	Ms. Ruby Moffitt	retired educator	Shame on the General Assembly. You won't come back to Raleigh to protect Medicaid, give teachers an overdue raise, continue to help Western Carolina in its' recovery efforts or any of the other pressing needs in our state, but you sure can get back there at our President's request to stack the odds of keeping the House of Representatives in Republican control. You ignore the needs of your constituents and only serve those already with power and money. It is a sad day in North Carolina history.
10/20/25 7:58 PM	Karen Crutchfield		I am opposed to partisan gerrymandering of NC! It dilutes the vote of far to many people, and is morally wrong. We need multiple parties and candidates in elections where there are balanced possibilities to win! The right to cast a meaningful vote is imperative

10/20/25 7:59 PM	Katherine Neighbors		How dare you all redraw the map in order to benefit you? It has been done for years but now is the time to leave the districts as they are and allow the voters to decide who they wish to send as their representative. This is a decades-old trick and it is time to put it to rest. Enough is enough.
10/20/25 7:59 PM	Morton Barlaz	self	The state is nearly evenly split with a slight advantage to republicans yet the voters elected a democratic governor. I consider the proposed redistricting to be a method to highjack the will of the people. The current districts already result in more republican House seats then they should have based on the statewide fractions of republicans and democrats. The proposed redistricting is a way to ignore the will of the people and when the people no longer think they have a voice, they withdraw from the political process. That is not in anyone's interest. I challenge both parties to win elections based only on their ideas without redistricting to favor one side or the other. Instead of redistricting, why not establish a bipartisan commission to draw the districts and let each side put their ideas forward to the voters.
10/20/25 8:00 PM	Emilie Clark		NC is a purple State! This map is anything but!,Ä¶ An 11-3 map is a mockery of NC voters right to a free and fair election! It shows how afraid you are of the true feelings of the voters feelings regarding the GOP!
10/20/25 8:00 PM	Kate Christmas		This is an unconstitutional power grab.
10/20/25 8:00 PM	Dr. David Knox		I do not support mid-decade redistricting. If anything, we need non-partisan redistricting so the voters are choosing their legislators instead of the legislators choosing their voters.
10/20/25 8:00 PM	Lisa Finaldi		Please vote against 2025 redistricting maps. This is the 4th time since 2020 that the maps are being redrawn in order to continue to dilute minority voters.
10/20/25 8:00 PM	Redistricting plan Rebecca Maust		In a state like North Carolina, where voters are well distributed among Republicans, Democrats and Independents it is WRONG for the Republicans to once again manipulate the maps solely for a power grab. These attempts to disenfranchise voters in NC must stop.
10/20/25 8:00 PM	Sejal Patel		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 8:00 PM	Jessica Turner		I am against the partisan gerrymandering of our state. NC is a diverse state of democrats, republicans, and independents. It is a state that regularly splits tickets like electing Stein for Governor and Trump for President in 2024. An 11-3 map does not represent the voters in our state. We are disenfranchising voters.
10/20/25 8:01 PM	Ashleigh Pulley		This is wrong!!! BAD PROCESS There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Âôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. BAD POLITICS North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Âôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äïaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/20/25 8:01 PM	Martha Barnett		Keep voting fair. No more gerrymandering!
10/20/25 8:01 PM	Mrs Deborah Schreck	Through the arbor	No more illegal redistricting! Sine 2010!
10/20/25 8:02 PM	Taylor Russ		Do NOT pass this!
10/20/25 8:02 PM	Mr Edward Hoefle		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Âôre disenfranchising. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù

10/20/25 8:02 PM	Ms Deborah Britt		Concerning the Republican gerrymandering, who from North Carolina asked for this? You work for US, we did not vote on this, nor do we want it. Elections should be based fairly on what WE THE PEOPLE want, not what gets you elected. If you can't get elected fairly, maybe you shouldn't be there, if you can't represent WE THE PEOPLE, you definitely shouldn't be there. You should be working on the budget for us, WE THE PEOPLE. You work for us, you represent us, WE elect you, not the president. If you don't get this, please resign and let someone else have your spot.
10/20/25 8:02 PM	Mrs Valerie Mina		Please stop legislation to redistrict NC voting map. Keep NC as a state that offers fair election practices.
10/20/25 8:03 PM	Dr. Jillian Marcantonio		As a citizen, a Christian, and a neighbor, I ask that you do not spend time furthering dividing our state for the sake of maintaining power but rather focus on caring well (perhaps by passing a budget!) for the folks that live here so that North Carolinians can become better neighbors to one another. Gerrymandering is unjust when either party does it and hinders our ability to bring about liberty and justice for all.
10/20/25 8:04 PM	Kamron Robertson		Please do NOT pass these new gerrymandered maps! If you knew Republicans would win in the midterms then this would not even be an issue. Do the RIGHT thing and be on the right side of history. Have a good campaign and let the VOTERS decide!
10/20/25 8:05 PM	Mrs Barbara Berro	- None -	North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.
10/20/25 8:06 PM	Ms Kara Konrad		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it cannot be tolerated.
10/20/25 8:06 PM	Mrs. Tina Gaskins		Current efforts to redistrict are unethical. The vast majority of North Carolinians are against gerrymandering, and NC Republicans are trying to gerrymander even more than they have already gerrymandered, while failing to pass an operating budget. NC voters see you prioritizing your own power at the expense of your constituents. Representatives who value democracy and are serious about representing their constituents will not support this new redistricting.
10/20/25 8:06 PM	Mrs Dawn Simmons		You should be fairly representing ALL! Stop gerrymandering! Do your job and get back to work!
10/20/25 8:06 PM	Alice Davis		Mid decade redistricting is just wrong! The whole country is watching to see if North Carolina has leaders that will stand up for what is right. And even if the whole country didn,Äôt have eyes on North Carolina, our leaders still need to do what is right. Don,Äôt give into the urge to play the political game. Please be a LEADER!
10/20/25 8:07 PM	Kathleen Jones		This is a mockery of the democratic process. There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. Y'all KNOW NC voters don't want this new map, and you're trying to stuff it through because you don't care about what North Carolinians want, and this is an example of COWARDICE and VOTER SUPPRESSION!
10/20/25 8:07 PM	Belinda Hayes	Self - concerned N.C. voter	Please reject the current plan to redraw Congressional districts. This plan severely compromises the Constitutional guarantee of a "free and fair election" by unfairly and egregiously reducing the number of registered non-Republican voters in districts to guarantee that they are overwhelmingly outnumbered by registered Republican voters. In so doing, legislators renounce their sworn responsibility to their constituents and voters in their own party according to a very recent survey as cited in multiple news outlets including the News and Observer on Oct. 14, 2025: A recent survey of North Carolina voters by Opinion Diagnostics found overwhelming opposition to gerrymandering for any reason. The disfavor is abundant regardless of party affiliation. Gerrymandering is strongly opposed by, and disfavored highly, by 78% of Republicans, 87% of Democrats and 85% of unaffiliated voters. Representatives in the Republican party may perceive gerrymandering as a tool to achieve a greater good by silencing the opposition through manipulating district lines, while negating the greatest good of our democracy as enshrined in the Constitution -- free and fair elections without suppressing the Constitutional rights of voters to representation in local, state and federal government.
10/20/25 8:07 PM	Mary Gordon		I object to this gerrymandering.
10/20/25 8:08 PM	Dr. Kaitlyn Bryant		Gerrymandering is ANTI democracy and anti American.
10/20/25 8:09 PM	Martha Zeigler		This is a railroad with no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. Sooner or later the pendulum will swing.
10/20/25 8:09 PM	Heather Diaz		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps. This is an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the North Carolina congressional districts. This is an attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable! Vote no!
10/20/25 8:11 PM	Emma Lawless		It is egregious that the General Assembly seeks to redistrict our state again. NC is already gerrymandered to an extreme, I can say as an Asheville resident. The General Assembly answers to North Carolinians, not to the Trump administration. Assembly members who force this through will face accountability with their constituents in future elections. Do not push this terrible plan through.
10/20/25 8:11 PM	Mr. and Mrs. Ron McCracken	Retired	North Carolina voters do not want a gerrymandered state. Roughly equal distribution of democratic and republican voters currently results in a 11-3 congressional delegation. Making it even more unrepresentative will come back to haunt you.

10/20/25 8:11 PM	Dr. Sarah Backe		Please vote against this new map! North Carolina is a state rich in diversity of perspectives. The "purple" quality of our state means that we could be leaders in innovative problem solving that responds to the needs and concerns of ALL of those who live and work here. This newly proposed map unfairly silences the voices of many and rejects the very thing that makes our state (and country!) so wonderful. Please do the right thing and vote against it.
10/20/25 8:11 PM	Nancy Houston		Redrawing maps, that are not based on a census, just to rig elections,Ä¶Ä¶. proves that you couldn,Äôt win without cheating. What will you do if you still lose?
10/20/25 8:11 PM	Thomas Thornburg		Why have you chosen such fast, bad process for this? There has been little public notice or time for comment. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Why are you rushing the process? To avoid accountability? Voters will remember this. Almost 85% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. Why do you still pursue it? North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. Yet, you scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last. I'm a disappointed North Carolinian.
10/20/25 8:11 PM	laura McPherson	Buncombe County voter precinct 1.1	I diagree vehemently witj tje pla ned redistrcing! NC haa almost an even split and the earliee 77 representatiom was fair. The current 10-4;distribution leaves many groups witj essentially mo voice. Further skewing districts - especially this latin a cycle shows nlantamt disregard for oue demovracy amd little respect for the process or the citizens. Please vote NO!
10/20/25 8:12 PM	Elyssa Dougherty		This is an absurdity. North Carolinians, by a large majority and across the political spectrum want fairly drawn maps not hyper partisan gerrymandering. It is clear that you've abandoned your real job - like passing an actual budget - for pandering to Trump. His approval ratings are falling and so are yours. We see you ignoring the $300 million shortfall to Medicaid that will leave your constituents, many of whome are Republicans, without health insurance. We see you ignoring Western North Carolinians who are still reeling from Helene. Stop this grandstanding and do your job. Represent your actual constituents instead of a failing wannabe dictator.
10/20/25 8:13 PM	Mary Pelletier		NC's congressional maps are already currently drawn to skew the will of the people of NC, and the proposed redistricting will further exacerbate this discrepancy for the purposes of political gain. The job of our lawmakers is to represent the interests of the people of NC, and this proposal is the opposite of that interest. This proposal should be rejected.
10/20/25 8:14 PM	Ms. Susan Lupton	NC voter for 50 years	In a nutshell, my comment boils down to: Stop Stealing Seats from Democrats. I have voted in North Carolina for over 50 years and have never seen anything like the disregard for fair elections that we are currently facing. It is clear the Republicans in our NC General Assembly are more concerned with doing the bidding of Trump, not representing the interests and needs of their constituents, and certainly not promoting free and fair elections. As Republican leaders said in the last round of extreme partisan gerrymandering, among the worst in the country already, we have a 10R-4D map, and if we could figure out a way to get an 11R-3D map, we'd do it. And here we are, just a few years later, doing Trump's bidding to do just that. They are rigging our Congressional elections so that Republicans, who will likely get roughly 50% of the votes, will walk away with 80% of the Congressional seats. We know what fairly drawn Congressional maps in North Carolina look like -- a 7-7 split in a state that votes roughly 50-50. Fair maps give us balanced representation in Congress, not extreme politicians who are willing to rig elections with unfair maps, ignoring the will of the voters, to make Trump happy. I am appalled that our NC Republicans can't seem to pass a budget but will rush back to Raleigh to pass this rigged map. Shame on them for undermining the will of the voters.
10/20/25 8:14 PM	Rev. Dr. John LaMotte	PCUSA (retired)	Integrity demands that you wait until the 2030 census to redistrict! And a majority of voters (Republican, Democratic and Independent) think partisan gerrymanders should be illegal. Please consult your conscience and fear God enough to do what is RIGHT rather than what is in the interest of one political party. You must answer for each vote before a higher tribunal someday!
10/20/25 8:14 PM	Maureen Dumas Mallam		North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.
10/20/25 8:14 PM	Dr. Matthew Scholer		Voters are supposed to pick their representatives, not the other way around. Shame on the N.C. GOP.
10/20/25 8:14 PM	Dr Judy Hustead		An 11-3 map is a mockery of free and fair elections. Redistricting for more Republican seats is a power grab. It shows that Republicans cannot win unless they push maps in their favor. Shame on you! If you want to redistrict, let,Äôs go back to 7-7 which is far more equitable and representative of the population of NC.

10/20/25 8:14 PM	Dr Heather Chapin		There was vehement opposition expressed by the public to not redistrict in this discriminatory way and the NC Senate appear to be ignoring the public opposition. Do the right thing. Support an ACTUAL democracy by not participating in this obvious discriminatory move that is being pushed by the current OBVIOUSLY CORRUPT administration that is trying to rig the midterm elections so that they are not held accountable for their many illegal actions.
10/20/25 8:14 PM	Ms Jamie Dixey	Private citizen	I,Äôm a North Carolina resident, and gerrymandering rigs our democracy. You,Äôre drawing lines to silence voices you don,Äôt like, including mine. That,Äôs not governing. That,Äôs cheating. When you gerrymander, you,Äôre declaring my vote doesn,Äôt matter before I cast it. You,Äôre making elections meaningless. Politicians pick their voters instead of the other way around. North Carolina is competitive,Äîour statewide races prove it. But you manipulate district lines to guarantee outcomes that don,Äôt reflect how we actually vote. You,Äôre manufacturing power you didn,Äôt earn. Draw fair districts. Let voters decide elections. Stop rigging the game because you,Äôre afraid of losing in a fair fight. My vote isn,Äôt yours to neutralize. Respect it.????????????????
10/20/25 8:15 PM	Mr Paul Demers	NA	I am 100% AGAINST this bill. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last because this bill with the 11-3 map is a MOCKERY of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù Why are you turning your back on 84% of North Carolina voters who believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable?
10/20/25 8:15 PM	Ms Patricia Weeks		No redirecting! Keeping districts the same ensures more balanced and equitable voting. Thanks for your consideration of ALL the citizens of NC!
10/20/25 8:15 PM	Ms Kathryn Busse		This attempt to gerrymander yet again is bad for North Carolinians! You don,Äôt work for Donald Trump, he didn,Äôt elect you! You work for the people of North Carolina. Work on a budget, not gerrymandering!!
10/20/25 8:15 PM	Tawnie Gong		The Voting Rights Act is fundamental to the American way and to the rights of American voters. Undermining fair elections is not something that quality representatives in our state do. Undermining black voters in our state also sets a precedent that North Carolina politicians do not honor freedom for all members of our society to have an equal representative vote. 84% of North Carolina voters agree that it's never acceptable for politicians to manipulate district boundaries to benefit their own party, including 78% of Republican voters. Bipartisan commissions to draw fair maps are also widely supported. Abide by the American way, and have fair voting maps in our state that are not voted on last minute to manipulate our voice as North Carolinians.
10/20/25 8:16 PM	Marsha Watson		Stop messing with our state (NC)
10/20/25 8:16 PM	Ms. Elaine Maisner		As Rev. Marc Lavarin, senior pastor of the first Calvary Baptist Church in Durham, said. ‚ÄúWhat tragedy that would be, to gain Trump,Äôs approval and lose your own soul.‚Äù (N&O 10/20/25). Please do not gerrymander.
10/20/25 8:16 PM	Patricia Eisenach		This is not a census year; the Republicans should not be redrawing the map - again. It's another blatant attempt to silence half the voters of North Carolina. Republicans know they can't win by a fair election so they resort to extreme gerrymandering. Shame on the Republican legislators.
10/20/25 8:16 PM	Gerrymandering Issues Clark Taylor		This gerrymandering is immoral, and the legislation must be aware of the studied, disproportionate, effects of manipulative districting.
10/20/25 8:17 PM	Judy Hughes	Charlotte, NC	When redistricting is allowed by either party it is the end of democracy--
10/20/25 8:17 PM	Elizabeth Kushner		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11‚Äì3 map in a 50‚Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural
10/20/25 8:17 PM	Jennifer Weaver		I am hoping for a miracle that a few members of conscience will have a last minute change of heart and decide to do what they know in their hearts to be the moral thing: vote against the latest round of partisan gerrymandering brought about by no reason other the whims of powerful people to do what they feel like, the people they represent be damned. Our great state is notoriously 50-50, frequently electing people to statewide office from both major parties in the same election cycle. But the representation of millions of North Carolinians in the U.S. House (and NCGA, for that matter) is undermined by extreme partisan gerrymandering by the Republicans who seem driven by their desire to entrench their power more than anything else. Please, serve the people - ALL the people.
10/20/25 8:18 PM	Ms. Autumn Young		Please do not agree to the disgusting gerrymandering that is being proposed. It does not reflect the way this state actually votes.

10/20/25 8:18 PM	Sarah Vrla	I do NOT support redistricting outside of the traditional schedule. If this must be done, the final version of the maps should be approved by a vote of North Carolina's citizens. I do support redistricting being an open process lead by a primarily non-partisan committee with vigorous debate and public input.
10/20/25 8:18 PM	Dina Zwiebel	The public, who is being served by these figures, did not ask for this redistricting, and even if they did, this is bad process - being done rushed and without public notice in order to avoid accountability.
10/20/25 8:19 PM	Elizabeth Stuckey	Greetings, I urge you to reject the redistributing of North Carolina‚Äôs Congressional representatives. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù Republicans are doing their best to rig elections and overturn ‚Äúone person, one vote.‚Äù Thank you ‚Äî
10/20/25 8:19 PM	Ms Grace Marsh	Redistricting will most certainly demonstrate republicans desire to cheat to win rather than win your race legitimately. It would be you, cheating to win. Shame!
10/20/25 8:19 PM	Barbara Teagarden	I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Districts should be based on non-partisan maps which reflect logical localities and the political makeup of the voters in the state who all deserve to be properly represented. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. I hope you will consider the well being and wishes of the majority of North Carolinians.
10/20/25 8:19 PM	Leon Rubis	North Carolina is a purple state, with a Democratic governor, Lt. Gov. and Attorney General. Redistricting the Congressional map to oust another Democratic Representative is corrupt, unethical political malpractice. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to elect their representatives.
10/20/25 8:20 PM	Emry Mckinney	I am absolutely opposed to this redrawing of our Congressional maps. The clear aim is to disenfranchise Democratic voters.
10/20/25 8:20 PM	Mrs. Pauline Lahaye	No rigged maps
10/20/25 8:20 PM	Rebecca Graham	You are not representing North Carolina AT ALL. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù Shame on you.
10/20/25 8:20 PM	No unnecessary redistrict James Daniel	I vehemently oppose redistricting at an unusual time and solely for political gain.
10/20/25 8:20 PM	Cheryl Spillman	BAD PROCESS There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising. NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they‚Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees‚Äîlike teachers‚Äîaren‚Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP‚Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.

10/20/25 8:20 PM	Vicki Welch	Citizen	To all that are in support or simply not speaking out against this latest attack on the very people that elected you. You should be quite ashamed. Not only are the people of North Carolina watching you, but more specifically, your kids and families are watching you. You all may feel like you are on some sort of winning sporting team and this latest ‚Äòplay‚Äô is going to gain you the biggest trophy of the year, but you would be wrong. This action that you all are taking to redistrict the maps in response to an incredibly unpopular president shows that any shred of credibility or even responsibility to do the job that you were elected to do has been lost to your allegiance; allegiance to a person whom I find to be such an embarrassent to our country that I refuse to state his name, but you know I am referencing How you behave now will eventually come back to haunt you. However, given your lack of consideration in this instance, I doubt that you will have enough depth of character to self reflect on your actions as ever being the cause of your eventual repercussions. My name is Vicki Welch. I live in Cary, zip code 27519. Precinct 20-10. I wholly do NOT approve of your actions as a committee to voting on this measure to redistrict (gerrymander) the NC maps once again. I hope that you will reconsider by finding the conscience that I know you have, but has been shrouded in the lure of power and prestige. Ending your term with a clean conscience and joining the multitudes of people that oppose this will carry you much farther than a relatively short term win. Thank you in advance. Your Fellow North Carolina Citizen, Vicki Welch
10/20/25 8:21 PM	Redistricting Caroline Pence	Personal	Please do not redistrict. This will create more racially skewed districts and will take representation away from Democrats. It will also cost lots of money in education to the public and the materials being printed.
10/20/25 8:21 PM	Steven Kim		Don't do it. You Republican politicians (especially the MAGA kind) are a bunch of spineless cowards and snakes in the grass. You know for a fact that your policies are wildly unpopular and intensely disliked, so your only strategy to win is to cheat. Do not follow through with this redistricting plan, which is nothing short of gerrymandering, or 2026 is going to look like an absolute nightmare for y'all at the voting booth.
10/20/25 8:21 PM	Ms Susan Sklar	Voter	I look around at my community and see people being fair and honorable. I don't see people cheating. Please follow our examples. Please honor your constituents by saying no to gerrymandering just so you can steal representation from your constituents.
10/20/25 8:22 PM	Chris Ethredge		Do not. It's that simple.
10/20/25 8:22 PM	Judy Vuong		I do not support the re-districting proposal. I think it is done in bad faith and will negatively impact the residents of North Carolina. Our lawmakers should be focused on supporting their constituents versus spending time to steal seats.
10/20/25 8:22 PM	Ms Linda Borkowski	NC private citizen	We have no approved state budget, but you give priority to calling back the legislature to rush through gerrymandering legislation based on the President's orders? What about NC citizen's opinions? You are elected by the people of NC. There has not been appropriate time for citizen review and cogent comment on these maps. Linda Borkowski
10/20/25 8:22 PM	Dr. Jessica McKee		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11‚Äì3 map in a 50‚Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they‚Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. AND YOU HAVEN'T EVEN PASSED A BUDGET - THE MAIN THING YOU WERE ELECTED TO DO. REPUBLICANS SHOULD DO THE JOB THEIR CONSTITUTENTS ELECTED THEM TO DO, NOT WHAT DONALD TRUMP IS DEMANDING.
10/20/25 8:22 PM	Michael Van Nostrand		This should not be allowed. North Carolinians by far oppose gerrymandering. This is being rushed through because Trump is losing his popularity and therefore is about to lose the republican majority in the house of representatives at the midterm elections. His base is crumbling because of his policies failing, cabinet members ineptness and his authoritarian practices. Gerrymandering should be rejected and outlawed. Do what is right and NOT REDRAW CONGRESSIONAL MAPS!!

10/20/25 8:22 PM	Mr Mark Williamson	Citizen, NC resident	Totally disgusted with the constant power grabs by the NC Republican state legislature. Redistricting to tip the scales in your favor is cheating, plain and simple. It dilutes the power of voters and makes it harder to hold elected officials to account for their incompetence (still no budget) and corruption. Redistricting should only be performed in a non partisan way.
10/20/25 8:23 PM	Steven Kroeger		I do not support redistricting.
10/20/25 8:23 PM	Matt Sinn	Self	We are a polarized nation. We number roughly 50-50 republicans and democrats. When representatives have balanced districts they must responds to democrats and republicans. Eliminate gerrymandering, solve polarization. We are making our children worse off with our polarization and fighting each other vs working together. Be a leader for our children. Say no to gerrymandering today.
10/20/25 8:23 PM	M M		NO! No redistricting to make things better only for Republicans! We are a blended, ‚Äúpurple‚Äù state, and this map is the opposite of representative. It is an obvious ploy to try to legitimize the forced imbalance that the Republicans need to maintain their majority. This map will absolutely prevent a ‚Äúfree and fair election,,‚Äù and anyone watching knows this. What about public notice?! The administration‚Äôs pressure on Berger to draw new maps in its favor is despicable and wrong, and to do so in such a very short amount of time is just atrocious. We are better than this, or rather, we should be. With all due respect, it is painfully clear that anyone who needs to ‚Äúredistrict‚Äù aka gerrymander, in order to win is not wanted in that job and should seek another gig. To be specific , 84% of North Carolina voters know that gerrymandering is unacceptable, and we will certainly remember this every time we vote. The true American way is that WE THE PEOPLE choose our representatives, not the other way around. Shame. Shame on every one of you who votes for these maps. We will remember!
10/20/25 8:24 PM	Emily Pratt		Please oppose attempts to redraw our congressional district maps. This is blatantly partisan and will set an extremely dangerous precedent. This will rob North Carolinians of our right to rightfully elect our chosen representatives. Voters on both sides of the aisle agree that we should choose our representatives, not the other way around. Our elected officials should serve us, the people of North Carolina, and not bow down to Donald Trump and his whims. If the policies were working and were popular enough, you wouldn‚Äôt feel the need to cheat to get an extra seat. If the tables were turned, you know very well that you would be opposing this attempt VEHEMENTLY. Please listen to your constituents, and serve us. You refuse to pass a budget, yet you decide that redrawing maps is appropriate. The people of North Carolina deserve better. Please do better for those you claim to care about and serve.
10/20/25 8:24 PM	Linda Giltz		Our voting districts should be drawn to represent our state's population and its political and racial make-up. Our current districts do not represent the vast majority of our population, and they over-represent Republicans. Out of our all of our registered voters, 38% are Unaffiliated, 32% are Democrats and 30% are Republicans. It is not fair to draw legislative/congressional maps that result in outcomes that do not represent our population and demographics. Manipulating district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation, weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. IF you are going to change district lines, change them to be more fair and representative of North Carolina's population.
10/20/25 8:24 PM	Anna Mullis		The proposed redistricting is not only bad process, but it's bad politics. NC Republicans are rushing rigged voting maps without appropriate notice, even though 84% of North Carolinians are against gerrymandering (https://www.commoncause.org/north-carolina/press/gerrymandering-poll/). Their swift action (without public notice) is an intentional attempt to avoid accountability and to falsely inflate the impact of the Republican voters. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is an unjust and inaccurate representation of voters in our state. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees (such as teachers) aren‚Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. Although the GOP is seemingly unable to address these issues, they swiftly returned to Raleigh when Donald Trump asked them to force a gerrymander. I have deep pride in my state and NC deserves better than this.
10/20/25 8:25 PM	Mrs Karen Willey		We don‚Äôt need another map. This was rushed through without public notice thinking we don‚Äôt care. But I care and this is a mockery of fair districts and elections!! Stop now.
10/20/25 8:25 PM	Proposed New Maps Sayre Man		I know it‚Äôs gerrymandering, you know it‚Äôs gerrymandering, we all know it‚Äôs gerrymandering. Integrity doesn‚Äôt need to be irrelevant. You can choose to do the right thing here.
10/20/25 8:26 PM	Ms. Elizabeth Brownrigg		In North Carolina, everyone should have an equal voice in our government. The Republican gerrymander deprives the majority of our citizens of fair representation in Congress. Stop the gerrymander!

10/20/25 8:26 PM	Anita Feldman	Retired	Redistricting to add Republican Representatives is undemocratic, making some people's votes not count. Republicans must understand that they are not doing what their constituency want, that they will lose in the next election, and therefore that they need to cheat. Rather than doing what Trump is demanding, do what we the people are demanding, thereby holding on to our democracy!
10/20/25 8:26 PM	Diane Bell Byrne		I have recently moved to North Carolina and just registered to vote here. I am 100% opposed to gerrymandering and will vote against anyone who works in favor of it. Your job is to serve the people who elect you, not grab power and hold onto it at any cost. Earn our votes by doing your jobs well - it,Äôs that simple.
10/20/25 8:27 PM	Rosalyn Sloan		Please reject the redistricting bill. 84% of North Carolina voters, including the vast majority of Republicans and Independents, believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. As our elected representatives, your duty is to represent what your constituents want, and the vast majority of us want fair elections with fair districts. We want you to return early to Raleigh to pass a budget, not to scramble to redraw the maps without notifying citizens. Vote no on the redistricting.
10/20/25 8:27 PM	Robert Henderson		A better representation of the population is needed, especially with NYC bring in deep pockets with their displaced citizens - not to mention the illegals
10/20/25 8:28 PM	Jacob Brock		This plan is anti democratic and if enacted, the majority of North Carolinians say in their government will be silenced. Please do not do this!
10/20/25 8:28 PM	Mrs Carianne Goodall		As a North Carolinian, I am asking for fair redistricting maps. Representatives should be a reflection of their constituents, not cherry pick them. Representatives should rely on solid policy decisions & crafting that reflects the wants & needs of their constituents rather than attempting to gerrymander maps to steal elections from the people. The pendulum of politics swings both ways over time & a precedent is being established to create an authoritarian government that does not hold free & fair elections, but rather elections with a predetermined outcome.
10/20/25 8:29 PM	J Holland		We must keep elections fair and elect folks who represent us - both Democrats & Republics fairly elected to work together! Compromising not pushing through one sided legislation.
10/20/25 8:29 PM	Mr Joseph Rufo		Remember as government officials, you are public servants, elected to represent the public, not to blindly follow the party down unethical paths. Your responsibility and commitment is to your constitutes, not to the party. This gerrymandering is unscrupulous, unprincipled and amoral.
10/20/25 8:29 PM	Hailey Cotarelo		The lack of public notice is inexcusable. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. Additionally, NC is a 50-50 state. An 11,Äì3 map in a is political theft, and violates my right to a fair and free election
10/20/25 8:29 PM	Tracy Carey		People's voices have a right to be heard. This gerrymandering attempt (again!) will make the voting maps grossly biased. The GOP is becoming increasing racist, and it shows. Do better. This is one of the many reasons I left the republican party.
10/20/25 8:29 PM	Margaret Sawicki		I live in a gerrymandered district, and can attest to the fact that gerrymandering destroys the will of the voters and creates a false representative government for the state. It robs people of their voice and it,Äôs cheating. Our children deserve a better example of what it means to be a public servant.
10/20/25 8:29 PM	Alice Wiemers		I am a proud NC voter, and I am disgusted by this effort to take away the voice of the people of NC by allowing elected officials to gerrymander themselves and their friends into continued and expanded power. Voters should pick our legislators, not the other way around. I will be speaking loudly about this anti-American move from the NC GOP to every voter I know.
10/20/25 8:30 PM	Mr. Bobby Pratt	N/A	To whom it may concern: As a US Army veteran and a citizen of this state, I am confused as to why you are trying to redistrict the state. It seems a little unfair and dishonest that politicians are taking away the voices of some of the people in our state. We don,Äôt even have an agreed upon budget for our state and you have decided to convene to gerrymander our districts. What is it that you are trying to accomplish? What are you afraid of? I don,Äôt care what other states are doing, that is not us. This is a disgrace to the politics I was raised in. My grandparents would be turning in their graves if they knew what was happening. I guarantee I will not be voting for this administration again. You are a disgrace to this state and the people that you claim to lead.
10/20/25 8:30 PM	Mrs. Donna Mergliano	individual	Repeatedly in my experience, the NC Republican legislature has gerrymandered Congressional districts to deprive North Carolinians of fair representation. Now the NCLeg is compounding the problem with little public notice but with the express bidding of President Trump. The proposed redistricting plan, in between census years no less, is a travesty., a proposal with which I wholeheartedly disagree.
10/20/25 8:30 PM	Ms Astride Duarte		I am fervently against any further redistricting in North Carolina. As a matter of fact I would like the already enacted gerrymandering to be reversed! My voice has been silenced by your creative drawing. I have been disenfranchised. How about just running on your record. If you are doing the right things for We The People you should have excellent results without cheating your way through.
10/20/25 8:30 PM	Elizabeth Richerson		The proposed redistricting is blatant gerrymandering to favor Republicans, done at the request of a the president to further entrench partisan policies. Do not adopt this redistricting. Allow the citizens of North Carolina to elect their representatives, not have it forced upon them.

10/20/25 8:31 PM	Carmen Wagner		I am a NC citizen and I am writing to oppose the redistricting. Gerrymandering the state is partisan and interrupts our right to a free and fair election.
10/20/25 8:31 PM	Midge Metheny		The proposed plan to redistrict NC,Äôs maps yet again is a blatant attempt to reduce representation for non-Republican citizens. It should not be legal and should be voted down.
10/20/25 8:31 PM	Linda Agnant		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. North Carolina voters,Äô have a right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/20/25 8:32 PM	Ms. Terri Norman		An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù The rushed redistricting process confirms the GOP,Äôs priorities - Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/20/25 8:32 PM	Ricker Snow		I do not condone this shameful and pathetic attempt at racial gerrymandering!
10/20/25 8:32 PM	REDISTRICTING NOT LEGAL Karen Boffi		The people of North Carolina DO NOT give our permission to redraw the voting maps. We are a 50-50 state and the voting maps should reflect that. In addition the State Supreme Court declared it illegal and this is only being done to appease Donald Trump. Do your jobs for NC not DJT.
10/20/25 8:32 PM	Dr Patricia Williams		It is illegal to arbitrarily reset district lines especially on a partisan basis. I am against this practice
10/20/25 8:32 PM	Dr Marianne Soufas	Retired MD	Once again, you Republicans just can,Äôt seem to want to win FAIR elections. This redistricting sham is so egregious that I,Äôm embarrassed for you and your spineless NEED to follow the failed President. NO ONE ASKED FIR THIS REDISTRICTING MAP. A majority of North Carolinians would favor a non-biased map,Ä¶AND YOU KNOW IT! No one is fooled by your underhanded antics. It will backfire on you and cause you shame. Don,Äôt be a SHAME for this SHAM. Grow a spine and stand up for what,Äôs right.
10/20/25 8:33 PM	Nicholas DiColandrea	None	The General Assembly is breaking its oath to the people of North Carolina by denying the people to elect those that represent their values in partisan district mapping that further disenfranchises voters by creating maps solely winnable by more Republicans. It is shameful. You are creating a political climate where the only recourse will be to continue partisan gerrymandering until we completely lose our representative democracy. Your oath is to the people. Not the President of the United States.
10/20/25 8:34 PM	Redistricting Christina A Overcash		It is unclear to me why both our federal and state constitutions are being disregarded with the current administration. These constitutions were meant to provide freedom. They were meant to provide representation. They were meant to create governments of, for, and by the people, not governments that do everything the executive branch desires. By redistricting, you are taking away the representation of some of our most vulnerable communities and creating an omnipowerful political party. That was not what our founding fathers intended. I do not want my tax dollars to go to corruption and lack of representation. Do better. Be better. This redistricting plan is not American.
10/20/25 8:34 PM	Mr Bernard Kruth		Do not let democracy die. Keep the democracy alive! No not allow redistricting at this time.
10/20/25 8:34 PM	Budget first Mary Griffith	NCAE	I think that it should be the priority for the NC General Assembly to get a budget together and passed before we start working on gerrymandering NCs voting district for an election that doesn,Äôt need to be thought about yet. Pass a budget. Release Leandro funds. Fund public schools!
10/20/25 8:34 PM	Lindsay Jones		The courts have found the previous map unconstitutional. Instead of wasting tax payer money and time creating an even more unconstitutional map - please correct your previous mistakes and make a fair map for your constituents.
10/20/25 8:35 PM	William Hoffman		I am a resident of Pitt county and will directly be affected by this gerrymander. I'm curious who handles your math when making these decisions. Republicans claim there is a clear mandate for Trump from NC voters, yet he won 55% of the vote. Last I checked, 11 out of 14 seats does not equal 55%. On top of that, this state has elected another Democratic governor and Democrats to many top state positions. I'm an engineer and if I made decisions using terrible math like our legislature many of my ideas wouldn't work. Wait a second, that explains why our state legislature hasn't been doing enough for common North Carolinians. At least with this latest gerrymander Republicans are staying consistent and true to form.
10/20/25 8:35 PM	Abby Nance		Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. Focus on passing a budget.
10/20/25 8:36 PM	Dr Milan Genge		An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is not politically representative of what the constituents want. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. A 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù This map is not what North Carolinians want. There are 84% of North Carolina voters who believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. More efforts should be on placed on passing a budget and coming to the middle to move forward with legislation.

10/20/25 8:38 PM	Nelson Penninger		Redistricting should be done by a nonpartisan independent commission at all times and in all states. Voters should be able to vote for candidates that represent their interests and know that their vote is not meaningless because their district has been gerrymandered to mute the majority no matter which party is in power. That,Äôs what a real democracy is about.
10/20/25 8:38 PM	Mary-Jo Keenan		Have you no shame. The president is using you as puppets. Stop the political gerrymandering.
10/20/25 8:38 PM	Reject the new map! Mitchell Crooks		The NC legislature must reject the proposed congressional redistricting map for the state of NC. It is outrageous to propose such a map that disenfranchises a segment of the population and makes North Carolina,Äôs elected congress members less equally representative of the interests of the population as a whole. No moral governing body would accept this. The proponents of this map do not even try to hide the brazen and unethical choice to cut democratic interests and votes out of the public discourse that this map represents. Choosing the path this map lays out is an act of choosing to weaken democracy in the US in favor of authoritarian consolidation of power. It sacrifices the good of the many for the greed of a few. It silences and disregards voices that dissent, when every voice should count. The members of the NC General Assembly need to stand up and oppose this undemocratic redistricting map, regardless of party, because not only is it non-partisan, but it is un-American to violate our founding democratic ideal of equal representation.
10/20/25 8:38 PM	Donna Sylver		The NC Republican legislative leaders,Âô plans on redrawing the state's U.S. House district map, as pressured by Trump, with an aim to secure another GOP seat within what is already unfair boundaries. Republicans already created a map in 2023 that resulted in GOP candidates winning 10 of the state's 14 U.S. House seats in 2024. The division used to be a 7-7 seat split under the 2022 map. I agree with our governor; "The General Assembly works for North Carolina, not Donald Trump". When NC redraws the map, at least this time, make it a fair map ,Äì closer to the 7-7 seat split, particularly since the registered voters in NC are evenly split? The voters should decide on fair NC policies, not a rigged system. I am calling on our political leaders to condemn the Trump inspired administration,Âôs pressure to gerrymander every state so that Republicans gain more seats. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/20/25 8:39 PM	Kim Kolar		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 8:39 PM	Ryan Beaupre		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday (10/16) and the votes started on Monday (10/20). Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. In addition, North Carolina historically and currently is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 8:39 PM	Ms. Gayle Anderson	Individual	North Carolina has been taken over by sycophants who jump when Trump orders. It,Äôs time for the General Assembly to do its job and represent US - We The People. Wake up! Protest! Vote them out!
10/20/25 8:39 PM	Mrs Katherine Thompson		Make a stand for true democracy by REFUSING TO GERRYMANDER. Its a bipartisan issue.
10/20/25 8:40 PM	Stephanie Bryan		It,Äôs heartbreaking to see how gerrymandering has warped democracy in North Carolina. When politicians draw districts to protect their own power instead of representing the people, everyone loses. Communities are split apart, voters are silenced, and elections stop reflecting the real voice of the state. North Carolina deserves fair maps,Ä¶ ones that let voters choose their leaders, not the other way around. Gerrymandering isn,Äôt just bad politics; it,Äôs an attack on trust, accountability, and the very idea of democracy. Please do better NC.
10/20/25 8:40 PM	Kim Kolar		NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/20/25 8:40 PM	Mr. John Midyette	N/A	I am writing to voice my support for this redistricting effort. Best Wishes and Godspeed.
10/20/25 8:41 PM	Deanna Lewis		The proposed redistricting plan is yet another shameless power grab and move to disenfranchise even more voters. Draw honest and fair maps and give the citizens a fair chance to choose their representatives.
10/20/25 8:41 PM	Margaret Rhee		I am opposed to redistricting because it unfairly divides districts along racial lines and unjustly adds an additional seat for Republicans. This plan is designed to please President Trump and not to improve the lives of North Carolinians.
10/20/25 8:41 PM	GOP gotta cheat huh Kory Urban		The GOP,Äôs awful policies make it so they can,Äôt win without rigging the maps. NC hates them and they know it.
10/20/25 8:41 PM	Ziqian Gong	NA	I don,Äôt like the new map.

10/20/25 8:42 PM	Thomas Richerson	The proposed redistricting is blatant gerrymandering to favor Republicans, done at the request of the President to further entrench partisan policies. Do not adopt this redistricting. Citizens of North Carolina should be able to elect their representation, not have it forced on them. Redistricting should be fair and balanced based on the true representation of its citizens and be done by a independent third party.
10/20/25 8:42 PM	Alyson West	absolutely undemocratic power grab. you should be ashamed of yourselves
10/20/25 8:42 PM	Kathy Conner	We live in a state where roughly equal numbers of people vote Republican and Democrat. Already our legislators are uneven at 10R-4D. Redistricting which will result in an 11-4 split is simply wrong, unfair, and classic gerrymandering. Doing so will mean that North Carolinians are not represented in a a manner that reflects who we are, what we believe, and what we want.
10/20/25 8:43 PM	Chris Connolly	As a concerned resident of North Carolina, I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed congressional redistricting plan currently under consideration by the General Assembly. This plan appears to be designed to favor one political party at the expense of fair representation. North Carolina is a politically diverse state, and our congressional maps should reflect that diversity,Äînot suppress it. By eliminating competitive districts and creating safe seats for one party, this proposal undermines the democratic principle that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Redistricting should be a transparent and nonpartisan process that prioritizes the voices of communities, not political agendas. The justification that this map is intended to protect any particular political figure,Äôs agenda is deeply concerning. Our elected officials should be accountable to the people of North Carolina, not to national party interests. Frequent redistricting efforts in recent years have created confusion and instability in our electoral system. Constantly changing district boundaries erodes public trust and makes it harder for voters to engage meaningfully in the democratic process. It also risks diluting the voices of historically marginalized communities. I urge the General Assembly to reject this proposal and instead adopt a fair, transparent, and nonpartisan approach to redistricting,Äïone that ensures every North Carolinian has an equal voice in our democracy.
10/20/25 8:44 PM	Virginia Price	As an independent voter I consider gerrymandering by either party to be cheating and therefore any candidate that votes to cheat will not be getting my vote in the upcoming elections.
10/20/25 8:44 PM	Nicole Nazon	STOP THIS SHIT. NOBODY WANTS A RACIST MAP THAT SUPPORTS DICTATORS AND PEDOPHILES
10/20/25 8:44 PM	Mrs Susan Barcelo	Can,Äôt republicans ever play by the rules? STOP LYING and CHEATING!!STOP REDISTRICTING! DO YOUR DAMN JOB! That,Äôs why you were elected! YOU WORK FOR THE PEOPLE OF NC!
10/20/25 8:45 PM	Kyra Denington	North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 8:45 PM	No more gerrymandering!!! Tessa Benz	As a NC resident I strongly oppose the redistricting of voting maps. We are watching you take away votes from the people of NC & we will not forget who voted for this.
10/20/25 8:46 PM	Elaine Whitney	No Redistricting that will lessen FAIRNESS of voting rights. Stop the redistricting that will skew more votes to the Republican Party! 18 seats? Are you kidding me? I call shenanigans! If you can,Äôt win fairly, then you don,Äôt represent the populace.
10/20/25 8:46 PM	Kaitlyn Ross	Your constituents are not asking for this. 84% of North Carolina voters said redrawing maps for partisan advantage is ,Äúnever acceptable,Äù.
10/20/25 8:46 PM	Nope. Harrison Fahrer	This is a bad plan. I was born in NC, I grew up here, and I love it,Ä¶for the most part. Disenfranchising voters and being manipulative is not the way forward.
10/20/25 8:46 PM	Suzanne Churchill	I am strongly opposed to this redistributing effort, which is a crass and unjust way for the republicans to disenfranchise thousands of voters and secure a monopoly on power in service of an increasingly autocratic federal government. We need to protect our democracy and make sure our government is truly representative of the diversity of people and viewpoints. Our elected officials should be working for the people to pass a budget, not expending all their time and energy amassing power.
10/20/25 8:47 PM	Shelby Devan	My name is Shelby Devan and I am a constituent of 27610, and I am writing to express my extreme opposition of the rigged maps that Republicans are trying to pass. These maps were revealed on Thursday 10/16 and the votes started the following Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 8:47 PM	Ms. Diane Pulley	Republicans are rushing the process to avoid accountability from the people they're disenfranchised. This is a mockery of NC voters rights to a "free and fair election!

10/20/25 8:47 PM	Christina von Reyn		76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. Stop redistricting and pass a budget that serves our NC communities.
10/20/25 8:47 PM	Nikki Schipman		Fair maps, not gerrymandered maps.
10/20/25 8:48 PM	William Martin		Hello GOP I urge you to remember who you represent and work for - the voters / people of NC. You were not elected by trump, but us. You would do well to remember that gerrymandering is bad policy. If your policies are not popular enough that you have to cheat to get re-elected, then maybe you should come up with better policies. Gerrymandering is NOT acceptable to the vast majority of NC voters. I urge you to reconsider this underhanded solution to what is a trump problem and not a NC problem. A concerned NC voter
10/20/25 8:48 PM	Dr. David Danehower	Retired	I was disgusted when Democrats gerrymandered districts when they controlled the NC State House and Senate and now I am even more disgusted when Republicans go even further in gerrymandering even more districts in favor of the Republican party. I have voted for Republicans and Democrats during my life here in NC, but I will NEVER CAST ANOTHER VOTE FOR A REPUBLICAN if this bill is passed. Sometimes it isn't about politics, its about doing THE RIGHT THING. Respectfully, Dr. David Danehower
10/20/25 8:48 PM	Mr Michael Reed	Citizen	There was no public notice for this. There is no operating budget and Medicaid is underfunded by $300 million. At what point is the ‚Äúwinning‚Äù enough?
10/20/25 8:49 PM	Brandon Lonz		I am writing to express my strong opposition to the congressional redistricting map . The current process is deeply flawed. It lacks the transparency and opportunity for meaningful public input that should be the foundation of creating fair voting districts. News reports indicate that the map was drawn to benefit one political party, with concerns raised about a lack of transparency and backroom deals. The map's impact on communities is particularly troubling, as it was intentionally designed to dilute the voting power of minority voters, including fracturing diverse communities that share common bonds of history, economy, and culture. Fair maps are essential for a healthy democracy. They encourage competition, ensure accountability, and give all citizens a meaningful voice in their government. This redistricting plan achieves the opposite. I urge you to reconsider your position on this issue. I ask that you support fair maps that reflect the will of the people and empower voters rather than politicians. Our state and our democracy deserve better than this.
10/20/25 8:49 PM	Ms. NANCY EMINETH		Voting districts should only be changed or modified every few years. This process should not be applied to improve one party's advantage over another. Districts should be designed by the community not politicians! Stop playing games with people's right to VOTE!
10/20/25 8:49 PM	Dr. Glendal Zumwalt		The proposed redistricting plan is a threat to democracy.
10/20/25 8:50 PM	Me Joshua Lindsey	Private Citizen	No gerrymandering. Strongly opposed
10/20/25 8:50 PM	Kay Goldfarb	Private citizen	Despite comments being overwhelmingly against redistricting to unfairly advantage one party, the NC Senate voted to do just that. Acting as our representatives is supposed to be a public service to your constituents. You aren‚Äôt serving anyone but a President and a party whose policies are so unpopular that they can‚Äôt win without cheating the system. If you are willing to vote for that, why did you go into public service? You aren‚Äôt helping anyone other than billionaires that don‚Äôt need any help and oppressing people that do. This is a real shame.

10/20/25 8:50 PM	T. M. Thomas		There is no valid reason to redistrict NC. No legal reason. No legislative reason. This is pure political manipulation meant to maintain Republicans,Äô grip on power by cheating. This is not how America works. This is not what North Carolinians want or voted for. It is not a priority to the people of NC. Hurricane relief. Affordable medical coverage. Addressing increases in prices and unemployment. Do something that will benefit the people who voted for you, instead of what will benefit the Republican Party. THIS IS NOT WHY YOU WERE ELECTED. Do your job, please.
10/20/25 8:51 PM	Cindy Burke		What a waste of time and money. Please reconsider and know that we can see that your desperation is showing.
10/20/25 8:51 PM	mrs Jenny Curtis		Haven't you already done enough damage to this state without doing this planned re-districting?
10/20/25 8:51 PM	Ms. Danielle Marin		GOP has become the tool of DJT. Zero integrity. Zero Representation of the people of NC. This country was born to be free of tyranny. GOP has become that tyranny. If you think Americans, real Americans are going to quietly accept your rule, you don't know what patriotism is.
10/20/25 8:51 PM	Casey Stegman		This is a shameful and anti-democratic power grab. If Republicans were confident in their policies and if they actually could convince their constituents of how good those policies are, then there would be no need for this. But that,Äôs not the case. Instead, in the middle of a decade, during which there,Äôs been no new census, one party in this state is rigging the system in their favor. Sadly, North Carolina is no stranger to this. Prior to the Civil Rights era, this state was also controlled by the whims of a single party that fought against democratic procedures that would give greater voice to the citizens they claimed to represent. This is no different. It is but another stain on top of so many others. Absolutely awful and disgusting. And I would say the same thing if the Democrats were doing it.
10/20/25 8:51 PM	Jamie Bloom		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps.
10/20/25 8:52 PM	Voter Marylouise bazemore	Me	It's called cheating!!!
10/20/25 8:53 PM	Della Hann		There is absolutely no good reason for redirecting. It is not in the public interest and will only further dilute the the people of NCs voice. This is only being done at the behest of Donald Trump. The same person who issued a video about f him dumping feces on America. Really! We are not feces. Do not redistrict. We the voters do not want this.
10/20/25 8:53 PM	Angela Wade		I am staunchly opposed to these redistricting plans. As a member of The Occaneechi Saponi Tribe, this stifles our voice as a sovereign nation and tramples on The Executive Organization Act of 1973.
10/20/25 8:53 PM	Kelli Saenz		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù Do the right thing and oppose these biased maps!
10/20/25 8:53 PM	Redistricting Scott Bailey		Please respect the normal working order or the North Carolina voting districting process. As a state that is one of the most heavily gerrymandered in the US, a mid-decade measure would further remove NC voters from the expectation of a fair, democratic process. North Carolina is a purple state, and our voter districting should reflect that.

10/20/25 8:54 PM	Mrs. Erica Camp	Re: Opposition to the Redistricting of North Carolina,Äôs Congressional Maps ,Äï Harmful Impact on Congressional District 1 Honorable Members of the General Assembly, I submit this statement as a Black activist , community advocate, and defender of democracy - on behalf of citizens of NC's 1st Congressional District (CD1), one of the few districts where Black, rural, and working-class voices have long united for fair representation. The proposed redistricting plan is not a neutral adjustment of boundaries. It is a deliberate attempt to dilute Black political power, fracture rural communities, and weaken the voice of those who have historically been underrepresented in this state. CD1 is home to proud and resilient communities - farmers, educators, veterans, and small business owners - who have endured decades of economic neglect, healthcare gaps, and environmental injustice. To redraw this district for partisan gain is to silence their hard-fought voice in government. The Harmful Impact: - The proposed maps split Black-majority precincts, diminishing their ability to elect leaders who understand their lived realities. - They undermine the constitutional promise of free and equal elections, prioritizing political advantage of people's rights. - They strip power from counties like Edgecombe, Halifax, Hertford, and Wilson - regions already struggling for equitable resources and representation. Legislative Request for Justice and Equity: I respectfully urge this Assembly to reject the current redistricting proposal and instead commit to legislative action that restores fairness and equity to CD1 and similar communities through: 1) Economic Justice - establish a Rural Equity Investment Fund ti support minority-owned businesses, workforce development, and infrastructure projects across Tier 1 and Tier 2 counties in Eastern NC. 2) Healthcare Access - Guarantee that Medicaid access expansion reaches every eligible resident in CD1. Also, increase funding for
10/20/25 8:54 PM	Dr. Paul Koptak	I've already expressed my opposition along with many others, but the measure passed anyway? Explain how this is democratic process. If you asked the citizens to vote on this measure, only 50 percent would approve, so why is it passing, and in a hurry no less! This is bad process, bad policy, and I"m deeply disturbed over it and the President's role in pushing it forward.
10/20/25 8:54 PM	Laura Thabet	I strongly oppose the proposed 2025 Congressional redistricting map. This map unconstitutionally undermines the democratic process, and silences the voices of the constituents, specifically those of District 1. I call on my elected officials to represent the people of North Carolina and vote no on the proposed Congressional redistricting map.
10/20/25 8:55 PM	Redistricting vote Claudia Thompson	In an effort to regain votes, the threat of firing legislature as a natural consequence of redistricting is abhorrent. Redistricting in order to benefit one political party,Äôs votes by disenfranchising voters is gerrymandering. I do not support this redistricting.
10/20/25 8:57 PM	Mr. Michael P Pulley	The Republican lead legislature is over 100 days overdue in passing a budget not caring about what happens to the average person when they don't receive a paycheck. Now Republicans are rushing back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander vote to put Donald Trump first. Not the people that voted them into office.
10/20/25 8:57 PM	Jason Elliott	Do not add bias to the voting process with more redistricting. We already have seen the biased effects of gerrymandering in North Carolina with some of the most unusual boundaries in the nation. The past efforts coupled with proposed efforts have given more voting power to certain citizens to the point where one person,Äôs vote does not equal one vote by another citizen.
10/20/25 8:57 PM	Chuck Davis	No new maps. No gerrymander.
10/20/25 8:58 PM	Nakia Jackson	Stop trying to hinder the black vote. Stop trying to take away districts from marginalized communities. Our votes COUNT.
10/20/25 8:58 PM	Lisa Newman-Wise	I am a resident of Asheville, US Air Force veteran, and parent of two young children, one with significant disability. NC electoral map is already gerrymandered - do not put a further black mark on our state's democratic processes by further redrawing the maps in a way that DO NOT represent the population at large. Thank you.
10/20/25 8:58 PM	Mts Eileen Curtis	North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election. This is total BS!!!
10/20/25 8:59 PM	Vivianette Ortiz Caraballo	I oppose this redistricting plan because it does not fairly represent our communities. Redrawing district lines in this way dilutes the voices of communities of color and working-class people, reducing our ability to elect representatives who understand our realities and fight for our needs. We need a fair, transparent process centered on public participation ,Äï not a map designed to benefit a few at the expense of democracy. Fair representation is a fundamental right, and this plan does not uphold it.

10/20/25 8:59 PM	Sandra Mueller	As a NC citizen and voter, I am sickened at how the NC legislature is disenfranchising the voters of this state. We are a 50/50 state, yet currently have 10 republican reps and 4 democrats. And you want to make a power grab for one more? The republican senator today said most of the dems are in urban areas so it,Äôs not really 50/50 across the state. Well the state is made up of people, not just land. We have to live under the laws you all pass, and you are taking away our fair representation!
10/20/25 8:59 PM	Brian Vavra	I,Äôm writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed mid-decade redistricting effort. This is a blatant attempt to turn democracy on its head by allowing politicians to pick their voters without even providing for public notice first. Any freedom loving patriot should reject this mockery of a map. Country over party.
10/20/25 9:00 PM	Mrs. Sara Loeppert	North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a free and fair election. Please respect a person's right to vote.
10/20/25 9:00 PM	Teacher Candi Tucker	I teach civics in District Three. My seniors can all tell you why gerrymandering, while legal, is unethical and wrong. We will be District One not because of census based redistricting but because of fear from Republican leadership over potentially losing a seat in the midterm. The thousands of students I have taught in my 28 year career are more fair minded and Constitutionally aligned than the current General Assembly. And yes, I taught gerrymandering was wrong when the Democrats did it. I also teach that we should vote to move our state and country forward, that each day we can become a more perfect Union, not vote because the other side did it first. Shame on every member who allows their party to take dominance over what,Äôs right. Feel free to come to any civics class- you,Äôll learn something.
10/20/25 9:00 PM	sharon suitte	I am an citizen of Rocky Mount North Carolina. I am not a fan of the redistricting in our state. I think that redrawing lines will cease some brown people from having the ability to vote. I am not in favor of redistricting.
10/20/25 9:01 PM	Phil Wintermute	This gerrymandering practice is anti-democratic in so many ways. This is not acceptable to anyone who believes all people should have a voice, regardless of where they happen to live. Artificially creating voting districts to ensure the dominance of one party goes against everything Democracy is supposed to be. Please do the right thing and vote against gerrymandering. Thank you.
10/20/25 9:01 PM	Krysta Workman	STOP THIS GERYMANDERING BULLSHIT.
10/20/25 9:02 PM	Mr Stefan DiMauro	This redistricting is a blatant move to further unbalance voter representation in NC. I am a registered voter and I strongly urge the NC GOP to reconsider this action. Choosing to move forward just proves to the informed people of this state that the only purpose the GOP serves is to bow to the whim of the President. That is not who we are as North Carolinians.
10/20/25 9:03 PM	Reverend Noelle Hussein	I am against redistricting.
10/20/25 9:03 PM	Christopher Estes	The citizens of this state are paying attention to you. If you want to win elections, please inact policies that help your constituents. Redrawing districts to give yourself an upper hand is not a democratic action.
10/20/25 9:03 PM	Dr Marina Harris	I am writing to oppose the new redistricting maps. This rushed process represents a bad faith process and as a voter, I don't appreciate not having time to voice my concerns against this change. And many North Carolinians agree - 84% of NC are against partisan gerrymandering, which is what redrawing these maps would be, and I urge the Senate and house to vote NO on passing this new map that would silence the vote of many North Carolinian voters. Vote no!!
10/20/25 9:03 PM	Mrs. Mary Condon	Dear NCGA members, Please step out of the partisan battle and put North Carolinians first, over party. Remember us, the people you represent? There is bi-partisan agreement in our communities this can be done by the following: - Ensuring districts reflect community demographics - Offer transparency in the redistricting process to build public trust - Solicit public input through community meetings and surveys - Embrace the importance of maintaining the integrity of existing communities - Use independent commissions to minimize partisan influence Thank you for your attention to this important matter. We need to hold onto democratic norms and fair elections in order to continue to be the envy of the world and the destination for their capital investments! The more NC deviates from these norms, the harder it will be to attract people and investment to our great state.
10/20/25 9:04 PM	Dr Patrick McGuire	Please do not let this travesty of justice called redistricting go through!! There is nothing fair about this!! You are using your temporary power to press this unfair burden on our state. Shame!!!
10/20/25 9:04 PM	Dr Anne Shelton	It is imperative that the redistricting plan not pass. It will remove the voice of those in underrepresented communities unfairly.

10/20/25 9:05 PM	Debra Demske		urge you to support fair redistricting and end the practice of partisan gerrymandering in North Carolina. When political boundaries are drawn to serve insiders rather than citizens, our communities are divided, and local voices lose their strength. Gerrymandering undermines local control and concentrates power in the hands of a few instead of reflecting the will of the people. True conservative principles call for transparency, integrity, and healthy competition,Äîvalues that thrive when leaders win by earning support through ideas and persuasion, not by manipulating electoral maps. Upholding these values protects the spirit of our Constitution and fulfills the moral duty of keeping government accountable to those it represents. North Carolinians overwhelmingly agree on this issue. A recent survey found that 76% of voters believe it should be illegal to draw districts that discriminate based on political affiliation. This view spans party lines,Äî66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters agree that partisan gerrymandering has no place in our democracy. I urge you to listen to the people of our state and take action to ensure that elections in North Carolina are free, fair, and competitive. The integrity of our democracy depends on it.
10/20/25 9:06 PM	Tim Kozenskie		I,Äôm totally against this. This is unfair. I am an independent voter and I think this is unfair for any party to implement.
10/20/25 9:06 PM	Samantha Gundlapalli		This is absolutely unnecessary and disgraceful to North Carolina. We are purple state, but our gerrymandered districts do not reflect our voting population. Shame on you!
10/20/25 9:06 PM	Keshawna Solomon		I am a registered voter of NC and I STRONGLY OPPOSE the redistricting to eliminate fair representation of myself and others in the state. This is aggregious and it appears that the will of the people is going to way side in favor of just doing whatever the legislator wants to appease Trump's request and also to keep power. This is not what we want. Maps should be fair to represent us all. My voice matters and should not be slienced by redrawing maps. I am very disappointed in our legislature and particualrly the leadership who seems to want to serve their own interests and not actually do business to support all North Carolinians, especially those in need.
10/20/25 9:06 PM	Mz P Wong	Public	Gerry wandering is illegal , manipulative, and unfair voting practices. I will not support any party who does this.
10/20/25 9:07 PM	Mary Sundstrom		Please don't gerrymandering districts for political advantage and especially not close to an election. Voters should have their vote fairly represented, not unfairly represented by a gerrymandered district. Votes should represent each person who voted equally. Changes close to an election should not be allowed, it confuses voters about who they can vote for and candidates about who their voters actually will be for an upcoming election.
10/20/25 9:07 PM	Scott Underwood		With all due respect, if you do not believe you will win an election with a fair map, address the issues in your platform as this demonstrates it does not represent the actual will of the people. If you believe, rather, manipulating the map is the solution, address the issues in your character. You may have been elected by your party, but once elected, you represent all citizens, regardless of their party. As an elected public servant, please listen to all your constituents with an open mind rather than contempt. If you want to secure a vote, this is far more ethical than partisan gerrymandering. Partisan gerrymandering by any party is perhaps the height of immorality as it undermines the power and authority of an individual,Äôs vote, a cornerstone of democracy and decency in our state and our great nation. Do not be so afraid of voters you have to rig the maps in your favor to win. Do not hold so tightly to a platform you believe is so unpopular you have to rig the election to win. Bring back decency to politics and to your own legacies. Eventually, goodness and fairness will overcome immorality. Though it take many court cases and appeals at the expense of North Carolinians, equal representation and fair maps are inevitable. Please choose to be on the correct side of history.
10/20/25 9:07 PM	Sarah Greene	Self	I do not agree with the congressional maps being redrawn. They are being rushed through and a budget hasn,Äôt even been passed yet. The people of NC deserve fair maps and their voices to be heard.
10/20/25 9:07 PM	Ms Sandra Cannon Anthony	personal	84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. What is happening in the congress is wrong. Our state believes in honesty, straighforwardness, and truthfullness. What I see is dishonesty, deceptive behavior, and backstabbing. Do the right thing. Do not chop up our state to make a map that lends itself to one party. I would say the same if the tides were turned.

10/20/25 9:07 PM	Courtney Monahan		North Carolina has a proud history of independently minded voters in a purple state. District maps should represent a well-balanced electorate. Any attempt to silence voters via partisan gerrymander is undemocratic and erodes trust in our electoral systems. We should strive for elections that are hard fought and won on their merits and for candidates that are accountable to the people, not a cherry-picked, favorable electorate. Competition breeds integrity in a democracy and we should strive for districts that are accountable to people with a variety of viewpoints and priorities.
10/20/25 9:08 PM	Ms Francesxa Colloredo-Mansfeld		I am horrified but the un democratic proposal to redraw maps pandering to Donald Trump,Äôs pressure. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 9:08 PM	Mrs Kristen Murphy		Please do the right thing and allow our votes to count. The great state of NC should show the nation and world that fair elections are the Will of the people
10/20/25 9:08 PM	Jennifer Jones		I am a North Carolina citizen and I urge you to focus on the issues that directly affect the everyday lives of North Carolinians, rather than wasting taxpayer money on partisan games like this redistricting effort. Polling shows that most North Carolinians, regardless of party, oppose politicians drawing districts to benefit themselves. You were elected to serve the people of North Carolina, not to rig the system.
10/20/25 9:08 PM	Angele Coburn		Angele Coburn Raleigh, Wake County, NC October 20, 2025 To the Members of the North Carolina General Assembly, I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed redrawing of our voting district maps. I believe these changes are driven by partisan intent rather than a commitment to fair and equal representation for all North Carolinians. Redistricting should reflect our communities, not political advantage. Maps that are drawn to favor one party undermine trust in our democracy, dilute voter voices ,Äî especially in marginalized communities ,Äî and violate the principle of free and fair elections guaranteed by our state constitution. North Carolina deserves a transparent, nonpartisan redistricting process that puts voters first. I urge you to reject gerrymandered maps, hold meaningful public hearings, and prioritize fair representation over political gain. We must protect the integrity of our elections and ensure that every vote counts equally. Please do the right thing for our state. Sincerely, Angele Coburn
10/20/25 9:08 PM	Charlene Fernandez	United States citizen	If politicians have to cheat to win, should they win? If the only thing that matters is power, then all of human life is just war.
10/20/25 9:09 PM	Chris Gibbons		This is gerrymandering to suppress democratic votes. These lines were intentionally drawn to give 50% of the voters control of 80% of the House. It,Äôs a shameless mockery of our democratic system.

10/20/25 9:09 PM	Opposition to the Propose Carla Hooker	Dear Members of the House Select Committee on Redistricting and the Senate Elections Committee, I am writing as a resident of Raleigh in Wake County to express my strong opposition to the proposed Congressional redistricting plan. The new map does not fairly represent the people of our growing and diverse community. Wake County is one of the most populous and dynamic areas in North Carolina, with residents from all backgrounds who share common interests in strong public education, accessible transportation, and sustainable economic growth. The proposed plan divides our community in ways that weaken our collective voice and diminish our ability to elect representatives who truly understand and reflect our local priorities. Redistricting should not be used as a tool to entrench partisan power. Instead, it should respect county lines, keep communities of interest intact, and ensure that every voter,Äôs voice counts equally. This proposal appears to do the opposite,Äîit fragments Wake County and undermines the principles of fair and competitive elections. I urge the committees to reject this map and to adopt a redistricting process that is transparent, nonpartisan, and rooted in fairness. The people of Raleigh and Wake County deserve representation that reflects us,Äînot one manipulated for political gain. Thank you for considering my comments and for your commitment to democratic integrity in North Carolina. Sincerely, Carla Hooker Raleigh, NC
10/20/25 9:09 PM	Leslie Gunderson	Cherry picking districts weakens democracy and the voice of the people who live in them.
10/20/25 9:10 PM	Mrs. Apryl Johnson	Melissa Price Kromm said it perfectly - ‚ÄúThese new redistricting wars aren‚Äôt about fairness; they‚Äôre about power,,Äù she said in a statement. ‚ÄúEvery time politicians redraw maps to cling to power, trust in our democracy erodes.‚Äù 84% of voters in the state oppose gerrymandering, including 78% of Republicans. Lets respect our own voters!
10/20/25 9:10 PM	Mary Anglin	North Carolina is a purple state. The proposed map does not reflect that. An 11-3 map in a 50-50 state completely undermines North Carolina voters,Äô right to a free and fair election.
10/20/25 9:10 PM	Sara Broadwell	This move to redistrict NC congressional districts is being rushed. Adequate public notice was not given for voter input. North Carolina is roughly divided 50/50 between Republicans and Democrats and a map giving Republicans 11-3 majority does not equate to free and fair elections.
10/20/25 9:10 PM	Alisha Stephens	As an NC voter, I am quite disturbed that you are rigging voting districts to win elections. Stop cheating to win. I want fair representation on our state!
10/20/25 9:10 PM	John McGraw	I do not support redrawing of the maps. Please do not redraw the maps ahead of the upcoming election s
10/20/25 9:10 PM	Claudia Davis	Redistricting of the voting district maps would be a detriment to the political system. It would be unconstitutional to cause discrimination amongst voters to redraw the district lines as proposed. Please do not re-draw the lines. Thank you
10/20/25 9:10 PM	No to redistricting Tara Guzman	Please vote no to redistricting. We need to protect fair elections.
10/20/25 9:11 PM	Zack Moore	I urge our NC legislators not to move further down the path of letting representatives choose their voters rather than letting voters choose their representatives. NC voters have clearly expressed a range of political views in recent elections and that should be reflected in our representation in congress.
10/20/25 9:11 PM	Katherine Mills	I think that it‚Äôs wrong for you to redraw North Carolina‚Äôs congressional districts to gain more republican seats. As I‚Äôm sure you know, 50% of NC residents vote democrat and 50% vote republican. Drawing the congressional districts to be 11-3 does not fairly represent voters in our state. Instead of stealing another congressional seat, you should be passing a budget for the state. Shame on you.
10/20/25 9:11 PM	Cris Taylor	I reject this
10/20/25 9:11 PM	Deborah Gaines	Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is an attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 9:11 PM	Ms. Yolanda Thigpen	Redistricting at best is a overt attempt to allow certain incumbents to stay in office, voters to be silenced, and fair representation to be eliminated. Redistricting unequivocally affects people of color. Please stop this racial discrimination and partisan manipulation. American was build on democracy for the people by the people!

10/20/25 9:12 PM	Amber Jarvis		One of the most important pieces of living in a democratic republic is that voting matters. In order for voting to matter, people should have an equal voice in our government. The best way to do that fairly is to have an independent redistricting committee that draws lines only after an updated census and ensures that the citizens of NC are fairly heard. We already have a gerrymandered state, and Trump is asking for it to become more so because he hates checks on his power. As you saw this past weekend, many North Carolinians are frustrated in our government and are losing faith in our government,Äôs integrity. By further gerrymandering our state, you are dissolving trust in our government which is essential for a democracy to run effectively. I know that at least most of you got into politics because you wanted to do something good for our state, for your region, and for your country. Do NOT forget that now when your integrity is needed to save our country or else your name will go in history books as the cowards who let Trump destroy a functioning democracy and turn it into an authoritarian country. Be brave and stand by your constituents.
10/20/25 9:12 PM	Reject 2025 maps! Lindsey Wolfe		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 9:12 PM	Jeanne Pierce		No way! Find a more equitable solution. Everyone is enamored with AI. It could be used to draw districts without favoring or discriminating against anyone based on party, ethnicity, etc.
10/20/25 9:12 PM	Debra Mott		This is totally illegal. North Carolinians are fully against this move.
10/20/25 9:13 PM	susan patterson		BAD POLITICS North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Âôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Âôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/20/25 9:14 PM	Andrew Tie		The new redistricting maps are a complete and utter shame. There are significant issues to North Carolinians like myself that the legislature refuses to deal with - namely passing a budget. Our mental health hospitals are under severe strain and yet do not receive enough funding despite all the conjecture. Get to work doing actual work and dump these maps in the trash.
10/20/25 9:14 PM	Jennifer Story		NO GERRYMANDERING!
10/20/25 9:14 PM	Jessica Pieper		Lawmakers need to focus their time and energy on passing a state budget instead of rushing maps that don't represent all North Carolinians.
10/20/25 9:15 PM	Mrs Melanie Bebler		The Republicans in the NC Legislature should be focusing on passing a budget that is overdue by 3 months, not trying to figure out how to disenfranchise even more voters. You people are reprehensible. Hiding behind your religion while committing the most egregious of crimes. I hope you never have a moments peace. I hope you are heckled and berated everywhere that you go and that you can,Äôt show your face in public for as long as you live. North Carolina should say NO to the criminal in the White House, not bow down to his bullying. The only thing it says about you is that he has secrets on you that you don,Äôt want to become public. I can,Äôt even say, ,ÄúShame on you,,Äù because Republicans are shameless, greedy, lying, thieving dirtbags.
10/20/25 9:16 PM	Linda Kinsinger		I am strongly opposed to the new map that Republicans have introduced. This is being rushed through exceedingly fast, with no time for public input because the Republicans know that the majority of North Carolinians are against it. North Carolina is a 50-50 state. Drawing maps that would likely lead to 11 out of 14 seats in Republican hands is completely unfair to the people of this state.
10/20/25 9:16 PM	Dr Brendan Crow		Real conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Âîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Most North Carolinians are against gerrymandering and think it should be illegal.
10/20/25 9:16 PM	Mrs Lois Riggins	Private citizen and North Carolina resident	I,Âôm deeply concerned by the rushed actions of the North Carolina legislature to again distort the voting districts. North Carolina is not a solely Republican state. There are many Democrats that live and vote here. It is a blatant abuse of power to gerrymander Democratic districts out of existence. The North Carolina Legislature should do the right thing for the right reasons. Jumping to do a treacherous act because Donald Trump has snapped his finger is wrong and beneath our state legislature. Have some honor.

10/20/25 9:16 PM	Ms Mel Oyler		Your hard work & integrity is what got you to this laudable & prestigious position, & I,Äôm highly respectful of all that you,Äôve done, but PLEASE LISTEN to your NC constituents!!! Do NOT ALLOW this re-districting to occur - this is NOT what WE want!! No!!! Thank you.
10/20/25 9:17 PM	Ms June Guralnick	None	This is a blatant move to prevent fair elections! SHAME ON YOU ALL! There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. INSTEAD OF ATTEMPTING TO STEAL AN ELECTION - how about doing your job and passing a budget?!!! State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast.
10/20/25 9:18 PM	Mary Hauser		I think this is not a representation of the interests of the majority of North Carolina. Passing our budget and making sure your citizens needs are taken care id is a much better use of our tax payer dollars than a shameful power grab.
10/20/25 9:18 PM	Sandra Barnes		I urge you to vote down the politically motivated redrawing of district boundaries. Your ancestors fought for democracy and we need to protect it from self-motivated attempts of forming unfair political advantages. Vote no to gerrymandering!
10/20/25 9:18 PM	Diane Sloane		I do NOT support the redistricting. Gerrymandering should not be approved and is not the way we should be operating in the US or in NC. We are better than that. This redistricting would be a blatant abuse of power, manipulative, and robbing voters of their right to be appropriately represented.
10/20/25 9:18 PM	Mr David Fogarty		I strongly oppose further gerrymandering of North Carolina's voting districts, especially when redistricting has already been done since the last census. A vote for this measure demonstrates that a member cares more about maintaining power than representing their constituents.
10/20/25 9:18 PM	Dr. Leigh Alford-Keith		These maps are atrocious! Gerrymandering at its worst,Äî with Ill-intent and no consideration to representing local perspectives! Redraw fair maps now! Move to independent districting to ensure fairness. This is gross malfeasance!
10/20/25 9:19 PM	Ms Gale Carrwe		This is downright wrong and you know it...it's propaganda is not great for this state...This so wrong....antics like this is why a cap should be in place for these Career Politicians ...they get nothing done...a cap of eight years should be the limit...Because, from where I sit, you're doing nothing for the State or Country..only lining your pockets..Redrawing the line is cheating. JUST DO THE RIGHT THING
10/20/25 9:19 PM	Mr. Clarke Poole		PLEASE! We need fair districting. This is a purple state and our voting maps must reflect that. This should be standard procedure regardless of which party is in power.
10/20/25 9:19 PM	Dr Nancy Henley		North Carolina is a purple state, and the proposed map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù Find your moral courage and make the playing field even again. Stop the partisan gerrymander.
10/20/25 9:19 PM	Helen Broome		I am totally against any redistricting efforts. This state is already so gerrymandered that it really doesn't meet the standards for being considered a democracy so please do not make it even worse.
10/20/25 9:20 PM	L. Lesesne		It,Äôs time to do something reasonable and decent. Stop manipulating the redistricting for purely political reasons. Do the right thing!
10/20/25 9:21 PM	Ma Laura Moore		I keep thinking you will come to your senses and see how wrong this rushed and secretive Redistricting plan is for our state. District lines should be drawn by population not politics. All NC citizens deserve a voice!
10/20/25 9:23 PM	Mrs. Kathleen Brooks		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù

10/20/25 9:23 PM	We are better than this Ian Massey	I'm sure Jesus is going to be so happy when you say, "I managed to get more 'Christians' into Congress by lying and cheating just like the Democrats in Illinois and California! Aren't you proud??" You should all be ashamed, but you apparently stopped believing in shame and the principles of truly representative goverent when told to do so by big daddy strongman Trump. Two wrongs don't make a right. Now I have to tell my children that NC lost its way just like everywhere else.
10/20/25 9:24 PM	Linda Flynn	By continuing to further Gerrymander NC, you are giving MORE of an unfair advantage to the NC Republican Party - it is already unfair & you,Äôve been cheating the vote since 2010, but that,Äôs not enough, you have to cheat more, and disenfranchise the black & poor of North Carolina. Please stop this cheating!
10/20/25 9:24 PM	Allison Hood	As a resident of North Carolina, I am writing to express my opposition to the proposed redistricting. I am concerned about the lack of public notice. Maps were revealed last Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. Why is this a priority when we don't an operating budget? Instead of focusing on this demand from Trump, please focus your energy and efforts on passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. Please prioritize the people of North Carolina, not just what Trump tells you to do.
10/20/25 9:25 PM	Weston Hersey	This is blatant gerrymandering. If you are confident enough in your policies and actually believe in the power and will of the people, then you will create district lines that let voters choose their representatives, not the other way around.
10/20/25 9:25 PM	Mr. W White	I am opposed to redistricting in NC. As a resident of NC I am entitled to fair representation. What you all are doing is uncontontiable and down right cheating. If you weren't afraid of people voting, you wouldn't change anything.
10/20/25 9:26 PM	Audrey Christiansen	The people of North Carolina deserve to have their vote matter. By the extreme gerrymandering that the Republicans are planning, the majority of the people in this wonderful state will not be represented by legislators who care about their interests. Do NOT gerrymander our state! We do not want to be like Texas!!!
10/20/25 9:28 PM	Jason Becker	The redrawing of political maps should be done by an unbiased third party and in a fashion where the public has been given adequate notice and time to voice their approval or disapproval. What this body is attempting to do over the course of a weekend flies in the face of American,Äôs right to a free and fair election. Those who are pushing this map forward are avoiding accountability from the exact people they,Äôre disenfranchising. You, as an elected official, are to serve the entire electorate in your jurisdiction not just those who voted for you and most certainly not some power hungry leader whose policies jeopardize your ability to get re-elected or maintain power. Show the people of North Carolina that you have courage and principles. That you will fight the hard fight and win votes not by taking them away from people or minimizing their effectiveness but by winning the minds of the electorate with convincing arguments, with great policies that show compromise and benefit ALL North Carolinians. Do not push this biased redistricting map forward! Show us that you are better than the politics of the day!
10/20/25 9:28 PM	Dr Nancee Neel	I am adamantly against the drawing of new maps. There is no reason to redistrict.
10/20/25 9:29 PM	Dzheni Dilcheva	The proposed maps are not representative and undermine the democratic process of our state.
10/20/25 9:30 PM	Jack Hicks	The proposed (further gerrymandered) map is NOT something the voters in NC are assking for, and does NOT represent the will of a majority of the voters in this state. Despite the misrepresentations of Berger and Hall, Trump did NOT win a mandate in NC -- we are a 50/50 state, and the GOP's ploy to rig the maps to result in an 11-3 split is an egregious overreach. When will the GOP start representing the will, and interests, of ALL North Carolinians, rather than subjugating themselves to Trump's request in a pathetic attempt to retain power? This is really disgusting. Someday the tables will turn, and all the authority the GOP has stripped from the governor's office, and all the power they have shifted to the legislature, will be back in Democratic hands. We're counting the days . . . .
10/20/25 9:31 PM	Mackenzie DeNardis	Redistricting right now is so clearly a violation of your constituents,Äô rights. This is a desperate, despicable move to tip the scales toward Republican favor because you,Äôre scared to death that you,Äôll be losing your job soon. We see what you,Äôre doing. The whole country is watching you and the world is watching. Your decisions make it embarrassing to be an American right now. Leave the maps alone-or better yet, redraw them to ACTUALLY give us fair representation. Disgusting.
10/20/25 9:31 PM	Mrs. Suzan Scribner-Reed	I completely oppose the redistricting map proposal for North Carolina. I strongly ask you to vote no to redistricting.
10/20/25 9:31 PM	Tommy Penick	The proposed redistricting is absolutely a political ploy to keep one party in power, and silo the voices of North Carolinians. If the party is so worried about votes, perhaps they should change policies to cater to the people they,Äôre trying to silence!
10/20/25 9:32 PM	Ms Ericka Hines	This palm to do more redistricting for the state of north carols in is not only a waste of time but also illustrates his little thr epublican legislature cares about the issues in this state . We don,Äôt have a budget , we are probably going to lose Medicaid expansion , we still have one of thr lowest minimum wages , and this is how your time is prioritized. Shameful .

10/20/25 9:32 PM	Piper Fairbanks		Without FAIR MAPS, we are NOT a DEMOCRACY !!!
10/20/25 9:32 PM	Dr. Kevin Streich		This redistricting is a shameful attempt by NC Republican legislators to hold onto power and to kowtow to King Trump,Äôs wishes by disenfranchising Democratic voters. If you care at all about fairness and about the integrity of our democracy, do NOT do this.
10/20/25 9:33 PM	Patti Anderson		Stop this gerrymandering. It's should not be done at this time. Wasn't a time setup that it was allowed and this is not it.
10/20/25 9:33 PM	virginia Connett		Are you aware of the fact that 84% of North Carolinians are AGAINST GERRYMANDERING. Who are you representing? Do not attempt to orchestrate outcome by changing the rules. Please pay attention to to your constituents who voted for you and support democracy rather than a dictatorship.
10/20/25 9:34 PM	Stop Gerrymandering Tania Grant		Do not undermine our democracy by changing voting maps to undermine voters.
10/20/25 9:34 PM	Sir Charles Keeling	Fair Elections NC	North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 9:34 PM	Kathy Eusepi		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising.
10/20/25 9:35 PM	Alishia Graham		We demand fair representation! Stop suckling at Trump's teets and do your job. Your job is to represent the people of North Carolina, not play jester for your wanna be king.
10/20/25 9:35 PM	Mr Gary Wilson		It,Äôs just wrong
10/20/25 9:35 PM	Janet Carnagua		Redrawing NC,Äô,Äôs Congressional maps under current political environment and current administration is WRONG!! Most importantly it is not a democratic process.
10/20/25 9:37 PM	Karri Mille		This blatant partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. Voters on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives and not the other way around. There are more important items for the legislature to tackle that directly impact daily lives of residents of NC.
10/20/25 9:37 PM	Sue Goodman		To the Republican-controlled legislature: you are proving that you,Äôre scared,Äîscared to let the people of NC choose freely and fairly. An 11 to 3 map is pure thievery but you know cheating is your only chance to stay in control. Shame on you!
10/20/25 9:38 PM	Johanna Teachman		84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.
10/20/25 9:38 PM	beth anderson	self	The new redstrictling plan for NC DOES not represent the people of NC. It is blatantly rigged. The legislators know this, but do they know the people of NC know it too? Needless to say, I am not in favor of this plan. I will remember this and vote accocrdingly. Of course - you are thinking it doesn't matter, because you have secured that my vote does not count.
10/20/25 9:38 PM	Mrs Andrea Rosewall		North Carolinians across party lines oppose the attempts by the legislature to gerrymander voting maps. This steals seats from duly elected officials and overrides the will of the people. The proposed district plan hurts North Carolina. We want FAIR voting maps.
10/20/25 9:39 PM	Lindsay Taylor		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. Integrity is essential to the health of our democracy. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 9:39 PM	Maggie Bokelman		I,Äôm deeply frustrated by the complete lack of public notice. The redistricting maps were released on Thursday, and voting began just days later. It,Äôs obvious to everyone that Republicans are rushing this process to dodge accountability from the very people they,Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina is a purple state, yet this map is anything but. Creating an 11,Äì3 split in a state that consistently votes about 50,Äì50 is blatant political theft. Roughly half of North Carolinians support Democrats and half support Republicans ,Äî an 11,Äì3 map is an insult to the idea of a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/20/25 9:39 PM	Pamela Groben Tomberg		I strongly oppose racial and partisan gerrymandering. Fair elections are one of the pillars of democracy.
10/20/25 9:40 PM	Ms Cynthia Rice		I am unequivocally opposed to the proposed redistricting of our state. Like 84% of North Carolina voters, I believe strongly in the right of US citizens to a free, fair election process. Each citizen,Äôs vote deserves to be counted fairly, and the legislation before the NCGA completely eliminates that possibility statewide. An 11,Äì3 map in a state that with an equal representation of Republican and Democratic voters is blatant vote-stealing, and this rushed attempt to push through abhorrently unfair legislation underscores the NCGA,Äôs understanding of that. Those backing the legislation are fully aware of the massive public backlash that would ensue if proper notice were given to North Carolina constituents. Shame on you, NCGA. Our citizens deserve far better than this.
10/20/25 9:40 PM	Spring Jackson		To the Redistrict Committee, Please hear my citizen request statement : I strongly oppose the plan for another redrawing of the districts. This act is an overreach of power by the Republican representatives. As a reminder, The congressional redistrict committee already worked extremely hard resulting in a fair and balanced districts in 2023 . Why would we need to redo all the work again? The voters of North Carolina , expect the Representatives to lead with integrity.

10/20/25 9:41 PM	Bree Hendrick		Dear Legislators, Please stop. This isn,Äôt governing. This isn,Äôt patriotic or even ‚Äúconservative.‚Äù It certainly isn,Äôt representation. It,Äôs closing in on authoritarianism. I grew up a strong supporter of the GOP believing more government control was a bad thing. Ironically, you say that,Äôs what you believe while doing the exact opposite. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. Please stop. Govern. Try to win and maintain your seats through fair competition of ideas, platforms, policies and democracy.
10/20/25 9:41 PM	Ann Dornblazer		Republicans are rushing the process of redistricting because they know that the vast majority of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is reprehensible. North Carolina is a purple state and an 11-3 map in a 50-50 state is unmitigated political theft.
10/20/25 9:41 PM	Mr. Kenneth Gay	U.S. Citizen	This is a blatant steal!. You work for us! Not the other way around. You are not supposed to "Shop" for votes. You are supposed to EARN THEM!!! Stop gerrymandering of all types! Let the people have their voice!
10/20/25 9:41 PM	Antoine Gremaud		I do not support this redistricting effort prior to the 2026 midterms. North Carolinians do not support gerrymandering. Your duty is to the citizens of our state, not your party leadership.
10/20/25 9:42 PM	N Malone		I have read and reviewed all that I can about the proposed redistricting, and feel that it is unfair to North Carolinians to change the maps at this time. These maps should be drawn in a nonpartisan manner. Otherwise, it,Äôs just cheating the people of this state of their vote.
10/20/25 9:43 PM	Michael Kiernan		The redistricting as proposed serves to take away the voices of a large number of North Carolinians. Either we are ‚Äúall created equal,Äù or we are not. Redistricting is just another word for disenfranchising.
10/20/25 9:44 PM	Jeannine Wynne		I feel this mid-decade gerrymandering is a power grab. It,Äôs sad that one party feels that they can,Äôt win on principles and platforms that they have to suppress and steal votes. It,Äôs coming across as an Authoritarian decree and ignoring the rights of voters to choose THEIR representatives.
10/20/25 9:45 PM	Elizabeth Byrd		Remember that you represent the PEOPLE of North Carolina, not yourself or the President. Your vote on redistricting and further gerrymandering in OUR state should reflect this. Only you can vote your conscience and only you must live with yourself after your vote.
10/20/25 9:45 PM	Robin Viviano		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising.
10/20/25 9:46 PM	People Laura Simson		We want leaders who represent us, not the will of the authoritarian government. This gerrymandering is stealing our rights, freedoms, money, and is just plain stressing us out!! We want to know that our vote matters!
10/20/25 9:46 PM	Carolyn Collins		Please reject this bill as unnecessary and unfair.
10/20/25 9:47 PM	Denise Rodriguez		Please preserve our democracy. Redrawing boundary lines to allow one party to receive more votes is wrong and unAmerican.
10/20/25 9:47 PM	Mrs. Brian Kivett		True patriots trust the process over the demands of an autocrat. I do not support the redistricting in order to obtain a particular outcome. I am a proud Republican who is greatly concerned about the current political situation. Stand up for all North Carolinians by choosing our Constitution.

10/20/25 9:47 PM	David Washington		I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed congressional map currently under consideration by the North Carolina General Assembly (NCGA). I stand with the League of Women Voters NC and others who believe this mid-cycle redistricting is an unwarranted abuse of legislative power. My opposition is based on the following concerns: Undermining Voter Confidence: Redrawing district lines between census years serves no purpose other than to secure partisan advantage. This maneuver undermines the public's confidence in the fairness and stability of our democratic processes. Partisan Gerrymandering: The proposed map appears to be a clear attempt at partisan gerrymandering. These changes will silence communities, dilute the voices of many voters, and lead to an unrepresentative government that does not accurately reflect the political makeup of North Carolina. Instability of Democracy: Mid-cycle changes inject unnecessary instability into our political system. Legislators should focus on governance, not on manipulating electoral boundaries for political gain. I urge the members of the NCGA to reject the proposed congressional map and to prioritize the creation of truly Fair Maps that serve the voters of North Carolina, not just one political party.
10/20/25 9:47 PM	Pauline Leveille		Democracy is about all people having a voice. Redistricting for political gain is gerrymandering, excluding rights of the people for political gain. This needs to stop!
10/20/25 9:48 PM	Stop this insanity Laura Simson		Our children will not forgive you for stealing their future. Let our voices be heard.
10/20/25 9:48 PM	Ms Debra Miller		As a 67 year old woman who is a republican, I‚Äôve never been so ashamed by our current republican representatives. I wish you would all get your noses out of Trumps butt and do the job you are supposed to be doing for the people of NC. This redistributing is not about what is good for NC!!! It‚Äôs about bowing down to Trump and his insanity. Keep kissing it and I‚Äôll keep NOT voting republican!!!
10/20/25 9:48 PM	Ms Janet Tu		I was hoping jerrymandering would stop. This redistricting is manipulative rather than representative. Sometimes democracies suck. But they are better than authoritarianism. Please do not bow the knee to a would be king. George Washington fought to free us from a monarchy. He stepped down though some requested he stay as the US leader. History looks back and smiles on his decision and integrity. History will not look back and smile on blatantly partisan jerrymandering used to repress a large portion of NC's population.
10/20/25 9:49 PM	Mrs Susan Bonville		I oppose this plan and call to end gerrymandering. I support fair maps!
10/20/25 9:49 PM	Mrs. Phyllis Bertke		Voting districts should be evenly balanced in our purple state.
10/20/25 9:50 PM	Mrs Linda Minor		It is dishonest to alter the district maps mid decade in order to try to swing a district for the whim of a bullying president. Fairness needs to reign supreme.
10/20/25 9:51 PM	Ms. Lesley Heiser	None	I am very concerned about preserving true democracy across our state and nation. Please preserve the integrity of our precious voting system. Please do not politicize or weaponize the right to vote. Since there is empirically little voter fraud, please understand the difficult lives of elderly, disabled, and low income people and please do not make it more difficult for them to vote. Thank you for you work.
10/20/25 9:51 PM	Katherine Boeskin		I am an unaffiliated voter. I want my vote to count. I do not want my vote to be insignificant with gerrymandering.
10/20/25 9:52 PM	Kevin Turner		You chickenshit republipukes can only win by cheating, and you know it because you're really shitty disgraceful humans. Stop being so scared, it's bad enough that you're traitors, but also a bunch of sissy boy whiners who can't even do this in general order.
10/20/25 9:52 PM	Laura Cahill Harkrider		I am against the proposed redistricting plans in North Carolina.
10/20/25 9:53 PM	Mary Stanley		You cannot pass a budget but you can jump when Trump demands gerrymandering in such an unfair way. Your constituents are of both parties. We need equal and fair districts. Please do not pass such unfair lines marking our election districts. North Carolina deserves your attention,Âînot Trump and his selfish whims-most of which disregard Constitutional Rights.
10/20/25 9:53 PM	Dr Jess Lewis		Your proposal is nothing more than voter suppression. Stop it.
10/20/25 9:54 PM	Skyler Russell-Nguyen		I am opposed to the partisan redistricting of North Carolina,Äôs congressional maps, which would have a disproportionate impact on the representation of marginalized communities in our state. I urge our General Assembly to reject these partisan maps and protect fair elections.
10/20/25 9:54 PM	Dr Amelia Washburn		The proposed redistricting is absolutely antithetical to the very idea of democracy and democratic process. I strongly urge all legislators to remember their oaths, remember the people they purport to serve, and vote no.

10/20/25 9:54 PM	Jean Berrier-Tate	private citizen	I would like to express my strong opposition to the North Carolina General Assembly,Äôs ongoing attempts to redraw voting districts. North Carolina is already one of the most gerrymandered states in the nation, and past maps have been repeatedly struck down by state and federal courts for unconstitutional partisan and racial gerrymandering. The legislature,Äôs ongoing manipulation of district lines continues to undermine the will of the people. Our state,Äôs population is politically and demographically diverse, yet the existing maps heavily favor one party and do not reflect that reality. This imbalance erodes public trust, discourages voter participation, and weakens the foundations of representative democracy. I urge legislators to stop the cycle of partisan redistricting and instead adopt transparent, nonpartisan redistricting practices that prioritize communities of interest, preserve geographic integrity, and ensure that every North Carolinian,Äôs vote carries equal weight. Our democracy should allow voters to choose their representatives ,Äî not the other way around.
10/20/25 9:55 PM	Sarah Waugh		This redistricting is not fair and was rushed through to try to prevent the people of North Carolina from voicing our disapproval. It would be unfairly unbalanced and should not be approved.
10/20/25 9:55 PM	Mrs Carol Muth	Freelance Talent	As a North Carolinian, I do not want you to redistrict and further weaken the votes of many citizens. Our maps are already unfair and will dilute the will of the voters, as NC is a 50/50 state. More redistricting is UnAmerican, unconstitutional, likely racist and just flat out wrong. Please do your jobs as our representatives and do no redistrict for the fifth time in 6 years. Oh, and do your actual jobs and pass a state budget with raises for teachers.
10/20/25 9:55 PM	Ms Robyn Taylor		There is no need to further gerrymander the voting maps! You have no right to pick your voters! If you can,Äôt win on your own merits, then obviously you shouldn,Äôt be there! We The People demand that you leave the maps alone. They are already unfair!
10/20/25 9:55 PM	Vote No! Nakena Reich		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 9:56 PM	Ms Kathleen Wigder	Citizen of NC USA	I oppose redistricting to Break up a district to support one party over another at the request of the President. Any future redistricting should be at the vote of we the people.
10/20/25 9:56 PM	Stop Gerrymandering Rachel York		Partisan gerrymandering needs to stop. Maps should be drawn by independent commissions, otherwise they are biased, racist, and repressive. Redrawing maps at the whim of the president is anti-democratic; it is taxation without representation; it is flagrantly corrupt.
10/20/25 9:56 PM	Teri Dane		I DO NOT SUPPORT the redistricting North Carolina's Congressional maps! This is an abuse of power by the Republican Party! Congressional districts are determined after a decadal Census result and should be based on population, not any other metric. The Republicans are stealling votes because they do not have policies that are popular and beneficial to the people in North Carolina, especially in rural eastern North Carolina! Instead of State House and Senate Reps working to pass a budget, they are worried about the Federal midterms next year and how many Republican seats they will lose. North Carolina is not a purple/red state. It is a RIGGED state because of the Republicans!
10/20/25 9:56 PM	Mr. Robert Cherry		Isn,Äôt it time for fair redistricting? North Carolina is a purple state. It,Äôs not right to gerrymander the districts just to overwhelm the desires of NC voters. Elections should be fair and give report all citizens.
10/20/25 9:56 PM	Nell Bovender		It is clear Donald Trump matters more than the constituents you pledged to serve. This decision is immoral.
10/20/25 9:57 PM	Barry Smith	Private citizen	I urge the state legislature to refrain from any further redistricting. This is an undisguised and indefensible abuse of power that cannot be justified. Where are the principles that you purport to hold dear? Where is the moral justification? Are you so convinced of the righteousness of your cause that you are willing to forsake your duty to properly represent the interests of all the people of North Carolina and instead do the bidding of a authoritarian despot who is urgently attempting to consolidate his power? Why are you so scared of him? Do you think he won't sell you out in a minute if it suits his interests? Please vote no on any redistricting attempts!
10/20/25 9:57 PM	Dr Yvonne Wasilewski	Citizen	As a 30 year resident of the state of North Carolina, I am writing this comment to indicate my extreme disapproval of any attempt to further gerrymander voting districts in the state. This is essentially cheating and should be against the wall. I hope every citizen in the state rises up against the attempt to do this. Sincerely Yvonne Wasilewski 10 1 Butternut Drive Chapel Hill, NC 27514
10/20/25 9:57 PM	Ellyn Steidl		I strongly oppose the plans to redrawn North Carolina congressional districts. These maps were introduced in direct response to President Trump's request that states find ways to secure additional seats for Republicans. North Carolina lawmakers are answerable to North Carolina residents, not the President, and North Carolinians do not want or need redistricting. Additionally, these maps target a predominately black district. I feel the decision to redraw these maps is racist and disenfranchises Black North Carolinians from having representation.
10/20/25 9:57 PM	Susan Lambert	Democrat	I strongly oppose any redistricting of the state for political gain as opposed to a true and honest representation of the state's real demographic population for a fair vote.

10/20/25 9:57 PM	Anthony Duplessis		Redistricting the maps to appease an overwhelming disappointing and treasonous president is in itself treason. Your constituents do not want this. You will be unseated in the next election no matter the gerrymandering.
10/20/25 9:58 PM	Dr. John W. Sanders, MD, MPH	Wilmington NC	North Carolina is a bipartisan state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/20/25 9:59 PM	Rebecca McElroy		North Carolina is a purple state, but this map is completely UN-American: it is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election,Äù. It is, in fact, a joke.
10/20/25 10:01 PM	Erin Richardson		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 10:03 PM	Ms Karen Westmoreland		no to redrawing the lines and it needs more investigation.
10/20/25 10:03 PM	Sarah Hodges		Voters are supposed to choose their representatives, not the other way around. Stop this redistricting power grab.
10/20/25 10:03 PM	Kelly Miller		As a life-long republican, I find this so disappointing. No one should have to cheat to win.
10/20/25 10:04 PM	Mrs Joan Shiley		NC Congress, 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. Joan Shikey
10/20/25 10:05 PM	Mrs Cynthia ONeil		We need a free and fair election WITHOUT voter suppression & redistricting.
10/20/25 10:05 PM	Ms Joni Torres		This is highly illegal and deprives Black people from being represented. It also demonstrates that the Republican party can only win elections by cheating and no longer feels the need to pretend otherwise. Shame on you all. Hopefully enough fairminded Republican voters will vote these politicians out of office in 2026.
10/20/25 10:05 PM	Rosemary Tatum		I am writing to express my strong opposition to the newly proposed congressional map advanced by the North Carolina Legislature, which seeks to redraw the state‚Äôs 1st Congressional District in a manner designed to flip a Democratic-held seat for the GOP. This map raises serious problems for the fairness, integrity, and representativeness of our democracy. Key objections: 1.Partisan advantage over public interest The plan is explicitly designed to give one party a stronger advantage ‚Äî the article quotes Senator Hise: ‚Äúthe motivation behind this redraw is simple and singular‚Äî¬ Republicans hold a razor-thin margin in the United States House.‚Äù Redistricting should serve the public interest, communities of interest, and fair representation ‚Äî not be used as a tool for partisan power grabs. 2.Competitive seat reduced, voters treated as means to an end The 1st District is currently rated a ‚Äútoss-up‚Äù district by the Cook Political Report. Under the proposed map, it appears the district would become unwinnable for a Democrat ‚Äî effectively eliminating meaningful competition. When a map is drawn to predetermine an outcome, voters lose their power to choose freely. 3.Risk of diluting minority and rural voices The district in question has a long history of electing Black representatives, and many of the counties proposed to be moved out of the district are part of the ‚Äúblack Belt‚Äù region. Critics argue that the plan ‚Äúsilences rural Black voices‚Äù and ‚Äúundermines the Black electorate.‚Äù That raises serious concerns about whether this map could violate the Constitution (Equal Protection) and federal law (e.g., the Voting Rights Act) by diluting the voting power of historically under-represented communities. 4.Erodes public trust and democratic legitimacy The map was advanced along strict party-line votes, with little meaningful public input recorded and vocal opposition from many attendees. When redistricting is perceived as rigged, citizens become cynical and disengaged ‚Äî weakening our civic fabric and undermining faith in government. 5.Mid-decade redistricting for political expediency While courts have sometimes required map changes, this appears to be a mid-cycle redrawing with explicit intent to favor one party ‚Äôs

10/20/25 10:06 PM	Daniel Yaussy	I adamantly oppose the efforts to redraw the state's congressional maps! These maps were just redrawn in 2023 and heavily gerrymandered. There is no valid or credible reason to redraw them so soon. The only reason would be to purposefully and maliciously disenfranchise certain voters in a way that's benefits a select few and further misrepresents the political views of NC residents. Recent polling in North Carolina shows overwhelming bipartisan opposition to gerrymandering and the redrawing of district lines in 2023 and in 2025. May I remind you that you DO NOT work for the President of the United States or his administration but for the people of North Carolina. This initiative that you are proposing is highly unpopular with NC residents, it is not in the best interest of our state, and it undermines the democratic principles of our nation and the ability to hold free and fair elections.
10/20/25 10:08 PM	Dr Michelle Karaffa	As a North Carolinian for most of my life and a true believer in free and fair elections, I‚Äôm completely disheartened by this action. NC is a 50/50 state. Math tells me that 11/3 is not 50/50. Do right by the people you claim to represent.
10/20/25 10:10 PM	Malachi Gasaway	I am against this redistricting proposal. This is purely motivated by political power and not based in fairness to voters.
10/20/25 10:10 PM	Jane York	Please oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina's congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around.
10/20/25 10:10 PM	Zoe Brannon	Opposition to the Proposed Congressional Redistricting Plan Dear Members of the House Select Committee on Redistricting and the Senate Elections Committee, I am writing as a resident of Raleigh in Wake County to express my strong opposition to the proposed Congressional redistricting plan. The new map does not fairly represent the people of our growing and diverse community. Wake County is one of the most populous and dynamic areas in North Carolina, with residents from all backgrounds who share common interests in strong public education, accessible transportation, and sustainable economic growth. The proposed plan divides our community in ways that weaken our collective voice and diminish our ability to elect representatives who truly understand and reflect our local priorities. Redistricting should not be used as a tool to entrench partisan power. Instead, it should respect county lines, keep communities of interest intact, and ensure that every voter‚Äôs voice counts equally. This proposal appears to do the opposite,‚Äîit fragments Wake County and undermines the principles of fair and competitive elections. I urge the committees to reject this map and to adopt a redistricting process that is transparent, nonpartisan, and rooted in fairness. The people of Raleigh and Wake County deserve representation that reflects us,‚Äînot one manipulated for political gain. Thank you for considering my comments and for your commitment to democratic integrity in North Carolina. Sincerely, Zoe Brannon Raleigh, NC

10/20/25 10:11 PM	Yvonne Washburn		I'm a 72-year old woman from Rockingham County, a ruby red county, represented by Phil Berger. I started my adult life as a Republican, then at age 55 when I saw how the party only cared about holding on to power, not working for the people and protecting our democracy, I changed my registration to Democrat. I cannot imagine this blatant effort to rig the elections in order to protect a President who ignores our Constitution and checks and balances, will help the Republican Party in the long¬†run. It is clear that you all do not care about the consequences in the long run because if you did you would not be using your power to cheat in broad daylight instead of actually doing work for the people, like passing a state budget. Since you don't have winning ideas I guess you have decided to resort to cheating. But you should not assume that'll be a winning strategy.¬† Over the next year, I'll be supporting efforts to register new voters. I'll also canvass voters to support Democrats on the¬†ballot. I'll make sure they understand that every Republican who supports this gerrymandered map chose to cheat instead of work for North¬†Carolinians. Last year when I canvassed for Democrats in the 2024 cycle, the majority of the voters I visited were registered as Unaffiliated. They made it crystal clear they were tired of the games Republicans have been playing. That's why you saw Democrats win in statewide races. Thanks for making me spend my golden years as an activist. I should be resting, but how can I, with people lacking moral clarity in power? I wish you'd do some reflection and choose to do the honest thing. But I won't hold my breath.¬†
10/20/25 10:11 PM	Lori Shakespeare		NO to GOP rigged maps!
10/20/25 10:12 PM	Elizabeth Hammond		Please don‚Äôt gerrymander our state. It‚Äôs not right. The people of NC should have the chance to vote equally and fairly for the reps that we want. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11‚Ä3 map in a 50‚Ài50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Ä
10/20/25 10:13 PM	Elliana Alexander		One person, one vote. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. Remember that what you do in one party's favor today sets up precedent that could be used against that same party the next day. Let's put an end to the bitter partisanship that is dividing us and prioritize the health of our democracy above all else. We don't have to bend to Washington's knee here in North Carolina.
10/20/25 10:13 PM	Marisa Lundberg		No more gerrymandering!! NC is already the most gerrymandered state in the US. Stop trying to take away the actual voice of the people.
10/20/25 10:13 PM	Do not rig our Congress Isaac Lake	Citizen	Do not rig our Congressional elections! You know if you do this that you were doing it because you realize that a free, fair election is one that you would lose. If you do this, you are cowards.
10/20/25 10:13 PM	Mrs Kristen Davis		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 10:15 PM	Sally Hinson Sally Hinson		Absolutely do not.
10/20/25 10:16 PM	Courtney Bippley		Mid decade redistricting is anti-democratic, cowardly, and authoritarian. There is no universe where this redistricting is remotely reasonable. North Carolina should not bend over for the Trump regime and call him daddy. Do not redistrict in 2025. Have some respect for our state and yourselves instead.
10/20/25 10:17 PM	Ms. Laura Aiken	Aelf	North Carolina is a purple state and this map is ludicrous. An 11-3 map in a 50/50 state is political theft. An 11-3 map is a mockery of NC voters‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair,‚Ä election. Donald Trump does not care about you or North Carolinians and he is ruining the economy. Do your job and pass a budget to fund salaries for teachers, law enforcement and fund Medicaid!
10/20/25 10:17 PM	Ms Mellanie Cromwell		Keep it fair keep it real.
10/20/25 10:18 PM	Darcy Norton		If you have to cheat in order to win, then apparently you don‚Äôt have a very good message. STOP the steal!!!
10/20/25 10:19 PM	Ms. Michelle Terry		I am against any redistricting.
10/20/25 10:20 PM	Frank Reiner		Pedo loving cowards
10/20/25 10:20 PM	Mr Derek Noble		The vote is split equally in North Carolina, yet Republicans are over represented in both the house and the Senate. Adding additional republican seats will make it worse. It is time to end the gerrymandering and voter purges, and return fair voting to both chambers.
10/20/25 10:21 PM	Hannah Watts		Please reject this proposed redistricting plan. Gerrymandering for partisan advantage erodes public trust and denies fair representation to North Carolina voters - especially when our electorate is nearly evenly divided by party. We deserve districts that reflect our communities, not political interests.
10/20/25 10:21 PM	Susan Sept		Redrawing the lines out of cycle to silence the voices of some of the people of NC is not what Democracy looks like. You are elected officials with the power to do good and serve all the people of NC - let‚Äôs see it!
10/20/25 10:23 PM	OPPOSED to redistricting Kallen Terry		I am strongly opposed to redistricting. The vast majority of NC citizens, including me, do NOT want redistricting. It's a rushed process to take away fair elections by reducing voting power of those the people in office are supposed to represent. As a NC citizen, I oppose redistricting/gerrymandering wholeheartedly.
10/20/25 10:23 PM	Mrs Molly Moore		I oppose redistricting to gain maximum partisan advantage. NC voters should be able to choose their politicians, the politicians shouldn't be able to choose their voters.
10/20/25 10:23 PM	Ashley Hoffman		This is unconscionable. This state is as purple as they come and the districts are already divided super unfairly. It is a cheating power grab and means that half of this state won‚Äôt have a shot in the dark of getting their preferences met.

10/20/25 10:25 PM	Vicki Shafer	None	This map does NOT represent of the people FOR the people BY the people! It leaves out a huge amount of people and ignores democracy!
10/20/25 10:25 PM	Opposing gerrymandering Alyssa Bell		As a concerned citizen of North Carolina, I am writing to voice opposition to the ongoing gerrymandering efforts that aim to subvert the will of the electorate for their own political advantage. In these gerrymandered districts, the powerful politicians win and the voters lose. They lose their voice, their power, and the foundation of the representative democracy we have been raised to defend. Gerrymandering is not a partisan problem. It is a voter problem. When politicians manipulate district lines to protect themselves or disadvantage their opponents, the People are left without full representation. When competitive elections disappear, individual citizens are denied the most basic promise of our democracy, that every vote counts equally.
10/20/25 10:26 PM	De. John Botti	John Botti, MD	The people of North Carolina still have the integrity, fortitude and foresight to challenge any change in NC redistricting that denies (most people call it cheat) the will of the citizens who voted fairly for fair representation. Your actions to deny the will of the people is counter to the vision and will of founding patriots of our nation.
10/20/25 10:26 PM	Cathi Below		There is no logical reason to do this. I resent the majority party choosing who we can vote for. I do not support this version of district maps.
10/20/25 10:27 PM	Rachael Coe		Republicans, how dare you steal these votes? Our state is already politically gerrymandered to kingdom come. I have been in a different congressional district every election cycle since moving here in 2018. There are 3 federal congressional districts within a two mile radius of my home. It‚Äôs ridiculous, shameful, and downright deplorable to do this yet again. Please do not take our representation away! Voters pick their representatives, not the other way around. Nobody wants this.
10/20/25 10:27 PM	Katherine Everett		North Carolina is a purple state. Our Congressional representation should reflect that. Gerrymandering at the request of Trump is putting him over the people of North Carolina. It is unconscionable.
10/20/25 10:27 PM	Suzanne Bio		Redrawing the congressional maps is cheating and totally unfair to the citizens of North Carolina! I completely disagree agree with this as do the majority of North Carolina citizens.
10/20/25 10:28 PM	Elizabeth Morrison		I am adamantly opposed to gerrymandering to disenfranchise voters in order to hoard power for the president and the Republican Party. Shameful.
10/20/25 10:29 PM	Dr Renu Goel		Il am strongly against the redustrixting of our state for political gwrrymand. The fine people of our state deserve to be fairly and appropriately represented. This is a travesty of democracy.
10/20/25 10:30 PM	Aaron Honeycutt		I am opposed to the new gerrymandered map.
10/20/25 10:31 PM	Marcia Hasie-Daniels		The division of the map seems disproportionate. I would like to see an explanation of of the divisions and the grouping of the counties. If it is simply political then you are doing a disservice to the people of North Carolina and not allowing them to vote in a fair election. Once elected you should sure the needs of all the residents of the state.
10/20/25 10:32 PM	Virginia Hastings		I am totally against this action, which is being taken by GOP leaders under orders of Donald Trump in an effort to shield him from accountability for his costly and chaotic agenda and to earn a presidential endorsement of their failed leadership. Meanwhile they haven't even passed a state budget this year or done anything to close the funding gap for Medicaid or food assistance benefits. STOP CHEATING!
10/20/25 10:34 PM	Mr John Nauman		A travesty against democracy. An embarassment to North Carolina. You design the district because ypu cant win otherwise. Do not redistrict
10/20/25 10:35 PM	Cheryl Blackwelder		I am opposed to redrawing our state‚Äôs district lines for the U.S. House of Representatives. Please vote NO on redistricting.
10/20/25 10:35 PM	Ms. Myra Johansen		The Legislature needs to PASS A BUDGET instead of pandering to a Pedophile president‚Äôs demands!!!!!
10/20/25 10:36 PM	James Miller	None	Not surprising! With the current leadership and Trump supporters in our State, as well as current Speaker of the House, local resident of of Kings Mountain!
10/20/25 10:37 PM	Juliska Friend		I believe it is very wrong to change the voting districts, especially outside the standard 10 year census cycle. North Carolina needs to be represented by a fair delegation. Gerrymandering will not provide fair representation. Stop this madness!
10/20/25 10:39 PM	Beth Taylor	Retired	Profoundly disappointed. Something is lost in the Old North State in your doing this. Republicans will likely hold 80% of the seats in a 49/51 state. Speechless at the lack of character and wisdom you guys are exercising. These are not the days when children can look up to leaders in NC.
10/20/25 10:39 PM	Emily Thomas		Please don't.
10/20/25 10:40 PM	Doctor Philip Cohen		Redistricting is an abuse of what the intent of democracy looks like
10/20/25 10:40 PM	Mr Cameron Conover		Stealing power from our votes by manipulating district lines is disgusting. It's offensive to the majority of North Carolinians, and I will happily introduce you to the shame you should feel doing it. Your overlord has made it clear that all he covets is power and wealth, he's got zero interest in advancing the will of the people. This government is supposed to be for the people, by the people, of the people and you are perverting that into government for the corporations, by the billionaires, of the sycophants. Find your morality or go home.

10/20/25 10:41 PM	Erskine Alvis	Ladies and Gentlemen of the North Carolina House of Representatives: The proposed legislation to discriminate against our fellow Americans that the current President of the United States wants you to pass is horrible. I can think of no fewer finer betrayals of our fellow Americans than to discount their rights to vote. For those of you in the majority party, your use of racism, xenophobia, cowardness, and open hatred of people who look different from me is not only unacceptable it is flat out un-American. Like many of our Fellow Americans who make North Carolina our home, I cannot be there tomorrow to stare you in the face as you commit an un-Holy and un-American act against so many innocent people. In a word, you are cowards. Nothing more and certainly nothing less. Cowards, to me, are traitors. Your votes for this bill are hollow. They are betrayal. They may be of power, and you may use that power to hurt us the people, but your votes and your values are so empty. If you vote for this bill, then you have no soul. I will cut and paste a copy of my correspondence to you tonight to my own state Representative, The Honorable Renee Price of the 50th NC House District. In closing, you ask me what organization I represent. I am a registered Democrat, and I currently serve as a precinct secretary. I am a lifetime member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. I am a human being, a man, a father, a husband, a Christian, a Veteran, and yet I do not represent any organization. I am an American. I am a Veteran with 22 years of service. I deployed from Mt. Fuji, Japan to Khost, Afghanistan. I have talked more than my fair share of Marines and Sailors and my Fellow Americans out of killing themselves at all kinds of ungodly hours of the night or the day. As a Veteran, I close with this reality: You fail us if you vote for this bill. Your cowardness will be complete. You cannot stand up to the bully or the bullies who are hollow in their souls because they have no souls. If you have one ounce of courage as an American, then I urge you to vote AGAINST this bill. My tone is harsh and direct. I need for you to understand me. Decorum demands that I do all that I can to make you aware of the
10/20/25 10:41 PM	Lisa Vines	What happened to Republican support for impartial commissions to draw district maps? Like State Bill 25 and House Bill 252, both from 2009? This is hypocritical and morally wrong. Where is your ‚Äúmoral courage‚Äù now? ‚ÄúWe have to show the people of this state that we can govern fairly and responsibly.‚Äù Where is that attitude now? What a disappointment.
10/20/25 10:41 PM	Lisa Cassidy-Vu	I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable.
10/20/25 10:42 PM	Say no to gerrymandering! Rachel Maguire	Please do not allow our districts to become even more gerrymandered than they already are! As a lifelong North Carolinian I urge you NOT to plan a new congressional map that is even more unconstitutional than the one that exists now.
10/20/25 10:42 PM	I oppose Robert Yoder	I am a former Republican. I say, former, because I can no longer believe in, trust, or endorse the Republican Party. The Republican Party no longer cares about workers, air and water quality, the economy, or the future we‚Äôre leaving our children. They only care about one thing - accumulating power and profits at the expense of everything and everyone. If this redistricting passes, it is a violation of our American decency and a blatant power grab. It sends a signal that the Republican Party no longer cares about free and fair elections, but instead chooses to grasp power any way possible. This is how Democracy dies. May God help us all.
10/20/25 10:42 PM	Ms Anne Connolly	Republicans must stop the stealing. This is outrageous, have you no sense of integrity left?
10/20/25 10:42 PM	Ms Holly Bryan	I am so very disappointed that North Carolina Republicans are gerrymandering our maps even further than they already have, especially considering we are mid-decade and no new census--or ANY relevant information--has been released to explain why this is necessary. VOTERS should choose who represents them; the representatives should NOT choose their voters. MAKE FAIR MAPS FOR NC VOTERS!
10/20/25 10:42 PM	Marilyn McNamara	As 84 % of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable, please honor the wishes of 84% of North Carolina voters and vote against partisan gerrymandering.

10/20/25 10:43 PM	Nell Phillips		We need to be fair and let all the people in North Carolina decide. A few people should not have the power to do this. It is morally wrong. This is not the nation we knew before all of these changes. I have never seen a president and vice president call people name's and cause such division in our nation. How sad to do so many things underhanded. And this same group call themselves Christians. The God I know wouldn't treat people like this. It should not matter if you are a republican or democrat. We should all want democracy and not lose our rights.
10/20/25 10:43 PM	Margaret Meyer		What,Äôs the rush on Redistricting AGAIN?!? More than 75% of North Carolinians are against gerrymandering our state. We have absolutely no need for redistricting this year. How about you actually do your job rather than focusing how you can cheat on the next election?!?
10/20/25 10:44 PM	Theresa Jarina	Mercy Associate	‚Ä¢76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. I agree with this data.
10/20/25 10:44 PM	Melanie Stecker		Free and fair elections should mean that district boundaries are blind to the identities of the residents. Gerrymandering in general is a way to rig an election by making unnatural district boundaries. That was already done by this legislature, and to make it even more rigged is entirely unacceptable. Set the districts blindly to the residents, and come up with solutions to the people's problems that are popular such that they vote for you--rigging the election so you don't have to be accountable to your constituents is unAmerican.
10/20/25 10:45 PM	Joshua Cheatwood		I find this effort to be wholeheartedly pathetic and morally reprehensible. The cynicism is so thick it makes one cringe. The dilution voter representation and the disenfranchising of communities hurt the very people you are elected to represent. You know this already though. Every major study has shown gerrymandering is extremely unpopular. Recent polling shows 76% of Americans oppose it. Prioritizing political gain over democratic integrity shows exactly who you are. You are elected officials who will bend the knee and lick boots of those you strive to be like or those who pad your coffers. It's pathetic. You who vote aye for this are pathetic. North Carolinians deserve elected officials who are able to see past their own reflection in the mirror. They do not deserve those who are only interested in maintaining the status quo for their own personnel gain. To those who would vote aye for this, may you all be voted out of office very soon! Go you ruin your own lives and stop ruining ours or find your backbone and show your neighbors the respect they deserve.
10/20/25 10:45 PM	Noelle muzzy		Hello I,Äôm very concerned with the way this redistricting is occurring. This is not the normal timeframe to redistrict and the motivations are entirely partisan. I strongly urge the committee to not approve it and to take further actions to prevent partisan gerrymandering. Thank you
10/20/25 10:45 PM	Dr. Dianne McQueen	Citizen	Strongly oppose this hastily advanced redistricting plan- done without public notice. An 11-3 map in our 50-50 state makes a mockery of North Carolinians,Äô right to free and fair elections. This partisan gerrymandering needs to stop.
10/20/25 10:45 PM	Robert Heckathorn		You are our ELECTED representatives, and ‚ÄúWe the people,Äù SHOULD get to fairly choose our representatives. All States need to STOP the GERRYMANDERING cycle, which works to instead choose your voters! NC is a 50/50 State, but elections have been distorted beyond fairness, by extreme gerrymandering in 2024 - you can expect this Republican Party will suffer in future elections despite this micro-managing of the electoral process.
10/20/25 10:46 PM	Mr. Carl Breazeale		The people of North Carolina do not want gerrymandered districts. We do not want our General Assembly to be Donald Trump's sycophants. It will be a long time before I vote for any Republican.
10/20/25 10:46 PM	Andrew Nguyen		I hope the General Assembly will reconsider the proposed redistricting plans to protect the fairness of our elections. All North Carolinians deserve representation in our legislatures.
10/20/25 10:47 PM	James Younce		Stop with the gerrymandering.
10/20/25 10:49 PM	Mr Charles Hughes		By folowing the orders of a convicted felon you are embarrasing the great State of North Carolina and ALL of its citizens. At some point you will be held accountable for the actions you are undertaking. What will you tell your grandchildren when they ask you how you responded to protect and defend the Constitution of the US and democracy?
10/20/25 10:50 PM	Ms Margaret Watkins	North Carolina resident	The proposed new districting map is shameful. About half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, about half for Republicans. North Carolina is a purple state; this proposed map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft!. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.,Äù It is shameful. Furthermore it is being pushed through without proper opportunity for public input. Stop this steal.
10/20/25 10:50 PM	Dr Pamela Pannozzo		Republicans, your actions are shameful. Gerrymandering the state to steal power is despicable. And we all know you are doing it and you just don't care. Your day will come, and we will remember you for the cowards you are. The foundation of Democracy is that all voices are heard and compromises are made. Not theft of absolute power through trickery. There is nothing grand about today's GOP. It is actually a very sad and cruel cult.
10/20/25 10:51 PM	Mr Brian Kloepfer		This is outright manipulating voting districts to give advantage to one party. This is the opposite of democracy, robbing peoples real voice, their votes. This is the downfall of our democracy to benefit a select few. Please object against this a preserve this county.

10/20/25 10:52 PM	Ms Cheryl Tung		The voters in Congressional districts 1 and 3 are being used as political pawns. Their communities have been shifted and reshaped, not because of population change, but to give one party an advantage. And this is being done at the expense of passing a state budget that would help North Carolinians recover in Western Carolina, or bring stability to programs, or allow schools to fill staffing vacancies. Voters deserve leaders who spend their time solving problems, not manipulating maps. I urge this body to restore integrity to our state legislature and focus on the needs of your constituents.
10/20/25 10:52 PM	Natalie Clerkin	League of Women Voters NC	Redistricting mid-cycle in light of the history of severe partisan gerrymandering in North Carolina is an incredible mistake. At its best it confuses voters for no reason about where and who they are voting for as their districts change arbitrarily. I observe Board of Elections meetings and am aware of their efforts to work efficiently, stay in their budget and not waste taxpayer dollars. These changes would require a massive waste of taxpayer dollars. At its worst it destabilizes our democracy and eliminates voters ability to hold their representatives accountable and feel they can have an impact in the electoral process. As a North Carolinian voter, I wholeheartedly disapprove of a mid-cycle redistricting intended only to entrench power and not to benefit our state and its people.
10/20/25 10:52 PM	Mr. Jerome Munna		I vote no! This should not be rushed through without further discussion
10/20/25 10:52 PM	Kimberly Slusher		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are clearly an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. I‚Äôm not sure when the GOP - ‚Äúthe party of family values & morals,‚Äù decided it was ok to cheat to obtain & keep power but it is unacceptable. As a native North Carolinian who owns property & pays taxes I urge everyone to vote NO to these maps.
10/20/25 10:53 PM	Ethan Renfro		I do not support this. You have not passed a budget (i.e. the singular requirement of the jobs you were elected to do) and are in no hurry to do so but jumped at the opportunity to kiss the president between his orange cheeks. This is clear corruption and the people of North Carolina do not support this, as you would know from looking at the polling regarding this issue. I personally dare you to put this question to the people and watch it get voted down but you won't because you know it will fail and Phil Berger (corruptor in chief) will lose his support from the imbecile running our country into the ground. This state has a near 50:0 split in percent voters amongst the major 2 parties so unless you want to draw a fair 7D-7-R map then this issue is stupid, irreverent to the founding principles of democracy, and brazen corruption from bankrolled politicians with no regard for their constituents. I know most of you won't be around in 20 years to see the consequences of your actions and thus do not care but it is time for you all to grow a pair of testicles and learn how to tell people no when they ask you to do something that is objectively wrong.
10/20/25 10:53 PM	Suzanne Guimond		Hello! I am begging you to Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/20/25 10:54 PM	Ensley Guffey		No. Do not redistrict. Stop working for Trump and start working for North Carolina!
10/20/25 10:56 PM	Dr. Jack Denver		To Whom It May Concern for public comment, I oppose redistricting. Redistricting makes a mockery of the voters,Äô right to a free and fair election. The majority of North Carolina voters oppose partisan gerrymandering. Republicans introduced the proposed maps on Thursday and voted on Monday, rushing the process to avoid accountability from the people they are disenfranchising. This is bad politics. We understand these actions are a GOP ploy to enact Donald Trump,Äôs unpopular agenda for the 2026 midterm elections, rather than address serious issues affecting North Carolinians. Your priorities should be passing a budget to enact pay increases for teachers and addressing the $300 million Medicaid funding deficit that threatens healthcare access, not further gerrymandering the electoral maps. Sincerely, Jack Denver
10/20/25 10:56 PM	Claudia Lange		I am writing to express my vehement opposition to the new NC Congressional maps. The maps we have now are already gerrymandered to the point where many, many citizens go without representation. These new maps take a further step to the extreme. This is called taxation without representation and it is deliberate. GOP is picking and choosing their constituents instead of constituents picking their representatives. It is a clear attempt to solidify total control by the GOP. This is not how a representative democracy works. The GOP is loyal to Trump, not their constituents. As a reminder, we pay Congress's salaries and their luxurious healthcare benefits with our tax dollars while they strive to take ours away - all in deference to Donald Trump, a convicted felon. My own county, Guilford, is split three ways. This dilutes Guilford residents' votes so that we cannot make our voices heard. The GOP's policies are dreadfully unpopular and they know it. Therefore, they must cheat to win. Not a good, long term strategy because the people do not forget. We will have our voices heard. Hear us as we say we DEMAND fair representation. End this partisan gerrymandering NOW. Have a special master draw the maps. Then implement an independent redistricting commission.
10/20/25 10:58 PM	Joseph Krupa		These maps are incredibly undemocratic. People vote, not land. Unconscionable.

10/20/25 10:59 PM	Richard Damberg		Dear NC House and Senate representatives, I do NOT support your UNFAIR proposed map of voting districts intended to result in 3 Democrats and 11 Republicans in the US House. The NC voting map should be based on FAIRNESS. You do support fairness as a principle, don‚Äôt you? It should be a fair fight ‚Äì may the best candidate win in each district, right? These voting maps should be simple. They should reflect the general breakdown in voting from recent statewide races. NC is a purple state, and in recent statewide races, such as for president, the difference between Republican and Democrat votes has been very close, on the order of 1-2%. So the FAIR way to design voting districts in NC is to have an equal number of 7 districts leaning toward each party. In fact, this was what NC had in 2022!!! Simply set it up this way and then let the best candidate win. I urge you to NOT advance voting maps that make the system LESS FAIR. We need our NC elected officials to stand for FAIR voting maps. The public will remember how you vote come next election season. Sincerely, Richard Damberg
10/20/25 11:02 PM	Dan Watkins	Self	Dear NC Legislators, The citizens of North Carolina have seen enough Republican gerrymandering over the years, which has created an extremely lopsided 10:4 majority for Republicans. You‚Äôve demonstrated how ruthless you are in trying to hold onto power in our evenly divided Republican:Democrat state. NC Voters don‚Äôt want any more gerrymandering. What NC voters want is honest, fair elections. I urge you to vote against the even more lopsided 10:3 proposed redistricting map. Do not put Donald Trump above the people you were elected to represent.
10/20/25 11:02 PM	Nicholas Austin		This is a power grab and wrong om any side of the aisle!!
10/20/25 11:03 PM	Lorca LH		If in order to stay in power a party has to redraw the maps, it's not democratic. Plain and simple. This is shameful behavior and should be illegal. Elected officials should be listening to their constituents and work across party lines.
10/20/25 11:05 PM	Ms. Jennifer Scherer		Voters pick elected officials ‚Äì politicians don‚Äôt get to pick their voters! We need fair maps. No gerrymandering.
10/20/25 11:05 PM	Jeanne Dees		Gerrymandering is disenfranchisement. It‚Äôs un-democratic and un-American. Please don‚Äôt take our rights and our voices away.
10/20/25 11:05 PM	Anne Johnson		It is appalling that this map is being passed so quickly, with essentially no public input. NC is a purple state. Your gerrymandering and marginalization to silence the voices of those you oppose will be remembered.
10/20/25 11:06 PM	Patricia Melton		If the Republican Party and its candidates (past and future) are so superior, why must they constantly alter districts in an effort to rig elections? This has been going on for decades. The one term that I was actually represented, having a voice in DC, was when Jeff Jackson served. You're all a pack of cowardly MAGAts. You will never get the smell of Drumpf off of you and history will not view your actions, or inactions, favoribly. Frances Deluca and the GOP members of the NCBOE should ashamed of their dereliction of duty. Karma will bite you soon enough, guaranteed.
10/20/25 11:06 PM	Mark Comber		NO. you do not owe allegiance to Trump. You were elected to show allegiance to ALL the people of NC. You should hang your head in SHAME. DESPICABLE!!
10/20/25 11:08 PM	Mary Marks	RETIRED	This redistricting is outrageous and blatantly cheating. Mr. Davis has performed well in his role as US Representative, otherwise why would the legislature resort to this highly unpopular plan? Mr. Berger, y'all need to be doing everything you can to protect the people of this great state, NOT President Trump‚Äôs agenda.
10/20/25 11:10 PM	Ms. Margaret Perkins	North Carolinians Against Gun Violence	I do not think the proposed redistricting accurately represents the citizens of our state. A more extremist Congressional map means more extremist gun policies. We need a Congress that works together to pass stronger gun laws. This map will do the opposite.
10/20/25 11:11 PM	Meredith spangler		Please do not move forward with redistricting. We need to have nonpartisan panels determining our districts. Gerrymandering only hurts our country.
10/20/25 11:11 PM	deborah morgenthal		I believe the Republicans are making it more and more difficult for there to be fair elections. I am angry and very disappointed in our elected officials.
10/20/25 11:12 PM	Mrs Pam Hughes	Individual	Trump and his NC yes men are afraid that can‚Äôt win elections without changing the rules by re-drawing district lines now. Redistributing now should not happen. Shame on republicans for trying to change the rules which should only occur in conjunction with the census. Another example of tricks to move towards autocratic rule. Wake up and do your job as legislators, instead of bowing down to Trump. Don‚Äôt give away democratic rule!
10/20/25 11:13 PM	Ms. Susan McAllister		Voters are supposed to pick there representatives; candidates are not suppose to pick their voters. It is wrong to draw the district maps so that one party has a significant advantage over another.

10/20/25 11:14 PM	Mrs Ellen Dickson		Please stop gerrymandering NC! The house districts should be fairly established so that the house representation reflects the actual party distribution of NC citizens.
10/20/25 11:14 PM	Ms Susan Goetcheus		Our legislators should protect democracy not undermine it. The people are entitled to real representation and NC is purple not red. Don,Äôt bow to Trump. We deserve better.
10/20/25 11:16 PM	Don,Äôt Redistrict Charles Lynn		North Carolinians deserve to be fairly represented by their politicians. The proposed redistricting is anti-democratic and is likely to result in a distribution of power that does not reflect the will of the people. North Carolina has a long and ugly history of partisan gerrymandering but we don,Äôt have to continue to operate this way. If you really care about this country I urge you to examine inside yourself, what is more important to you, gaining temporary political leverage over other Americans with different beliefs than yours, or upholding the foundational principles of our republic.
10/20/25 11:17 PM	Bobby Moore		Republicans have proven themselves as only able to win by cheating
10/20/25 11:19 PM	Dr Ralph Liebelt		your blatant attempt to disenfranchise even more voters after last year is simply disgusting. Trump likely did not win in NC based on forensic investigation and certainly did not have a mandate here or nationally. He,Äôs destroying our country. He,Äôs severely compromised mentally. If you are complicit in his activities I will help all those who will seek accountability for your actions. Not to mention the fact that you continue to relinquish your primary duty to pass a budget.
10/20/25 11:19 PM	Dr. Ylce irizarry		I vehemently oppose gerrymandering.. The proposed ‚Äúredistricting‚Äù is a thinly veiled power grab. Past gerrymandering has not improved the lives of North Carolinians. If a budget can,Äôt be passed under Republican control now, it certainly will not get passed by further concentrating power in one party incapable of serving the public it pledged to serve.
10/20/25 11:22 PM	Redistricting Charlie Vick Jr		These plans were not know to the public for comments and this is bad politics. Rigging the system for a power grap.This is un-American and I disagree with it completely
10/20/25 11:22 PM	Dr. Sweta Patel		North Carolina voters did not ask for this, and the voices of fewer North Carolinians will be heard under the new plan. If rigging the system in your favor is the only way you can stay in power, maybe it,Äôs time to rethink the policies you support and start looking out for the best interests of the people you were elected to serve.
10/20/25 11:24 PM	Ms Elizabeth Hutcheson		I am simultaneously saddened and enraged about the manipulative strategies to cripple our state.
10/20/25 11:24 PM	Mr. Randy Stafford	Private citizen of Wake County	VOTE NO!!! Please oh please stop this madness of forcing, without confirmation and support from across NC, a disproportional alignment of the state,Äôs congressional districts that do not reflect, I repeat, do not reflect the true balance of political power in our state. This move appears to this voter to be an effort to ‚Äústeal‚Äù the balance of political power in a way that denies the true balanced power that is reflected in the totality of votes cast by our citizens!!
10/20/25 11:28 PM	April Patalocco		Politicians can not legally gerrymander their own districts to keep control over the people. This is taxation without representation. You already made the majority the minority. Now you want to seal the deal to ensure Trump becomes your dictator. He will eventually redistrict congress out of a job. GoP are the hens voting for the fox. Release the Epstein files to end this movement of christian white nationalist autocratic monarchy of pedo-oligarchs NOW
10/20/25 11:29 PM	jaosn wakeman		it's your karma
10/20/25 11:30 PM	Brian Patalocco		No midterm redistricting by either party. Please be fair
10/20/25 11:30 PM	Ms Leslie Cummings		No gerrymandering. It's unAmerican and unconstitutional. Americans deserve fair representation.
10/20/25 11:33 PM	Thann Boyum		NO gerrymandering!!!
10/20/25 11:35 PM	Mary Mathew		The vast majority on NC residents, including me, believe redistricting is unacceptable and unjustified. It undermines our democracy and is unconstitutional. As our representatives, we ask that you to maintain our right to fair voting and representation, and vote no to redistricting.
10/20/25 11:35 PM	Cristie ray		Do not gerrymander our state. Let the law actually be the law for once this year.
10/20/25 11:36 PM	Mr Jeremiah Harris		I oppose the proposed congressional maps because they take away fair competition and silence voters across North Carolina. Every voice should count equally. Gerrymandering for partisan gain is what undermines public confidence in the government and creates dis-trust among the American people. I strongly urge lawmakers to reject these maps and commit to transparent and fair redistricting that puts voters, NOT politicians, first.
10/20/25 11:38 PM	Prasad Kasibhatla		Absolutely terrible. You all need to stop being such sycophants and realize you don,Äôt work for Trump but for us. I want to record my opposition in the strongest possible terms.
10/20/25 11:39 PM	No redistricting of map Vicky Hershberger		I want to see fair maps that don,Äôt favor one party more than the other!

10/20/25 11:39 PM	Albert Pickett		N. C. Population is divided 50/50 Democrat/Republican. You've already Gerrymandered an 11/3 Repub Congressional majority, and now you want more, always more, 11/3 Rep/Dem Congressional split. All this in an effort to enhance Presidential power grab of Donald Trump, our first AUTHORITARIAN President. Where's your integrity, where's your respect of Constitutional divided power? You are enabling his lust for Dictatorial power, and you should be ashamed of yourselves. This is NOT Constitutional division of power. This is abdication of Congressional responsibility, and capitulation to the power grabbing Trump Executive Branch. It's UNAMERICAN, and you damn well KNOW it...!
10/20/25 11:40 PM	Natash Hall		This is an unfair power grab by Republican and is based on race to redistrict NC. Redistricting will break up the votes of the African Americans in some districts to make their votes not count. This is illegal. I hope that NC will stand for democracy and not go back 200 years and make our votes not count. No redistricting. Please vote no to redistricting and let each vote count respectfully.
10/20/25 11:40 PM	Mr. Auley Crouch		Voting to disenfranchise NC voters by gerrymandering is outrageous. Donald Trump did not elect you. The voters of NC elected you to represent us, not cower and stoop before Donald Trump. Do not participate in further efforts to rig the elections next year.
10/20/25 11:40 PM	Elizabeth Brown	Democracy for all,Ä¶.North Carolinians	A travesty is occurring within our state and country. And you are playing your part. GET REAL,Ä¶. This will trickle down and affect you, don,Äôt you see that. When you are only out for yourselves, it will come back around. Do you believe in character, right vs wrong?!? separation and division,Ä¶this is all you are promoting. How do you even sleep at night!? You will have to live with this. Stop this nonsense now!!!
10/20/25 11:41 PM	Darlene Demarest		I am opposed to the proposed redistributing maps. I urge the House and Senate to vote no to any proposed districting .
10/20/25 11:42 PM	Beth Beth Seagle		Please do the honest thing and not redraw the maps to favor the Republicans.
10/20/25 11:47 PM	Emily Sprague		Gerrymandering is blatant cheating fueled by money, power and greed and the vast majority of NC voters are opposed to it. Don't make it worse! Fair, non-partisan election maps allow people to choose representatives who are trustworthy, who work for all citizens, and who strengthen democratic norms.
10/20/25 11:49 PM	Ms Melissa Cunha		This is a blatant and disrespectful ,Äúpower grab,Äù by the NC GOP to kiss the Cheetos ass for an endorsement. There is LITERALLY nothing tangible to gain with the word of a ,Äúman,Äù who is destroying democracy and the East Wing of the White House for a golden ballroom, but tell me again how he gives two shits about what Republican toddler gets an atta boy. You represent the people and have consistently been diminishing how NC is truly represented. You're disgraceful to the office you keep, and to overdraw an already racist map is unconscionable and it will severely handicap this state more than it already is due to the disregard for the people that you can,Äôt even pass a budget for NC. It will be more difficult and it,Äôll be an uphill battle, but you won,Äôt actually come out ahead being greedy, racist, and bigoted. God will not welcome you and neither will the people of NC, so keep digging your graves straight to hell where you,Äôre going to end up. Grow a spine and stand with the people. Otherwise, you,Äôre just as embarrassing as your colleagues DWI. Walk it back while you still can.
10/20/25 11:51 PM	Louise Marlowe		NC gerrymandering is famous already. Don,Äôt make it worse. Do something right for our state and thwart this disgusting president! History will thank you.
10/20/25 11:53 PM	Margaret Hattori		I,Äôm appalled that the NC Senate is poised to rob North Carolinians of fair representation in our elections. We are a state that is split 50-50 between Republicans and Democrats and gerrymandering prevents us from free and fair representation. Do the right thing and vote against this redistricting. Don't betray NC voters. We will remember this.

10/20/25 11:55 PM	Jesse Hartley		I strongly oppose any redistricting plan that perpetuates gerrymandering. Manipulating district boundaries for political gain is a betrayal of democracy itself. Voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Gerrymandering silences communities, weakens accountability, and destroys trust in the very institutions meant to serve the public. Every district should be drawn fairly, transparently, and with respect for natural geography, shared communities, and equal representation, not party advantage. North Carolinians deserve maps that protect the principle of ‚Äúone person, one vote,‚Äù ensuring that every citizen‚Äôs voice carries equal weight. When politicians carve lines to secure power instead of serve people, democracy becomes theater, not governance. I urge this committee to reject any map that distorts representation for political convenience. Fair maps strengthen faith in government, invite participation, and restore integrity to a process that belongs to the people, not the parties. History will remember whether this committee stood for fairness or manipulation. Choose democracy. Choose integrity. Draw maps that reflect people, not politics.
10/20/25 11:57 PM	Kim Conrad		Redistricting for political gain disenfranchises voters. How can you teach your children not to cheat on a test but try to cheat to win elections. I remember when politicians tried to win voters over. This is bad for business as well. Companies see this kind of thing and back out of building here.
10/20/25 11:57 PM	Redistricting NC Debbie Teece		I am furious that our legislature is poised to redistrict NC for Republican political gain. This hurried vote is transparent to everyone watching. It is unethical and unjust. Our legislature was elected to serve the people of NC not to gerrymander their way into office to serve their own purposes. Democracy doesn‚Äôt operate like this.
10/20/25 11:58 PM	Ms Deborah Mintz		We are already ridiculously gerrymandering. Elected officials and political parties should earn their vites and power rather than absurdly redistricting. Please don't do this.
10/20/25 11:58 PM	Heidi McIver		As a North Carolinian, I urge you NOT to redraw our congressional maps mid-decade. Please REJECT any new congressional maps at this time.
10/20/25 11:59 PM	Catherine Schaller	AAUW Asheville	Redistricting is too gentle a term. This gerrymander is a blatant power grab, and I cannot believe this could happen in my North Carolina. Our state is a 50-50 state politically, and an 11-3 proportion for North Carolina's delegation to the US House is an egregious move by the GA Republican majority. The maps that have been shared in the media represent a severe bias against Black voters. The Voting Rights Act,‚Äôs Section 2 provides tha judicial avenue to contest maps that dilute minority voting power. This is beyond the pale and denies the existence of norms that go back generations to "redistrict" following the Census every 10 years. Please turn back and go in an appropriate direction for the great state we still aspire to be . Thank you.
10/21/25 12:00 AM	Darilyn Dealy	None	I am opposed to North Carolina Republican lawmakers pursuing mid-cycle redistricting. This is completely at the request of the Trump administration, to get a partisan advantage ahead of the 2026 elections. This move is not about representation; it ‚Äòs intended to silence voters. It divides communities, reduces competitiveness, and diminishes accountability. Gerrymandering is about wielding power. It creates confusion and distrust in the electoral process, and wastes money.
10/21/25 12:01 AM	Jessica Flemming		This effort to redistrict the election map is preposterous. This proposal lacks integrity and undermines the voices of North Carolinians. No well intentioned person would push this plan forward. Keep our elections fair.
10/21/25 12:06 AM	Marian Bivona		I am writing to express my outrage over the decision to not prioritize our state's budget. Your choice to prioritize the unnnecessary gerrymandering of our state even more is NOT a priority for our state or citizens. Your disregard for the needs of the people of North Carolina and the integrity of our democracy is unacceptable. If you were proud of your work, your record, and your actions then you would not need to rig the maps for yourselves or for the national agenda to win at the polls. This is not leadership,‚Äîit is a betrayal of the public trust. It is time to restore fairness to the budget and our electoral process. The people of North Carolina deserve better than this. And as an unafilliated I will gladly vote for the representative, regardless of party, that does what North Carolinians need and want. I hold you accountable and demand that you take immediate action to repair the damage you‚Äôve done. Sincerely, Marian Bivona

10/21/25 12:09 AM	Rebecca Hyman	Please do not move forward with redrawing congressional maps for North Carolina. Think of all North Carolinians not Trump's agenda. I am among many throughout our state that want our voices heard! We need fair maps for a fair democracy. We do not need a political party to try to win elections dishonestly! If the Republicans State Legislature moves forward with the new maps you are thinking of your best interests along witb Trump and not the people of North Carolina. Instead please focus on passing a fair budget, one that was due over three months ago. Thank you, Rebecca Hyman Wake Co.
10/21/25 12:19 AM	Mrs. Martha Boyles	I am appalled by the proposed redistricting. It is a low, in the gutter move to misrepresent your constituents & further restrict others from our right to vote in a fair election process. This is being done by cowards who want to create an unfair advantage to suit their own needs.
10/21/25 12:22 AM	Emily Conway	All gerrymandering is un-American, but bartering to redraw NC voting maps in exchange for an endorsement of your own reelection campaign is flat-out corrupt. North Carolina deserves Fair Maps.
10/21/25 12:24 AM	Mrs. Laura E Marti	As a North Carolina resident I'm registering my complaint against the newly proposed Congressional district plan. The North Carolina GOP is not fighting fire with fire. California was the one fighting fire with fire in response to the power grab by Texas in creating new congressional seats by gerrymandering. NC is now stooping to the level of Texas by doing the same thing, trying to take control of Congress to force their conservative agenda on the American people. We're sick of Republican policies that get us nowhere and only hurt people. The GOP can't seem to balance a budget federally or in our state, and you've wasted our money on things that only benefit yourselves or to try to fight culture wars. I'm so angry as a constituent that you're now wasting your time and effort to gerrymander our congressional maps AGAIN mid-decade! How many times are you going to redraw our maps to fit your agenda?! What we really want are FAIR, UNBIASED, THIRD-PARTY drawn maps that are not partisan. You should instead be spending your time paying our teachers, getting healthcare to our residents, getting people back to work...not doing these stupid power grabs in the name of "carrying out Trump's agenda." He and you should be working within the system to come to compromises, to work with the Democrats to represent all the people; but instead you're basically cheating to get what you want. The last few years has the most ineffective legislature I've ever seen in my 62 years. You do very little for the people, and I'm embarrassed to be a North Carolinian. Please have the integrity to leave the maps as they are. Really I'd love to see them go back to what they were in 2022 when they were drawn fairly. You stole my vote and voice by redistricting in 2024, and now you want to do it to more people in our state. Just no words except disgusting and self-serving. Btw, I was Republican for 30 years, and these kinds of things are a big part of why I finally changed parties in 2016 to Independent, then again to Democrat as Trump's policies began to harm more and more people. I could no longer tolerate the open corruption and arrogance of Republicans claiming to be Christians but having no integrity, and only being interested in power and hurting people in the process. I would love to see you caring for the constituents that you were elected to serve, and to see you fighting to give every person a voice when they vote. This plan does not do that.
10/21/25 12:44 AM	Lindsey Granados	End gerrymandering now! No -partisan redistricting to make fair maps! Anybody who opposes the people choosing their representatives is not a true patriot! We get to choose our representatives, not the other way around. Actions to further shore up your racially discriminatory gerrymandering will show you for the cowards you are. You are obfuscating the will of the people, and you will be held accountable for every decision you make to further disenfranchise NC citizens.
10/21/25 12:53 AM	Toni Dima-Becht	My husband is a 4th grade teacher. The lack of a budget is impacting my family. Yet the majority party is choosing to kiss the ring on Donald Trump rather than work for the people of NC. It,Äôs not about party anymore, it,Äôs about decency and protecting democracy. Be transparent, get inputs into those maps, do your jobs for all the people of NC. Spoiler: then you wouldn,Äôt have to cheat. You could just stand on your record. We the people have had ENOUGH!!
10/21/25 12:56 AM	Lenore Yarger	I am begging you to refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. AND it leads to the kind of gridlock we are now witnessing in Washington DC. The vast majority of Americans want our elected officials to negotiate and debate the merits of proposed legislation. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äïvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps.
10/21/25 1:00 AM	Maryanne Nunez	I am in opposition of this attempt at gerrymandering.

10/21/25 1:01 AM	Rhyann Dozier	North Carolina is a historically purple state in which voters are split 50% for democrats and 50% for republicans. This new redistricting would split voters, and skew the distribution, to 11 potential republican seats versus 3 democratic seats. This newly proposed map is not in line with our right to a free and fair election; this is an attempt to steal the midterm elections in order to keep a republican majority in 2026. Extreme gerrymandering was ruled illegal by the North Carolina Supreme Court for the 2022 midterms. But when republican candidates won two seats on the NC Supreme Court, and thus gained a conservative majority, they wasted no time in reversing the balanced ruling that brought a fair and legitimate election to the citizens of North Carolina. Now afraid of the 2026 midterms, conservatives are attempting to further this trend by inaccurately representing the voters of North Carolina. This proposed new map is a blatantly obvious attempt to further skew the midterm elections by disproportionately elevating republican candidates, rather than providing a nonpartisan and unprejudiced congressional map of the citizens of this state.
10/21/25 1:07 AM	Miriam Wildeman	The Republican plan for redistricting North Carolina is an unfair reflection of the voter proportions in the state. NC is a "purple" state, with roughly equal numbers of Republican and Democratic voters. The proposed map shows a 11-3 proportion in favor of Republican voters. This is antithetical to the American tradition of free and fair elections. Moreover, no public notice was given, and the proposed map is being rushed through in order to avoid accountability.
10/21/25 1:12 AM	Ms. Michelle MCCLYMONDS-SPENCER	On behalf of myself and my husband who have already been redistributed into a predominantly Republican district, PLEASE STOP BOWING TO THE WANNA-BE-KING. If you vote to support this blatant backside kissing, cheating, you ARE NOT an AMERICAN! You are destroying our representative democracy. As a 13-year USN veteran, I am grieving the tearing apart of the country I served to defend and protect.
10/21/25 1:27 AM	Christopher Horne	This is an appalling power grab attempt by conservative members of the state legislature for which they should be ashamed of themselves. In short, this proposed redistributing map should not be considered because there was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday, and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the citizens of this state that they,Äôll be disenfranchising. NC conservatives know that if they asked the voters of this state for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of NC voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable, and this map with its 11-3 bias is unacceptable. Additionally, North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. Currently, the Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. And yet as soon as Donald Trump called, the legislature ran back to Raleigh to try and force through an extremely gerrymandered map of the state because they are fearful of losing seats in the 2026 midterm elections. This is a shameful partisan power grab, while the citizens of North Carolina deserve free and fair elections.
10/21/25 1:28 AM	Jessica McCormack	Please focus on getting together a budget for your constituents and filling funding gaps in Medicaid and SNAP so people don't literally die. No one asked for this gerrymandering except Trump, and you are under no obligation to fall on your knees and fulfill his wants when he asks. He did not elect you. He is not your responsibility.
10/21/25 1:29 AM	Faith Silva	I oppose the proposed congressional redistricting plan. This is the second redistricting in three years, suggesting maps are being redrawn for partisan advantage rather than fair representation. The 3-5 day public comment period is inadequate for citizens to meaningfully analyze maps that will affect our representation for years. North Carolina,Äôs statewide elections are competitive, and our congressional maps should create proportional representation rather than predetermined outcomes. I urge you to reject this proposal.
10/21/25 1:30 AM	Ms. Victoria Chatfield	I strongly object to this attempt to further gerrymander voting districts in our state. This is an obvious ploy to garner more House seats for Trump's administration, a la Texas's efforts. Haven't the Republicans done enough damage to their integrity? If you have any honor or integrity, I implore you to reconsider this shameful gerrymander.
10/21/25 1:35 AM	Mrs.. Nina Daye	It is time to reclaim fairness and to allow the people to choose their representatives instead of the politicians choosing who will represent them. shame on you! Our young people are watching. Our congressional members should be no more than 8 from one party given the results of recent elections. I am TOTALLY against this redistricting now.
10/21/25 1:40 AM	Gini Cervone	NO-if you can,Äôt win fairly , you don,Äôt deserve to be in office. Don,Äôt be so sure rigging the district will work- a lot of Republicans are having ,Äúbuyer,Äôs remorse ,Äú.
10/21/25 1:44 AM	Chiquetta Mangum	By redistricting the voting map in such a skewed and disproportionate manner you are taking away the rights of the people of North Carolina for a free and fair election. You are in office to serve your constituents, not to bend to the will of the president. Do Republicans think they cannot win in a free and fair election? North Carolina deserves better!
10/21/25 1:44 AM	Yessenia Garza	Stop gerrymandering our districts! This is unacceptable you are abusers of power and are not representing the people of our community by changing the maps.
10/21/25 1:51 AM	Michael Petersen	I disagree with the newly proposed lines.
10/21/25 2:03 AM	Mrs Susan Frye	Stop redistricting and start serving. Vote no on the latest and more distorted maps. North Carolinians want free and fair elections. We want a budget. We want people who do what,Äôs right for the people rather than use power to help themselves to more and more of it.
10/21/25 2:11 AM	Dr Cindee Roberts	You are failing the voters of NC by passing this 11-3 map. It does not represent our purple state, and it is political gerrymandering. Think of what you are doing to the next generation of our state.

10/21/25 2:22 AM	Mrs Jessica Petersen		I disagree the proposed boundaries
10/21/25 2:28 AM	Dr Margaret Conrads		The effort to further gerrymander North Carolina is an act to prevent the full spectrum of voter rights that is due all North Carolinians. The Republican efforts to carve spaces to ensure their success is unconstitutional and represents their fear of losing power. The people of North Carolina are intelligent and know to vote for candidates who work for the best for our entire state not self interest. Let the people decide and be heard. Let there be fair opportunity for voting across the state not forced partisan power. Thank you for your consideration.
10/21/25 2:32 AM	BAD POLITICS Debra Horton		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/21/25 2:35 AM	No To Gerrymandering Debra Horton		Repubs scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last
10/21/25 2:37 AM	Quid Pro Quo Debra Horton		North Carolina Republicans are trading petty political favors with Donald Trump; it,Äôs been reported that they,Äôre giving him one of our congressional districts in exchange for endorsements.
10/21/25 2:38 AM	BAD PROCESS Debra Horton		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising.
10/21/25 2:45 AM	Trump 1st/NC Last! Debra Horton		North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last
10/21/25 2:50 AM	Say It Ain't So! Debra Horton		On Monday, the Senate heard public comment on the map. Members of the public packed the gallery, with an overflow crowd in the hallway. Every comment was against the map, but the committee voted for it anyway. And then the full Senate passed it in a full floor vote. GROW A SPINE!!!!
10/21/25 2:57 AM	DeAlva Arnold		Our democracy relies on fair elections and equitable representation for all citizens. The proposed congressional redistricting plan does not uphold these principles. It appears to intentionally weaken the voting power of Black and Brown communities, limiting their ability to influence public policy and have their voices heard in the General Assembly in a balanced manner. Such an approach undermines both the integrity of our democratic process and the public,Äôs trust in it. I urge the General Assembly to reject this plan and follow the standard schedule to review districts with a redistricting process that is transparent, fair, and representative of the diversity and interests of all North Carolinians.
10/21/25 3:05 AM	Stop The Gerrymandering! Rhonda Yocum		NC just had their redistricting a year ago, this is an attempt to suppress the black vote to make the Democrats in all states almost unable to obtain seats. This is not American or a fair process. If the GOP had a backbone they would stop all these illegal things the current administration is doing! Stand up for your State and your constituents. This isn't a partisan issue because "We The People" all agree as one so stop trying to cheat through and care actually have humanity for others ??
10/21/25 3:18 AM	Ms. Patricia Titus	retired nurse	An 11=3 map is a mockery of NC voters' rights to a "free and fair election.
10/21/25 3:20 AM	Cheryl Fulton		It,Äôs simple: Voters should choose their elected officials , NOT officials can choose their voters.
10/21/25 3:32 AM	Anika Wilkes		It's really pathetic you have to keep changing the rules just to stay in power. NC demographics show a near 50/50 split in parties, yet you want a near 80/20 split. Nothing remotely representative about that, you all are too busy simpering above to see the fury below. A true global embarrassment, grow the fuck up.
10/21/25 4:04 AM	Heather Honnold		Shameful and 100 undemocratic are all NC GOP reps and their actions!! You are not serving the people of NC .
10/21/25 4:05 AM	Margaret Godwin		No NC voters asked for this surprise redistricting! This is bad politics and NOT fair representation. This effort in the NC assembly is nothing but a power grab. A vast majority - over 80%-- of NC voters think gerrymandering is Wrong and should not be forced on the constituents.
10/21/25 4:15 AM	Mrs Leslie Kendall		Gerrymandering is an attempt to take the legislative branch to one party status. That will essentially end democracy, and I object to it. Politicians in both parties were elected to serve the people,Äôs best interests, not play political games for the sake of power. Get back to the business of the people, not power mongering. Finally, an out of balance legislative branch that doesn,Äôt respond to the needs and values of ALL constituents is taxation without representation for the disenfranchised minority.
10/21/25 4:16 AM	Carol Cohen		I do not want to lose my voice in the government. The legislature is putting politics against the needs of the people in our state. As a victim of hurricane Helene, I want rebuild our state and provide a budget that supports education and health care. Please vote for Health and education over redistricting..

10/21/25 4:25 AM	Dr Beth Harvat		In a democracy, legislators should not be choosing their voters; voters should be choosing their legislators. Gerrymandering prevents voters from choosing the legislator that they want and need. This current proposed redistricting is anti-democratic and anti-the people of NC. It only benefits a few greedy, power-hungry politicians.
10/21/25 4:25 AM	Hailey Blum		Hello. The plan to redistrict our maps (again) is an abuse of power and it‚Äôs quit frankly gross. The people of North Carolina deserve fair elections and you are stripping this from us (again). Are you so scared of losing that you want to draw up unfair maps (again)? Stop wasting your constituents time with this and go do something productive like passing the state budget.
10/21/25 4:33 AM	Maggie Tian		I suggest all blue states stop paying the federal taxes, and start to the national strike. Don't let the billionaires and idiots laugh at you as laughing the weaks. The current D. party is too weak according to the recent poll. This is why the President is testing on you by abusing his limited power to an infinity level. Fight back forcefully if you don't want to loose your power in the coming election. Thank you for the form!
10/21/25 4:39 AM	Mr. Ian Cowie		I am greatly bothered by the redistricting proposal now being passed by the Senate. 1. There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. This rushed process avoids accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising. 2. This is no doubt partisan gerrymandering. Voters do not want this. Votes are suppressed. Once again, North Carolina voters‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election‚Äù is a mockery. 3. The real issue is being ignored. My state government continues to operate without a new budget. State employees‚Äîlike teachers‚Äîaren‚Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. I wish the state legislature would attend to issues that directly affect the millions of North Carolina who are crying out for help.
10/21/25 4:39 AM	Ms. Katherine Parks		The unfairness of this map, which was bad enough already, is astounding for a state that is almost evenly divided. I strongly oppose this change, especially since we haven‚Äôt gotten a new census. I can only hope this backfires on you next year.
10/21/25 4:41 AM	Mrs Deborah Murray	Retired	Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù Do your job. Vote for North Carolinians - not Donald Trump.
10/21/25 4:48 AM	Mary Biaggi		I object to the redistricting. Gerrymandering leads to severe polarization, legislative gridlock and a weaker Congress. Please vote no to this.
10/21/25 4:48 AM	MS Susan Steffe		An 11-3 map in a 50-50 state is a mockery of civil process and a disservice to the people who you represent and who sent you to Raleigh. Do no be beholden to someone who has no respect for our Constitution. 84% of North Carolinians believe partisan gerrymandering is UNACCEPTABLE!!!
10/21/25 5:06 AM	Joe Long		This redistricting plan is wrong on so many levels. I will work to support the defeat of any elected official that votes in favor of this plan with my time and financial resources.

10/21/25 5:08 AM	Mes Kimberly Roberts	I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed redistricting map currently under consideration. The process of redrawing district lines should serve the people of North Carolina,Äînot political interests. The proposed map fails to meet that basic democratic standard for several important reasons: 1.Lack of Fair Representation: The proposed districts appear to heavily favor one political party, reducing competitive races and limiting voters,Äô ability to hold elected officials accountable. Every voter in North Carolina deserves an equal voice, and partisan gerrymandering undermines that principle. 2.Community Disruption: The proposed map divides long-standing communities, municipalities, and even counties in ways that weaken local representation. Districts should be drawn to keep communities of interest together, ensuring residents can advocate for their shared needs and priorities effectively. 3.Erosion of Public Trust: When district lines are drawn behind closed doors or based on partisan data, it fosters distrust in government. The people of North Carolina have repeatedly called for a transparent, nonpartisan redistricting process. Continuing to manipulate maps for political gain further damages confidence in our democratic system. 4.Violation of Constitutional and Voting Rights Principles: The North Carolina Constitution guarantees ,Äúfree elections.,Äù Partisan gerrymandering that predetermines outcomes violates both the spirit and intent of that protection. Additionally, minority communities risk losing fair representation if lines are drawn in ways that dilute their voting power. 5.Long-Term Harm to North Carolina,Äôs Future: Fair maps encourage civic engagement and voter participation, while gerrymandered ones breed apathy and cynicism. Our state thrives when everyone,Äôs voice matters equally,Äîurban, rural, Democrat, Republican, and Independent alike. For these reasons, I urge the General Assembly to reject the current redistricting proposal and commit instead to a transparent, bipartisan, and citizen-centered process that reflects the true will of North Carolina voters. Respectfully, Kim Roberts
10/21/25 5:17 AM	Miss Meca Lewis	I am very against or do not want the redistricting maps for our area because it will take away our representation, as being a Democrat and also as being an African American where our votes and voices still count and matter and should continue to be represented by us since I am in the area where it will affect. I am very satisfied with Don Davis representing our area and very strongly feel it should remain that way.
10/21/25 5:18 AM	Elizabeth Trick	There is no need to spend the time and money to do this at this time. Please pass a budget. You're inability to get that resolved is affecting the citizens of NC on a daily basis.
10/21/25 5:24 AM	Jennifer Kelly	Love it! Keep it up. This is what I voted for.
10/21/25 5:30 AM	Tanja Buchanan	This is shameful and cowardly. ,ÄúWe the people,Äù means nothing to you anymore. You don,Äôt care about the people of North Carolina and it,Äôs evident you never did. You could be doing great things for this state. Sadly, the whiff of temporary power and your own fear controls you.
10/21/25 5:32 AM	cheryl thompson	Ways to rig an election: collect data and then carefully utilize computerized data to reconfigure election maps. That way you know the winner far in advance.
10/21/25 5:35 AM	Mrs Alicen Robinson	I disagree with revisiting efforts. I don,Äôt believe this is an attempt to create a fair assessment of our state citizens but instead it is being used as a way of providing a political imbalance. This is not just and I don,Äôt want this to continue!
10/21/25 5:40 AM	Elizabeth Fox	I do not support this redistricting plan. Gerrymandering is unethical and should be illegal. We want a fair and balanced legislative body, not one that chooses their own voters to ensure their voters to avoid losing elections. The people,Äôs voices need to be heard and represented.
10/21/25 5:45 AM	Connie Hochstetler	Gerrymandering is disgraceful!! It shows that Republicans are racists and bigots! Shame on you! Given the choice of being a Republican or being shot, there is no choice
10/21/25 5:50 AM	Whitney Anderson	There has not been enough time for public comment, and the statements you have received opposing this redistricting have been ignored. NC is a purple state. Stop trying to rig it to be red.
10/21/25 5:50 AM	Leah Welsh	Stop. Just stop. Nobody wants this power grab but you. Typical old, white guy mentality. You feel threatened. I get it. But I am a 55 year old career change teacher in DPS. 55 years old and I am a first year teacher getting paid peanuts to help kids against odds YOU CREATED. Education needs more money! I work 80 hours a week and still don't have enough time to get the work needed done. I invite you to come spend a day with me in the classroom or any classroom for that matter. Maybe you might grow a spine in the real trenches.
10/21/25 5:50 AM	Mrs Ann Taylor	North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. Please do not pass the latest maps. A budget for NC still has not been passed. Do your job-stand up for democracy and pass a fair budget for the people of NC where people have affordable health care and cash to pay for food and housing. Thank You in advance for standing up for what is best for the people of NC.

10/21/25 5:53 AM	M J		As a history teacher in North Carolina, I am ashamed that NC is considering redistricting to have a more gerrymandered map. As if our map is not already one of the most gerrymandered in the nation as it is. You should be ashamed of yourselves for considering to make a map that takes away representation from the citizens of this state that pay taxes. This plan is taxation without true representation. I am not only asking but I am begging you to consider the rights that you are considering stripping from half of the voters in our state. This plan is effectively telling me that you do not want half of our citizens to have a say in the government. That is shameful. Our government was not designed this way and you know that. I hope that you will each reconsider this insane plan and vote for democracy. Vote to allow people to have their voices truly heard.
10/21/25 5:53 AM	Ms Mary Tucker		Please consider representing all the people of NC,Ä¶it is your sworn duty.
10/21/25 5:57 AM	Cynthia Carson	Retired High School Teacher	What?!? GOP, you had given no notice of this rushed vote on the redistricting of our PURPLE state These hurried action are another example of your great care for the current federal administration over the needs and wants of your North Carolina constituents. An 11-3 map in favor of Republicans (many of whom are also opposed to this travesty) illustrates the cowards you are.
10/21/25 6:00 AM	Caroline Kenna		I am writing to ask that you refrain from mid-decade redrawing of voting districts in a our state. Gerrymandering violates the core principals of fairness accountability and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and our ability hold our leaders accountable. We may elect leaders under political banners but North Carolina is a purple state you must be careful to protect the People's confidence that once you are elected you will represent ALL North Carolinans and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity and competition--victory earned through ideas and persuasion not though the manipulation of electoral maps. There is bipartisan support for ending the use of gerrymandering to discriminate against voters based on their political party and 76 percent believe that the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/21/25 6:01 AM	Cecilia Redding	Retired	Redistrict the Congressional districts and going after Democratic Congressman Don Davis is despicable. Elected officials should be working on finishing the very late state budget, and working to cover the shortfalls in health insurance and the ability of rural hospitals and rural residents to survive as fallout from the Big Brutal Bill passed by Congress. Stop giving money away to rich people in tax cuts, money they don't need for private schools, and to non-medical anti-abortion clinics, which by the way, can't diagnose real medical problems like ectopic pregnancies (which can kill women and girls).
10/21/25 6:03 AM	Jill Steffey		The proposed non-census-based redistricting for NC is wrong. This timing is not what voters expect and count on.
10/21/25 6:05 AM	Mrs. Jessica Williford		Fair maps make fair elections. Please ensure the redistricting process is transparent, equitable, and rooted in the principle of ‚Äúone person, one vote.‚Äù This may be legal, but it is deeply unethical in spirit or let's call it for what it is "legalized cheating." If politicians have to win this, way, they have already lost.
10/21/25 6:07 AM	Ms Tina Pragel	Retired	Stop gerrymandering. You're showing your fear you can't win any other way.
10/21/25 6:08 AM	Ms Tracy Ross		I do not agree with the redrawing of voting districts in favor of the Republicans. This agregious attempt to ensure only Republicans can be elected as our representatives because they cannot get elected based on their own merits. They do NOT represent me. Thank you, Tracy Ross

10/21/25 6:10 AM	Laurie Chamberlain		Dear Members of the North Carolina General Assembly, I am writing as a concerned citizen to urge you not to move forward with redrawing congressional district lines simply because Donald Trump requested it. Redistricting should be a fair, transparent process driven by data and public interest, not political pressure. Recent reports show that the proposed changes are designed to add another Republican seat to North Carolina‚Äôs congressional delegation. This undermines fair representation and weakens voters‚Äô trust in the integrity of our elections. It also threatens to dilute the voting power of historically Black and Democratic-leaning communities in districts such as the 1st, raising serious concerns about equity and potential violations of federal protections. Moreover, redistricting is typically done once per decade following the census. Making major changes mid-decade, and at the urging of a political figure, breaks from that norm and sends a troubling message that district maps are being used for partisan advantage rather than to serve all North Carolinians. For the sake of fairness, transparency, and democratic integrity, I ask that you reject this effort and instead commit to maintaining a redistricting process that represents every citizen equally, without partisan interference. Sincerely, Laurie Chamberlain 404 Wade St Fuquay Varina
10/21/25 6:15 AM	Jessie Grude		I am writing in strong opposition of redistricting. Such a map fails to represent the diverse political landscape of our state and undermines the very essence of fair representation. This nakedly partisan approach to map-drawing goes against the principles of democracy and fair representation that should guide our electoral process. I urge our congress to put democracy over party.
10/21/25 6:15 AM	Melissa Williamson		I grew up conservative and still holding some conservative values but this attempt at gerrymandering is infuriating and and will cause the Republican Party of NC to lose what little respect anyone has left for them. Republicans would be rioting if the Democrats tried this.
10/21/25 6:15 AM	Tracy Hobgood		Completely opposed and offended by consideration of redistributing to ensure representatives of the Republican Party. All districts should be competitive and the people of NC should be reflected in their elected officials. Shameful to do otherwise.
10/21/25 6:17 AM	Terese Pastrana		Gerrymandering undermines free and fair elections. You know it. How can you sleep at night!? Please. Do the right thing for democracy and for the people of NC. And pay our teachers!
10/21/25 6:18 AM	Ms. Lindsay Noble		You were put in office to do what the people want. 84% of North Carolinians do not want redrawn districts (for a 3rd time!) 70% want the lines drawn fairly without party influence. Listen to your people. Protect the Constitution and the democracy we all hold so dear. No party should dominate especially by way of using malicious tactics such as this. We need checks and balances as the framers intended.
10/21/25 6:18 AM	Dr. Sarah Squire		Gerrymandering is undemocratic and wrong; it‚Äôs an embarrassment to our state. Please be on the right side of history.
10/21/25 6:21 AM	Ashamed Danielle Acevedo		It‚Äôs deeply concerning, outright embarrassing, and shameful that the state legislature in North Carolina is going behind the backs of the voters to gerrymander the congressional districts. North Carolina is already one of the most gerrymandered congressional maps in the nation. I‚Äôm saddened to know that the folks that are supposed to represent ME are doing the dirty bidding of the president behind closed doors. Secret combinations have been condemned in the scriptures, yet these elected officials,√Ämany of whom claim to be Christian,√Åare participating in one as we speak. Allow the will of the people to be heard!!
10/21/25 6:24 AM	Mrs. Barbara Wilson	Chatham County other	Please stop the gerrymandering and vote NO on this bill.
10/21/25 6:24 AM	Sami Schwartz		YOU KNOW YOU WILL LOSE ELECTIONS WITHOUT CHEATING. North Carolina is a purple state. An 11,√ì3 map in a 50,√ì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,‚Äô right to a ,√úfree and fair election.,√ú STOP CHEATING. STOP LYING , DO YOUR JOB TO REPRESENT ALL CITIZENS OF NC (including passing a budget!), and stop supporting this Liar in Chief, convicted felon who sits in the oval office.
10/21/25 6:25 AM	Nc citizen Paulina Carroll	North carolina	A real American does not support a tyrant's agenda. No kings!
10/21/25 6:26 AM	Go NC! Laura Skaff	Citizen	I think it looks our state look silly to have one political party dominate our Congressional delegation, while every statewide race for years has been nearly evenly divided. There is nothing wrong with making our representation look like the population of our great state. I believe that most North Carolinians, being pragmatic and reasonable, and of all political persuasions, would agree on this point.
10/21/25 6:27 AM	Brenda Thrasher		Redistricting should ONLY be allowed after a census and should never be used for political advancement. This is so morally wrong. It makes me be embarrassed to be a North Carolinian. I thought congress worked for the people, not bowing down to one person. Where is the integrity?

10/21/25 6:28 AM	Joseph Welker		I am unaffiliated in my party designation. I have long seen gerrymandering by either side as an affront to our democracy,Ä¶ and the manipulation of districts for political advantage as a way to disenfranchise voters. I long for a political process that is fair for all voters. This redistricting attempt is just the opposite which is why I oppose it.
10/21/25 6:29 AM	Tim Ludwig		I am very opposed to this power grab. I am a long time unaffiliated 67 year old voter from New Bern who has consistently voted for both parties but never again if you follow through with this shameful promise to Trump. This includes never again voting for a republican in my local district if they vote for this.
10/21/25 6:29 AM	John Brown		In favor of redistricting. It would better represent the actual constituency.
10/21/25 6:30 AM	Donna Brown		Yes, I am in favor of redistricting. I believe the new lines would better represent the actual constituency.
10/21/25 6:30 AM	Linda Davenport	retired nurse	Stop gerrymandering! Gerrymandering takes away the votes of all Americans and allows politicians to choose their voters. We want the power to be with the people not a President. Trumps ideas are unAmerican and this act of changing voting districts is at his request not ours. Why aren,Âôt you working on providing Medicaid for North Carolinians that will loose their health coverage instead of this?
10/21/25 6:31 AM	Robert Blumenthal		Politicians should not be selecting their voters. It should be the other way around. Gerrymandering in this country has to stop. It is undemocratic.
10/21/25 6:35 AM	Steve Mecham		I urge you to leave the current legislative and congressional district boundaries unchanged. Redistricting should be done once a decade, based on the census results, not at the whim of the current administration in Washington DC. I oppose this proposal and hope it does not pass.
10/21/25 6:38 AM	Joanna Haymore		State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last. Voters see who you are.
10/21/25 6:38 AM	Ms. Lynda Costagliola		The only way Republicans ,Äúwin,Äù is by cheating! You are no longer hiding your intentions to cheat the good people of NC! You know the ???? is destroying our country! Why are you bending the knee and kissing his arse! No gerrymandering!
10/21/25 6:38 AM	Jane Marsilio		Do not redistrict, it,Äôs wrong. Please represent our state accurately!
10/21/25 6:39 AM	Gerrymandering Kathleen Pories		Please respect our right to have our votes counted in a fair way. To gerrymander even further is to rig our maps and cheat us out of our fair representation. I am firmly opposed to any more gerrymandering than we already have, and if you believe in justice and fairness for all, you all should be too.
10/21/25 6:40 AM	Mr Seth Buckley		Please halt your disenfranchisement schemes, and create a fair maps as prescribed by law based on the census.
10/21/25 6:40 AM	Liliana Martinez		The time and energy spent on further gerrymandering the state of North Carolina is an abuse of power. It is not representative of the will of most North Carolinians. People who should be represented are being silenced.
10/21/25 6:41 AM	Stop gerrymandering Ellen Burnett		Please listen to your constituents. Vote against the new maps. Remember you represent all North Carolinians and support maps that reflect a balanced constituency.
10/21/25 6:41 AM	Mrs Nicole Bohlen		As elected leaders, your duty is to represent the people ,Äî not to choose them. Redrawing districts for political gain undermines trust in democracy. Keep our state lines fair, transparent, and accountable. End gerrymandering and let voters decide their representatives, not the other way around.
10/21/25 6:43 AM	Catherine Maxwell	N/A	I am against the attempt to redistrict two of North Carolina,Äôs congressional districts midway between U.S. Census taking. As a North Carolinian, I believe everyone,Äôs vote should count and that North Carolina voters should choose their elected officials. And I,Äôm not alone ,Äì a recent Republican-leaning polling firm found that 84% of North Carolina voters said gerrymandering is NEVER acceptable. And that includes 78% of North Carolina Republican voters, 85% of North Carolina unaffiliated voters, and 87% of North Carolina Democratic voters. Please vote 'NO' on redistricting these two congressional districts and do what is right and fair by North Carolina voters. Thank you for voting 'NO.'"
10/21/25 6:44 AM	Redrawing the maps Dwayne Brenson		Please do NOT redraw the maps to favor the GOP that is not how a democratic Society work
10/21/25 6:45 AM	Mr. John Ewing, Jr.		North Carolina is already one of the most heavily gerrymandered states in the country. There is no excuse whatsoever for making the situation worse. We need to restore fare maps, not create even more unfair maps.
10/21/25 6:46 AM	Mrs Sharla Coleman		Stop redistricting. 49% of the state did not vote Trump. Who do you represent? Citizens of North Carolina or Trump? It,Äôs time to do the right thing and stop buckling to Trump.
10/21/25 6:47 AM	Maina Geraghty		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/21/25 6:48 AM	We deserve better Kalani McKay	My household	North Carolina,Äôs government has become a disgrace to democratic values. The redrawing of district maps is not governance ,Äî it,Äôs blatant political manipulation. Our so-called representatives act like obedient lapdogs to Donald Trump and the national party machine, putting loyalty to power above loyalty to the people they swore to serve. This corruption isn,Äôt subtle ,Äî it,Äôs deliberate. By carving up districts to silence voters, they,Äôre telling us our voices don,Äôt matter. North Carolinians deserve fair maps, honest representation, and leaders with a spine ,Äî not puppets controlled by a clearly corrupt master.

10/21/25 6:48 AM	Liz Boltz		Stop gerrymandering our political maps!
10/21/25 6:50 AM	Denise Sorin		I oppose the proposed redistricting map. North Carolina is a purple state, and the maps should fairly reflect it. Partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.
10/21/25 6:50 AM	Ms Deborah Charlton		I am totally against the plan to redistrict our state to create another ,ÄúRepublican district,Äù.
10/21/25 6:50 AM	Stop Voter Suppression Jacqueline Barker	NC Voter	Stop trying to take votes away from voters because you are losing ground and want to cheat to keep in power!
10/21/25 6:50 AM	Ms Lisa Pierce		As a Democrat, I feel I have ZERO representation since moving to NC. Redistricting is only supposed to take place after a census to adjust for population movement. It is obvious that all that is happening is a fear that this PURPLE state may actually elect a Democrat to represent the people. Republicans already have gerrymandered a majority of the districts. Leave the map alone. Let the people decide, NOT the politicians.
10/21/25 6:51 AM	Barbara Wilkus		Cheaters! Stop stealing our elections. Repeatedly re-drawing districts to force a Republican win, just because you can at this point, is wrong and destroys our democracy. It begs the question: why don,Äôt you think you have a chance at winning elections based on merit alone? The Republican Party has devolved into a criminal gang that flaunts their majority rule in the face of our sacred laws. They are nothing but immoral thugs and bullies now. Republicans will continue to lose status and approval with the American People and will fail in the end and pay the societal consequences. Do your job and represent ALL of the people, not just those slipping you money.
10/21/25 6:52 AM	Further Gerrymandering Mark Wylam	Citizen	Y,Äôall don,Äôt have the time to pass a budget but found some time to further chop up an already gerrymandered map? Our votes should count!!!
10/21/25 6:53 AM	Laurel Nagle		I am requesting our Senators and Congressmen to act in a fair and responsible way by not altering our voting maps. It is painful enough to see how the White House disrespects so many of the American people, but having NC elected officials back them by treating us the same is unconscionable. Listen to your constituents. Keep our elections fair. Show respect to us through actions. We are watching and this will eventually determine the success of your party. Your loyalty is to the constituents not those sitting in White House sending AI videos dropping feces on the people. Please don,Äôt condone that behavior. Find your way back to a respectable America.She will greet you and allow for a good life for you and our families.
10/21/25 6:53 AM	Heather Warner		This is wrong!!! We don,Äôt want this
10/21/25 6:53 AM	Mr. James Knott	Citizen and taxpayer	I very strongly reject to any further redistricting to favor Republicans. This is abuse, corruption, and an attempt at further consolidation of power especially in this mid-term cycle. Republicans cannot play or win fairly. Negative. Nope. Absolutely not.
10/21/25 6:54 AM	Christy Johnson		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft and a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/21/25 6:55 AM	Kathy Foushee		You should not be redistricting or gerrymandering to get more seats for the republican party. This is a power grab and will only benefit republicans legislators who want to railroad their conservative views and restrictive policies on the general public.
10/21/25 6:56 AM	Anette Kuhn		NC has already been over-gerrymandered, focus on policy instead of redistricting. If either party can't win on policy and communication about it, then do better, don't engage in drawing maps!!!
10/21/25 6:56 AM	Mrs Vicki Morrison		I am requesting our elected officials stop their efforts to re district our voting areas in order to support their party. Instead, I would request they focus on our problems of pollution, crime, infrastructure and stop trying to benefit themselves.
10/21/25 6:56 AM	Becky Aijala		If you are going to redraw maps, you should make them more ,Äî not less ,Äî reflective of who we are as a state. Don,Äôt gerrymander. It,Äôs a disgraceful, childish game. Instead, make your goal to hear the people.
10/21/25 6:57 AM	Stop Gerrymandering James Franco		Many will say it more eloquently than this, but if you further redistrict our state to strengthen republican power, you are cheaters. Not public servants, not legislators - just cheaters, without credibility or honor.
10/21/25 6:58 AM	Ms Anne Geer		I am incensed that you are rushing this immoral redistricting plan through. You are rigging the map so the many NC Democratic voters are not fairly represented. Shame on you! This proposal is unnecessary, rushed and costly. North Carolina has already been redistricted twice since 2020. The public is not being given enough time to consider the proposal and discuss the impact with their representatives. Legislators should focus on passing a state budget instead of a redistricting plan that will likely result in costly litigation!

10/21/25 6:59 AM Karen Chapman	To the Members of the North Carolina General Assembly: The recently announced plan to redraw congressional districts,Äîparticularly the proposal to further divide the state,Äôs historic Black Belt region and alter Congressional District 1,Äîraises grave concerns about fairness, representation, and the integrity of our democratic process. While the legislature has the constitutional authority to establish district lines, that authority carries an equally important duty: to ensure fair and equal representation for all voters. The stated intent to create a map designed to secure additional Republican seats in Congress undermines public confidence in that duty. When the redistricting process is driven by partisan goals rather than by principles of equality and fairness, it weakens the very foundation of representative government. The proposed dismantling of the 1st Congressional District threatens to dilute the voting power of Black North Carolinians and dismantle decades of progress in securing equitable political representation. This district has long been a symbol of inclusion and a safeguard for communities that have historically faced systemic disenfranchisement. To now divide and weaken it in pursuit of partisan advantage is both morally wrong and legally questionable. Beyond the racial and political implications, this plan reflects misplaced priorities. Instead of addressing the pressing needs of North Carolina,Äîsuch as strengthening public education, improving infrastructure, expanding healthcare access, and supporting working families,Äîour leaders appear more focused on manipulating the electoral map to entrench their own power. Such actions send a clear message to voters: that political advantage takes precedence over the people,Äôs voice. The people of North Carolina deserve a transparent and impartial redistricting process. Polls consistently show that an overwhelming majority of residents,Äîacross political lines,Äîsupport independent or nonpartisan redistricting commissions. The legislature should respect this consensus and commit to a process that restores public trust. I urge you to halt any effort to redraw congressional districts for partisan gain. Instead, prioritize a fair, transparent, and inclusive process
10/21/25 6:59 AM Tyler Barker	I am deeply disgusted and outraged by the proposed North Carolina redistricting map. Over the last six years, we have seen numerous changes that have consistently undermined fair representation. Why do Republican lawmakers keep redrawing the lines? Is it because fair maps might threaten guaranteed victories? This repeated manipulation disadvantages voters and erodes the foundation of our democracy. Maps should reflect the will of the people, not the self-interest of one political party. We must demand nonpartisan, free, and fair district maps that give every voter an equal voice. Always remember: what goes around, comes around. There will come a time when Democrats regain control, and one can only hope that fair representation will then be the standard. The redistricting process should serve the voters, not a political agenda. Our democracy depends on it.
10/21/25 7:00 AM Mrs. Mary Whitenack	I do not agree with redistricting our state. I do not agree with President Trump's agenda and his call to states for redistricting to throw advantage to Republicans. I want Republicans to stand up to the Authoritarian that is creating chaos in our country and around the world. I want Republicans to stand for the Constitution.
10/21/25 7:01 AM Patricia Brownd	My husband and I are vehemently opposed to the Republican,Äôs immoral plans for changing our voting districts. We will see you at the polls.

10/21/25 7:02 AM	Kimberly Landaverde		It is clear from the official commentary that the goal of the proposed map is to add another safely Republican congressional seat. A redistricting process that begins with ‚Äúhow can we keep/gain seats for one party,‚Äù undermines the principle of free and fair elections. When district lines are drawn for partisan advantage rather than community integrity or geographic logic, voters lose meaningful voice and choice. The proposed map shifts multiple counties (e.g., Beaufort, Craven, Wayne, Wilson) between districts in a way that fractures shared local economic, historical, and cultural ties. These disruptions hamper meaningful constituent-representation relationships and reduce accountability of elected officials to the people they serve. The law requires that the redistricting bodies follow open procedures, allow robust public input, and draw lines based on legitimate criteria, not mere political advantage. When voters perceive that maps are drawn to predetermine outcomes rather than reflect their interests, trust in our democratic institutions erodes. ChatGPT 5 You said: The NC House Select Committee on Redistricting and Senate Elections Committee are accepting public comments on a proposed Congressional district plan. Help me write some well thought out comments against republican gerrymandering ChatGPT said: You're giving feedback on a new version of ChatGPT. Which response do you prefer? Responses may take a moment to load. ChatGPT Response 1 Here‚Äôs a well-thought-out public comment you can submit to the North Carolina House Select Committee on Redistricting & the North Carolina Senate Elections Committee opposing the current proposed congressional map. Feel free to modify it to reflect your own tone, local concerns, or additional points.
10/21/25 7:02 AM	Mrs. Dorothy Debnam	Prime Therapeutics	We are in a middle of a shutdown? Congress is getting paid but Traffic controllers are not being paid. Federal workers are being laid off. The Republicans wanting to redistricting for political gain, not for the people. God sees their motives. Republicans are wanting to follow what Texas is trying to do. To follow Behind them, just to please the President and to gain more seats in Congress with a vision to serve the Billionaires and not working people. What's going on now makes me believing the ones elected for office, have forgotten what they sworn to do and just going sign into law a Redistricting map so they can continue their agenda to go back to Jim Crow. God is not please.
10/21/25 7:02 AM	Redistricting Betsey Spencer		It says something that the republicans seem to understand that their policies are so unpopular with the public that they must rig the system to win elections. As an unaffiliated voter I am opposed to any gerrymandering by either side. It's time to ditch the electoral college and go with the popular vote.
10/21/25 7:03 AM	Mrs Meleata Pinto		You are abdicating your responsibility to foster a democracy in our state by gerrymandering voting districts. All citizens have a right to vote! Stop trying to limit our power in the government and do the job you were elected to do. Where is your integrity??
10/21/25 7:04 AM	Michelle McArdle	Citizen of USA	I‚Äôm opposed to districting and gerrymandering. I feel it interferes with my rights as a citizen and voids my vote.
10/21/25 7:04 AM	Mr. Patrick Hall		I believe that there is no needs for redrawing the legislative maps in North Carolina. The areas that the Trumpster Republicans believe should redrawn are not Republican areas. Just because you put it on a map does not make it so.
10/21/25 7:05 AM	Judith Bush		I have been appalled by the amount of gerrymandering in this state. It is no longer an effort to make sure people have representation. Instead it's a minority grab for power. Please do not support these new maps.
10/21/25 7:05 AM	Evelyn Lomasney		As a registered republican I am 1000% against this. I respect states rights and clearly the Republican Party has lost its way. I will not vote for any republican candidate that supports a presidents agenda OVER its constituents.
10/21/25 7:06 AM	Mrs Judy Ellis		We are already gerrymandered to the hilt. Let the people decide what they want. One vote for each person.
10/21/25 7:07 AM	Martin Buchanan		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11‚Äì3 map in a 50‚Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù And, there was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising.
10/21/25 7:07 AM	Mrs Cynthia Lodestro		Voter suppression, plain and simple; that is what this is. You are not Americans!! You do not believe in democracy and you don‚Äôt believe in the rule of law. Disgrace.
10/21/25 7:07 AM	Ms Ann Hord-Heatherley		I am absolutely opposed to further gerrymandering in our state. The citizens of NC are capable of choosing their representatives without interference, and should be permitted to do so.

10/21/25 7:07 AM	Sharon Reed		To the Members of the North Carolina Senate, I am writing to express my deep concern and strong opposition to the proposed congressional redistricting map currently under consideration. This map is a blatant example of gerrymandering,Äîan undemocratic tactic that undermines the foundational principle of fair representation. The redistricting plan is clearly designed to entrench partisan power rather than reflect the will of the people. By targeting North Carolina,Äôs 1st Congressional District,Äîhistorically a swing district with significant Black representation,Äîand replacing Democratic-leaning counties with Republican strongholds, this map manipulates boundaries to silence voters and diminish electoral competition. It is especially troubling that the new map removes Congressman Don Davis,Äô home county and shifts the district to favor one party, effectively disenfranchising thousands of voters1. This is not just unfair,Äîit,Äôs cheating. The process has been rushed, opaque, and devoid of meaningful public engagement in the communities most affected. The fact that this is the seventh redistricting since 2016 is a clear sign of abuse of power2. Furthermore, the motivation behind this redraw has been openly stated: to secure an additional Republican seat and protect President Trump,Äôs agenda3. This is not about serving North Carolinians,Äîit,Äôs about serving a national political strategy. That is unacceptable. North Carolina is a politically diverse state. Our congressional map should reflect that diversity, not erase it. I urge you to reject this proposal and instead support a fair, transparent, and nonpartisan redistricting process,Äîone that respects the voices of all voters, not just those in power. Sincerely, Sharon Reed Holly Springs, NC
10/21/25 7:08 AM	Dee Cash		Partisan deadlock is deadly! Further gerrymandering of the districts is making the problem worse. DON,ÄôT DO IT!!! We MUST find ways to negotiate solutions.
10/21/25 7:12 AM	Wendy Mathes		We do not need redistricting. What we need is fair elections. What we need is fair representation. I do not support restricting!
10/21/25 7:14 AM	Beverly Powell		It,Äôs so sad that this is the only way that the Republicans feel that they can win, but we are lead to believe that ,Äúwe the people ,Äú have free and fair elections. This gerrymandering has to end and the six conservatives sitting on the Supreme Court must be removed due to their alignment with an incompetent and corrupt man.
10/21/25 7:14 AM	Susan Branch	N/A	84% of NC residents are against partisan gerrymandering. NC is a purple state and the proposed maps will deny 50% of NC voters their right to representation of their choice.
10/21/25 7:15 AM	Michelle Heavener		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. I can,Äôt believe we have to reiterate this time and time again. Please take this to the poll, ask the people what THEY want. Thank you for your time, Michelle Heavener
10/21/25 7:19 AM	Molly Fullwood	Private citizen	This is not OK. Until Republicans can figure out how to win an election fairly instead of cherry picking to guarantee elections, how about doing right by your constituents and being good politicians? Gerrymandering is not admirable. And Donald j Trump should not be rewarded.
10/21/25 7:19 AM	Gwen Diehn		We're ridiculously gerrymandered already so it should be one person one vote!
10/21/25 7:19 AM	Mrs Allison McDonough		This is my 2nd comment I'm leaving because the further this goes on, the angrier I become. The NC GOP is aligning themselves with a multiple occasion failed businessman, convicted felon, most likely demented, wanna-be dictator. A man who has allowed the Department of Homeland Security to purchase Kristi Noem not one, but TWO, private jets while WNC still suffers from the effects of Hurricane Helene. He is literally and metaphorically destroying the white house for a ballroom for his billionaire friends (which by the way, doesn't include any of you) while millions of Americans lose healthcare and SNAP. Is this the legacy you want to attach yourself to?
10/21/25 7:19 AM	Ms Jennifer Griffith		As a North Carolina resident, I'm writing to remind our state legislators that you were elected to work for and represent the people of our state. Your job is to do what is best for us, your employers who provide your paychecks, and not do the bidding of outside forces. That includes the bidding of other elected officials outside our state, such as the president. Our voting power has already been diluted by previously gerrymandered districts; to further dilute it by catering to the whims of the president is unconscionable, and would be a dereliction of your duties. I urge you to vote against any proposals or legislation which would redistrict our state specifically to gain seats for any particular party. Remember that you work for us, not for the president.

10/21/25 7:19 AM	Tiffany Walker		North Carolina is one of only four states in America without a state budget, and it is an insult to the citizens of our state that lawmakers in NC are prioritizing rigging a congressional map over meeting the needs of the people by passing a budget. Most notably, the General Assembly has never voluntarily redrawn congressional districts mid-decade for purely political reasons. It‚Äôs always been because of a court order. Not because Trump demanded it. This is a new low for the General Assembly. This plan by Republican legislative leaders to further rig our state‚Äôs already extremely gerrymandered voting maps is a slap in the face of the people of North Carolina. Do not gerrymander our maps!
10/21/25 7:21 AM	Annette Green		For the love of God, this amazing country, and this incredible state. Please do not gerrymander the district maps any more than you already have. This country is built on free and fair elections!
10/21/25 7:22 AM	Dr Barbara Phelan		84% of North Carolinians across all political leanings are opposed to the current redistricting efforts. You took an oath to represent your constituents. We do not want this. Listen to and vote with our voices, not your party leaders.
10/21/25 7:23 AM	Mrs Susan Robertson		It is NOT right to redistrict in between census times unless court ordered. It is NOT right to gerrymander. Do not change the lines just to cheat in the election process
10/21/25 7:23 AM	Ms. Elizabeth Forsythe		A healthy democracy depends on making it easy for all eligible voters to cast their ballots.
10/21/25 7:24 AM	Mr. Tom Forsythe		In a democracy, it is incumbent on all of us to make it as easy as possible for all eligible voters to cast their ballots.
10/21/25 7:24 AM	Molly Fullwood	Private Citizen	And further, typical NCGOP, worrying about nonsense instead focusing on important things. Last I heard, we don‚Äôt have a state budget!!!! But we are concerned about giving Donald Trump help with an extra congressional seat. I cannot, in good faith, support GOP at all. The party is misguided and priorities are wrong.
10/21/25 7:28 AM	T P		I am an independent and appalled but not surprised by your party's (Republican) efforts to redistrict NC maps. I absolutely oppose this redistricting and efforts to oust a colored member of Congress. You treat voting like a game of chess and move all the pieces in place to make your wins successful. It's a sad an unethical attempt to keep NC more red.
10/21/25 7:28 AM	Pamela Van Hart		This redistricting should not be occurring this year. The process has always been every 10 years after the census has been calculated. The NC legislature should be working on issues most impacting the people of North Carolina; education, health care and continued repairs in Western NC due to Hurricane Helene. The voters of NC were not given the chance to vote on whether or not this redistricting should occur in less than every ten years.
10/21/25 7:29 AM	Mrs Kathy Sink	Retired educator	Without free elections, democracy is DEAD! Please stop this unconscionable power grab.
10/21/25 7:31 AM	Dr Cassandra Cantrell		Do not allow redistricting! It‚Äôs an underhanded way of ‚Äúcheating‚Äù. It is not fair and like lobbying, is not acceptable.
10/21/25 7:32 AM	Suzanne Lucey		Tell me you are blatantly cheating without saying it. This redistricting is making a mockery of our state and democracy!
10/21/25 7:32 AM	Mrs Christy Thompson		I am deeply angered by the legislature is rushing to gerrymander our state even further. There has been no time for public comment, because you know the vast majority of North Carolinians are opposed to it. This is not a red state. You are planning to disenfranchise even more of your constituents. The No Kings protest on Saturday had 7 million people. Thousand turned up in cities and small towns all over the state to show you that we don't want Trump's gerrymandering and agenda. Listen to your constituents. Stop this madness.
10/21/25 7:32 AM	Dr Jan Sweet Freeman	Retired	An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election,‚Äù and no one asked for this. Why not concentrate on a bipartisan budget solution and not take up valuable time in an unworthy activity. Don‚Äôt bend the knee.
10/21/25 7:32 AM	Ms. Nancy Novell	None	THIS IS A BAD PROCESS ? There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising. BAD POLITICS ? North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11‚Äì3 map in a 50‚Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/21/25 7:32 AM	Daniel Eastham		This state is already politically mis-represented and the proposed redistricting gerrymander will only make it worse. Please do the right thing and stop the gerrymander.
10/21/25 7:32 AM	Valerie Heiney		I am opposed to this racist and illegitimate power grab. You do not have a mandate to ignore the millions of North Carolinians who did not vote for convicted felon Donald Trump. All citizens of North Carolina deserve representation. District lines should be drawn by non partisan committees with citizen participation.
10/21/25 7:33 AM	CMSgt, USAF-Retired William Arcuri		I am staunchly opposed to redrawing the district map in NC. A representative democracy only works if the power of each vote is equal and not diminished through gerrymandering. I call on elected officials to resist the self-serving process of gerrymandering and represent all North Carolinians in their district, not just those of the same party affiliation or ethnic background.

10/21/25 7:34 AM	Dr Margaret Barnes	NA	As an unaffiliated voter I strongly oppose the NC GOP's capitulation to Trumps power grab.. Stop being enablers of a grossly undemocratic action. DO NOT REDISTRICT!! My vote will be strongly influenced by the state GOP's actions this week.
10/21/25 7:34 AM	Gary Ellis		Gerrymandering is an admission a Party is unable to win elections where voters are organized in rational voting districts. Control, not representative government, is the purpose; it makes our tradition of ‚Äúone person, one vote,Äù nothing more than a lie; it supposes that power is the only purpose. North Carolina is not Texas,Ã¶or California. Despite political polarization, we are still a state where respect for each other is alive; this is a declaration we are not different. Don‚Äôt do this.
10/21/25 7:34 AM	Laurie Cochran		How can an election be fair if the outcome is predetermined by redrawing district lines? I completely oppose the current effort to redistrict in an effort to gain one more Republican seat. Let the people of North Carolina have a true representational democracy by giving a fair chance to varying points of view. How about a nonpartisan group to draw the lines?
10/21/25 7:35 AM	John Graham		I DO NOT support any attempt to redraw congressional district lines solely in an effort to gerrymander more votes in a particular district for any one party nor to attempt to dilute the strength of the voters in any given district. LEAVE REDISTRICTING FOR THE NEXT CENSUS! Stop trying to prop up a fragile federal government that threatens the state sovereignty of North Carolina.
10/21/25 7:35 AM	Lynn Watson		With all the critical issues facing your constituents in NC today, including adopting a fair budget, assistance for those still impacted by Hurricane Helene in WNC, a safety net for children and their families as they lose SNAP and WIC benefits, and more, it is offensive and deeply disappointing to me that you are hastily meeting to address Donald Trump's concerns instead of those of your constituents in NC. You were elected to represent the people of our state and right now, we need your bipartisan efforts to meet OUR needs. Step back and think about how you want history to remember YOU at this moment -- as one who respected the purpose of a representational government or one one who hacked away at democracy, solely for political gain and favor. We will remember and I pray you will stand up for all of us and support our state and our nation as we all face down the threat of presidential overreach and authoritarian policies. I thank you for your service and trust the goodness of your heart and conscience to lead you to responsible action and reject the redistricting of our state in such a rushed, biased and vindictive manner.
10/21/25 7:35 AM	Gillian Hardy		Please do not allow this brazen cheating.... each nc citizens deserves a vote. No cheaters!
10/21/25 7:35 AM	Mr Dustin Heimeyer		NC and the current GOP leadership have already become a joke. This blatant and obvious fraud of redistricting NC is doing nothing to help NC. In fact, you will see yourself lose seats over time as its becoming even more clear to even your constituents that nothing the GOP does is in their interests. From jobs to healthcare.
10/21/25 7:35 AM	Julie Oster		What you are attempting to do to gain a Republican seat is shameful and likely illegal. You have already been to court for gerrymandering, why are you doing this again? It is apparent you care more about Trump and power than you do about representing the people of North Carolina. You all took an oath and these actions are a direct contradiction of that oath. I hope you are thinking about the future repercussions of your choice to bow to Trump rather than representing the people of NC.
10/21/25 7:36 AM	Ms. Sandy Spiegel		I believe your redistricting efforts are not good for Democracy and not good for the voters in North Carolina. I would expect that leaders would stand up for what our country has aimed for - Please do not support this redistrict effort.
10/21/25 7:36 AM	Frances Haman		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising. This must be stopped!!!!
10/21/25 7:36 AM	Roshani Patel		The congressional redistricting bill is a map that undermines the votes of half of North Carolina citizens, promotes political dysfunction with further unfair division within our democracy, and violates voter trust. Unity will always win out over division, but efforts like this to rig the system continue to undermine our democracy and divide our country. Let the people vote in fair elections and decide their representatives instead of rigging the elections through gerrymandered maps!
10/21/25 7:37 AM	Erin Bronk	None	The proposed redistricting is completely contrary to the wishes of NC voters. The Republican Party represents a minority of voters in our state (less than 1/3) and apparently is of the opinion that they should make up over 3/4 of the general assembly. This is only even possible because of prior gerrymandering. It disenfranchises voters and assures that their votes don‚Äôt count. Our state government should work to assure the highest possible participation in our voting process and should seek to follow the wishes of the constituents that they reputedly serve. Partisan gerrymandering should be illegal. It is definitely immoral. The proponents of redistricting should be ashamed of themselves. Since when does the historically honorable general assembly of the state of NC take orders from a President? Thank you for accepting my comments.
10/21/25 7:37 AM	Margaret Hrushesky	Citizen	76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/21/25 7:37 AM	no new redistricting A. L. Boggan		If a party can‚Äôt win on the issues, it changes its stances rather than cheating to win. You took an oath to fight for the people of North Carolina, not to fight for Donald Trump. Districts are already Gerrymandered now. Do your job and pass a budget. History will remember what you do here. Support democracy.

10/21/25 7:37 AM	Ms. Nicole Wolf-Camplin	None	Stop gerrymandering! Rushing to appease President Trump and play ‚Äúparty over state,Äù is a clear message that NC legislative priorities are not focused on citizens. An 11‚Äì3 map in a 50‚Äì50 state is simply vote theft. NC voters need an non-partisan commission determining districts every census, not this constant shell game.
10/21/25 7:40 AM	Pamela Hughes		I oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina‚Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Instead of kowtowing to Donald Trump and going against the people you represent, you should be working on passing a state budget.
10/21/25 7:40 AM	No Rigged Maps Emily Powell		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11‚Äì3 map in a 50‚Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/21/25 7:41 AM	Britni Grimes		A redraw of a 2 year old map is not necessary and is only being done for political gain. I do not support this. NC is a solidly purple state and as such, the current representation of 10 R to 4 D is unbalanced. A shift to 11R and 3D further distorts reality of what NC residents really want. By prioritizing a map redraw that Trump has requested and NOT PASSING A BUDGET, you are both ignoring your jobs and bending toward unconstitutionality. Please do your jobs and leave the map alone. Too many NC residents need Medicaid, support from Helene, housing, to not be furloughed and to have a functioning State government in the midst of the Federal government shutdown for you to be working on maps instead of working on a solution to these problems. Maybe if you were doing your actual jobs, you would let feel the need to redrawn the maps to ensure you don‚Äôt lose seats in the next election. Gerrymandering is not the solution and maps shouldn‚Äôt be drawn by NCGA anyway. Create a bipartisan committee and have set times when maps are re-evaluated rather than take this up on a whim with little notice. It requires far more notice for a City Council agenda item so you all know that what you are doing is backhanded and unpopular. Start representing your constituents!
10/21/25 7:42 AM	Theresa Luke		I am a Raleigh, North Carolina resident of almost 30 years now and I am deeply saddened by the continued efforts to gerrymander the district maps by both Republicans and Democrats. We are a purple state, and our districts should reflect that. Our government should be non-partison, no matter what political party they belong to and make decisions based on transparency, honesty, and morality. We need critical thinkers in times like this, people who hold themselves to high standards! Please don't pass these re-districting maps that are just plain bad politics!
10/21/25 7:42 AM	Fair representation Denver Crites		We deserve fair representation in NC.
10/21/25 7:42 AM	Lori Nicholson		How about a law be introduced saying neither party can gerrymander? This is not ok.
10/21/25 7:42 AM	Kay Goldstein	Private citizen	I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode ANY North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. These sort of laws will undermine and distort fair elections for decades to come. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. Please
10/21/25 7:44 AM	Laurel Alexander		Redistricting should be done to make this more fair, not to further gerrymander our state. Many of you call yourself Christians, so do what is actually Christlike; be fair. Stop using our government for your own gain and do what is right for ALL the people.
10/21/25 7:45 AM	Mrs Christina Lingley		You are stealing the voice of the voters for your own self gain and power hungry egos. I DO NOT support these maps and these unconstitutional actions.
10/21/25 7:45 AM	Erik Johnson	A state resident	Go back to the drawing board and look at a true fair and balanced map. Your corruption, racism, and power grab is so openly corrupt it makes me ashamed to consider myself a North Carolinian. You do not represent my best interests, nor the public as a whole, with the work you have done.
10/21/25 7:46 AM	Elizabeth Button		Voting rights and districts should be protected in our state vs rigging districts in order to gain seats. Instead of doing what's right by the voters in our state, you are capitulating to the whims of DJT. Do the right thing by using an independent source to draw district maps fairly.
10/21/25 7:46 AM	Phyllis Jacobs		Tired of being part of the playbook for gerrymandering. Republicans want to cram down our throats their agenda and beliefs no matter what we think. Vote NO!
10/21/25 7:46 AM	Dr. Alan Hollister		I oppose redistricting and a further "gerrymandering" of voting districts in North Carolina. This proposed redistricting is deeply undemocratic and denies the citizens of our state the representation that accurately reflects their opinions. I urge all members of the North Carolina assembly to reject this partisan assault on our democracy.

10/21/25 7:46 AM	The Rev. Sarah Ball-Damberg		I am writing in opposition of the proposed redrawing of North Carolina‚Äôs congressional districts. This proposed gerrymandering will do nothing to end the destructive partisan divide in this state and this country, and it is blatantly anti-democratic. I expect North Carolina‚Äôs House and State Representatives to be elected on the basis of their ideas and policies, not on partisan power grabs. In the interest of the people of North Carolina and for their sake, I urge the House and Senate to pursue and maintain fair and legally defensible voting districts in North Carolina. Vote no on the proposed redistricting map.
10/21/25 7:47 AM	Philippe Deguise		This proposal is an outrage and a theft. That anyone is even considering this in a democracy is a sign of how corrupt Republicans have become. It is simply on American and on patriotic. It should not be passed.
10/21/25 7:47 AM	Ms Laurie Narducci		I support the work you are doing to fairly align the voter maps. I have no sympathy for the power hungry hate and violence supporting TDS suffering NC Democrats.
10/21/25 7:48 AM	Ronda Swaney		The people should get to choose their representatives. The representatives shouldn't get to choose their people. Knock it off with this crap. Trump won't be president forever, God willing. Stop trying to suck up to him. I suggest the Republicans in our state rediscover their morality and civic duty. You may get wins in the short run, but the people will get tired of it and of you. You can't gerrymander loyalty or popularity.
10/21/25 7:48 AM	Jessica Guice-Albritton	Constituent, Mother, Public Servant	Did you enter into public service for the power grab or to represent the interests of North Carolinians? The majority of us want an elected body that plays fair. Please vote with your conscience and against the redistricting.
10/21/25 7:49 AM	Retired teacher Betty France	Democratic party	I do not agree with remapping. It takes away our voting power and gives us less representation.
10/21/25 7:49 AM	Mr DARRIN STRUNK	Veteran	Why are we doing this? To serve your constituents? No, to serve the Trump organization. That is not why you are in your role. Up until nine months ago, I was center right, but it has become blatantly obvious that this is about control and power, not the wishes of North Carolinians. To unilaterally do this is wrong and you know it is wrong. Unfortunately, being wrong is no longer a concern for the Republican Party. Seeing what you can get away with has become the Republican Parties creed. Not what is right, not what makes this country great but what gives you the most power. Do not do this. It is wrong, regardless of how you spin it. You know how this started.
10/21/25 7:49 AM	STOP STEALING OUR VOICE Anastasia Trueman		You have already gerrymandered this state more than any other state in our union! NC has a voter base of 50% Republican and 50% Democrat. That means that the representation SHOULD allow for a 7 and 7 split. Republicans already having 10 seats AND doing a redistricting to add another at the behest of a wannabe dictator is a blatant power grab through NO LAWFUL REASON. This is reducing democrat representation to LESS THAN 1/4 when they are 1/2 the population of NC. I urge you to FOLLOW your oath. And if you refuse, we will work to vote for those who are willing to be a representative of ALL North Carolinians.
10/21/25 7:49 AM	Robert Dixon	None	Partisan gerrymandering by either party is wrong and violates the concept of equal protection under the law. North Carolina is composed of both Republican and Democrat-leaning voters and all voters deserve representatives of their political views.
10/21/25 7:49 AM	Mr Caleb Pusey	Caleb Lantz Pusey	76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/21/25 7:50 AM	Elizabeth Moorefield		I am a working class mother who loves her state. Your constituents want to live in a state with FAIR district maps. Gerrymandering is wrong and every single one of you knows that. I,Âôve been a careered organizer and have worked on countless campaigns, I have had to study these maps over our history. Rigged maps are a stain on that history and our future. Do your part to not bring shame to our state and vote against the unfair redrawing of our Congressional district maps. Thank you.
10/21/25 7:50 AM	Bad faith politics James Luke		I am an independent voter, I vote for the best candidate. Redrawing these maps is not what North Carolina is all about. The voters traditionally vote 50/50 Democrat Republican. Gerrymandering these maps goes against the very spirit and heart of North Carolina. To blatantly call out supporting Donald Trump's mandates goes against the very soul of the cooperation that we show in the great state of North Carolina. We need fair and equal elections in our home state. Redrawing these maps is a slap in the face to every voter and every independent voter like myself will remember this when it comes time to go to the polls.
10/21/25 7:50 AM	Sheila Miles		I am absolutely against the proposed gerrymandering by redrawing the Congressional map. This is blatant corruption, consolidating Republican power by distorting districts to artificially maintain a majority. This action is anti-American and fascist at its core and will destroy our state. You report to the people of North Carolina, and not the incumbent in the White House. I,Äôm calling on you to focus on issues that directly affect North Carolinians,Âô everyday lives, instead of wasting precious time and taxpayer dollars to further gerrymander our congressional districts, which are already among the most gerrymandered in the country.
10/21/25 7:51 AM	Cheyenne Murphy		The people of North Carolina deserve to be fairly and accurately represented. This state is a widely diverse place, with rural and urban settings, with a variety of racial and ethnic backgrounds, with affluent and struggling areas. Such an overwhelming diversity translates to the population,Âôs political standpoints. Trading precincts around to favor Republicans in all but a few districts is thoroughly corrupt. Represent the good people of this fine state.
10/21/25 7:51 AM	Do not take away our vote Nicholas Vincent		I strongly oppose the effort to restrict an already hight gerrymandered congressional map. This is unacceptable and un American. Free and FAIR elections are a backbone of this country. Doing this would strip that away.

10/21/25 7:52 AM	Rev. Dr. Sally Harbold	citizen retired	You are blatantly stealing votes. What is happening now is criminal. You are joining with our felon president and breaking the laws of the constitution yourself. Please find your own heart and soul and stop this illegal, immoral redistricting gerrymander. We are all watching and pulling for the righteousness of God and the mercy of God to direct your hearts and souls.
10/21/25 7:52 AM	Mrs. Carol Mehl		I am NOT in favor of redistricting & further gerrymandering our voting maps.
10/21/25 7:52 AM	Bettina Freese		Do not let the Republicans cheat us out of our voices!! Gerimandering is yet another huge step toward manipulating a system in which trump will remain in control!
10/21/25 7:53 AM	Paula Rothenberg		This is politically motivated & not needed, our government needs to focus on issues for NC residents.
10/21/25 7:53 AM	Disenfranchising Voters Josh Brown	Just me, concerned citizen	I,Äôm against redistricting in North Carolina because I believe it undermines fair representation and weakens our democracy. Over the past decade, our state has redrawn congressional maps multiple times, often in ways that benefit the party in power rather than the people. One of the most troubling examples is the proposed shift in District 1, which would dilute the voting power of Black and minority communities,Äîmaking it harder for them to elect candidates who truly represent their interests. To me, redistricting is a tool for politicians to choose their voters instead of voters choosing their leaders. That,Äôs not how democracy is supposed to work. When maps are drawn to entrench political power, it erodes public trust and silences voices that deserve to be heard. Without independent oversight, these decisions are driven by partisan goals, not fairness or equity. In short, I see redistricting in North Carolina as a cynical power grab that disenfranchises voters and threatens the integrity of our electoral system.
10/21/25 7:53 AM	Amy anderson		What a shady process and waste of time. Focus on the needs on N.C. and not on you political career. The folks who redrew the maps should be fired and ashamed. Please vote against gerrymandering
10/21/25 7:54 AM	Elizabeth Hopp		I strongly oppose redrawing the congressional map as is currently proposed. Our congressional maps have already been redrawn repeatedly. I furthermore feel a standard grid should be used to determine districts. Politicians are simply picking their voters. I will not vote for any congressman that supports this redrawing.
10/21/25 7:54 AM	No more gerrymandering!! Shannon Bueker		No more unfair redistricting! No following Trump's demands! What about true representation of North Carolina voters? What about Black representation? If people want this, why not ask us? Why not have a fair election? Why manipulate the districts? Are you worried about how unpopular this administration's behavior is? Well, it is!! We want change. If you can't be true to NC, then maybe you are not the best representative. Thank you. Shannon Bueker
10/21/25 7:54 AM	Ms Sandra Still		Stop this blatant, sickening power grab!
10/21/25 7:54 AM	Dr Susan Allen		Restoring fair and civilized government to our state and country is URGENT. We will write and call and rally and vote as often as possible snd necessary to restore fair elections and allow all voices to be heard. DO NOT LET THIS UNFAIR REDISTRICTING HAPPEN. IF ANY MAPS ARE REDRAWN, THEY MUST BE DONE BY INDEPENDENT PARTIES AND MEANS.
10/21/25 7:55 AM	Dr. Katherine Freeman		Do not pass this racist, antidemocratic gerrymandering proposal. This uses deception and trickery to silence a large percentage of the N.C. population. Voting should accurately represent all the voters and should not be used to predetermine the outcome. That is not a democracy.
10/21/25 7:55 AM	Dr. Nancy Bragg	Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Asheville	I am one of the 7 million people who rallied for democracy on Saturday. It was so refreshing to see ordinary people of all parties concerned about democracy, which many of us had taken for granted. I believe that in a democracy every vote should count and every candidate should have a fair chance of winning an election. I also believe that our representatives should listen to their constituents and take our voices into consideration when voting on gerrymandered maps. Please do not vote for the new map!
10/21/25 7:56 AM	SHARON VANORD		I am opposed the gerrymander in general and feel that districts should be created by an apolitical committee and once established should not be changed at the whim of the current party that is in power. Currently, I am opposed to the attempt of the Republican controlled government to change congressional districts so that they are gaining an advantage. I believe strongly that our State government officials should be elected by the votes of the citizens of NC, not elected by shifting districts around to give them the advantage and the votes they need.
10/21/25 7:57 AM	Gary Filippi		This is wrong. In a state with nearly even numbers of Democrats and Republicans, the GA has already overstepped the bounds of fairness in elections. Enough is enough. And I did not vote for Trump and I oppose his agenda and I expect my voice to be heard and my vote to count.
10/21/25 7:57 AM	Linda Emmerich		The GOP desire to steal elections will certainly backfire because it is wrong on every level. Sadly you know this fact and don,Äôt seem to care. Following the devil will only get you burned. This is the state that repeatedly votes for democrat governors. There are more NC residents that care about the people in our state. Shame on all of the members that don,Äôt support the people. We will not be silenced.

10/21/25 7:57 AM	Chad Eby		Just when I thought the NCGOP couldn't make themselves look worse than they did during the LAST gerrymander. You will live to regret this decision. And no, that is not a physical threat, it's a political one, and that's all you care about. And where's our budget, since you have the whole damn legislature stolen? What's your excuse for that? Yeah, it's pretty hard to put a budget together when you're f--king everyday North Carolinans while not forcing the rich and powerful to carry their fair share of the weight.
10/21/25 7:57 AM	Jennie Rhyne		I deplore you to be fair, reasonable and equitable with map redistricting for Democrat and Republican seats. North Carolina is a ‚Äúpurple state,Äù, needs to remain purple and the proposed redistricting map is anything but. An 11-3 map in a 50-50 state is political theft with roughly half of North Carolinians voting Democrat and roughly half Republican. Republicans 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voter‚Äôs right to a free and fair elections in the future. Make it be known, North Carolinians know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they‚Äôd say NO. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is UNACCEPTABLE. Stop the steal now!
10/21/25 7:58 AM	Peter Grimes		The redistricting is an abuse of power, showing that the NC GOP fears letting the voters in an already heavily gerrymandered state speak to their concerns. You intend to dilute voices of opposition. It‚Äôs revolting, spineless, and anti-democracy.
10/21/25 7:58 AM	Maritza Stutts		No, to redistricting. Thank you.
10/21/25 7:59 AM	Charles Rhyne		I deplore you to be fair, reasonable and equitable with map redistricting for Democrat and Republican seats. North Carolina is a ‚Äúpurple state,Äù, needs to remain purple and the proposed redistricting map is anything but. An 11-3 map in a 50-50 state is political theft with roughly half of North Carolinians voting Democrat and roughly half Republican. Republicans 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voter‚Äôs right to a free and fair elections in the future. Make it be known, North Carolinians know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they‚Äôd say NO. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is UNACCEPTABLE. Stop the steal now!
10/21/25 7:59 AM	Lisa Stringer		Please reconsider. By redrawing lines the black community is being swallowed by the white community which is making the black voice that advocates for this community mute and further destroys healthy and thriving black communities.
10/21/25 8:00 AM	Tonya Ballard		I strongly oppose redistricting (gerrymandering) in NC. We will remember who voted for this when we go to the polls
10/21/25 8:00 AM	Joyce Smith	Independent	‚Äú¢There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising. ‚Äú¢North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,‰3 map in a 50,‰50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/21/25 8:01 AM	Ms Cindy Hallman		I am requesting you stop this gerrymandering proposal! If you need to cheat to win, you should rethink your position.
10/21/25 8:01 AM	Mr John Bradshaw		I am in favor of the redistricting that would add more republican seats to the house.
10/21/25 8:03 AM	Dustin Huffman		As a long-term North Carolina resident and voter, I object to the proposed redistricting plan. The current plan significantly limits voter choice and disenfranchises voters by altering district boundaries without adequate public input. Despite the effects directly on my currently elected representatives, I believe there is a lack of involvement in the decision-making process from citizens. I urge you to maintain the current district lines to ensure fair representation and uphold the principles of a democratic election process.
10/21/25 8:03 AM	Dr Kathleen Tritschler	None	Respect the citizens of our state! Wait until the 2030 census results are available to guide thoughtful, fair, and non-partisan redistricting.
10/21/25 8:04 AM	Sue Lander		WHY CAN'T YOU PASS A BUDGET FOR GOD'S SAKE? My teacher daughter needs a raise. NC is one of TWO states not to pass a budget. What is your problem?
10/21/25 8:04 AM	Mrs. Vickie Crocker	Self	Seriously...you are attempting to rob us of representation?!?!?!? I can't find the words to describe how angry this makes me at the current GOP behavior. If you can't win fairly, you will change the maps to bend to your advantage?!?!? Just repulsive. This will certainly come back to haunt you at some point.
10/21/25 8:04 AM	Grow a backbone Daniel Smith		I chose to stay in this state after retiring from the military because my wife and I liked the idea we would live in a state that was politically ‚Äúmiddle of the road ‚Äú. Without the partisan split being nearly 50-50, in NC, there‚Äôs no good reason to change the districts to silence Democrat voters. The tide is turning and you will want to be on the side of fairness when the influence of DJT has waned. Please stop gerrymandering our state. The people‚Äôs voices deserve to be heard.
10/21/25 8:05 AM	John Hardin		Redistricting is supposed to take place every ten years after the census! I am a retired American History teacher and this is definitely not what the founding fathers wanted. The entire gerrymandering mess needs to be reformed.

10/21/25 8:05 AM	Julie Matheson		I think what you are doing is appalling and all together undemocratic. You are not representing the majority of people in this state and that is your ONE JOB!!! The decisions that have been made by our state government has made it difficult to be a proud North Carolinian.
10/21/25 8:05 AM	Amy Whaling		VOTE NO! Please reject the 2025 proposed map. This racial gerrymandering is not only illegal, it is unethical and contrary to what NC constituents want.
10/21/25 8:05 AM	Susan Strozier		I am shocked that the legislature is trying to pass a redistricting map that was revealed only last week and that the public has had no voice in. This map would make a mockery of the word ‚Äúrepresentative ‚Äú because it doesn‚Äôt even come close to reflecting the voting demographics in the state. Please don‚Äôt let this happen.
10/21/25 8:05 AM	angela parker		No racist maps in NC!!!!! How dare you!!!! What are you scared of!?!?! That you will lose????? So you have to cheat????? Because you know you can‚Äôt win?????? Make voting in NC fair and equal!!!!
10/21/25 8:06 AM	Mesheala Sundblade		Stop the gerrymandering! We know you think you‚Äôre above the law of the land. And trying to save your asses for midterms. How about you stop lying and cheating? We the people will rise against you!
10/21/25 8:06 AM	Pat Eder		No redistricting
10/21/25 8:06 AM	Lynette Worrell		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising.
10/21/25 8:08 AM	Robert Fearn		These naked power grabs are shameful. North Carolina‚Äôs legislators, both Republican and democrat (but particularly republican and recent years), are violating the public trust with these shameful gerrymandered districts designed entirely to dilute the voting power of particular constituents. Doing so now, mid decade is a further slap in the public‚Äôs face. Are there no former Boy Scouts left in the legislature or anyone else who understands the word trustworthy anymore?
10/21/25 8:08 AM	Mr Daniel Spilman		Rigging elections and going against all norms of our political system by redistricting congressional maps more that once a decade is not democracy. Doing so to satisfy the request of the President of the country while destroying this norm shows a complete lack of your responsibility to the oath you swore, to support and defend the constitution, when it is being shredded by this same person. Doing anything that you can get away with to concentrate power in the hands of one party or a small group of people is the opposite of what the US has stood for for 250 years. Proceeding with mid-decade redistricting will be a stain on all those involved well past when your obituary is written.
10/21/25 8:09 AM	Jan Howard		Shameful! There is already a majority in Republican districts and you want to take more,Ä¶,Ä¶,Ä¶you obviously don‚Äôt care about North Carolinans,Ä¶,Ä¶EVERYONE needs representation!! Instead of bowing to ‚Äòthe King,‚Äô work for your constituents as you were elected to do,Ä¶,Ä¶pass a budget, pay our teachers. Get to work on helping North Carolinians!
10/21/25 8:09 AM	John Malcolm		Our state has a shameful history of enslaving, murdering, and otherwise abusing people of color. They now ask for their share of political power while remaining a minority. We should not deny them this wish. It seems the least we could do.
10/21/25 8:09 AM	Redistricting Bridget Wasowski		I am strongly against redistricting. This plan would be catastrophic for North Carolina
10/21/25 8:10 AM	Jeanne Brook		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äi3 map in a 50,Äi50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù Do better.
10/21/25 8:11 AM	Sherri Sonnier-Johnson		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. this is unacceptable. NO.
10/21/25 8:11 AM	Vehemently Disagree Amalia Postier	n/a (Concerned Citizen)	I very much oppose this bill- it serves to bolster the power of the Republican Party and is not in the service of constituents. Disgraceful power grab.
10/21/25 8:12 AM	Ron Foltz		referring to the NC redistricting: it's a "political arms race that Republicans did not start" -Sen. Ralph Hise, reported in the Charlotte Observer Texas' kissing up to the president was all over the news just a month ago. How stupid do you think people are? Did nobody in the GOP see the very recent opinion poll by Opinion Diagnostics where 76% of N.C, voters were categorically opposed to partisan gerrymandering? Is one more seat worth this amount of cheating and lying? You are representatives of the people of NC, not representatives of Donald Trump.
10/21/25 8:12 AM	Diane Edelman		In a democracy, or democratic republic, voters should be able to meaningfully give feedback to elected officials AND periodically vote to choose their officials. Changing the maps to guarantee who gets elected takes away voter‚Äôs choice. Leave the map alone. Or even better, make a law that maps are chosen by independent commission.

10/21/25 8:12 AM	Mrs Carolyn Anderson	Private citizen who cares about right to vote and everyone,Äôs representation	One of the foundational blocks to maintaining our free and inclusive society is securing the vote for each and every citizen, we the people. In order for our state and nation to do the work it is necessary that all our voices be heard and reflected proportionally as legislation is considered. This means our districts need to reflect their. We have a beautiful state populated by people of every color, religion, economic category,Ä¶ Let,Äôs be THE state that does it right, we are better than the madness we are watching at the national level. So please decide to create equitable district and start a campaign to encourage every one to register and vote. Personally I think it would be best to have an Elections for freedom task group that knows and understands creating fair districts to do this tasks the right way. Do good for everyone. Stop gerrymandering. We are better than this.
10/21/25 8:13 AM	Anne Bullard		This brazen act of vote-stealing on behalf of Trump and Berger is cowardly and undemocratic. Pass the budget! Fund public education! Save Medicaid! Do something to help the people, not the felonious president.
10/21/25 8:13 AM	Mr. Eric Marsh	The Marsh Farm	Many of my neighbors proudly say, as NC residents, that we live in the Bible belt. I am not a biblical scholar. I am also unaware of any statement in the bible that supports stacking the deck to win an election. There are many more important issues, like helping rebuild western NC, than bending the knee to satisfy President Trump
10/21/25 8:15 AM	Diane Conroy		I am opposed to redistricting. This a loophole for both parties and does not serve the public at all
10/21/25 8:16 AM	Shannon Mitchell		Do no fall in line behind Texas and heed Donald Trump,Äôs order to redistrict away democratic seats. This is anti-democratic and anti constitutional! Why divide this state up which is not representative of the people who make up this state? It is wrong and eventually Republicans will pay mightily.
10/21/25 8:16 AM	Mr Larry Holland		This action by being taken by NC state government Republicans is unethical and creates a political mess. They can be assured that once Democrats control the state government they will redistrict our state in their favor and so on and so on. Worse, it will spread throughout our country creating chaos for years to come. Law suits will bloom everywhere consuming time and money to no one,Äôs benefit. There is a reason why the 10 year district review was created. It was to prevent this from happening. Violating these guidelines lessens actual citizen representation and reduces our democracy. Stop this madness!
10/21/25 8:17 AM	Marsha Gordon		This galling redistricting attempt to undermine democracy in North Carolina will disenfranchise voters for the sole goal of Republican gain. It is undemocratic at its core. I urge you to stand up for democracy before it is too late.
10/21/25 8:17 AM	Don,Äôt redistrict! Cathleen Cueto		Don,Äôt redistrict! It,Äôs unfair! And wrong!
10/21/25 8:18 AM	Dr. Stacey O'Brien		I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed redistricting efforts. Redrawing district lines in a way that dilutes the power of voters undermines the very foundation of our democracy. Every citizen deserves fair and equal representation,Äînot maps designed to protect political power or silence communities. Please stand up for democracy and ensure that district maps are drawn transparently, fairly, and in a way that reflects the voices of the people,Äînot partisan interests. Our votes should count equally, and our representation should not be manipulated for political gain.
10/21/25 8:19 AM	Rita Kaplon		Partisan redistricting to gain more seats for the party in power takes away voters ability to choose their representative. Non-partisan redistricting is the only reasonable approach.
10/21/25 8:19 AM	Kari Heerdt		Redistricting in North Carolina threatens fair representation by allowing politicians to manipulate district boundaries for partisan gain rather than reflecting the true will of the people. This process undermines voter trust, dilutes community voices, and weakens the foundation of democracy. North Carolinians deserve districts drawn through an independent, transparent process that prioritizes fairness and accountability,Äînot political advantage.
10/21/25 8:20 AM	Jeanne Hanahan		If Republicans truly represented their constituents, if their messaging resonated with people or if their candidates inspired us, you wouldn,Äôt need to blatantly redistrict NC to their advantage. Let the people,Äôs voices be heard without stacking the deck.
10/21/25 8:22 AM	Kathy Miller		Leave it alone!
10/21/25 8:23 AM	Jessie Cockerham		The maps have already been redrawn! Republican still lost, so they then strip powers. Now this is not enough, so you will continue to cheat and bow.. This is not NC!
10/21/25 8:23 AM	We need democracy Steven Fried	Citizen of NC	Your plan only serves yourselves not the actual real world.
10/21/25 8:24 AM	Matt Bullard		The proposed redistricting is wrong. It is not for the people of North Carolina. It is fealty to a wanna be authoritarian, and probably payoff for a Berger endorsement from that wanna be authoritarian. Please reject redistricting
10/21/25 8:26 AM	No redistricting Kirsten Franzen		Redistricting this state is a blatant power grab and is a bad faith attempt to change discourse against people's will. Do not vote for it!
10/21/25 8:26 AM	Emma Mata		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/21/25 8:28 AM	Jessie Safron	Concerned citizen	Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.
10/21/25 8:28 AM	Corey Campbell		We do not want our maps redrawn, there is enough gerrymandering in this State. Let voters vote on your policies instead of stealing votes. You work for us and should be proposing policies that support the people on NC, not yours or Trumps personal agenda. DO BETTER!

10/21/25 8:28 AM	William Ewalt		Gerrymandering is an abuse of power by the majority! If you believe you are serving the voters, you are wrong. Tipping the field, for your own party silences voters and skews good government. You win in the short term, but the true republic will fail. Respect all voters. The legislature should not pick their voters. This is overreach. You should be ashamed.
10/21/25 8:28 AM	Kathleen Lovell		I am writing to express my strong opposition to the recently proposed congressional redistricting plan in the State of North Carolina. The plan, as advanced by the General Assembly, raises profound concerns about fairness, representation, and the preservation of voting rights,Äîissues squarely within the oversight responsibilities of Congress under the Constitution and the Voting Rights Act. The new map appears to be a clear instance of extreme partisan gerrymandering. Analyses by multiple independent organizations show that the proposed boundaries would likely yield an 11,Äì3 advantage for one political party in a state that is closely divided in voter preference. Such a skewed outcome does not reflect the will of the people of North Carolina,Äîit reflects a deliberate effort to entrench partisan power at the expense of fair representation. Equally troubling are the racial and community implications of this plan. The proposed districts fragment historic African American communities in the northeastern region of the state,Äîoften referred to as the ‚ÄúBlack Belt,Äù,Äîand dilute their collective voting strength. This raises serious concerns under the Voting Rights Act of 1965 and under the constitutional guarantee of equal protection. Communities with shared social, economic, and cultural ties are being divided to achieve political ends, undermining decades of progress toward fair representation. Furthermore, the process by which this map was developed has lacked the transparency and public accountability that North Carolinians deserve. Public hearings were limited, proposed maps were released without adequate opportunity for review, and community input has been largely disregarded. Such a process does not foster trust,Äîit diminishes it. I urge this Committee and the Congress to take all appropriate oversight measures to ensure that redistricting in North Carolina,Äîand throughout the nation,Äîcomplies with both the letter and spirit of the law. Specifically, I encourage consideration of legislation that: Establishes independent, nonpartisan redistricting commissions to draw congressional maps; Strengthens protections under the Voting Rights Act to prevent racial vote dilution; and
10/21/25 8:29 AM	Mrs Vicky Yoxtheimer		Please stop playing politics with our State and represent all of the people who elected everyone in office. The time for partisanship is over and it is time to put the people of our State first instead of your own political interests. To redraw maps to ensure voters are discredited is unethical and will lead to further problems in the future. All citizens have the right to vote and be represented fairly without regard to race or political party.
10/21/25 8:29 AM	Lyn Anderson	Rotary Community Garden of Gastonia, Inc.	Do not redistrict. Do not gerrymander.
10/21/25 8:30 AM	Redistricting Lisa Murray		Please vote yes to redistricting to enhance republican presence
10/21/25 8:30 AM	Michael Shinder		What is in the Kool-Aid that you Republicans drink? I don,Äôt wanna be ruled by a dictator, but apparently Republicans do at least the idiots in charge of the state do. Hopefully the voting republic will take this to heart and vote these soul less idiots out so we can take back our state and country.
10/21/25 8:30 AM	Elizabeth Arsenault		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/21/25 8:30 AM	Brenda Stubbs		THE PEOPLE SHOULD PICK THEIR REPRESENTATIVES, NOT THE OTHER WAY AROUND! This partisan gerrymandering is abhorrent,Äîand before you reply that Democrats do it too, I,Äôll add that I,Äôm including them in my condemnation. There should be no such things as a safe Republican or Democratic district. Every person running for office should have to make their case and persuade the voters. I believe that every person in the General Assembly knows that this is wrong and bad for our state and our country. Do the right thing!
10/21/25 8:31 AM	Mrs. Ssusan Ridenour		I oppose the current GOP gerrymandered redistricting efforts. You are trying to take away Democratic voter representation and give those voters no voice. You are engaging in voter suppression. It is not democracy.
10/21/25 8:31 AM	Charlotte Manley		This is another way of the cheating Republicans screwing over the black/brown communities. I am hoping that all the people that visit here as tourists, spend their money elsewhere. Where everyone has a vote. Not just the white people. You should be ashamed of yourselves. It,Äôs cheating!!

10/21/25 8:31 AM	Mrs Keegan White		I am outraged that North Carolina Republicans are once again manipulating our congressional maps to serve Donald Trump,Äôs political agenda instead of representing the people of this state. This latest round of gerrymandering isn,Äôt about fair representation,Äîit,Äôs about clinging to power by rigging the system. North Carolinians have watched this same movie before: partisan mapmaking challenged in court, found unconstitutional, redrawn, and then redone yet again in secret to protect incumbents and punish voters. The General Assembly is supposed to defend democracy, not distort it. This is not ,Äúthe will of the people,Äù,Äîit,Äôs the will of party bosses doing Trump,Äôs bidding. Every time districts are twisted to guarantee Republican seats, voters lose faith that their voice matters. That erosion of trust is more damaging to our state than any election outcome.
10/21/25 8:32 AM	Reid Howe	Republican Party	As a Republican, I am disheartened that my party feels the need to put another finger on the scales. We should not have to change district lines to win even more, we should rely on our message and goals as a party to gain more votes. The proposed redistricting plan is not the way to go.
10/21/25 8:32 AM	Matt Gaffney		Your goal as North Carolina elected officials is to insure that voting maps reflect the population of our state. You have made decisions based on hyper partisanship which is unfairly skewing election results and disenfranchising our fellow North Carolinians. STOP IT! We demand balanced election maps and an end to gerrymandering!!
10/21/25 8:33 AM	Gerrymandering Sabrina Torre	Pissed off constituent	NC is NOT a red state and this gerrymandering is forcing us to be one. Absolutely shameful way to keep power and give votes to your orange king. Republicans will never get another vote but will win unfairly anyway. Shameful. You call yourselves Christians?
10/21/25 8:34 AM	Dr Ross Williams		Gerrymandering for political advantage is undemocratic and un-American. STOP this cynical redistricting legislation.
10/21/25 8:34 AM	Susan Mastro		Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government.
10/21/25 8:34 AM	Mr Benjamin Williams		I think it's a disgrace that you would want to do anything that Trump wants you to do! PLEASE grow a backbone and resist what he is telling you. Redrawing the maps is not fair to people who are not white. Leave things alone! The GOP already has a majority here in NC which is not helpful to me as a teacher and to my students! The map should give a 50/50 chance, not a 90/10 chance.
10/21/25 8:35 AM	Ms. Lindsey Stiles		I,Äôm deeply disappointed by the recent North Carolina redistricting vote. Maps like these don,Äôt reflect our communities, they divide simply them. Our democracy truly suffers when lines are drawn to lock in political power instead of giving people a real voice. It,Äôs especially troubling that these maps appear to weaken representation for Black voters and dismantle competitive districts. That,Äôs not fairness; that,Äôs manipulation. North Carolinians deserve maps that put people before politics. We all deserve a government that,Äôs accountable to voters, not one engineered to silence them.
10/21/25 8:35 AM	Pat Backus		Senator Berger said this redistricting is to support the agenda of President Trump because of the results of the 2024 election. About 51% voted for Trump while 49% voted for Kamala Harris. The current US Representative split doesn,Äôt come close to matching this. With the changes proposed this will be less representative of the wishes of the people of NC. We now know better the Trump agenda and it is hurting North Carolinians. He is allowed to break the law. I don,Äôt understand why no one cares. Just look at what he has done to the Whote House. So if you want to redistrict do the right thing and increase Democrat seats.
10/21/25 8:35 AM	Ms Kathleen Chickarello		Do not draw new maps! Stop republicans from cheating! STOP trying to suppress the vote of the people!! It,Äôs We the people, NOT We the republicans!!
10/21/25 8:35 AM	Mary Brunco		Racist Maps for Racists.
10/21/25 8:36 AM	Diana Highter		Redistricting in North Carolina, and anywhere, threatens fair representation by allowing manipulation of district boundaries for partisan gain rather than reflecting the true will of the people. This process undermines voter trust, dilutes community voices, and weakens the foundation of democracy. North Carolinians deserve districts drawn through an independent, transparent process that prioritizes fairness and accountability,Äînot political advantage. We need a balanced and fair democratic process, not one rigged to benefit one party or another. Thank you.
10/21/25 8:36 AM	Pat Thorne	Citizen	I am a resident of Eastern, NC. My voice is as important as any other citizen in NC. How dare you take away my voice, my right to be heard. Redistricting, aligning, carving out an area so that one is heard is wrong!
10/21/25 8:36 AM	Jacquelyn Yanik		The proposal to redistrict does not follow the rules of a democracy. Democracy is supposed to be for the people and not an authoritarian power grab. This redistricting is an abuse of power by Republicans in an attempt to suppress minority representation. This is a clear violation of the Voting Rights Act.
10/21/25 8:37 AM	Greg Simmons		This is blatant racial profiling and is unconstitutional. Redistricting to keep a minority political party in power violates the will of the people.
10/21/25 8:37 AM	Ms Emily Bronson		I strongly oppose the attempt to resist rich already gerrymandered voting maps. There,Äôs no basis for this beyond corrupted politicians & it,Äôs insulting to every Native American, African American and immigrant descended person in the state. Y,Äôall white people realize we were immigrants too?! I hope you reap the karma you are sowing tenfold.

10/21/25 8:37 AM	Andrew Ribner	Citizen of NC	If you pass this redistricting initiative you will be guilty of rupturing the very fabric of our Republic. Both History and the People of this country will judge you accordingly.
10/21/25 8:37 AM	Elizabeth Cruise		Please do NOT vote for the new redistricting map.. Most North Carolinians do not support this redistricting effort. North Carolina is roughly half Democratic and half Republican but this map will give Republicans an 11-3 advantage and will make a mockery of NC voters' right to a "free and fair election." You were elected to serve the people of North Carolina, not the President. Please show your constituents that you are listening and you will not deny us our right to make our vote count.
10/21/25 8:38 AM	Mrs Chris Emory		Get rid of the electoral college & honor the people's choice.
10/21/25 8:39 AM	8289640302 Delores Wilder	Self	Hi, I'm a constituent from Boone NC. My name is Delores Wilder. I am writing to let you know that I am very upset about the current redistricting efforts using the proposed 2025 Congressional map. I'm especially concerned about the lack of voter participation in this process. Eighty-five percent of North Carolinians oppose gerrymandering in NC, including me. This is a brazen effort to allow officials to choose their voters. Voters should be able to choose their representatives, not the other way around. Please support fair elections in NC. Speak out against the current redistricting plan and reject these. Thank you.
10/21/25 8:39 AM	Joanne Giustini		I oppose the redistricting plan proposed by Republicans. By doing this it will further disenfranchise millions of North Carolinian's. Gerrymandering is anti democratic!
10/21/25 8:39 AM	Dr. Allen Roda		Redistricting undermines our political system. It takes away our right to free and fair elections, pushes our politicians to the poles by removing battleground districts typically won by centrists, and it's disenfranchises hundreds of thousands of voters. Taxation without representation!
10/21/25 8:40 AM	Tiffany Lee		Redistricting in North Carolina threatens fair representation by allowing politicians to manipulate district boundaries for partisan gain rather than reflecting the true will of the people. This process undermines voter trust, dilutes community voices, and weakens the foundation of democracy. North Carolinians deserve districts drawn through an independent, transparent process that prioritizes fairness and accountability,Äînot political advantage.
10/21/25 8:40 AM	Alex Seeskin	Add your thoughts...	I am so dismayed that one party is seeking to choose its voters rather than allowing the voters to choose electors. Please do not further gerrymander our state....allow voters the final say!!
10/21/25 8:40 AM	Kimberley Mason		I am completely against the current redistricting plan to change the results of our elections and help Republicans win. No notice was given of this plan because Republicans know that the people of North Carolina do not want rigged maps. North Carolina is a purple state with very close elections. These maps hand Republicans almost every district in the state, which is not representation for all. This is not democracy. No to redistricting in this way.
10/21/25 8:40 AM	Mr. Davis Hinkle	retired	Do not resort to Gerrymandering until the next census. Cowtowing to the wims of Trump is a only a political ploy and is not in the best interest of fair representation for the people of the great state of North Carplina.
10/21/25 8:43 AM	Janet Boyer		The districting maps are already gerrymandered so that they do not reflect the 50/50 split in NC. To pile on top of already unfair maps (and without time for public comment) is outrageous.
10/21/25 8:43 AM	Mary Grace Feeney		Apparently the only way you can win is to cheat.
10/21/25 8:45 AM	Valerie Steel		NO on the proposed gerrymander that will place 23 counties in the 1st Congressional District. That is nearly 25% of the total number of counties in North Carolina and an egregious disservice to everyone that lives in them. They stretch from the north central part of our state at the Virginia border and nearly all the way down the coast to South Carolina. There is no way a single congressional representative can acknowledge, understand or meet the needs of all of the constituents in the proposed district. It will become a dead zone with the only reason for it,Äôs existence is to fortify the grip of the federal government by Donald Trump. Republicans are betrayed and will suffer the most for lack of representation.
10/21/25 8:45 AM	Ms Russell Colver		I strongly oppose the proposed redistricting plan for Congressional districts 1, in eastern North Carolina. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. It disrupts local control, dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands only of political insiders. This proposal is not acceptable.
10/21/25 8:45 AM	Margay Whitlock		I am opposed to this round of redistricting. Please listen to the voice of the people.
10/21/25 8:46 AM	Reverend Debra Swing		This redistricting plan is an abuse of power in order for one party to stay in power. This is not how our democracy should work. Power is to be used for the public good, allowing all voices to be heard. We are stronger when we work together, taking the best ideas of all and putting them together - not having one party making all the rules. We need to go back to redistricting only after a census and then having an unbiased third party draw the lines.
10/21/25 8:46 AM	Melissa Thomas		I do not support the attempt to redistribute North Carolina once again. Please take your appointments seriously and look out for your community instead of yourselves.
10/21/25 8:47 AM	Matt Tomsic	Constituent	Good morning, I'm writing to object to and oppose the Republicans' efforts to redistrict off cycle because (as stated in the statements so far) Donald Trump demanded it so that he can try to squeeze one more Republican lawmaker out of a decidedly purple state. Our national and state representation does not now reflect the votes cast, and this redistricting will further drive our state away from representative democracy by causing dissonance between the votes cast in total and the legislators elected. I implore Republicans to disregard Trump's demand and focus instead on the matters affecting North Carolinians today like the Medicaid rebase.
10/21/25 8:48 AM	Kimberly Harshman		An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters' right to a "free and fair election".

10/21/25 8:49 AM	Pam Weppler		Stop the gerrymandering! The GOP can and will be voted out - you saw the groundswell of dissent at the No Kings protest on Saturday. We want FAIR maps!
10/21/25 8:49 AM	Ms Leah Ketring		This is a transparent power grab. The GOP is complicit in dismantling the foundation of democracy. Taxation without representation never ends well. Your constituents can see what's really happening.
10/21/25 8:49 AM	Alexis Kropp		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/21/25 8:49 AM	Mr James Franz	nc resident	Redistricting, especially outside of the ten year census, is a corruption of the normal legislative process. It will further drive a wedge between neighbors, further divide the electorate. I long for the day gerrymandering is removed from our electoral process., and if this is allowed to proceed, will perhaps provide the impetus to amend the NC constitution to remove this corruption from our legislature.
10/21/25 8:50 AM	Janet Rivenbark		Gerrymandering in North Carolina undermines democratic principles, voter representation, and governmental accountability. It also marginalizes voters, particularly minority communities, and creates an environment of hyper-partisanship. But then, that is your aim, isn,Äôt it? When districts are gerrymandered voters don,Äôt choose their representatives. Rather than voters selecting their leaders, gerrymandering allows politicians to choose their voters by drawing district lines to benefit their own party. Gerrymandering can guarantee electoral outcomes that do not accurately reflect the political preferences of the state's population. In a state that votes for Democrats and Republicans in nearly equal numbers, gerrymandering has led to a lopsided congressional delegation. By "cracking" and "packing" voters, gerrymandering minimizes the influence of political rivals. "Cracking" splits up voters who support the opposing party across multiple districts to dilute their power. "Packing" concentrates opposing voters into a few districts to reduce their influence everywhere else. The process of drawing maps has often lacked transparency and public input, with partisan interests taking precedence over fair representation. Polling has shown that most North Carolinians want more transparent and independent redistricting. When districts are drawn to be safe for one party, elected officials have less incentive to be responsive to the needs of all their constituents. And you do, or are at least supposed to represent all your constituents: Democrats, Republicans, Independents and even those who don,Äôt vote. They become more focused on satisfying their party's base, which can lead to a more narrow and extreme political agenda. By creating safe districts for each party, gerrymandering eliminates the need for compromise and cooperation. This intensifies partisan divisions and makes it more difficult for legislators to work together. Drawing districts without regard for communities of interest can split up cities and neighborhoods, making it difficult for residents to advocate for their interests. This is particularly true for minority communities, whose voting power has been diluted through tactics like racially motivated gerrymandering.
10/21/25 8:50 AM	Linda Shaw		Why is there an emergency to redraw Congressional districts but no such urgency to pass a state budget? Why are elected leaders so willing to destroy the foundation of American democracy by disenfranchising those who disagree with them? If policies and actions were actually representing the people, there would be no need to rig the maps. But that is what this is - a blatant attempt to steal future elections by rigging the voting districts. It is unAmerican and unethical. Do not support it. If you do, shame on you.
10/21/25 8:50 AM	G B		We did not ask for this and do not want this. 84% of NC are against the 11-3 map. Stop cheating the people of NC out of their right to a free and fair election.
10/21/25 8:50 AM	Priscilla Zambor		Stop the gerrymandering! Vote NO on redistricting.
10/21/25 8:50 AM	Ms Marina Crosby		I thought the Republican party was the party of values. Lately it is the party of cheating, lying and pedophilia! Please remember who we are and don't jeerymander anymore ??

10/21/25 8:50 AM	Ms. SUSAN HALTER		I am writing to request that you vote against redistricting NC voter maps in order to disenfranchise the voters you were elected to represent. Why voting for this is wrong: There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. The process is being rushed because elected officials are trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. This is BAD POLITICS North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election. NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/21/25 8:50 AM	Wesley Rhan		This gerrymandering is only showing the weakness of the current Republican party in North Carolina. Republican law makers are showing that they do not care for free and fair elections or equal representation of all people in our state. This gerrymandering should be stopped immediately.
10/21/25 8:50 AM	Dr Penne Prigge	Private Citizen	There is NO plausible reason to redistrict North Carolina Congressional Districts in a non-census year! We must not use partisan politics to make this state even more unreflective of its citizens! As a former college faculty member I taught Introduction to Politics for many years and taught my students that the Constitution is the ultimate law of our land . Am I now to tell them that each President or Legislature can do what they want?
10/21/25 8:51 AM	Jeff Harshman		Please do not consider redistricting the voter maps yet again. The current map does not accurately reflect the voter distribution and what is planned will further skew the data in the wrong direction. Please represent the people of NC and not Washington!!
10/21/25 8:51 AM	Hannah Ward		North Carolina is only great if their representation reflects its people. This Redistricting plan puts strategy over democracy and will hurt the people of North Carolina.
10/21/25 8:52 AM	Will Clark		What does redistricting accomplish aside from rigging maps in your favor? Please don't. Its against the will of the people. Also, pass a budget.
10/21/25 8:53 AM	Bruce Raymond	None	Why must one side cheat in order to win an election. Fair maps would provide for fair elections. There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising.
10/21/25 8:53 AM	Elizabeth Smithwick		The redistricting attempt makes a mockery of "free and fair" elections and is nothing more than political theft.
10/21/25 8:53 AM	Ms. Karen Sands	Independent global futurist!	Absurdity to even have to respond at all! Gerrymandering is destroying our governance & removing voting & free speech rights of all citizens to vote freely without encumbrance. This isn,Äôt a chess game so stop this insanity! Our very future of our true ,ÁúWe the People,Äùdemocracy,Äù is at stake!
10/21/25 8:53 AM	Mr Robert Gross		NC is a purple state, as shown by our statewide election results. Re-formulating Congressional districts to favor one party even more than it is already is unethical, devious, and "unsportsmanlike". Let's debate ideas about governing instead of shutting one side out of participation.
10/21/25 8:54 AM	Emma Ragland		Voters should pick their politicians, politicians shouldn,Äôt pick their voters.

10/21/25 8:54 AM	Mrs. Jeanine Noblett		This is outrageous and shameful! No one in this State asked for this and you gave no advanced warning to the voters of this State who you work for. It's sad and pathetic that Republicans across this country are heeding the call of the president, who is more and more acting like an authoritarian dictator, pressuring and bullying folks to bend to his will. House Speaker Hall claims that it's because California is redistricting. That's straight BS and y'all know it. California 1) Is responding to the gerrymandering in Texas where this whole mess started AND 2) The people of California STILL have a say by democratically voting on Proposition 50. It's sad sad sad that Republicans have to resort to cheating via Gerrymandering, voter suppression, scare tactics and flat out lies about the insecurity of elections, in order to maintain power instead of letting fair democratic elections play out. We are not your political pawns. Stop the partisan madness and spending unnecessary time, energy and resources on this. Use that same same time, energy and resources to finally pass a budget!
10/21/25 8:54 AM	Mr Christopher Glover		Simply wait for the next census to make new maps. Rules shouldn,Äôt change in the middle of the game. If a party is that afraid to lose the US House, maybe they need to look at their policies and the people in charge. Ridiculous.
10/21/25 8:56 AM	Dr Sheila Thomas		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is an attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/21/25 8:56 AM	Mrs Eileen Landenberger		I agree that redistricting should take place to reflect the constituents in our state.
10/21/25 8:56 AM	Paula Brafford		To the NC House & Senate, I strongly oppose the redistricting your are proposing. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù If asked, you know voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. You are neglecting your duties. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But you have scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last. Stop the power grabbing and serve the people of NC.
10/21/25 8:57 AM	Mr Dick Neidich		As a lifelong Republican it,Äôs sad that we have to win by cheating because we can,Äôt win with better ideas. Stop and don,Äôt approve more gerrymandering. You are destroying democratic principles
10/21/25 8:57 AM	Merrie Magnuson		This redistricting map is making a mockery of fair elections. I thoroughly object to it.
10/21/25 8:57 AM	MS Carol Carter		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.
10/21/25 8:57 AM	Beth Ligouri		Our democracy is based on voters electing representation. Instead these maps have one purpose; to rig the elections to Republican favor. Are you really that scared of free and fair elections?
10/21/25 8:57 AM	Eileen Lanier		Fairness in government does NOT include gerrymandering. Think before you act!
10/21/25 8:58 AM	Mrs Lea Rutter		I'm urging Terence Everitt, Phil Rubin, and all the NC Legislators to oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina,Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/21/25 8:58 AM	Mary Roberson		No! You know full well that 84% of North Carolina voters oppose gerrymandering, so stop doing it. You're drawing the maps so that politicians can pick politicians. VOTERS are supposed to pick politicians. I can only image the Founding Fathers are rolling over in their graves.
10/21/25 8:58 AM	mary carter	Caldwell Democrats	We are strongly opposed to this insane power grab by our politicians to gerrymander the districts to try and basically steal the next election. This is not the way to represent the people of NC, and our representatives need to remember they work for all of us not just their wealthy donors or a corrupt federal regime!
10/21/25 8:58 AM	Pauline Robinson	State of North Carolina (citizen)	This is wrong for NC and you know it. You know that if you asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.

10/21/25 8:59 AM	Susan King		Please stop unnecessary redistricting efforts. Return to adjusting districts based upon census counts. Allow the voters to speak. Remember the mandate of elected officials to provide for the needs of their constituents. Put this energy toward the real work of governing North Carolina, such as passing a state budget.
10/21/25 9:00 AM	Samuel Jackson	Select..	Please do not redistrict in between censuses. There is no reason for it. It sets a bad precedent and will set off a cascade of bad effects down the road.
10/21/25 9:00 AM	Jocelyn Marks		The redistricting of Congressional districts in North Carolina is UNDEMOCRATIC! As a Democrat in North Carolina my voice it not being heard or counted, because the elected officials in the state don't want to serve the needs of everyone only their voters! That is not how democracy works. The electorate in North Carolina is roughly divided 50/50, with a slight Republican advantage for national and state elections yet the districts have been gerrymandered to solidify power for Republicans. This needs to stop.
10/21/25 9:00 AM	Ms. Elizabeth Bickel		I'm disgusted that the Republicans in the state legislature are trying to gerrymander the voting maps EVEN MORE to eek out another Republican for Congress. Their policies are so unpopular they can't win a fair fight so they are trying to cheat SOME MORE! This is pathetic and needs to be stopped. We redistrict once every 10 years. This should not be allowed.
10/21/25 9:01 AM	Ann Litts		Please do NOT continue to gerrymander NC. The current administration is a bully & attempting to deny the right of fair representation to minority groups in our state. Currently, the GOP has done nothing good for NC. It has slowed down & withheld funds to help Western NC recover. They have cut funding to Medicaid & done away with affordable healthcare for millions. They have cut SNAP programs and are currently refusing to negotiate with Democrats, leaving us unrepresented. They do not deserve any kind of special treatment when they are actively dismantling democracy. As a retired state employee, I am still waiting on our state representatives to pass a budget that will help me make ends meet. They are all GOP controlled & they still can't form a functional government for the people of NC. Pay attention to the people of NC - stop being Trump's toadies and pass our state budget!
10/21/25 9:01 AM	Emily Black		North Carolina is BETTER THAN THIS!! Do NOT redistrict at this time!! North Carolina adheres to the rules of law, respects the Constitution, and believes in caring about the Greater Good. IF redistricting is necessary, trust the process of following the representation as reflected in the Census, not the mercurial egotistical expectations of those out of touch with their constituents. Lawmakers take an oath to the Constitution, as do our military. By not following the Constitution that oath is broken as is the trust between the lawmakers and their constituents. The Constitution has served well for over 225 years...and should be followed and respected.
10/21/25 9:01 AM	Terri Sandlin	Retired teacher.	It is important and crucial that all voices of color, vote in their current districts. We must be vigilant about every voice and not by silenced by re-districting,
10/21/25 9:02 AM	Ellye Walsh		The current plan to redistricting the voting zones is a blatant grab of power by Republicans that will strip power from black North Carolinas. Its undemocratic and unfair to the NC people. The legislature's focus should be on passing a budget right now anyways.
10/21/25 9:02 AM	John Laney		I think the Republicans did an excellent job, and honestly they could have done more. Why stop at 11-3 why not make a map that has 12-2 or even 13-1 if we got creative and only packed Charlotte, Greensboro and Raleigh together. Either way excellent job guys keep up the good work!
10/21/25 9:02 AM	Leanne Coffin		This is disgraceful and disgusting. Instead of supporting policies that the larger NC constituents are asking for to win votes, our current legislators would prefer to cheat the system for their own political gain and chose to coward to a fascist presidents desires. NC is quickly becoming a state that is supporting the wrong side of history. I am not a democrat or republican, I am a hardworking American and North Carolinian that is embarrassed by our leaders. My future votes will be based on who did or did not support this redistricting.
10/21/25 9:03 AM	Hold Off Mary Mullin		This proposal is a poorly timed distraction. North Carolinians are currently voting in local elections. Let us focus on finishing this year,Äôs election before dropping big changes to next year,Äôs.
10/21/25 9:03 AM	Gordon Reed		The redistricting should be put on the state wide ballot and voted on by the people of North Carolina.
10/21/25 9:03 AM	Dr. Lili Teigland	Novant Health	I am an Independent voter who leans Republican. The Republican legislator's effort to gerrymander our PURPLE state blatantly and grotesquely disenfranchises almost half of the state in an effort to protect Donald Trump from accountability. Or it evidences a shameless quest for power rather than for democratic discourse about the needs of the people. Please show some understanding of our Constitution and its authors: "We the People", not "We the Greedy and Frightened". Have the foresight and courage to vote against further Republican-dominated (or Trump-dominated) redistricting. It's bad for our state, and will certainly lead to an outpouring of votes against ANY Republican.
10/21/25 9:03 AM	Mariel Kruse		Please stop gerrymandering our maps. This is disenfranchises certain populations and partisan and is unpopular with North Carolininians.
10/21/25 9:04 AM	Theresa Scott		I,Äôm UPSET and actually ANGRY at the thought of ,ÄúRedistricting,Äù (Gerrymandering) *Please do NOT do this,Ä¶?????? Does NOT allow for the Fairness in Voting

10/21/25 9:04 AM	Bonnie Wright		* North Carolinians do not want this. Legislature is overriding huge margins of voters who do not want partisan gerrymandering. * No public comments is anti-democratic * The map is anti-North Carolina. An 11-3 map in a state that is evenly divided is a travesty and an embarrassment, and disenfranchises huge numbers of voters. * we need an independent redistricting commission
10/21/25 9:05 AM	Laurel Ferejohn		I am very concerned about the specter of further politically motivated redistricting that is specifically designed to silence the voice and undermine the fair representation of certain NC communities. We all know this is cheating. It is far from an honorable, democracy-led practice. It amounts to shameless self-serving on the part of NC legislative Republicans (and their national referees).
10/21/25 9:05 AM	Christina Stander		Redistricting due to population or other neutral reasons is understandable but to only redistrict to ensure a certain group remains in control is illegal and removes checks and balances that this country was founded upon. I do not support this.
10/21/25 9:05 AM	Jacqueline Stramm		There was no public notice and maps were revealed on Thursday. Stop rushing the process to avoid accountability. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/21/25 9:08 AM	Ms Susan DiDonato		The people of North Carolina do not want this. Partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable under any circumstances. North Carolina is a purple state and our representatives must represent all of us equally and fairly. Across the aisle, I expect my representatives to work together to govern and to win their elections by having policies that the people support, not by drawing voting districts that disenfranchise the people that don't agree with them. Don't do this.
10/21/25 9:08 AM	Ken Griffin		The most fundamental principle of our democracy is free and fair elections by which the people select their representatives. Gerrymandering is a deliberate effort to alter the ability of the people to vote for a candidate they believe best represents their interest. By intentionally eliminating competitive races, in politically diverse areas, it undermines the fundamental principle of free and fair elections. It is the root cause of our current political extremism. Gerrymandering results in elections being decided in the primaries, with the winners having no incentive to appeal to the cross section of the people they will represent, because the general elections has been made irrelevant in the majority of districts. For these reasons, over 75% of North Carolinians oppose gerrymandering. Continuing the process demonstrates a blatant disregard for the will of the majority of people in our state.
10/21/25 9:09 AM	Heidi French		Mid decade redistricting so that elected officials can choose their voters is wrong. Gerrymandering to create districts that will elect a certain party or candidate is and always has been wrong. Districts should be created in a non partisan way, that puts people with similar needs. Rural districts should be rural, suburban districts suburban, and city districts city. Likewise the coastal areas have different needs than inland areas. When you carve out districts to create the political map to keep a specific group in power, you are telling the entire electorate that you don‚Äôt care about them, only about power. Finally the president doesn‚Äôt rule the state legislature, allowing him to do so will eventually leave you powerless no matter how many seats you control because in an authoritarian government only one person matters.
10/21/25 9:10 AM	David Freeman		I oppose this assault on democracy.
10/21/25 9:10 AM	Mrs Julia Wax	United Methodist lay person	As a Christian moderate voter, I oppose redistricting to gain maximum partisan advantage. NC voters should be able to choose their politicians, the politicians shouldn't be able to choose their voters. We need more elected officials that heed Jesus‚Äôs commandment to love our neighbor and to remember and assist the ‚Äúleast of these,‚Äù as he said in Matthew 25
10/21/25 9:11 AM	No Cheating Amy Markin		I am strongly against redistricting as a tactic to affect election results in favor of any political party. Play fair!
10/21/25 9:12 AM	Stephen Pierce		For once can y'all quit taking the cowardly route with this redistricting nonsense and challenge us like adults
10/21/25 9:12 AM	Betsy Van Dyne		Gerrymanding is illegal and NC should not redistribute to benefit the Republican Party. .
10/21/25 9:13 AM	Mrs. Catherine Verna		Geez, General Assembly, allowing politicians like you to to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. Respect the right of voters to choose their elected representatives !
10/21/25 9:13 AM	Dr. Mary DeShazer		I am calling upon the NC house and Senate NOT to go forward with the proposed new redistricting. 4/5 of North Carolinians see no need for it, and the process has been unfair, since there has not been enough time for a thorough discussion and debate. I urge you to put your constituents first and abandon this undemocratic attempt to concentrate power in the hands of one political party only.
10/21/25 9:13 AM	Fair districts S Corbitt	Self	Districts should reflect the diversity of North Carolinians. Districts should be fairly drawn. The districts should not be drawn to promote one party over another. The GOP wants to redraw everything in their favor because they are afraid they can't win the popular vote without rigging the outcome.
10/21/25 9:14 AM	Scott Moncrief		Let's get this done.
10/21/25 9:14 AM	J S		I am very against this change. It's a power grab and those doing this should be ashamed.
10/21/25 9:14 AM	Mrs. Mary Mrdjenovic		I do not support the redistricting plan as proposed.
10/21/25 9:15 AM	Ms Gwen Cox		This plan is so blatantly against our Voting Rights Act and is extremely racist. We the people should choose our legislative representatives not the other way around. Representatives should not choose the people who can vote for them. This plan is totally biased and unconstitutional. Please do not pass this plan.

10/21/25 9:15 AM	Karen Zakeski		I strongly object to the current proposal of redistricting being pushed through by NC Republicans. Our democracy can't function when elections are determined by partisan gerrymandering, as in the current proposed legislation. The only way to end these rigged maps for good is through real reform--with independent redistricting commissions to take that power out of politicians' hands, and proportional representation to ensure every voter's voice counts
10/21/25 9:15 AM	Mr. Tristan Green		The current plan to redraw the voting districts is a blatant grab of power by Republicans that will strip power from black North Carolinas. Its undemocratic and unfair to the NC people. The legislature's focus should be on passing a budget right now anyways.
10/21/25 9:15 AM	Kim Plemmons		Redistricting for the purpose of giving one political party an advantage should be illegal. It,Äôs ridiculous!
10/21/25 9:15 AM	Ms Rose Marie Tresp	Sisters of Mercy of the Americas	It is a shame that Republicans cannot win elections without cheating. The Republicans should be embarrassed. The oath that they swore was to the Constitution not to Donald Trump or the Republican party. Your oath includes everyone in North Carolina, not just the Republicans. Are you so afraid of Trump that you don't have any courage or a backbone? Are you a lackey of Trump? Trump first, North Carolina residents last.
10/21/25 9:15 AM	Susan Morecroft		I oppose this attempt by NC republican legislators to gain more seats in the US House. It,Äôs unprincipled and dishonorable. If Trump truly has a mandate this sort of political shenanigans would not be necessary to protect it. This gerrymandering plan is contrary to the tradition and the values of representative government and disenfranchises voters. The state legislature should instead be working on their important work for the people of Nortb Carolina, such as the budget.
10/21/25 9:16 AM	Tricia Booker		Please don,Äôt do this! I,Äôve prided myself of being from NC and all the good things that come from being a North Carolinian. We are a purple state. This will ensure we are now a ‚Äúred‚Äùstate, which is not an accurate representation of NCs people. Keep NC fair and free.
10/21/25 9:16 AM	Amy Allen		I am a lifelong North Carolinian writing to express my strong opposition to the redistricting maps currently being pushed through the NC legislature. Redrawing maps is far from a priority at this time, when the legislature has STILL not passed a budget for our state. This budget is now 100 days overdue, and our state is suffering for it. State employees, especially teachers, need this budget to pass so that they can receive pay increases to deal with the rising costs due to inflation. Healthcare access in rural communities is becoming more expensive due to the negligent underfunding of Medicaid. Pass a budget, do not redraw maps. Secondly, these maps are being rushed through without public notice. If these maps are necessary, a state vote can determine that. I do not think they are. I believe a vast majority of this state is against gerrymandering in this manner and would vote "No" on these redistricting maps. Either way, the people of North Carolina should have a chance to vote on these maps.
10/21/25 9:16 AM	Kaitlyn Thornton		Dear Members of the North Carolina General Assembly, I am writing as a concerned North Carolina resident to express my deep opposition to gerrymandering and the harm it continues to cause to our state,Äôs democratic integrity. Gerrymandering undermines the fundamental principle of fair representation by allowing elected officials to choose their voters, rather than voters choosing their representatives. This practice dilutes the power of individual voices, weakens competitive elections, and fosters political polarization. When district lines are drawn to favor one party or candidate, it discourages collaboration, silences communities, and erodes public trust in government. North Carolinians deserve districts that reflect genuine communities of interest,Äînot political agendas. Fair maps ensure that every vote counts equally and that our legislature truly represents the people it serves. As leaders entrusted with upholding democracy, I urge you to support and enact an independent, nonpartisan redistricting process that prioritizes transparency, accountability, and fairness. Our democracy thrives only when elections are free, fair, and competitive. Please take this opportunity to strengthen the democratic foundation of our state and restore faith in our electoral system
10/21/25 9:17 AM	Mr Ben Donnelly	voter	True American values demand transparency and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps.
10/21/25 9:18 AM	Lawrence Cormier	Self	The gerrymandering legislation being considered is removing my right to vote. Stop this anti-Constitution legislation. My vote needs to count.
10/21/25 9:18 AM	Ms Donna Helms	Retired	What are you afraid of,Ä¶? Of course NC needs and deserves this redistricting! Why do you all allow democrats to run all over you and North Carolinians when most of what they do is illegal or at least unconstitutional? YES TO REDISTRICTING
10/21/25 9:19 AM	Teresa Small	N/A	You are my representatives. Everyone,Äôs vote should count and be counted EQUALLY! Be fair.
10/21/25 9:20 AM	Dr. Rachel Morrison		An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. How about they work on getting a budget passed? The GOP,Äôs priorities should be North Carolina and NOT Trump.
10/21/25 9:20 AM	Susan Rubin		Since we supposedly have a democratic form of government, our representatives are supposed to represent all of us, not just those who will keep them in power. California has a referendum to redistrict in response to the redistricting already in place in Texas; both are wrong! Gerrymandering should be unlawful.

10/21/25 9:21 AM	Mrs. Emily MacMillan		The legislature should not vote to redistrict again. North Carolina voters deserve the right to select the candidate of their choice, not the one the legislature has decided they should have. We are a 50-50 state and previous redistricting has already skewed our districts to be weighted toward Republicans. Redistricting is supposed to happen once every decade after the census ,Äì not every few years as has been happening in North Carolina. We deserve the district drawn by independent non-partisan commissions, not dictated by Donald Trump.
10/21/25 9:21 AM	Shaquana Mack		I strongly oppose the proposed redistricting map. Redistricting should serve the interests of the people, not political agendas. The new map undermines fair representation by diluting the voices of certain communities and manipulating district lines for partisan gain. This erodes public trust in the democratic process and threatens the principle of ,Äúone person, one vote.,Äù District boundaries should reflect communities of interest, preserve geographic and cultural cohesion, and ensure all voters have an equal opportunity to elect representatives who genuinely reflect their values. Gerrymandering whether for political power or incumbency protection is unacceptable in a fair democracy. I urge North Carolina representatives to reject this map.
10/21/25 9:21 AM	Angela Allen		The voting maps should be fair and they should reflect the will of the voters. I am hopeful that there are those in office that will vote for fairness and for the people. We want our voices to be heard. Please allow the voters a fair chance by making sure the voting maps are drawn for the people.
10/21/25 9:21 AM	Joni Burke	The United States of America	Partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable, dirty, low down, trashy, deleterious, destructive, noxious, and pernicious, just like tRump and his MAGA/GOP. This state, run by MAGA/GOP has no budget, no plan, no ideas, no insight into the real human beings living in this once great state. Your time is coming, guys and gals; you better wake up. Find your conscience, find your heart, do your job. STOP drinking the orange Kool Aid. This country is turning BLUE fast.
10/21/25 9:22 AM	James Phillips		The majority of Americans reject MAGA philosophy, ideas and initiatives. This is true in North Carolina where MAGA Republicans must rig elections to gain and hold offices. We'll keep challenging MAGA politicians who know they would lose power to normal Americans.
10/21/25 9:22 AM	Charles Miller		To the Members of the House Select Committee on Redistricting and the Senate Elections Committee: I am writing to express my strong opposition to the newly proposed redistricting maps currently under consideration. These maps, as reported by multiple independent sources, are designed to entrench partisan advantage rather than uphold fair representation for the people of North Carolina. The proposed plans would all but guarantee a disproportionate number of congressional and legislative seats for one political party, despite North Carolina,Äôs nearly even partisan divide. This kind of manipulation undermines the basic democratic principle that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Moreover, these maps appear to dilute the voting power of Black and other minority communities, erasing decades of progress toward fair and equitable representation. The Supreme Court has repeatedly affirmed that racial gerrymandering violates both the U.S. Constitution and the Voting Rights Act. Continuing down this path sends a clear message that the voices of entire communities are expendable for short-term political gain. North Carolina deserves transparent, data-driven redistricting conducted in full public view. That means using independent, nonpartisan methods to draw boundaries that reflect our actual communities, not political calculations. I urge the Committee to reject the current maps and commit instead to a process that puts people over politics. Fair maps strengthen democracy. Rigged maps destroy it. Respectfully submitted, Charles P. Miler Raleigh, North Carolina

10/21/25 9:23 AM	Faith Josephs		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People‚Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. Thank you.
10/21/25 9:23 AM	Lisa Bacon		Crafting good policy is hard; gerrymandering to pick voters is much easier. Gerrymandering usually disenfranchises voters in the minority party, and the current districts already heavily favor Republicans compared with their percentage of voters. A gentle reminder that what goes around comes around, and Republicans will one day be the minority party again. Do unto others as you would have them do unto you. ;-)
10/21/25 9:23 AM	Colleen Cook		I urge lawmakers to vote no on the proposal or any proposal for a new congressional map designed for political gain, gerrymandering, discrimination, or questionable legal practices. The Voting Rights Act requires that maps not discriminate. Please preserve our democratic processes, the rights of North Carolinian citizens, and make the correct choice to refrain from throwing NC congressional maps into power, political grab. Thank you.
10/21/25 9:25 AM	Dr. Anne Lipe		As a resident of NC House District 67 and Senate District 33, I strongly urge NO votes on the proposed new NC redistricting maps. If passed, this new map will make a total mockery of North Carolina residents' rights to a "free and fair" election, especially since Republicans have admitted that the vote is a ploy to increase their hold on power. It's shameful that the priority of our so-called state representatives is to please Mr. Trump and to garner his endorsement rather than to serve the interests of North Carolina citizens. Vote NO.
10/21/25 9:26 AM	Ms Chanda Daniels	Chanda Daniels-Davis	As a special educator provider in the public school system, priority should be placed on passing a budget to ensure that our students have the best educational opportunities. Choosing to focus on redistricting is not in the best interest of constituents that you serve.
10/21/25 9:26 AM	Stop Gerrymandering! Demetra James		The district maps were just redrawn! What defensible reason could there be to redistrict any more this year (or next)? Can our representatives at least try to have an ethical backbone about this? The people deserve to have their voices heard and redistricting just strips people of their power and feeds the bipartisan feud even further. Have principles. Have courage. Our children are watching you and they are losing respect for politicians because many politicians have stopped respecting the votes and voices of the people they are supposed to work for. This has gone on for long enough in NC. Enough is enough.
10/21/25 9:27 AM	John Burkart		You should know that if you asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they‚Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. Although state is roughly 50/50 republican/ democrat these map districts are far from representing that
10/21/25 9:28 AM	Marcia Herman		We, the people, have a right to have our vote count. Shenanigans like the redistricting you're proposing are shameful.
10/21/25 9:28 AM	Ms Chanda Daniels	Chanda Daniels-Davis	Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is an attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/21/25 9:29 AM	Mr. Frank Moore		Please design a redistricting plan that fairly represents Independents, Republicans, and Democrats. The current proposal is weighted toward Republicans.
10/21/25 9:30 AM	Ellen Faull		Unfair redistricting. Shall we teach our children that cheating is the way to win??!!
10/21/25 9:30 AM	Reah Duncan		Please do NOT do any redistricting to maps now. North Carolina needs to stand proud and stay out of the some of the controversy the country is going through. North Carolina has historically been a purple state which, to me, helps to show that many of the people's votes are heard and are more well represented for debate over issues by are chosen leaders. We have many rural areas, lower income families, and farmers who need to be supported. Please make North Carolinians proud by being ethical, strong, and do what is better for the majority of North Carolinians and NOT cower to be a follower of what some others in this country may be trying to do.
10/21/25 9:31 AM	Mr. Patrick D'Andrea	Outraged citizen committee	North Carolina Republicans have allowed the country to regress to the seventeen seventy's when a king still ruled our country and one day you will answer honestly for your behaviour. This fascist legislature should be ashamed of this redistricting map they approved. Cheating to win an election only shows how Little you care about North Carolinas people.
10/21/25 9:32 AM	Judith Close		North Carolina voters should be choosing their representatives; not the other way around. This redistricting threatens our democracy and shows how unrepresentative this Legislature is of half the state.
10/21/25 9:33 AM	Juliette Bunt		The redistricting efforts you are pushing forward are unconstitutional and immoral. If you continue forward with this your constituents will make sure your future as a representative of this state and your respective counties will be short-lived. You are representative of the people, and the people have the power to vote you out.

10/21/25 9:34 AM	Sarah Sabanis	What are yall doing? We are a constitutional republic. You don,Äôt get to cheat to get more seats. The government is supposed to be indicative of the population and what you,Äôre doing is literally carving out echo chambers and making some voices quieter. I know yall aren,Äôt going to read this. You aren,Äôt going to read any of the submissions because you,Äôre not willing to listen to reason anymore. Representative Lambeth, I am your constituent. Stop it. Senator Jones, do better. You,Äôre still a freshman, so I,Äôll go easier on you because you might not know better. Don,Äôt tie your horse to the wrong cart here.
10/21/25 9:34 AM	Adam Smith	I am a lifelong citizen of North Carolina. I fear my voice will be diminished by the redrawing of the voting districts. Fair and balanced voting districts are the cornerstone of a functioning democracy. When lines are drawn to favor one party over another, the power of the people is replaced by the power of politicians. Free and fair elections ensure that every voice counts and that leaders remain accountable to those they serve ,Äî not to partisan interests. As James Madison warned, ,ÄúThe essence of government is power; and power, lodged as it must be in human hands, will ever be liable to abuse.,Äù
10/21/25 9:34 AM	Mr. Richard Klein	The choice of U,S. Representatives should be made by the people. Gerrymandering districts should be eliminated, and the districts should be designed on an objective and non partisan manner. The voters should choose their representatives, and the design of voting districts by arbitrary techniques should be abolished. We need to be a democracy and " a beacon of light for all the nations in the world."
10/21/25 9:35 AM	Mrs. Margaret Chandler	I strongly disapprove of the redrawing of voter maps. Our districts are already heavily skewed against the more populous areas, representing fewer citizens than the majority. Please reconsider the redistricting efforts that are underway.
10/21/25 9:36 AM	Rick Diehl	raft a comment: I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/21/25 9:37 AM	Mrs Terri Bryant	Due to increased population migration to our great state, lines should be redrawn to reflect those increases.
10/21/25 9:37 AM	Mrs Mary Anne Grimley	I oppose the attempts to redraw North Carolina's congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. President Trump did NOT have a strong mandate for this attempt to take away people's votes. This blatantly partisan and (possibly racist) redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that VOTERS should choose their representatives, not the other way around.
10/21/25 9:37 AM	Margaret Bohon	Please do not redistrict and gerrymander our state. Please remember this is supposed to be a democracy where everyone's voices are heard.

10/21/25 9:37 AM	Bella Dearing	Duke	As a long time resident of NC, I have seen the significant damaging impacts that re-drawing the already poorly drawn map to be even less equitable has on our communities. It is obvious, and nationally recognized as a failure and a way to cheat the system. Really ask yourself WHY you are doing this? Is it to make it more fair? Is it to make more money? The people are already struggling, making it worse is just gonna be worse for your political career and reputation and consciousness. The most vulnerable populations are already getting devastated due to medicaid cuts. If you continue to cut peoples access to a fair chance at resources and a decent quality of life, you will see how absolutely devastating this redrawing of the map will be. You will be responsible for the destruction and death of communities that are already the most vulnerable. As a NORTH CAROLINIAN - it is absurd that this is up for debate again. Did you not learn from the last time? Genuinely if you sup[port this, I want you to ask yourself - WHY? Is it for Trump? You want to please him? He doesn,Äôt give a f---- about you or any of us and you know that. JUST money. So if you ALSO only care about money - go work on wall street, why are you in politics?? The shallow and temporary satisfaction from money and power is FLEETING and will only leave you in long term dissatisfaction because you never learned to make happiness or love or peace around you or within. You will NEVER feel true happiness or peace or fulfillment if your goals are rooted in MONEY and POWER. Peace and happiness and satisfaction is found from within. NOT by money and power. THINK FOR YOURSELF, PLEASE!!!!! Pretty please, think for yourself, and on behalf of your constituents. As an elected official, we expect you actually listen to us. Politics is supposed to be for the people. Get your head on straight and listen up. THE PEOPLE DO NOT WANT THIS!!!!!!!
10/21/25 9:38 AM	Kathlyn Wangrin		I oppose the gerrymandering proposed for North Carolina.
10/21/25 9:38 AM	Mary Bashore		NO!!! Keep NC free of Trump manipulation.
10/21/25 9:38 AM	Mr Hardin Minor		On January 6, 2021 a wild group of Trump supporters stormed our nation's capitol and attempted to illegally keep Mr. Trump in the office of the presidency. These insurrectionists defaced our democracy's sacred halls and viciously attacked capitol police who were defending our national institution. It was a shameful display of animosity, hateful conspiracy. Those perpetrating these crimes were mislead to believe that they were there to "stop the steal". We all know this was a false premise. Now Mr. Trump is attempting to "steal" a new seat in the US Congress by demanding that the NC State Legislature redraw North Carolina's congressional map. This is unfair and runs counter to our democracy's goal of giving equal voice and representation to all North Carolinians. As is widely known, North Carolina is almost evenly split between registered Republicans and Democrats and yet our state legislative leaders have seen fit to gerrymander the congressional map so that there is uneven representation with 10 Republican seats and 4 Democratic seats. The founding fathers would be appalled at this blatant power grab. Our congressional map should be drawn and decided by an independent panel to fairly reflect the demographics of NC. I urge those in power to resist the attempt to redraw and re-gerrymander our congressional map to 'steal' another seat for the GOP. Show the upcoming generation what integrity and FairPlay should look like. Our leaders should honor their Oath to the Constitution and not succumb to the unjust demands of a power hungry president.
10/21/25 9:38 AM	Loretta D'Ermes		I'm appalled that the Republican legislators believe the representation of North Carolinians doesn't matter. We deserve to have our concerns represented in Congress. Since 2022 you have gerrymandered over and over. Please, as thoughtful and smart people, stop the gerrymandering. You were elected to represent those who live in North Carolina, not to bow to the current administration in Washington, D. C. Thank you for considering to do the right thing.
10/21/25 9:39 AM	Melanie Bassett	Citizen of the United States	Redisricting this area would fail to protect communities of black and brown people, against racially discriminatory maps and not allow those who have a shared history of past and present-day discrimination to form a majority within their districts and elect candidates who best serve their communities. This new map would not allow free and fair elections with every voter having the opportunity to make their voice heard at the ballot box. We must not step backwards into a shameful past.
10/21/25 9:40 AM	Ron Swanson		Who do you serve? NC citizens or Trump. Do your job. Thank you for serving.
10/21/25 9:40 AM	John Hodges-Copple		As the son and grandson of people who served as Republican local elected officials, I am ashamed of these continual gerrymandering events that seek to tilt the playing field rather than letting ideas succeed or fail on their merits. Please put principle ahead of party, and the participation of NC's citizens ahead of your personal desire for power and control.
10/21/25 9:40 AM	Mrs Dawn Ehli		Do not redistrict. How dare you interfere with NC elections. That is not American.
10/21/25 9:41 AM	Mrs Rebecca Adams		This is in reference to the gerrymandering about to take place in NC. Our Congressmen were elected to represent the people of North Carolina, not bend to the will of the current President. 84% of North Carolinians oppose gerrymandering, as do 78% of NC Republicans, according to polls. To approve this would be openly going against the will of those who elected you. This is not about protecting or supporting the Republican Party, it's about representing the people of North Carolina according to their wishes. Most North Carolinians consider gerrymandering as cheating. Stand up and protect the will of your constituents as you were elected to. Just do the right thing.Ä¶your future as an elected official depends on it.

10/21/25 9:43 AM	Michele McCarthy		BAD POLITICS North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/21/25 9:43 AM	Ginger Sluder		Stop gerrymandering our state!! No!!
10/21/25 9:44 AM	Ellen Heim		According to the NC Constitution Article II, Section 3, each district should contain an equal number of inhabitants & of contiguous territory, with no county divided. Furthermore, the districts "shall remain unaltered until the return of another decennial census of population taken by order of Congress". In 2022, lines were redrawn based on census results (Article II, Section 4). Therefore, the present plan for redistricting violates the NC Constitution & should be voted down. NC Senate Leader Phil Berger's statement saying, "We are doing everything we can to protect President Trump's agenda, which means safeguarding Republican control of Congress" does NOT negate the NC Constitution. The idea of voting districts is to represent the people's choices. We vote & choose our politicians, the politicians do NOT choose their voters!
10/21/25 9:45 AM	Hart Matthews		North Carolina should be working to improve the representation of all of its citizens. Instead, lawmakers are seeking to weaken citizen representation to give more power to an authoritarian President who doesn‚Äôt give a fig about North Carolina or its citizens except insofar as they can help him. Please revisit the district maps to make them MORE representative of the people, not less.
10/21/25 9:47 AM	Ms Carol Bowers		As a lifelong North Carolina Republican, I STRONGLY OBJECT to the proposed redistricting! Redrawing maps in order to keep only one party in power is unAmerican!
10/21/25 9:47 AM	Jessica Bring		I oppose the redistricting bill, there is no need for this mid-decade redistricting and it is obviously a power grab. I am ashamed of my lawmakers who are acting in their own self interest and not that of their literal constituents who elected them.
10/21/25 9:47 AM	Charlotte Sherk		I have profound disappointment with the current actions taken by members of the Republican party in service of the current administration. The willingness to bend ethical guidelines and potentially disregard legal precedents to bend to unethical demands the President and advance a partisan agenda is an alarming betrayal of the public trust and an affront to the fundamental principles of the American Constitution and American values. Such conduct demonstrates a staggering lack of political courage and institutional backbone when faced with the necessary checks and balances of a functional democracy. Furthermore, the transparent pursuit of electoral map alterations, specifically the proposed changes to the political map, is viewed not as a principled effort to serve the populace, but as a deliberate act of political trickery and manipulation. This move clearly underscores a deep-seated fear of losing power, rather than a commitment to representing the diverse voices and will of the people your offices are sworn to serve. The mandate of elected officials is to uphold the law and faithfully represent all constituents, not to secure perpetual power through anti-democratic means. These actions indicate a prioritized allegiance to party and individual power over the integrity of the democratic process. If you have any true moral values and actually believe and care about the American Constitution and American values you will cease all efforts that prioritize partisan gain over the rule of law and the legitimate representation of the electorate.
10/21/25 9:48 AM	Ms Deborah Compton		There is no justification for this attempt at gerrymandering right before elections. Stop the double standards.
10/21/25 9:50 AM	Mr. Scott Braswell	Retired	This is wrong and I think you all know it. This is an anti-democracy power grab and you should be ashamed. Gerrymandering has contributed to the vitriol of our politics because politicians do not feel any need to moderate policies to win over moderate voters. Our state and our country would be better served if candidates couldn‚Äôt just pander to the extremes of their parties and instead had to craft policies that were more centrist. The pendulum will swing back one day and I hope the Democrats don‚Äôt copy your anti-democracy behavior. History will judge you harshly. Shame on you.
10/21/25 9:50 AM	Elizabeth G		The proposed maps for 2025 are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is a blatant and unacceptable attempt to seize power for the GOP.
10/21/25 9:51 AM	Ms Marsha Hannah		NC needs to have representation for all North Carolinians. Fair and Free elections are essential to our Democracy.
10/21/25 9:52 AM	Mrs Margie Martin	Retired educator	Our legislators should work for ALL NC voters. The redistricting you are voting for is UNFAIR!! Please do you job: work/vote to represent all. I am registered voter in Surry County.
10/21/25 9:53 AM	Mr Wes Thompson		North Carolina is already one of the worst states in the nation with regard to partisan gerrymandering. It is not right for politicians to decide the outcome of an election before the first ballot is cast. It's just plain wrong.

10/21/25 9:53 AM	Ms Kristen Moyer		My family opposes this redistricting attempt. Please do not let this advance!
10/21/25 9:53 AM	Lama Abed		I am a NC resident and I am very disturbed by the attempt to redistrict our state even more in favor of republicans. this feels like an attempt to silence dissent. whats the point of democracy if this keeps happening? our state is already heavily favoring districts that vote republican what more do want to do? whats your end goal?
10/21/25 9:54 AM	Patrick Hancock		North Carolina is without an operating budget, which is hurting teachers and state employees. Yet instead of passing a budget the North Carolina General Assembly is redistricting an already gerrymandered state. North Carolina is a purple state, 84% of voters are against partisan gerrymandering. Consider balance and fair representation.
10/21/25 9:55 AM	Carla Bonhman		Your white hoods are showing!
10/21/25 9:55 AM	Dr Nathaniel Peachey		I disagree with the current redistricting plan. Even the districts as currently drawn are an attempt to limit the vote of non-Republican voters. This new plan will further limit democracy. This is a naked power grab by the Republican leadership in North Carolina.
10/21/25 9:55 AM	Mr michael bollini		Please do not vote yes on redistricting. It is disgraceful that you would consider redistricting as a way of gaining more seats. Election should be done fairly without interference in terms of deciding where voting should occur based on favoring the Republican Party.
10/21/25 9:56 AM	Ms pamela dupuis	Self	I STRONGLY oppose Republican redistributing plans. They would like to disenfranchise Democrats, and this is unconstitutional. We will fight as hard as needed to prevent this from happening.
10/21/25 9:56 AM	Sheila Miller		This is nothing but a rascist, fascist power grab, and we the people will not stand for it! You may win this battle, but you will not prevail in this war on democracy!
10/21/25 9:56 AM	Ms. Beth Andrasak		As my representative I insist that you vote against the blatantly corrupt redistricting plan. It is a bad process. There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. It is also inaccurate politics. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù Vote against this.
10/21/25 9:58 AM	Anne Clayton		I am writing to express my opposition to the current redistricting proposal because it does not provide fair or balanced representation for all voters. District maps should reflect the real communities of our state, not favor one political party or dilute the voices of certain groups. I urge you to support a transparent, nonpartisan redistricting process that ensures every citizen,Âôs vote carries equal weight. Fair maps are essential to maintaining public trust and a healthy democracy.
10/21/25 9:58 AM	Mrs. Tucker Bailey		This is blatant STEALING of a seat and clearly an abuse of power. The people are the ones who chose their representatives not the representatives choosing themselves!! Governor Stein will veto this and you need to let the veto stand. We the people want fair elections and you have gone way too far in gerrymandering our state.
10/21/25 9:58 AM	MARK STAMM		Please reconsider this unfair re-districting plan. You are representing ALL the people of North Carolina, not a Federal authority. Maps should reflect the entirety of the spectrum of NC voters, and they must result in a Congressional delegation that approximates our variety of views.
10/21/25 9:59 AM	Mrs. Renee Ertischek		NC is a purple state. Gerrymandering has created an unbalanced representation. It is political theft and makes a mockery of NC voters' right to a free and fair election. 84% of NC voters believe that gerrymandering is unacceptable. Do not create an additional Republican seat through gerrymandering. Protect our democracy and free and fair elections.
10/21/25 9:59 AM	Jessica Galto		Your constituents do not want to have their vote erased. We demand a fair government. Do not gerrymander and cheat your constituents out of their vote for a power grab.
10/21/25 9:59 AM	Tyla Yarborough		You are trying to silence Black voters, and us White, Black, and Brown voters will not stand for you treating our brothers and sisters like they shouldn't have a voice!
10/21/25 9:59 AM	Jean Pennell	Disappointed North Carolina Voter	Forget the redistricting and DO Your job. Get us a budget! You were not elected to play party politics. This is not Washington DC.
10/21/25 9:59 AM	Megan Kopti		I am beyond concerned that our districts are being gerrymandered in order to silence political dissent. Please protect our ability to cast votes in NC by creating equal and fair districts for every voter.
10/21/25 9:59 AM	Dave Watson		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/21/25 10:00 AM	Ms Wanda Freeman-Abbott	Citizen	End Gerrymandering Now!
10/21/25 10:01 AM	Robin Kohanowich		North Carolina voters have a right to free and FAIR elections. Partisan gerrymandering is unwelcome in this state where traditionally voters are evenly split red/blue. Partisan redistricting to serve one party is wrong and does not serve the people of NC.

10/21/25 10:01 AM	Jesse Dollarhite		This is a blatant power grab to further disenfranchise North Carolina voters. There is no good reason to redraw districts just before midterms. It's disappointing that this plan is even being proposed.
10/21/25 10:01 AM	Mr Edward McNally	self	Do NOT redistrict our state! We need sidtricts that represent both parties fairly and equally. All races and economic levels of our people need an equal say in electing our leaders. DO NOT arrange the system to favor Republicans! I am sickened that my county's Board of Elections _ Madison_ decreased our early voting sites from 3 sites down to one. They did it without public notice or input! Shame!
10/21/25 10:02 AM	Patty Braswell		YES!! Do the redistricting, please!!! Thank you for your service.
10/21/25 10:02 AM	Thomas Benson		Stop trying top steal elections!
10/21/25 10:02 AM	Mrs Jamie Walker	Very Concerned North Carolina resident	I am absolutely disgusted that my elected NC representatives would simply do Donald Trump's bidding by redistricting our voting map. I urge you to reject this map and instead support a fair, transparent redistricting process that serves the people of North Carolina and not partisan interests. This is a blatant partisan gerrymander. It was initiated at the request of Donald Trump to secure an additional U.S. House seat for one political party. This UNDERMINES the will of the people and distorts our democracy. As a constituent, I expect you to represent my interests and defend our democratic process, not use your elected position to manipulate election outcomes. The new map specifically targets the state's only swing district (the 1st Congressional District) and, according to civil rights experts, diminishes the voting power of Black communities in Eastern North Carolina. This is unacceptable and constitutes a violation of fairness and equal representation. An overwhelming majority of North Carolinians, across party lines, oppose gerrymandering. We do not want politicians choosing their voters; we want voters to choose their representatives. I expect, as an elected official of the great state of North Carolina you will: VOTE against the proposed congressional map (Senate Bill 249). COMMIT to a fair and transparent redistricting process. PLEASE, PLEASE put our state's voters first and reject this attempt to rig our elections. Sincerely, Jamie Walker
10/21/25 10:02 AM	North Carolina resident sharon bollini		PLEASE DO NOT ALLOW GERRYMANDERING IN N.C. It is clear this is being done solely because Trump has ordered it! That is NOT reasonable in America !!! Please stop the NC gerrymandering process.
10/21/25 10:02 AM	Gary Miller		No more gerrymandering. If redistricting is happening as a power grab, just stop. Focus on fairness and not on managing/keeping/creating power. I,Äôm so tired of politicians focusing on power rather than helping the people by whom they are elected.
10/21/25 10:03 AM	Elaine Turner		I am extremely concerned about the new redistricting map. First, it is out of cycle and there has been no public input. This is only for a power grab. It,Äôs time to remember that we have a democracy. There should not be weighting of districts to ensure partisan outcomes.
10/21/25 10:04 AM	Ms Silvia Gambardella	NC resident	I worry every day that this beautiful state I moved to 22 years ago is moving backwards politically and socially. Please vote for fairness, justice and balance for all in our Congressional maps. It is the right thing to do.
10/21/25 10:04 AM	Kathleen Rickert	Dol	The proposed gerrymandering at the request of Donal Trump to facilitate his endorsement of Sen. Berger for his bid for reelection against another conservative sells out the North Carolinians he represents and all of the voters who live in this great State. I oppose this bill in all measures as racism and Hist is showing his disregard to the constitution of the United States and North Carolina and his lack of morality, only willing to obey orders.
10/21/25 10:05 AM	No to Redistricting! Rhonda Dunn		Win votes ethically, allowing we the people to decide! After all you work for us!!!
10/21/25 10:05 AM	Cindy Black		This is yet another attack on voting rights! The republicans are proving they can not win honestly. Honest republicans who support our democracy will NOT support this gerrymandering bill.
10/21/25 10:05 AM	Charles Wooten		It should not matter which party is in power, only that we follow Justice and the rule of Law. I see a blatant disregard for both as well as our fellow citizens. This step to redistrict is wrong and clearly shows that the only people who matter are the ones in power. And the new rule is No Rules.
10/21/25 10:06 AM	Jody soules		What you are doing is illegal and immoral. It is taking away our voting rights. It is wrong and you need to vote with a conscience not the Republican way of life now a days.
10/21/25 10:06 AM	Edward Williams		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äi3 map in a 50,Äi50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù

10/21/25 10:07 AM	Dr Henry Silver	Very little	Redistricting as you intend, other than in response to a new census, is political manipulation designed strictly to disenfranchise minority voters. Changing the playing field in this manner is tantamount to cheating. Our elected officials ought to be of high character and not cheat the voters to gain an advantage. Such is not the case in NC.
10/21/25 10:07 AM	Elizabeth Martin		The people are not being fairly represented by the proposed changes to the district in question.
10/21/25 10:07 AM	Tracy Burke		This is an absolute disgrace what the republicans are trying to do.
10/21/25 10:08 AM	Robin Mullis		Regarding the proposed map that carves up our congressional districts, I am more than concerned....I am appalled at this attempt to create unfair elections in North Carolina. I understand this was done at the request of the President. What is he/are you afraid of? Free and fair elections are what makes our country great. Please, for the sake of democracy, do what's right for the people of North Carolina and, in fact, all citizens of the US .
10/21/25 10:08 AM	David Murray		Republicans are making it very obvious that they are afraid of fair elections. Clearly, they know that they cannot win unless they rig the system by picking their own voters, because surveys show that more than half the voters disagree with their policies. This cheating may work over the short term, but it will fail over time. It is very sad that the once-proud GOP has become a lap dog for a lawless, vengeful, power-made President.
10/21/25 10:08 AM	Lack of Character Marsha Silver		This is cheating and damaging to the voting process. As Americans everything we are taught in Civics and History (those who have some education) assumes we have leaders of good character. There are no processes to correct if this is not the case. The ability to perform this redistricting is an example of what happens when good character is absent.
10/21/25 10:09 AM	Todd Duvall		Everyone knows what you are doing. It's infantile and you know it. If you go through with this don't think you will survive the next election, if trump will allow us one. You are NOT working for the people of North Carolina, which you were elected to do. However, you are doing the bidding of a wanna be dictator, which he admitted to himself. Please think this through before you do this. This is not representative of our state. This isn't representative of our state or US constitution. You will need to look your daughters, mothers, wives and female family members and tell them you support a man who raped little girls, lied about it, shut the government down to keep a lid on the fact that he's a child rapist.
10/21/25 10:10 AM	John David		This proposed redistricting map is a travesty. It aims to subvert the will of the majority of the voters of this state. It is a craven, dishonorable plan for Republicans to choose their voters rather than allow the voters to fairly choose their elected officials. Any one with even a shred of decency would readily and soundly reject this gerrymandering proposal.
10/21/25 10:10 AM	amber urban		The public wants fair maps. We want our representatives to actually represent us. Do not gerrymander NC even further.
10/21/25 10:10 AM	April Duvall		The newly enacted redistricting map for North Carolina's district mapping is a blatant and unconscionable act of gerrymandering. This map does not reflect the will of the people; it serves only the narrow, partisan interests of those who drew it. The map utilizes classic gerrymandering techniques, such as 'cracking' and 'packing.' This process deliberately draws district lines to predetermine election outcomes, effectively eliminating competitive races and silencing the voices of thousands of voters across the state. The result is a political system where politicians choose their voters, rather than voters choosing their politicians. You all have forgotten who you work for, and it shows more by the day. The fall of America will be on your hands that approve this, and history, nor we, will forget
10/21/25 10:11 AM	Angela Dew		I find the idea that our state legislature would spend time trying to redistrict NC ridiculous and unnecessary. This is blatant gerrymandering and an insult to North Carolinians. The next census isn't until 2030, why is there a push to redraw maps? It is a partisan move. There are much bigger issues facing North Carolina that need attention and care. Instead of wasting time discussing and redrawing maps, our legislature needs to pass a budget, help Western NC rebuild, and tackle rising medical costs. State employees have not seen a significant raise to help with inflation and rising healthcare premiums but instead of working on that issue, I am suppose to believe what we need in this moment is a new congressional map? As a voter I am appalled, and I hope other voters pay attention to who is trying to help North Carolinians and who is trying to focus on partisan requests made from outside of the state.
10/21/25 10:11 AM	Colby Duvall		This proposed redistricting map is a travesty. It aims to subvert the will of the majority of the voters of this state. It is a craven, dishonorable plan for Republicans to choose their voters rather than allow the voters to fairly choose their elected officials. Any one with even a shred of decency would readily and soundly reject this gerrymandering proposal.
10/21/25 10:11 AM	Andrea Sterling		I oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina,Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterm election. This blatant partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. Voters on both sides of the aisle agree that we should choose our representatives, not have them chosen for us in a rigged system. Please keep our elections fair.
10/21/25 10:12 AM	Susan Barrella	Citizen	I was at the legislature yesterday and was extremely disappointed. I listened to all public comments and there was not one person who was in favor of this redistricting. In fact a large majority of the people in NC would be against this if it were to be voted upon. To hear the senator who designed this alone with the purpose of TORPEDOING- his words- the agenda of President Trump is disgraceful. This does not represent all of the citizens of North Carolina and is a racist action that is truly shameful. I urge that this be brought for a referendum and be voted down.

10/21/25 10:13 AM	Mrs. Frances Hudson	Self	A message to all Republicans. All I ask is for you to be fair. Are you so afraid of Donald Trump that you are willing to put your wife, children, parents, friends and neighbors lives in jeopardy. It takes real courage to do what is right. If you vote for this map, you are telling the people of NC as well as your families that their futures are not important to you. You are even saying that DT is more important than you are. I pray that you do the right thing.
10/21/25 10:14 AM	Stella Waugh		Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. If you can't win fairly, then you shouldn't be winning! I am embarrassed for my state. You are all over the news, even the conservative news. As they are saying in Scotland about their one-generation away native son DJT, "SHAME on you!".
10/21/25 10:18 AM	Support Jasmin Carrington		Dear Members of the General Assembly, I just wanted to share my support for the proposed redistricting plan that would add another Republican seat here in North Carolina. I believe this change better reflects the values and voices of the majority of our state. This adjustment would help ensure fair representation, strengthen conservative leadership, and keep North Carolina moving in the right direction. Thank you for standing up for our communities and for your hard work on this issue.
10/21/25 10:19 AM	Elizabeth Cardona	Individual	I,Äôm highly concerned at the proposed redistricting of out state. These are political games designed to upend our national status. As an Army Veteran, this amounts to giving advantage to one party. And I am not a democrat nor republican, I,Äôm a libertarian who believes in less government oversight and upholding the constitution. Listen to your constituents !
10/21/25 10:20 AM	Lee Fluke	None	The United States thrives in part due to a healthy multi-party system. When one party artificially hijacks this principle, everyone loses. The vast majority of North Carolinians reject extreme partisan gerrymandering. When our government no longer represents the will of the majority, we have tyranny and a non-representative government, we have no oversight and no checks and balances. When our votes and voices are intentionally diluted, the intent of the Constitution is violated. Unchecked power, dominance and fealty...that's what Republican politicians crave with their extreme, non-representative gerrymandering. There is nothing fair, representative or Constitutional about their intent.
10/21/25 10:21 AM	Ronald Shearin		Population of counties in northeastern NC shows a high percentage of African Americans. Drawing Congressional district boundaries in a way that dilutes the impact of African American voters is bad policy and is also probably unconstitutional.
10/21/25 10:21 AM	Katharine Macdonell		Please do not proceed with this gerrymandered redistricting effort. It completely disenfranchises a huge number of voters and leaves NC residents feeling as if they do not have any representation. It further divides an already divided citizenry. No one except for Donald Trump asked for this. It makes a mockery of free and fair elections and undermines the credibility of the NCGA. No one likes a cheater, and this is cheating at its worst. Please put the people you serve before partisanship power grabbing. Thank you.
10/21/25 10:21 AM	Dr. Susan McCaffray		I hope you will refrain from changing these maps in mid-cycle. Such a move defies the spirit of democracy (or is that also a "democrat" program you are prepared to cut?), and it undermines the general sense of fairness and good government that we the very weary people would love to see some sign of from our elected leaders. Do what we are doing out here in the real world - cut your enemy a tiny bit of slack. Just because. What would George Washington do?
10/21/25 10:21 AM	Phil Hix		Gerrymandering is nothing more than a way to take away representation and to hold power for nothing more than power,Äôs sake. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation.
10/21/25 10:21 AM	Tara Verna		Looking at the percentages of Democrats, independents and Republicans in this state, it makes zero sense to redo the maps to allow Republicans to gain another seat. It,Äôs a blatant, selfish power grab. Obviously they,Äôre afraid to be fair and play by rules because they would have no power if they did so. Let,Äôs redo the map so that they are fair for everyone.
10/21/25 10:22 AM	Ms Judy Elson	Citizen of NC	North Carolina has been in the political news since 2022 for the wrong reasons-illegal gerrymandering. North Carolina was recently listed TWICE for states with the worst manipulated voting districts (The Fulcrum). When that becomes our legacy, it tells the nation that our state no longer trusts its citizens to elect legislators who reflect our values. Please do not allow my state to play into the power grab demands of political parties. This is not who we are. Refusing to play games like this demonstrates your independence as our representative from political pressure that would compromise your integrity. On the flip side, allowing this redistricting to consolidate power would be an enduring legacy of someone more interested in power than truly representing the citizens who elect you. Please stand up for what is right.
10/21/25 10:22 AM	Mr Brian Beauregard	Sea One Level LLC	The gerrymandering of voting districts does NOTHING to make our Democracy strong. Doing this shows shows Republican fealty to a corrupt administration that continues to break the law. It paints YOU Republican House & Senate members as equally complicit in being only interested in RULING and CONTROLLING , not Governing. Only an INDEPENDANT, Non-Partisan group should draw the Congressional Maps. I do NOT support your actions. Your actions are one of the reasons I am no longer a Republican. Brian Beauregard Former Republican Ocean Isle Beach

10/21/25 10:23 AM	Kathy Melvin	None	I am a registered Independent voter. I resent that this additional gerrymander process was rushed through with little time for public comment or notice, this is bad politics initiated by the Republican majority. 84% of NC voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. I will not vote for any individual who supports this.
10/21/25 10:23 AM	Shane Lieberman		You admitted that you are doing this to capitulate to Trump, who is a fascist. Shame on you! You work for The People, not for the Orange Turd!
10/21/25 10:23 AM	Sophy Mejia		I am urging you not to proceed with redistricting. North Carolinians deserve fair and equal representation in Congress. Gerrymandering undermines trust in our democracy and silences the voices of our communities. Please do the right thing and stand for fairness, transparency, and the best interests of all North Carolinians.
10/21/25 10:23 AM	Melody Rose Morton		Stop cheating
10/21/25 10:24 AM	Kathy Fulkerson		We do not need to gerrymander NC more than it already is. We deserve fair representation. If the GOP could win based on merit and policies, this wouldn't be happening. It's disgusting.
10/21/25 10:24 AM	Anonymous Person		There was no public notice.¬†Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday.¬†Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising.
10/21/25 10:24 AM	Leslie Morin		Stop rigging the maps! NO MORE GERRYMANDERING!!!
10/21/25 10:25 AM	LtCol Eleanor Smith		Go back to the 7 Democrat/7 Republican split. North Carolina is a purple state, almost evenly split, so a 7/7 map is accurate, fair, and best represents the will & interests of the NC people.
10/21/25 10:25 AM	Mr John Harvey		It,Äôs sad and appalling that the NC GOP continues to brazenly cheat and disenfranchise voters for political motives. The people select their representatives, not the other way around. These proposed maps are racist, undemocratic, and once again a display of how low republicans will go in order to hold onto power. In a 50-50 state (well technically in 2024 a slight democratic majority by percent of voters in US/NC house & NC senate races) we deserve fair and accurate maps that represent the will and opinion of the voters. Your greed and hubris knows no bounds, and I personally look forward to these maps being rejected when democrats take back the NC Supreme Court and every vulnerable Republican representative is voted out of office. You know your chokehold on this state is coming to an end and it,Äôs sad how desperate the NCGOP is to continue to force their unpopular policies on the electorate. I know you won,Äôt (as you,Äôve all sold your souls to the devil himself) but I strongly hope you consider doing the right thing and drawing our maps fairly.
10/21/25 10:25 AM	Redistricting Morgan Whitford	Citizen of NC	I am strongly against to proposed redistricting of our communities. If GOP policies are popular then they will win out, yall should not need to cheat in order gain grown. Dishonest, knee bending cowards.
10/21/25 10:25 AM	Andrea DeGeorge		This frantic push to further gerrymander our clearly purple state to be as red as possible is completely deplorable. Voters should pick their politicians, politicians should not pick their voters! NC voters want fair maps! The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/21/25 10:26 AM	Paul Garrity		Redistributing mid-decade breaks with tradition and undermines confidence in our elections. The proposed maps are intentionally designed to dilute the voices of democrats across the state in the federal government, enabling representatives to ignore the constituents they disagree with. This is blatantly contrary to the ways our representative democracy should work.
10/21/25 10:27 AM	Anonymous Person		In 2025,¬†Donald Trump,Äôs unpopular agenda has Republicans dreading the electoral consequences coming in the 2026 midterm elections, so they,Äôre scrambling to rig congressional maps across the country to steal enough seats from Democrats to keep their majority next year.¬†North Carolina Republicans are trading petty political favors with Donald Trump; it,Äôs been reported that they,Äôre giving him one of our congressional districts in exchange for endorsements.
10/21/25 10:28 AM	Diane Benson		The only reason you are doing this is because Trump told you too. I voted for your I dependent thinking and representing me! This does not do that. Stop the steal!!!!
10/21/25 10:28 AM	Joyce Matthews		I strongly disagree with the NC House,Äôs actions on Oct. 21 at 2:00 p.m. Gerrymandering steals fair representation and undermines our democracy. It,Äôs time for fair maps that truly represent the people.
10/21/25 10:28 AM	Mrs Donna FLOYD		Shameful- another gerrymandering redistricting in NC!!!! You cannot win on your platform, so you redistrict! Speaks volumes about the Republican party!

10/21/25 10:29 AM Marco Flores		North Carolina is a purple state; neither red nor blue. Winning just over 51% of the popular vote in the state is not a "clear mandate" as recently communicated by state leaders, as that line of reasoning casually disenfranchises 49% of the state's voters - a material figure that shouldn't be cast aside for zero-sum partisanship. Leaders have also cited "doing everything they can to safeguard President Trump's agenda". What about North Carolina's agenda? A close to 50/50 electoral split does not align with current 10 (R) -4 (D) congressional representation, and expanding that bias obviously does not reflect the agenda - nor the will - of North Carolina constituents beyond the Republican base. This approach holds hostage half of the state. Shameless gerrymandering is wrong in Texas, it is wrong in California, and it is wrong in North Carolina. Sure, I suppose this is "sound political strategy" in today's hyper partisan culture. But in adopting this framework, we forfeit the right to call ourselves a representative democracy in North Carolina. We should be better than this, and we have an opportunity to prove that we are.
10/21/25 10:29 AM Timothy Nerhood		I am firmly opposed to gerrymandering,Äîregardless of which political party engages in it. Districts should never be drawn to favor one party over another, but to fairly and honestly represent the people who live in them. I respectfully urge you to refrain from any mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode North Carolinians,Äô ability to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates the core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. When politicians manipulate district lines for partisan advantage, they undermine the constitutional promise of equal representation and weaken voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under partisan banners, we must safeguard the public,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians,Äîprotecting the value of every vote equally. Gerrymandering also disrupts local control, dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people themselves. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and open competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and our moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. Finally, the people of North Carolina overwhelmingly agree: 76% of voters say gerrymandering should be illegal when used to discriminate against voters based on party.
10/21/25 10:30 AM Ann Schulte		This blatant effort to manipulate voter districts to please a President and distort representation of NC voters in the House of Representatives is undemocratic and despicable. DO YOUR JOB AND PASS THE BUDGET and quit playing games with elections. Have you collectively lost your moral compass? The evidence points in that direction. NC citizens know you can do better.
10/21/25 10:32 AM Jill Scheidt		This redistricting plan is bad for North Carolina. This rushed plan is just further capitulation to Trump and does not represent the needs and will of the people of North Carolina. When will the state stand up for the people of North Carolina and support a free and fair election with accurate representation? A rushed plan is just further evidence that the legislative branch in North Carolina is party over people.
10/21/25 10:33 AM Mr. Robert Gfeller	No	I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. Thank you for your consideration. RG

10/21/25 10:35 AM	Melanie Cazin		Good morning, I am respectfully requesting that North Carolina does NOT redraw district lines. We are new to North Carolina. Part of what appealed to us to move to this state is how very purple the state seems to be. I think redrawing lines perpetuates the division we all see between the two parties, as well as your public. I encourage you to trust the democratic process and not give in to the party pressure. We all need to find ways to encourage reaching across the aisle to make positive change for all. Thank you, Melanie Cazin Leland, NC
10/21/25 10:35 AM	William Callahan	American Citizen	the redistricting of North Carolina should be done fairly. I know this is not a Republican Party Standard. Your standard is if you can't win fairly - cheat. Gerrymander of voting area is only done to ensure a win for your candidates.
10/21/25 10:35 AM	Betsy Crites		Republicans rushing this process of redistricting. No one asked for this. In fact, 84% of NC voters agree in that gerrymandering is undemocratic.
10/21/25 10:36 AM	Dr CHRISTINE VOSS		Based upon what I have seen, this redistricting is horrible gerrymandering and should NOT be permitted. ALL North Carolinians should be represented equitably. The NC Legislature should NOT be allowed to minimize the number of non-white districts! It is high time for honesty!
10/21/25 10:36 AM	Mrs Kristen OConnell		Just NO. And you all know why this is wrong.
10/21/25 10:37 AM	Ann Helms	Voter/constituent	Shame on the GOP legislators who are pushing through another gerrymander in the face of widespread opposition. North Carolina encompasses a wide variety of political views, all of which should be represented. You are redrawing political maps once again to squelch views that don't align with yours and kowtow to a president who openly demonizes normal, patriotic Americans as enemies and terrorists. I am neither, but I'm a voter who will do everything I can to make sure we toss out representatives who disregard transparency, fairness and equal representation.
10/21/25 10:37 AM	Joshua Alley		My name is Joshua Alley, and I live in Durham. I strongly oppose any attempt to gerrymander North Carolina‚Äôs congressional maps for partisan gain. Fair, transparent maps ensure that every voter‚Äôs voice counts equally ‚Äî please protect the integrity of our representative democracy by rejecting these unfair proposals.
10/21/25 10:37 AM	Marc Drillings		I feel strongly that the map should not be redrawn and do whatever legal means is possible to prevent this atrocity to occur
10/21/25 10:38 AM	Mrs. Leslie Werling		Gerrymandering in the state of North Carolina has gotten out of control and we need it to stop. As one of your constituents, whose best interest you swore to uphold when taking oath, I urge you to stop the manipulation of our voting maps and represent ALL North Carolinian's equally, fairly and with transparency. Protecting Trump's agenda isn't serving the people and you all know it. Stop manipulating our maps and start honoring the oath you took to vote in the best interests of our people.
10/21/25 10:39 AM	Dana Allen		This is blatantly undemocratic and does not serve or represent the people of North Carolina
10/21/25 10:41 AM	Jennifer Brennon		Why? If your policies aren‚Äôt good enough to keep you in office then why try to change things? Stand on your policies and get elected the right way.
10/21/25 10:41 AM	Dr Ann Smith		No! We did not ask for this! We do not agree with gerrymandering our districts to favor one party or another! NO PUBLIC NOTICE! And finally, we are a PURPLE STATE! An 11-3 map in a 50-50 state is POLITICAL THEFT. DON‚Äôt DO IT.
10/21/25 10:41 AM	Karen Ziff		I am OPPOSED to Redistricting North Carolina. Gerrymandering is a cause of society anger at government. Representatives should not be picking their voters.
10/21/25 10:41 AM	K Patt		I am a constituent from Kitty Hawk writing to express my strong opposition to partisan gerrymandering. I urge you to support legislation that creates an independent redistricting commission. Gerrymandering allows politicians to choose their voters, rather than voters choosing their representatives. It manipulates the democratic process by predetermining election outcomes. I ask that you please please support measures that would create an independent redistricting commission. A fair, nonpartisan process is the only way to ensure that our electoral maps accurately reflect the will of the voters. Gerrymandering can "crack" communities of interest by splitting them into different districts to dilute their voting power, or "pack" them into one district to limit their overall influence.
10/21/25 10:42 AM	Mr. Mark Johnson		No gerrymandering! Each district should be competitive so voters have a voice!
10/21/25 10:42 AM	Professor Sarah Barbour		This redistricting is harmful to the democratic process in our state. If the Republican lawmakers had confidence in the support of their constituents, they would not have to rig the elections in this way. It's a shame that they are trying to pick their voters instead of allowing the voters, the citizens of this state, to pick their elected officials. Please reconsider this redistricting. Thank you for the opportunity to share these comments. I hope you are able to consider them carefully.

10/21/25 10:43 AM	Mr Arthur Powers		I am in favor of making North Carolina more red. States like MA have 0 republicans house reps, but have about 1/3 of voters that vote red. To do justice to the republicans of MA and RI, we need to redistrict in NC. Thank you
10/21/25 10:43 AM	Ms. Patricia French		I'm very opposed to the attempts to redraw North Carolina,Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob us of our rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around.
10/21/25 10:43 AM	Beverly Murdock		I am a private citizen who loves North Carolina and loves the United States of America. Stop gerrymandering the North Carolina districts to favor Republicans. That is NOT how a democracy works.
10/21/25 10:43 AM	ms sara peach		The repudlican redistricting plan, gerrymandering plain and simple, is both illegal and immoral. I DO NOT support it and will vote against anyone who supports it.
10/21/25 10:43 AM	Eva Nehring		You DO represent every citizen in your districts, not just the ones that vote for you.
10/21/25 10:43 AM	Kate Gordon-Escobar		I am adamantly against this partisan gerrymandering. Each person's vote should be fairly counted. In addition to Congressional Districts 1 and 3 being specifically targeted in this new extreme gerrymander, if it passes we will all be voting in distorted districts losing fair representation with these new maps.
10/21/25 10:44 AM	Suddha Kuyt		Redistricting and gerrymandering steal power from the people. It removes our choices on who represents us and traps us with one party. Removing choice from the people is the death of democracy.
10/21/25 10:44 AM	Diane Swan		Redistricting should be done by an independent commission, not by either party. It's shameful what the NC republican's bow to in order to keep power when they don't have public support.
10/21/25 10:44 AM	Mr Scott Carey		Bottom line. It's not right. I'm not a Democrat or a Republican. If your party can't win fairly, then your party should NOT win. What you all are pulling here in an absolute insult to North Carolinians and frankly, just the simple act of voting. I would absolutely push back just as hard if Democrats were doing this. Believe it. Just stop with this ridiculous fawning you all seem to be obsessed with. He is not worth destroying our state or the integrity of our elections. He freaking tried to steal the 2020 election! Enough of the capitulating.
10/21/25 10:45 AM	Mr. John Rees	Common Cause NC	Partisan redistricting is undemocratic! Shame on the Republicans for expanding it! Support independent redistricting!
10/21/25 10:46 AM	Kimia Adibi		The new map is (even more) gerrymandering, hurting both NC communities and our federal representation. Redistricting should not be partisan.
10/21/25 10:47 AM	Mrs. Ashley Rogers		How dare you continue to cheat by gerrymandering our already gerrymandered maps of the state I was raised in and have generations here who built the very foundations of the great state of North Carolina. I am PROUD to call myself a Carolinian, but not after these felonious actions of trying to prevent free and FAIR elections of your constituents! Unbelievable!
10/21/25 10:48 AM	Ellen Salmon		This attempt to redraw our legislative maps to provide an advantage to a particular political party is a bad faith attempt to undermine the foundation of our democracy. I urge you to reject these efforts and uphold your oaths to defend the Constitution and serve the people of the state.
10/21/25 10:49 AM	What happened to Integrit Michelle McCullough		Why is it so important for the current administration to put in more work trying to take everything away from the American citizens instead of doing what we as a people pay them to do. Maybe start freezing their salaries and jobs, taking away their health benefits, food supply and homes until they get on board with doing what is right for the people and not just supporting one person!!
10/21/25 10:50 AM	Martha Rigsbee		I,Äôm in favor of this redistricting. If it,Äôs fair for democrats to do this, it,Äôs fair for republicans.
10/21/25 10:50 AM	President Yvonn Kinston	CWA	,ÄúDemocracy works best when voters pick their leaders ,Äî not when leaders pick their voters.
10/21/25 10:51 AM	Harrison Rohrer		The state consistently votes ~50% split between Democrats and Republicans. It is a travesty that the representation at the national level will favor one party by 80%.
10/21/25 10:52 AM	Steven Brittain		Don,Äôt do it! Nazi,Äôs never win!
10/21/25 10:52 AM	Anne Wright		Nobody asked for this. It's not needed and it's patently unjust. North Carolina is a purple state and a fair map would reflect that. Pushing this through without adequate notice is bad government. North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. It's a shame the Senate and House refuse to act in conformity with the will of the people.
10/21/25 10:53 AM	Film Grips James Duncan	IATSE Local 491	Gerrymandering does not reflect a proper cross section of NC political spectrum. Please do not manipulate for political advantages to the republican agenda.
10/21/25 10:53 AM	Mrs. Damaris Ayuso		My heart hurts to see this proposal to further disenfranchise North Carolinians. Already our representation in Congress is far from what would be a fair split given this is an evenly divided purple state. This is what you want to teach the next generation? That cheating and power grabs no matter the cost is acceptable? That bowing and obeying a President who espouses the same view and continues to corrupt our country and hurt our people is OK? Please come to your senses, find empathy and reclaim honor for yourself and our state, and vote NO.
10/21/25 10:54 AM	Michael Morin		Stop gerrymandering!!!
10/21/25 10:54 AM	9195421424 Lee McLean	Citizen & Voter	NC is already notorious for its long history of egregious gerrymandering- I am shocked that you are considering the elimination of one more competitive House seat - and also one of our few African-American Representatives - - Have you no shame?!!

10/21/25 10:55 AM	Michelle McCullough		I oppose redistricting because it pure unwarranted Gerrymandering to favor one political party and does NOT favor the people!!!
10/21/25 10:57 AM	Terri LeGrand		I strongly urge you to reject any mid-decade congressional redistricting proposal. Such an action would not only further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice, but it also imposes a significant and unnecessary financial burden on taxpayers. Calling a special legislative session and undertaking the complex, data-heavy process of redrawing districts mid-decade diverts hundreds of thousands of dollars in public funds and legislative time away from critical priorities like fully funding the state budget, education, and healthcare. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation, weakens voters' ability to hold their leaders accountable, and disrupts local control by dividing natural communities. The true conservative values of transparency, integrity, and competition demand victory be earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. The continuous, costly cycle of redistricting,Äîoften resulting in litigation,Äîdemonstrates a shameful disregard for the voters who are left confused and disenfranchised by constantly changing maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. The people of North Carolina are united against this practice; 76% of voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on political party, including strong majorities of Republicans (66%), Democrats (79%), and Unaffiliated voters (82%). We elected state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, but we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally, not squander taxpayer resources on partisan power grabs.
10/21/25 10:57 AM	Shannon Knapp	Individual	I'm strongly opposed to gerrymandering to create more republican districts. Please do not proceed with this. I will absolutely vote out anyone who supports this idea.
10/21/25 10:57 AM	Mrs. Barbara Gardner		We, the voters of North Carolina, are outraged that redistricting is happening again,Äîwithout public notice, without transparency, and without respect for the people you serve. We just went through this process a few years ago. Our communities, our towns, and our voices have already been shifted, divided, and redrawn. Now you,Äôre doing it again,Äîquietly, and without giving citizens the chance to see or speak. This is not democracy. This is not representation. This is manipulation of power at the expense of the people. We demand that all redistricting activity stop immediately until the public is notified and given full access to the process. The people of North Carolina deserve fairness, honesty, and a voice in decisions that shape our future. We are watching. We are speaking. And we will not be silenced.
10/21/25 11:00 AM	Sandra England		This should not be done without new census data. Mid-terms are not the appropriate legal time. I am not represented because the party in power refuses to go to work. Do something for me, a widowed senior citizen!
10/21/25 11:01 AM	Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Denman		Your proposed map is unacceptable. The map needs to be finally made fair where elected officials reflect the voters and many more Democrats are elected and this state can turn around and be meaningful to its residents in a good way. Likewise, Retardicans should be drawn out so decent legislators can take over and run this state properly, and it can earn respect.
10/21/25 11:02 AM	Dr. Jillian Neill		I comment in opposition to the proposed further redistricting (ie gerrymandering) of the North Carolina congressional map. How ridiculous is it that in the 9 years since I have returned to NC, living in the same location, I have never once been in the same district twice in a row?! If you believe in free and fair elections, you should believe that you can win them freely and fairly, on the merits of your ideas, as opposed to by drawing lines advantageous to your party. I would also argue that REGARDLESS of party, what one has done to one can eventually be done to the other.
10/21/25 11:03 AM	Irene Stoll		An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.
10/21/25 11:04 AM	Carol Obrien		As a concerned citizen of NC, I strongly oppose the proposed Congressional redistricting plan. This goes against democratic principles of fair representation of all NC citizens. Redistricting to favor one party or the other is not acceptable. Why should the Republican be anymore favored than they already are. You have the control but yet are incapable of passing a budget! How embarrassing to not have done so yet. Please do your job and stop focusing on these ridiculous matters.

10/21/25 11:04 AM	Ms. Susan Dakin	I am opposed to any and all gerrymandering. North Carolina needs to establish an independent redistricting commission, to ensure that districts are both contiguous and compact, preserve existing political units and communities of interest, and NOT violate the Voting Rights Act. Also, districts should be redrawn ONLY after each federal census. Doing so at any other time sets an unacceptable precedent. Political gerrymandering should be outlawed. The proposed new map is explicitly gerrymandered to increase the representation of Republicans, even though their representation is already very disproportionate to their share of the state's population. The map also is racially gerrymandered in order to deliberately deprive the relatively large black population in northeastern NC of representation in Congress. This is illegal. However, it appears that the state's Republicans are emboldened to attempt this because of signs that the U.S. Supreme Court's "conservative" majority might be inclined throw out the Voting Rights Act.
10/21/25 11:04 AM	William Jordan	The new plan further disenfranchises NC voters in an attempt to unreasonably and unfairly elect more Republicans to congress than the actual cast ballots of the NC voters. It is abhorrent and antithetical to democratic norms and should be immediately dismissed.
10/21/25 11:04 AM	Sheila Leeds	This action is a throw back to segregation and Black people being treated like animals. Are you forgetting that Greensboro was the site of the lunch counter rebellion? We will resist your rascism, and we will vote you out of office regardless!
10/21/25 11:05 AM	Jane Rodriguez	Redistricting to protect GOP power is wrong. It‚Äôs cheating and dishonest. State congress is out of touch with what their constituents want and need. Spend some time doing your jobs (like the budget!)
10/21/25 11:06 AM	Dana Elledge	Honorable Republicans, please do not change the maps to disenfranchise voters. Your job is to protect voters' rights, not change borders on maps to your advantage to hurt NC voters. Donald Trump‚Äôs unpopular agenda has Republicans dreading the electoral consequences coming in the 2026 midterm elections, so they‚Äôre scrambling to rig congressional maps across the country to steal enough seats from Democrats to keep their majority next year. Be honorable and stop this unethical practice. Stop Donald Trump's assault on our justice department and checks and balances of our constitution. I can't believe our elected officials are following these unethical practices. This overreach of federal government is not a tenant of the Republican Party.
10/21/25 11:07 AM	Diana Lokshin	Stick with traditional ways and leave it alone.
10/21/25 11:07 AM	Do not redistrict to allo Umbreen Hanif	I do not agree with the redistricting.
10/21/25 11:08 AM	Mr Jeff Jakubowski	Redistricting at the demand of one person is absolutely unconstitutional. It is a blatant power grab by the Trump Administration to buttress up their position going into the mid terms. There is no way the Great State of North Carolina should bend to the will of any one person. Keep the districts as they are and let the people of our great state have their full voices be heard Sincerely - Jeff Jakubowski Charlotte NC
10/21/25 11:08 AM	Moretta Randle	I do not want this re-mapping. We need to have representation from both parties and no one wins when there's only 1 option.
10/21/25 11:09 AM	Erwin Byrd	I have lived in North Carolina for nearly fifty years - since I was 6 months old. Hundreds of members of my family, including my husband and 2 school-aged children, live, work, and pay taxes in this State. It makes it much harder to encourage my children to be kind, just, contributing members of society when the leaders at our national and state level are cheating, making it impossible for many citizens to vote for their preferred candidate. The fact that Republicans are willing to take this drastic redistricting step shows that they do not care about the voice of many of their constituents. It is wrong, shameful, and - regardless of what our no-longer-trustworthy Supreme Court might say - illegal. I am a lawyer, and have always relied on and believed in the rule of law. But moves like this impending redistricting make it difficult for even me to believe that justice will prevail. Please do not disempower so many North Carolinians by rigging the system in your favor. It would be un-American. The worst part is that I believe all the legislators know it's wrong but are doing it anyway, which is a strong indication that public service is the wrong job for many of them.

10/21/25 11:09 AM Mr. Jamial Black	Wake Equity & Justice Coalition	I am Jamial Black, and I stand before you not just as an individual, but as a representative of a community whose history is steeped in resistance, resilience, and the relentless pursuit of justice. The proposed congressional map before this committee is not merely a technical adjustment; it is a continuation of a long-standing pattern of disenfranchisement. North Carolina's history is replete with efforts to suppress Black political power,Äîfrom the 1835 constitutional convention that disenfranchised freedmen, to the 1900 constitutional amendment that imposed literacy tests and poll taxes, to the multimember districts of the 1970s that diluted Black votes. These actions were not anomalies; they were deliberate strategies to maintain white supremacy and control. In 1982, the Voting Rights Act was amended to strengthen protections against such practices. The landmark case Thornburg v. Gingles (1986) established that redistricting plans that dilute the voting strength of Black communities violate Section 2 of the Act. Yet, here we are again, facing a map that threatens to undo decades of progress. The proposed changes to North Carolina,Äôs 1st Congressional District are particularly alarming. This district has consistently elected Black representatives since 1992, reflecting the political will of a majority-Black constituency. The current proposal, however, reconfigures the district by removing inland counties and replacing them with more conservative coastal areas. This shift is not just a matter of geography; it is a calculated move to diminish Black electoral influence and undermine the intent of the Voting Rights Act. Let us be clear: this is not a partisan issue; this is a civil rights issue. The right to vote is fundamental, and any attempt to dilute that right is an affront to our democracy. We cannot, and must not, allow history to repeat itself. I urge this committee to reject the proposed map and to adopt a plan that respects the Voting Rights Act, honors the legacy of those who fought for our rights, and ensures that Black voices in North Carolina continue to be heard and represented. I speak today not only for myself and my community but in honor of my late uncle, Dr. George Clyde Debnam, often recognized as the "Father of Modern African American Medicine." Dr. Debnam's legacy is a testament to the power of representation and the necessity of equitable
10/21/25 11:11 AM Kathryn Doster		No. No. No. no. No. No. No. Shame. Shame. Shame. Shame.
10/21/25 11:11 AM Ms. Brandi Williams		My name is Brandi N. Williams and I am a lifelong resident of North Carolina who has voted in nearly every election. I am writing to strongly oppose the newly proposed congressional maps. These maps disenfranchise the people of North Carolina by weakening their voice and power at the ballot box. North Carolina is a nearly 50/50 state, yet the proposed maps could hand nearly 80% of congressional seats to one party. That outcome doesn,Äôt reflect the voters ,Äî it reflects political manipulation. Manipulating voting districts in this way undermines trust in government and denies communities, especially Black voters in the historic 1st Congressional District, an equal opportunity to choose representatives who truly reflect their needs and priorities. The proposed configuration reduces the Black voting-age population in CD1 by more than eight percent, dismantling the state,Äôs only historically competitive district. Beyond CD1, these maps split 12 counties a total of 15 times, fracturing communities and making districts less representative overall. Instead of focusing on redrawing lines again, I urge the General Assembly to: Reject any mid-decade redistricting process that weakens fair representation or limits competition. Hold meaningful public hearings across the state before maps are finalized ,Äî at times and locations that allow working families and rural residents to participate. Adopt a transparent, data-driven redistricting process that includes independent oversight and clearly defined criteria to prevent political bias. Release all data and criteria used to draw these maps, so the public can evaluate whether they meet constitutional and fairness standards.

10/21/25 11:11 AM	Annie Wenz		I am a VERY ACTIVE voting/organizing constituent! This TOTALLY publicly unsolicited POWER GRAB is an INCREDIBLY UN-DEMOCRATIC PUTRID action! 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable! IF you find yet another sleazy way to slime this through, WE THE MORAL PEOPLE WILL rise up & work until we drop, to get every voter engaged until every last one of you who believe that cheating is moral & honors Democracy. YOU ARE WRONG & YOU KNOW IT! NO job security is worth destroying our constitution! NONE! Its time you spineless trump licking complicit sycophants pick up your peas & stop the destruction of this country By sick leaders who think it's acceptable to post videos of defecating on the majority of Americans!!! AmenDammit!
10/21/25 11:11 AM	Erin Newton		This redistricting effort egregiously ignores two facts--that NC has more independent voters than either Republicans or Democrats and that the numbers of voters registered with the two major parties are even. I strenuously oppose this power grab by the Republican-dominated legislature. Let's have some common sense and a show of integrity rather than corruption. Districts should be politically neutral and not give any party or candidate a built-in advantage, and conversely, should not intentionally disadvantage any party or candidate.
10/21/25 11:12 AM	Patricia Tilbert		No one is fooled. Redistricting is a blatant endeavor to suppress votes and voters unlikely to support the illegal, unconstitutional policies of the current administration & what Republican Party has become. No to redistricting.
10/21/25 11:12 AM	Gerrymandering maps Sarah Duncan		Hello, Redistricting in order to further diminish the black population vote in district one before midterms is grossly unconstitutional. If republicans want to win so badly, why wouldn't they just be more appealing to their constituents? This is censuring of a large portion of the population and frankly racially discriminatory. Shame on them (if you have any left)!
10/21/25 11:12 AM	Joel OSullivan		Vote NO
10/21/25 11:13 AM	Susan Worley		This has nothing to do with the will of the people. If it did, you would have put it to the people to vote and not rushed the process through. In a state that is evenly divided between Democrats and Republicans, your clear intention is to silence Democratic voices. I submit my comments as a matter of duty with no faith in making a difference because our Republican officials have shown themselves to be people without principles or care for our beloved state.
10/21/25 11:16 AM	Diane Wilson		As a concerned citizen of North Carolina, I request that you take immediate action to END the practice of gerrymandering in our state. Gerrymandering undermines the integrity of our elections and silences the voices of many North Carolinians who deserve fair and equal representation. Over the years, we've been a glaring example of how political leaders can manipulate district boundaries to favor one party over another, creating districts that do not reflect the true will of the people. This practice dilutes the power of voters, undermines our democratic process, and contributes to political polarization. It is an affront to the fundamental principle of one person, one vote. This is anti-American and anti-democratic. As leaders of this great state, you should be ashamed.
10/21/25 11:16 AM	Teresa Earles		Gerrymandering is wrong no matter who does it. Lines should be drawn so that everyone has equal representation.
10/21/25 11:17 AM	Geraldine Nugent	Good Trouble, WNC	North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. DO THE RIGHT THING BY ALL NORTH CAROLINIANS!!!!

10/21/25 11:17 AM	Tom Ruehle		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable.
10/21/25 11:18 AM	Timothy Hooker		In regards to the redistricting proposed by the Senate, as a long term resident of North Carolina, I would ask that you end the gerrymander of our voting districts. Please do not further exacerbate the national political turmoil. When the people feel they have no voice they lose faith in the democratic process and we see this happening every day. When this happens, what will people do? The framers of the constitution certainly knew of the danger of political violence and did not design our government to work this way. The gerrymander unfairly protects underperforming representatives and undermines the accountability required for the proper function of our government. Please, for the future of our country and this state, make fair voting districts that do not unfairly represent one part over another and enshrine it in the constitution of North Carolina for future generations.
10/21/25 11:20 AM	Jane Wyche		Please do not accept redistricting. I am against this. If I had a say so, we would go back to the popular vote winning. Manipulation is not fair.
10/21/25 11:20 AM	Rev. William Garrard	Retired United Methodist Clergy	I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. As a citizen and a voter, I want a choice and I have not had a realistic choice since I have been voting in the 10th for these many years. This is a travesty on any sense of fairness and democracy. Why are you afraid of a fair fight? Stop rigging the rules to your advantages and let the voters decide based on the character of the candidates and their positions. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. It is time for NC to have our voting districts drawn by a non-partisan commission.
10/21/25 11:20 AM	Me Brenda Duffey		I am tired of money brokers keeping the voices of all citizens in the voting process. Those who support this are the ones determined to dismantle our republic
10/21/25 11:21 AM	Susan Inglis		I strenuously object to the current effort to redraw district lines. We need to maintain equal representation for all our citizens. Do NOT redraw !
10/21/25 11:23 AM	Monika DeClay	IATSE 491	NC ELECTED OFFICIALS SHOULDN'T CHOOSE THEIR CONSTITUENTS!

10/21/25 11:25 AM Caitlyn Bailey		To Whom It May Concern: I,Âôm writing to strongly oppose the proposed congressional redistricting map, because it undermines fair representation, dilutes voters,Âô voices, and seems designed to entrench partisan power rather than reflect the will of the people. Why I oppose this map: - The proposed map appears engineered to add one more congressional seat to the Republican side (moving from a 10-4 split to 11-3 in favor of Republicans) by reshaping districts such as the 1st Congressional District. - It breaks apart long-standing communities of interest ,Äî for example counties with large Black populations in the ,ÄúBlack Belt,Äù of eastern North Carolina are being shifted out of a historically-Black-electing district. - Independent polling shows that a large majority of voters across parties in North Carolina oppose gerrymandering, recognizing it as harmful to fair democracy. - Previous court decisions in North Carolina have found that district lines cross constitutional boundaries when race or partisan power becomes the predominant factor. The broader impact on voters and democracy: - When maps are drawn to favour one party, then the incentive for representatives to listen to all constituents diminishes; safe seats reduce accountability. - Voters in many regions may feel their vote no longer matters because the outcome is practically predetermined, eroding trust in government. - If historically-marginalised communities (e.g., Black voters in eastern counties) are shifted into districts where their voice is diluted, that raises concerns about equal representation under the law and under the Voting Rights Act of 1965. What I ask you to do: - Stop the proposed map in its current form. - Adopt a process that is transparent, publicly accessible, allows robust input, and is genuinely non-partisan (or uses independent
10/21/25 11:25 AM Marcie Shealy		PLEASE STOP redistricting. By doing this you show us voters you dont care about us you only want power.
10/21/25 11:25 AM Burke Lipscomb		Please know you are doing a disservice to the citizens of North Carolina by prioritizing the requests of the current administration over the actual desires of the constituents you represent. This is a rare moment to show the nation North Carolina is an exceptional state not bound to following it,Äôs neighbors. Should you care about the state at all- I would recommend listening to the outcry of its people and at least letting the public vote on it. Sincerely, Someone with less years than you and somehow more common decency.
10/21/25 11:25 AM Mary White	N/A	This vote to destroy the rights of a multi-racial, and Black-represented portion of the state makes me exceptionally ashamed of North Carolina legislators from the Right side of the political spectrum at this moment in time. There is no sense of decency and responsibiity to fairness when legislators refuse to allow reasonable representation to exist. Gerrymandering is wrong, unjust, unfair, and immoral no matter what party engages in it. Just viewing the revised map where the central and western side of the state is highly multifurcated, but the eastern side is all combined into one big blob. What kind of fair representation could ever exist in such a conglomeration. Republican legislators who voted for such a trashy deal appear to be absolutely bereft of conscience and conviction. Historically when done by Democrats it was just as unconcionable. Shame on any legislator who is unable to stand up for fairness and justice anywhere in this state and country. Perhaps you/they actually want to leave the taste of pure disgust in the mouths and consciousness of the constituency. May you be erased by voters of courage to finally be removed with finiteness -- never rise to any position of value again. May such blatant injustice be unforgiven and unforgotten. So help us God!

10/21/25 11:26 AM	Carson Coggins		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People‚Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition‚Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/21/25 11:26 AM	Mary Sutherland	None	I strongly oppose any potential party-driven gerrymandering. We need to ensure that we are truly representing our state's citizenry. It isn't appropriate to pack/crack different subgroups to drive a political end goal.
10/21/25 11:27 AM	Mrs Janice Steever		Voters need to vote against Republicans on the down ballot
10/21/25 11:28 AM	Jennifer Speal		It appears to me since the Republicans in the General Assembly have not introduced any real policies to benefit the fine working folks of NC, your only option now is to stack the Senate to further advance the abhorrent polices of DJT and his cabinet. All parties (Dems, Republican, etc) should be fairly represented in each district. Of course, as areas grow, redistricting can and should happen, but again in a fair, just and legal way. The gerrymandering which has taken place by the NC Republicans is the most egregious I have ever seen. As I have often said over the last few years, the Republicans have "no game". Thus resulting in gerrymandering which is nothing short of cheating, whether it is considered lawful or not. As a NC citizen, I am extremely ashamed of the Republicans who represent our state, both state and federal. Respectfully submitted, Jennifer Speal
10/21/25 11:29 AM	Stephanie Pulker		I do not support this redistributing as it is reducing the voice of each person in NC
10/21/25 11:29 AM	Del Huntsinger		I was disappointed to read that our state congress is trying to appease Donald Trump and not focusing on their constituents. NC has been in the news repeatedly for the many attempts to illegally gerrymandering or voting districts. It would be my hope that this new map is not passed and our congress respects its citizens and their values, after all isn‚Äôt that what they were elected to do and not be weak and succumb to outside pressure to do something so blatantly biased
10/21/25 11:29 AM	Mrs Allison McDonough		Senator Ralph Hise's comments "President Trump has called upon Republican states to fight fire with fire". Do you realize what happens when you do that? You create an even bigger fire. Why is it so difficult for the NC GOP leadership to use their own brains and come up with their own ideas, is it because they don't have one? Why must they pick up arms at the slightest provocation from Donald Trump? Frankly, it's weird, cringy and off-putting.
10/21/25 11:29 AM	Jennifer Johnston		I am deeply opposed to redrawing district maps so that political parties are choosing voters rather than voters choosing elected officials.
10/21/25 11:30 AM	Laurie McDowell		Can someone please explain to Ralph Hise that the reason Republicans hold a razor-thin margin in the United States House of Representatives is because MORE PEOPLE VOTED FOR DEMOCRATS. That is the way democracy works.
10/21/25 11:30 AM	Aida Algarin		Stop the redistricting
10/21/25 11:30 AM	Lynne Brofman		This is yet another heavy hand from Donald Trump. Redistribution of votes does not give representation to all.

10/21/25 11:32 AM	Dr. Pamela Thompson		I strongly oppose the passage of the 2025 Congressional district plan. President Donald Trump's agenda is immoral, does not support the U.S. Bill of Rights or constitution, makes no economic sense in the long term, and is dangerous for all U.S. citizens. Why then does Senate President Pro Tempore Berger insist on supporting harsh redistricting, citing support for Trump's agenda? I can only assume that Berger is not moral and does not understand the ten commandments, the constitution, economics, or the danger to all citizens posed by his continued assault on the dignity of and dilution of political voice for groups of citizens of minority and/or lower socio-economic status, most recently by the current push for redistricting. -It is immoral to take more than is deserved through cheating. That's called stealing. -It is immoral to lie. That's called "false witness." And this includes lying to oneself. That's called denial. -Harsh redistricing further diluting the voice of minorities (especially black voters in this case) and/or citizens with lower incomes is unfair. Again, this is immoral and is called stealing. And it is probably illegal. -This continued assault on the voting rights of lower income and/or minority citizens does not conform with the Bill of Rights ("All men are created equal...) or the voting rights provisions of the U.S. Constitution. The actions of the current NCLEG majority fosters the erosion of these ideas and precedents, and makes our society more and more unjust. We live with the supressed guilt and increased fear resulting from these actions on our children and youth, who are now living in an unjust society. -Redistricting unfairly and similar actions recently undertaken by the Republican majority have predictable consequences in the long term. They make no economic sense. The effects may not be immediate but they are certain. There will be more crime, a less educated citizenry and workforce, more mental illness, more substance abuse, more children born in poverty, and less revenue in taxes paid by those in the targeted group. How does that benefit the citizens of N.C. in any way?
10/21/25 11:34 AM	Elizabeth Baikey		Vote for no redistricting! This is about every North Carolinian having a vote and not about a political party. Praying for democracy!!
10/21/25 11:35 AM	Mrs Katherine Southerland		Restructuring voting districts in order to further your political agenda is unethical. You should serve your constituents in a way that they want you to remain in office. This is your legacy. You can either fight the good fight or be complicit in the downfall of our democratic republic.
10/21/25 11:35 AM	Alice Bender		This is a bad look for NC! It is not after a census and serves no purpose except to increase chances for more GOP legislators. They are already a majority! Do not disenfranchise voters because you want to control how they vote!!
10/21/25 11:36 AM	Mrs. Judy Figura		I humbly request that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Such political gerrymandering would remove the electoral voice from half the people of North Carolina. It is fair that people should be free to elect their officials and NOT that politicians should select their voters. I beseech you to please be true to the oath you took to represent fairly all people of North Carolina, and please vote against mid-decade gerrymandering. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/21/25 11:36 AM	Dr. Frances Van Dolah		This partisan gerrymander of an already highly manipulated map that does not represent the population of NC, at the behest of forces outside of our state, is unconscionable and likely illegal. The legislature is intended to represent the people of this state. Do not further rig the system!
10/21/25 11:37 AM	Linda Pearsall		I object to the recently proposed redistricting that distorts the fair distribution of votes and supports a politically biased outcome.
10/21/25 11:37 AM	Carrie Myers		Allowing gerrymandering is an absolute affront to voting rights. I am vehemently opposed. PLEASE do not sanction it. Carrie Myers (until recently, life-long Republican, now Independent voter)
10/21/25 11:37 AM	Ms Cynthia Guido		I oppose redistricting! The Republicans in the Assembly have been taking away over half of NC,Äôs votes by constantly gerrymandering districts. NC has many more Democrat and unaffiliated voters Stop cheating to remain in power. Do your job representing ALL voters in NC
10/21/25 11:37 AM	Mr Bryan MATHENY	Retired	This is the only way republicans can remain in power. To cheat. Please do not allow this.
10/21/25 11:38 AM	Mrs Tammy Sawyer		I vehemently oppose this.
10/21/25 11:38 AM	Concerned Citizen		Please don,Äôt redistrict to benefit your political position. It,Äôs anti-democratic and although you feel protected and emboldened by the current federal administration, there will be a time when you are held accountable for your role in the demise of this great country,Äôs democracy. Act as if you care about ALL of us, not just some of us.

10/21/25 11:38 AM	Mrs Cheryl Citron		I am strongly against any further attempts by Republicans to gerrymander our NC districts in the Republicans favor. The vast majority of the people of our state do not want this. This includes Republicans and Independents as well as Democrats. Partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. In North Carolina , roughly half vote Democratic. A map that is gerrymandered 11 to 3 in favor of Republicans is wildly imbalanced in favor of Republicans and simply put, unfair. This is taking away the vote of millions of North Carolinians. The people of this state will remember this unfairness and disenfranchisement. Do not vote for a map that does not reflect the reality of our state. Thank you, Cheryl Citron
10/21/25 11:40 AM	Ms. Patricia Thompson		Yes, Vote to redistrict for the benefit of all North Carolinians!
10/21/25 11:40 AM	Mrs Deborah Lefebvre		This redistricting completed in a non census time frame is more than unusual. It reeks of political collusion by the GOP to insure their ability to win the 2026 midterm elections. They realize that their power base is eroding and to increase their win of these elections they are taking extreme measures to win.
10/21/25 11:42 AM	Ms Nicole Page		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù It is disgusting and should not stand.
10/21/25 11:44 AM	Mrs. Anne Stokely	Self	Let's be real: redistricting will functionally disenfranchising many North Carolinians and undermine the will of the people, especially in District 1. This will take us further away from what a real democracy looks like. I appeal to each political official to listen to their conscience and act with integrity. THIS IS NOT WHAT AMERICA FOUGHT A REVOLUTION TO ACHIEVE. No political party should benefit from districting. WE NEED A STATE BUDGET NOW. The NC Legislature is avoiding addressing the very real problems its constituents have by allowing themselves to get bogged down in this partisan redistricting effort. We need to address our very real need for insurance reform and money for schools. I used to be proud of being a North Carolina native. Our educational system, and our inability to address our internal problems, is becoming fodder for national ridicule.
10/21/25 11:45 AM	Allison Allen		I kindly request fair maps for NC residents reflecting the commonalities and diversity of each Congressional district. Congressional districts should be shaped by the communities in them. The current tentative map diminishes our vote, and the timeline and way the new map is getting passed without opportunity for voters to weigh in means we don,Äôt have a transparent process for representation in Congress. The way the General Assembly is pushing this map through at the request of the current administration undermines equal representation for the Eastern District 1, which has been redrawn to break apart the Black community there and take away their political power. And the harms from the prior map remain as well. In my district, Black voters are packed into District 12, minimizing my community,Äôs voting power. Please consider fair maps that protect the voting rights of the Black community.
10/21/25 11:45 AM	Mona Ellum		Gerrymandering is wrong, regardless of ‚Äúwhich side,Äù does it. If we ever hope to have an engaged citizenry, we must ALL stop these political games. I have no doubt that the R,Äôs will push this through, no matter what % of the NC population opposes it. And that is a very , very sad statement on our political system.
10/21/25 11:45 AM	Kim McGuire		NC has a long tradition of redistricting once a decade - creating a fair fight for each party to win elections, which then allows them the earned right to alter the district maps. THE GOP IS NOW BREAKING THE PRECEDENT TO GAIN A TOTALLY UNFAIR ADVANTAGE. Will we have leaders who respect the law and serve NC citizens - or will we have greedy self-centered cheaters? This needs to stop and NC needs to return to being a respected place of caring leaders. Why don't these legislators focus on passing a budget that pays teachers and police and maintains Medicaid health care for poor and disabled people? This redistricting move is nothing short of stealing - to hurt the most vulnerable in our state. Shame on you!
10/21/25 11:46 AM	Mark Steed	CAGREENSBORO	The long-term effects of gerrymandering will have a negative impact on democracy, and it's shameful. Please consider your legacy, our generations legacy. Society will never flourish in the manner the founding fathers fought for this way. Disenfranchising people, eliminating their voice, manipulating for power grabs, is killing our country. What profit is it to gain the whole world and lose your soul?
10/21/25 11:46 AM	Susan Veillette		The people are supposed to decide who represents them. Gerrymandering takes away the voices of the voters. Hands off the maps. Stop throwing tantrums when you lose. Let the people,Äôs voices be heard.

10/21/25 11:47 AM	Kelly T		The fact that NC government is agreeing to solidify a one party establishment by making maps that DO NOT represent the people is completely unconstitutional. NOONE wants this. Be better. Also the fact that it,Âôs done because ,Äútrump asked,Äù is shameful. Represent your people not your wallets. Matthew 6:24: "No one can serve two masters. Either you will hate the one and love the other, or you will be loyal to the one and neglect the other. You cannot serve both God and money.,Äù You are seen and will be judged for your corruption.
10/21/25 11:48 AM	Jean Reiner		I'm urging Rep. Brisson and Steve Jarvis to OPPOSE attempts to redraw North Carolina's congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This Blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/21/25 11:48 AM	Amy Bell		This move dilutes the vote and undermines the will of the people.
10/21/25 11:48 AM	Laura Watson		THIS IS NOT OK. I was born and raised in North Carolina, have spent most of my life here, and am horrified by what this plan aims to accomplish: to put more power in to the hands of one party even though 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party! What happened to "may the best candidate win"?!? I suppose this maneuver shouldn't shock me, but it sure as heck disgusts me. DO BETTER. You owe that to EVERY citizen of this wonderful state I want to continue to be proud to call home, and who YOU REPRESENT!
10/21/25 11:48 AM	Do not redistrict to allo Umbreen Hanif		I do not agree with the redistricting.
10/21/25 11:49 AM	Jeri Senor	Personal	Please focus on the genuine work of representing constituents with integrity and fairness. I would like you to pass a state budget and address concerns of North Carolinians, like the rising cost of insurance (our family's insurance is going up by 15%), funding our schools and staffing the DMV (I can't get a damn appointment!). I am very disheartened with our government and in good conscience cannot support redistricting, nor should you.
10/21/25 11:50 AM	Rashel Bernardo		What you are doing is wrong and you know it. We will protest and continue to oppose you every step of the way. We will never stop fighting for a fair democracy!
10/21/25 11:50 AM	Melissa Young		A partisan power grab, nothing more! GOP is scared and willing to suppress voters, primarily people of color. Shameful!
10/21/25 11:51 AM	Susan Sachs		Please leave the district maps alone and focus on the work each member of the General Assembly was elected to do. Keep elections free and fair.
10/21/25 11:51 AM	Julie Caldwell		Important things to note: No one asked for this. It is bad process. Or no process at all. NC is a proudly purple state and this map is anything but. No one asked for this. Republicans know that if they asked the people of NC for permission to draw this map, they would say no. It feels as if the GOP,Âôs priorities are Trump first, North Carolinians last. Also why do we still not have an operating budget. You people need to do your job.
10/21/25 11:52 AM	Kathy Mosca		Please keep in mind when redrawing the maps that NC is a purple state. We don,Äôt want backlash against the republicans if there is too much gerrymandering. We want good governance in which good policy can be made in a bipartisan consensus.
10/21/25 11:53 AM	ms rhonda klevansky	individual	I am strongly opposed to the new redistricting plan for Congressional District 1. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/21/25 11:53 AM	Anne Piervincenzi		This type of redistricting should (and will soon) be illegal!
10/21/25 11:55 AM	Brooks Westerhoff		North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. We have already been dealing with gerrymandering. It is a joke. The part of Greensboro where I live includes Watugua County which makes no sense whatsoever. This move by Republicans is just another way to continue to not represent constituents but to gain the favor of Trump. It is shameful.
10/21/25 11:55 AM	Joe Hester		Gerrymandering is UNAmerican! Since I learned about it in 1968 I have been absolutely opposed to it. One man; one vote. To gerrymander districts to provide for non-competitive districts to protect Republicans or Democrats reduces the impact of one's vote. NC is a 50/50 state. Republican senators and Democratic Gov. The House should reflect that balance - the current map is not fair; to amend the map to increase the already unfair map is nothing but a power grab without any moral authority! IT SHOULD NOT BE DONE!
10/21/25 11:56 AM	Mary Turner		Please do not engage in further gerrymandering. Preserve the rights of all North Carolinians to be equally represented. Care about the most disenfranchised citizens

10/21/25 11:56 AM	Dr Nidhi Malhotra	None	Redistricting in the middle of the 10 year cycle for political game is unethical and immoral. It does not reflect the well of the people. It does not reflect the demographics. We as the public do not condone this and are asking our elected representatives to represent us and not partisanship.
10/21/25 11:57 AM	We want fair maps Barbara Lang		We want fair representation and this Gerrymandering is an out right deceitful plan to cheat voters out of their voices being heard and represented!
10/21/25 11:57 AM	Mr Domonick Jackson		This blatant gerrymandering is shameful and disgusting!! This total partisan stunt ignores the will of the people and voters who just want fair and impartial elections. Obviously, the GOP fear fair elections because their agenda is unpopular! Shame on you for blatantly redrawing these already gerrymandered maps to wipe out the Black vote and dissolve Democratic Congress members. God help us all!!
10/21/25 11:58 AM	Dr Marsha Davenport	Democracy Out Loud	This is outrageous power grab at the behest of a wannabe dictator, Donald Trump. It has nothing to do with improving the lives of North Carolinians. In fact, it simply reduces their ability to choose who they wish to be represented by. It will serve to provide an additional MAGA seat in the US House of Representatives, ingratiate Trump to support Phil Berger in the upcoming primaries, and to dilute the votes of blacks and working North Carolinians.
10/21/25 11:59 AM	Dr. Karen Hodges		Extreme gerrymandering can only lead to more extreme gerrymandering by both parties. Most important, it erodes trust in the election process in a manner that is dangerous, destructive to the solidity of our country.
10/21/25 11:59 AM	Marilyn Evans		I need to be represented, I deserve to be represented by someone who is knowledgeable of my family needs. People in the eastern part of the state, particularly black and brown people need to know someone is looking out for our interest as well as other non brown/black people. When will you care about the whole state?
10/21/25 12:00 PM	Paul OBriant		I know this comment will not change anyone's mind who is voting for this travesty but just be honest and call this what it is,Äîbowing to Donald Trump and using that to steal power from the people. Disgraceful.
10/21/25 12:00 PM	Jessica McDade		Please do not lower yourselves to cheating. Everybody knows there is no legitimate reason for the map to be changed right now. People in North Carolina are supposed to have integrity! We are better than this!
10/21/25 12:00 PM	Susanouu have not Kuehl-Street		Members of the North Carolina, We voted for you. You work for us, not the President. North Carolina still has no operating budget. You have left teachers without an increase in pay and we, as a state, are one of the worst paying states in the Southeast. Medicaid is underfunded impacting all rural communites and those underprivleged in our cities. Instead of working day and night to fulfill your responsibility to your constituents, you go home only to run back to Raleigh at the beck and call of Donald Trump to gerrymander our state to meet his demands. Now, I read that the propsal is an 11-3 map which is preposterous. We are a purple state when it comes to voting. We are a 50-50 state and an 11-3 map is political theft. I am Unaffliated; but I can tell you that if you continue down this path of bowing down at the whim of President Trump, you can be sure I will never consider another Republican candidate. Respectfully, Susan Kuehl-Street
10/21/25 12:02 PM	Mrs. Valentina Pallin		The NC General Assembly is one of only two state legislatures in the entire country that have not yet passed a budget. Yet, only one week after Big Daddy Trump asks for NC to secure him an additional Republican seat, the NC General Assembly delivers new maps, further diluting the will of the people. We have moved into a post-civil rights America, for shame. The cost of groceries, energy, healthcare, and education is rising. There is a significant amount of real work that needs to be done by our GA on behalf of all North Carolinians, especially as our Federal Government continues to cut departments, jobs, and funding for all states. Gerrymandering is an issue across the political spectrum. An independent, nonpartisan commission should draw district maps. Let people, not maps, choose their representatives. History will remember this moment as yet another shameful episode in the story of Capitulation and the assault of the ruling class against the working poor. Power for power's sake is as broken as the speculative bubble of empty coffers and promises. I really thought North Carolina was better than this, but the GOP continues to disprove my hope for a state that values human lives and civil rights.
10/21/25 12:03 PM	Marilee Szczerbala		If you want people to think you are pathetic bootlickers, you are doing the right thing. If you want people to think you have personal integrity, STOP GERRYMANDERING!
10/21/25 12:04 PM	Mrs Anne Gehlsen		This is just another move by donald trump to usurp power. It's bad politics. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù A recent poll revealed that 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. How about we start listening to the people.
10/21/25 12:05 PM	Charles ORear		This reaction to a request from the White House to redistrict NC based on what other states do to attempt to maintain a majority for a particular party sets a dangerous, immoral, and disenfranchising precedent. Ask yourself.....if the other party was doing this.....would you approve?
10/21/25 12:06 PM	Maria Green		No thank you on new maps

10/21/25 12:07 PM	Anne Hungerford		True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by the NC legislature should be against the law. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice.
10/21/25 12:08 PM	Kathryn Allman		I strongly oppose the redistricting bill. Unfair maps disenfranchise voters across the state causing polarization, legislative gridlock and a weaker congress. Just because NCGOP wants to and can do this, doesn,Äôt mean they should!
10/21/25 12:08 PM	Ms. Natalie Dorsey		Please do not change the congressional map. You will be stomping out the voices of part of NC. Instead please focus on passing a budget and supporting our public school system.
10/21/25 12:08 PM	LaCharo Owens		Redrawing the congressional maps in North Carolina isn,Äôt just a political tactic, it,Äôs an attack on democracy itself. Manipulating district lines to favor one party silences entire communities and undermines fair representation. Every voter, regardless of their zip code, deserves an equal voice in choosing their leaders. When maps are redrawn for political gain instead of public good, it,Äôs not just unfair, it,Äôs unethical and should be illegal.
10/21/25 12:08 PM	Margaret Isaac	None	I strongly disagree with redistricting in the State of NC.
10/21/25 12:09 PM	Robin Carey		This was done after the census. The only reason it is being done again is to rig our mid year elections in the Republican races.It is deplorable that you are taking away representation from an area to suit your own agenda.It shows that you don,Äôt think you will win without resorting to this.
10/21/25 12:09 PM	Sarah Carpenter		Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS! North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of NorthvCarolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget!! Donald Trump,Äôs unpopular agenda has Republicans dreading the electoral consequences coming in the 2026 midterm elections, so they,Äôre scrambling to rig congressional maps across the country to steal enough seats from Democrats to keep their majority next year. This is unacceptable because IT'S ILLEGAL!
10/21/25 12:09 PM	John Miller		Hyper-partisan gerrymandering (initiated by either side) has no place in our democracy. I believe non-partisan redistricting commissions are the only way to ensure fairness. If one has to cheat the system to win, maybe it's time to step aside.
10/21/25 12:09 PM	Christina Shimrock		As elected officials you are tasked with the work of representing your constituents with integrity and fairness. Your focus should be to pass a state budget and address concerns of North Carolinians, like the rising cost of insurance , funding our schools or staffing the DMV. Instead your focus is on redistricting our maps. The quiet part is said out loud. It's purpose is to take the voice of black constituents in electing their representatives to ensure republican wins. This is your legacy. What do you want to be remembered for?
10/21/25 12:11 PM	Chris Martin		Do NOT redraw the Congressional districts to support Donald Trump and his "plan" for America. Listen to the people who VOTED for you, not an orange mango who only cares about his own survival and profits. Anyone who supports a redistricting plan because Trump wants it does NOT have North Carolina's best interests at heart - only their own selfish greed and self-preservation.
10/21/25 12:12 PM	Jeremy Ether		Burn in hell you cowards. I'll always have hope. And when you geriatric disgusting disgraces of public office holders finally gasp your last breath while choking on the nether regions of trump, I will be celebrating.
10/21/25 12:12 PM	Amy Whaling		VOTE NO to 2025 proposed maps. This racial gerrymandering is illegal, unethical and not what NC voters want. Please reject these maps.
10/21/25 12:12 PM	Eleanor Ashton		Please stop this gerrymandering intent on dishonestly altering the integrity of our voting process. Rather, pass a state budget that funds the issues we care about such as properly funding our schools, the rising costs of insurance and filling important government positions that assist North Carolinians like the DMV.

10/21/25 12:12 PM	Stacey Carless	NC Counts Coalition	My name is Stacey Carless, and I am a resident of Raleigh, North Carolina. I am submitting comments on behalf of NC Counts Coalition, a nonpartisan organization working to build a healthy, just, and equitable North Carolina. Our organization led statewide efforts for a complete and accurate 2020 Census count. Redistricting, like the census, should take place once every ten years to adjust district lines based on population growth or decline. This process is meant to ensure that all districts are balanced, every community is represented fairly, and federal resources are distributed equitably and not manipulated for partisan political gain. Yet this is our fourth time submitting comments on North Carolina‚Äôs redistricting process since the 2020 Census, this time not because of a court order, and unfortunately, our contention remains the same. We are still seeing deeply gerrymandered maps that silence and dilute the civic voices of North Carolina voters and a lack of transparency that shuts voters out of the process. North Carolina should not be the poster child for gerrymandered maps. North Carolinians deserve better. The maps and the redistricting process we are commenting on today diminish the voice of voters, especially Black voters across northeastern North Carolina, limiting their ability to elect candidates of their choice and diluting their voices in our democracy. These maps are clearly designed to preserve partisan political power, not to strengthen, uphold, or protect the practice and principles of our democracy. North Carolina voters should choose their elected leaders, not the other way around. Fair representation is the foundation of a healthy democracy, and these maps move North Carolina further away from it. Our state deserves a transparent, inclusive and representative democracy, and that includes a fair redistricting process. Your constituents work, have families, and other obligations. Many of the communities most impacted by these maps are 60 to more than 200 miles from Raleigh. If our democracy is truly about the people, then access to and participation in the redistricting process should start with the people. Anything less than two weeks,Äô notice for public comment opportunities on maps that typically remain in effect for about 10 years is unacceptable. Public hearings should be scheduled across the state with ample notice and offered at times that span the day to ensure accessibility for all North Carolinians. Hearings should also offer language interpretation and translation for residents whose primary language is not English. North Carolina‚Äôs greatness is rooted in its diversity and our democracy calls for the inclusivity of all North Carolinians in the democratic process.
10/21/25 12:14 PM	Mr. Lawrence Brown		I urge your committees not to modify the current congressional districts. Our democracy depends on having competitive districts. As Governor Stein has stated, the voters should be selecting their legislators and not the legislators selecting their voters. This is an essential part of the democratic process to maintain accountability of legislators to their constituents. The majority of North Carolinians are opposed to partisan gerrymandering. Please vote to reject the current redistricting bill.
10/21/25 12:14 PM	Kramer Hardman		These proposed maps are an obvious ploy to disenfranchise black and minority voters and to prop up the deeply unpopular Trump Administration ahead of the 2026 midterms. If decency and integrity does not guide your decision on this issue and you choose to approve these unfair maps, similar redistricting measures will be used against Republicans in blue states and with far greater efficiency and precision. Redistricting NC mid-cycle is pathetic, cowardly, and weak. Your big-government, fascistic, freedom-hating tendencies are on full display and will be remembered at the polls, in town halls, and forever in history. Vote ‚ÄúNO‚Äù to these maps.
10/21/25 12:16 PM	Thomas Hayes		Having attended the committee meeting and the Senate hearing/vote on 10-20-25 I was struck by the brazen lack of self consciousness of the Republicans regarding the absolutely dishonorable nature of this, as so well laid out by the many opposing speakers. The candor of Senator Hise regarding the partisan nature of this does nothing to legitimize it. It is shameful that this is all to enable the most destructive administration imaginable. As numerous attendees expressed-SHAME!
10/21/25 12:18 PM	Ms Stacy smith		This redistricting is wrong-headed. And, btw, how do the Republicans know, for sure, that they are safe? Many Republicans have had enough and are not supporting their party. 2026 will be more competitive than they assume.
10/21/25 12:18 PM	Ms Erin Barr		To gerrymander is an absolutely egregious act of undemocratic behavior. The people of NC deserve better. Please understand that by carrying out an agenda that does not subscribe to the principles and direct instruction of the Constitution of the United States, you are willfully ignoring the duties you were hired to do. You are making things worse for us all and America by bending the knee to an administration that cares for no one but themselves. History will judge you harshly for these actions,Ä¶is this what your legacy will be? Stand up for what is right!!!
10/21/25 12:19 PM	Joel Landau		I am opposed to this mid-decade redistricting effort. It's an affront to the voters of the state and the democratic process. We need independently non-partisan drawn districts.
10/21/25 12:19 PM	Rita Britton		Hello, my name is Rita Britton, I live in Charlotte, and I am one of Representative/Senator Alma Adams,Äô constituents. I am reaching out today to say I am against the attempt to redistrict two of North Carolina,Äôs congressional districts midway between U.S. Census taking. As a North Carolinian, I believe everyone,Äôs vote should count and that North Carolina voters should choose their elected officials. And I,Äôm not alone ,Äì a recent Republican-leaning polling firm found that 84% of North Carolina voters said gerrymandering is NEVER acceptable. And that includes 78% of North Carolina Republican voters, 85% of North Carolina unaffiliated voters, and 87% of North Carolina Democratic voters. Please vote 'NO' on redistricting these two congressional districts and do what is right and fair by North Carolina voters. Thank you for voting 'NO.'
10/21/25 12:21 PM	Ms Sharon Hartwell		This plan does NOT reflect the people's choice. There wasn't enough notice for public debate!

10/21/25 12:21 PM	Kaili Matiaco		I do not support partisan and unfair redistricting that disproportionately impacts marginalized communities and I urge our representatives to reject these maps and uphold fair elections.
10/21/25 12:21 PM	Elizabeth Olsen		If you need to cheat to win,Ä¶ is it really winning? Do not make some people,Äôs votes more important than others. Uphold our constitution and have some morals.
10/21/25 12:22 PM	Diane Darden	NAACP	This is so Wrong, Wrong, Dead Wrong My Beloved Daddy and countless others Marched in the March On Washington in Year 1963, fought the Good Fight, Very Necessary Fight during the Civil Rights Movement... We as Americans can Not, Will Not?? Go Back to those dark days of voter suppression, racism, oppression! We Will Keep The Unshakable Faith, Strength To keep Going Forward in a Time Such As This.. Love Wins ??????????????????
10/21/25 12:22 PM	Daniel Moy		I am TOTALLY against the attempt to redistrict two of North Carolina,Äôs congressional districts midway between U.S. Census taking. As a North Carolinian and American citizen, I believe everyone,Äôs vote should count and that North Carolina voters should choose their elected officials. Polling from a recent Republican-leaning polling firm verifies opposition to this redistricting widespread: 84% of North Carolina voters said gerrymandering is NEVER acceptable. And that includes 78% of North Carolina Republican voters, 85% of North Carolina unaffiliated voters, and 87% of North Carolina Democratic voters. Please vote 'NO' on redistricting these two congressional districts and do what is right and fair by North Carolina voters. Thank you for voting 'NO.
10/21/25 12:22 PM	Dr Joann Emerson	The Emerson Group	Stop the Steal of ,Äú We the People,Äôs vote,Äù. This bogus redistricting map is criminal. The GOP cannot win because of their draconian policy,Äôs. Cheating is the only way. I am totally against this racially motivated Redistricting Map. Stop taking away the People,Äôs Rights to Choose.
10/21/25 12:22 PM	WT Stille		North Carolina's political strength lies in our status as a state that represents all of our citizens. The proposed gerrymander undermines our reputation as a purple state where debate and disagreement can still exist in an effort to protect and provide for all us. If we believe in a representational democracy then we must ensure free and fair elections. Said further, if we believe in a representational democracy then we must protect against intentional disenfranchisement. The proposed redistricting is an explicit attempt by one party to dilute the vote and choice of that district's constituents in order to ensconce the autocratic tendencies of one party and one man. We know better. Please do better.
10/21/25 12:22 PM	Robyn Brown		It is obvious the NC GOP are not interested in governing for the people of NC. Berger, Budd and Tillis' only interest is in doing trump's bidding... While trump is destroying the constitution and the rule of law, they make excuses. The GOP knows without gerrymandering districts in their favor, they will never win another election because of GOP policies being put forth. This redistricting of maps to take power away from the people and taking power away from a sitting Governor being an example...
10/21/25 12:22 PM	Dr. Aidan Bohlander		I strongly oppose the newly released redistricting maps.
10/21/25 12:23 PM	Mr. Brandon Brown		As a citizen of North Carolina since birth, I have barely had any form of representation at the state or federal level, due to the constant redistricting efforts. This must stop, we do not answer to the federal government on how we hold our elections, nor should we be influenced as such. Your job is to represent North Carolina, ALL of North Carolina for the benefit of North Carolina. I urge you to vote "No" to this new map and go back to the drawing board where every North Carolinian can be represented and not just your favorite party.
10/21/25 12:23 PM	Emily Huling	Concerned citizen	Shameful!!! Power grab to keep authoritarians in control! America is a democracy and We will fight to keep it! No Kings!
10/21/25 12:23 PM	Christine Boyette		As a North Carolina resident I DO NOT support this plan to redistrict. It is a plan that intends to marginalize voters of color and all other non-republican populations for the sole purpose of spreading out voters who don't support the Republican agenda. This plan is nothing more than an illegal attempt to manipulate the results of up-coming elections. If you can't get people to vote for you without rigging the election, maybe you don't deserve to represent the people of this state.
10/21/25 12:24 PM	George Waters		I think it,Äôs pathetic and wrong that the general assembly is spending their time and NC taxpayer money trying to rig the system to support the president,Äôs endless power grabs and violations of our norms and rules of government. This presidency is nothing to be proud of, and betraying our state,Äôs rights and priorities to spend time bootlicking a wanna-be dictator is pitiful and a failure to focus on what North Carolina needs done.
10/21/25 12:25 PM	Sana Moulder	None	If the Republican agenda is really what will benefit the citizens of NC, why not make your case to the electorate and win ethically? How good can your agenda be if you have to cheat to get it implemented?
10/21/25 12:25 PM	Jim Fowler		I do not approve of your gerrymandering redistricting plan.
10/21/25 12:27 PM	Shannon Ward	Constituent	STOP IT. The voters in NC overwhelmingly oppose this. It is an unethical, hateful power-grab and it is a sin. You aren,Äôt protecting either your voters or the vulnerable,Ä¶ you are protecting cruel overlords and billionaires. JUST STOP.
10/21/25 12:28 PM	Karen Harper		Maps should be as independent as possible. We teach our kids to not cheat, and then we all watch our legislators cheat.
10/21/25 12:29 PM	Dr. Robert Hendrix		I am ADAMANTLY, 100% OPPOSED to redistricting and further GERRYMANDERING NORTH CAROLINA. If you can't get re-elected by doing a good job but rather, have to CHEAT BY SUBVERTING DEMOCRACY, THEN WE CITIZENS OF NC WILL VOTE YOUR UNDESERVING ASS OUT OF PUBLIC SERVICE!

10/21/25 12:30 PM	Aimee Tomcho		‚ÄúThe motivation behind this redraw is simple and singular,‚Äù Sen. Ralph Hise (R-Mitchell), said as he presented the plan at the Senate Elections Committee. ‚ÄúRepublicans hold a razor-thin margin in the United States House of Representatives. And if Democrats flip four seats in the upcoming midterm elections, they will take control of the House and torpedo President Trump‚Äôs agenda.‚Äù I am disappointed that my home state of North Carolina would make laws for fear that constituents wouldn‚Äôt vote for you.
10/21/25 12:30 PM	Patricia Hearron		The nefarious intent of the redistricting plan is patently obvious. Clearly the party in power knows it cannot win without rigging the game. They should be ashamed but they apparently don‚Äôt have that ability. I oppose this plan which will have the effect of disenfranchising many voters.
10/21/25 12:30 PM	Gail Young		All legislators who support this are fascists supporting a dictator and will forever be remembered in history - you and your entire family - as fascists. You are traitors to the constitution. Your job is to ensure all eligible voters count, not working to block anyone who doesnt support your dictator. We are tracking how you vote on everything and we will not forget.
10/21/25 12:31 PM	Jerel Bonner	Self	Let us decide on the where the district lines need to be.
10/21/25 12:33 PM	Mr. DONALD HOWLAND	retired school teacher	To whom it concerns. I am a registered voter and homeowner in Transylvania County. I am writing to ask all concerned to consider their consciences when the subject is unprecedented redistricting mid-decade to further INCREASE misrepresentation of the N.C. population. This is a purple state. There are more Democrats than Republicans and a ton of unaffiliated voters. Any reasonable system would reflect the actual demographics. Much of what the administration is doing is immensely unpopular with the rural voters who make up the Republican base. By next year, when ACA premiums double and rural hospitals start closing, that will only increase. Please support the rule of law and basic decency. Sincerely, DH
10/21/25 12:33 PM	Mrs. Gail Williams	Therapeutiks, Inc.	I totally disapprove of our state going through the process of redistricting since we recently went through the process and made things more fair.
10/21/25 12:35 PM	Mrs. Jane Li		I urge the state government to NOT go through with this redistricting in this highly biased manner. We the people did not vote for BIG GOVERNMENT to decide where reprentation and voting districts begin and end. I would consider any taxation after this HORRIBLE redistricting plan to be taxation without representation. As a property owner in Person County, shame on the NC government holding NC at #1 for gerrymandering and making it even worse! We should follow other states' leads and create an independent, non-partisan, citizen-led redistricting committee and remove this governmental overreach on democracy.
10/21/25 12:35 PM	Mr Henry Parrish Jr		I do not approve as this is gerrymandering for political gains. It is wrong and goes against everything we are supposed to stand for as a country. Stop giving into divisive politics and get back to actually serving the people!
10/21/25 12:36 PM	Cecile Wight		Dear members of the general assembly, My name is C√©cile WightF and I‚Äôm a resident of Buncombe county. I am writing to strongly oppose the current redistricting proposal being considered. The map undermines fair representation by favoring one political party, and splitting communities of interest. As a voter in this state, I am deeply concerned that these changes will reduce the ability of my community to elect representatives who reflect our needs and priorities. Especially post Helene in WNC! Districting should ensure that all voices are fairly represented, not manipulated for partisan gain. I urge you to reject this proposal and instead pursue a transparent non partisan process than respects the principles of fair representation and democracy, Thank you for your time and consideration.

10/21/25 12:37 PM	Dr. Charles Grimes		The North Carolina Poor People's campaign offers these points about the recent gerrymandering efforts of our Stage Legislature: Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Both of these sound right. The trouble here is that a) you know these things are true and b) you've decided not to give a damn about them. The only way to phrase the Republican Stage Legislature's philosophy is "party over country." No doubt Republicans will derive short-term gain from their recent tactics. The harmful consequences will come, perhaps soon, or at some unknowable point in the future. And when those harms do manifest, they will be felt by everybody. Yours, Charles Grimes
10/21/25 12:38 PM	Jane Ankrah		The government and all the people in the house and senate work for us the taxpayers. Stop the redrawing of maps to steal or to try and make our votes invalid. Your actions show that you do not care about the welfare of your citizens . North Carolina is for the people and not your personal bank accounts!
10/21/25 12:38 PM	Karen Hunnings		You know what you are doing. CHEATING. Why? Because your 'leader' told you to. Here's a thought: why don't you do your job and actually REPRESENT ALL of NC? You know as well as I that maps are redrawn AFTER a Census...not right before a mid-term election! I am so disgusted and disappointed in all of you 'Republicans' -- I don't even think you can call yourselves that anymore, just MAGA. Start your own damn party and stay away from the real Republican party!
10/21/25 12:38 PM	Tracy Pierce		This should be illegal! This does not display the democracy of the US and a violation of the Constitution. Every US citizen's voice should be heard and represented fairly. Making this change (gerrymandering) does not allow for fair representation, nor show the full diversity of the state.
10/21/25 12:39 PM	Joan Hoffman	NC Resident	Redistricting during a non normal year is bad enough but continuing to gerrymander our state after the Supreme Court told you to stop this business is disgraceful. We need non-partisan maps as the law of the land. Do better. Stop this nonsense.
10/21/25 12:39 PM	ms Mena Kates		It is a sad state of affairs when one party is so frightened of not winning elections for the party that they represent, that they steal the voting rights of the citizens they are elected to represent. This is NOT a one party country, and only one party representing the people has led us to the unfortunate state of politics we are in. It is a biased hostile environment with blame being thrown around. Every vote should count! Every individual should feel that their vote has merit in the system. It is time to do away with the electoral college so voters choices are counted. We did not elect people to office to have them gerrymander districts to ensure their party has all the say. They represent US, not a party.
10/21/25 12:42 PM	Bernise Lynch		Please open your eyes to the reality of what,Äôs going on around you. We need more than more Republicans or more Democrats. We need fairness for the people and you,Äôre not giving it to us by doing this gerrymandering stuff.
10/21/25 12:42 PM	Robbin Amick		NC does not need to be gerrymandered anymore for the benefit of the Republican party. We need a budget FOR ALL THE PEOPLE of North Carolina. Remember we the people voted for and against you not the president.
10/21/25 12:43 PM	Ms Teresa Bryant		The efforts of the NC state legislature to redraw electoral districts is criminal. I strongly oppose this bill to redraw voting districts.
10/21/25 12:43 PM	Christine Bonfardino Wilkins		I am disgusted that the new congressional maps were approved! Elections should ALWAYS be fair and give BOTH parties an equal chance to win. I reject these maps and ask that you do the same.
10/21/25 12:43 PM	Stop the Redistricting! Laura Veach		The redistricting plan is wrong. Do not vote for this unfair action - not true representation. So sad to see this as a native Tarheel!
10/21/25 12:43 PM	Mrs. Sarah Burns		Shame on the NC GOP for this blatant power grab. This is Un-American and sets a dangerous precedent for similar actions that will strip voters of their right to representation. We need to stand up against this regime. Our White House is being bulldozed and the President is sharing AI memes of diarrhea. This is a constitutional crisis and you are pouring gasoline on the fire.
10/21/25 12:43 PM	Christine Wilkins		Stop the gerrymandering!
10/21/25 12:44 PM	Sara S.		The Republicans clearly only care about themselves. They cannot be bothered to meet and pass the state budget bill among other things, then they jump on the chance to try and take away another Democratic seat when you already have 11-3 ratio to begin with? They DO NOT have their priorities straight. THEY DO NOT CARE ABOUT THE PEOPLE. Prove us wrong otherwise, that we are a state worth living in where you can actually represent all of u, s not your own selves.

10/21/25 12:44 PM	Dr. Sue Weathers		The plan to redistrict in North Carolina will lead to unrepresentative government. It is designed to ensure that people of color have no power because their votes will be negated by overwhelmingly white voters. North Carolina is better than that.
10/21/25 12:44 PM	Mary Colston		North Carolina is a purple state. The current redistricting being attempted by NC Republicans is an overt act to assure themselves wins in upcoming elections.
10/21/25 12:45 PM	Ms Jennie Davis	personal	This new redistricting map drawing is a rushed process in order to push through an extremely unpopular stance by the majority of North Carolinians. 84% of North Carolinians do not agree with partisan gerrymandering. What is the fear? Once upon a time was an even split and it was overturned by Republicans. It is illegal to have this kind of biased redistricting. Do you not know that? What happened to free and just representation? Do not listen to Donald Trump. Whether you are threatened or not threatened you are going against the majority of your constituents and you will be out, out , out next election unless you reconsider.
10/21/25 12:47 PM	Peggy Lyle		Republicans are rushing the process because they‚Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they‚Äôre disenfranchising. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters‚Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù The GOP‚Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last. Trump‚Äôs unpopular agenda has Republicans dreading the electoral consequences coming in the 2026 midterm elections, so they‚Äôre scrambling to rig congressional maps across the country to steal enough seats from Democrats to keep their majority next year.
10/21/25 12:48 PM	Mrs. Margi Erickson	Wilmington Water Tours	ON THURSDAY, at the request of Donald Trump, Republicans proposed a new map that carves up our congressional districts to eliminate all competition and lock in their power for the next decade. My voice matters and that‚Äôs exactly why Republicans CONSTANTLY try to silence it. Please respect your constituents and and listen to their cries for equality and fairness. Don't change the maps.
10/21/25 12:52 PM	Hannah Cole		Please do not redirect our state. I want fair representation, and representatives who are accountable to the voters. I want you to represent me with integrity- not spend your time on this power grab. These are the issues I want you working on: passing a state budget, addressing the rising costs of healthcare (my family‚Äôs insurance is increasing this year, and I‚Äôm mad and motivated about it!), funding the schools better, and ensuring the work a gets done on disaster relief from Hurricane Helene (I lost a business last year, and the legislature is busy with redistricting???). Thank you for your attention. Please do the right thing.
10/21/25 12:56 PM	Mrs Alice Kiger		As the White House's part of the East Wing is now being torn down to build President Donald Trump's $250 US million ballroom, we must think about how someone with no restraints can cause destruction of our most precious symbols of the USA. This destruction is happening despite lacking approval for construction from the federal agency that oversees such projects. Dramatic photos of the demolition work showed construction equipment tearing into the East Wing facade and windows and other building parts in tatters on the ground. Trump had stated the building would not be affected by the addition! Now you want to redistrict NC AGAIN to allow no restraints to YOUR POWER. This to support a President who is now clearly doing ANYTHING he wants, absolute power, which corrupts absolutely. The Republicans in the NC congress don't want a "government of the people, by the people, for the people" . We will "Never forget what they(you) did here". Do your jobs, support the people's needs and wishes, which is not more gerrymandering. Live up to your promises and duties, like the budget, paying the teachers, and insuring an equal public education for our children. How can you ignore public schooling when NC is ranked 48th in per-student spending in the USA. SHAME ON THE NC GENERAL ASSEMBLY.
10/21/25 12:57 PM	Fair maps in North Caroli Megan Johnson		We need fair maps in North Carolina ??? We need FAIR maps in North Carolina! ??? Gerrymandering has no place in a democracy. Every voter Republican, Democrat, and Independent deserves equal representation. We must stop attempts to rig the system and demand fair, nonpartisan redistricting. ?? Politicians shouldn‚Äôt pick their voters voters should pick their leaders. ? Stand up for a fair democracy. Stand up for North Carolina.

10/21/25 12:59 PM Mike Gulley	I am writing to express my strong opposition to the General Assembly,Äôs decision to unilaterally redraw North Carolina,Äôs congressional maps. The process undertaken today undermines public trust, democratic representation, and the very principles of fair governance. I am a longtime citizen of North Carolina. This is my home - where I have built a family and am raising a child whom I hope can grow up in a state that values fairness, transparency, and integrity in government. I want my child to inherit a North Carolina where citizens,Äô voices are heard, not manipulated, and where elected leaders work for the people rather than their own political gain. Instead, what we are witnessing is a blatant, partisan effort to consolidate power and silence opposition. These maps were drawn without transparency, public debate, or genuine consideration of the impact on North Carolinians. The fact that this process was prioritized over addressing the state,Äôs months-overdue budget and other pressing issues is both disheartening and irresponsible. It is clear that this redistricting has nothing to do with better representation for the people of North Carolina and everything to do with securing and expanding partisan control. This damages not only our state but also the integrity of our democracy. I urge the General Assembly to reject these maps and to recommit to a redistricting process that is open, fair, and focused on ensuring every citizen,Äôs voice counts equally. North Carolina deserves better.
10/21/25 1:00 PM Jody Alyn	I am opposed to the new redistricting maps. They disenfranchise married women who have adopted their partner,Äôs names. They also disenfranchise people who don,Äôt have access to passports, like the poor, the elderly, young people and many people of color,ÄîBlack and Latino voters, especially. This is nothing other than a power grab because the Republicans know they can,Äôt win in honest elections. It,Äôs disgraceful. It,Äôs in direct conflict with the oath of office that you have all taken. Shame on all of you who voted and vote for it. May true shame and dishonor follow you for the rest of your days. I can only pray and hope that somehow, somewhere, justice will prevail and those who vote to pass it will all go to jail.
10/21/25 1:01 PM Emily Holloway	Your blatantly egregious act of gerrymandering should cause you shame. But it appears to embolden you to crawl with the lowest form of self aggrandizement. Simply stated, you are shameful, unpatriotic, cheating, non representatives of the people of the State of North Carolina.
10/21/25 1:01 PM Laurene Barsotti	Please do not gerrymander this state anymore than it already is. Vote NO on the redistricting bill. Thank you!
10/21/25 1:02 PM Adrian Monte	As a law-abiding, tax-paying citizen of the good ol' North State, I would like to submit my vehement opposition to the proposed redistricting plan. The gerrymander of this state's congressional map is a betrayal of the principles of representative democracy and a suppression of my fellow citizens right to democratically elect their representatives in government. Shame on the modern Republican party members, and for the architects of this bill. If you are afraid of being voted out of office, change your policies.. not the rules. Shame on you.
10/21/25 1:02 PM Zachary Shelton	Hello, I am writing to oppose, in the strongest possible terms, the extreme partisan gerrymandering effort that is being pushed through the legislature without public notice or regard for the will of North Carolina voters. Voters pick politicians, not the other way around. But while the Republican members of the general assembly are over 100 days late in passing a state budget, they've acted quickly to do exactly that, purely at the behest of the Trump administration. Not only would the 11-3 majority proposed by this map be unrepresentative of this nearly 50/50 state, it's unpopular with voters. Over 84% of North Carolinians oppose extreme partisan gerrymandering, especially when Medicaid is underfunded by almost $300 million and public servants, like our school teachers, wait on necessary cost-of-living adjustments. This is not the behavior of a party who believes they and their policies have the support of their constituents, nor of one that wants to participate in a representative democracy. Sincerely, Zach Shelton
10/21/25 1:03 PM Melissa Taylor	I live in the district you are trying to eliminate, there is nothing more unconstitutional and Un-American than disenfranchising the vote. This mid-decade redistricting plan is an unfair power grab. Keep the districts they way they are and allow the voters to decide.

10/21/25 1:03 PM	Katelyn Simmons		Our representatives are legally stealing elections and are not representative of their constituents. It,Äôs shameful that they would redraw the map in order to gain votes for counties they previously did not reside over rather than running against an opponent and possibly losing fairly in a fair election. This country is going to crap with congressional leaders wanting to suck Donald trump,Äôs puny orange dick rather than do actual work for their constituents. North Carolina is in the Bible Belt and I can only hope the god you believe in smites everyone down who believes this racist map is anything fair.
10/21/25 1:03 PM	Mrs. Tammy Williams		You know, without question, that what you are doing is corrupt and completely disregards the true will of the PEOPLE of NC. Shame on you!
10/21/25 1:04 PM	Ms Bronwyn Watson		Please do not vote for this new redistricting map. There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising.
10/21/25 1:04 PM	James Koone		As a citizen of North Carolina, I must speak out against the current redistricting plan. Not only is it being proposed so soon after the prior redistricting was completed, but it is well known that the only reason this has been proposed is to further gerrymander the state to purposely shift seats to one party. Please note, this is not a partisan complaint, this idea is wrong for any party and my statement holds true to any party commiting such acts. Please consider your constituents in these matters so their voices can actually be heard at the ballot box.
10/21/25 1:04 PM	Jimmy Stanford		North Carolina Republicans are shameful cowards. Genuflect before your dictator, traitors. And GO TO FUCKING HELL!
10/21/25 1:06 PM	Barbara Anderson Friedman		No no no redistricting! We,Äôve had enough political manipulation.
10/21/25 1:07 PM	Ma Sarah Vestich		STOP the gerrymandering! Spend your time working for the NC people, work on the budget!
10/21/25 1:07 PM	Breanna Duquette		Myself and my fellow North Carolinians are tired of unfair redistricting for political gain by the Republicans. Are our politicians not embarrassed by having to go to such lengths in order to skew elections in their favor? DRAW FAIR DISTRICTS! Do not allow districts to be redrawn to gain a Republican seat. We want our state government to be fair to all constituents.
10/21/25 1:07 PM	Nick Zaio		This is unfair redistricting and will not benefit the people of North Carolina !
10/21/25 1:08 PM	Tracie Green		Completely unethical!
10/21/25 1:09 PM	Carolynn Ngana		Stop the gerrymandering! We want a free and fair election and not a rigged one.
10/21/25 1:12 PM	Ms. Wanda Perry		I am very displeased about the attempt to weaken Black representation in our State. Maps must be fairly drawn to ensure equality and strength and all voices heard being heard. Stop unequal and unfair redistricting. All ethnicities in this State pay taxes and we must be represented fairly.
10/21/25 1:13 PM	Ms Deborah Scott	Retired	I am 73 years old and have voted in every election since I turned 18. I am passionate about this freedom and responsibility I enjoy as a citizen of the United States. I believe that partisan Gerrymandering violates our core principles of fairness, accountability, and government by and for the people. Allowing politicians to choose their voters undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. There is ample reason to limit redistricting to every ten years, and link it to the realities of the census. as well as to the guidelines developed to prohibit lines being drawn to limit racial equities. Manipulating this guidance is anathama to me, and to millions of Americans. It is grotesque for a sitting President to demand redistricting to "find" votes for his party. If it wasn't so dangerous, and echoing playbooks of Stalin and other dictators, it would be laughable. Thank you for considering doing the right thing, to rise above partisan politics, confront the bully, and take a stand for our democratic values. Sincerely, Deborah Scott
10/21/25 1:13 PM	Mellicent Blythe		I am writing as a NC citizen to express my outrage at the proposed redistricting. Politicians need to win at the ballot box and not steal seats between elections. Protect our voting rights.
10/21/25 1:14 PM	Mr. Peter Averdick		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to silence the voice of all North Carolinians to a select few, and seize power for the GOP, and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.

10/21/25 1:16 PM	Lisa Stowe		I am a proud North Carolinian, or at least I always have been. For my entire adulthood I have preached to friends, family, and coworkers the importance of voting- that every voice is a ripple in a pond and that their votes DO count. Yet, for over 15 years I've been aware of our battles with the practice of gerrymandering in NC and the inequity it creates. And today you attempt further destructive redistricting- stealing votes away feom the people. This purposeful manipulation is criminal! Yet, it persists, under partisan reign. Republicans are not even ashamed to state their motivation anymore. North Carolina is a beautifully diverse state, with people across all spectrums of: culture, religion, ethnicity, socio-economic status, and political ideals. The nation and state I have been taught I am a part of is a constitutional federal republic. Allowing a political party, and a president to overstep his appropriate role in the Executive Branch- to hijack the separate NC State Legislature is not only immoral, and reprehensible but an act of national treason. You are waging war against your countrymen by attempting to invalidate their appropriate representation. Our very lives are at risk when good men and women neglect their duties and instead pander to enemies in power solely to maintain their own standing.
10/21/25 1:16 PM	Evelyn Fair		As one of your constituents, I am firmly against sudden redistricting in North Carolina. It is gerrymandering as you well know. Representing the citizens of our state is your job, not blind obedience to any president.
10/21/25 1:18 PM	Sylvia Greeson		Ridiculous. The GOP apparently only believes it can win if it cheats. How weak you look. Crooked. SHAME on the entire GOP.
10/21/25 1:18 PM	Mrs. Clarice Reber		I oppose the use of mid-cycle redistricting, because it is being used to suppress the voice of citizens. Communities are divided, and districts will be drawn to make sure one party determines outcomes of elections reducing competition and accountability. When maps are drawn to entrench one party, the government looses credibility. We, the citizens do not believe in the American premise that our government runs at the citizens will. It doesn't because one group of people have manipulated the system. People stop believing their vote matters because the system is rigged. Furthermore, it creates voter confusion, thereby supressing participation and frankly, wastes our tax dollars. Do not weaken democracy by manipulating districts for political purposes. Just because it is legal doesn't mean it is ethical, moral or fair. We the citizens should choose our government representatives, not the politicians.
10/21/25 1:19 PM	MS EVA ROBERTS		The notion of redistricting weakens democracy. This effort suggests that the politicians behind this do no themselves believe in democracy or perhaps they do not believe they can win any other way. If so, shame on them. I'm a proud American but I am ashamed of many in our government.
10/21/25 1:19 PM	Suzi Thornberry		Do not change the voting districts as planned. This is not offer a fair , honest and free election process.
10/21/25 1:21 PM	Anna Crist		A large majority of North Carolinians oppose partisan gerrymandering--which is exactly what this legislative body is doing. In shamelessly bending the knee to President Trump, you mischaracterize this purple state and disenfranchise its people.
10/21/25 1:21 PM	Mrs. Jean Houser		Stop spending your time rigging a congressional map and pass the budget!
10/21/25 1:22 PM	Ms. BERNICE TURNIPSEED		So what does it say about calls for "Law and Order" when the lawmakers break the law to serve their own purposes? Also, what does it say about their beliefs in themselves and their qualifications if they only way they can win is by deliberately tipping on the scales in their favor?
10/21/25 1:23 PM	Ms. Donna Giles	general public - senior citizen	It is immoral and brutish that the state elections committee would effectively remove the voice of one party (Democrats) by "creating redistricting"--how dare they protect the Republican party, while denying a voice to NC citizens from a different party! If Republican stances are truly the choice of a majority of NC citizens, let that be proven by fair and reasonable district maps, and not by insidious attempts to suppress other viewpoints.
10/21/25 1:24 PM	Mrs Jane Hatley		Instead of gerrymandering to make sure you have better numbers as Republicans, how about focusing on the will of the people who elected Don Davis,Ã¶and on working to make sure our citizens have good healthcare and great education!
10/21/25 1:24 PM	Dr Michael Newton		I am fiercely opposed to new Republican attempts to further gerrymander voting districts in North Carolina. This undermines the ideals of representative democracy and the faith of voters in democracy and our governmental system. Stop taking orders from this corrupt president and start working on behalf of the people of this state in ways that are fair, accountable, and transparent.

10/21/25 1:26 PM	Shanna Peele		Dear Members of the North Carolina House, I,Äôm writing today to urge you to focus on the real work that North Carolinians elected you to do ,Äî representing your constituents with integrity, fairness, and commitment to the common good. Rather than spending more time redrawing political maps, I ask that you turn your attention to the issues that truly matter to the people of this state. Families across North Carolina are struggling with rising insurance costs, underfunded schools, and concerns about the safety and well-being of our children. These are the challenges that deserve your time, energy, and leadership. Every day that passes without a state budget delays critical funding for classrooms, community programs, and public services that people depend on. Gerrymandered maps may secure political advantage, but they do nothing to solve the problems we face together. Fair representation means ensuring that every voice is heard and every community has a seat at the table. Please, put aside partisan interests and focus on governing with the honesty and integrity that North Carolinians deserve. Pass a fair budget, invest in our schools, protect our families, and show that you are here to represent all of us,Äînot just a few. Thank you.
10/21/25 1:27 PM	Heather Wilkinson		I am writing as a concerned North Carolina voter. I strongly oppose the recent efforts to redraw our congressional maps. I believe these changes undermine fair representation and weaken the voices of many voters in our state. Districts should reflect our communities,Äînot political interests. I urge you to stand against partisan gerrymandering. Re-drawing lines for political gain erodes public trust and weakens our democracy. I urge you to support a fair, transparent, and nonpartisan redistricting process that truly reflects the will of North Carolinians and ensures every Citizens vote carries equal weight ! Thank you for your time and for your commitment to serving the people of our state. Sincerely, Heather Wilkinson Davidson, North Carolina
10/21/25 1:27 PM	Margarita Galvan		76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/21/25 1:28 PM	Rita Gilson		No. Just no. Redistricting to benefit one party is unfair and diminishes the power of the people.
10/21/25 1:29 PM	Jo Peirce		I am against this monstrous and unfair practice of redistricting solely to benefit Republicans. Do not do it.
10/21/25 1:29 PM	Blair Darnell		I do NOT want to see our state district map change. This is unacceptable. The map was written by a singular person & shown day of vote. You are striking valuable comments from members of the legislative committees to fit an agenda being pressed forward for this proposal. The districting is repressive and racist.
10/21/25 1:33 PM	kathleen vespa		STOP the attempt to further gerrymander our voting districts. Every Vote should count. Why don't you change the voting for each position to the Popular Vote system. That would be the fairest.
10/21/25 1:36 PM	Angela Sanders	None	I am writing to express deep concerns for the redistricting plan in NC. Taking away the rights of the voters by cheating the system is wrong and the people of NC will see through these racist and immoral actions. Please do not move forward with redrawing the maps to take the power of the vote away from NC constituents. The lack of integrity in our political leaders is staggering. Just because you have the power to do something doesn't mean you should do it. History will not look kindly on these actions and everyone who approves of cheating this way will be implicated. Your grandchildren will be ashamed of you one day.
10/21/25 1:37 PM	Mrs Nancy Maples-Remley		I am completely against this unscheduled and should be illegal redistrictingap to give trump power. Please don't vote for this. Stand up, remember those who packed the galley m those outside saying no
10/21/25 1:38 PM	mr roy friedland		This is disgraceful. Texas Republicans began this assault on democracy, and NC SHOULD NOT FOLLOW THEM DOWN THIS PATH! Where is your integrity? This is shameful and anti-democratic behavior. Shame on you.
10/21/25 1:38 PM	Darlene Khosrowpour	self	Republicans think that their platform is good for America. Instead of working to convince people they are correct, they prefer to lie and steal by gerrymandering the districts. You think you have a right to do that but what you have is a lust for power. trust your constituents! Let a constitutional representation mean something other than dictatorship. Right now, the Republican party makes no secret of stealing power.

10/21/25 1:39 PM	Erica Keller		Redistricting only serves those drawing the maps. Why not actually care for the people of this state and vote to turn over the drawing of maps to a nonpartisan group? This is a blatant abuse of power. Maybe remember that you are public servants and have yet to set a budget for this state. People before power and lined pockets.
10/21/25 1:39 PM	Amanda Burns		This is a ridiculous ploy. Our districts were just again redrawn after the last time it was found unethical.
10/21/25 1:39 PM	Lori Hartlein		Are you cheating? Why is the Republican plan to gerrymander in order to kill democracy? Shame on you. Project 25 is fascism. I do not support this.
10/21/25 1:39 PM	Mr David Williams		This redistricting bill does not represent the views of our state. This has been a swing state for a reason. Just because Trump won by thin margins the past few years does not mean it is representative of the views of our state. Senator Berger has admitted to doing this for Trump so that they can maintain Republican power in the house by adding an extra Republican seat. Not only is this not representative of our state, it is also unconstitutional. Doing this because Trump asked us to is interfering with state elections and state's rights. Please vote no and try to reach across the aisle and discuss how wrong this is for our state and for our country
10/21/25 1:41 PM	Dr Cecelia Scott		Stop gerrymandering now!!!! Enough is enough,Ä¶llet democracy work!!!!
10/21/25 1:42 PM	Dorothea Sinclair		You guys still havent passes a state budget that was due in July. Teachers deserve a pay raise. We redistrict every 10 years. How dare you put the President,Äôs political agenda over the needs of our state!
10/21/25 1:42 PM	Kristin Dewan		Dear Members of the North Carolina General Assembly, I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed redrawing of our state,Äôs congressional maps. These new boundaries would not only erode fair representation but also weaken the voices of entire communities that have already fought hard to be heard. The proposed map shifts several counties including Beaufort, Carteret, Craven, Dare, Hyde, and Pamlico from District 3 into District 1, while moving Greene, Lenoir, Wayne, and Wilson in the opposite direction. These changes appear to serve partisan interests rather than reflect communities of shared interest or updated population data. What concerns me most is that this mid-decade redraw would reduce the proportion of Black voters in the 1st District from roughly 40 percent to around 32 percent. That change would diminish the ability of Black North Carolinians to elect candidates who represent their communities, a step backward for racial equity and for compliance with the Voting Rights Act. The public process around this redraw has also been deeply flawed. Hearings have been rushed, transparency has been limited, and despite overwhelming public opposition during committee meetings, the proposal continues to advance. Redistricting should be conducted through an independent, nonpartisan process that values fairness and transparency, not political advantage. This issue is bigger than party politics. It is about whether every North Carolinian,Äôs vote carries equal weight and whether our democracy still values competitive, community-based districts. I urge you to reject the proposed congressional map and commit to an open, nonpartisan redistricting process that protects minority representation and restores trust in our elections. Thank you for your time and for considering the importance of protecting fair representation for all North Carolinians.
10/21/25 1:43 PM	ms Hollie Johnson	Precinct 45.1	Reconvening should be for passing a budget now--NOT for trying to steal another vote for Trump. North Caroline residents are ready to move forward, not backward. Your job is to help the people of our state have a better life, better healthcare, better schools, better infrastrusture, better environment, better jobs and an equal chance to success. Not to serve the president's wish to become all-powerful. Please attend to your immediate job which relates to the people of North Carolina and their betterment. Thank you, Hollie Johnson Chair, Precinct 45.1 Candler, NC 28715
10/21/25 1:45 PM	Mrs Patti /Mary Pollitt	retired	We just did this with the last census. We don't need to do it nor do we need to pay for it
10/21/25 1:46 PM	Mary Iuliano		This plan is wildly inappropriate and extremely disappointing. This is NOT democracy! Stop eroding our voting rights.
10/21/25 1:47 PM	def. of gerrymandering Reid Stines		What is proposed does not represent the North Carolina population as defined by votes in any recent election. Please create voting districts that reflect your constituency.
10/21/25 1:48 PM	Ms. Madison Phillips		Please do not continue to gerrymander NC,Äôs voting districts. Our map has objectively received a failing grade, which means a further gerrymandered map will continue to fail your NC constituents. You will fail your constituents. Oh, and we still need a budget by the way!
10/21/25 1:48 PM	Ed Leyva		Do NOT do this! We deserve democracy and fair elections. There will be a WRONG side of history if you do. This is not the North Carolina way. Please do not do this

10/21/25 1:49 PM	Elizabeth Bombick		I am strongly opposed to the proposed congressional redistricting that further changes federal voting maps. Please stop this immediately. (Focus instead on getting a fair budget passed!) This is neither a fair nor a wise use of time, resources and money. And this is not in the best interests of the people of North Carolina, or this nation. Once elected, our legislators should be serving and representing all, without regard of political party/partisanship. This redistricting move sets us backward and does not represent us all fairly. The majority of North Carolinians do NOT support gerrymandering. Ours has been a proud "purple" state---38% unaffiliated, 32% Democratic, 30% Republicans. REPRESENT US ALL. Sincerely, Elizabeth R Bombick (a lifelong resident of North Carolina)
10/21/25 1:49 PM	Jonathan Gibson		I am disgusted with the senates decision to gerrymander the state before a crucial election. This is behavior suited for criminals and is a clear motive to cheat maintaining control of the house. UNCONSTITUTIONAL and NOT representation of the BIPARTISAN state.
10/21/25 1:49 PM	TG		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an intentional attempt to gerrymander the NC congressional districts based on a directive from the executive branch; NOT what is best and/or necessary for our state. This is particularly concerning coming from the party that has always believed in less federal government too; esp in a purple state. NC has historically and uniquely worked together with representatives from both sides. We want our NC General Assembly to do the work for OUR STATE, and we have plenty of more pressing and mutually beneficial issues to address at this time. Thank you for considering ALL constituents of our great state.
10/21/25 1:50 PM	Mark Quinn		The redistricting that just passed the senate is a ridiculous power grab. I and the neighbors I have discussed it with, oppose this manipulation. How about instead, you focus on Helene relief funds or the budget?
10/21/25 1:53 PM	Cynthia Braun	none	I am an Election Judge and have been volunteering in this capacity for years. When I am in that role, EVERY SINGLE voter that comes in to the voting place is afforded courtesy as they vote--regardless of party affiliation. It is so important that ALL voters feel that their voice matters! Please do not gerrymander District 1. Doing so will cause many citizens of our great state of NC to feel that their vote is pointless--the poison of democracy!
10/21/25 1:53 PM	Valerie Caron		We shouldn‚Äôt gerrymander because it takes away the fairness of elections and silences the voices of many voters. When district lines are drawn to benefit one political party, it prevents equal representation and discourages people from participating in democracy. Every voter should have an equal say in choosing their leaders, and gerrymandering destroys that balance. Keeping districts fair and unbiased helps make sure government decisions truly reflect the will of the people.
10/21/25 1:53 PM	Mrs Kim Fanelly		As a resident of North Carolina I deserve a voice in our legislature! Do not unfairly draw lines to benefit one party.
10/21/25 1:54 PM	Walter Schwab		I find it shameful that some NC lawmakers think they work for the Republican National Committee and not for the people of North Carolina. I am ver opposed to this redistricting since it is purely partisan and not in the interests of our great state.
10/21/25 1:55 PM	Alice Wellborn	NAACP coordinating team	Gerrymandering violates the American principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. It leads to corruption and incompetence because leaders are not accountable to their constituents but only to partisan leadership. To redistrict for the sole purpose of maintaining Republican control is CHEATING. Republicans cannot win without cheating. Is that democracy? I think not.
10/21/25 1:57 PM	Dylaina Fiebing		Hello, as a resident of Durham NC, I do not support this rapid effort to re-district voting areas along party lines. We the people demand representation and this is yet another despicable move by republicans in the legislature to gerrymander. NC votes approximately 50/50 for dem and republican by population, but gerrymandering continues to rob many voters of a voice. Do not approve any further redistricting and gerrymandering. Thank you.
10/21/25 1:57 PM	Mr. Indiana West		No to gerrymandering! The people should be equally represented at the state and federal level. Elected officials are beholden to their constituents, not the President or a single party.
10/21/25 1:57 PM	Trina Monahan		Y'all are disgusting. This is not over.
10/21/25 1:57 PM	Ms Janet Ledder		I am an eligible and long-time voter in Buncombe County, North Carolina. I am very strongly opposed to mid-decade redistricting! Such proposed action is clearly aimed at preventing many eligible voters from exercising their voting rights. It is essential in a democracy for all eligible voters to be heard!!
10/21/25 1:59 PM	Mrs Kalli Eskind		I have some real concerns about the legislative move to redraw districts to favor Republicans at President Trump‚Äôs request. I think the state legislators are supposed to represent the people of the state, not the President. I am not sure how a purple state, one that is fairly closely divided can justify the current 10 to 4 seats let alone the proposed 11 to 4. How is that representation of the people of NC? If Republicans truly believed in their message, and in Trump‚Äôs agenda, why would they need to redistribute?? I wonder if they are afraid that the President‚Äôs policies and behavior are really not that popular with the people? Please consider your obligation to ALL of the people of North Carolina.
10/21/25 1:59 PM	Cynthia Solesbee		The republicans will do anything Trump days, no matter how immoral the request: take away food from children, take away medical care, take away funding schools in order to give the rich school vouchers. Remember God is watching you!

10/21/25 2:01 PM	Valarie A Snell		There should be no redistricting that gives one party an advantage over another. The voting map should reflect one person, one vote, not trying to make the Republican votes count more than the Democrat votes.
10/21/25 2:02 PM	Stephanie Pereira		Please do not redistrict our state. I want fair representation, and representatives who are accountable to the voters. I want you to represent me with integrity- not spend your time on this power grab. These are the issues I want you working on: passing a state budget, ensuring our schools have the budgets they need to educate our children with a high bar for excellence (this includes above most things - ensuring teacher salaries are more than enough to live a solid middle class life), and keeping cost of living affordable (healthcare and groceries are top of mind for us). Thank you
10/21/25 2:03 PM	Ed Herro		Dear elected representatives: please don,Äôt redraw our electoral maps based solely on gaining a GOP seat in Congress. It disenfranchises us, your constituents (and bosses). You work for us ,Äì ALL of us ,Äî and gerrymandering a seat for one party,Äôs political gain is craven and unethical. We are watching. We are paying attention. And we vote,Ä¶ even when you try to stop us.
10/21/25 2:04 PM	Judith Herring	Onslow County Resident	Dear Employees of the people who elected you, Stop the redistricting effort that only serves the political aspirations of one and one party to the exclusion of all other parties and voters. You are indebted to the voters who elected you for your jobs, not to the current President. You are beholden to the voters, ALL of the Voters, of the State of North Carolina, to do the job of passing a budget and protecting the rights and interests of the voters who elected you. It is past time to end partisan gerrymandering for all political parties. Continuing the effort to gerrymander this state in the favor of Mr. D. J. Trump will likely land all of you in court over this illegal action. The Trump administration is acting illegally and in manners which violate the Constitution of the United States. If you continue to support the person and fail to defend the State of NC's Constitution and fail to defend the Constitution of the United States of America, you will be liable for continuing criminal activity and may find yourselves being sued both civilly by voters and criminally by those defending our laws and rights. Voters will not stand by and will file suit to stop this action and to encourage criminal charges be filed. No voters, whether Democrat or Republican or those of us with no party affiliation, support the actions of redistricting to solidify political power for people who are benefiting financially while constituents needs and rights are being ignored. Redistricting to grab power is about race, as Mr. Trump has clearly shown his racist beliefs. It is also an attempt to grab power to support open graft and corruption occurring among yourselves and among the President's friends and sycophants. If you continue this action, you show a lack of fidelity and integrity to your State, the Voters and Your Nation. Supporters of this should all be ashamed to even consider voting for any piece of legislation that disenfranchise voters, foments hate and discontent, costs citizens benefits and rights, and will throw our Country into Civil War. Stop the lies. Stop the Power Grab. Stop pandering to a demented TV Star in an effort to grab power. All of the voters (your constituents that you are elected to represent), whether you like them or not, are watching you!
10/21/25 2:07 PM	Mr. Adam Versenyi	--None--	I am outraged at the new redistricting proposal. Voters choose their representatives, not the other way around. What is happening in North Carolina is contrary to the wishes of the vast majority on the state's citizens, is dangerous, and will result in maps that ignore the needs of voters, especially those of color, for partisan gain. Reject these maps!
10/21/25 2:08 PM	Darlene Khosrowpour		I responded once but then watched the video which I didn't realize was available until now. Senator Hise said the Republicans are fighting fire with fire. So, since Texas cheated, it seems that NC wants to fight lawlessness with more lawlessness?
10/21/25 2:08 PM	Samantha Wood		This is absolutely ridiculous and unnecessary. There is no need to do this and to approve this, then you are a fascist. If you have to cheat, you don,Äôt deserve your seat. This takes away FREE, FAIR AND PUBLIC ELECTIONS. If you,Äôre not winning, then run better campaigns. If you,Äôre afraid you,Äôre not going to win/THE PEOPLE, WHOM YOU WORK FOR, don,Äôt like what you,Äôve got planned, then start listening to your constituents,Äîand do what is best for THEM, not YOU, not the corrupt President, etc. YOU WORK FOR THE PEOPLE, SO WORK FOR THE PEOPLE. Redistricting is disgusting, cheating, and unconstitutional.
10/21/25 2:08 PM	gerrymandering Isaac Hengel	Nona	Gerrymandering based on race was made illegal in 1993 Shaw v. Reno. I find it disgusting that the state I was born and raised in would even attempt to do something like this. Our state is purple, and it's best to stay that way so we can keep everything diverse. Either side, Democrat or Republican, if your policy's alone cant get you into office you don't deserve to be there. Instead, you are trying to change the rules of the game so you don't lose.
10/21/25 2:09 PM	Dr Douglas James		This extremely undemocratic and partisan gerrymander in service of an increasingly authoritarian president is absolutely unacceptable. Please do the right thing, and defeat this measure!

10/21/25 2:10 PM	Mike Warner		You (the party in control who is proposing this change) can deny racism as a factor all you want, but you know in your hearts what's what, and the religious among you will have to deal with that later. Let's focus on fairness, a foundational value baked into our Constitution and supposedly into our culture. The current congressional districts (and every other map you control) are already maliciously unfair. Making life even more unfair, especially at such an important fundamental level (i.e. elections), is not just the opposite of what your job is - it is maliciously immoral. For the sake of our lives, and your souls, reject this hideously fascist proposal.
10/21/25 2:11 PM	Syene Jasmin		First and foremost, this is a rushed process. Why is this happening now and so fast? Why not go through a real process where it takes adequate time to hear true community input? Why. This map certainly dilutes black voting power.. As a current plaintiff in the NC NAACP v. Berger, why specifically target this area that,Âôs in contention? The need for fair and accountable representation could not be greater. The need for preferred candidates for a community that,Âôs at risk of losing its voting rights protections could not be greater. This shouldn,Âôt be happening and is a clear attempt to dilute minority voting power. Whether you say the intentions of these maps were purely partisan, the consequences are purely racist because it still affects black voters by not allowing us to have a cohesive opportunity to elect candidates that reflect our values. No matter where you stand, this is a clear, direct assault on our constitution and the important amendments that were added due to the legacy of slavery, Jim Crow, and voter suppression. As a current plaintiff, new maps shouldn,Âôt be proposed until we have a court order requiring them to be fixed, and then they should only be changed to fix those issues. Otherwise, we waste lots of time and valuable resources for our community. While our state doesn,Âôt have an agreed-upon Budget and citizens of Pitt County are at risk of losing their access to food vouchers and some medicaid services, doing mid-decade redistricting comes off as disengenuous and insensitive. I urge you not to go forward with these new maps.
10/21/25 2:14 PM	Mr and Mrs Tom Hodges	The citizenry of North Carolina	I am a registered Republican, and I am ashamed of my representatives. This new map makes no sense except from the standpoint of Republican cheating. I have no respect for cheaters, and none of Trump's little toy soldiers will ever be getting a vote from me again. We need real CONSERVATIVE Republicans in office who actually care about the people. Represent the PEOPLE, not the MONEY, or you can kiss your jobs goodbye. North Carolina deserves better than Trumpian puppets.
10/21/25 2:15 PM	Ms Chris Kuster		I am absolutely opposed to gerrymandering the state further. If the GOP can't win on their own merit and have to resort to cheating, esp to split the minority vote is racist and speaks volumes of the lack of character and integrity. SHAME ON YOU PHIL BERGER AND YOUR ILK. YOU ARE A STAIN ON THIS STATE THAT WILL FOREVER BE YOUR LEGACY!!
10/21/25 2:16 PM	Prof. Anne Boyle	Wake Forest University	I strongly oppose the redistricting proposal and will mobilize if it goes through. This is not democracy; it is gerrymandering.
10/21/25 2:16 PM	Dana Alley		I firmly oppose any effort to manipulate North Carolina,Âôs congressional maps for partisan advantage. Fair and transparent maps are essential to ensuring that every voter,Âôs voice carries equal weight. Please stand up for the integrity of our democracy by rejecting these unfair proposals.
10/21/25 2:18 PM	Dr Wendy Wieber		The continued gerrymandering of NC and other states is a direct attack on voting rights. It dilutes the power of people,Âôs votes to the point where, in most cases (or you wouldn,Âôt bother) you all can just mechanically determine winners before the vote has even occurred. This is a travesty that undermines our democracy.
10/21/25 2:19 PM	Mrs Karen D. Dorr		I am a NC resident. Do not further gerrymander our NC Districts. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. Please represent ALL North Carolinians
10/21/25 2:20 PM	MS Sheila Kerrigan		NC elects both Democrats and Republicans in statewide races. We are a purple state. Congressional seats ought to be split fifty-fifty between Dem. and Repub. voters. Our Congressional delegation should reflect the voices of ALL NC voters. Stop the gerrymandering. Trump has made a deal with Sen. Berger, and the stink is foul.
10/21/25 2:22 PM	Mr Ricky King II		I am opposed to any further attempts of gerrymandering in our state that are based on political advantage. Our state districts should be divided and represented based on the population of that area according to census data.
10/21/25 2:22 PM	mr Bob Bailey	none just an nc citizen	IF YOU GO AHEAD AND APPROVE THIS. I WHO HAVE VOTED REPUBLICAN EVEY TIME SINCE RONALD REAGAN WILL NEVE VOTE FOR A REPUBLICAN AGAIN IN MY LIFETIME!
10/21/25 2:23 PM	Dr. Jennifer Halloran		A government should represent all the people of the state. Period. This redistricting serves only to eliminate the voices of people who make their homes in North Carolina. Shame on you for focusing more on dirty tricks to get power than on representing the citizens of North Carolina. Where is the budget?
10/21/25 2:24 PM	Lee devin		No gerrymandering!
10/21/25 2:24 PM	Laura SoJourner		Elections should be fair, districts should not be gerrymandered in order to support one party over another. Do not vote to redistrict. This is not democracy. I am a citizen of Waynesville, NC.
10/21/25 2:24 PM	Mrs Keely Richardson		The power grab by the NC GOP continues regardless of the fact that there are more unaffiliated registered voters than Republican or Democrat Party registered voters. Trump won NC by 183,000 votes. That's not a landslide or an overwhelming majority. This map is not representative, This map is racism. It is solely intended to strip voters of their own votes and voices. Shame on you!!

10/21/25 2:25 PM	Scott Sanner		This effort is clearly, and objectively politically motivated. Please adhere to the court drawn approach from just a few years ago. I'm tired of the over reach based on political party desire.
10/21/25 2:25 PM	Andrew Fuller		Partisan redistricting is a technique to gain political power rather than to fairly represent the citizens of North Carolina. It should be opposed now and in the future.
10/21/25 2:25 PM	James Elliot		I do not support this re-districting measure. This is hyper-partisan gerrymandering and it is contrary to preserving our democracy.
10/21/25 2:26 PM	Aaron Simril		You people are really playing with fire if you didn't notice that every district that could voted blue this past November. Voting for a redistricting so you can lick the boots of the fascist in the White House shows me that you lack any semblance of integrity. In case you fools can't read past a sixth grade reading level, let me make it plain: DO NOT REDISTRICT, YOU USELESS INGRATES.
10/21/25 2:26 PM	Tyler Smith		The North Carolina Senate and GOP has decided that there is no room for democracy in America. Instead, they would rather cheat and manipulate voting districts to guarantee their grip over government power and control both locally and federally. Gerrymandering is the way they suppress and dilute opposition as they do not have the support otherwise. The GOP claims that this is retaliatory to Democratic gerrymandering efforts (though recent ones have been themselves reactionary to maintain equal representation in Congress due to unprecedented redistricting plans such as in Texas). The NC GOP has made their stance clear that there is no room for debate or compromise in the United States. There is no room for discussion and "crossing the aisle". There is only room for a one-party country that only benefits the current president, the wealthy, and corporations while putting the working-class and the impoverished further and further into economic despair and inequality. We have moved from representatives that vote for their people to representatives that vote for themselves and have betrayed their oaths to the constitution, both of North Carolina and that of the United States. Democratic states have moved to independent redistricting committees and have pushed for reform at the federal level - which have been rejected by the GOP. If they truly believed their efforts were good for representation they would also support non-partisan and independent commissions and to observe precedent regarding the census and redistricting history. Again, they do not care about the people in their state - only themselves, their agenda, and how they individually perceive what America should be. Funneling America into one "idealized" viewpoint of the GOP has to be the most Anti-American stance that could exist. The NC GOP should be ashamed of themselves for capitulating to those in power instead of fairly representing their constituents. All I can say is that I hope that their efforts pay off otherwise they are easily going to be replaced in office both in NC and federally due to their cowardice and weakness. The pendulum always swings and this time it will swing hard.
10/21/25 2:28 PM	Amanda Bailey		This an egregious abuse of power and a blatant rigging of maps to make districts partisan. It‚Äôs anti-American, anti-democratic, and also totally unnecessary. It‚Äôs only happening because Trump told you to and you‚Äôre his brainless puppets. Redistributing is only supposed to happen after a census when population changes warrant a change. This is just plain gerrymandering and it should be illegal. It is despicable
10/21/25 2:29 PM	Kevin Ryan		Great idea establishing a new precedent whereby redistricting can occur on a whim. It seems like something that will come back to bite those who decided to change it.
10/21/25 2:30 PM	Mary Orazem	Retired	The best electorial maps we had were the 7-7 split, as the state is pretty purple. The change to the 10-4 maps is already gerrymandered too much. It is outrageous what is happening now before the 2030 census.
10/21/25 2:31 PM	Kay Sumpter		Give us money as teacher. Ridiculous. Pass the budget.
10/21/25 2:33 PM	Jim Harrison		Greed and susceptible to bribery is how the Republican Party is positioning themselves. These republicans in power including judges do not care about Americans or the Constitution. These gerrymandered maps are not necessary, just typical of the Berger(s) personal grabs at payoffs. As a new North Carolinian, I am appalled at the stop at nothing (legal or illegal) attitude.
10/21/25 2:33 PM	Justin Kretzschmar		I strongly oppose continued changing of district maps. Something that should only happen about every 10 years has occurred multiple times in half that time. Instead of meeting to pass an overdue state budget, including important education budget, representatives and senators are instead choosing to meet to manipulate maps to their favor and reduces the power and voice of certain groups of voters. You were all elected to serve your constituents above your own or party interests. In doing so, redistricting maps should NOT be passed at this time.
10/21/25 2:34 PM	Penny Aronson		I understand the redistricting bill has passed the senate. I implore you to vote no. I'm new to North Carolina, but I understand that redistricting has happened more than multiple times, and the only reason noted is not for population growth. If a party wants to win that much, campaign on what voters want so they vote for you - you don't get to change the rules of the game because you don't like the rules, and that seems to be what North Carolina is about. That isn't why I moved here, nor why I love my home. I implore you to be a public servant - and not force the public to serve a party to maintain control and power.
10/21/25 2:39 PM	Mary Charles Montgomery		Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable.
10/21/25 2:43 PM	Michelle Partridge-Doerr		I oppose redrawing the competitive Congressional District 1 map in northeastern NC to favor a Republican candidate.

10/21/25 2:46 PM	Benjamin Wilson		North Carolina should not be redrawing maps. The North Carolina GOP is lying that California is weaponizing maps, but California has not redrawn a single seat. It is up to the people of California to decide IF they will redraw districts at a future date. Political gerrymandering should be illegal and is a bastardization of our US Constitution and rule of law. There is nothing constitutional about 25 men in the NC senate deciding the outcome of a federal election. You are traitors to this country, you have betrayed your oaths, and you have publically stated that you would rather represent Donald Trump instead of the people of North Carolina. Shame on you all. You are cheaters, hate our country, and will be vilified by history.
10/21/25 2:48 PM	Catey Labban		I oppose the redistricting.
10/21/25 2:49 PM	Sandra Aldridge		I'd like to comment on the proposed plans for redistricting in NC. I strongly believe that district lines are not meant to be redrawn with the purpose of giving one party extra seats. They should be allowed to reflect the electorate in that district, and only be redrawn after census results are returned. Changing them between census years feels like abuse of power. Thank you for listening to my plea, and hopefully giving it thoughtful consideration.
10/21/25 2:50 PM	Shame! Shame! Shame! Dustin Follett		I think tempt blatant attempts at power grabs while disenfranchising the people you were elected to serve, your constituency, are a gross abuse of power. This is obviously one of those grabs. By intentionally drawing lines further entrench your own power base by ignoring the people you were elected to serve and by continuing to disregard all manner of rules and regulations in our country, All you were doing is serving to further erode people's faith in our democracy, the leadership at the highest levels, and doing more to harm this country than any of the things you feel like you might be championing. I suggest that you return to your roots by beginning to engage with the people inside your respective districts. Let them say what they feel. Hear the people speak. You are all a disgrace for even suggesting we entertain this farce. Bless each and every one of your hearts. Amen
10/21/25 2:50 PM	Rebecca Mall		I'm urging Terence Everitt, Phil Rubin and all the NC Legislators to oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina‚Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/21/25 2:50 PM	Kimberly Michael		All this is so wrong and happening in other states. How is this manipulation happening? What has become of us as a nation, the cause and effects of all the divisive rhetoric in politicians, so much violence from it, surreal chain of events degrading democracy, wrongs made right, the list goes on. Please don't pass this manipulative re-districting and show up and serve your constituents that voted for these representatives to serve our basic rights and best interests for "we the people" and our country. Amen
10/21/25 2:51 PM	Dr. Mary Friedman		Dear House and Senate committes, I beg you not to redistrict so as to deprive Black and Democratic voters of the already slim chance to obtain representation in the U.S. Congress. This really matters to me. Mary Friedman
10/21/25 2:53 PM	Ms Tory Chisholm	Self	This is not democratic! Stop bowing to Trump and pay attention to the constitution. This is N.C.! A fair state!
10/21/25 2:53 PM	Mr Jack Marchese		"If Gavin Newsom and his Democrat cronies want to try and take control of Congress to force their liberal agenda on the American people, then we‚Äôre going to respond in kind.‚Äù - Berger GOVENOR Newsom put it to a vote. Why aren't North Carolinians afforded the same choice instead of straight up removing representation?
10/21/25 2:54 PM	Mr. David Rayburn		Please, for the love of God, do not get involved in this redistricting and power grabbing business. No one should be doing it. Period.

10/21/25 2:54 PM	Melissa Douglas	As a concerned citizen of North Carolina, I am deeply troubled by the recent actions of our Republican-led legislature regarding redistricting. The decision to redraw congressional maps mid-decade,Äîoutside the standard post-Census cycle,Äîraises serious questions about the integrity of our democratic process. These changes appear designed not to reflect population shifts or community interests, but to entrench partisan power and silence competitive voices. This kind of manipulation erodes public trust and undermines the foundational principle of equal representation. Voters deserve districts that are drawn transparently and fairly, not engineered to guarantee outcomes for one party. When elected officials prioritize political advantage over democratic fairness, they betray the very constituents they were elected to serve. I urge our leaders to reconsider these tactics and commit to a redistricting process that honors the spirit of democracy. North Carolina,Äôs voters deserve better.
10/21/25 2:55 PM	Marsha Shlaer	Unfair redistricting to benefit any party will not happen without a fight, or at the very least, public outcry! The proposed redistricting map would shift District 1, currently held by Democratic Rep. Don Davis, to lean more Republican. It's worth noting that Rep. Davis is one of only three of the state's Black members of Congress. He represents an area with a large Black population. This move dilutes the vote and undermines the will of the people. Please focus on the genuine work of representing constituents with integrity and fairness. Please pass a state budget and address concerns of North Carolinians, like the rising cost of insurance, funding our schools, or staffing the DMV!. No shortage of real work needs to be done to help all North Carolinians. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/21/25 2:56 PM	No gerrymandered maps! Kathryn Rupe	Redistricting at the request of the president is a blatant attempt to rig elections and suppress voters. I demand you stop these efforts. Maps should be made my non partisan committees, not one party. Let the voters decide who represents them, this is not a game. It has lasting impacts on peoples lives.
10/21/25 2:56 PM	Erin Doyle	The people of NC deserve fair and equitably drawn congressional districts. The proposed redistricting plan is so obviously unequal and unfair, handing almost 80% of NC's congressional districts to Republicans. In a near 50/50 swing state, that is a disgusting proposed plan. Additionally, it reduces the Black voting power. No voter bloc should have its voting rights lessened, and that is what this plan is proposing to do. This proposed redistricting plan needs to be rejected and a fairer, more equitable, more balanced districting plan needs to be considered.
10/21/25 2:56 PM	Emily Davis	I'm a NC resident and I'm totally against redistricting.
10/21/25 2:57 PM	Munah Benson	The people of North Carolina are not happy with President #47. They have marched, came to those who are willing to hold town halls and voiced their opinions that they are not happy with him being a bully and a dictator. Sending money to Argentina but no taking care of those Americans who depend on Medicaid, food stamps, Obama Care, etc,Ä¶ He is willing to give money to those who support him in other countries but willing to watch Americans born here suffer. You work for the people of North Carolina not #47. He is running his own agenda that is not putting America first but the Trump family first. Stand your ground and tell him no. North Carolina is not for sale. This will backfire if you let it go, because the people are tired and waiting for politicians who follow the constitution not a man. If you are religious at all God warned us of these time. Don,Äôt fall for his slickness, he said with his own mouth that their is nothing he can do to get into Heaven. Don,Äôt let #47 lead you to a date with Satan in the afterlife. Let #47 know North Carolina can,Äôt be brought. The people of North Carolina will be happy. Remember what you do today will affect your tomorrow. He doesn,Äôt care about your future, your family,Äôs furture or the furture of us who live here. We will let our voices be heard, no redistricting will stop the will of the people. What God has for us is already written, he wants to see who will stand for his people What side do you want to be on Gods,Äô side or #47. I choose God all the time because in the Bible he tells us how we should lead our lives. Vote accordingly and not because #47 says to, think for yourself. Think about the generations after you and they will see you.
10/21/25 2:58 PM	Allison Carlino	I am urging you all to oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina's congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Fight for your constituents and for our democracy.
10/21/25 3:00 PM	Allison Redden	I vehemently oppose the approval of the proposed redrawn congressional maps. The selfish decision of Republican leadership to adhere to the whims of the president focuses more on the power of their party than the people of North Carolina. I implore those voting - I know the House convenes in an hour and will vote - to vote against this map.

10/21/25 3:00 PM	Robert Sprankle	I ask that you REFRAIN from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to choose their voters undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/21/25 3:02 PM	shannon lewis	No gerrymandering!
10/21/25 3:02 PM	Ms Julie Frey	Congressional districts should be decided by nonpartisan committees, and voters should choose their elected officials, not the other way around.
10/21/25 3:03 PM	Ms Karena Kilgore	I strongly oppose redrawing districts - whether it is a democrat or republican it is wrong. It is leading to a destruction of our democracy.
10/21/25 3:05 PM	Gerrymandering Sophia Huerena	I do not support the map change that is currently being voted on. Changing the map just to get the outcome you want is not proper or fair.
10/21/25 3:05 PM	Redistricting Wayne Jackson	As a registered independent voter I do NOT agree with redistrcting in North Carolina.
10/21/25 3:05 PM	Dr. Debra Bell	I don't expect you to pay any attention to this comment given the fact that the redistricting has already been voted on before completing the comment period. This is just another example of the fact that our legislation does not care about what the people want. We want fair elections. We don't want rigged districts. We are a purple state who elected a democratic governor but have a skewed representation in the house and senate due to gerrymandering. If the shoe was on the other foot and the democrats wanted a rigged map, you would fight it and not pass it. But, since the gerrymandering has given the republicans an undue majority, it will pass. I hope that someday soon we have a legislative body that cares more about what the people of the state want than they care about holding onto power unjustly.
10/21/25 3:06 PM	Cindy Shoaf	Taking a page from Texas,Äô gerrymandering playbook, North Carolina,Äôs new 11-3 Congressional map would hand nearly 80% of North Carolina's U.S. House l delegation to Republicans in a 50/50 swing state. North Carolina,Äôs GOP Senate leadership's plan to help Donald Trump rig the 2026 midterm elections further takes apart the state,Äôs historic Black Belt congressional district, Congressional District 1 (CD1). This latest gerrymander makes a mockery of our elections, undermines the freedom to vote, and targets Black voters. The Black voting age population of the newly configured congressional district 1 has decreased by over 8%. This will greatly reduce the voting power of Black voters in northeastern North Carolina. With new gerrymanders, North Carolina politicians are putting political self-interest ahead of the needs of North Carolinians What makes this moment even more troubling is that legislative leaders are devoting their time to redrawing voting maps instead of focusing on passing a state budget or addressing urgent needs facing families and communities across North Carolina. This represents corruption at its worst. Voters across North Carolina ,Äî including a majority of Republicans ,Äî are sick of these types of partisan games that put parties over real people, If wasting precious time and taxpayer dollars to further gerrymander our lawmakers want to build trust heading into 2026, they,Äôd be wise to focus on issues that directly affect North Carolinians,Äô everyday lives, instead of Congressional districts, which are already among the least competitive in the country. North Carolina voters of all political stripes are accustomed to legislative leaders redrawing districts for partisan advantage. They are also tired of it. A recent survey found that 84% of North Carolina voters say it,Äôs never acceptable for politicians to draw districts to help their own party win more seats, no matter the circumstances. That opposition holds across party lines, including 78% of Republicans, 87% of Democrats, and 85% of unaffiliated voters. Voters across North Carolina ,Äî including a majority of Republicans, Democrats, and Unaffiliated voters ,Äî are sick of these types of partisan games that put parties over real people, If lawmakers want to build trust heading into 2026, they,Äôd be wise to focus on issues that directly affect North Carolinians,Äô everyday lives, instead of wasting precious time and taxpayer dollars to further gerrymander our Congressional districts, which are already among the least competitive in the country.

10/21/25 3:08 PM	Proposed redistricting Jeanne Jackson		I am against the proposed redistricting plan. It is horrible that republicans are trying to rig future elections. Leave things the way they are!!
10/21/25 3:08 PM	Mrs Shelley Brown		The redistricting vote coming up in the House is grossly unfair and should be voted down. The purpose is clearly politically partisan as admitted by the General Assembly's Republican leadership: "The motivation behind this new plan is straightforward. The new Congressional map enhances Republican strength in Eastern North Carolina and shifts NC District 1 from a district where President Trump won 51% of the vote in 2024 to 55%.,Äù
10/21/25 3:08 PM	Kathryn Walker		True democracy requires faith in the electorate. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. This move to weaken black voting strength in Eastern North Carolina is a step backwards.
10/21/25 3:08 PM	This is a Title Gannon Simril	None	Stop capitulating to the demand of the wanna be fascist. If you allow him to get his hand on more seats all you're doing is making it easier for him to do whatever he wants, the constitution wont mean a thing if only one (mentally ill) man gets the say on what to do to our country. Redistricting is a bad idea. Don't.
10/21/25 3:09 PM	Liz Bradshaw		I,Äôve been proud of living in NC my whole life, and it,Äôs appalling to think my state's elected Republican officials are blatantly pushing for biased representation to gain power in the 2026 midterms by redistricting. Also, that efforts to make it a people,Äôs decision were recently shot down, despite almost 80% of recently polled NC citizens, Democrats and Republicans alike, opposing gerrymandering. This is a democracy, elections are supposed to represent the people equally, and this will most definitely hurt representation of our Black communities in northeastern NC. It cannot be said race was not involved in the mapmaking, because if you look at where a majority of Black North Carolinians live, it,Äôs in northeastern NC. My dad,Äôs and husband,Äôs families are from that area, it,Äôs common knowledge. The people in northeastern NC need the freedom to choose their representatives, not the representatives choose their people for political gain.
10/21/25 3:11 PM	Emily Walthall	Cancer Patient	NC is one of the most gerrymandered states in our country. As a Rockingham, County NC native and Transylvania County resident, I do not know how you sleep at night cheating us voters, and citizens like you do. It is never too late, however, to do the right and fair thing. To stop cheating. You think of these districts a game where might makes right. In reality, you are robbing NC citizens,Äô votes. Have you no shame?
10/21/25 3:11 PM	Tina Wall		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/21/25 3:12 PM	Joanna Parker		This not okay! The vote belongs to the people! You are pandering to Donald Trump and ignoring the needs of your constituents. Stop the gerrymandering and pass a budget. This is shameful and unnecessary.
10/21/25 3:13 PM	Doyla Mullen		Senate leader Phil Berger said "The president asked that legislatures look at their maps and determine whether or not it's possible to add additional individuals [to the U.S. House] that would support the agenda that the president has advanced. The people of North Carolina, on three separate occasions, have voted [in favor of Trump]. And it is something that is an appropriate thing for us to do." The fact that the people of NC voted for Trump does NOT automatically mean this is the appropriate thing to do! When the leader of a national party tells you to do something in their political interest, FIRST you should ask yourself if it is in the interest of the citizens of North Carolina. The MAJORITY of citizens, INCLUDING Republicans, have overwhelmingly indicated they do NOT like gerrymandering, regardless of the reason. This means you are NOT acting according to the will of the people, but at the behest of a leader who shamelessly and openly advocates for silencing the voices that would be heard if this redistricting does not occur. We have a FEDERALIST system of government, not a monarchy. You are firmly on the WRONG side of history here, and those who vote for this abomination will be harshly judged. I am a North Carolina voter, and you are making me ashamed to call myself that.
10/21/25 3:13 PM	Jeff Dunham		let voters choose elected officials--not you elected officials chose who your voters will be. We're a 50/50 state. Government should reflect the people.
10/21/25 3:14 PM	Sarah Friedell		STOP GERRYMANDERING OUR VOTING MAPS. These partisan politics are outrageous and do NOT REPRESENT THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE.
10/21/25 3:14 PM	Fred Wendelboe		NC lawmakers should represent all NC residents, not just Republicans. Stop serving special interest groups and those who buy your votes and legislate impartially and fairly.
10/21/25 3:14 PM	Dr James Peirce		Do not redistrict NC. All people must be fairly represented. The Republican plans are nothing more than acceding to the wishes of Donald Trump.

10/21/25 3:14 PM	Traci Nachtrab		The voting districts are already gerrymandered enough - we don,Äôt need them more so! Do not redistrict! Fight fairly for the people of NC.
10/21/25 3:14 PM	Sarah Reincke		Anyone who accepts the gerrymander process IS NOT in facor of DEMOCRACY BE A GOOD HUMAN AND DO WHAT'S RIGHT!!
10/21/25 3:18 PM	Mr Geoffrey Wilson		I am appalled by your odious efforts to further gerrymander North Carolina, with the goal of prolonging the GOP majority in Congress. The Republicans in Washington are destroying the country and doing real harm to North Carolinians -- we are losing SNAP benefits; losing medicaid support for people in need and for rural hospitals; ICE agents are terrorizing our citizens. Your actions are shameful.
10/21/25 3:19 PM	Kate Farias		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/21/25 3:19 PM	Mr. Roy Cameron		Back in 2015, a tape was released where our future President bragged about his exploits with women. You know the one where he said he would "grab them by the pussy" and "when you are rich, they let you do it"? At the time I thought he was only describing his sexual assault of women. It turns out, he was also talking about how he could override the consent and will of North Carolina voters. He has looked at Phil Berger and the NCGOP and all he sees is pussies; cowards who, when gripped by money, power and fear, will do whatever the President tells them to do even if that means dissolving Democracy itself. You see that your ideas are unpopular and instead of engaging constituents to determine a new platform and approach that would be more in line with the will of the people, you decide you will just further contort an already twisted map to squeeze one more seat out for the GOP. Representatives selected their constituents instead of the constituents selecting their representatives. I am certain that there is a "what about Democrats" argument to be made somewhere in here, so let's be clear; gerrymandering is wrong regardless of party. We should move towards having an independent commission draw districts in order to have fairer, more competitive districts that reflect the will of the people across our state. If we had leaders who were loyal to our Constitution and to our state, this redistricting motion would be withdrawn or voted down. Unfortunately, we have this Legislature. This Legislature who's majority cannot agree with itself on a budget for the state; cannot see the value in providing assistance for victims of Hurricane Helene, cannot understand the economic impacts of tariffs, shutting down clinical research and stripping programs like SNAP and Medicaid will have across this state. These are GOP ideas. And if these ideas can't win, then you need to get new ideas, not new constituents. Vote down this redistricting issue and get about the business of helping the people of North Carolina.
10/21/25 3:21 PM	Ms. Pamela Pearson		I am disappointed, actually more than that, to see North Carolina going the way of Texas. With our congressional seats already heavily gerrymandered 10 to 4, it is offensive to do a mid-decade redrawing of the maps to carve off yet another democratic seat. The state's demographics clearly indicate that it is a "purple" state (one that reliably votes right down the middle, about 50/50 for democratic and republican candidates), which means that fair maps would offer an opportunity for an equal number of congressional seats to be filled with republicans and democrats. These recent efforts to copy the Texas legislature disenfranchise North Carolina voters. You should be ashamed.
10/21/25 3:21 PM	Christine Aiken		Please do not further the gerrymandering of our maps here in NC. The constitution is clear that all voices are meant to be equal with equal representation. Elections should be fair & fall where they may, at the will of the people. History will look at this period & will not judge kindly partisan gerrymandering, especially to intentionally tip the scales of balance in the House of Representatives.
10/21/25 3:23 PM	Judi Best		stop giving trump everything he wants!!! fair and free voting is the cornerstone of our democracy.
10/21/25 3:23 PM	Mr Duilio "Dewey" DeFalco	retired	I approve of this map. It contains the proper distribution of population.
10/21/25 3:23 PM	SJ Crandall		1. There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. 2. North Carolina is a purple state. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù 3. North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no.
10/21/25 3:24 PM	Mary McKenzie		don't do it.. fair voting must not be tampered with
10/21/25 3:24 PM	Meghan Knight		Gerrymandering in our state needs to stop. It has a long history in our state, and it has never been a good idea. It erodes public trust in our elections and in our elected officials. We need to adopt a nonpartisan redistricting process in our state, such as an independent redistricting commission.

10/21/25 3:24 PM	Christine Czerniejewski		I adamantly oppose the redrawing of the North Carolina districting maps and further gerrymandering of the state. As an unaffiliated voter in North Carolina, I am disgusted and disheartened by the lack of choice and true competition of candidates and ideals. The map should never be drawn in such a way that a candidate runs uncontested because those of an opposing party see no point in running because they see the race as lost before it is run. That these maps are being redrawn now, at the behest of the President, is a disgrace. Our elected officials hold their positions by the will of the people, to serve the people. Not Party and most certainly not the goals of another politician. Should the new maps pass, as I suspect they will despite public protest, I pray that no seat will go uncontested and that those responsible for this travesty, this betrayal of democratic ideals, will find themselves no longer holding a seat of power.
10/21/25 3:25 PM	Mrs. Waynnettah Chavis	Democrat	I do not want to see gerrymandering anymore. It leaves many people out and takes away our voices. Leave the maps as they were meant to be. Don't fall prey to Teumps project 2025.
10/21/25 3:27 PM	Kaila Mitchell		Redistricting should not be used by political parties to influence voting outcomes. Voting outcomes should be determined by the voters.
10/21/25 3:29 PM	Alex Eadie		Please do not do this. Obvious partisan power grabs will only fuel further division and unrest. Politicians should not be picking their own voters.
10/21/25 3:30 PM	Dr Laurie Sorge		NC is known nationally, and not in a good way, the ridiculous gerrymandering that results in a democratic governor and 11 of 14 districts as Republican. The Republican redistributing is cheating and defies democracy.
10/21/25 3:30 PM	Ms Elena Horvath		84% of NC voters are against gerrymandering. NC is a 50/50 state, but is already gerrymandered 10-4. This a further gerrymandering to 11-3. We need to end gerrymandering all together.
10/21/25 3:30 PM	Susan Griffith	Resident	I am demanding that my North Carolina republican representatives stop the redistricing of our congressional maps. We deserve free and fair elections, not gerrymandered districts. You should be ashamed to be putting politics before the will of the voters. Stop this now! Leave the maps as they are.
10/21/25 3:32 PM	Brittany Ramsey		The GOPs reason for redrawing the maps is to protect President Trumps agenda which means safeguarding republican control of congress. What part of project 2025 does the GOP believe benefits everyday north Carolinas? Cutting Medicare and Medicaid? Tax cuts for the billionaires? Increasing drug prices? Limiting access to food assistance right before Thanksgiving? Rolling back civil rights protections? As an independent this is wrong and unexceptable. Why do you all want to take us back in time? We should be moving our state forward! Stop voter suppression and let your constituents decide who they want to represent them! Do not redraw the maps.
10/21/25 3:33 PM	Mrs Carol Martin	The Pines ,Äú Davidson	Please stop gerrymandering NC. As it is, my vote already doesn,Äôt count. You,Äôre taking away the power of the ballot from more North Carolinians. Please stop!!!!
10/21/25 3:33 PM	How dare you! Leigh C T		I have never been more disappointed and ashamed of the people supposedly working for the state of North Carolina. Redistricting to cheat the system is yet another low blow from the current administration. How do you sleep at night knowing that you are rigging elections. The people of North Carolina deserve better!
10/21/25 3:34 PM	Lawrence Teatum		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget, yet they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/21/25 3:35 PM	2025 Redistricting Public Daphne BerwAld	Public citizen	We as NC voters should all have the same rights to vote without give GOP more level to have more representation. Please vote NO.
10/21/25 3:36 PM	Sarah Soufl		Work on a budget. Vote no on the redrawn gerrymandered maps!
10/21/25 3:36 PM	Anna Clark-Suter		Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. I ask that you do not draw new maps.
10/21/25 3:37 PM	Marissa Kent-White		Leave the maps alone!!! Focus on the budget!
10/21/25 3:38 PM	Natasha Atwood		Please do not redraw the district maps. Please leave them as they are and focus instead on creating and passing a state budget
10/21/25 3:39 PM	John Stipa		We demand you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. Instead, why don't you seek mutually agreeable solutions to establish boundaries that are not contestable and not in need of constant adjustment? As an example, use county lines as boundaries and adjust within the county to balance the population load on any one representative? If that doesn't work, try something else but take the temptation to gerrymander out of the equation.

10/21/25 3:40 PM	Ms Kim Zeugner		Good afternoon, As a lifetime citizen of nc, I am so disturbed by the gerrymandering happening this week. NC is a split state, about 50/50, but we are currently at 10/4 in representation. That means that some votes are made to count and some not. And the nots are many times in places where people had to fight for centuries to be represented fairly. Now you want to make it 11/3. I would oppose this from any party because voting results should not be controlled by people in a backroom looking at data and putting in a fix making results almost certain. You should win elections based on good policy, fair budgets, and care for constituents. A large majority of your constituents oppose this and yet you ignore this. I thought we had a representative government. That's why we fought a revolution. Stop the gerrymander which is an obvious plot to remove a minority representative. This is unethical and should be illegal. It is certainly corrupt.
10/21/25 3:40 PM	Kirsten Mitchell		This redistricting plan does not represent or serve the residents of NC. It is gerrymandering at its worst.
10/21/25 3:41 PM	Barbara Williams	Voting Citizen of NC	I strongly object to the legislature redrawing our district maps at this time. It should only be done after an order by the court to do so, and in response to new census records.
10/21/25 3:43 PM	ROBERT PINIEWSKI		I am writing to object to the redistricting proposal. This would be breaking our norms, our state constitution and because Republicans are bending over backwards for the pedophile and criminal that is currently occupying the White House. You WORK for North Carolina, NOT Donald Trump. This decision will follow you forever and rightfully so. From Day One as kids we learn Country over Party - and what to you spineless fools do, the exact opposite! You will all lose your next race. Like Trump, you,Äôre a sorry, pathetic, pandering, spineless, disgusting excuse for a Republican and representative.
10/21/25 3:44 PM	Karrie Comatas		I know you are aware that the majority of your constituents are against gerrymandering. Still, you continue to chip away at the voting rights of your opposition because the numbers game doesn't give you a win. DO NOT allow this redistricting to pass.
10/21/25 3:47 PM	Cate Ryba		Please do not redistrict our state. I want fair representation, and representatives who are accountable to the voters. I want you to represent me with integrity- not spend your time on this power grab. These are the issues I want you working on: passing a state budget, addressing the rising costs of healthcare (my family,Äôs insurance is increasing this year, and I,Äôm mad and motivated about it!), funding the schools better, and ensuring the work a gets done on disaster relief from Hurricane Helene (I lost a business last year, and the legislature is busy with redistricting???). Thank you for your attention. Please do the right thing.
10/21/25 3:48 PM	S. Walters		I disagree with the changes to the redistricting maps. You could be spending your time designing programs to support families and teachers. It's time to stop the blame games and work across party lines to improve lives in our wonderful state and country.
10/21/25 3:50 PM	Ms Kelly A SHARP		Why are we doing redistricting by zip codes? You live in the area that you voted by ZIP code the precinct in that zip code and that's how you vote and get Representatives by zip code. The neighborhoods are mixed up enough that is zip code which is done by the government and they all are pretty equal and that's the way it should be done.
10/21/25 3:51 PM	Darren Legge		This proposal will dilute the political power of Black North Carolinians. The biggest impact of this proposal will be the "cracking" of the northeastern Black Belt into two districts. The national Voting Rights Act requires the legislature to proactively consider race in redistricting to protect against illegal vote dilution for Black and Brown voters.
10/21/25 3:52 PM	Christina Meier		I think redistricting is a waste of tax payer time and money. Why not represent NC constituents with integrity and service and actually solve some real problems we are all facing in this state right now. Pass a state budget first, then tackle the incredible rise in health care costs the citizens of this state are about to experience in the coming year. Also, school funding and teacher pay,Äîwe need more teachers and bus drivers in this state and we need to pay them a live able wage. Additional hiring efforts are also needed at the DMV. There is no shortage of real work that needs to be done to help all North Carolinians, especially those still affected by Hurricane Helene. Thank you.
10/21/25 3:55 PM	Dr Susanne Lovelace		North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù NO ONE ASKED FOR THIS North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities.
10/21/25 3:55 PM	Dominique De Laet		Redistricting is process of drawing the lines if districts from which public officials are elected. When it's conducted fairly it accurately reflects population changes and racial diversity, and is used by legislators to equitably allocate representation in Congress and state legislatures. You are using redistricting to manipulate the outcome of elections which undermines democracy and stifles the voice of voters. Voters should be picking their politicians not the other way around!

10/21/25 3:56 PM	Ms Tina Rogovin		This is ludicrous and shameful. Pass a budget, you useless hacks! And stop kissing Trump,Äôs enormous ass and disenfranchising voters!!!!!!
10/21/25 3:56 PM	Prioritize citizens AMichelle	Self	I find it deeply troubling that instead of working towards a budget for the people of NC you all are considering GERRYMANDERING! MIND YOU THIS IS ILLEGAL, SWORN IN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS ARE CONSIDERING COMMITTING CRIMES!! Let me be clear, if this is done, it grants republicans another seat in congress. So you can kiss ANY progressive bills goodbye and say hello to the dumpster fire they,Äôre trying to reign in. Ask yourself, Is this what you swore to do? Did you swear to protect your constituents or turn a blind eye to injustice? Does the CONSTITUTION mean nothing to you? Do your people mean nothing to you? Do our FARMERS mean nothing? Do our teachers mean nothing? Do our children mean nothing? DOES THE FUTURE OF DEMOCRACY MEAN NOTHING? You bend now you,Äôll flip later. Why do we have to beg and plead for a normal and equal functioning representative democracy? This will erase representation of minority voters, this is illegal and if you support this you aren,Äôt American, Christian, or even a moral human being. My ancestors did NOT spend their lives fighting to rid this nation of injustice just for my country and my state to regress. You all should be ASHAMED of yourselves for even considering this nonsense while we have waited more than 100 days for a budget. GET YOUR PRIORITIES IN ORDER and WAKE UP. God is watching, the world is watching, and most of all your constituents are watching. There will come a day where you,Äôll have to answer for what you did to the people of NC. We are angry and we are tired of you all constantly failing us just to keep your selfish HATEFUL agenda.
10/21/25 3:57 PM	Jennifer Miller		I strongly oppose the proposed redistricting for the following reasons: ,Ä¢It undercuts fair representation by tailoring district-lines to favor one party rather than reflecting the will of the voters. For example, recent analysis shows maps in NC have been drawn in ways that ‚Äúcrack‚Äù or ‚Äúpack‚Äù voters in order to dilute their influence. ? ,Ä¢It undermines trust in the democratic process ,Äî polls in North Carolina show a strong majority across party lines oppose the practice of drawing maps to help incumbents or one party. ? ,Ä¢It diverts attention from urgent issues facing the state (budget, healthcare, infrastructure) toward partisan map-making, which erodes governance and accountability. I am extremely concerned that this body is not working for its people but bending to political pressure from DC. Please be brave and do the right thing for North Carolinians.
10/21/25 3:58 PM	Mrs Lisa Moore		Please do not redraw the lines just to add another Trump vote. He is a dangerous fool who is ruining our country and, increasingly, the world.
10/21/25 4:01 PM	Mr Al Y		As shown in statewide elections. NC is not a republican state. It is essentially equally divided between democrats and republicans. This is not a race issue. This is a citizenship issue. This is an attempt to shout the voice of half if not more than half of the citizens of the state. Indeed, in statewide races, the results are much tighter than the percentage in the US congress. oftentimes very near 50% each. Now 4 democrats vs 10 republicans - 28.6% vs 71.4% respectively. Given these numbers, there appear be a gross infringement on our republic and the democratic process. My prayer is that this gerrymandering district maps stop and that the maps be drawn to reflect the true voice of the citizens of NC.
10/21/25 4:02 PM	Ms. Carri Lindberg		Redistricting at this point will directly hurt North Carolinians and Americans as a whole. Please use your hearts and minds to do what is right for the citizens that you represent. We deserve that! We are already struggling to survive, please think of how this will hurt your people, we need an actual democracy back in this country and if this redistricting happens that will be nearly impossible.
10/21/25 4:02 PM	Leigh Compton		As Representatives and Senators, you, are elected to represent the voices and best interest of North Carolinians not to appease a federal administration or the President. It is extremely disheartening to me that the NC delegation has lost site of those they represent in order to bow to someone who has actively worked to destroy our democracy. Publicly released facts have already demonstrated where this administration focus lies and it is dismantling our country on the backs of the middle class and low income. It is on the backs of those you were elected to represent. I can assure you that those elected officials from my area, if they vote in favor of this, have lost my vote. It is my hope that will be the outcome that you see at the polls if you continue the course to sell North Carolina out in order to swear allegiance to an individual.
10/21/25 4:04 PM	Linda Kreider		Redistricting at anytime other than as a result of a census is not acceptable. The proposed new electoral map disinfranches voters in order to ensure a favorable outcome for the majority party. As elected officials for the State of NC you took an oath to represent your constituents and not to serve yourself, therefore before any changes are made in the electoral map, the issue to redistrict should be presented to the public for a vote.
10/21/25 4:05 PM	Ms. Abigail Kessel		I am extremely upset about the redistricting plan. To target one of the few Black house members is disrespectful to the diversity that makes this state beautiful. This behavior will not accurately represent the voting public of North Carolina by the time elections roll around. It is always disappointing to see the party in power go out of their way to disenfranchise the minority party. This is a free country!!
10/21/25 4:05 PM	Ari Roberts		You all know what you are doing; gerrymandering, so you can take EVEN MORE control of the government. So much for the democracy you claim to love so much. You just want the democrats to have as little power as possible. Additionally, the comments from our so-called "officials" on social media is truly baffling and embarrassing. Please stop talking.

10/21/25 4:05 PM	Craig Alden		I do not currently have a party affiliation, but had previously been a registered republican for most of my life. No matter which party is in power, I believe this redistricting plan is undemocratic and should be unconstitutional. If you look at our statewide races in NC, both at the state and federal level, almost without exception they are relatively close. Yet, through gerrymandering the Republican Party has a near veto proof majority in the state assembly and currently hold 10 of the 14 us house seats. The Republican Party already hold more seats than they ought to based on the statewide election outcomes. If most statewide elections in recent history have been at a margin of less than 10%, then the makeup of the state assembly and US congress should reflect those trends. As it is, we have an overwhelming majority of a party in these seats despite not being representative of the populations voting trends in the state. The numbers are already unfair and skewing them further is indefensible. The purpose can therefore be solely for political gain and has nothing to do with fair representation of the people of NC. This is very short sighted and is a blemish on our state for even considering. Given that I am not married to a political party, I would be equally upset if the Democratic Party were to do something similar. This effort by the party in power is exactly why redestricting should be done by a non-partisan group. You can,Äôt trust the political party in power to fairly redistrict. Why would they do the right thing? They have proven time and again to choose party and platform over the people. If this proceeds, this formerly quiet voter will do everything they can to hold those that approve this accountable in the next election. We can not continue to be represented by people that willfully take power away from the citizens of NC. We are a representative democracy that no longer represents its constituents, but itself and its own desires.
10/21/25 4:06 PM	Mr. Bruce Stoen	None	Stop the madness. I was a faithful Republican until dictator Trump was elected this 2nd term. A blind man can see what he is doing to the U.S.A., destruction of democracy, rule of law and freedom of speech. I have given up on the Republican party. As a new Independent Voter, I totally disagree with redrawing the congressional map. It is un-concienable.
10/21/25 4:07 PM	Nelle Gregory		Shame on you for having to rig voting districts as the only way Republicans will win. I disagree with carving up congressional districts to eliminate competition. What happened to before the people and buy the people?
10/21/25 4:07 PM	Stop Gerrymandering NC Allison Chiancone		Gerrymandering is undemocratic but unfortunately not un-American. If you can't win fairly then you shouldn't win. Let's make America democratic again.
10/21/25 4:07 PM	P O6		WE THE PEOPLE will make our voices heard at the voting booths. You all serve at "OUR" pleasure. ! Gerrymandering is a vile way of skewing congressional maps in favor of a particular party. UGH!!!
10/21/25 4:08 PM	Hanna Gattoni		The congressional redistricting bill is a map that undermines the votes of half of North Carolina citizens, promotes political dysfunction with further unfair division within our democracy, and violates voter trust. Unity will always win out over division, but efforts like this to rig the system continue to undermine our democracy and divide our country. Let the people vote in fair elections and decide their representatives instead of rigging the elections through gerrymandered maps!
10/21/25 4:11 PM	Sandy Fournie		I think that stacking the deck to insure you win is everything this nation is against. It is stealing folks rights: the right to have their vote count and their voice be heard. If you can't win without stacking the deck, maybe work on understanding why. And then work on serving the constituents.
10/21/25 4:13 PM	Marie Gannon		Please leave the maps as the are already drawn! We need a state budget asap, please put your energy into that.
10/21/25 4:14 PM	Mrs Mary Whiteside		No more redistricting/gerrymandering NC! People have a right to representation.
10/21/25 4:14 PM	Betsie Stockslager		Please leave the maps alone! Vote on a budget- do anything other than kiss the ring and do the king,Äôs bidding
10/21/25 4:17 PM	Leave it alone William Allen	None	Republicans already control a large majority of the states districts through unfair gerrymandering. This state is largely "purple" and has repeatedly elected moderate democratic governors as a state. To further adjust districts to increase the Republican majority is undemocratic and unnecessary.
10/21/25 4:17 PM	Beth Cheney		I am against redrawing districts before the next census.
10/21/25 4:18 PM	Mes Georgia Collett		No more redistricting! We don,Äôt want our legislators to pick their voters. The voters choose the legislators!
10/21/25 4:18 PM	Todd Pratt		I hope future generations will learn from the deceit of those who took an oath to serve the people of NC and now break that oath in cowardice to party and power by purposefully garrymandering the democracy of the state.
10/21/25 4:18 PM	Mr. Taylor Von Klingler		This partisan redistricting is a disgrace. Redraw the lines fairly or at least leave them alone. Just redrawing them to get more seats by default disenfranchises citizens of North Carolina and reduces their fair representation.
10/21/25 4:20 PM	Mrs. Lisa Mitchell	Democracy Out Loud	I would like to respectfully ask the House to deny this attempt at gerrymandering as passing it will against the will of 84% of voters, including 87% of Democrats and 78% of Republicans, who have said they oppose partisan voting maps in a September survey. Each of you took an oath to defend the state constitution and serve ALL of the people of North Carolina. The constitution states in Article 1, Section 2 Re: Sovereignty, that ,ÄúAll political power is vested in and derives from the people; (and that) all government of right originates from the people, is founded upon their will only, and is instituted solely for the good of the whole.,Äù If this gerrymander is implemented, almost 6 million people will lose trust in this House and respect for the NCGA.

10/21/25 4:20 PM	District Chair 49.1 Donna McCulloch		The GOP is crystal clear with its intentions. Republican Senator Ralph Hise proudly stated for the record, ‚ÄúThe motivation behind this new plan is straightforward. The new Congressional map enhances Republican strength in Eastern North Carolina and shifts NC District 1 from a district where President Trump won 51% of the vote in 2024 to 55%.‚Äù I employee you to focus on the genuine work of representing constituents with integrity and fairness. I am frustrated with delays to pass a state budget and address concerns of North Carolinians, like the rising cost of insurance (our family's insurance is going up by 15%), funding our schools (My son's PTO is raising money for math workbooks-wtf?), or staffing the DMV (I can't get a damn appointment!). No shortage of real work needs to be done to help all North Carolinians. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/21/25 4:23 PM	Ms. Francine Smith		This blatant power grab is abhorrent. A democracy doesn't allow legislators to choose its voters, voters should be selecting our legislative.
10/21/25 4:24 PM	Elizabeth Peeler		No more partisan re-drawing of district maps.
10/21/25 4:24 PM	MR. FRED NADELMAN MA MSW	NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SOCIAL WORKERS	I AM AGAINST REDISTRICTING. I LIVE IN FORSYTH COUNTY. I AM A DEMOCRAT AND DO NOT WANT PRESIDENT TRUMP TO IMPLEMENT HIS DICTATORIAL NEEDS AGAINST THE NEEDY. HOWEVER, WE NEED HEALTH INSURANCE THAT SHOULD BE MADE UNIVERSAL, SUCH AS MEDICARE; FOOD AID PROGRAMS FOR POOR FAMILIES SUCH AS ‚ÄúSNAP,Äù; AND BETTER HOUSING FOR ALLTHROUGH GOVERNMENT PROGRAMS. PEOPLE SHOULD NOT HAVE TO SLEEP ON SIDEWALKS IN TRAIN STATIONS. REDISTRICTING IS LIKELY TO DISEMPOWER THE NEEDY AS WELL AS THE MIDDLE CLASS AND MORE GREATLY EMPOWER THE BILLIONAIRES.
10/21/25 4:26 PM	Shannon Wright		I am absolutely OPPOSED to redistricted and GERRYMANDERING OUR STATE. Racism and loser behavior at its finest.
10/21/25 4:26 PM	Connie Francis		Absolutely opposed!
10/21/25 4:27 PM	Ms Janice Jones		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. The GOP will some day be on the other side and will get what they deserve when their districts are gerrymander. The people deserve to have representation that reflects their community and not be forces to take a representative that knows nothing about who we are and as a result our communities will be underserved. It is extremely important that you Vote NO.
10/21/25 4:27 PM	Lisa Livingstone		North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ‚Äúfree and fair election.‚Äù
10/21/25 4:27 PM	You Work for Us Claire Palermo		As state legislators, your job is to protect the safety and interests of all North Carolinians-not to act as obedient lackeys for the president and the federal administration. Our maps are already horribly gerrymandered as it is, and I say that as a resident of one of the most heavily Republican rural counties in central NC (Davidson). Enough is enough. North Carolina voters and residents want fairness and actual representation, not to be used as pawns in a political chess game on the federal level. It is appalling that many of us are worried about continuing to feed our children and access healthcare while you all are playing ego games with our votes. Passing a fair budget that addresses the real needs of our state should be your first and only priority right now.
10/21/25 4:29 PM	Diana Vandergrift		NO to redistricing. NO to gerrymandering.
10/21/25 4:30 PM	Shelia Bumgarner	Private citizen	Please do not engage in gerrymandering. This state was victimized for decades by the Democrats. It is an evil practice that does nothing but discourage voters and divide the state. Be forward thinking and end the practice of gerrymandering once and for all in our beautiful state. Thank you. Shelia Bumgarner
10/21/25 4:31 PM	not a king! Mary Nicholson		Unconstitutional, unlawful, wrong, dictatorship
10/21/25 4:33 PM	Victoria Hartley		With new gerrymanders, North Carolina politicians are putting political self-interest ahead of the needs of North Carolinians What makes this moment even more troubling is that legislative leaders are devoting their time to redrawing voting maps instead of focusing on passing a state budget or addressing urgent needs facing families and communities across North Carolina. This represents corruption at its worst. Voters across North Carolina ‚Äî including a majority of Republicans ‚Äî are sick of these types of partisan games that put parties over real people, If wasting precious time and taxpayer dollars to further gerrymander our lawmakers want to build trust heading into 2026, they,Äôd be wise to focus on issues that directly affect North Carolinians,Äô everyday lives, instead of Congressional districts, which are already among the least competitive in the country.
10/21/25 4:33 PM	Mr Robert Moore		Redistricting every 10 years after the census
10/21/25 4:35 PM	Mrs. Anne Johnson		When I moved to North Carolina, the North Carolina Republican Party rightly opposed the partisan gerrymandering the state Democratic party used to stay in power for over a hundred years. Today, the North Carolina Republican Party is doing the same thing for the same reasons. Instead, do the right thing.

10/21/25 4:35 PM	Ms Karen Tharp		Please begin governing for the people of North Carolina and stop this outright negligence regarding the will of the people. The people you swore to lift up. We are ALL your constituents and we rely on you to help North Carolinians. That is how you get votes, you actually help the folks that got you where you are.
10/21/25 4:36 PM	Oppose redistricting Elizabeth Fisher		This is historic, in a bad way. Do not use a loophole to further gerrymander this state. I remember when the GOP used to scream about Democrats drawing unfair lines, only to turn around and skew things even more heavily now. Don,Äôt be hypocrites. Use the fair maps or at the very least, don,Äôt make it worse. This is not the kind of legacy you want to leave, Republicans.
10/21/25 4:36 PM	mr Richard Genz		I object to the proposed redistricting that would change the 1st Congressional district boundaries in NC. This is a transparent and racially discriminatory effort to undermine democracy in the state of North Carolina and America. Since when is redistricting done 5 years before the next US Census? Answer: Since Trump launched his assault on democracy. We voters understand that Trump and MAGA are deeply afraid of the consequences of an honest vote in 2026, one that could yield a Democratic US House and/or Senate. Moreover the Voting Rights Act of 1965 prohibits exactly this kind of redistricting, which seeks to expand white power at the expense of African-American residents. Richard Genz Asheville NC 28804
10/21/25 4:37 PM	Mrs Caprice Cox		Im for redistricting not based on race
10/21/25 4:39 PM	Lori DiBisceglie		How about you put forth the same effort in creating policy that will benefit the residents of North Carolina and succeed on those merits by a majority at election instead of rigging a district map in your favor. Clearly this is an admonition that the Republican party has no policies of value to offer the voters in this state and are unwilling or unable to develop any. I,Äôm firmly opposed to any political party gerrymandering districts.
10/21/25 4:42 PM	Shannon Capezzali		Please do not focus on redistricting right now. Focus should be on coming up with a state budget, especially to make up gaps in funding for education.
10/21/25 4:45 PM	Ms. Marcelle Crago		Please do not redistrict until the next census. This is undemocratic. Thank you-Marcelle
10/21/25 4:46 PM	Mary Jevitt		Stop trying to ignore the constitution and lie and cheat your way to winning another election. You are not doing what the voters voted for. Stop sucking up to a soulless, racist, misogynist, lying, cheating administration and listen to your constituents.
10/21/25 4:50 PM	Clara haynes		As a registered Independent who has voted for BOTH parties in local elections (Lincoln county), as well as in national elections, I am writing to object to the proposed redistricting legislation. Gerrymandering is wrong, whether in California, in Texas and North Carolina. These redistricting escapades create distorted voting counties. The last three presidential elections confirm that NC is a purple state. That 49.8% , 49.9% and 50.9% voted for Donald Trump in the last 3 respective elections does NOT reflect a Republican mandate for governance. Rather, the last 3 NC gubernatorial elections offer a counter view to the ‚Äúmandate narrative,Äù and confirms our state,Äôs purple status through the election of Democratic governors: 49.0%, 51.5% and 54.9%. I urge you please NOT TO VOTE TO REDISTRICT, and ask that you remember Ronald Reagan,Äôs words in each and every vote you cast as an elected member of the NC Legislature: ‚ÄúHope leads us, if we,Äôre prepared to trust it, toward what our President Lincoln called ‚Äòthe better angels of our nature.‚Äô,Äù Clara M. Haynes Denver, NC
10/21/25 4:51 PM	Ms Diane Goodnight		Hello, what you are trying to do with redistricting is unlawful. As a fellow citizen I am appalled and disappointed in your actions. I implore you to stop this unfair mid-decade redistricting now!
10/21/25 4:52 PM	No Gerry Hating Chaplin Stevens	Christian	Even the words of gerrymandering sounds bad. Stop cheating because all Republicans can do is lie to take office. Like, climate change. Like Epstein files. Like every word Trump says. ??
10/21/25 4:53 PM	Shenandoah Many		I am opposed to the redistricting plans drawn up by the NC state ‚Äúrepublicans,Äù (Trumpists). You clearly care nothing about the voice of the people or allowing true elections to take place in our state. You should be ashamed. You are no longer public servants, just Trump servants. I hope you can find your souls and your spines again one day - or did you ever have them? The only thing you will ever be remembered for is cronyism, theft, and corruption.
10/21/25 4:53 PM	No redistricting needed Mark Wagoner		After all we went through to get the maps we have, yes the heavily gerrymanded ones was bad enough, Time to leave it alone. Next step should be non partisan maps.
10/21/25 4:53 PM	Mr. John Dreyfors	Carolina Biodiesel	This action by the NC GOP and blatant violation of our State Constitution and US Constitution, suppressing voters rights and abuse of fundamental God given human rights to elect our leaders. There will be consequences for those who drafted these blatant racist attacks on the citizens of NC. They can't win on policy but have to resort to illegal gerrymandering to force to accept their hateful, discriminatory and serving of white oligarch's wishes. This is pure evil.

10/21/25 4:54 PM	Mr. Chris Ruminski		I believe this is a horrible idea. Please stop pandering to the president and take a stand for a fair democracy.
10/21/25 4:55 PM	Fair Representation Alannah Lawrence		A citizen of North Carolina should be able to expect at least some-what representative elected government officials. This map is not that. This appears to be extremely biased and not representative
10/21/25 4:55 PM	Todd Belcore	Social Change	All power to the people. That,Äôs what democracy means. It means what the people demand is what is to be. And the people are vehemently opposed to this map. 84% of North Carolinians are against gerrymandered maps like this. Thousands of public comments also show that North Carolinians don,Äôt want this. Even every person testifying today is testifying against this map. But the sponsor doesn,Äôt care what his constituents want. He doesn,Äôt care what the people of his own state want. And that blatant disregard for his duty to his constituents, his duty to this state and his duty to the constitution is a crystal clear violation of his oath of office,Äîand that must not and cannot go unnoticed. The result? North Carolina will have its most racist map since slavery. A map that defiles the bedrock, fundamental principles of freedom and democracy that comprise our country,Äôs very soul. And this illegal, unconstitutional map, the backroom, closed door process by which it was drawn, and the racist outcomes the map guarantees, all blatantly rob the people of North Carolina of their choice, their chance to participate and the chance for their voice to be heard. And when you couple that with the certain, oppressive legislative and executive action outcomes this map is intended to further, this map is not an act of democracy, it is an act of authoritarianism. And we at Social Change will not stand for it. And we call on all true patriots, all who truly love our country, our democracy, our constitution and love our freedom, in this state and across this country, to rise up and stand in opposition to this map, as well.
10/21/25 4:56 PM	Maryrose Carroll		I live in BeaverDam District and for the first time I can't vote. Senator Hise is a bum,an autocratic, self-serving bum.
10/21/25 4:56 PM	Ms Penny Hooper	Hooper Family Seafood and Sierra Club	Stop the gerrymandering!
10/21/25 4:58 PM	NO TO REDISTRICTING Paola Perez		I vote NO to redistricting NC. Leave NC out of it. We are good just the way we are!
10/21/25 4:59 PM	Disappointed In NorthCarolina		Redrawing congressional districting lines to benefit a party is UNAMERICAN. Embarrassed to live in a state where elected legislators think this is ok. Be Better
10/21/25 5:00 PM	James Grainger		Why don't you divide the state into 14 districts and let who ever wants to run for office, Dem., Rep., or anyone else run for said office. Let the people in that district decide who represents them, be it rep., or dem. Redrawing the districts is the most unAmerican thing, the people aren't deciding, the political party is.
10/21/25 5:03 PM	Diana Levitt		Let it be known that unfair redistricting to benefit any party will not happen without a fight, or at the very least, public outcry. The proposed map would shift District 1, currently held by Democratic Rep. Don Davis, to lean more Republican. It's worth noting that Rep. Davis is one of only three of the state's Black members of Congress. He represents an area with a large Black population. This move dilutes the vote and undermines the will of the people. The GOP is crystal clear with its intentions. Republican Senator Ralph Hise proudly stated for the record, ,ÄúThe motivation behind this new plan is straightforward. The new Congressional map enhances Republican strength in Eastern North Carolina and shifts NC District 1 from a district where President Trump won 51% of the vote in 2024 to 55%.,Äù I strongly encourage you to focus on the genuine work of representing constituents with integrity and fairness. Pass a state budget and address concerns of North Carolinians, like the rising cost of health insurance, funding our schools, helping Helene victims who are STILL hurting, staffing the DMV, or ANYTHING else that might actually help our great state.
10/21/25 5:03 PM	Tasherra McDuffie		Normally redistricting happens every 10 years after a census. NC just had one about a year ago. The way they intend to redraw these, disseminates the black vote and draws several current Dems in office out of their districts. It is not time for another one and they are doing it solely because trump had "ordered" all states to redraw to make it almost impossible for any Dems to retain their seats or gain new ones.
10/21/25 5:06 PM	Linda Brinkley	n/a	Partisan gerrymandering is cheating. Those who engage in cheating usually do it because they know they can't win on their own merits and policies. Please don't redraw districts so you can cheat us out of our choices in elections.
10/21/25 5:07 PM	Tom Markson		GERRYMANDERING is the will of Donald J Trump, NOT the will of the PEOPLE who elected you. DJT did NOT elect you. Quit bowing at the feet of the felon. Pass a budget. Do your job! Leave the maps alone. Phil Berger should be ashamed!!!!
10/21/25 5:08 PM	Dr Sam Pearsall	retired	Please, please, please do not redistrict North Carolina again - yet again! Redistricting our state to give the Republicans an even more unfair advantage than they have now would be reprehensible. Given that disenfranchised Democrats would include many of the state,Äôs African-American citizens, this action would be even more reprehensible. I will absolutely and energetically campaign against any Republican, who votes to redistrict North Carolina yet again for even more partisan advantage!

10/21/25 5:11 PM	Chris Kite	Counties whose populations exceed an average required within margins should have a full district within the county to follow guidelines. If sections of these counties need to be moved to other districts to fit averages within margins, guidelines of being tightly drawn, contiguous, and keeping communities together should be applied to those sections. One party could create compliant sections for the other party. See http://chriswkite.blogspot.com/2025/10/how-to-draw-fair-voting-maps.html?m=1 Analysis for Wake, Mecklenburg, and county groups available on request.
10/21/25 5:13 PM	jorja patten	I don,Äôt believe redistributing is legal especially when you are just play politics
10/21/25 5:13 PM	Ms. JOY YOUNG	I am totally against the gerrymandering tactics of the GOP. Looking at the lines drawn on the new map, it is totally out of bounds with common sense. I support competitive boundaries and think what is being done by supposedly patriotic members of our NC legislature is dreadful. Competitive lines are the most democratic.
10/21/25 5:13 PM	Dr. Michelle Wagner	Dear Committee Members, I am writing to urge you to vote AGAINST the redistricting proposal recently introduced by North Carolina Republicans. This proposal undermines fair representation by allowing partisan interests to manipulate district boundaries for political gain. Instead, I strongly support the creation of independent, nonpartisan commissions to draw district maps. Such commissions would help ensure that ALL North Carolinians,Äîregardless of race, political affiliation, or background,Äîhave an equal voice in our democracy. Fair districts are essential to maintaining public trust and the integrity of our elections. Furthermore, I want to remind you that gerrymandering can have serious unintended consequences. It reduces accountability, fuels greater political polarization by encouraging extremism instead of cooperation, and on the rare occasion even results in a district becoming MORE competitive for the gerrymandering party's preferred candidate. When representatives choose their voters instead of voters choosing their representatives, democracy suffers. Please remember that you represent ALL constituents in your districts, not just those who share your party,Äôs views. I urge you to stand up for fair representation and support a transparent, impartial redistricting process. Sincerely, Michelle Wagner Raleigh, NC
10/21/25 5:18 PM	North Carolina	North Carolina is asking that Republicans stop trying to rig elections in their favor because they know they are about to lose BIGLY in this great state. We will not allow a few of you to violate our country's right to free and fair elections. If you cannot win the election based on your policies maybe it is you that needs redistricting out of politics. In addition, I would like to ask that you pass the state's budget so we can actually get some stuff done around here. I know that ALL the people who live in this state would greatly benefit from this budget being passed. Do the job you were elected to do by the people, not the person in the office. Stand on the right side of history!
10/21/25 5:18 PM	Barbara Yount	We are already in a taxation without representation scenario. If your policies are so popular it would not be necessary to cheat to win. This action is completely undemocratic and not in line with our Constitution's advocacy for free and fair elections. North Carolina's representation is already heavily biased as compared to voter registration and voting patterns. Greensboro is the third largest city in NC and yet we do not have a US Congressional office due the extreme gerrymandering that was done before the election last year. The Republican legislature is already not delivering for North Carolinians. Just look at the inadequate federal Hurricane Helene response and the damage to farmers by the recent tariff policies. We deserve better!!!
10/21/25 5:19 PM	Maryann Finkel	I do NOT want the maps to be redistricted!!! Signed, a Durham Co resident
10/21/25 5:19 PM	Susan Stanley	The people of NC deserve better than what is coming out of state government. Fair voting rights for the people in the state should not be gerrymandered to affect outcomes for the benefit of any political party. In WNC the republicans gerrymandered voting lines that were meant to be rid of Lindsay Prather. It didn,Äôt work. She handily won over the republican candidate. NC citizens will rally again and prevent the loss of any Democratic seats.
10/21/25 5:20 PM	Redistricting district p Laura Lampley	It is highly unethical to redraw congressional district maps at this time in NC. I believe your intent is to unseat Don Davis, a black congressman duly elected in our state by his constituency. What you are doing is against the law, and we all know it. Please reconsider this unlawful action.
10/21/25 5:21 PM	Beth Bertram	Do not draw new districts! This will only further disenfranchise black voters. The constitution gives all citizens the right for their vote to count. Do not redraw the districts!!

10/21/25 5:23 PM	Darleen Tomayko		I would like to urge Rep. Miller to oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina's congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around.
10/21/25 5:24 PM	Ms. Rebecca Strimer		Please do not redistrict our state. I want fair representation. If half the voters in NC are progressive, then half our elected reps should be as well. I want you to represent me with integrity- not spend your time on this power grab. These are the issues I want you working on: passing a state budget, addressing the rising costs of healthcare, fully funding schools, and ensuring the work gets done on disaster relief from Hurricane Helene. Thank you for your attention. Please do the right thing.
10/21/25 5:25 PM	Mrs Elizabeth Brenkus		Elizabeth Brenkus Charlotte, NC (Mecklenburg County) I am writing as a resident of Charlotte North Carolina, because I believe the upcoming redrawing of electoral district lines must adhere to the principles of fairness, transparency, and genuine representation ,Äî and must not be used to further partisan or racial gerrymandering. I urge you to consider the following: 1.Communities should remain intact. Please avoid splitting neighborhoods, towns, or communities of interest merely to give one party an electoral advantage. 2.Use clear, logical boundaries. Where possible, draw districts using existing municipal or county lines, natural geography, and shared community interests ,Äî not by slicing and dicing voters for political gain. 3.Ensure equitable representation. Every voter,Äôs voice should have meaning. When lines are drawn to lock in one party,Äôs power, many citizens are deprived of a genuine choice and their representation is weakened. 4.Be transparent and open. The process must allow for public scrutiny, engagement and input. Maps, data and hearings should be accessible. 5.Reject further gerrymandering. Do not draw the lines so as to guarantee seats for one party or to dilute the voting power of certain communities. Democracy depends on voters choosing their representatives ,Äî not representatives choosing their voters. In short, I ask you to draw maps that reflect fairness, competitiveness, and community integrity ,Äî not maps designed to benefit incumbents or a majority party. Our state,Äôs democracy is stronger when districts are drawn in a way that respects voters, not manipulates them. Thank you for your attention and for your service to the people of North Carolina. Sincerely, Eliza Brenkus
10/21/25 5:28 PM	Mike Burkhart	retired	I'm annoyed by all politicians playing the redistricting game. I knew an employee of a stat legislature who worked in their state capital for 30 years who stated something like this: In my years at the state house I saw a lot of young men and women come into public service with high ideals, and wanting to make life better for the people of the state, and within one year, 90 plus percent of them had been corrupted by the system. That doesn't speak well for any of you. There will be some surprises at the ballot box in the spring primaries and the mid-term elections. Don't want to preach to you, but "repent" might be a good word to think about.
10/21/25 5:33 PM	Keith Edler		I don,Äôt think this is a good idea at this time. Doesn,Äôt seem bipartisan. Tone down the rhetoric.
10/21/25 5:33 PM	Against gerrymandering Mark Kinsey		Gerrymandering is reprehensible. In a democracy, voters choose their representatives, not the other way around. With fair voting maps, the mix of elected officials should roughly match what the full group of voters chose. With fair elections, the state as a whole benefits as more groups gain a voice and share their perspectives in a vibrant dialog of experience and ideas. Please don't gerrymander the state more than it already is. Any changes to the electoral maps should be to make the maps more neutral, as they were prior to 2010. If you're a legislator considering a vote for more-gerrymandered maps, please look at Washington and be realistic about the anti-democratic actions of the White House. Do you really believe that Trump and his assault on democracy is better for your family and friends and neighbors and fellow citizens? We are standing at the door of a very dark era in this country, but it's not too late to turn back.
10/21/25 5:34 PM	REBECCA GENARO		80% of all parties agree on no gerrymandering in NC. The people demand transparency and public input.
10/21/25 5:35 PM	Andrea Johnson	Constituent	,ÄúRacist maps make racist reps,,Äù seems to align here. There is no need to redraw maps. Let the people of North Carolina choose their representation without the manipulation of districts based on a directive from a president who should be impeached.

10/21/25 5:39 PM	Dr. Keeli Gailes	Health for the People	I want to see fairly drawn district maps. I am over gerrymandering in my state. If you need to know what fair means, please reference below: Most fair systems start by defining clear, transparent criteria, typically including: Population equality: Each district must have roughly the same population ("one person, one vote"). Contiguity: All parts of a district must be connected. Compactness: Districts shouldn‚Äôt sprawl unnecessarily ‚Äî often measured mathematically (e.g., Polsby-Popper, Reock, or convex hull measures). Respect for existing boundaries: Keep counties, cities, or communities of interest intact when possible. Minority representation: Comply with the Voting Rights Act and ensure fair opportunities for historically underrepresented groups. [until overturned] Competitiveness and responsiveness: Districts should allow voters to hold representatives accountable and avoid ‚Äúsafe seats.‚Äù
10/21/25 5:40 PM	Candace Gibson		No Unscheduled Partisan redestricting .
10/21/25 5:43 PM	L C		Shame. It‚Äôs past time for non partisan districts. Win for your policies not because you cheated.
10/21/25 5:43 PM	Victoria Malmer		Please vote NO on redistricting. This is a naked power grab by dishonest Republicans. Redistricting should be done once every 10 years, right after the national Census.
10/21/25 5:46 PM	Mr Donald Whitenack		Gerrymandering is cheating. You will be disenfranchising tens of thousands of voters in a 50/50 state.
10/21/25 5:49 PM	Dr James Werling		It is sad you are not able to pass a budget and do your job yet you can gerrymander our state so much you have washed out votes in the entire state. This is not a democratic system. A sad day in NC.
10/21/25 5:50 PM	Danny Crumpton		Stop the gerrymandering. Get elected on merit only. Represent ALL your constituents.
10/21/25 5:50 PM	Mrs Denise Stevens		All my life I have despised cheaters. Cheaters cheat because they can‚Äôt do it on their own. Whether you‚Äôre cheating for you or for a man you‚Äôre too weak to stand up to matters not one bit. I grew up Republican and switched to Independent when the party forgot about right and wrong. After seeing the weaknesses of the Republican Party, I will never change back. Thanks for your part in my disillusionment.
10/21/25 5:53 PM	Jeanne Geraghty		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote No!
10/21/25 5:54 PM	Kaya Eskind		Given that we are roughly equally divided politically as a state, the current 10-4 majority hardly seems like an accurate representation of the constituents of NC. You should be creating maps that favor the people YOU represent, not a map that appeases the current president. Please consider all voters of North Carolina when you draw the district map, and absolutely do not disenfranchise Black and other minority votes!
10/21/25 5:54 PM	Jacqueline Eskew		This is a bad idea and bad for the citizens that elected you.
10/21/25 5:57 PM	Nancy Moxley	LWV	Redistricting at a mid year is totally unacceptable. Doing it for political motives is criminal. Announcing that that is why you are doing it shows total disregard for our system based on laws and expectations. You can say your motives are not racist but it is obvious that the king has no clothes and the lies abound. Don't call yourselves republicans anymore, call yourselves monarchists.
10/21/25 5:57 PM	Ms Sarah Lancaster		This new map does not show any attempt at creating districts. It continues to draw lines to give one group advantage over another. What about the values of the founding fathers?
10/21/25 5:59 PM	Mrs. Eileen Hanson-Kelly		There is only one reason the Republicans are rushing to get mid-decade redistricting done - to add one more Republican seat because President Trump asked them to do it. This is totally undemocratic and further gerrymanders the districts in this state to assure Republican control. We are a purple state. yes, Donald Trump (Republican) won the electoral votes, but Josh Stein (Democrat) won the governorship. Voters should choose their elected officials, not the other way around. This is a mockery of a democratic process. The voters are watching. I urge you to vote this proposal down.
10/21/25 6:00 PM	Ms Barbara Dantonio	Wayne County Democratic Wome	I am that the Legislature would even think about doing such an unfair thing as redistricting because Trump told them to. Really? Would you jump in a lake and could not swim. 80% of North Carolinians are against this Redistricting game you are playing. This will backfire on you in the 2026 Elections. Don Davis is the only Democratic representative we have. All three state representatives are Republican due to gerrymandering and do not represent our values. This is a political ploy to gain more power. The people you represent do not like it. We are the 80% and you are not listening. Shame on you. Vote No to Redistricting and be fair. Wayne County is against this. Pay attention to the people you represent. This is not what we want. Learn to listen to your constituents.

10/21/25 6:01 PM	Ms Stefanie Hill		I vote for Trump to represent the union. I voted for some of you to represent me. My ask is that you listen to YOUR constituents- not to Trump. Your job is to represent the people of NC not follow trump blindly. This is wrong. The golden rule is to do on to others as you would have done to you. It,Äôs to do NOT react. You represent NC for our needs and our needs are not to fix CA. Please represent the needs of NC in your vote.
10/21/25 6:01 PM	Scott williford		I don,Äôt understand why we, as a state are fishing to change voting districts. It feels like it is to disenfranchise boaters and make their vote not count. I realize that there are a lot. Republican and democrat voters in the state, but there are about an equal number of each. It feels like the voice of North Carolinians is being suppressed for the sake of a political party. I may not agree with everyone in my state, but I do believe that their vote and opinion matters.
10/21/25 6:02 PM	Mr. Adam Spinelli	None	Stop trying to steal elections and subvert the will of the people. You obviously understand that Republicans can,Äôt win office on the Trump platform. Your actions are neither popular not ethical. Represent THE PEOPLE! Integrity is worth more than reelection.
10/21/25 6:04 PM	Jenifer Ross		I oppose your effort to change our voting maps to further disenfranchise the people of NC. The audacity of such an anti democracy act is an indication of the lack of respect for the people in North Carolina and their rights. If there is a need to redistrict pleased go back to the 2022 fair maps.
10/21/25 6:04 PM	Greg Hanks		This is gerrymandering, which is wrong. Give up this venal attempt to try to stack the legislature. Win or lose elections fairly, and represent the people.
10/21/25 6:05 PM	Elizabeth Pedersen	Self	Your actions are disingenuous. You do this not for democracy, but for your own self power. And disgusted and I'm a North Carolinian.
10/21/25 6:06 PM	David Mohler		Why are Republicans so afraid of a fair fight? Why are they so scared of upholding democratic values?. Because they know they no longer reflect the will the people. And they know the only way they can hold on to power is to cheat. But politicians are not elected to serve themselves. They are elected to serve the people. It's time to put country before yourself. If you're not going to stand up for the people you need to stand down for the people.
10/21/25 6:07 PM	Mr Geoffrey Lang		I do not agree and oppose any redistricting of any ur election map.
10/21/25 6:08 PM	Sharon Crosby		Any gerrymandering is illegal as well as immoral! If the only way you can win an election is by cheating, you are a sad bunch! Vote against this illegal gerimandering . Do not be pushed by a convicted pedophile felon to stoop to his level
10/21/25 6:09 PM	Patricia McLaughlin		I am writing to register my objections and concerns with the rush to redistricting. Doing this without fair notice is unfair to the vast majority of North Carolinians to object to this legislating by fiat. It is also grossly unfair to those who are being consciously disenfranchised. Thank you for your consideration.
10/21/25 6:09 PM	David Lockney		It is unconscionable to disenfranchise the people of North Carolina through this absurdly gerrymandered map. Our state is close to evenly divided politically, but the Legislature intends to give over three-quarters of our "representation" to one party. The use of quotation marks is intentional, for if this proceeds, we the people of North Carolina will not be properly represented. I'd like to say "For Shame", however I don't think the Legislative leadership is capable of shame. I'm truly disappointed in every legislator who votes for this unethical disenfranchisement of your fellow North Carolinians.
10/21/25 6:10 PM	Mr. Randall Jobski		I am completely against the proposed gerrymandering that is currently being considered in the NC congress! It is my request to reject any attempt to change the NC maps due to this latest attempt to gain as many seats as possible across the nation for the sole purpose of aiding the Republican Party to increase the number of seats they have in the US House of Representatives. This is a blatant and immoral power grab and should cease immediately.
10/21/25 6:10 PM	Map Redistricting Ann Roth		Please leave the maps as they are and focus on driving up a new state budget. Our resources could be used for so many other things than this matter that does not need changing.
10/21/25 6:10 PM	Juliet Holland		The new proposed maps are absolutely deliberate voter suppression and these will be challenged in court like they have been in the past. The NCGA should be spending time trying to pass a budget instead of new voting maps.
10/21/25 6:10 PM	Betsy Adams		God is watching and may He strike you if you vote FOR redistricting! This is an obscene abuse of power.
10/21/25 6:11 PM	Dr. Deavours Hall		"Redistricting" is just a euphemism for getting more white people to vote. Please don't sugarcoat it, and please don't embarrass North Carolina by doing it.
10/21/25 6:11 PM	Mr Robert Schwarz	nc citizen	This is not how democracy is supposed to work. There are more people registered democrat in our state than republican yet the maps have been drawn in a way that takes away our representation. This new redistributing will make it even worse. My country has 78k democrat and 46k republican yet the district has been drawn to not allow us representation. What has been done and what you are trying to do is not the way our forefathers intended and it is threatening our democracy.
10/21/25 6:12 PM	Linda Martin		The people will remember you for what you're doing to this country
10/21/25 6:12 PM	Elections aren,Äôt a game Jennifer McKenney		Elections and representation are not a game. They are vital aspects of our democracy and the principles our country is supposed to stand for. Our maps are our future- you know this well, which is why you are trying to choose our future for us. That isn,Äôt your job. Your job is to represent the people of North Carolina and our interests, not yours. Even if you think you know better than voters, you don,Äôt. We will fight for our maps. We will fight for our future, and we will win because this isn,Äôt a game. This is justice, and God is on the side of the people, not those in power who try to grab it like cowards for their own game. Pick up pickleball and stop playing games with our democracy.

10/21/25 6:12 PM	Mrs EJ Booth		Gerrymandering should be illegal unless it is deemed necessary and voted on by We The People. The GOP in NC have been the worst at allowing this without including Democrats. Now it is being done without any consideration by Democrats. It will disenfranchise black voters and it is,Äîcheating.
10/21/25 6:12 PM	Rev. Victoria Shields	Self	I respectfully request you refrain from making such changes now, and follow the existing timeline for redistricting, to restore public trust in the integrity of the NC Legislature, with government by and for the people of our great state. Thank you.
10/21/25 6:12 PM	kenneth j fleming		Do you think this is fair? It definitely isn,Äôt the right thing.l, and it is always the right time to do the right thing.
10/21/25 6:14 PM	Beatrice Underwood		I don't support the redistricting agenda.
10/21/25 6:14 PM	Reverend Raymond Privott	ENRSP	Vote to oppose and reject this ridiculous map that dilutes black voting strength.
10/21/25 6:14 PM	Olive Hinnant	Resident of North Carolina	Please rethink this grossly unfair action!!! It is the Republican Party that will suffer the most if you do this. What happened to moral behavior?! This is outright cheating and I would prefer our government not operate this way!
10/21/25 6:17 PM	Dr Donna Baird		Have you read Willa Coalfield,Äôs book about racial injustice here in NC in the last century? Here we are again! Stop and think! Please vote against redistrcting!!!
10/21/25 6:22 PM	Victoria Romero		Do not gerrymander our state any more than it already is! What you are doing is wrong and an offense to democracy.
10/21/25 6:23 PM	Patricia Trefethen		As a resident of Chatham County, North Carolina, I am completely against the redrawing of districts that is currently happening in this state. Our state elected officials are manipulating the voting districts for their agenda, which they openly claim is to further the Trump Administration,Äôs agenda, by creating new districts for Republican advantage. This is outrageous on many levels, and further confirms that these Trump policies are not popular with the good people of North Carolina or there would be no need to redraw the district lines for ,Äúan advantage.,Äù I am deeply disappointed in the legislative body at work here in my state and they should be ashamed at the blatant cheat they are perusing in an effort to usurp power to the House by illegal means. I will continue to voice my opposition and encourage all North Carolinians to vote against those who do not represent the people. This is a shameful scam.
10/21/25 6:25 PM	Tiani Hinnant		The redistricting is unconstitutional and will eliminate my ability to receive advocacy by appropriate representatives. This eliminates my voice and the voice of other black voters. This should not be happening and I will not stand by and allow my state to turn into a hub for illegal jerrymandering.
10/21/25 6:27 PM	Ms TERESA TOMSIC		My name is Teresa Tomsic and I live in New Hanover County. Please do not place political advantage at the center of the redistricting process. We need maps that actually reflect the populations and voting patterns of NC.
10/21/25 6:28 PM	Amaya littejohn	None	My friends, I come as a weary witness to injustice. Year after year, we,Äôve watched the lines of our districts redrawn,Äînot to reflect our voices, but to silence them. This isn,Äôt representation. It,Äôs manipulation. And I,Äôll be honest: I,Äôm tired. Tired of seeing our communities split apart. Tired of watching young voters lose faith. Tired of the same party using redistricting as a tool to entrench power instead of empower people. But here,Äôs the truth: weariness does not mean defeat. This is our chance,Äîour only chance,Äîto raise our voices in the state,Äôs one opportunity for voters to respond to these manipulated maps. We must speak. We must show up. We must say, ,ÄòEnough.,Äô Because when we stand together, we redraw more than maps,Äîwe redraw the future. A future where every vote counts, every voice matters.
10/21/25 6:29 PM	Stacey Kolomer		Redistricting disenfranchises voters. It is harmful to the state and its citizens. NC could be a model for the whole country and create a non partisan map through changing the NC constitution. It is time for NC to be leaders.
10/21/25 6:31 PM	Mr John Dickey	Retired	I,Äôm extremely angry about this plan. The continued obeisance of our GA to the Trump plan to subvert our constitutional government by taking voting rights of all but MAGA is destroying our nation. The plan has authoritarian roots and should be thrown away.
10/21/25 6:32 PM	Bad maps Paula A		When you redraw voting maps to specifically influence the results in favor of a candidate- that is not a free and fair election. "The motivation behind this redraw is simple and singular: draw a new map that will bring an additional Republican seat to the Congressional delegation," said Republican Sen. Ralph Hise, who serves as Senate Deputy President Pro Tempore. If you have to gerrymander your way to seats in congress then maybe it,Äôs not actually what the voters want. Reject bad district maps!!
10/21/25 6:34 PM	Beth Smith		You guys dont need to redistrict leave the maps alone.
10/21/25 6:34 PM	Rev Sybil Parks	None	Gerrymandering should be unlawful! I am AGAINST the redistricting plan in the State Senate. Half the states population is disenfranchised by the current gerrymandering! Im not affiliated with any political party. Republicans are tarnishing who they are by these actions!
10/21/25 6:35 PM	Mr Willie McKesson		Please do not approve bad maps that attempt to severely dilute Black voting power in NC .

10/21/25 6:39 PM	Gerrymandering Linda Walker		I cannot begin to express my concern and disappointment in North Carolina local government. To redistrict North Carolina counties in order to favor the Republiican party. It is beyond unfair and unconstitutional. North Carolina stood up on Saturday, October 18 to show the president and all of his clowns working for him that we have had it. We have had it with Republicans being untruthful. We have had it with all your disgraceful, sucking up to this orange asshole in the White House. You know he is a liar. You know that Donald Trump is a cheater. You know that Donald Trump is an immoral man who is a felon he cheats at every return and he does not care about us as Americans. He only cares about himself and the richest one percent. You work for us! And trust me, we are not going anywhere. We are going to run our mouth and we will make sure you will not be elected. Stop cheating. Do what Jesus would want you to do. Be truthful and run fairly and stop trying to redistrict it so Republicans can win. That is disgraceful to our constitution. In Mitt Romney,Äòs book,Ä¶ By the way, he was an outstanding Republican,Ä¶ He said that Republicans are not afraid of Democrats. They are afraid of Maga and they are afraid of Donald Trump. Why don,Äôt you all start standing up to this man And tell him that you will not be disloyal that you will be honest men and women working for the American people and not for dictators such as Vladimir Putin. We aren,Äôt going anywhere. We will keep fighting for our humanity. We will keep fighting for our democracy. So do what,Äôs right! We have had it! We have had it with this loyalty. Jesus is watching you Jesus is watching you all! Remember that Jesus is watching you all. Stop being crooked liars and cheaters. I don,Äôt know how a lot of you can even sleep at night.
10/21/25 6:39 PM	William Tyre		I reject and oppose senate bill 249!
10/21/25 6:40 PM	Ms Gauri Patel		Please be fair and have a true, unbiased representation of the population
10/21/25 6:40 PM	Rami Bachhuber		I am NOT in agreement on the proposed Congressional district plan. History is watching.
10/21/25 6:41 PM	Kasey Marshall		This is unfair and is not what NC wants!!
10/21/25 6:41 PM	ms Chris Chato		Do NOT further gerrymander our state by redistricting!!! The maps are bad enough as is. Get back to working on things that would really help North Carolinian, like undoing all the damage Trump's horrible bill created.
10/21/25 6:43 PM	Jerry Dylan Jones		Gerrymandering for your daddy trump is not good.
10/21/25 6:45 PM	Rev. Tyler Ung		This redistricting map is an injustice to North Carolinians and actively takes power and autonomy away from citizens. I implore our representatives to represent your constituents well and reject this unjust legislation.
10/21/25 6:45 PM	Lisa Smith		Absolutely not. Everyone needs to stop with this. We have the capability to draw fair maps using a bi-partisan commission and AI and we should do that. Either side rigging the system is not good for America. Voters need to choose their politician not the other way around. So much of this is just further dividing the people and eventually they will turn on congress as a whole because they are not doing the work of the people. They are doing the work of the president - his asks, NOT WE THE PEOPLE!
10/21/25 6:47 PM	District 1 map redraw ann may	N.C. citizen	I oppose redistricting the state congressional map to give a political party an advantage. Please leave congressional district 1 as it currently stands.
10/21/25 6:52 PM	Debbie Creemers		Can,Äôt win without cheating, can you? What goes around comes around, and at some point you will regret ignoring half the electorate.
10/21/25 6:52 PM	Please do not vote for Barbara Culbertson		Please do not vote for changing the districts in ways that disenfranchise black voters thank you.
10/21/25 6:53 PM	Rachel Wood		Stop cheating. Keep it fair. What one side does to the other here can be done in reverse in other states to combat it.
10/21/25 6:54 PM	Ms Elizabeth Andrews	University women in Faith	It is sinful to rig the districts so that black People have no chance of being represented. I am white but I believe in justice for all!
10/21/25 6:55 PM	Stop cheating John Grey		Stop cheating! If this body keeps stealing and abusing powerless people prepare for a bloody, dark, terror.
10/21/25 6:57 PM	J Hall		Changing the district lines is very shorted sited. It may give Republicans a quick win now but it will set a precedent for future politicians to do the same in our state. The key democrat metropolitan areas in our state will only continue to grow and there will come a point where that growth will start to out pace republican areas. By changing district lines today, you will ultimately be giving them the power to strip republicans of their vote in the future. Be strategic about this.
10/21/25 7:01 PM	Unethical Gerrymandering J Werner		As a Davidson constituent, I am well aware of how racial and partisan gerrymandering dilute votes. How about vetting candidates interested in legislating, preparing and passing thoughtful budgets, supporting fair districts, preserving healthcare, due process, voting rights and serving the people for a change.
10/21/25 7:01 PM	NO TO 11-3 REDISTRICTING Jennifer Pomales		North Carolina elected an evenly split 7-7 congressional delegation as recently as 2022. That changed after the new GOP-majority North Carolina Supreme Court legalized partisan gerrymandering in 2023. The delegation is now 10-4. Under the proposed GOP map, it could be 11-3 in 2026. THIS IS BEYOND SHAMEFUL!!!!! IT SHOULD BE 7-7!!!
10/21/25 7:02 PM	Ninian Beall		Everyone should have equal power at the polls.
10/21/25 7:03 PM	Christian Hardin		Blatant disregard of the beliefs and representation of constituents. Gerrymandering at its finest. Can't pass a budget in three months but able to churn out corrupted decisions that overturn the very definition of democracy in no time.
10/21/25 7:04 PM	Sir Brayndon Stafford		In a time where it is important to make sure all North Carolinians are fairly represented, these maps do not. People's livelihoods are at stake, and this is not a fair effort to adequately and equally represent our residents. I am requesting an unfavorable vote of all representatives on this map and am urging our legislators, especially those who are promoting these unfair maps, do the right thing by the people of this state and vote no on this.
10/21/25 7:05 PM	Amy Whaling		Please reject proposed 2025 maps. This redistricting is racially-motivated, illegal, unethical, and not at all what NC voters want. VOTE NO!

10/21/25 7:07 PM	Stacy Newton	Again. This is cheating. The people have the right to vote for whomever they so choose and their vote needs to be counted and accepted. Do NOT redistrict. The No Kings rally definitely let people know that we don,Äôt support what,Äôs going on politically. This is redistricting plan is unacceptable.
10/21/25 7:08 PM	Mr Daniel Moore	A September 2025 survey of North Carolina voters conducted by a Republican polling firm found 84% of NC voters oppose gerrymandering under any circumstances, including 78% of Republicans.
10/21/25 7:10 PM	Christopher Callahan	Stop ruining our democracy! YOU have NO shame! Why can't you win fairly? Ask yourselves that when you go to bed at night.
10/21/25 7:11 PM	Marilyn Ridgeway	Are we becoming Russia where elections are for performance only? This is exactly Project 2025 ! We no longer have elections with one oarty in control. I hear conservatives yell about communism where it is the communist party way or no way. That is exactly what the NC Senators are offering us. We do not buy it. We di not bow to dictators nir di we want to be Russia or China.
10/21/25 7:11 PM	Ms Colleen Borst	I am COMPLETELY OPPOSED to the redistricting plan! It is unfair, corrupt, and unAmerican!
10/21/25 7:11 PM	Mrs. Payal Soni-Patel	Please be fair, unbiased and a true representation of the population in NC.
10/21/25 7:12 PM	Ms Julie Fullerton	I am opposed to midterm dedistricting that the president requested from Republican legislatures and governors. This is one more way to undermine our democracy. Skewing maps mid cycle or any time undermines the will of the people and fair elections.
10/21/25 7:13 PM	Jennifer Weaver-Spencer	This does not fairly represent the people of North Carolina. A nonpartisan body should be determining districts to keep maps fair and ensure that every North Carolinian gets his or her voice represented.
10/21/25 7:14 PM	Rachel Whisnant	I do not agree with politically motivated congressional map drawing aka gerrymandering. And the insult to the injury is you, our elected officials, did this at the behest of a sitting president and prior to doing your actual jobs, for example, passing a budget for the state. Shame on those that called for that voted for and supported this effort. The people of NC deserve better.
10/21/25 7:16 PM	Alexa Langley	This map is absolutely unacceptable and you all know it. Republicans are the minority in this state and they should be represented as such. Instead of drawing another new map to continue to steal from the people of North Carolina, how about you pass a budget, including raises to account for inflation, and start actually paying people other than yourself a living wage.
10/21/25 7:16 PM	Dr. Roxane Javid	I am totally against this obvious political gerrymandering especially since those who live in these districts have had no say, no vote, and neither do those in other districts in N. Carolina--you could have made it part of the election coming up in two weeks. . We are historically a purple state with equal representation of both parties in the House of Representatives--- that is until the first partisan gerrymandering was done after 2022 midterms where the legislature gerrymandered away 3 democrats who likely would have won reelection. That was bad enough. But this is egregious. The purple nature of our state is also reflected in Democrats winning both the Governors race after the term limited democratic governor was replaced by our current democrat Governor and we also have a democrat AG now as well. Just because this president tells you to redistrict the state during an off year because he is afraid of the house turning democrat at midterms, , you proceed without letting the public vote on this proposal. And now you are disenfranchising a district (which is voter suppression in my opinion). . I am an Independent unaffiliated voter who votes both sides of the aisle. I want our elections to be free, fair and unsuppressed. By denying specifically African Americans from having representation in Congress by cherry picking district one and then splitting it into one democrat voting block becoming part of the Durham district and another becoming part of rural republican more rural areas is purely political and very shameful. Democrats lose one seat and many of us here lose our respect in you as a state legislative body. Do you really have to succumb to dirty tricks to win? If so that tells us all we need to know. Would you have done this off season if the current president had not asked you to do so? Do you represent we the people of NC or do you represent this president? You should be representing us but if you go through with this blatant political gerrymandering OFF SEASON you are not representing us at all.
10/21/25 7:16 PM	Sarah Pence	I oppose these manipulated maps and I urge you to as well. These maps further gerrymander our state,Äôs voting districts and it is shameful that they are getting pushed through. This is a hit on our democracy- please do not let these redistricting maps take effect.
10/21/25 7:17 PM	Christopher Brooks	North Carolina is one of the most evenly split states in the nation. Registered Democrats outnumber registered Republicans, and the most recent election shows that Independent voters are not a monolithic block. President Trump garnered roughly 180,000 more votes than former Vice President Harris, yet Governor Stein defeated Mark Robinson by more than 700,000 votes. The fact is that our current congressional delegation is already flagrantly partisan- 10 Republicans to 4 Democrats does NOT reflect the ideology or will of the states,Äô voters. Any lawmaker who chooses to engage in the further disenfranchisement of roughly half the state,Äôs voters at the behest of a man who uses the government to enrich himself, baselessly prosecute his perceived enemies, and find it appropriate to post videos of him defecating on his constituents should do everyone a favor and resign. You are failing to uphold the documents you swore to adhere to. This blatant gerrymander CANNOT be allowed to pass.
10/21/25 7:17 PM	Johanna Rackley	Redistricting our state is a terrible idea. If you want to win elections, have a platform that people want to vote for instead of "fixing the vote" Our state is purple, not red or blue. How about working for the people, not special interest.

10/21/25 7:17 PM	Miss La Portia Johnson		I am disagreeing for the discrimination and redlining of the democratic votes it,Äôs not for nor equal it,Äôs saying to the democrats our votes don,Äôt matter and will not count. My vote matters and should be as equal as a republican let,Äôs respect everyone and county every vote as equal not one less than the other please hear and do not change the law.
10/21/25 7:19 PM	ms Judith Baker		I stand against redistricting in NC out of thr normal schedule. It's gerrymandering to limit equal voting rights and opportunities
10/21/25 7:23 PM	Tara Brown		I ask you to reject any mid-decade redrawing of North Carolina,Äôs congressional maps. Our state has endured too many cycles of maps designed for partisan advantage rather than public good. Each time that happens, confidence in our democracy erodes a little more. Redistricting should be about fair representation,Äînot about preserving political power. When district lines are manipulated, voters lose their voice, communities lose their cohesion, and accountability to the people is replaced by loyalty to party interests. We know this is not what North Carolinians want. A large majority,Äî76% of voters,Äîbelieve it should be illegal to draw maps that discriminate based on political affiliation. That includes 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters. Fair representation is one of the few things that unites us across party lines. True leadership means putting principle before politics. It means respecting the constitutional promise that every vote carries equal weight, whether it,Äôs cast in Asheville or in Wilmington. Manipulating maps to lock in advantage may serve short-term interests, but it does long-term damage to our democracy. North Carolinians deserve districts that reflect real communities, not political calculations. I urge you to uphold the integrity of our elections and resist any attempt at mid-decade redistricting that further distorts the will of the people. Thank you for your time and for your duty to represent all North Carolinians fairly.
10/21/25 7:25 PM	Kathleen Jones		The ripping apart of CD1 is a blatant act of gerrymandering and a blatant act of racism. Republicans have long relied on gerrymandering to win elections they can't win fair and square, and this redistricting proposal is only the latest in a long line of egregious attacks on NC citizens' right to fair elections.
10/21/25 7:26 PM	CAROLE HASKELL		Vote NO to redistricting midterm
10/21/25 7:29 PM	Brenda Hipp		Leave the districts as they are-- without the new one so huge and as stated done to bow to the wishes of the president instead of we voters in the state.
10/21/25 7:29 PM	Perrin de Jong	N/A	Booooooo

10/21/25 7:35 PM	Lisa Hoskins		I am writing to express my deep concern about the plan to create new districts just before an election. This is an abuse of power. Having districts drawn to ensure predetermined outcomes is undemocratic and should not be permitted. It destabilizes elections. Constantly changing district lines creates confusion, suppresses participation, and wastes taxpayer dollars. It weakens democracy. When maps are drawn to entrench one party,Äôs power, voters lose confidence in the fairness of the system ,Äî and many stop believing their vote matters at all. I stand firmly opposed to these manipulative tactics.
10/21/25 7:36 PM	Paul Offen		I do not support this partisan gerrymander redistricting as it affects the fairness of elections (even most Republicans in NC do not support gerrymandering), and the NCGA should be dealing with problems North Carolinians are having instead of being divisive,
10/21/25 7:36 PM	Mr Benjamin Many		Please don,Äôt redistrict. Please fund our schools.
10/21/25 7:38 PM	Deborah Moose		I strongly oppose this redistricting, which is intended to dilute the power of Black voters and does not serve the people of North Carolina. Partisan redistricting for solely political reasons, which this is, is wrong no matter which party does it. I support fair maps!
10/21/25 7:39 PM	Susan Moseley		I am strongly opposed to redistricting! Unfair maps disenfranchise voters and lead to long-lasting political problems. Drawing districts to strongly favor one party leads to severe polarization, legislative gridlock, and a weaker Congress. Please listen to your constituents!!!!!
10/21/25 7:39 PM	LORIE WYLIE	private citizen	Gerrymandering is cheating when the motivation is purely partisan. Stop it. As the Republicans continue to be the Trumplican party, they deservedly lose votes, including mine. Is this why you're gerrymandering? Because the GOP is losing votes? Win your seats fair and square. Serve the people instead of yourselves, please!
10/21/25 7:41 PM	JoAnn Lanzi		Against this redistricting.
10/21/25 7:42 PM	Ms. Leila Daly		Us voters should be able to pick OUR representatives. Not the other way around. It is already so skewed. STOP rigging OUR election.
10/21/25 7:43 PM	Ms. Diann Irwin	none - citizen	I am deeply concerned about the redistricting that is going on in North Carolina for the sole purpose of changing one seat from being mainly a Democratic party seat to a Republican party seat at Trump's request. This area has one of the largest concentrations of African Americans in North Carolina and they will lose the chance to have someone who represents them from their district.
10/21/25 7:45 PM	Martha Endicott		I urge you to recognize that the redistricting is not what your constituants want and will hurt you in future elections if you continue with this course. Please do what you were elected for an stop bowing to tyranny.
10/21/25 7:46 PM	Emily Bango		I strongly disagree with this redistricting plan. Please do not pass this. It will result in further voter disenfranchisement.
10/21/25 7:48 PM	Sarah Oram		It is unbelievable that the NC Republican party is choosing to undermine democracy in NC by following the suggestion of our President, a felon, to add another Congressional district to benefit their party alone and to divide African American voters from their right to a potent political voice. Another democratic death knoll for this once honorable state and for this country. Shame on the NC Republican Party and the Trump Administration.
10/21/25 7:50 PM	Jacinda Stetson		You have made North Carolina the epitome of rascism, and I feel shame and embarassment for what has become of my beloved state. But then I remind myself: YOU are the shame. YOU are the embarassment. YOU are the rascists. And I stand with my fellow North Caroliians who want all voices to be heard (even those with whom we disagree) because DEMOCRACY WILL PREVAIL!
10/21/25 7:52 PM	Gerrymander Tony Campbell		These maps are despicable. They should be more representative of the population and drawn by an impartial third party.
10/21/25 7:54 PM	Lloyd Kramer		I'm writing to express my strongest possible opposition to the Republican redistricting plan for our state's congressional districts. In a state that is equally divided between Democrats and Republicans, the Republicans are using extreme gerrymandering to destroy fair political representation. In adopting this redistricting, the legislature is following the game plan of authoritarian regimes in other countries--which set up rigged election outcomes to sustain their power. This is a dangerous political intervention which will further weaken democratic participation and voting rights in our state. This is not how democracy works; this is how one-party regimes consolidate their power. Our ancestors fought to establish a democratic society and a government that would be more responsive to all people in our state and nation. The NC state legislature is going against our nation's historical progress toward democracy and our 18th-century Declaration of Independence by enacting strategies to support a would-be 21st-century "king."
10/21/25 7:56 PM	Ryan Haines		I absolutely disagree with the current redistricting maps being advanced by the North Carolina Legislature. These maps discredit our democracy and insult the intelligence of North Carolinians who expect fair representation, not partisan manipulation. Doing this at the behest of the President ,Äî as if following orders from a single political figure ,Äî treats him like a dictator rather than an elected leader accountable to the people. Lawmakers are supposed to serve their constituents, not bow down to political power. This kind of behavior erodes public trust and undermines the very foundation of our democratic system.
10/21/25 7:58 PM	Mrs Elizabeth Hasty		Republicans are pushing their luck. Voters are not gonna stand for this. Its just plain wrong. They can't win any other way. They have to cheat.
10/21/25 8:04 PM	Woodrow Barlow		The level of gerrymandering in the new congressional district map is disgusting. It is horrifying to see our leaders change the rules to erase our votes. Phil Berger, you should be ashamed of your greed for power.

10/21/25 8:05 PM	Wayne Anderson	Retired	I am against the gerrymander being voted on to split up the NC1 congressional district so that Republicans can claim one more safe U.S. House seat. Redistricting should occur only once a decade, and it has already occurred. The proposed gerrymander disenfranchises African American voters in NC1 and lessens their ability to be heard.
10/21/25 8:07 PM	Daniel Levin		North Carolina elected an evenly split 7-7 congressional delegation as recently as 2022. That changed after the new GOP-majority North Carolina Supreme Court legalized partisan gerrymandering in 2023. The delegation is now 10-4. Under the proposed GOP map, it could be 11-3 in 2026. THIS IS BEYOND SHAMEFUL!!!!! IT SHOULD BE 7-7!!!
10/21/25 8:07 PM	Mr. Jamie Wildgoose		As a North Carolina resident who supports fair voting maps and who already lives in a gerrymandered congressional district, I ask that you refrain from introducing any mid-decade redistricting in 2025 that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Our state is accustomed to you gerrymandering our districts. We are also tired of it. A September 2025 survey of North Carolina voters conducted by a Republican polling firm found 84% of NC voters oppose gerrymandering under any circumstances, including 78% of Republicans. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, you took an oath to carefully guard the People‚Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Just because you think you can redraw North Carolinians‚Äô congressional voting maps to manipulate the upcoming 2026 elections, doesn‚Äôt mean you should. I certainly cannot support a candidate who would.
10/21/25 8:08 PM	Anna Green		Focus on what‚Äôs most important‚Äîpassing a budget to help NC citizens. Redistricting shouldn‚Äôt be a priority. Do your job! People are suffering at your expense.
10/21/25 8:08 PM	Mrs. Susan Scheffler	retired	It is disgraceful your attempt to gerrymander Congressional District 1. We elected the NC Legislature to represent the people of our fair state not the politicians. If I were African American, I would say once again that enslavement is rampant in our state. So disappointed in our legislature.
10/21/25 8:09 PM	Sara Freeman		Quit gerrymandering our State! North Carolinians should choose our representatives, not the other way around. What is being proposed is undemocratic.
10/21/25 8:13 PM	No Gerrymandering in NC Megan Kopti		I am beyond concerned that our districts are being gerrymandered in order to silence political dissent. Please protect our ability to cast votes in NC
10/21/25 8:13 PM	Ms. Stacey Hobart		Will it matter if I provide a comment? Probably not, but I do feel compelled to say just how shady this redistricting is. It takes away the rights of voters and spotlights how corrupt the GOP has become in that it will do anything to maintain power. The way you have prioritized gerrymandering over passing a state budget is shameful.
10/21/25 8:15 PM	Joel Bizzell		Gerrymandering is dirty pool, and independent voters are watching. Watching cowardly republicans fold for fascists who starve Americans and further enrich billionaire. STOP CHEATING FOR THAT USELESS CUNT TRUMP.
10/21/25 8:19 PM	Dr. KL KNOCH		What a shameful power grab by state senator Berger and the legislature. North Carolinians should be fairly represented with legitimate maps and districts that reflect the will of the people. But clearly that is what this disgusting move is trying to stifle.

10/21/25 8:20 PM	Michael Ferguson	The North Carolina General Assembly,Äôs proposal to redraw congressional districts outside the decennial census process represents a modern form of gerrymandering,Äîthe deliberate manipulation of electoral boundaries for partisan benefit. The state constitution authorizes redistricting following the return of each decennial census. It does not grant perpetual authority to redraw maps for political convenience. Redistricting should be based on population changes and constitutional duty, not political opportunity. Repeated redrawing of congressional lines erodes the stability essential to representative democracy. Voters lose continuity in who represents them. Communities are divided. Public confidence in the electoral system declines. When lines are continually redrawn to favor one party, elections become contests of geography rather than ideas. This practice undermines the foundational democratic principle of ‚Äúone person, one vote.‚Äù It replaces accountability with manipulation, disenfranchising voters who find themselves in new districts crafted not for representation but for control. For these reasons, any effort to alter congressional districts mid-cycle,Äîwithout a new census or court mandate,Äîshould be recognized for what it is: gerrymandering in violation of both the spirit of the North Carolina Constitution and the trust of its people.
10/21/25 8:22 PM	Michelle Reid	Oppose the new redistricting plan . Do not abuse power and not allow real representation of all North Carolinians . I urge you to vote NO !!!!!
10/21/25 8:23 PM	Against the redrawing of Paige Pluska	Don‚Äôt silence voters.
10/21/25 8:26 PM	Mr. Jonathan King	To the Honorable Members of the North Carolina General Assembly: Subject: Public Comment in Strong Opposition to Proposed Congressional Redistricting and Legislative Priorities I am writing today to express my strongest condemnation of the General Assembly's current effort to pass a new, mid-decade congressional redistricting plan. This move is a brazen act of partisan gerrymandering that places political power above the will of the people. This new map has been publicly and explicitly designed for one purpose: to secure an 11-4 partisan advantage by targeting and flipping a competitive congressional district. This is not just cynical politics; it is a direct and calculated attack on North Carolina's Black voters. The plan intentionally dilutes the voting power of the historically significant "Black Belt" communities in northeastern North Carolina, a region that has successfully elected a Black representative for over three decades. To dismantle this district for partisan gain is an affront to the Voting Rights Act and the principle of fair representation. This entire process has been rushed and secretive, continuing a disturbing trend of reducing public transparency. The legislature has weakened open records laws related to redistricting, ensuring these maps are drawn behind closed doors with minimal, bad-faith opportunities for public input. What makes this partisan power-grab most egregious is its timing. While the legislature fast-tracks these anti-democratic maps, it has shamefully failed in its most fundamental duty: to pass a timely, comprehensive, and fiscally responsible state budget. As of late October, North Carolina is one of only two states in the nation without a full budget for the fiscal year that began on July 1. This is a profound abdication of responsibility. Critical needs go unfunded, our schools and teachers await certainty, and vital Medicaid funding remains in limbo, all while you prioritize rigging elections for the next cycle.This legislature's message to the people of North Carolina is clear: Your constituents needs are less important than entrenching a political party's power. I demand that you reject these discriminatory and anti-democratic maps. Stop prioritizing partisan gamesmanship and fulfill your actual obligation to the people of this state: Pass a sound, responsible budget that invests in our communities, funds our schools, and ensures the well-being of all North Carolinians. Sincerely, Jonathan Robert King
10/21/25 8:26 PM	Shawna Barlette	Bending the knee eh? You don't have to. Just stop it already. All of us are losing, including republicans. Vote no.
10/21/25 8:29 PM	carol greenspan	drawing district lines in ways not geographically situated is a blatant form of voter suppression by making unfair decisions

10/21/25 8:30 PM	Mr. Ken Patridge		My name is Ken Patridge, and I am a proud African-American citizen and resident of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. I am writing to express my vehement and unequivocal opposition to the recently released mid-decade congressional map proposals. The rushed, quiet process,Äîimplemented with virtually no public input or meaningful debate,Äîis a profound disservice to the principles of representative democracy and a clear attempt to subvert the will of North Carolina voters. My strongest objection is to the proposed dismantling of Congressional District 1 (CD1), the state's only majority-Black opportunity district. This district was created, and its existence is vital, to ensure that the significant, historic, and concentrated Black population in the northeastern part of our state has a fair and equal chance to elect a candidate of its choice, as required by the spirit and letter of the Voting Rights Act. The proposed map would dilute the voting power of Black North Carolinians by tearing apart this district, achieving a purely partisan advantage at the direct expense of minority representation. This is not simply a political move; it is a direct assault on the fundamental rights of African-American citizens to have a voice in their own government. It is unacceptable that in a state as politically diverse and nearly evenly divided as North Carolina, a handful of partisan leaders could engineer a map that aims to secure nearly 80 percent of the state,Äôs congressional seats before a single vote is cast. This kind of extreme gerrymandering erodes public faith in the electoral process, makes our representatives less accountable, and stifles the meaningful competition that should be the hallmark of a healthy democracy. I urge you to halt this mid-decade redistricting effort immediately and reject the proposed map. This is not the time for political gamesmanship designed to protect power. This is the time to prioritize fairness, transparency, and the constitutional rights of all citizens, especially those who have historically been disenfranchised. I demand a return to an open process that respects communities of interest and complies with all legal and ethical standards for fair representation.
10/21/25 8:33 PM	Ms. Kathryn Reis		Stop the redistricting of North Carolina for political purposes. Do NOT adopt the plan up for discussion that would make it harder for a black man or woman to win a seat in the county mix that they currently represent. Do NOT change congressional districts because you (republicans) fear you will lose control of the legislature. What you MUST do is make sure that all congressional districts represent an equal number of residents, with ZERO preference to race/ethnicity, economic status, party affiliation, religious beliefs or any other factor that favors one group of people over another. County lines, municipal lines are fixed and pay no heed to who lives within their boundaries. Congressional districts should exist in the same manner.
10/21/25 8:35 PM	Mrs. Katy Lipkus		It is deeply disturbing that the state legislature is considering such a serious matter because of a request from a national leader. NC has long been a proud and independent state. NC has championed the rights and responsibilities of its citizens. Now the partisan players seem prepared to roll over us. Is this really leadership? Is this the example to set for those who will walk behind. In the future. Our state deserves the ability to fairly elect its officials. NC should not have gerrymandered results. Where is the courage of our convictions to free and fair elections? Lead do not follow this dangerous path.
10/21/25 8:36 PM	Greg Stewart		Statewide elections in North Carolina are almost always very close with a roughly 50/50 vote for offices like Governor, Senators, Council-of-State, and Judges. Our congressional representation should be equally split as well. Anything else underrepresents Democrats in Congress. Republicans should end this theft of NC 01!
10/21/25 8:37 PM	Ms. Cathy Scott	citizen of North Carolina	No monkeying with districts to disenfranchise specific and identifiable groups of people! Maps should be done by independent commissions, not by partisan committees! That applies to Republicans and Democrats alike. Leave Congressional District 1 alone!!
10/21/25 8:38 PM	Bettie Ellis		Doing this doesn't make any sense, make it make sense to me! Why, all of a sudden there's a problem with a fair and free election? What makes anyone who cheat to win, think they're a real winner? Why are we following behind Texas doing dumb mess!? What happened to Democracy and the Constitution?
10/21/25 8:39 PM	Katie Leiva		NC is already gerrymandered to the hilt. If GOP is so afraid of losing seats in Congress, then perhaps they should be more interested in serving North Carolinians instead of themselves or the president (who is only interested in his own power). I am vehemently opposed to the redistricting of NC unless there is nonpartisan oversight in the process.
10/21/25 8:41 PM	Courtney DiFruscio		I am so disappointed in my NC leadership that the most important thing to you is the maintenance of power for a person that not only does not care about the citizens of my state, but is freely manipulating government, you elected representatives included, to serve his own needs and agenda, NOT an agenda or needs for the county he supposedly represents. I expect better from the people i elected to hold office in this state

10/21/25 8:41 PM	Mrs Mary Boyce		Republicans did not ask for input from the voters because the voters would have said no. Instead, republicans are going it alone with no regard to the voters.
10/21/25 8:43 PM	Wendy Bivens	Self	I,Äôm disappointed my state would not want a fair fight for political seats. Moral conscience is totally lost in NC. Gerrymandering is WRONG!
10/21/25 8:44 PM	Mrs/ Tamara Lewis	Citizen	I deplore the redistricting efforts that are skewing the district lines. Shame on all who are putting party over the good (and the rights) of ALL North Carolinians to be represented. Is this how they taught you democracy works when you were in school? Is this what we should be teaching our children is the way our great state treats its citizens? We do it because we can get away with it? Do you even know what the motto of North Carolina is? To be rather than to seem. This legislation is not fair (and I don't even think it's legal.) We seem to be kowtowing to the will of one party-and one person. We need to BE representing all the citizens of our state.
10/21/25 8:44 PM	Kate Murray	Duke University	I feel that the proposed redistricting maps are deeply unfair and do not reflect the political makeup of our state. They are designed to give Republicans control of nearly 80 percent of the state,Äôs Congressional delegation in a purple state, which does not reflect the number of liberal voters in NC.
10/21/25 8:48 PM	MARGARET DOLBOW	retired teacher	We are looking at the destruction of our country by daily cuts to the rule of law and decency. Redistricting to limit fair representation of voters is one big method of ensuring these atrocities continue. We are destroying the constitution bit by bit. If the Supreme Court gives trump a green light to declare emergencies and order federal troops into cities, we are looking at voting in their presence, allowing the seizure of voting machines and total undermining of the voting process. It is our duty to stop this.
10/21/25 8:49 PM	Peter Barr		I am against redistricting. My voice deserves to be represented, people who believe differently deserve to be represented. You should win on the strength of your plans not because of how you grouped the voters.
10/21/25 8:49 PM	Teresa Sowinski		Please don,Äôt redraw districts to favor republicans more. This should be illegal. Our elected officials are not really representing the people in our state.
10/21/25 8:49 PM	Dr DENISE FINCK-ROTHMAN		I would like the NCGA to stop wasting time on redistricting issues and focus on finishing the very late state budget to cover the shortfalls in health insurance so that rural hospitals and rural residents can survive the fallout from the Big Beautiful Bill passed by Congress. I have a patient who is desperately waiting for the state budget so that there is funding for the Central Piedmont Community College to hire him to do additional tutoring. He is in need of the extra work so he can pay his bills. Please stop giving my hard earned tax money to rich people in the form of tax cuts, money they don't need for private schools, and to non-medical anti-abortion clinics which can not diagnose real medical problems and may miss diagnoses such as ectopic pregnancies (which can kill women and girls). Please complete the budget and give raises to educators and other state employees that have gone months without pay increases while health care premiums and the cost of living have risen.
10/21/25 8:51 PM	Ms Mary Cullen	Democracy Out Loud	I am opposed to this proposed redistricting plan. It is a blatant effort to further deny N.C. citizens of the right to vote for the candidate that best represents them.
10/21/25 8:56 PM	Jenny Dissen		Concerns about the redistricting!!
10/21/25 8:56 PM	Dr Stacey Olney		Partisan redistricting leads to more extreme representation and government gridlock. It disenfranchises constituents.
10/21/25 9:00 PM	Mrs Linda Juric	None	Don,Äôt eliminate it!!!!!

10/21/25 9:00 PM	Congressional Map Concern Avram Davis		My desire is that you find this message not as an attack against one party, or for another, but to raise concern for democracy in our state. I am troubled that new congressional maps are being submitted already. My understanding is that new maps are typically drawn after the census. It seems highly suspicious that these maps are not intended for fair representation of North Carolinians, but rather a power grab to appease national political figures. Is North Carolina trying to get caught up in the dysfunctional partisan politics that currently plagues Texas, California, and Missouri? I have prided myself in being a North Carolinian where we have treasured our purple roots, recognized our political diversity, and did our best to have all North Carolinians fairly represented. I ask that we not move forward with such audacious matters. It is highly suspicious that North Carolina has roughly 1/3 of its population registered as Democrats, 1/3 registered as Republicans, and 1/3 registered as Independent; yet 10 of 14 representatives are Republican. Do we really want North Carolina to participate in wanton gerrymandering? However, if new maps must be generated, is there a reason why the citizens of this state, whom the General Assembly represents, is not able to weigh in on these matters? I ask that the General Assembly strongly reconsider such maps and decline to move forward. I urge the General Assembly to take seriously it's duty to represent all North Carolinians, even those who are not of the same political party. However, if new maps must be generated, please consider input from the general population. Let North Carolina be an example to other states and this nation that citizens of various political parties, religions, ethnicities, and zip codes can work together for a cohesive state and union. Thank you for considering my statement.
10/21/25 9:00 PM	Lisa Sullivan		The Republican Party in North Carolina should be ashamed of their continued partisan gerrymandering. NC is a 50/50 state and republicans,Äô efforts to disenfranchise voters and in particular black and brown voters is a disgrace. It is the voter who chooses the representative not the representative that chooses the voter. The Republican Party is behaving in a wholly undemocratic way and knows it and doesn,Äôt care at all about the principles this country was founded upon. Elected officials should remember the oath they take rather than selfishly attempt to gather power for themselves. What a cowardly move to redistrict our state rather than face the voters. If a fair map were created republicans in NC would be handed their walking papers and you know it. Have a spine and courage. You take leadership roles but are no leaders. Leaders show morality, humility, ethics and courage. Qualities that have long since be shed by republicans. Shame on you all.
10/21/25 9:02 PM	Ms Marianne Bouvier		Wow this is an actual stop the steal moment.
10/21/25 9:03 PM	Ms. Sarah Miller	NC citizen	Your plan isn't "redistricting " - its gerrymandering. Plain and simple. You're stealing people's right to vote their candidates of choice. And youre happy to do it. I vehemently oppose this redistricting. The "Grand Old Party" is plain chicken to try to earn my vote with policies and practices that are good for ALL NC citizens. Wish you'd pass a budget for education with the same speed and vigor that youre trying to ramrod this gerrymandering. Maybe then you'd earn a teacher's vote.
10/21/25 9:04 PM	Ms. Loren Radford		Vote no for redistricting. North Carolina needs to be fairly represented.
10/21/25 9:05 PM	Kelly Garcia		Absolutely no redrawing if districts. Do you jobs and follow our laws and do right by your constituents.
10/21/25 9:08 PM	Charlie Froelich		Gerrymandering is a scheme! It,Äôs wrong to manipulate districts in order to win elections! We will still eventually control the legislature! Pass the damn budget!
10/21/25 9:08 PM	Dr Elizabeth Campbell	Retired	The blatant power grab by the Republicans of N.C. to effectively unseat the representative from the 1st District (anchored in northeastern North Carolina), and end representation of that district by the elected individual in a majority-minority district is a violation of the people,Äôs intention. This district has elected Black representatives for more than three decades. The position of N.C. state representative in the 1st District is currently held by Democratic U.S. Rep. Don Davis, one of the most conservative Democrats in Congress. Rep. Davis won reelection last year by a small margin but was honestly chosen by the people in his district. Now, in a non-census year, Rep. Davis,Äôs district is being eliminated in order to create more solidly republican areas. Under the new proposal, Davis,Äôs home county of Greene would be moved into the adjacent 3rd District, represented by Republican U.S. Rep. Murphy, further diluting the voting power of African-Americans in our state, and further consolidating, a disproportionate, majority block of representatives in a state that, by population and statewide elections, is 50-50. This is an unethical violation of the intent of the laws surrounding this, as well as of the trust of the population of North Carolina. The decision to proceed here has everything to do with demands made by Trump and nothing to do with what,Äôs either precedent or fair in the state. Both parties have been in the wrong on redistricting in the past in our state, but gerrymandering has never led to the degree of imbalance in congressional representation that the current proposal will inflict. For the sake of the African-American population in district one, for the 50% of the state that will be negatively affected by this decision, and for the integrity of the representation we, as North Carolinians can expect, I urge you to vote against eliminating district one.

10/21/25 9:09 PM	Brittany Frazier		Since the NC GOP wants to bow down to Trump and his very unpopular/racist agenda, when does no taxation without representation kick in? Why are we paying taxes if we arent represented in congress?
10/21/25 9:10 PM	Ms Lacy Chronister	NC resident	I am writing to express my deep, profound, and thoroughly Southern concern about Senate Bill 758 ,Äî the latest so-called ,Äúcongressional redistricting map,Äù y,Äôall just pushed through. Now, I do understand that power is an addictive little thing, but surely even you can see this isn,Äôt redistricting. This is red-faced, backroom, bless-your-heart cheating. The redistricting process is supposed to be transparent, fair, and representative of all voters. Instead, what you,Äôve given us is a master class in how to carve up democracy like a Sunday ham. You,Äôve managed to target a district held by a Black representative and dilute the voices of voters of color ,Äî which, for anyone keeping score, is not only immoral but embarrassingly obvious. You,Äôve taken a sacred civic duty and turned it into a cynical little power grab. It,Äôs as though you think the people of North Carolina can,Äôt see through this,Äîlike we wouldn,Äôt notice that the lines just happen to favor one party so completely that geometry itself would blush. This isn,Äôt strategy. It,Äôs not leadership. It,Äôs what happens when decency calls in sick and ambition takes the wheel. And make no mistake: the world is watching, and right now North Carolina,Äôs legislators are coming across less like statesmen and more like con artists with coloring books. You can gerrymander yourselves into office, but you cannot gerrymander respect. That, my dears, must be earned
10/21/25 9:15 PM	Dr DAVID WILKINSON		As a NC citizen, I vehemently oppose the proposed Congressional redistricting plan. It is yet another cynical, unnecessary, partisan gerrymandering plan that misrepresents NC voters. It,Äôs also another thinly veiled repetition of racially-biased redistricting plans rejected multiple times by the courts. NC citizens aren,Äôt buying it.
10/21/25 9:19 PM	Rev. Rebekah Ramsey		This is an inexcusable attempt to manipulate our rights to vote for accurate representation for everyone! I am appalled and asshamed this is even up for discussion.
10/21/25 9:19 PM	Eileen Parsons		The public information regarding the reason for this redistricting highlights the abuse of power to retain power and to maintain the disenfranchisement of Black North Carolinians. The redistricting effort is a very clear repeat of the state's history of racism and discrimination. It is an abandonment of the journey toward a more perfect union, the ideals espoused in the Constitution generally and a moral failing and a rollback of democracy specifically.
10/21/25 9:19 PM	Allison Miceli		I urge you to come together and stop this partisan fight. Everyone in NC deserves to be heard. Please do the right thing for NC and the nation and leave the maps the way they are.
10/21/25 9:19 PM	Lisa Oliver		I urge you to vote against silencing the voices and votes of constituents. Vote against redistricting!!!
10/21/25 9:21 PM	Heather Rejzer		This should NOT be your focus until you PASS A BUDGET!!!!
10/21/25 9:21 PM	Travis Cagle		Does this really feel right to you? What do you think the end game is. As a WNC resident, I feel like our states leaders are simply falling in line. We have tha chance to be the greatest state with our diverse vacation spots, manufacturing oppertunities, farming. The focus should be on having a happy, healthy state that is successful. This just feels like we are building a buffer for a mean, narcissistic old man. With so many unaffiliated voters, this could backfire in a big way. Nobody wants to see their neighbors rights to free and fair elections be taken away without their voices being heard. Be better.
10/21/25 9:21 PM	Joan Oriol		How dare you consider REDISTRICTING NC mid-census!! You are wrong. You work for us, you represent us, THE PEOPLE of NC. You are NOT doing the work of Jesus of caring for the poor and the sick by prioritizing the profits of billionaires over we, the people. You are sickening cowards and DO NOT deserve the great opportunity of representing your fellow man. I demand that you stand up for the marginalized population of our state and for all of us. EVERYONE DESERVES TO ELECT REPRESENTATIVES THAT WILL SERVE THEM FAIRLY. STOP THIS STUPID POWER GRAB. You appear to be weak to do this just because you can. It is obvious that you are concerned of election losses by rigging the elections under the pretense of following your autocratic leader. And this is what YOU, THE GOP, accused the Democrats of doing. You're a despicable hypocrite, and don't deserve to be in office.
10/21/25 9:22 PM	Jennifer Powell		Redestricting off cycle is a dangerous precedent that threatens democracy. I am not in favor of this special cycle.
10/21/25 9:25 PM	C A DeCohen		Enough Racism in this country, if government keeps this course of action there will not be aUSA! There are no good old days in spite of folk's thinking. We can,Äôt return to the past! Please do not redistrict North Carolina,Äî no Good will come of that

10/21/25 9:25 PM	Mrs. Sydney Allgood		Gerrymandering is a shameful abuse of power that rigs the system so politicians choose their voters, instead of voters choosing their representatives. This completely goes against our democratic rights and I wholeheartedly oppose this. I demand fair maps that represent all North Carolinians, not politically motivated maps that only serve one party. Additionally, this action will dismantle decades of voting rights progress in North Carolina, harming our state's most vulnerable communities. This is not just a partisan issue; it is an attack on our democracy that makes our elections less competitive and our representatives less accountable.¬† I urge you to reject this map. North Carolinians deserve a transparent process that results in fair maps, not one controlled by political interests.
10/21/25 9:26 PM	Stop gerrymandering Christine Hawkes		As an independent voter, I would ask that you ensure our voting districts are competitive to allow for true representation of NC's population. Gerrymandering is not in our states best interest.
10/21/25 9:27 PM	Dr. Rebeca Olmedo	Watts Street Baptist Durham, NC	Your attempt to dilute black voting power is immoral and undermines our American democracy. Don't contribute to the destruction of our beautiful nation. Stop gerrymandering!
10/21/25 9:27 PM	Hannah K		Fair maps for fair democracy! District maps belong to the people, NOT politicians. Democracy is crippled and the people are robbed of choice when election outcomes are pre-determined by strategic redistricting. Proportional representation is the only way to ensure every voter,Äôs voice truly counts, and that's what democracy is and should be.
10/21/25 9:27 PM	Heidi Marie Stieber		Why gerrymander? It is cheating plain and simple - cheating voters out of fair representation and cheating to win, rather than simply being the best candidate, the best representative of the people. Stop it, please. You are degrading yourselves and our the entire system and purpose of our beautiful country,Äôs government. Do better, please.
10/21/25 9:28 PM	Mrs. Sue Schweikart	I am a US Citizen and Permanent Resident of NC	I oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina's congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This obviously partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around! Please think about the tax payers...we deserve fair representation and a balanced government.
10/21/25 9:28 PM	Judy Corsi-Kimble		North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/21/25 9:30 PM	Jamie Ramsey		Voters across North Carolina, Republicans, Democrats, and independents alike, don,Äôt support gerrymandering. True democracy, where the voters have a fair shake at choosing their representatives, is what makes America great. A recent poll found that 84% of voters believe it,Äôs never acceptable for politicians to draw districts to help their own party win more seats, including 78% of Republicans, 87% of Democrats, and 85% of unaffiliated voters. It,Äôs simply unamerican to create maps that treat voters this way. Don,Äôt obey Donald Trump, do support your constituents!!!

10/21/25 9:31 PM Dr. Sybil Murray	Randolph County Resident (9833 US HWY 64E Ramseur, NC)	I am opposed to Senate Bill 249 "Realign Congressional Districts 2025" which would redraw Congressional District 1 (only) to include more likely Republican voters in a district served by Representative Don Davis, an African American, veteran, educator and minister from rural eastern North Carolina. This is only being proposed because this is one of the four (out of 14 total) Democratic Congressional Districts which was won by a close margin in the last election. The justification for this bill has been given that it is at the request of President Trump, who is afraid that the US House will flip control to the Democrats in the midterm elections. There is talk that President Pro Tempore Phil Berger is promoting this redistricting of this ONE district in order to get President Trump's endorsement in his Republican Primary race. Could be? In a state that is 38% Unaffiliated, 32% Democrat and 30% Republican, even if all of the Unaffiliated voters voted with the Republicans (68%), the ratio of Republican to Democrat votes would be approximately 2:1. We have 10 Republican Congressmen and only 4 Democratic Congressmen in the U.S. House of Representatives at present and this bill is an attempt to make it 11 Republicans to 3 Democrats. This is not representative of the population of North Carolina and is being done without the vote of the electorate. In other words it is just not fair!!
10/21/25 9:35 PM Harry Kuhlman		I don't know where to begin. I guess I'll just make a list. 1. Why are you all even doing this redraw? We've been told that it is being done at the request of POTUS, strictly for political reasons. That is dishonest. 2. The data that you are using is either incomplete or out of date. How can you make good decisions with unreliable information? That is irresponsible. 3. The results of earlier redistricting has created a skewed picture of the NC electorate. The fact that 2/3 of the districts align one party while only 1/3 aligns the second party does not reflect at all the actual makeup of NC voters. This is cheating. 4. The effect of the newly proposed map will cause the misrepresentation of our voting population even further than it already is. That is shameful. 5. If NCGA accepts this new map, we will be the laughing stock of America and many other democratic countries. That is embarrassing. 6. If NCGA accepts this new map, under outlandish pretexts, I might add, you are basically giving all of the voters of NC a big middle finger. That is disgusting. 7. If NCGA accepts this new map, for no other reason than to kiss the ring of POTUS, then you all no longer are representatives in a democracy, you all no longer are stewards of the people of this state. That is so sad. I hope with all my heart that you all do the right thing and dismiss these redistricting efforts until the next census. The world is watching.
10/21/25 9:35 PM Jennifern Hickey		I strongly oppose NC Senate Bill 249 and the proposed congressional redistricting plans that would once again gerrymander North Carolina‚Äôs electoral maps. These proposals are designed to entrench partisan power, silence voters, and undermine the democratic process. Gerrymandering weakens fair representation by manipulating district lines to predetermine outcomes rather than letting voters choose their leaders. In particular, these maps would dilute the voting power of Black North Carolinians and other communities of color,Äîcommunities that already face systemic barriers to political participation. This is not only unjust but unconstitutional and contrary to the principles of equal representation that our democracy depends on. North Carolina voters deserve transparent, fair, and community-centered maps drawn through an independent, nonpartisan process,Äînot maps crafted to benefit one political party or one candidate. The redistricting process should protect the voices of all North Carolinians, not help any politician or party ‚Äúrig‚Äù future elections. Not so many years from now, my 11 year old son will get to vote in his first election. I want him to be able to step into that act of democratic participation knowing that his vote will matter. But that will not be the case, if North Carolina's legislators continue to redraw the maps to meet their own political ends. I urge lawmakers to reject Senate Bill 249, stop partisan gerrymandering, and adopt a fair redistricting process that reflects the true will of North Carolina voters.

10/21/25 9:36 PM	Mr. John Carella		The playbook for this unnecessary redistricting is over a century old. In 1901 this General Assembly pushed out George H. White, the last Black Congressman of that era, from the same stretch of Eastern North Carolina where the General Assembly now seeks to push out Don Davis. It was true then and true now that the actions of the majority party (then the Democrats, now Republicans) were undisguised rigging for racist ends. Just as Congressman White was able to call out the assault on democracy in this state from the floor of Congress, every citizen of North Carolina can see what the General Assembly is doing now. Please do no repeat the sins of the past. Looking to the present, there are also many reasons to reject this map. Over the past decade my representative in Congress has changed several times although I have not moved. This kind of constant upheaval, particularly for partisan and racist ends, erodes the connections between the people and their representatives. The lack of any competitive districts also causes the system to rot without the open debate and compromise necessary for a functioning republic. If there was a reason to change the maps, it would be to increase the competitive districts and solidify them around communities and geography in a durable, sensible way. This map makes no claim to seek those ends, and the redistricting itself has no legitimate purpose. Please reject this map and work toward a new model that will support a healthy multi-racial democracy at the next census.
10/21/25 9:38 PM	Dianne Gray		I am totally against drawing congressional maps to favor one party because this state is not composed of one party. This country is called the United States of America for a reason.
10/21/25 9:38 PM	Kathryn Kelling		I am adamantly opposed to the proposed redistricting plan for Congressional District 1. It is a violation of our Constitution and is being done to suppress voters in NC. The Republicans should be stopped!
10/21/25 9:42 PM	angela parker		No voter suppression!!! No racist maps!!! So obvious you all are terrified of the election!!! So much so you won,Äôt even decide on a budget but had to make your white nationalist agenda more important!! SHAME!SHAME!SHAME!! You won,Äôt always be in the majority. Just remember that. After this lunatic in the white house is gone, so are all of your republican career's!!!!
10/21/25 9:43 PM	John Schweikart		I oppose any attempt by the legislature to do this gerrymander and rob NC voters of their ability to choose their representatives vs. representatives choosing their voters.
10/21/25 9:44 PM	Ms Anne Ogg		I am already getting emails from Pat Harrigan,the rep of the 10th Congressional District. Why? I am in the 11th and live in Buncombe County. I have never requested these emails and don,Äôt want them as I am NOT in the 10th. The 10th is Gastonia. I am in the mountains. Please do NOT gerrymander me into a district in which in the rep is a long way from me. Thank you.
10/21/25 9:46 PM	Susan Conley	Retired	North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. North Carolina is one of only two states without an operating budget. The Republican-led legislature is over one hundred days overdue in passing a budget. State employees,Äîlike teachers,Äîaren,Äôt getting pay increases to cover the massive toll of inflation. Our teachers are already the worst paid in the Southeast. Medicaid is currently underfunded by $300 million, which will drive up costs and threaten healthcare access in rural communities. But they scrambled back to Raleigh to force through a gerrymander as soon as Donald Trump called. The GOP,Äôs priorities? Trump first, North Carolinians last.
10/21/25 9:46 PM	Ms Erin O'Hara	Individual	Please draw congressional districts fairly. How about just drawing them in grids balancing just the population? Thanks.
10/21/25 9:47 PM	Ms. Christina Vellucci	Meck Cty Democrats	For the fairness of the voting process in a state that is about 50/50, please reconsider this redistricting for a president who is not for all Americans.
10/21/25 9:48 PM	Dr. Steven Kerrigan		This is a ridiculous use of your time and resources to take power away from the citizens of our state. Spend your energy trying to get a budget passed. The cost of everything is rising but you can,Äôt give state employees raises or fund Medicaid? If you are scared of losing seats at the midterms, why don,Äôt you try to govern better instead? This blatantly corrupt power-grab is embarrassing.
10/21/25 9:49 PM	Mrs Nancy Scott		This rushed exercise shows a complete disregard for democracy, for the long term (generations) residents of northeastern North Carolina, and for all of the people of North Carolina. It is beyond disappointing. Please think of all of the ramifications before voting to pass these maps.
10/21/25 9:56 PM	Desmond Duncker		Please refrain from congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Do the RIGHT thing. Be on the Right & fair side of history.
10/21/25 9:59 PM	Jennifer Tlusty		This plan to redraw our congressional districts is a blatant power grab by Republicans. It is illegal and immoral; despite their claims to the contrary, it is obvious these new districts are an attempt to silence Black voters. I am disgusted and appalled but not surprised by this underhanded play to get Trump more votes in the House. If this passes, I am confident it will be overruled by the courts. Republicans should be ashamed!

10/21/25 10:07 PM	Carlyle Poteat		Outrageous and unacceptable cheating, and depriving voters of free and fair elections. Cowards bowing to a fake king.
10/21/25 10:07 PM	Douglas Bennett	NA	As a former Republican voter, I am totally appalled by this blatant power grab. The disenfranchisement of minority voters demonstrates racist intent. To bow to the agenda of this authoritarian leaning president is un - American!
10/21/25 10:08 PM	Mary Chamblee-Hill		This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. There was no public notice.¬†Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Âôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Âôre disenfranchising. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but.¬†An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Âô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/21/25 10:17 PM	Dr James Green	private citizen	I want to voice my opinions and wishes as it relates to redrawing of citizen/district representative maps: Maps should not be drawn by elected, partisan politicians. It should be done by a group of citizens representing republicans, democrats and unaffiliated individuals who would sever on some sort of "citizen's commission". The public should have input into any redistricting efforts. The courts should be used protect against any sort of discrimination in any redistricting protocol. i have zero confidence in the current way in which districts are drawn, and i have zero support for people with vested interest being the ones to determine how districts are created. Transparency and ethical treatment of all citizens is paramount for a healthy society.
10/21/25 10:19 PM	Joan Walsh		"The current plan to redistricting the voting zones is a blatant grab of power by Republicans that will strip power from black North Carolinas. Its undemocratic and unfair to the NC people."
10/21/25 10:23 PM	Marjorie Rowe		I urge all representatives to vote NO on the gerrymandered redistricting map. Redistricting should take place only once every ten years in response to the Census. Congressional districts should be drawn fairly to allow for competitive races, whereby the VOTERS choose their representatives, and not the other way around. North Carolina is a purple state, and we would have many more elected Democrats serving in the General Assembly and in the US Congress if our voting districts were not already seriously gerrymandered. This is evidenced by the fact that in the 2024 election, Democratic candidates won 6 state-wide offices (including governor, lt. governor, attorney general, and state superintendent of schools), yet of the 14 Congressional districts, only 4 are held by Democrats. Further, of the 14 Congressional districts, only District 1 is truly competitive. As a resident of Eastern NC who has already been moved in and out of Districts 1 and 3 over the past several years (without changing my address) and as someone who believes districts should be drawn fairly instead for blatant partisan gain, I reject the proposed new map as unethical, unfair, and un-American and urge you to do the same.
10/21/25 10:24 PM	Rebekkah Cote		Redistricting is completely unnecessary. The current districts are already gerrymandered to favor Republicans by a wide margin. Redrawing the map to favor yet another Republican is a shameless power grab and should not be pursued.
10/21/25 10:25 PM	Karen Bearden		From a recent poll, 84% of voters believe it,Âôs NEVER acceptable for politicians to draw districts to help their own party win more seats, including 78% of Republicans, 87% of Democrats, and 85% of unaffiliated voters. DO NOT listen to the person in the White House. Listen to the PEOPLE of North Carolina instead, some who have been speaking out powerfully in committee meetings the past two days! STOP this madness and vote NO on this racist bill!
10/21/25 10:25 PM	Jessie Summers		We are North Carolinians - do not do this redistricting based on Donald Trump,Âôs demands. As a citizen of NC for the past 57 years my opinion is NO to redistricting. I am not scared of Trump, are you?
10/21/25 10:26 PM	Ruby Vincent Garner	N/A	There is no need for redistricting in North Carolina.
10/21/25 10:27 PM	Ms Lurlean Hunter		I just finished listening to chapters 7-8 from he Book of Daniel in the Bible. I didn,Âôt understand it all but it was quite alarming! Do what is right according to what you say you are! Farther taking away a right because it doesn,Âôt serve you at this particular time is wrong! ,ÄúFor what dies it profit a man ti gain the world and lose his soul?,Äù Stand for right!
10/21/25 10:28 PM	Mr. Timothy Chrishon	NA	The desire to redistrict the northeastern area of North Carolina is a sad state of NC Legislature. Per the President Pro Tempore of the North Carolina Senate to say we are doing it at the request of the President is simply juvenile and the highest level of "Tom Foolery" that can be espoused by a legislature . PHIL BERGER is acting like Ted in the first grade - well did I do that? What about the Citizens of the State of North Carolina and the First Congressional District
10/21/25 10:31 PM	Alissa Vermillion		I realize this is probably a losing battle for now, but it shouldn't be a foregone conclusion that my state will gerrymander districts in favor of Republicans. If there was true parity in districting, we could have an honest election process and let the better person win their elections. This is what I hope for and will work toward. Will you?
10/21/25 10:33 PM	Dr Robert Moxley		Please do not pass the redistricting legislation proposed by the Republican Party

10/21/25 10:37 PM	Stop gerrymandering! CARMEN MARTIN		Districting should be a bipartisan thing. Stop the cheating by gerrymandering our districts. This isn,Äôt right or fair at all. If democrats did this republicans would have lost their minds. No one with wants you in charge!
10/21/25 10:37 PM	Ms Evelyn Bloch	Personal	Our state districts are already imbalanced by - they were 7/7 and now10/4. This is not representative of who lives here. The voters pick preferred candidates- and not candidates picking their voters ! I am strongly opposed to the new districting proposal. Please respect us, the voters.
10/21/25 10:39 PM	Tereds Chestnut Lucas		I am totally against the redistricting that is about to go up tp Senate for passing. Please listen to the people. Our voice matters and we expect our congressional committee to hear us. It,Äôs not too late to support the people and what right for the country. Stand up for what matters.
10/21/25 10:39 PM	Dr. Vannie Hodges	myself as a citizen and politially responsible person. I belong to many service groups	I strongly oppose the redistricting proposal. This is not for the benefit of the people who elected our officials. It is for political reasons, and it will likely hurt black or disadvantaged citizens.
10/21/25 10:40 PM	Reverend Amanda Chamblee-Hill		Gerrymandering is unconstitutional and not what I stand for as a proud North Carolinian. I'm requesting that the new map/s be denied and not allowed to pass through!!
10/21/25 10:44 PM	Ms.r Carrie Sioberg	Self	This is a disgrace Republicans have already stolen 3 seats.This is a democracy. The people elect you to serve them, not to serve yourselves. Do not STEAL another seat!!
10/21/25 10:46 PM	Hailey Loftin		I want to express in the strongest possible terms that I do not agree with this redistricting. I am a born-and-raised North Carolinian and love this state, and I don,Äôt want to see it continue down this path. Please stop this.
10/21/25 10:49 PM	Mrs. Marisa Grimmius	Clinical mental health counselor	The only people interested in using redistricting to suppress a free and fair election are those who can,Äôt win on merit alone. North Carolinians deserve to be fairly represented by our elections processes. Don,Äôt fall for the lies! This legislation is an abuse of power that destroys our democracy and erodes trust in our political process,Äîand most of all,Äïour elected officials.
10/21/25 10:51 PM	Carrie Sioberg		I want to re[port a theft!!! I am so disturbed by this that I have to write twice. Republicans would be screaming bloody murder if the shoe was on thfe shoe was on the other foot. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù
10/21/25 10:53 PM	Mrs Helen Martin	Independent Voter	I DO NOT AGREE WITH REDISTRICTING IN NORTH CAROLINA
10/21/25 10:54 PM	Andrew Sioberg		The state is Gerrymandered enough!!!! Republicans can't fight a fair fight!!!
10/21/25 10:56 PM	Mrs Lydia Koltai		Do not implement this plan to remove a Democratic majority district!
10/21/25 10:57 PM	Kyle Chapin		This is not how you represent the will of the people. If there was any integrity in your party you would have a platform that people would vote for!
10/21/25 11:01 PM	Ms. Teresa Lowe		I am against this redistricting vote. I think it should only be done every 10 years, and by a non-partisan committee. Our state votes about 50/50 for the two parties. I think the current 10 Republican & 4 Democrat NC Congressional representatives shows that the district maps are not showing the true will of the people.
10/21/25 11:09 PM	MD Ruchi Moore	Citizen	I strongly believe that redistricting should be non-partisan and unbiased. As a party that has built its platform on integrity, moral character and Christian values, it is unethical to redistrict the state in a manner that gives an unfair advantage to your own party. Redistricting the state to promote one,Äôs particular party is cheating. It might be legal but it is cheating and that is not how the Republican party should act. As a citizen, I want to vote for my state and federal representatives and know that my vote was counted. I do not want to weight of my vote to be made negligible bc of the way my community was redistricted. I strongly request that you either appoint a bipartisan group to create districts or stop pursuing this matter and focus on passing a budget for our state.
10/21/25 11:09 PM	Natalie Harding	US CITIZEN	Why must the republican party cheat to win? I thought you were a party of family values. You have turned from your history of being for small government and family values to a party that is known for cheating, lieing, and scheming to help the rich and the famous. You are a corrupt group. You are the Judas's who have turned away from Christian Values to corruption, low morales, and thinking only of Yourselves, the rich and the famous! How dare you redraw the maps of North Carolina to maintain control for a man who has no interest in you and would not give you the time of day, if your net value is not over 1 Billion dollars. What would Jesus say about your unwillingness to help the poor and the needy of North Carolina, yet you redraw the lines to help a man who serves a "golden calf." Don't give in to the wicked ways of the devil. Don't CHEAT TO WIN BY REDRAWING THE MAPS!! We are all on our knees, praying that God and his righteousness will prevail, because those of us who know God are praying that HE will hear our prayers and heal this land. GOD IS IN CONTROL!!

10/21/25 11:10 PM	Mr James Jackson		THE PROPOSED MAP HURTS VOTERS AND FURTHER GERRYMANDERS NC Under this newest gerrymandered map, Congressional Districts 1 and 3 in Eastern North Carolina would be less representative and more racist, targeting voters in the most prominent and historic Black opportunity district in the state. Congressional District 1 has been dismantled and designed to elect a Republican, eliminating the only truly competitive congressional district in North Carolina. Districts outside of Districts 1 and 3 are still extreme gerrymanders, making North Carolina,Âôs congressional map one of the least competitive in the country. Regardless of where you live ,Äì this gerrymander impacts you. Even though Congressional Districts 1 and 3 are targeted in this new extreme gerrymander, because of gerrymandering legislative leaders and the courts that capitulated to them, we will all be voting in distorted districts, which become even less representative with these new maps. North Carolinians deserve public hearings when it counts ,Äî throughout a redistricting process, before maps are drawn and before they are voted on. Instead, lawmakers will hold public comments after maps are released, at 10:00 a.m. on a Monday, when most voters are working, and those targeted live far from Raleigh. Voters across North Carolina ,Äî including a majority of Republicans ,Äî are tired of these types of partisan games that put politics over real people. If lawmakers want to build trust heading into 2026, they,Äôd be wise to focus on issues that directly affect North Carolinians,Äô everyday lives, instead of wasting precious time and taxpayer dollars to further gerrymander our congressional districts, which are already among the most gerrymandered in the country.
10/21/25 11:11 PM	Mrs Nancy Hirsch		I don't approve of any redistricting at this time. I believe that this is a cynical ploy to sway elections for partisan purposes. I think that elections should be fair and represent the will of the people. Redistricting should take place after a census to reflect the demographics of the people not to reflect the will of the President or the party in power. When we have power over others it is important that we use that power fairly and with restraint. This is not what is occurring now. I urge you to not give in to this abuse of the system.
10/21/25 11:18 PM	Redistricting Comment Rainey Campbell	na	I oppose redistricting because it weakens democracy. When maps are drawn to entrench one party,Äôs power, voters lose confidence in the fairness of the system ,Äî and many stop believing their vote matters at all
10/21/25 11:19 PM	Greg Delott		This plan is wrong and immoral. Maps should be reasonable and fair. We're supposed to have a representative government, not one that's the result of rigged maps.
10/21/25 11:23 PM	Jim walsh	Vistage	The current plan to redistricting the voting zones is a blatant grab of power by Republicans that will strip power from black North Carolinas. Its undemocratic and unfair to the NC people.
10/21/25 11:23 PM	angela parker		You are all so scared of loosing your seat this is how you respond!?!?! Racism. Voter suppression. Gerrymandering maps until you think it you are a shoe in!!! Just realize, nothing is a given! This could all be in vain for you. Never underestimate the power of the opposition!!!! We will beat you!! We will hold the power again. Just remember that. All of your republican careers are over after this. I would try to salvage what is left at this point. Js. There will never be another republican in office in my lifetime if you don,Äôt change drastically!! Fair elections for all of NBc and the entire country!!! Stop being cowards!!!!!
10/21/25 11:24 PM	Supporting greed and lies Phyllis Andrews	None	You have lost all sense of decency and proportion, to take such extreme measures in order to support a pathological liar with insatiable greed. What is wrong with you?
10/21/25 11:26 PM	Linda Dorn		Cheating to get votes is NOT the way to win support. In fact, it engenders distrust and lack of respect for elected leaders who are more focused on ,Áúwinning,Àù than working hard to represent their constituents. It is appalling and will not be tolerated. Have some dignity and DO YOUR JOB.
10/21/25 11:29 PM	Joyce Leake-Allison		I oppose redistricting for partisan politics. Redistricting should be based on population changes and done fairly by non partisan commision.
10/21/25 11:34 PM	Julie Gainer		I strongly oppose the restricting . This is wrong . You know it is wrong .
10/21/25 11:38 PM	Maureen Tanury		The redistricting should be put on a ballot rather than decided solely by the legislature. As a voter registered as an Independent, I consider actions such as these when I go to the polls.
10/21/25 11:39 PM	Jennifer Heard		I strongly oppose gerrymandered redistricting. If you have to draw special lines to win elections, you clearly do not have viable, sustainable, equitable, or even reasonable policies. This is a representative government by the people and the people should vote. Adhere to the Constitution as you were elected to do so.

10/21/25 11:41 PM	Ms Karen Heidt		This redistricting is unnecessary! We already have a gerymandered voting map, no need for more gerymandering. This map is supposed to be used for this ENTIRE decade, and constantly changing is a waste of my taxpayer money. Let's get the NC budget figured out instead of this obvious pandering to Trump. Put NC voters 1st, not Trump. We elected you, not Trump, and we can un-elect you too!
10/21/25 11:42 PM	Jessica Mouzon		I stand firmly against these redistricting efforts that aim to silence my voice and the voices of people in my community. This process undermines fair representation and violates my rights as a North Carolina taxpayer and voter. I work hard and pay taxes with the expectation that my government will represent me ,Äî not erase me. The money I earn should work for my community and those in need, not fund systems that strip power from the people. I demand transparency, accountability, and fair maps that reflect the will of all North Carolinians ,Äî not the interests of a few.
10/21/25 11:43 PM	Rulon Nicholson		I do not support redistricting. Mid-cycle partisan gerrymandering has severe consequences: It silences voters. Communities are divided, and districts are drawn to ensure predetermined outcomes, thereby reducing competition and accountability. It destabilizes elections. Constantly changing district lines creates confusion, suppresses participation, and wastes taxpayer dollars. It weakens democracy. When maps are drawn to entrench one party,Äôs power, voters lose confidence in the fairness of the system ,Äî and many stop believing their vote matters at all. Our democracy depends on fair representation ,Äî which is not possible when legislators manipulate district lines for partisan advantage.
10/21/25 11:45 PM	Ms. LaDonna Puryear		I think it is sad that the Republican party is stooping so low as to Redistricting to gain another seat for themselves. There is no longer any sense of fairness in this country, and no longer any Republican politicians that are serving their constituents instead of DJT. I can't figure out why the Republican party is so afraid of Trump, come on guys, grow a pair and do what is right and fair.
10/21/25 11:54 PM	Sherry Paylor		You sorry GOP shits won,Äôt stop until you have a map that requires about 4 votes to declare a Republican victory in a district and the candidate could be a dead raccoon. It,Äôs the ONLY way you can win and that,Äôs also so pathetic looking. A bunch of paunchy, boring duds lacking in every way -
10/22/25 12:02 AM	Constance Davis		We want and need fair representation for all people. Passing this redistricting plan will make it difficult for minority representation in this area of the state.
10/22/25 12:08 AM	Emily Friend		This new redistricting map will make NC citizens LESS fairly represented, not more. Stop this partisan gerrymandering. We have had enough!!
10/22/25 12:23 AM	James Bowen	Western Wake Dems	The proposed redistricting plan does not adhere to the principal of free and fair elections. The plan ignores the will of the people by manipulating districts to disenfranchise non-Republican voters.
10/22/25 12:26 AM	Doug Patterson		NO! No redistricting until after the next census. You know it's wrong.
10/22/25 12:30 AM	Mrs Cathy Gray-Williams		I am opposed to redistricting for voting. Do not do this.
10/22/25 12:40 AM	Why are yall doing this!? Latoya Lugo		Do NOT LET THIS HAPPEN. IT IS NOT FAIR!
10/22/25 12:50 AM	Mr Manny Otto		This is not what we should stand for in NC. Keep election FAIR and stop cheating by redistricting in the favor of one political group.
10/22/25 1:17 AM	Tyler Burt		Please review the tenth commandment
10/22/25 1:18 AM	Jennifer Baulier		I think the proposed redistricting is unnecessary, unfair, a waste of tax payer money, and risks unjustly reducing the voting power of black communities in North Carolina.
10/22/25 1:22 AM	NO to redistricting Robyn Olinger		This redistricting plan is unconstitutional. It takes away voter voice in districts that are predominantly Black. You are elected officials, and you know that you are not representing your constituents if you go through with this. Trump,Äôs agenda should not be your priority. You need to stand up for what is right and not capitulate to a fascist dictator.
10/22/25 1:53 AM	Shari Altman	none	The most egregious issues here: 1) There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. The public clearly should have had time to weigh and as polls have shown, the public doesn't want this.. 2 NC is a purple state; an 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is is a robbery of fair representation for 28.5% of voters given fair maps would be 7-7, so 4 of 14 are losing their voice. And it turns a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù into a cruel joke.
10/22/25 2:54 AM	Ms. Robin Mckinney		I oppose the recent addition to the congressional districts. I,Äôm speaking as a citizen not as a representative of any organization.
10/22/25 3:04 AM	Ms Constance Ludwig		The NC Legislature's job is to serve its citizenry and voters, not steal from them. This latest effort to gerrymander the first district away from the African American population, to benefit one national political party, is indecent and disgusting. NC citizens can, and should, respond by voting to change out the legislative leadership. Time for this group to go!
10/22/25 3:07 AM	Deborah Vance		This redistricting ploy is a direct insult to the American ideals. You have already been accused of gerrymandering with ,Äúsurgical precision,Äù you will be remembered for the immoral stance you are taking now.

10/22/25 3:12 AM	Ms. Lindsay Smith		To the Chairs and Members of the Redistricting Committee: I am writing as a NC citizen, born and raised, in opposition to the proposed congressional map. The plan would create an 11,Äì3 partisan split in a state where voters are roughly evenly divided. Calling this map ‚Äúpartisan, not racial,Äù concedes its purpose: to engineer outcomes rather than represent people. North Carolina‚Äôs own Measures of Compactness Report (CCM-2) confirms that the 5th District has a Reock score of 0.30 and the 10th District 0.28 ‚Äì the lowest in the state. Both also score poorly on the Polsby‚ÄìPopper index, meaning they are not only stretched but highly irregular. These numbers suggest design decisions that prioritize partisanship over geography. This manipulation is happening in one of the state‚Äôs fastest-growing regions. The Piedmont Triad has gained more than 40,000 residents since 2020, and communities of color now make up roughly one-third of its population. Yet Guilford, Forsyth, and neighboring counties ‚Äì the economic and cultural heart of the state ‚Äì have been carved into the least compact districts. When growth is met with political containment, citizens lose faith that their voices matter and the health of our democracy declines. The issue extends beyond shape or score ‚Äì it reaches the process itself. The General Assembly‚Äôs handling of this map has lacked transparency, culminating in the striking of Senator Garrett‚Äôs comments from the official record. Such actions weaken public trust in a process that demands openness. Meanwhile, Sen. Ralph Hise, who leads the redistricting effort, has publically stated that the sole purpose of this map is to support the presidential administration‚Äôs agenda ‚Äì making representation the tool, not the goal. That candor is telling. When partisan strategy is presented as acceptable governance, it signals how far the goalposts of integrity have moved. At the same time, District 1 ‚Äì one of North Carolina‚Äôs most historically diverse areas ‚Äì is being redrawn in ways that dilute minority representation. Together, these changes show a consistent pattern: expanding regions fractured, diverse communities weakened, and dissenting voices minimized. This is not the natural evolution of democracy; it is the quiet normalization of democratic backsliding. And justifying these decisions by citing the 2024 presidential outcome ignores the reality of today. As Newsweek recently reported, Donald Trump‚Äôs approval rating in North Carolina is now underwater, reflecting a shift in sentiment amid widespread national protests and frustration with the state of the union. The past election does not represent the present will of the people. Because congressional maps are not subject to gubernatorial veto, fairness rests entirely with this body. This is a turning point for North Carolina ‚Äì an opportunity to demonstrate that integrity still outweighs influence. North Carolinians have defended democracy before. The generation that fought in World War II understood that freedom cannot survive if it becomes someone ‚Äôs possession. They faced down enemies abroad who threatened freedom outright; our test is quieter but no less
10/22/25 3:12 AM	Unfair redistricting Erin Richey		I am against the redistricting efforts that prioritize political parties over voters,Äô choices. Supporting redistricting to manipulate electoral outcomes suggests a lack of confidence in one‚Äôs own platform to win support genuinely, resorting to unfair tactics instead. Doing so would silence the voices of your own constituents. You would be voting to purposely marginalize a minority group. Is that what you stand for now? I urge you to vote against redistricting and demonstrate your commitment to serving people, not just the interests of a particular party. The state of this country is frazzled enough without NC taking part in this childish game of who can change the rules in order to win.
10/22/25 3:56 AM	Chris Kite		A basic reason to reject redistricting between censuses is that data is not available between censuses to show that districts have the same population within the standard margin accepted by the Supreme Court. If the courts were to change that requirement then key questions would be whether standards of compactness and preserving communities within districts should be enforced. These standards of compactness and communities have not been reasonably met with these redistricting maps. See also my analysis submitted on Monday. For the requirement of equal numbers, I cite: https://redistricting.lls.edu/redistricting-101/where-are-the-lines-drawn/ The U.S. Constitution requires that each district have about the same population: each federal district within a state must have about the same number of people, each state district within a state must have about the same number of people, and each local district within its jurisdiction must have about the same number of people. Congressional districts. The standard for congressional districts allows relatively small deviations, when deployed in the service of legitimate objectives. States must make a good-faith effort to draw districts with the same number of people in each district within the state, and any district with more or fewer people than the average must be justified by a consistent state policy. But consistent policies that leave a relatively small spread from largest to smallest district will likely be constitutional. In 2012, for example, the Supreme Court approved a congressional plan in West Virginia with 0.79% population variation based on keeping county lines intact.
10/22/25 4:00 AM	Monet Moore		This is an attempt to gerrymander the state and is an act of voter suppression. This is a shameful way of stripping power from citizens and your constituents.
10/22/25 4:34 AM	Angelique smith		Stop redistributing and stealing votes!! North Carolinians are tired of all the shady republican deals!!
10/22/25 4:37 AM	Mrs Linda Sande	Citizen	Please think of your democratic values and oath to the American people of NC. Do not vote for this anti democratic map.

10/22/25 4:39 AM	Joshua Pettler		You're elected to serve ALL people of North Carolina not the President. This is a blatant un-democratic power grab and should be stopped immediately!
10/22/25 5:22 AM	RENEE BAULIER		Redistricting now is not right. Do not gerrymander our votes for political gains.
10/22/25 5:25 AM	Mrs Joyce Golden	Concerned Citizen	The gerrymandering attempts to cheapen the political power of North Carolinians and all Americans. I demand all senators and representatives oppose any redistricting bills.
10/22/25 5:31 AM	Maura Turner		As a concerned resident of Hendersonville who values fair representation, I am against the redistricting efforts that prioritize political parties over the voters' choices. Supporting redistricting to manipulate electoral outcomes suggests a lack of confidence in one's own platform to win support genuinely, resorting to unfair tactics instead. I urge you to vote against redistricting and demonstrate your commitment to serving the people, not just the interests of a particular party.
10/22/25 5:31 AM	Mrs. Donna Petree		Rigging elections and gerrymandering is not only undemocratic, it's against equal representation and rights under good sense and constitutional law.
10/22/25 5:54 AM	M Wagner		Please vote against gerrymandering in NC. This is beyond crazy
10/22/25 6:02 AM	Ms Susan Lukasek		Enough is enough! Anything to pander to the wannabe king. We the people are sick and tired of politicians running the show. We will show all of you at the voting booths who you work for.
10/22/25 6:04 AM	Mrs Rebecca Coggins		NC GOP continues to steal from the people of NC. This gerrymander is NOT representative of the people in Eastern NC. We see what you are doing and it is unconscionable.
10/22/25 6:05 AM	Dr Karin Connelly		Representatives,Äîthat means we elect you to speak for We The People. It,Äôs a position of Service of great importance. What we (Dems and Republicans alike) see in our government is corruption, abuse of power, bending over to a president who is pressuring you to silence the voices of your constituents. Most of us love America and our Democratic Republic. Please find that love and integrity within yourself and stand up equally for all North Carolinians. Reject this redistricting map.
10/22/25 6:13 AM	Mr Ray Forrest	Difference Driven	This is bullshit! No red lining, no kings, the general public is dumb asf. Leaders should educate! Not take advantage.
10/22/25 6:14 AM	Heather Gordon		I am deeply upset that our legislators would ignore the voices of the citizens of NC in order to placate the president. You are called to serve NC and you can't even pass a budget for our state, but in short order you redraw maps at Trump's request? The same president who withheld Fema funds from Asheville? You are completely in the wrong and you know it. North Carolina should be better than this. Shame on you for even considering diluting the voter pool AGAIN. Maybe of you did your job to serve the citizens of NC you wouldn't have to rig maps to stay in power.
10/22/25 6:19 AM	Mrs Ann Taylor		North Carolina Republicans know that if they asked the voters of North Carolina for permission to draw this map, they,Äôd say no. 84% of North Carolina voters believe that partisan gerrymandering is unacceptable. Please do your job and stand up for democracy and not for voting maps that do not represent the people of NC.
10/22/25 6:20 AM	Bethany Fannin		The people of North Carolina are not fooled. What,Äôs happening right now with this redistricting process is blatant partisan gerrymandering. The proposed map was revealed just days ago, and before the public even had time to analyze it, the Senate rushed to approve it. Now the House is preparing to do the same. Every credible analysis says the same thing: this new map is designed to give Republicans more power than voters actually gave them. That,Äôs not democracy. That,Äôs rigging the system. In 2022, North Carolina had fairer maps and a congressional delegation that reflected our true political balance. But after the state Supreme Court changed hands, the legislature immediately moved to undo that progress. This is not about serving the people; it,Äôs about locking in power and silencing dissent. You haven,Äôt even passed a budget, yet somehow you found the time to ram through a map that voters overwhelmingly oppose. It,Äôs shameful. I,Äôm asking you to stop this. Slow down the process, listen to your constituents, and draw maps that give ,ÄúWthe People,Äù a real voice. Democracy only works when voters choose their representatives, not the other way around!
10/22/25 6:22 AM	Lisa G		It is time to represent the actual people of NC! Pass a budget, leave our maps alone!
10/22/25 6:25 AM	Trevor Peters		Gerrymandering is illegal and yall should be ashamed
10/22/25 6:33 AM	Kaitlyn Granda		Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable.

10/22/25 6:36 AM	Don,Äôt do this - ?? racism Brian Daoust		Please don,Äôt do this or allow this. In a state where we vote blue and red (and other colors!), don,Äôt disenfranchise us so obviously, blatantly, and with such malice. As an independent (there are massive numbers of us), it matters that we are so close to 50/50 in red/blue elections but are going for 11/4 split districts for red. It matters that the strategy is so obviously to split people of color and dilute them in such a Jim Crow, underhanded way. Good will judge us all for these actions. God will not just watch this happen. I beg you not to ignore that.
10/22/25 6:39 AM	Gail Haas		The United States of America has a rich history of brave, patriotic elected officials who have sacrificed their own political careers to do what is morally right. I may be naive but I am confident there are those among our legislature today who value the fragile democracy our founding fathers tenaciously designed. Please, save our free and fair elections.
10/22/25 6:39 AM	Nicole Yoder		Stop the steal. End gerrymandering by politicians. Let the people vote on independent redistricting commissions.
10/22/25 6:43 AM	Amy-Jae Rignola		I'm not a democrat. I'm not a republican. I'm a citizen calling attention to an illegal gerrymandering happening with this redistricting. Just do your jobs! All the people of NC deserve fair representation according to the Constitution of the United States. History has shown that the people united will never be divided.
10/22/25 6:43 AM	Ruby Robinson	- Select -	NO REDISTRICTING FOR DONALD F##KING TRUMP.
10/22/25 6:49 AM	Lydia Krause		Gerrymandered maps do not give all North Carolinian's a voice in what happens is our state. They are cheating, plain and simple. Please do not vote to further gerrymander our already gerrymandered maps.
10/22/25 6:53 AM	Robyn Beliveau		Vote AGAINST redistricting.
10/22/25 6:55 AM	Lauren Livingston		Stop this nonsense. Do your job, pass a budget, and fund Medicaid. You and your federal colleagues should be accountable to voters for your policy choices. You must have very little faith in your own policies if you think you have to take away voters' power in order to stay in office.
10/22/25 6:57 AM	Ms Joan Gallimore	NC resident	I do not support the redistricting map drawn by the republican party. I do support work on the NC budget and pausing tax reductions.
10/22/25 7:03 AM	Educator Dorothy Ystes		This is a blatant and disgusting attempt to silence the voice of thousands of North Carolinians. Shameful.
10/22/25 7:04 AM	Bailey Rybinski		I know this will fall on deaf ears, but yall know damn well what you,Äôre doing is illegal and immoral. It,Äôs cheating, plain and simple. You cannot win fair and square, and thus must resort to putting your finger on the scales. By quashing the will of the people, while still collecting taxes, you are committing the same actions our founders fought and died for. Don,Äôt be shocked when people stop paying taxes to a representative body they have no say in. If you do pass this abhorrent excuse for a power grab, I hope you all get voted out anyway.
10/22/25 7:09 AM	Becky McCloskey		Redistricting in NC undermines the core principle of democracy by allowing politicians to choose their voters instead of voters choosing their representatives. It silences communities by diluting their voices and creating districts that don,Äôt reflect real neighborhoods or shared interests. When elections are predetermined by unfair maps, accountability disappears, and lawmakers no longer have to earn the trust of their constituents. This manipulation breeds polarization, distrust, and apathy among voters.
10/22/25 7:13 AM	Opposed to redistricting Christina Hugenschmidt		I am strongly opposed to redistricting at this time. I voted against Democrats when they were gerrymandering in NC decades ago and I am equally opposed to it from the Republican party. I want free and fair elections in our state with easy and equal access to voting for all.
10/22/25 7:14 AM	Mitch Russell		There is no majority wanting gerrymandered districts. This is a n absolutely farcical overstep of your duties as representatives of NC citizens. As I,Äôm sure you are well aware a poll by Opinion Diagnostics found that 78% of Republicans were opposed to partisan gerrymandered districts. In the same poll 66% of Republicans stated that gerrymandering should no longer be legal. How is this a majority as Senator Berger stated? This is not what the people of NC want. We would want a referendum stated in plain, not legalized, language on which we could vote. That,Äôs democracy and the will of the people on which this country was founded a little less than 250 years ago. Do the right thing and put it to a vote by the people of this state.
10/22/25 7:19 AM	Debra Shealy	Private Citizen	76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law. Please no not gerrymand any districts further than is already in place. In fact, please pull back. North Carolina voters want balance representation. A lock on power by one party or another is always dangerous.

10/22/25 7:22 AM	Mr. Robertus van der Wege	van der Wege Art & Design	Redistricting has become nothing more that a skeam to damage the voting rights of U.S. citizens. It is cowardly and shameful and any politician supporting such options is not representing the electorate.
10/22/25 7:23 AM	Robert Hicks		While I appreciate (and support) the notion of increasing Republican representation in congress, I disapprove of redrawing district lines to create noncontiguous representation. I greatly prefer county boundaries to be preeminent, then city boundaries, riverine data, and major roads, but there can never be islands that exist solely due to party affiliations.
10/22/25 7:24 AM	Dr. Vicki Murrell		Republicans have to CHEAT to win seats??? That‚Äôs pathetic.
10/22/25 7:24 AM	Mary Nations		Yesterday, Oct 21st, I was one of hundreds (if not more) online watching the public response to the disgusting way the Assembly majority is redrawing districts to hand President Trump yet another congressional vote before the midterms. I guess you know his policies are terrible and unpopular if you have to take such drastic measures to effectively silence voters. Your fealty to him is truly astonishing - he is literally using a wrecking ball to demolish history and democracy with diminishing constraints. I think it is particularly disgusting to eliminate the one congressional district in NC that has given voice to Black voters from NC in our national government. Now they will have none. Welcome back to the old South, regressive agendas and all. This statement from House Speaker Destin Hall, ‚ÄúPresident Trump earned a clear mandate from the voters of North Carolina and the rest of the country, and we intend to defend it by drawing an additional Republican Congressional seat‚Äù makes a mockery of each NC voter showing up to mark EVERY contest on our ballots. A vote for President should not negate separate votes for members Congress. There is no mandate - the President barely got half the NC votes last year, yet Hall suggests the Assembly can gift another congressional district AFTER that election just on party loyalty. To hell with the will of the people who show up to vote, apparently - by Hall's logic, power-hungry politicians can just consolidate more power whenever they so choose. Senate President Pro Tem Phil Berger knows better - two decades ago, he sponsored bipartisan legislation to turn the state‚Äôs redistricting process over to an independent commission. And now he says ‚ÄúThe #NCGA is ready to help Republicans secure Congress and move @realDonaldTrump‚Äôs agenda forward!‚Äù Under his leadership, the NCGA doesn't respect the trifling will of the voting public. He and Hall are a perfectly horrific pair using their power to destroy democracy in NC and in the USA. But we, the people, know we have the power - our country was built on such foundations to overthrow a king. We are watching, and will not forget the Assembly's majority's undemocratic actions.
10/22/25 7:28 AM	Susan Beasley		This makes Republicans look bad by changing the lines to get more seats. It also makes the process of elections unfair when the lines are redrawn so Republicans can have the most power.
10/22/25 7:38 AM	Linda Zang		Gerrymandering to benefit any political party is wrong.
10/22/25 7:43 AM	Lexi Barnhill		If you would judge the other side for doing it, don't do it yourselves. Please remember that you work for the people, not a single individual. I beg you to please refocus your efforts to things that will help 'we the people'. Help WNC, help people afford rent, help social programs to better our communities. Stop redistricting. Stop gerrymandering.
10/22/25 7:48 AM	Caroline Reece		Please focus on creating the budget and higher priority items instead of redrawing maps.
10/22/25 7:49 AM	Staci Smith		I believe decision-makers should reconsider moving forward with the current redistricting plan. This proposal raises serious concerns about fairness and representation. Redistricting should ensure that all communities have an equal voice in the democratic process‚Äînot divide or dilute the voting power of certain groups for political gain.
10/22/25 7:49 AM	Redistricting Comments Pauline Wakudumo		I believe these maps are completely unfair. They are not based on real representation and democracy. North Carolina deserves maps that reflect its citizens, not partisan interests. These maps are a shame and the Legislature should not be doing this. We live in a democracy and a key value is fair, honest, elections, not rigged pre-determined elections.
10/22/25 7:51 AM	Comments on Redistricting Chiaki Ito		Redistricting is only scheduled to happen after a census. That time is NOT now. You are purposely creating new districts to weaken the voice of the minority and adding more representation for the party already in power with a majority of the seats. You should be ashamed of yourselves for this power grab. Please stop cheating. Do your job and pass a budget.
10/22/25 7:53 AM	Mrs Tammy Hanson		Stop the gerrymandering. Give NC fair and legal elections. Voting should be made easier not harder.
10/22/25 7:56 AM	Mrs Penny Odom Holland		You were elected to represent the people. Do your job and pass a budget! Quit with the disgraceful and dishonest agenda.
10/22/25 7:57 AM	Malinda Kelleher		Redistricting is only scheduled to happen after a census. That time is NOT now. You are purposely creating new districts to weaken the voice of the minority and adding more representation for the party already in power with a majority of the seats. You should be ashamed of yourselves for this power grab. Please stop cheating

10/22/25 7:58 AM	Ms Patricia Michelet		North Carolinians all across the state deserve to elect their representatives in free and fair elections which give each citizen,Äôs vote the same weight and merit. This off cycle redistricting is a political power grab by NC republicans who know they can,Äôt keep their seats any other way. A vast majority of our citizens stand against this racist and classist regime. And we are working together teachers and farmers, veterans and students, rich and poor to ensure that we support and defend our best interests. I urge you to reject this gerrymandered map and keep democracy healthy in NC
10/22/25 7:59 AM	Deana King		Do not gerrymander. Do not cheat by drawing lines that do not allow true representation of the people of this state. I am ashamed of what the Republicans in our state are trying to do. It shows they know their policies are not what The people of NC want.
10/22/25 8:02 AM	Renee Hopegill		I,Äôm not sure how I wake up every day still surprised at the level of betrayal of America the Republican Party is carrying out. The political system is no longer about politics. It is simply a power grab. Great leaders are a result of looking out for other,Äôs best interests not by redrawing a map just so you can ,Áúwin.,Äù
10/22/25 8:02 AM	Anna LaBarre		The history books will show that NC Senate Republicans aligned themselves with a tyrant, on the very day that he demolished the East Wing of the White House,Ä¶ what will NC House Members do? North Carolinians turned out in record numbers for No Kings rallies on Saturday,Äîwhat the people want is clear. On which side of history will you stand,Äîwith the people or with the tyrant?
10/22/25 8:02 AM	Kelli Servello		I believe that if republicans were doing such a great job, they wouldn,Äôt need to even consider this redistricting plan. Obviously if you vote for this, you are fine with taking away millions on North Carolinians healthcare and food benefits. Grow a pair and stand up to Trump! Say NO!
10/22/25 8:02 AM	Ms linda Spallone		This is not the way to win with the people. Short term wins will equal long term losses. You will be remembered as cheaters liars and law breakers. You represent individual people. And you are ignoring the needs of us. You took an oath and you are ignoring that also. Your shame is public. Our disgust with you is endless
10/22/25 8:03 AM	Ms Catherine Robbins		Stop gerrymandering!
10/22/25 8:04 AM	Alicia Graham		Please be fair in redrawing the various districts in NC. Do not be bullied into allowing Donald Trump to dictate how our state should be governed. We the people are tired of being treated like second class citizens. Treat people like you wish to be treated!
10/22/25 8:07 AM	Deborah Metler		Redistricting for the third time in 10 years at the behest of a president who openly derides half the country is wrong. It shows how little confidence you have in your platform and agenda to get votes in based on an honest map - which we don't have even before another gerrymander re-draw. Pleas show some spine and respect for representation of all constituents, not just those the president considers worthy. Be better. Do better.
10/22/25 8:07 AM	Beth Lichtman		Unfair redistricting to benefit any party will not happen without a fight, it is not OK. As a new North Carolinian, I urge you to focus on the genuine work of representing constituents with integrity and fairness. We need the state budget to pass and address concerns of North Carolinians, like the rising cost of insurance. The funding of our schools is imperative and benefits everybody. DO NOT dilute our votes and DO NOT change the congressional map. Thank you for your time.
10/22/25 8:09 AM	Caroline Reece		Please focus on creating the budget and higher priority items instead of redrawing maps
10/22/25 8:11 AM	Dr Kevin McIntire		Republicans already have a near supermajority despite a minority of the voting population. Please do not disenfranchise liberal voters by redrawing the maps.
10/22/25 8:11 AM	Ashley Watson		It is an unethical breech of power of the federal government.
10/22/25 8:14 AM	Leave the districts alone Jennifer Canady		I oppose this action. Redistricting is not necessary at this time and should not be implemented for political gain. Republicans should be ashamed of themselves for this power grab. Signed,
10/22/25 8:15 AM	James Scotton		This is very obviously a power grab directed by the most corrupt president we have ever seen because he will not be able to keep power based on his awful performance. It is absolutely outrageous that the NC government is joining in on this power grab - Trump got <50% of the popular vote, Harris was < 2% lower than his margin, yet this government joins in on the absurd Trumpian propaganda that this past election was an "unprecedented and powerful mandate" and uses it as license to de facto disenfranchise roughly half the voters in this state of their representation at a federal level. If you desire to win elections, go out and earn votes instead of rigging the system and further silencing the voices of your constituents. This is a cowardly and corrupt action.
10/22/25 8:17 AM	Jim Roueche	Citizen of NC	I favor and support this improvement for our great Republican state. Sincerely

10/22/25 8:18 AM	Bob Hall		The radical, racist power grab by GOP legislators is a crime against democracy. Human rights are defrauded by political and personal greed. By their actions today, North Carolina Republican legislators have given the US Supreme Court more evidence of the urgent and continuing need for Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act. It's so shameful and sad that these legislators have so little respect for Black voters and their history in America.
10/22/25 8:19 AM	Dr Brian Boyd		Good morning, I do not approve of this redistricting plan. The House should not approve this map. I,Âôll go a step further, both parties have been guilty of partisan redistricting in the past. We, as North Carolina, should be a beacon to the rest of America and should work to design a district map blind to both partisan and racial data. The map should be based on common sense geographic and population characteristics, just like our state is. The various culture pockets in this state generally follow the flow of the land, from mountains west to coastal east and everything in between. Take this opportunity to show how North Carolina districts based on this multicolored canvas, allowing each geo cultural region to elect their representation so that the true American democratic experiment can continue as intended. Thank you for your time and consideration. Respectfully, Dr Brian Boyd
10/22/25 8:20 AM	Captain Steven Coffman		I am opposed to partisan redistricting. Registered Republican and Democratic voters are almost equally tied in North Carolina. The district maps should reflect that. They should reflect the voting record of the geographical areas that they live in. The redistricting plan dilutes the votes of people within an area. People should have the right to be represented in their area by an elected official who has their interests at heart. This is an unfair tactic and is in effect ,Äúbullying,Äù because it,Âôs using the current position to gain voters unfairly.
10/22/25 8:23 AM	Vote No on Gerrymandering Laura Casey		This proposed map is nothing more than a transparent attempt by a party, afraid they cannot win on popular votes, attempting to rig the voting system in their favor. More importantly, it unfairly dilutes the votes of many constituents by heavily weighting districts, on race and age demographics, to ensure +11 R or similar. It is de facto discrimination and vote tampering. And, frankly, it is a dereliction of duty to your constituents to approve such blatant discrimination at the ballot box. Do not approve these maps.
10/22/25 8:23 AM	K Mas		Please stop with Redistricting our neighborhoods. Our votes count and we have a voice.
10/22/25 8:25 AM	Kim Scott		If you can't win without cheating and taking away the voice of a single voter, you are failing at representing the state. If you need to rig it , you are just another dishonest politician , and should resign. There are plenty of good people fighting for democracy that do it with fairness and honesty. DO better!
10/22/25 8:27 AM	Penelope Parsons		Leave the districts alone. You will not be judged kindly by History,Ä¶or what is right.
10/22/25 8:27 AM	Linda Troiano		It's shameful and despicable what you are doing. It's called CHEATING!!!! Let the people decide!
10/22/25 8:29 AM	Thomas Johnson		49% of the people in NC did not vote for Trump and do not support MAGA. This is blatant election rigging. NC Republicans should be ashamed and embarrassed.
10/22/25 8:29 AM	Emma Turnbull		North Carolina's maps were already unfair and this redistricting only makes it worse. And Republicans in NC's state congress are openly admitting that they're doing this to try to maintain power during the midterms and advance Trump's agenda. That is so incredibly far from how a functioning democracy work. Let the people have their voice! We should have representation in Congress that is ACTUALLY representative of our diverse state.
10/22/25 8:30 AM	Katy Nasiff		A Government for the people by the people means the people choose their representatives, not the other way around. You should be able to win elections by having better ideas not by cherry picking your constituents. Do your jobs and pass a budget for the people on NC, not take their voices away.
10/22/25 8:33 AM	Ms Julie Coddington	Non-affiliated	Attempting to add more Republican representatives for our state unduly favors one party over the other. In my opinion EVERY state should have an even number of representatives. The current administration in the US is the worst in my memory. I'm ashamed and embarrassed for our country.
10/22/25 8:40 AM	John Gordon		Gerrymandering is illegal, yet politicians are afraid to run on their own merit. Instead you need to stack the cards in your favor. And now trump is leading the charge. There is no real need to subdivide cities and counties into voting districts. S?TOP. The number of representatives in any locality should be based on population only. Put the maps away.
10/22/25 8:40 AM	Matthew Caron		Gerrymandering causes bias voting you cannot pass the gerrymandering.
10/22/25 8:42 AM	Mr RICHARD JORDAN	retired	The proposed redistricting plan is clearly intended to disenfranchise minority voters and is racist. We should be better!

10/22/25 8:45 AM	Christopher Cosgrove		Maps should be submitted from an independent third party. This map does not reflect the will of the people; it serves only the narrow, partisan interests of those who drew it. The map utilizes classic gerrymandering techniques, such as 'cracking' and 'packing.' This process deliberately draws district lines to predetermine election outcomes, effectively eliminating competitive races and silencing the voices of thousands of voters across the state. The result is a political system where politicians choose their voters, rather than voters choosing their politicians. This is an absolute farce, and a slap in the face to the democratic principles upon which this country and this state were founded.
10/22/25 8:47 AM	Dr. Jo Ann Lee	Retired	I strongly believe in power of all the people. Let the people elect the officials; do not rig the system so the officials get to select voters who will elect them. Play fairly!
10/22/25 8:53 AM	Suzanne McConnell	Retired	I absolutely oppose the redistricting that is set to happen. How dare the Republicans attempt to silence the voices of a large segment of the population. You must all be running scared and feel this is the only way you can win. Where is your backbone to stand up to Donald Trump!
10/22/25 8:54 AM	Corelutta Reid		Please do not accept this proposed map. It is unfair.
10/22/25 8:57 AM	Mrs Jane Elfring		This redistricting move is a blatant attempt to influence the results of elections. If your party is so wonderful, why not win fair and square?
10/22/25 8:57 AM	Dawn Ruminski		Anytime a government changes voting lines to support the party in power it is wrong and sets a dangerous precedent. Please do not pass this.
10/22/25 9:00 AM	Anna Petit		As a citizen and resident of Asheville, that has suffered at the hands of Post-Helene federal government neglect, I demand that you allow the people of North Carolina to select representatives that represent them. The attempt to disenfranchise the people and allow representatives to select who THEY chose to represent through redistricting is UNAMERICAN and antithetical to the democratic process. Shame on the representatives that vote to ignore half of their constituents, whether it is through the desire for power or the lack of will to stand up for the American experiment against a clear plan to dominate the people instead of represent all of their interests. I hope you will find the courage to remember your sworn oaths to speak for US, your constituents, instead of your own interests or those dictated to you by your donors or federal overlords.
10/22/25 9:01 AM	Deborah Gerard		NO! There is no need to redistrict the voting map! You are taking away voters rights to fair voting! The people don't want a new map. Listen to your people!!!
10/22/25 9:03 AM	Elizabeth Snyder		Please do not proceed with this redistricting. It is out of line with the constituents of NC. It has been openly said that they are being redrawn to gain a seat for one party over the other. And that is an abuse of power. That is not how democracy should work.
10/22/25 9:05 AM	Ms Ann May	Unaffiliated, NC citizen	I am an NC citizen and registered voter who wants all NC citizens qualified to vote to be represented fairly. I am not in favor of congressional districts being mapped to favor one political party of another. Please do not vote to change the current NC Congressional Districts map.
10/22/25 9:08 AM	Yasmine Ederer		Stop the gerrymandering and political games for one party or the other. Your job is to ensure that all North Carolinians have quality education, healthcare, a living wage and a good quality of life. Start doing your job!
10/22/25 9:11 AM	Josephine Webb		I strongly oppose the redistricting.
10/22/25 9:11 AM	Andrew Goldman		This is nothing but an immoral power grab. It is an abuse of power with no excuse and you all should be ashamed.
10/22/25 9:16 AM	Do the work Lisa Schwartz		Please do the important work we elected you to do, not this weird power grab. There are lots of things facing NC. Have you passed a budget yet? Addressed rising health insurance costs? Helped us in rural WNC? Nope. It,Âôs just politics and scrambling for power from y,Âôall. PLEASE we are begging you to DO YOUR JOBS.
10/22/25 9:16 AM	Miss NANCY Navarro	Retired civil servant	I adamantly oppose redistricting. If this goes through, my only hope will be that enough Republicans see through this stunt and vote you out of office. Why don't you try winning an election legally, without bending over every time that man says to. I have only lived in North Carolina for a few years and this is enough to make me want to leave the state.
10/22/25 9:18 AM	Mr. Joseph Peascoe		As a lifelong Republican voter, this gerrymandering nonsense is unethical and seems pretty illegal. Look, if this is the direction the GOP wants to go, you better fucking believe that every single one of my registered Republican family members (50 of us) will be voting for all democrats moving forward. The MAGA dominated GOP is an absolute embarrassment to the Party of Lincoln. If you wanna fucking play this game, be ready to get wiped by the Dems in the next election. This bullshit is unamerican and I am going to be a one man MAGA fucking wrecking ball. The MAGA RepubliKKKans bring shame to the Party of Lincoln. And why the fuck is there only one person of color in the entire elected body of the GOP elected officials in the NC Supreme Court, General Assembly, and NC state senate? We ain,Âôt buying this bullshit. Joseph Peascoe Lifelong Registered Republican voter Greensboro, NC.

10/22/25 9:19 AM	Mrs Christina Graham		Hi, my name is Christina Graham and I,Äôm a constituent from Weaverville, NC. I'm writing to urge the House to oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina,Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/22/25 9:19 AM	M C	Chatham County voter	This is a horrific effort to subvert the will of voters through manipulation. Gerrymandering for partisan purposes is un-American and a despicable waste of our tax dollars. Maps were just re-drawn recently. There is no logical basis for revising them at this time. Licking the boots of a despot trying to assert unchecked dominance is not helping our state. Your job is to work for the people of this state, not Donald Trump. If you can,Äôt win the votes you need fairly, that would mean it,Äôs time for reflection ,Äî not cheating. The people of North Carolina deserve legislators who stand up for our rights and put their constituents first. This does nothing except make NC legislators look like pathetic pawns determined to cheat their constituents on behalf of billionaires destroying the foundations of our country.
10/22/25 9:20 AM	Mr R T		Let me make one thing clear, if you guys are saying you don't represent anyone besides Republicans when more than half of the state is full of unaffiliated and Democratic voters, then you don't get our taxes anymore. You understand that? No representation, no taxation. You still haven't set a budget. You pathetic power hungry fools, and have no idea how badly this is going to backfire on you.
10/22/25 9:21 AM	Mrs Lea Charlton		No restricting! My husband and I are both very concerned about how unhinged the republicans are. We may have no country left when Trump is through with us. The republicans are doing absolutely nothing but capitulating and giving up their power. We no longer vote republican bc of this.
10/22/25 9:21 AM	Redistricting Thomas Van Pelt		Hi, my name is Thomas Van Pelt and I,Äôm a constituent from Weaverville. I'm writing to urge the House to oppose attempts to redraw North Carolina,Äôs congressional district maps before the 2026 midterms. This blatantly partisan redistricting process would set a dangerous political precedent and rob North Carolinians of their rights. North Carolinians on both sides of the aisle agree that voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around. Thank you for your time and consideration.
10/22/25 9:24 AM	Julie Welsford		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/22/25 9:26 AM	Dr. Judith Kramer	Resident of Chatham County	If the proposed district map is approved, the size and extent of proposed District 1 would make clear that you have removed the opportunity of minority voters to be represented in Congress. In this state with ~50% Republicans and 50% Democrats, having only 3 Democratic representatives would reveal the power grab of the Republican-run NC house and Senate in this mid-decade, illegal gerrymander to deny representation of democratic voices. Vote against this extreme gerrymander!
10/22/25 9:27 AM	Allyson Shaffer		North Carolinians deserve free and fair elections. This map is an attempt to allow politicians to choose their voters and to suppress voters from choosing their politicians. It does not reflect the electorate in this state - far from it. And it's being rushed through in hopes we don't notice the attempt to further disenfranchise the hard-working people of this state. Voters in this state do NOT support gerrymandering. This is ridiculous; this map must be rejected.
10/22/25 9:27 AM	Heather Deck		I am opposed to any interim redistricting. This should not pass and is yet another erosion of democracy. If you truly care about governing in the best in interest of every resident of this state, you would know that bipartisanship is the best way to secure strong, sensible policies. Spend your time implementing a non-partisan process as opposed to yet more partisan power grabs that will hurt most NC residents. As a director of a NC non-profit, we can no longer afford to provide quality health care for our employees. Our rates are increasing 28% for next year. I would hope you would work to pass a budget that offsets the problems created by the federal tax bill.
10/22/25 9:28 AM	Mrs Jacqueline Katz		Just don,Äôt do this! Wrong time, and wrong action. You can redistricting because of your numbers but what about your ethics. In a time of insanity , stand up and say that you will take your chances on the judgement of your citizens. That is what North Carolinians should do. And then put redistricting in the hands of an independent commission, with balanced representation so that all voices have a say in what laws are made.
10/22/25 9:29 AM	Opposed to redistricting Hannah Schrum		I am opposed to the midcensus redistricting. I think redistricting should be done by nonpartisan commission only, so that voters are choosing their representatives fairly. There is no need to redistrict in between census terms. Thank you
10/22/25 9:29 AM	Audrey Berlowitz		You are not holding full public hearings on this. You draw the maps to only benefit the Republican party ---going farther than before. The democratic process is under assault, and I don't know how we as a state or as a nation will recover.
10/22/25 9:29 AM	Mrs. Bernadette Jackson		Please do not do this. This is a democracy which the bedrock of a democratic society is voting. People have bleed and died for all to vote. Don,Äôt take the right to vote for any voters elected representatives. Don Davis won his seat fair and square.

10/22/25 9:30 AM	Traci Malone		There was no public notice. Maps were revealed on Thursday and the votes started on Monday. Republicans are rushing the process because they,Äôre trying to avoid accountability from the people they,Äôre disenfranchising. North Carolina is a purple state, and this map is anything but. An 11,Äì3 map in a 50,Äì50 state is political theft, plain and simple. Roughly half of North Carolinians vote for Democrats, roughly half for Republicans. An 11-3 map is a mockery of North Carolina voters,Äô right to a ,Äúfree and fair election.,Äù You WILL be voted out if you support this!
10/22/25 9:32 AM	Gerrymandering Ky Linen		The citizens of North Carolina deserve a map that ensures we are all represented and creates a level playing field among political parties.
10/22/25 9:32 AM	Mr. & Mrs. Richard Benjamin	Retired Public Servants	We are deeply saddened and concerned about current legislative actions to redraw Districts; specifically to favor a specific Party. It,Äôs not right, it,Äôs not American. And it concerns us more, when this action is only being done to appease the wimps of our current President; this is really wrong, it does not represent North Carolina. Don,Äôt divide our Country and State is this openly biased manner. Thank you for not supporting gerrymandering.
10/22/25 9:33 AM	Daisy Trotter		Restricting public comment
10/22/25 9:36 AM	Sarah Deane		I am a Durham resident and have lived in the Triangle for more than 13 years. I love North Carolina. I love the people, the beauty, the culture, and everything about the state. What I don,Äôt love is our unrepresentative government. I do not understand why the GOP thinks that they can sidestep the will of the people at each and every turn. North Carolina is a 50-50 state yet the GOP holds 70% of the seats. The GOP can,Äôt win unless they cheat. We the people deserve fair maps. We the people deserve independent non-partisan redistricting. We the people deserve a fair representation at the state level. The majority party is kowtowing to the most unpopular president ever and we the people will suffer. Trump is destroying the heart of our democracy and laughing in our faces while he rakes in billions. Grow a spine! Represent the people of NC, not the billionaires or a megalomaniac who lives in an autocratic bubble. The North Carolina GOP is just another part of Trump,Äôs grift. It,Äôs pathetic. It,Äôs weak. It will not last. We the people reject your gerrymandering. We the people reject your redistricting. We the people will save our democracy from the spineless cowards of the GOP.
10/22/25 9:38 AM	T Battle		Please reject the 2025 proposed maps, which are an illegal attempt to racially gerrymander the NC congressional districts. This is attempt to seize power for the GOP and it is unacceptable. Vote NO.
10/22/25 9:41 AM	COL (ret) Deitra Trotter		North Carolina needs an independent commission to establish districts that represent residents in a transparent, reasonable manner comprised of informed and nonpartisan members. Any proposal for redistricting should also be not to a vote by the people affected. This action takes choice away from the people who voted in the last election & attempts to favor votes in one direction for the next election. It is wrong.
10/22/25 9:41 AM	Larry Sorrells	retired Postal Service	This proposal to redistrict voting districts in North Carolina is ethically wrong and illegal. Do your job as a representative of the people of our state. Your job is to follow your oath to your constituents and not the wishes of a president. This is a power grab first and foremost and I urge not to support or vote for this measure.
10/22/25 9:42 AM	Ryan James	Private Citizen- Unaffiliated Voter	I strongly oppose this redistricting plan, and request it not be passed. While upfront in purpose, it is entirely dishonest, as it is an effort by a party in power to change the rules after the game has started in order to maintain the lead (in seats) by making it harder for other parties to effectively win an election. We wouldn't allow the rules to change to preserve leads even in youth sports, so why is it suddenly a good idea in government? It is not. In fact, a vast majority of North Carolinians oppose gerrymandering, because we value honesty. The NC legislature should hold itself to a higher standard than this. If the majority party wants to maintain its' lead, do so by running better candidates with better ideas. If you have to cheat to win, it probably means you know your ideas/candidates aren't what the people want. And that is the dishonesty. Work harder for better ideas, and hold yourselves to actions where you could look your kids in the eyes and say "We did this the right way."
10/22/25 9:44 AM	Mr Mark Mickunas		Stop this unprecedented raw power grab to rig the midterms!

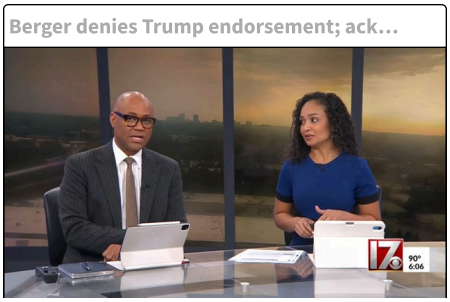
10/22/25 9:44 AM	Dr. Vincent Russell		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina‚Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians‚Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters‚Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/22/25 9:45 AM	Miss Amy Farrington		I‚Äôm disgusted and furious with this redistricting! Elected officials represent the people ‚Äî all of the people ‚Äî not just the ones they want to represent. This is not acceptable!
10/22/25 9:45 AM	Malaika Elcock		This vote will take away the rights of voters to choose their elected officials. The people are getting tired of governments blatant disrespect towards its citizens.
10/22/25 9:47 AM	Linda Pannullo		Redistricting to pick up an extra seat to keep your policies going, well, is a bad policy. It is un American to rig elections- if you want to live in the United States of Hungary, where the outcomes of elections are predetermined, then please move there while lovers of the Constitution and Democracy will work to make out Union better for all, regardless of party. Shameless grab because the republican positions are so unpopular and more so every day- Trump's approval rating keeps dropping - you can't win on your policies so you cheat!? Who amongst you will have a spine and show your love the country and the oath of office to vote against this?
10/22/25 9:47 AM	Nancy Ramsey		Of the 14 current congressional districts, 10 representatives are currently Republican. At present, the representation of the NC population is already skewed toward Republican leadership despite the number of currently registered Republicans, 2,303,558 to the 2,310, 564 registered Democrats. You won't find me or 2,938,830 other unaffiliated registered voters in either of those lists. NC is a swing state for a reason. We citizens have the option to choose who is best for us, not because of political party but because of which leader will uphold the values and laws we want for our state and union. To redistrict an area that would yield yet another Republican seat only diminishes the voices of over half of registered voters in North Carolina further. A free and fair election process to uphold a fair and more perfect union is the goal. This North Carolinian is opposed to this redistricting plan.
10/22/25 9:48 AM	Bria Warshawsky	Self	I do not support this redirecting and suggest that a non partisan process be put in place moving forward to consider and recommend district maps.
10/22/25 9:49 AM	The Honorable Katie Kenlan	Chatham County	I strongly object to the current proposal of redistricting being pushed through by NC Republicans. Our democracy can't function when elections are determined by partisan gerrymandering, as in the current proposed legislation. The only way to end these rigged maps for good is through real reform--with independent redistricting commissions to take that power out of politicians' hands, and proportional representation to ensure every voter's voice counts
10/22/25 9:49 AM	ms sheila clendenning		You represent the people of NC. Your oath is to the constitutions of the state and the nation. We the people do not bow to nor accommodate the wishes of the current POTUS. You should not either. VOTE NO on current redistricting maps.
10/22/25 9:49 AM	Shame!!! Jay Franck		The recent gerrymandering of our state district map adjustments is absolutely disgusting. Maps should not be redrawn to favor either political party but you have done just that,‚Äîusing these maps as a political weapon, and stripping away the true voice of our state,‚Äôs constituents. Not only is this gerrymandering, but it is racially-targeted gerrymandering. Shame on you! Our state deserves better!
10/22/25 9:53 AM	Mrs. Ren√©e Hayes	Democracy Forward Triad	Gerrymandering in any form by either party is unethical and should be banned. History shows leaders from both parties (from Ronald Reagan to the present) speaking out in support of independent committees,‚Äô drawing of redistricting maps after a census is completed each decade. Kowtowing to this president,‚Äôs wishes to grab power illegally by relinquishing its power in NC demonstrates the weakness of the Republican Party in our state and denies the ability of constituents to hold elected legislators accountable for actions harmful to our state.
10/22/25 9:54 AM	Mrs Dawn Ehli		This is not necessary. Let us vote not gerrymandered. Also pass the darn budget!!
10/22/25 9:57 AM	Mrs DEBORAH STRUBE	Independents for Democracy	Redistricting should be entrusted to an independent, nonpartisan body,‚Äînot wielded as a tool for partisan power grabs. The integrity of our democracy depends on fair representation, and that begins with drawing district lines that reflect communities, not political agendas. When politicians manipulate maps to entrench their own power, they silence voters, fracture neighborhoods, and erode public trust. This is not governance,‚Äîit‚Äôs gerrymandering, plain and simple. North Carolinians deserve a redistricting process that prioritizes transparency, accountability, and the will of the people over partisan advantage. Period.
10/22/25 9:58 AM	Ms Elizabeth Swift	Indivisible Common Ground WNC	I‚Äôm disgusted by this brazen attempt to kowtow to mr. Trump- legislators are supposed to be chosen by the people, not the other way round. It may be ‚Äúlegal,‚Äù but it is not right, in any moral universe.

10/22/25 10:01 AM	Emily Charters		It is absolutely unacceptable to pander to a criminal president such as Donald Trump by depriving North Carolinians of their representation. The maps are already wildly unfair and this new map should not be passed. Please take a moment and listen to your heart, if you have one, and realize that North Carolina deserves better than this. Do not pass this map.
10/22/25 10:05 AM	Mike Cook		All for it! Republicans are under-represented because of race based district practices. Vote yes!
10/22/25 10:05 AM	NO GERRYMANDERING Mandy Hitchcock		I vehemently oppose the Republicans naked power grab. No mid-decade redistricting. And stop appeasing Trump or democracy as vanishing in front of our eyes, and you,Äôre doing nothing to stop it.
10/22/25 10:06 AM	Student Kayla Cox	Unaffiliated	Section 2 of the VRA explains how this racially gerrymandered map is unconstitutional. More than 80% of North Carolinians disagree with this map. I am beyond disappointed in NC. It hasn't been ten years since the census either. Falling in line behind Donald Trump's illegal and unconstitutional orders and actions will have immense consequences not just for NC but America.
10/22/25 10:07 AM	Kayneynia Burney		I oppose the redistricting idea. Do not bring more conflict to NC
10/22/25 10:07 AM	Belinda Wray		You were voted into office to represent ALL the people of NC. Your oath is to both the state's and the nation's constitution, not to any government office nor political party. We, the people of North Carolina, do not bow to nor grovel to the wishes of the current POTUS. You should not either. VOTE NO on current redistricting maps.
10/22/25 10:08 AM	Mr Elias Patino		How is this happening without the people getting a vote? This is outrageous. When midterms come around we will vote the other way.
10/22/25 10:08 AM	Angelique Roberts		This is unconscionable. You are grabbing power at the cost of NC residents, of American citizens who have the right to be represented in their state and country. You do not work for Trump or the GOP. You work for your constituents. You're creating a government and a country we'll all regret.
10/22/25 10:09 AM	Mrs Amy Wolfe	Self	I don't support the redistricting. This is a spineless attempt to get more Republican votes and highly unethical. Please don't abuse the power you have been entrusted with to promote a party's agenda. You represent all of us. Please show it.
10/22/25 10:11 AM	Mrs Amy Pearson	Self	Please do the right thing. This is so far from what we all stand for. It is shameful and I hope you all think about it again. As our paid representatives we deserve better. Thank you
10/22/25 10:12 AM	Vote NO to map changing Kathryn Venters		Should not change maps to benefit parties. It is not right to the citizens of this country! Please, keep it fair to the citizens of our state.
10/22/25 10:12 AM	Heather Fleming		Absolutely not! Don't placate the fascist regime. Work for and protect your people of NC.
10/22/25 10:13 AM	Mackenzie DeNardis		North Carolinians deserve leadership that works for us, not politicians who twist the rules to protect their own power. This bill is a cowardly display of blatant pandering to Trump, cheating citizens out of fair representation. Buckle up, because you're about to see democracy in action. Despite your best efforts to weaken the system, you WILL be voted out of your jobs.
10/22/25 10:14 AM	Ms Christine Zimmermann		I ask that you refrain from mid-decade congressional redistricting that would further distort North Carolina,Äôs federal voting maps and erode any North Carolinians,Äô power to elect candidates of their choice. Gerrymandering violates core principles of fairness, accountability, and limited government. Allowing politicians to manipulate district lines for partisan advantage undermines the constitutional promise of equal representation and weakens voters,Äô ability to hold their leaders accountable. While we elect state and federal lawmakers under a partisan banner, we must carefully guard the People,Äôs confidence that, once elected, you will represent all North Carolinians and protect their votes equally. Gerrymandering disrupts local control by dividing natural communities and concentrating power in the hands of political insiders rather than the people. True conservative values demand transparency, integrity, and competition,Äîvictory earned through ideas and persuasion, not through the manipulation of electoral maps. Ending gerrymandering upholds both the Constitution and the moral duty to ensure government remains accountable to the people it serves. 76% of North Carolina voters say it should be illegal for gerrymandering to be used to discriminate against voters based on their political party. There is also strong, bipartisan agreement on this point among voters, with 66% of Republicans, 79% of Democrats, and 82% of Unaffiliated voters saying the type of partisan gerrymandering being considered by Senate leadership should be against the law.
10/22/25 10:15 AM	Lisa Rademacher		Call this like it is- an attempt to keep Trump and co happy by allowing Republicans to gain more control. I,Äôm unaffiliated and am so tired of nonsense like this. We need elected officials to grow a spine and start doing their job- representing the people, NOT doing Trump,Äôs bidding.

10/22/25 10:16 AM	Kedrann Hill	I'm very disappointed that my state legislative body is trying to dilute my vote with this redistricting map. We've had more maps than elections since 2020. I believe gerrymandering should be illegal for all parties because people have the right to have their vote heard in all cases without parties manipulating who's vote counts & who's doesn't by people trying to cling to their own power. It is disappointing & frankly despicable, no matter what party is leading.
10/22/25 10:18 AM	Dr. James Arnold	I,Äôm a physician nearing retirement. Most of my colleagues and I strongly oppose the redistricting, or redrawing of our North Carolina congressional map. We find this abhorrent, going against traditional North Carolina values. We view this as a capitulation to this corrupt administration. Your actions do not represent your constituents. We do request a meeting as soon as possible- even if it,Äôs a zoom or virtual conference, to be heard on this matter. I do request a reply from you - the NC legislature, to my request. I also ask that you reverse the decision to gerrymander like this. Sincerely, Dr. Arnold
10/22/25 10:22 AM	Dr. Dorothy Anderson	Please protect the voices of all our citizens and vote against redistricting which is aimed at decreasing the power of some of our citizens' voices. Help us to protect our great democratic system.
10/22/25 10:30 AM	Jennifer Overholt	No political party should be allowed to draw it's own voting maps. That responsibility belongs to an independent body. When a party manipulates district lines to secure power, it's not strategy - it's cheating and it's unAmerican. In a State like NC, with so many rural and dispersed communities, it's a reminder that land doesn't vote - people do. Silencing or diminishing the people's voice is simply wrong. Thank you.

EXHIBIT 6

64°



CAPITOL REPORT

Senator Berger denies accepting potential Trump endorsement in exchange for redistricting, but says redrawing could happen

by: Deana Harley
Posted: Sep 25, 2025 / 02:10 PM EDT
Updated: Sep 26, 2025 / 12:03 AM EDT

SHARE

RALEIGH, N.C. (WNCN) — Top Republican North Carolina state Senator Phil Berger is expected to accept an endorsement from President Donald Trump in his 2026 primary challenge in exchange for redrawing congressional maps, several sources told CBS 17 on Thursday.

Berger, a longtime leader in the North Carolina Senate, is running against Rockingham County Sheriff Sam Page. He currently represents District 26, which includes Rockingham and Guilford counties.

The potential endorsement may come on any day in exchange for Berger redrawing Congressional District 1 – all part of an effort to oust current U.S. Representative Democrat Don Davis, sources told CBS 17.

North Carolina Republican Senate leader Phil Berger speaks at a Senate Education Committee hearing on Wednesday, July 14, 2021, in the Legislative Office Building in Raleigh, N.C. (AP Photo/Bryan Anderson)

Senator Berger has served in the state Senate since 2000. The race against Page is the first major challenge the senator has faced in keeping his seat. Berger already has endorsements from other state officials, including State Auditor Dave Boliek.

CBS 17 has reached out to Berger's team and the White House for comment, but we have not heard back.

Democratic House Rep. Deborah Ross issued a statement in response to the news in which she wrote:

> "If reports are true, North Carolina Republicans have truly stooped to a new low. Accepting a political endorsement in exchange for engaging in partisan gerrymandering is nothing less than blatant, unapologetic corruption. North Carolina Republicans have already rigged our maps in their favor, but they are now planning to go even further simply to appease Donald Trump.
>
> "From Texas to Missouri and now North Carolina, Republicans are waging a war on American voting rights because they know the truth – their policies are unpopular, their candidates are unlikable, and they can't win a majority in Congress without stacking the deck in their favor.
>
> "We will fight these corrupt redistricting plans in every single state. We will fight for our democracy and for American voters who

READ NEXT >

Never Done Growing: 97-year-old Raleigh garden center employee says his job keeps him young

READ NEXT >

Next story in 5

Cancel

"I've been watching what's going on in California with Gavin Newsom trying to steal the Republican majority in Congress. We have drawn four Congressional maps in the last six years in redistricting fights with Democrats because of their sue-until-blue strategy. If we have to draw one more map this year, we will. That said, I've never spoken to President Trump about this or an endorsement. The Democrats are spreading lies to hurt President Trump. #ncpol"

In addition to Democrats, other Republican voices are speaking out regarding the possible redistricting. This includes Sam Page.

Page is the current Sheriff of Rockingham County, and running against Berger as a Republican for Senate.

In a Facebook post, Page made the following statement:

"I've been hearing for for a little while now that Phil Berger's team has been puffing out their chests and bragging that they have President Donald J. Trump over a barrel—because if he wants those maps redrawn, he's going to have to endorse Phil Berger.

I say, if President Trump wants those maps redrawn, that SHOULD come with no strings attached—but I guess Phil Berger doesn't think so.

CONTENT CONTINUES BELOW SURVEY

Berger denies Trump endorsement; ack...

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

ink the local business community in your town / neighborhood is strong?

do

don't

* By clicking "NEXT" I submit my answers and consent to the use of cookies for research and advertising purposes; I have read and agree to the CivicScience Privacy Policy and Terms of Service

NEXT *

Let me be clear—our Commander in Chief doesn't owe Phil Berger a damn thing! #ncpol"

This is a developing story. Check later for updates.

ADD AS PREFERRED SOURCE ON GOOGLE

Copyright 2025 Nexstar Media Inc. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten, or redistributed.

BESTREVIEWS

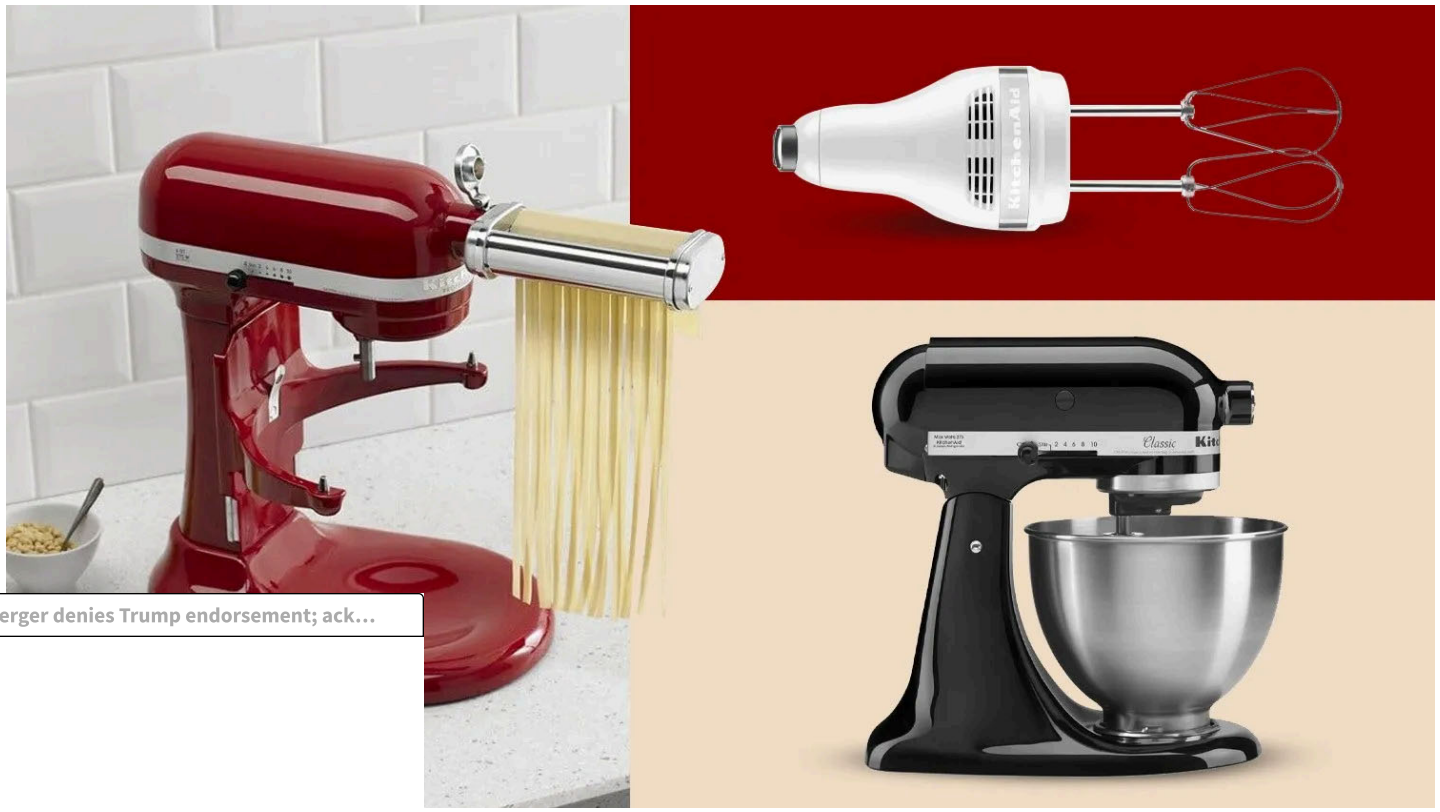
READ NEXT >

Never Done Growing: 97-year-old Raleigh garden center employee says his job keeps him young

READ NEXT >

Next story in 5

Berger denies Trump endorsement; ack...



40% off ahead of ...

Amazon is dropping KitchenAid deals up to 40% off right now, which is excellent timing if you need to stock your kitchen before holiday baking season.

READ NEXT >

Never Done Growing: 97-year-old Raleigh garden center employee says his job keeps him young

READ NEXT >

Next story in 5

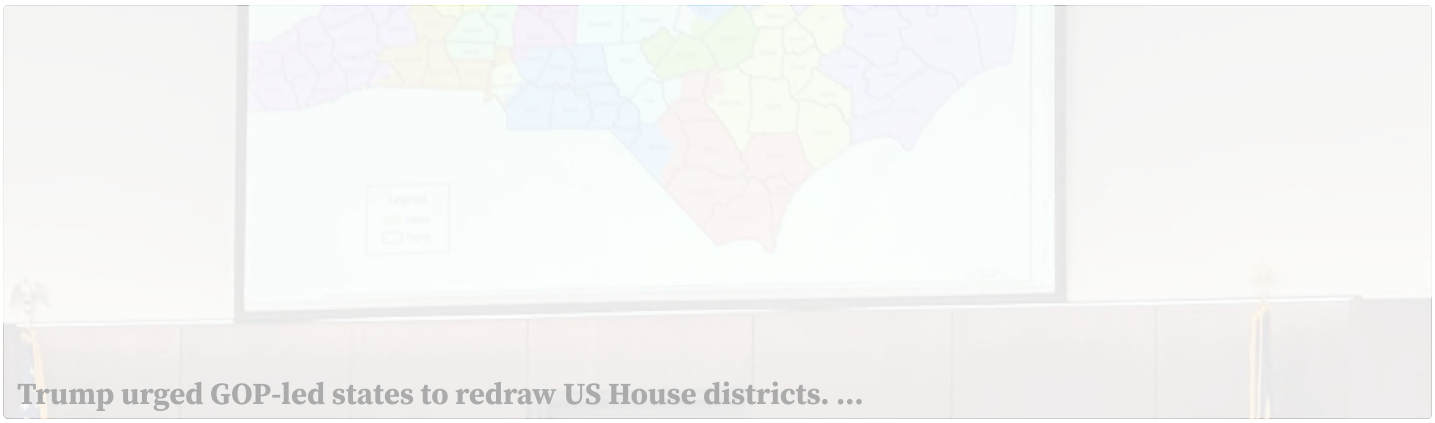
Berger denies Trump endorsement; ack...

38K 5-star reviews ...

The Revlon Infrared Hair Dryer has racked up 38,000 five-star reviews and more than 20,000 purchases in the last month alone.

View All BestReviews

TOP STORIES



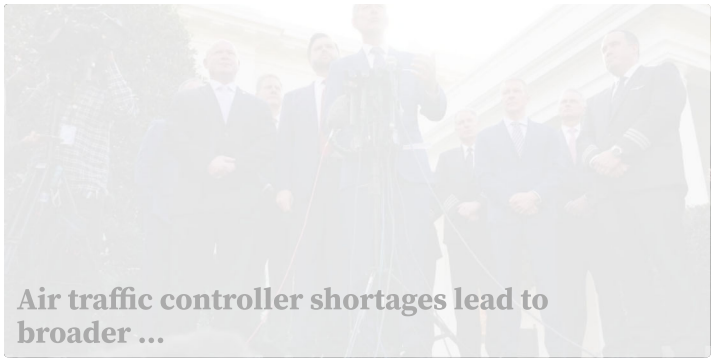
Trump urged GOP-led states to redraw US House districts. ...

READ NEXT >

Never Done Growing: 97-year-old Raleigh garden center employee says his job keeps him young

READ NEXT >

Next story in 5



Militia attack on hospital in Darfur came in waves, ...

Air traffic controller shortages lead to broader ...

Top Stories

MORE STORIES

Berger denies Trump endorsement; ack...

es lead to broader ...

to redraw US House districts. ...

igate NC Rep. Cecil Brockman

rrested in Michigan in ...

Militia attack on hospital in Darfur came in waves, ...

Wisconsin becomes the 36th state to limit cellphones ...

Ohio panel and Virginia lawmakers move forward with ...

What's the filibuster and why does Trump want to ...

More Stories

CBS17.com Video

READ NEXT >

Never Done Growing: 97-year-old Raleigh garden center employee says his job keeps him young

READ NEXT >

Next story in 5

Berger denies Trump endorsement; ack...

High-speed chase on I-95 ends in crash in Harnett ...
45 minutes ago

Frost advisory in central North Carolina on Nov. ...
2 hours ago

Camp Lejeune Marine arrested in Durham
4 hours ago

Former Raleigh police chief to lead Charlotte-...
4 hours ago

Staying safe from Halloween thieves, vandals
4 hours a

More Videos

TRENDING STORIES

1. 97-year-old Raleigh man says gardening 'keeps him ...
2. Sex offender facing new charges in Lee, Moore Co.: ...
3. NC deputy kills teen suspect of grandmother's murder: ...
4. NC man wanted for killing grandmother, stabbing deputy: ...
5. NC State's guaranteed admission program expands
6. Enloe High assistant principal faces DWI in Knightdale ...

READ NEXT >

Never Done Growing: 97-year-old Raleigh garden center employee says his job keeps him young

READ NEXT >

Next story in 5

WNCN

Local News That Matters

News

Weather

Video

Sports

My Carolina

Meet the CBS 17 team

Contact Us

Children's programming

EEO Report

2023 EEO Audit Response

Berger denies Trump endorsement; ack...

Nexstar CC Certification

GET IT ON Google Play

Stay Connected

Privacy Policy 09/30/2025

Terms Of Use

FCC Applications

Public File Assistance Contact

Subscribe To Push Notifications

The Hill

NewsNation

BestReviews

Content Licensing

Nexstar Digital

READ NEXT >

Never Done Growing: 97-year-old Raleigh garden center employee says his job keeps him young

READ NEXT >

Next story in 5

EXHIBIT 7

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
MIDDLE DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA

SHAUNA WILLIAMS, et al., Plaintiffs, v. REPRESENTATIVE HUGH BLACKWELL, in his official capacity as Chair of the House Standing Committee on Elections, et al., Defendants.	Civil Action No. 23 CV 1057
NORTH CAROLINA STATE CONFERENCE OF THE NAACP, et al., Plaintiffs, v. PHILIP BERGER, in his official capacity as the President Pro Tempore of the North Carolina Senate, et al., Defendants.	Civil Action No. 23 CV 1104

DECLARATION OF SHAUNA WILLIAMS

I, Shauna Williams, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, hereby state:

1. My name is Shauna Williams. I am competent to testify and declare the following facts based on my personal knowledge.
2. I am a plaintiff in the above-captioned case.
3. I am a Black citizen of the United States and of the State of North Carolina.
4. I am a registered voter and resident of Warrenton in Warren County.

5. Under the 2022 Congressional Plan, I was a registered voter in Congressional District 1.
6. Under the 2023 Congressional Plan, I was a registered voter in Congressional District 1.
7. Under the 2025 Congressional Plan, I am a registered voter in Congressional District 1.
8. I intend to vote in future congressional elections.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on October 30, 2025

Shauna Williams

Shauna Williams

EXHIBIT 8

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
MIDDLE DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA

SHAUNA WILLIAMS, et al., Plaintiffs, v. REPRESENTATIVE HUGH BLACKWELL, in his official capacity as Chair of the House Standing Committee on Elections, et al., Defendants.	Civil Action No. 23 CV 1057
NORTH CAROLINA STATE CONFERENCE OF THE NAACP, et al., Plaintiffs, v. PHILIP BERGER, in his official capacity as the President Pro Tempore of the North Carolina Senate, et al., Defendants.	Civil Action No. 23 CV 1104

DECLARATION OF VIOLA RYALS FIGUEROA

I, Viola Ryals Figueroa, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, hereby state:

1. My name is Viola Ryals Figueroa. I am competent to testify and declare the following facts based on my personal knowledge.
2. I am a plaintiff in the above-captioned case.
3. I am a Black citizen of the United States and of the State of North Carolina.
4. I am a registered voter and resident of Goldsboro in Wayne County.

5. Under the 2022 Congressional Plan, I was a registered voter in Congressional District 13.
6. Under the 2023 Congressional Plan, I was a registered voter in Congressional District 1.
7. Under the 2025 Congressional Plan, I am a registered voter in Congressional District 3.
8. I intend to vote in future congressional elections.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on October 30, 2025

Viola Kyals Figueroa

EXHIBIT 9

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
MIDDLE DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA

SHAUNA WILLIAMS, et al., Plaintiffs, v. REPRESENTATIVE HUGH BLACKWELL, in his official capacity as Chair of the House Standing Committee on Elections, et al., Defendants.	Civil Action No. 23 CV 1057
NORTH CAROLINA STATE CONFERENCE OF THE NAACP, et al., Plaintiffs, v. PHILIP BERGER, in his official capacity as the President Pro Tempore of the North Carolina Senate, et al., Defendants.	Civil Action No. 23 CV 1104

DECLARATION OF DAVID JONES

I, David Jones, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, hereby state:

1. My name is David Jones. I am competent to testify and declare the following facts based on my personal knowledge.
2. I am a plaintiff in the above-captioned case.
3. I am a Black citizen of the United States and of the State of North Carolina.
4. I am a registered voter and resident of Snow Hill in Greene County.

5. Under the 2022 Congressional Plan, I was a registered voter in Congressional District 1.
6. Under the 2023 Congressional Plan, I was a registered voter in Congressional District 1.
7. Under the 2025 Congressional Plan, I am a registered voter in Congressional District 3.
8. I intend to vote in future congressional elections.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on October 31, 2025

David Jones

David Jones

EXHIBIT 10

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
MIDDLE DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA

SHAUNA WILLIAMS, et al., Plaintiffs, v. REPRESENTATIVE HUGH BLACKWELL, in his official capacity as Chair of the House Standing Committee on Elections, et al., Defendants.	Civil Action No. 23 CV 1057
NORTH CAROLINA STATE CONFERENCE OF THE NAACP, et al., Plaintiffs, v. PHILIP BERGER, in his official capacity as the President Pro Tempore of the North Carolina Senate, et al., Defendants.	Civil Action No. 23 CV 1104

DECLARATION OF JIMMY COCHRAN

I, Jimmy Cochran, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, hereby state:

1. My name is Jimmy Cochran. I am competent to testify and declare the following facts based on my personal knowledge.
2. I am a plaintiff in the above-captioned case.
3. I am a Black citizen of the United States and of the State of North Carolina.
4. I am a registered voter and resident of Kinston in Lenoir County.

5. Under the 2022 Congressional Plan, I was a registered voter in Congressional District 3.
6. Under the 2023 Congressional Plan, I was a registered voter in Congressional District 1.
7. Under the 2025 Congressional Plan, I am a registered voter in Congressional District 3.
8. I intend to vote in future congressional elections.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on October 30, 2025

Jimmy Cochran

EXHIBIT 11

An official website of the State of North Carolina How you know

DECEMBER 20, 2024

North Carolina Now Home to Over 11 Million People

Recent Census Bureau estimates show North Carolina passes 11 million milestone earlier than expected

Author: Michael Cline, North Carolina State Demographer

There are now over 11 million people living in North Carolina (https://www.census.gov/newsroom/press-releases/2024/population-estimates-international-migration.html) according to the latest population estimates published by the U.S. Census Bureau. North Carolina's population grew by 165,000 people from July 1, 2023 to July 1, 2024 – the fourth largest population gain in the nation – after Texas (at 563,000), Florida (467,000) and California (233,000).

Since the Census in 2020, North Carolina has added 605,000 people. If this pace of growth continues, the state will add more people than was added in the previous decade (904,000). So far, North Carolina has added an average of 142,000 people per year – more than the 90,000 average annual change during the 2010s.

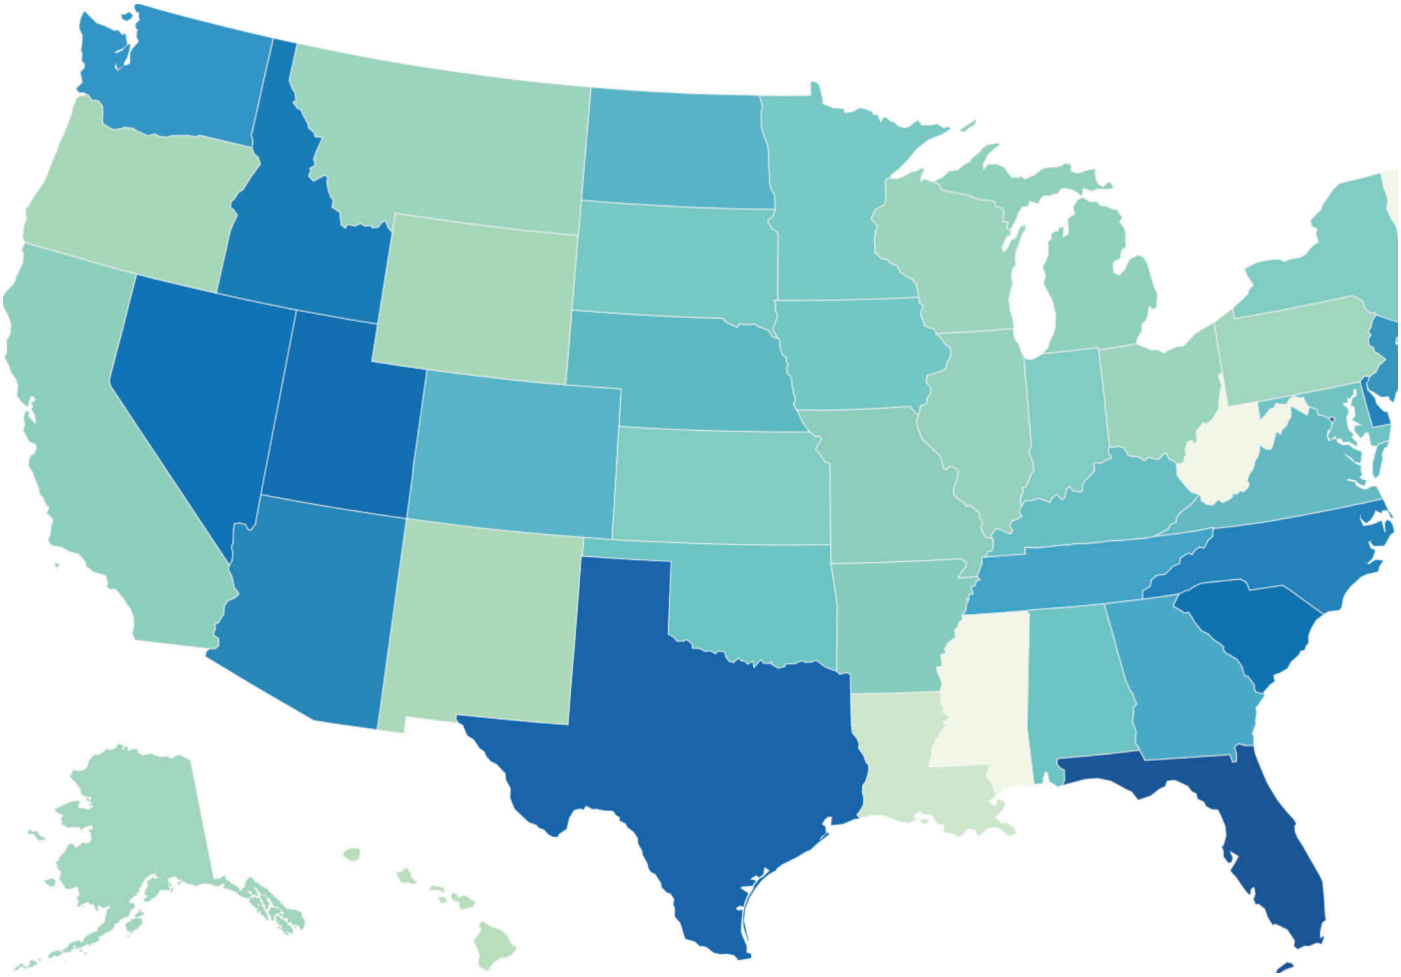
At 11,046,000 people, North Carolina remains the ninth largest state in the nation, but continues to gain ground on Georgia and Ohio, the eighth and seventh most populated states, respectively. Georgia (11,064,000 people) added 116,000 people during the same period (a 1.1% gain), while Ohio (11,824,000 people) added just 59,000 people (a 0.5% gain).

At 1.5%, North Carolina's rate of growth was the eighth fastest growth among all states and the District of Columbia. This rate of growth was slightly less than the revised 1.6% rate of growth the US Census Bureau estimated for July 1, 2022 to July 1, 2023.

Population Change, July 1, 2023 - July 1, 2024

Percent change

0 2.17



Map: NC Office of State Budget & Management • Source: US Census Bureau • Get the data • Created with Datawrapper

More People Moving to North Carolina

The number of people moving to North Carolina far exceeds those leaving to other states and abroad. Since April 1, 2020, there was an estimated net gain of 573,000 people due to net migration (state-to-state or domestic migration and international migration). This number accounted for 95% of total population growth between April 1, 2020 and July 1, 2024.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, international migration stalled such that net international migration accounted for less than 10% of total net migration in North Carolina. Since then, international net migration has steadily increased. During the previous year, net international migration accounted for almost half (46%) of all net migration to North Carolina. During this period, there was a net gain of 70,000 people from abroad.

There were 82,000 more people who moved into North Carolina than those who moved out to other states during the previous year. Since 2020, net domestic migration steadily declined from a high of 103,000 from July 1, 2020 to July 1, 2021, to 82,000 between July 1, 2023 to July 1, 2024. Still, only Texas (which added 85,000 people through domestic migration) added more people through state-to-state migration than North Carolina.

Natural Increase Remains Steady

There have been around 121,000 births annually since 2022, while the number of deaths has remained steady at around 109,000 since 2023. Thus, natural increase (more births than deaths) has added about 12,000 people to the state's population during the previous two periods and accounted for 8% of all population growth from July 1, 2023 to July 1, 2024.

Since April 1, 2020, there was a net gain of only 32,000 people due to natural increase – accounting for just 5% of all population growth. Given the aging of our population, North Carolina will continue to rely heavily on migration for future population growth.

Annual Components of Population Change

2020-21 2021-22 2022-23 2023-24

	2020-21	2021-22	2022-23	2023-24
Domestic Migration	103,202	99,380	98,981	82,288
International Migration	9,924	43,024	57,839	69,792
Natural Increase	1,214	3,370	12,366	12,632

Chart: NC Office of State Budget & Management • Get the data • Created with Datawrapper

A Note About International Migration

The US Census Bureau works to improve each vintage of population estimates by incorporating revised input data and periodic methodological updates. Thus, previous estimates are revised back to the previous decennial census and the latest vintage supersedes those published in previous years.

This year, the US Census Bureau incorporated new data and methodologies to improve its estimate of net international migration (https://www.census.gov/newsroom/blogs/random-samplings/2024/12/international-migration-population-estimates.html) within the context of the latest surge in immigration. This has resulted in significant upward revisions in the population estimates published for North Carolina. For instance, estimates of net international migration for July 1, 2022 to July 1, 2023, changed from 29,000 in the Vintage 2023 estimates to 58,000 in the Vintage 2024 population estimates. Along with some minor revisions to other components of population change, the previous estimates for July 1, 2022 to July 1, 2023 were thus revised upward from a total population change of 140,000 (a 1.3% gain) to 170,000 (a 1.6% gain) in the estimate published this year.

Want More?

The US Census Bureau publishes population estimates on an annual basis – starting with the population estimates for states as reported here. These will be followed up by the population estimates for counties in March (https://www.census.gov/programs-surveys/popest/about/schedule.html) and the estimates for incorporated places (municipalities) in May.

The State Demographer's office also publishes population estimates for counties (/facts-figures/population-demographics/state-demographer/county-population-estimates/certified-county-population-estimates)and municipalities (/facts-figures/population-demographics/state-demographer/municipal-population-estimates). Our next set of population projections will be published soon and will include forecasts of the population through 2060. See Counts, Estimates, and Projections, Oh My! (/blog/2022/03/23/counts-estimates-and-projections-oh-my) to find out more about the differences in these sources. The State Demographer is part of the Federal-State Cooperative for Population Estimates (https://www.census.gov/programs-surveys/popest/about/fscpe.html) and the Federal-State Cooperative for Population

Projections (https://www.census.gov/programs-surveys/popproj/about/fscpp.html).

75 NC counties have grown in population since 2022

By Lisa Carlson on 3.18.24

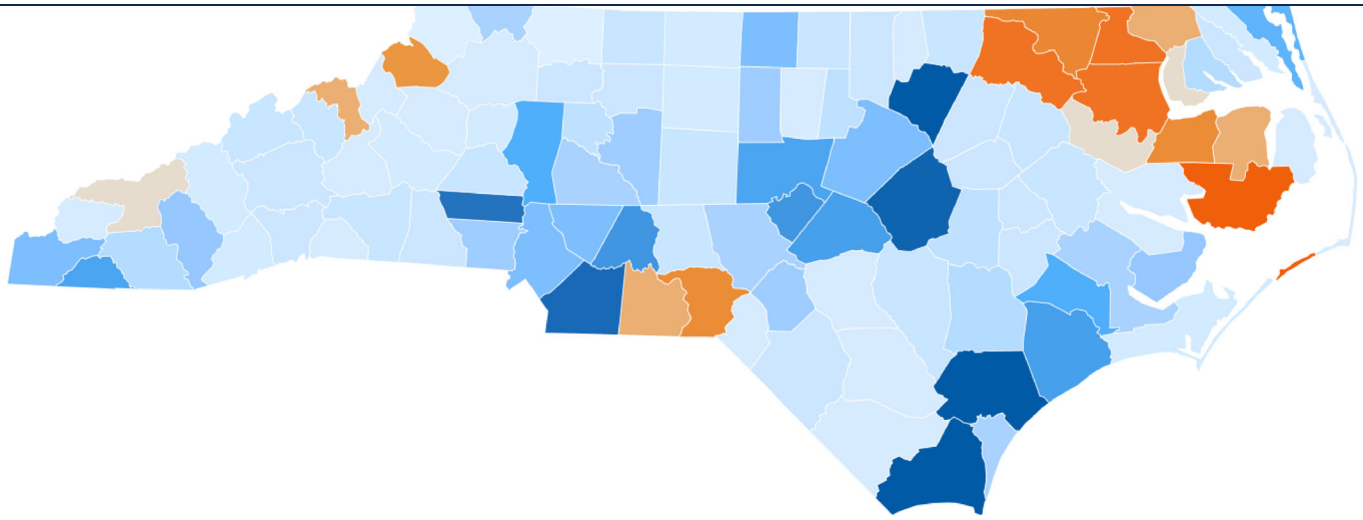
Last week, the U.S (United States). Census Bureau released 2023 county population estimates. These annual estimates tell us how county populations in North Carolina have changed over the course of a year: in this case, between July 1, 2022 and July 1, 2023.

The county population estimates are more granular than the statewide estimates released every December. In the most recent state population estimate, released in December 2023, North Carolina's population increased by 1.3% (139,526 residents). Most of this increase was due to net migration (more people moved to North Carolina than people moving out of North Carolina).There were also more births in the state than deaths, likely due to a decrease in deaths due to COVID-19.

This website uses cookies and similar technologies to understand visitor experiences. By using this website, you consent to UNC-Chapel Hill's cookie usage in accordance with their Privacy Notice.

I ACCEPT



Map: Carolina Demography • Source: U.S. Census Bureau • Get the data • Embed • Created with Datawrapper

75 counties in NC have grown in population since 2022

The counties with the largest population increases were in coastal areas and in the Charlotte and Triangle suburbs. The fastest growing county was Brunswick County (4.6%) followed by Pender (4.3%), Franklin (3.5%), Johnston (3.0%), and Union (2.9%) counties. Twenty-six counties had higher population growth than the state (above 1.3%). These include:

- Mecklenburg County and suburbs to Charlotte (Lincoln, Stanly, Iredell, Cabarrus, and Gaston)
- Wake County and suburbs in the Triangle (e.g., Chatham, Lee, Harnett, and Alamance)
- Coastal counties including Onslow and Currituck

This website uses cookies and similar technologies to understand visitor experiences. By using this website, you consent to UNC-Chapel Hill's cookie usage in accordance with their Privacy Notice.

Search in table

Page 1 of 10

County	July 1, 2022 Population Estimate	July 1, 2023 Population Estimate	Numeric Change	Percent Change	Natural Increase	Net Migration
Alamance	176,618	179,165	2,547	1.4	18	2,523
Alexander	36,316	36,473	157	0.4	−150	306
Alleghany	11,193	11,342	149	1.3	−65	215
Anson	21,958	21,897	−61	−0.3	−100	39
Ashe	27,062	27,063	1	0.0	−229	231
Avery	17,541	17,561	20	0.1	−102	121
Beaufort	44,400	44,481	81	0.2	−240	320
Bertie	17,068	16,922	−146	−0.9	−152	8
Bladen	29,391	29,484	93	0.3	−158	253
Brunswick	152,908	159,964	7,056	4.6	−794	7,821

Natural increase is births minus deaths. Net migration is total in-flows minus out-flows. The value for net migration presented here includes the "residual" population change that the U.S. Census Bureau could not directly attribute to births, deaths, or migration

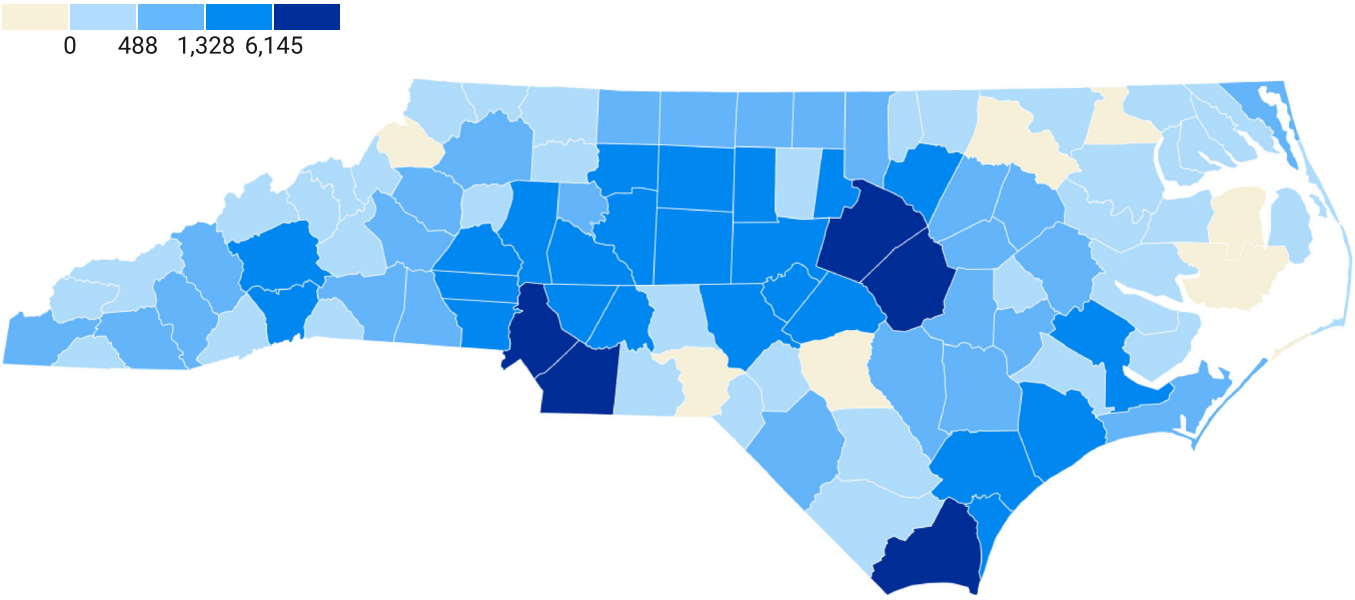
Table: Carolina Demography • Source: U.S. Census Bureau • Get the data • Embed • Created with Datawrapper

78 counties had more deaths than births between 2022 and 2023

In North Carolina overall, there was a natural increase in the population between 2022

This website uses cookies and similar technologies to understand visitor experiences. By using this website, you consent to UNC-Chapel Hill's cookie usage in accordance with their Privacy Notice.

Estimated population change from net migration, July 1, 2021 to July 1, 2023



Map: Carolina Demography • Source: U.S. Census Bureau • Get the data • Embed • Created with Datawrapper

Most counties grew because of net in-migration

The largest population increases due to net-migration were seen in Wake County and its suburbs (e.g., in Johnston County), in Mecklenburg County and the Charlotte suburbs (e.g., Union and Iredell counties), and at the coast (e.g., in Brunswick and New Hanover counties). Seven counties, Cumberland, Halifax, Watauga, Richmond, Hertford, Hyde, Tyrrell, experienced net out-migration. Of these, only one county experienced population growth between 2022 and 2023 – Cumberland County. Cumberland County was the only county that experienced population growth due to natural increase (more births than deaths) rather than net in-migration.

Between April 1, 2020 and July 1, 2023, the pattern has been the same. The population growth in most counties stems from people moving in rather than more births than

This website uses cookies and similar technologies to understand visitor experiences. By using this website, you consent to UNC-Chapel Hill's cookie usage in accordance with their Privacy Notice.

Related blog posts

No related posts.

Republish our content for free under a Creative Commons license.

Need help understanding population change and its impacts on your community or business? Carolina Demography offers demographic research tailored to your needs.

Contact us today for a free initial consultation.

CONTACT US

Categories: Migration, NC in Focus

Read our newsletter

First name *

Last name *

This website uses cookies and similar technologies to understand visitor experiences. By using this website, you consent to UNC-Chapel Hill's cookie usage in accordance with their Privacy Notice.

Recent Posts

Demographic Change in NC's New Congressional Districts

A data-driven look at the prevalence of diabetes in North Carolina

2025 North Carolina School District Typology

From Service to Civilian: How Do Veterans Fare in the Job Market?

The demographics of North Carolina's foreign-born population

Categories

Carolina Demographics (207)
Census 2020 (53)
COVID-19 (5)
Economic Data (50)
Education (68)
Elections & Voting (62)
Fun Maps (13)
Health & Environment (27)
Housing (16)
Lessons Learned (5)
Migration (46)
NC in Focus (110)
Story Recipe (10)
Transportation (11)
Uncategorized (8)

This website uses cookies and similar technologies to understand visitor experiences. By using this website, you consent to UNC-Chapel Hill's cookie usage in accordance with their Privacy Notice.

Reporting on women's health and their healthcare needs

The Center for Women's Health Research (CWHR) at the University of North Carolina School of Medicine released the 12th edition of our North Carolina Women's Health Report Card on May 9, 2022. This document is a progress report on the…

READ MORE »

Providing insights about NC's immigrant community

This website uses cookies and similar technologies to understand visitor experiences. By using this website, you consent to UNC-Chapel Hill's cookie usage in accordance with their Privacy Notice.

Helping funders better understand their community

Our material helped the NC Local News Lab Fund better understand and then prioritize their funding to better serve existing and future grant recipients in North Carolina. The North Carolina Local News Lab Fund was established in 2017 to strengthen…

READ MORE »

MAKE A GIFT

Your support is critical to our mission of measuring, understanding, and predicting population change and its impact. Donate to Carolina Demography today.

This website uses cookies and similar technologies to understand visitor experiences. By using this website, you consent to UNC-Chapel Hill's cookie usage in accordance with their Privacy Notice.

UNC | CAROLINA POPULATION CENTER

Carolina Demography

Carolina Square
123 West Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27516

This website uses cookies and similar technologies to understand visitor experiences. By using this website, you consent to UNC-Chapel Hill's cookie usage in accordance with their Privacy Notice.

EXHIBIT 13

Video: Senate Floor on October 20, 2025

Available on USB drive as “Ex. 13 – Senate Floor 10.20.2025”

Exhibit 14

Video: Senate Floor on October 21, 2025

Available on USB drive as “Ex. 14 – Senate Floor 10.21.2025”